

Boys Are Inspired By Address

"Thank God That I Have Found America Here Tonight" - Kring

Program For Boys Week Starts In Union Church Services Sunday

"Thank God I Have Found America Here Tonight," declared Sidney Kring, Manager of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, principal speaker at the 4th annual Father-Son banquet sponsored by the Matador Lions Club, held in the Baptist church basement Tuesday evening. Mr. Kring had been in Washington, D. C., 24 hours earlier and had returned to Texas a day ahead of schedule in order to keep his appointment to speak before the group of fathers and sons. His business in Washington had been of a military nature and he had heard nothing but war talk for the past week, which prompted the above statement near the conclusion of his address.

Over 325 men and boys attended the banquet which was loudly acclaimed as the most successful ever held here. The various committees of the Matador Lions Club were recognized for the extensive work and the preparations which had been exercised to assure success. Every committee had completed the assigned tasks to achieve the desired results, according to D. E. Pitts, director general of the affair who was assisted by Elmer Stearns.

The delicious chuck-wagon feed prepared under the direction of Lion Henry Pipkin included barbecued beef, son-of-a-gun, stewed apricots, red beans, onions and pickles and the choice of coffee or hot chocolate. Ample supply provided as many servings as desired and some food was left over. Plans Move As Clockwork

Plans for moving the large group from the church auditorium to the basement after the preliminary program, moved rapidly and without discord, including seating and serving. Lowell Barkley, Jr., was master of ceremonies, songs were directed by R. E. Campbell, Sr., announcements by Hon. Paul Eubank and invocation by Rev. W. M. Joslin, pastor of the local Baptist church.

Representative Hop Halsey's Drug Store Cowboys, radio stars of Lubbock provided music while the group moved to the basement and during the meal. The band was introduced and was applauded many times during the banquet.

After introduction of guests by G. E. Hamilton, president of the Matador Lions Club, Lowell Barkley introduced State Representative Paul Eubank who had made a special trip from Austin to attend the meeting. Mr. Eubank introduced the guest speaker.

Mr. Kring, an outstanding speaker and well-known leader in boy's work, made one of the most appropriate and interesting speeches ever delivered before a similar group here. Talking from experiences in his own life, which included association and friendship with the late Will Rogers, Mr. Kring often quoted the "great American," "I sometimes wonder," he declared, "if this old world would be in its present trouble, if Will Rogers had lived."

Advice to boys included advice that had been given him by Will Rogers, including proverbs as "No man big enough to hurt you, is willing to hurt you and no man willing to hurt you, is big enough."

Leaving Washington Monday night, Mr. Kring arrived in Wichita Falls at 4 a. m. Tuesday and after a few hours sleep, addressed the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, then drove to Matador in time to attend the banquet. He returned to Wichita Falls late Tuesday night. "If this had been any other kind of a meeting, I would have 'begged-off', he declared.

Union Services Sunday Evening

Union church services at the Baptist church Sunday evening were well attended as the start of Boys Week program. Rev. W. B. Vaughn delivered an interesting and inspiring sermon titled "The Balanced Life." Special singing was provided by the Matador Choral Club.

Miss Frances Carpenter spent the week end in Lubbock as the guest of friends.

Returns For Meet

Representative Paul Eubank, above, who made a special trip from Austin to Matador to attend the 4th annual Father-Son banquet here Tuesday evening. Mr. Eubank, former Scout Master and leader in boy's work, received a hearty welcome by his young friends upon arrival.

Eubank Is Greeted By Young Pals

Leaving Austin Tuesday morning, Representative Paul Eubank journeyed to Wichita Falls by plane and made the remainder of the trip by bus to attend the 4th annual Father-Son banquet held at the Baptist Church Tuesday evening.

Greeted immediately upon his arrival by friends, Mr. Eubank was soon surrounded by boys, elated over his return for the banquet. Former Scout Master and leader in boy's work, Mr. Eubank has enjoyed outstanding popularity among boys since becoming established in Matador.

His presence at the banquet brought excited cheering from happy youngsters each time he stood to speak.

Mr. Eubank, who was appointed to four important committees as Representative of 121 District in Austin last week, found it difficult to leave his duties to attend the meeting but declared he believed his obligation to the boys of this section, to warrant the trip.

Leaving Matador by bus early Wednesday morning, Mr. Eubank journeyed to Wichita Falls where he again took plane to Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bennett made a trip to Paducah Wednesday, to attend funeral services of a friend.

Aid Offered For Income Tax Report

Deputy Collector R. A. Chote will be at the postoffice here on February 26, from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. to render income tax assistance to any who desire it, according to an announcement received from W. A. Thomas, Collector of Internal Revenue of Dallas.

