TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Pleasure is an endearing mistress on one hand, but on the other there is conclusive evidence that a high-heeled time in youth does not lead to a well-heeled old age.

Compassion embraces the true advances of civilization; lack of it retains the stubborn savagery of animals.

The end of school brings home to parents what teachers have known for nine months.

Profiting by someone else's mistakes takes the yeast out of experience, like playing a slot machine with a stranger's money.

Television commercials are so compulsive that most of us would go into immediate bankruptcy except that the stores are usually closed when the need for items is generated.

Tomorrow's carillon is pealing in the night sky's belfry, or perhaps it is a Scissors Tail's cry that unfinished work will wait for the light.

The mass production of personal problems seems to work more efficiently when all the avenues of solution, and escape, have been closed for repairs.

None can know the scope of an old man's dreams so long as it is impossible to look at a dry river bed and measure the torrents once thundering its course.

Arrives Friday From Venezuela

Miss Pina Sturdivant arrived in Lubbock, Friday, from San Tome, Venezuela, where for the past two years, she has been teaching in a school for children of Gulf Oil employees.

She was met in Lubbock by her mother and brothers, Mrs. J. P. Sturdivant, James and Tim, and they visited in Lovelland with Mrs. Sturdivant's mother, Mrs. Tom Finley, and with Mr. Sturdivant's mother in Lubbock.

Help Needed on Baseball Field

The summer baseball season has started and more than 30 additional boys have reported to play, but adult help is needed at Forrest Park, according to Boss Lion Freddie Welling at regular meeting of Matador Lions held Tuesday in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

"We need adult help in all departments," Lion Welling declared, "and we appeal to the parents who are willing to devote time and effort to make this an outstanding season."

Lion Welling, whose administration is already being recognized as one of the most productive in the civic club's third of a century history, called repeatedly for reports of various committees. Lion Ronnie Christian said a total of $1697 had been collected on the Matador Community Chest, but that a number of Lions are yet to make reports on collections.

Lion Pat Seigler was the program chairman but after two programs failed to materialize, filled in himself. He made a short discourse on the most practical procedure when death occurs in a family. He said it concerned his own profession and the only one with which he was familiar.

One visitor was James Stanley, son of Lion Bob Stanley, who is a candidate for membership.

Spray new Caparol after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol® herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher. You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high... plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds. The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the $2-3 per acre it would cost you for hoe hands. Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out. With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops. Ask your supplier for new Caparol. CAPAROL is a trademark of the Geigy Chemical Corporation for its brand of PROMETRYNE® herbicide. Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Ardsley, New York.

Former Motley County Resident Is Promoter Of Abilene Project

Among the promoters of Old Abilene Town a $2 million-plus 40-acre western amusement park now under construction northeast of Abilene, is a former Motley County resident.

He is W. N. Casey, president of the corporation that is developing the park. Casey is the son of F. M. Casey of Whiteflat, and was reared in that community.

"With the creation of Old Abilene Town, Abilene is destined to be the bright spot of any West Texas vacation trip," Casey said of the tourist attraction, which is located on Interstate Highway 20.

Everything that symbolized the West will be included in Old Abilene Town, according to advance notices.

There will be a restored frontier town, including an old-time saloon serving as a soft-drinks refreshment center; antique shop, gift and curio and souvenir shops; an old-time general store and old-fashioned camera shop, picture studio, art studio with paintings of the Old West and Abilene.

Other old-time buildings will include bank, barber shop, undertaker's parlor, post office, courthouse, jail and sheriff's office, livery stable, silent movie theatre, fire station, hitching posts, opera house and coin shop.

There will be a special atmospheric western restaurant seating 300 to 400 people, with continuous entertainment and fine food.

A big community hall, an amphitheater seating about 800, and an outdoor stage will provide facilities for Abilene and area entertainers to perform. Big-name entertainers also will be featured.

There will be hotel-motel lodging. Spectacular Museum Still another attraction will be a spectacular historical museum.

"This museum will be one of the star attractions of the park, and it could become nationally known," Casey declared.

Casey said that he already has amassed a large collection of historical items and exhibits, including several from Motley County. Other gifts or loans of items will be welcome, he said.

Because Old Abilene Town will be based on the history of Abilene and West Texas, it is only fitting that the men behind the project are men of West Texas.

They are, in addition to Casey, Mack Eplien, vice president and W. Lee Byrd, secretary-treasurer, an Abilene attorney and mayor of Abilene. Casey and Eplien are in the restaurant business.

Born in Loraine, Tex., and lived there until he was four years old. Then his family of nine embarked on a covered wagon journey to Motley County, 150 miles north of Abilene.

"That was back in 1917, and it was a nightmare of a trip, with many hardships," said Casey. "It took us 30 days and nights to go those 150 miles."

Casey owns the Casey's Red Barn Restaurants in Abilene. He opened his first restaurant in Abilene in 1944.

For him, the creation of Old Abilene Town is a dream come true.