The announcement follows: "The new income tax law presents many complicated problems which the layman, in attempting to file his income tax return for 1940, cannot solve. This office is anxious to be of help to all taxpayers who desire our assistance in making out their returns.

"For this reason we will send a deputy collector to Matador to assist citizens with income tax problems. The law does not impose this duty on us, but we feel obligated to assist wherever we are needed. The deputy's advice and assistance is extended purely as a courtesy and without cost to citizens. He will make only the one visit during this filing period."

Highway Employees Train For Defense

Texas Highway Department employees throughout the state are being instructed to be on the alert against any possible attempts at sabotage to state highways, bridges, or warehouse properties.

The Texas Highway System is indispensable to the national defense program, it is emphasized, and 6,375 miles, or about one-twelfth of the nation's strategic military highway network of 75,000 miles designated as part of the defense program, are Texas highways.

GRANDMOTHER GETS PRISON TERM FOR CATTLE RUSTLING

SALEM, Ore.—A 61-year-old grandmother convicted of cattle rustling, lost her last hope Tuesday of escaping a four-year prison sentence.

The State Supreme Court refused to reconsider an earlier opinion which upheld the conviction of Mrs. Myrtle A. Garner, ranch owner in the remote southwestern section of Oregon.

She was convicted of organizing a cattle-rustling ring that rounded up steers on a large adjoining ranch and sold them to a meat packing firm.

G. E. Hamilton Elected Head Of Bar Group

FLOYDADA, Feb. 6.—Judge G. E. Hamilton, of Matador, was elected president of the 110th District Bar association at its quarterly meeting held here Tuesday night. He succeeds Judge Jeff D. Ayers of Floydada.

The session was marked by the attendance of Justices W. N. Stokes and A. J. Folley and Clerk J. M. Oakes of the Court of Civil Appeals of the Seventh Supreme Judicial district of Amarillo.

With Judge Hamilton as officials for the new year were named Farris Fish, also a member of the bar at Matador, as vice-president and R. F. Stovall, of Floydada, to serve for another year as secretary of the association.

Chief discussion of the evening was on the matter of the proposed changes in the rules of civil court procedure, sponsored by the State Bar association. These new rules will become effective on September 1, 1941, unless disapproved by the state legislature now in session. Lucian Moorehead, member of the Plainview bar gave the principal discussion of the proposed changes.

The association went on record as favoring the new rules, and passed a resolution instructing their secretary to write the district's senator and representative asking that the legislature not disapprove the changes in the rules.

Next quarterly meeting of the association will be at Spur.

More REA Lines For Territory

An additional 35 miles of Rural Electrification Administration lines will be constructed in this territory, according to O. E. Beavers, subordinator of Lakeview, who was here Monday. Mr. Beavers said the newly approved lines would carry electric power into Roaring Springs, Darden Canyon and Tee Pee Flat communities. The new lines will make a total of about 170 miles which has been approved, starting at Quitaque and including Flomot, Whiteflat and Matador. He said the construction would provide electricity for approximately 500 users.

The REA lines do not conflict with present electric service and are not constructed in incorporated city limits, Mr. Beavers declared. He said that all electric power for the new lines will be purchased from the West Texas Utilities Company and distributed to rural communities where electricity has not been available.

All requirements have been met on the construction of the new lines and Mr. Beavers is awaiting orders from Washington to start work in the immediate future.

He said the work had been held up on account of the present defense program but that resumption was expected soon.

Value Of 4-H Work Applied

Value of the teaching of 4-H Club work was attested recently by J. C. Bursleson, prominent Motley county rancher while on a tour of inspection of 4-H projects with county agent J. R. Emmons and others interested in the work.

The group had reached the home of Jackie Simpson of Northfield and Mr. Bursleson asked young Simpson how often he changed the drinking water for his calf. The boy replied that the water was changed every other day. The rancher then asked "why?"

Young Simpson replied that he had noticed that the calf dropped food from his mouth when drinking, causing the water to sour and that the calf refused to drink it later.

It was then that Mr. Bursleson declared, "I wish I might have had 4-H training as a boy. I lost several thousand dollars a few years ago, while feeding calves for the market because of soured drinking water. The calves were getting plenty of feed but they were not putting on the flesh which I expected and they were sluggish and sick. I vaccinated them with mixed bacteria several times without benefit."

"One day I left the gate open to another lot where they could get fresh water and was amazed when they all ran to it. I examined the tank from which they had been drinking and found the water sour and stagnant. After I cleaned the trough and partly filled it with fresh water, my troubles were ended."

Mr. Bursleson cited the advantages of 4-H work where boys might learn these valuable lessons without waiting until they were men when they must gain the knowledge thru a more difficult and expensive method.

Lions Aid Girls For Trophies

All Blind Band Sponsored For Program, Feb. 19

Matador senior girls basketball team will receive over $50 in cash for trophies, as a token of appreciation for their splendid scoring record, from the Matador Lions Club, it was announced yesterday. The fund was raised entirely by the Lions Club in cooperation with the Tribune in advertising the Knox Prairie Ramblers, all blind band which will appear here at the high school auditorium Wednesday evening, February 19, sponsored by the Lions Club. Net proceeds of the program will also augment the girl's trophy fund.

Members of the Lions Club, public-spirited business firms and individuals purchased space on the full page advertisement which appears elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune. The newspaper, in cooperation with the civic club, sold the advertisement at cost and aided in solicitation.

A total of 57 firms and individuals, representing almost every business in Matador, purchased space on the ad to make the fund possible. Members of the Lions Club will collect the balance of unpaid places on the advertisement within a few days and the net proceeds deposited to the girl's trophy fund.

The Knox Prairie Ramblers program will consist of musical selections by the entire band, instrumental numbers, vocal selections, humorous and educational features. The band is heard regularly over radio station KXOX, Sweetwater, Fridays at 4 p. m.

Representatives of the band appeared before a meeting of the Lions Club several months ago and were highly acclaimed.

RAIL DUST

...lling clicking hoofs of white-cattle across the wind-worn mesas of Western Texas, the cowboy found much time for meditation. Their thoughts of loneliness. A distinct character was developed in the called shops of solitude; men on the high rim of reality, ed into the clear windows of dreams.

However, if it is uprooted, life drains out of a dry stick to decay. Rusted thru the soil of undergrowth for many years, it will come a great tree, more difficult to destroy.

...ngry and barefooted we deeded on the short-cut across the field. My mother wove a white dish towel in the dugout door and opened the simple noon meal on oilcloth for us. Picking way thru crooked lanes of quite and sage, I jumped back when a shining coachwhip glided swiftly from the top of sage. Looking again, I the reptile's ghost lying in grass under a bright noon-day. Venturing closer, I picked up long transparent shell that been traded thru an arrangement with nature, for a new skin. That day I learned that the membrane had even covered the two small, beady eyes. I wondered if the world must seem brighter and perhaps serene.

...e poured the "blue-juhn" over our pasty oatmeal and watched the white sugar become did crystal for an instant and disappear in the mixture. For a time the waitress brought lined mugs of wretched coffee and sloshed them on the counter for us, dropping two greasy, venish spoons with insulting kindness. My doleful companion rolled a cigarette when he finished his breakfast, and back a match slowly on the heel of his boot, averring, "When a man tastes cooking like this he is able to get reckless and propose the first woman he meets."

...ome men are able to attain success thru love of their work when it is squired by ambition, while others stumble upon it like tramp who kicks a rusty bucket filled with gold while returning on the path to nowhere.

...uccess collects momentum as rolls forward, provided it is started in the right direction, but many of us experience continual difficulty in securing material of efficient adherent qualities to make the start. A measure of steadfastness must belong to the man who refuses to lose faith in his ability to find binding properties in a handful of dry ashes.

...ome men will find fault with the paving of heaven or perhaps the fuel consigned to the region where they spend eternity. Every community has its chronic cases, often among the wealthy, who are ashamed shyly, like offenders of unpleasant breath.

...A friend remembers the city of danger before the great oil discovery when a group of men sat on the sidewalk and measured the curb with tobacco juice as they explained of the poor land and riches. Years later he returned after the great oil field had made the residents wealthy. Almost to man, they retained their places on the sidewalk and cursed the government and their new burnings of income tax.

...f all the troubles we could avoid were placed side by side on the couch of deteriorating petals, there would be very little room left for unhappiness.

FRAYED 1711 DOCUMENT SOLD FOR $2,400

PHILADELPHIA — A legal document signed by William Penn authorizing his agents to sell part of his property to settle 6,600 pound obligation to friends who bought his way out of debtors' prison has been sold at auction to Gabriel Wells, New York collector.

The frayed sheet of vellum brought $2,400 at the sale of the effects of the late Judge John M. Patterson.

Discovered in London in 1925 the document conferred power of attorney in 1711 on four Philadelphians, Samuel Carpenter, Richard Hill, Isaac Norris and James Logan to sell enough of Penn's Pennsylvania property to reimburse friends who had financed his way out of the English jail.

Nation Leads In Electric Power

WTUC Has Rapid Growth During Past 30 Years

West Texas and the nation now have an abundance of electric power to meet the national defense requirements over and above present consumption in home and business.

power and many communities three sources of supply. Such transmission systems throughout the nation have replaced small isolated plants subject to frequent breakdowns and expensive overhead, depreciation, and operation costs.

Present-day plant generating capacity in the United States is greater than the combined electrical output of England, France and Germany, a recent survey shows.