"We have designed Old Abilene Town so that it will not duplicate Six Flags Over Texas. Rather it will emphasize West Texas charm, West Texas Culture, West Texas history, and West Texas activities.

"Abilene and West Texas have an adventure-filled, romantic history. We couldn't wish for a more exciting theme for the park than the aura of the Old West."

Irrigation pumps should be checked for efficiency, and the owner should insist on at least 65% pump efficiency for economy of operation.

Insect survey teams started to work on the 1st of June in an effort to reduce boll weevils infestations. When weevils are found, a white flag will be placed to mark the exact spot in the field where weevils are found, and the farmer notified if at all possible. If the farmer can't be found, I will be notified, and will get word to you.

This is part of the 2nd step outlined in spring meetings. If weevils are treated when first detected, only small areas need to be treated, thus preventing the buildup of populations that will spread over the entire field. Checks made during the pre-squaring and early square stage for overwintered weevils, and controls where found will reduce the cost of the entire program and reduce damage on the individual farm.

All cotton farmers should make regular checks of their field, and in the areas where they generally find the first weevils, as it is impossible for the three teams to check all fields in the county.

The third step is regular season control where infestations warrant controls. Guides were mailed to all farmers but in case you need one, I still have a supply on hand.

The 4th step is early harvest and stalk destruction. This cuts off the weevils food supply and makes it harder for him to go

Prize-Winning Essay Points To Vital Need In Caring For Soil

Editor's Note — Following is the prize-winning essay on soil conservation, in the "Save the Soil and Save Texas" awards program sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, for which the author received a trophy.

Conservation, Our Best Insurance

By Kate Thompson

We live in a troubled world. Each nation is trying its skills to be the first to land on the moon. This atomic age, in which we live, is changing most all phases of this world.

We should stop and open our Bible and refresh our minds that the Lord gave us the world and created for us seeds, fowls, trees, and animals. He formed man and wife and set them over these things to live and replenish the world. Since this first beginning, man has passed through many stages in life, and has passed on to us many, many things from his experiences.

As for me, when I attain the into diapause this fall. For those who defoliate or desiccate, add a phosphate insecticide to the material as this will also help to reduce the number of weevils.

Most of the farmers cooperated in the delayed planting season, waiting until after May 10th to plant, but 100% participation in the spray program this fall is still a must. Information presented at the meetings proved that one untreated field would infest the area in that neighborhood, causing more losses on those who took part in the program than those in areas where 100% participated.

I am thankful to be a member of Motley County 4-H Club who is having a big hand in trying to bring back to life our rural America, by stressing to us the value of conservation.

adult life, I just hope I am able to live on a farm and that the government is still assisting in conservation practices. I envision a small ranch with plenty of good watered grass, for my livestock, and a number of acres for growing the necessities of life. This may sound like too much heaven on earth, but I believe I can attain what I want in life if I live up to the laws of life and care for the land and seed that have been given to us.

Conservation is the answer. I see no reason why one couldn't succeed. It is a life full of pleasure and contentment. Money invested this way will bring you more than any paid-up insurance policy — for you are enjoying your money while you yet live. The land I leave to my children will be a living memorial to them. I will have achieved a portion of my hopes and dreams, and they can be able to say that I played a small part in making a better world for them to live in.

I am thankful to be a member of Motley County 4-H Club who is having a big hand in trying to bring back to life our rural America, by stressing to us the value of conservation.

Other visitors during the week end, in the Clements home were her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Graves of Arlington.

CARD OF THANKS

Our hearts overflow with gratitude when we think of all the kindnesses of friends during the illness of our loved one, and at his death. We are grateful, not only to those who sat with us, but everyone who offered their help, for food brought to the house, and the dinner served at the church; to Dr. Stanley and his staff; and for the many cards of sympathy and the beautiful floral offerings. May God bless each of you.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON BIG 4

PLANT THE BEST COTTON-SEED MONEY CAN BUY!! Cottonseed costs 3 to 6% of all cotton production costs, depending on whether you buy the best field selected seed or higher priced seed from a breeder.

The production of seed that we have for sale has been supervised by experienced seedsmen and is the first year progeny from certified breeders seed. Varietal purity of this seed has been maintained through proper isolation, cleaning of harvesting equipment, ginning the seed in large lots and large batch acid delinting.

Our seed is climinated by mother nature to plains conditions as it is produced locally. The seed is selected from fields free of verticillium wilt that are mature at harvest. Mature fields produce high germinating seed that have good seedling vigor and resistance against seedling diseases. Our seed is culled closely during the acid delinting process and treated with a mercurial type chemical which gives protection against seed borne diseases and fungus. The Texas Department of Agriculture runs germination tests on all our seed to insure that we know our germination percentage.

Your best cottonseed buy is Big 4 Seed at only 3% of your cotton production costs. Ask about Big 4 seed at Delta, Inc., Crosbyton, Texas, Phone 2621.