The nation's utilities companies, owned and operated by men and women who invested in sound business enterprise and who've learned to render emergency service thru long experience, have prepared in advance and without use of tax money or government aid.

U. S. electric power facilities now exceed 40,000,000 kilowatts compared to less than 9,000,000 kilowatts each in England, France and Germany.

sonnel as conditions of the county warrant. The State Health Department maintains advisory and consultative control over the local health units.

Over a period of years the local health unit has been demonstrated to be the most economical and efficient method of administering health service to a local governmental area.

In the counties where the population or funds are insufficient to allow a full-time health unit, the nursing service has been found to be a fair substitute.

A nursing service however, can only be regarded as the minimum service. In the past, many counties which have established nursing services have been impressed with the efficacy of this minimum public health control to the point where full-time county health services were set up.

Recently a new administrative technique has been set up to serve sparsely settled areas. Two or more adjacent counties having a nursing service can be combined into a single health unit with a full-time director and sanitary officers added to the nursing services already established.

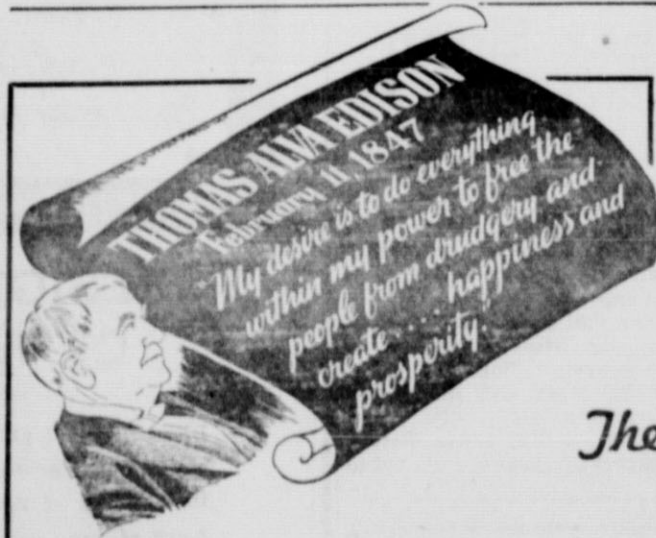

Certain additional county areas without either local health services or nursing services support full- or part-time venereal disease clinics administered by the State Health Department.

ELECTRIC POWER FOR U. S. DEFENSE IS READY NOW!

The Electric Industry Has Prepared Without Tax Money Or Government Subsidies

Nation's Power Facilities Total More Than 40,000,000 Kilowatts... Greater than France, Germany and England Combined

Diagram showing 'Present U. S. Capacity 40,510,000 Kilowatts' and an illustration of a power plant with workers. Text: 'EDISON, through his invention of the incandescent lamp, laid the ground work for an industry that today holds a key position in the nation's defense program. It is a credit to his successors that electric power today is plentiful both for national defense and for the purpose he intended. "... to free the people from drudgery and create happiness and prosperity.''

FOURTEEN BILLION DOLLARS for national defense—but not a dime of the taxpayers' money is required to prepare the electric industry to meet the emergency!

Present-day generating capacity of 40,000,000 kilowatts, with an increase to 45,000,000 by the end of 1942, is ample to supply a vital need in the defense program.

NO BOTTLENECK IN POWER INDUSTRY Today sees the power companies, made up of men and women who are your friends and neighbors working under a system of private initiative and enterprise, prepared for the tremendous job of energizing the country's wartime industries.

Over 82,000 miles of high voltage transmission lines link the country's raw material production centers with every important concentration point. They are interconnected and organized in integrated systems for economic operation, guaranteeing not only industry but each individual community a dependable, continuous supply of electricity at low cost.

NOW PAYING $400,000,000 IN TAXES The electric utilities now are providing jobs for 275,000 persons, all of whom are highly trained and experienced to do their jobs expertly and efficiently. They are paying $400,000,000 a year in taxes.

An important feature of the nation's interconnected power system is that they are ALREADY available, built and owned by men and women who invested their savings in sound business enterprise and who represent the American way of living which we now are preparing to defend.

PREPARED IN ADVANCE FOR EMERGENCY Because the utilities built ahead of demands and have prepared for just such emergencies, every dollar of the fourteen billion defense fund is going for other necessities in the preparedness program such as aircraft, guns, ships, food, clothing, shelter, tanks, and for the training of men. The expenditure of this vast sum is required to maintain and guarantee the nation's freedom, the American way of living!

The usage of Electric Service has contributed more than any other single item to creation of what we call "the American way of living." It has brought light, household comforts and conveniences, to the average home in greater quantities than has ever been known in other countries.

Your Electric Servant is ready NOW to help defend that way of living.

"Somewhere Over The Rainbow"

"Somewhere Over the Rainbow" lies a large red brick school house built similar to ours. Inside 150 students pass to and from classes every day, and yet there is seldom, if ever, any disruption.
Teachers and students perform their duties together in perfect accord. The students, as a rule, don't chew gum; you see that there is an absence of gum on the bottom of chairs and in the drinking fountains. The walls are spotlessly clean, and, we may say, looking for a pencil mark on them is like looking for a needle in a haystack. The surface of the chairs is as smooth as glass, thus proving that the students of this school do not have whittling ambitions, as do the students of some schools.
Each student participates in all events that help the school. The students don't form in social-gossip groups, and they do support all athletics sponsored by the school.
Is it possible that this illustration could apply to MHS? It could be made to apply. With the cooperation of a few of the more rebellious students we might do more to achieve this ideal.

"Rose" Would Be
Just As Pretty
By Another Name

Did you ever stop to think how many varieties in a color there actually are? And how many names there are for each variety?
Any color—primary or secondary—has hundreds of shades and names. Of course some are so nearly the same that no one could tell any difference; however that doesn't matter to the fashion experts in the least. They make new shades and fashions for every season.
Take, for example, the new "41 Navy". It is most certainly the same old navy that your grandmother wore. "Mist" is also new for another spring season.
Any color—just so it looks misty—is stylish.
For the one color of "red" there are at least some 200 variations.
A few of these are maroon, rose,
pink, robin red, flame, salmon, coral, plum cherry, carnation, petunia, raspberry, turkey red, poppy, fuchsia, ruby, scarlet, ver-million grapevine carmine, cerise, and tea rose. Any other color is variegated likewise.

Grade Gatherings

Basketball has ended for the Grade School Jr. team with a defeat of 12 to 6 to Roaring Springs.
A teacher's meeting February 11 decided that Mr. Doss would have charge of track this spring, and that Mr. Greene and Mrs. Meason would have playground ball. There will be no literary events at all this year; instead, Mrs. Whitworth, Miss Jameson, Mrs. Jones, and Miss Glenn will plan for a bigger and better May Fete this year.
All the classes are planning to have valentine parties tomorrow, and the seventh grade is going to have a special luncheon.

I GMC'S ASSEMBLY LINE TO UNCLE SAM'S DEFENSE LINE

Here is a group of General Motors Trucks lined up in the motor "pool" outside the GMC factory at Pontiac, Mich., awaiting delivery to the United States Army. This is but a small contingent of thousands of olive-drab military vehicles being built by General Motors Truck during the current great national defense program. The trucks shown are 2½-ton, six-wheel drive models, with winches attached at front. They are used by the Army as prime movers for light and medium artillery pieces, as well as for general transport duty.

Factory workmen in the giant General Motors Truck plant put the finishing touches on newest-type military vehicles destined for "front-line" use by the United States Army. The workman at the left applies the familiar Army olive-drab paint to a gasoline tank, while the worker at the right makes necessary motor connections.

One of the newest General Motors Trucks actually on the job—in this instance at Fort Custer, Mich., where the newly formed Fifth Division of the Regular Army is stationed. Those are soldiers of the 10th Infantry marching in the background; when on the move in actual combat, infantry troops ride in just such a truck as this.

Pied 'Pinions
 BY MRS. J. M.

The fallacy of descriptions in the song, "Have You Ever Been To Texas In The Spring", leaves one morbid. The author must have been in a beautiful delirium, caused no doubt from having swallowed too many grains of sand from a raging sandstorm. Or perhaps he was just hit on the head by a few gravel missiles as the gale passed.

Single folks who express their views on what's wrong with marriages, fall into the same class with childless people who go about telling parents how to raise their children.
 Most bachelor girls are just as unhappy in their state of single blessedness as the legions of unhappy married women to whom they point in justification of their attitudes. They evidently overlook the fact that at least their wedded sisters know, from experience, what they're unhappy about.

While viewing the picture, "The Mark of Zorro" in which handsome Ty Power gallops up and down the country as the bandit hero, one can't help but compare his acting with that of the late Douglas Fairbanks Sr., who starred in the same role in silent films. No one has ever equaled his antics in leaping from chandelier to balcony and windows, nor the fierce abandon with which he brandished his sword in duelling scenes, or rode his horse on those mad dashes for freedom.

Being endowed with a surplus supply of stupidity, I'm still trying to figure out that "O. K., Mrs.

Meador, it's your move", which appeared atop a quote from Trail Dust in a recent Vignette, authored by Otto Bordenkircher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

I even went so far as to make several veiled inquiries among his readers hereabouts, to get their reactions, but to no avail! They didn't know the answer either.

Maybe he means I should be privileged to burn the house down, since Mr. M. had the fun of firing his auto. However, that was his personal property, as the incident happened in his happier days before marriage.

Or, Mr. Bordenkircher might have just been indicating that it was an opportunity for me to point out all the holes in the carpets and upholstery as an argument in favor of a continued abstinence from the evils of smoking.

It could also be cited that if all of life's frailties could be overcome thru the medium of obliteration, rather than sacrifice, woman's so-called sheltered orbit would then be free of any possible invasion.

O. K. Mr. Bordenkircher?

Brave little violets have dared the elements to herald an indifferent springtime, and to grace the breakfast table with their elusive perfume.

Their mission performed, their life span is destined to be brief. For, like faithful servants unjustly punished for a crimeless offense, they will bow their heads to the invincible will of a belated winter season.

Services Held At Church Of Christ

Services were held Sunday at the Church of Christ here, with Minister Fletcher Floyd of Paducah, preaching at both morning and evening hour. Mr. Floyd is a teacher in the Paducah school system.

Services next Sunday will be conducted by Minister H. L. Dennis of McAadoo, formerly of Matador, arrangements having been made for the two preachers to be here on alternating Sundays.

Mrs. Murry Johnson of Loleta, the former Kathryn Sheats, is visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sheats.

There must be fairer fields somewhere

Beyond this wayside inn Of life as we have known it here With all its care and sin. Perhaps we'll find new glory there Unmarked by greed or shame, Where one may keep his honor clean And still know wealth and fame.

Somewhere beyond the tall skyline That crowns our waning day— Beyond the low green borderlands That hold our flesh at bay— Beyond dim hills when twilight falls

Where star-swept rivers flow— There must be fairer highways there For restless feet to know.

What if the way is long and rough, And hills are swept by gales? No bold heart fears the tortured trip To far, uncharted trails, And if—throughout the long, dark night No ghostly shadows creep, Thank God, beyond the tumult here We'll find eternal sleep.

The above beautiful poem was republished recently in the Wharton Spectator by Editor Frank Shannon and was written by his uncle, the late H. M. Shannon, who was editor of the Richmond, Texas, Coaster.

Llano is a land of legend and of delight to tourists. In the southwestern part of the county is famous Enchanted Rock, a solid block of granite, a mile square. It was named by the Indians perhaps because, when struck a mighty blow, it given an odd but inspiring sound. The story is told of a frontiersman who, being pursued by redskins, took refuge on the rock and his foes would not follow him.

Then, 18 miles southeast of Llano, stands old Packsaddle Mountain. Editor Bill Collins of the Llano News says this was the scene of the fight which drove the Comanches out of the State, a force of ranchmen defeating a far larger band of Indians. The only man still living who took part in the victory is A. F. Moss, a rancher.

Llano County is, of course, a hunter's paradise. Five thousand deer, it is estimated, are killed during the hunting season. Then there are quail, doves, wild turkeys and ducks. Hardware windows, a few weeks ago when this observer was there, were filled with trophies of the hunt and the Buckhorn Cafe walls were lined with deer heads.

As for fishing, Buchanan Lake is only a few miles away—the largest in the Southwest and the second biggest artificial lake in the world. The two-mile concrete dam is the longest on earth. There are parks along the waterfront and a scenic drive runs beside the lake. There are cottages for rent; stores, rowboats, motorboats—in short, everything for one who is seeking sport, recreation, beauty or just a soothing rest.

Imagine a line of trucks and other motor vehicles, bumper to bumper, extending all the way from Texarkana to El Paso—almost a thousand miles—and you have an idea of how many new pieces of motorized equipment the United States Army is buying this year.

The total will include 27,000 motorcycles, 5,900 passenger cars, 3,400 ambulances, 37,800 two-and-a-half ton truck-tractors, each with one trailer unit, and 283,100 other trucks, ranging in size from "pigmies" which carry a load of only a quarter of a ton up to several thousand with a capacity of six tons or more, each.

The "pigmy" can haul three men and a light field piece at 60 miles an hour, yet is so small it can be tucked into the hold of an Army transport plane. The next-larger sizes will have many duties, such as reconnaissance, command, pickups and infantry weapon carrying. Bigger ones are for movement of 75 mm. field guns, 105 mm. howitzers, gasoline and animal-carrying. The biggest of all will transport three-inch guns and 90 mm. anti-aircraft gun mounts.

Only because the trucking industry of America has provided a market have factories been made possible that can now furnish this equipment so vital to national defense. And the trucking industry in Texas has had an important part in creating those factories, even though the 7,000-pound load limit in this State has retarded the industry. Incidentally, that absurdly-low restriction is expected to be changed by the present Legislature. The logical solution is felt by many who have given the problem close study to be the adoption of a scientific load-limit bill.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Campbell visited in Amarillo Sunday, with their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shearer. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Campbell and baby son.

MANY ENJOY BOOK REVIEW

The review of the book, "Mother of the Smiths" by L. Carr, given by Mrs. Lon Smith of Floydada, Friday afternoon of last week, was well received by an appreciative audience of women and several high school students. The latter were given credits in their English work for attending the review.

Mrs. Smith, in her quiet but impressive manner, held the undivided attention of her listeners from the moment she began the narration, until she had finished.

Mrs. Elbert Reeves, president of the Sorosis Club, sponsors of the review, welcomed the guest speaker and audience, and then turned the meeting over to Miss Zona Beth Faulkner, who introduced Mrs. Smith.

Essence of Democracy

SCOUTING STRENGTHENS AND INVIGORATES DEMOCRACY

BOY SCOUT WEEK

Boy Scouts throughout the country celebrate the 31st anniversary of the movement in America during the week of Feb. 7-13.

While the slogan on the poster above emphasizes the fact that "Scouting strengthens and invigorates democracy" all America agrees that Scout membership is in itself the essence of democracy.

After the gifts were presented and opened, delicious refreshments of hot chocolate and cake, were served the following guests:

It seems only yesterday when I first saw a large, tow-headed, raw-boned girl, with high cheekbones and deep-set eyes...

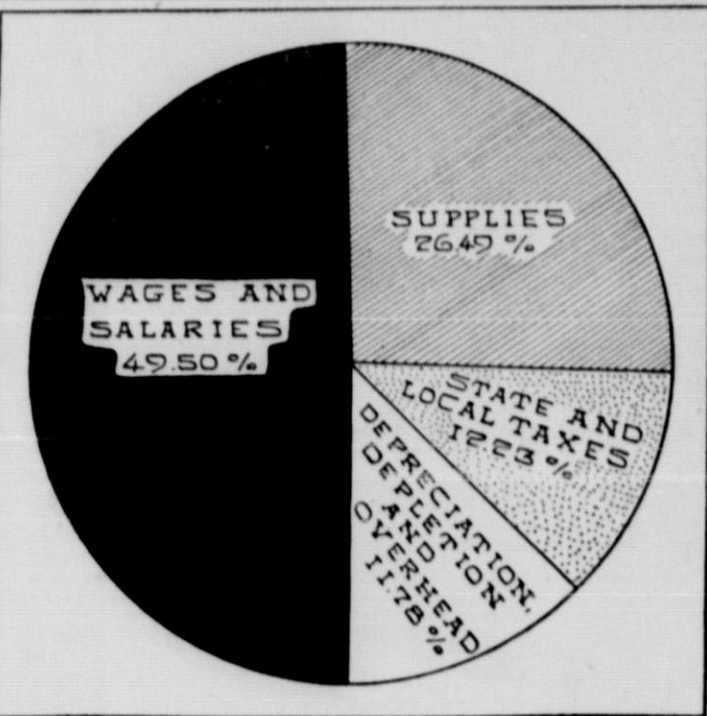

Finally, came the time when our lessons were over, when the real business of the day began. The shoe-box was opened and we received our valentines. But none were as large or as beautiful as mine.

And when I beheld my valentine, I trembled for the sheer joy of its possession. How proud I was of my most beautiful valentine and my heartfelt thanks streamed out of my eyes right then and there towards her who was looking at me with bright, sparkling love-lit eyes and flushed cheeks...

For years I kept my precious valentine, eventually, however, it became lost. But the memory of it... the very apotheosis of the valentine, can never be lost. It is securely locked in my heart.

It is the desert of Southern Arizona. Ever darker grows the light of the waning day and the wind draws great curtains of dark grey before our eyes...

The whole weird-looking countryside is lit up from time to time with dazzling flashes of lightning, and through it all one can see the great giant cacti once more dotting the landscape.

But "The Masses" were not so foolish, after all!

LESS LOUDLY NOW, you may still hear an occasional agitator blasting away at the American system of business—which depends on big factories, big networks of dealers, trade-marked goods, heavy advertising, and low prices.

Agitators complained for years that "the masses" were injured by this system, and that we'd all be richer if we went back to the old cracker-barrel days.

But in spite of the complaints, little factories which have made dependable goods grew into big factories. Dealers insisted on having trade-marked goods which their customers could recognize. And the heavy advertising helped to give us our modern newspapers, magazines and radio.

Who built this system? The masses built it, by insisting on crackers they could recognize in the package, on automobiles, soups, soaps, chewing gum, cigarettes, and all other articles that carried well-known trade names.

So the agitators have had to pipe down. They have discovered that "the masses" were not so easy to lead astray after all.

Water Loans Are Now Available

Loans are now available to farmers in Motley County to participate in the Water Facilities Program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Walter D. Coulson, Rural Rehabilitation Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, announced this week.

"Facilities which may be installed with funds borrowed from the federal government," Mr. Coulson said, "included repairing or providing wells, cisterns, ponds, stock tanks, together with the installation of windmills, stock troughs, storage tanks, barn fixtures, sinks, pipes, and so forth."

Mr. Coulson said that loans also are available for facilities for developing irrigation systems for subsistence gardens and truck crops up to one acre of land. He emphasized the regulation prohibiting loans for irrigation systems in excess of one acre of land.

"No loans will be made for irrigation purposes which exceed one acre of land," he said. "The program is designed to modernize farm homes, by putting water into them to make adequate water available for livestock purposes and to enable farm families to raise subsistence gardens and truck crops as a feature of the live-at-home programs in areas of low rainfall."

Water facility loans, it was explained, are made for a period from one year to the useful life of the facility or a maximum of 20 years, at three percent interest. Low income farmers and others who cannot obtain adequate credit elsewhere are eligible to apply. Applicants are not restricted to farmers who are now being assisted by the Farm Security Administration. Farm owners, farm tenants and farm operators are eligible to make application for water facilities loans.

Mr. Coulson cited a regulation which provides that all successful applicants for water facilities loans must agree to follow the approved farm and home management plans designed by the Farm Security Administration and the applicant, and to cooperate with the Soil Conservation Service in soil and moisture conservation practices.

Mr. Coulson invites all farmers in Motley County, who believe they can meet the requirements for application, to visit him at his office in the First State Bank building, and obtain more complete information about this program.

Workers Receive Half Of Texas Oil Cost Dollar

Texas workers receive half of the money spent in the production of Texas oil, according to a booklet just issued by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. The booklet, entitled "Important Facts About Texas Oil," is now being distributed by the association from its headquarters in the Continental Building here.

Wages and salaries to Texas oil production workers amount to 49 1/2 per cent of the net cost of producing the average barrel of oil in Texas, the booklet shows. One-eighth of the cost dollar goes to Texas tax-collectors for State and local taxes. Supplies cost about 26 1/2 per cent, while depreciation, depletion, overhead and Federal taxes make up the remaining 11 per cent.

To this net cost must be added an extra one-eighth of the price of the oil which is paid as royalty to the Texas farmer or rancher who owns the land on which the oil is produced.

Texas petroleum workers and Texas farmers together receive $400,000,000 a year in wages and salaries and lease and royalty payments from the Texas

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

Better farm records can be kept with the camera. One clear picture is worth many words—and record pictures such as this are easy to take CAMERAS as farm implements—that seems a novel idea. And yet, on any progressive farm, a camera can render unique, highly practical service.

I am not referring to snapshots for pleasure. Of course, everybody knows there are innumerable snapshot opportunities on a farm—beautiful sunset shots across the tilled fields, pleasant pasture scenes with stock grazing or drinking from a cool stream, story-tellers snaps such as a hen mothering her brood—all sorts of chances, at any season. But there's another aspect to farm photography—the extremely valuable, practical aspect of keeping farm records.

Clear, detailed records play an important part in farm operations today, and usually pictures can make these records even more clear and serviceable. If your lower sixty acres makes a good crop this year, a picture will prove it. If hail damages the roof of your new barn, a picture can show the exact nature and extent of the damage. Records of livestock growth, new building construction, crops and crop diseases, planting and harvesting operations, new equipment—all these, and more, can well be kept in picture form.

Such records are especially useful because a good clear picture is more informative and convincing than a written description. Pictures are easier and quicker, too. For example, see how long it takes you to write a description of your prize bull that is as good as one clear picture—which you could snap in short order!

You don't have to be a skilled photographer to take good farm record pictures, and any well-made, moderately-priced camera will do the job. A focusing model is most convenient, as with it both "close-ups" and general views can be taken easily. An anastigmat lens is preferable, but it need not be an extremely fast one. The camera should take pictures of convenient size for viewing.

Excellent booklets on farm photography are now available through 4-H club sources. The best of these booklets not only give easily-understood instruction on photography, but also provide detailed advice on how to keep picture records of certain types—such as livestock and crop growth. They are extremely useful for the beginner at farm photography.

Start now to keep picture records of your farm operations, supplementing your written records. They're inexpensive, easy to maintain, and have real value—both current and future.

Area Dark From Sand

Sweeping in from the west yesterday morning, one of the most severe sand storms in several years soon brought a pall of darkness over the entire Panhandle area.

Reports from air ports in some sections declared the sand and dust reached a height of 11,000 feet, causing a disruption in regular air service.

Automobiles in this section traveled at a reduced speed and with lights on to avoid possible collision. No accidents as result of the storm, were reported.

While the air remained charged with sand and dust until darkness the wind velocity reduced to almost zero early yesterday evening, however a brisk north wind several hours later, lowered the temperature several degrees here.
