Gen. Birkhead paid tribute to Thompson as a soldier. He was one of the finest officers, one of the most intelligent and energetic men ever to serve under his command, the general declared.

"Ernest Thompson," Birkhead said, "served with distinction in World War No. 1, being promoted on the field of battle to be the youngest lieutenant colonel in the war.

"During the year of training after it became apparent that we would be drawn into this war, Thompson did outstanding work with the 36th Division at Camp Bowie.

"When President Roosevelt sent him back to the Railroad Commission to help see that oil and gas were supplied our armed forces and that transportation kept moving, he put Ernest Thompson in command of a job of indescribable importance to our war effort."

MOTLEY COUNTY CANDIDATES SUSPEND POLITICAL CAMPAIGNS AND RALLIES

IN compliance with a request by Mark McKee, State director of the Office of Price Administration, that candidates for public office refrain from holding political rallies this summer, as a rubber conservation measure, the candidates whose names appear under this article have agreed among themselves that they will not participate in any such political rally, or in the customary house-to-house campaign this year.

This action is taken not because of any personal benefits that might accrue to the various candidates, nor because we fail to appreciate the fact that none of us (except those seeking the office of County Treasurer) are encumbered by opposing candidates, nor because we have ceased to recognize our obligations and responsibilities, as your public servants; but because we desire to cooperate in every movement that seems to be for the best interest of our National welfare during the strenuous crisis through which we are now passing.

We wish to express our sincere gratitude to the citizens and voters of Motley county for the honor and confidence extended to us in previous elections, and we shall endeavor to prove ourselves worthy of your trust, in every instance, while we are permitted to serve in our respective offices. However, we fully realize that we are all subject to mistakes, and we solicit suggestions from any citizen, at any time, that might enable us to better promote the general welfare of Motley County, and our Nation at large.

Hoping that you will realize that the purpose of this procedure is a matter of economy, that you will concur in our action, and that it might tend, in a small way, to bring peace to our beloved land in the very near future.

Respectfully submitted

Thompson Vital Mail Board, Head Says

July 16—Never more does Texas and the nation intelligence, energy and its governmental places with vital parts in the Gen. Claude Birkhead, commander of the 36th declared in a statement

Birkhead, who was retired and reached the army has again taken command of a campaign—this time the campaign for reelection of Col. Ernest O. Thompson to the Texas Railroad Commission.

Col. Thompson served for years in the National Guard and in the 36th Division after the army training program began in 1940 under the command of Gen. Birkhead.

Thompson, on the orders of President Roosevelt, last year was returned to his post on the important Railroad Commission, which is charged with regulation of oil and gas and transportation.

"Transportation and oil and gas are as vital as anything in our war effort," Gen. Birkhead said.

"Without oil and gas to keep our airplanes flying, our ships at sea and our motorized equipment moving, we would be hopelessly lost.

"Texas is the greatest of oil states, and in affairs of oil and gas and transportation, Ernest Thompson has no peer. He has done a wonderful work on the Railroad Commission in the past and his military knowledge, combined with his knowledge and experience in oil and gas and in transportation, make him invaluable at this time on the Texas Railroad Commission. President Roosevelt acted wisely in sending him back to it and the people of Texas should, and I believe will, without question keep him there by their votes in the July Primary."

Eugene Worley Goes Back to Congress

At The Request Of President Roosevelt

Congressman Eugene Worley sent word last week from a far-away port in Australia that he would return to Washington in compliance with a directive issued by the President, calling all members of the House and Senate who are on war duty, back to Congress.

It will require a few weeks for Gene to reach American shores but as soon as he does he will head straight for his district to talk over the war situation with you before resuming his duties in Washington.

Gene has been aboard a U. S. Aircraft carrier at Pearl Harbor and off the Coast of Australia for the past six months. He volunteered his service to his country when he voted for war—just like he told you he would. He did what his predecessor, Marvin Jones, did in World War I, and what Senator Tom Connally did in 1917.

When he enlisted in the Navy in January, Gene said he would return to Congress when the President called him, and he is keeping that promise, too. He will return with a vast amount of first-hand knowledge of this war that will be helpful in shaping our future course.

Gene will not be back in time to ask you for your vote, but his friends ask you for him.

APPEAL MADE FOR BETTER USO BOOKS

Less than half of the 10,200,000 books received by the USO in its victory book campaign are fit reading for men in the armed services, according to a statement released recently by John F. Hickey of New York, treasurer of the campaign.

He said there were too many of "the care and feeding of babies" variety of books being pulled out of the corners and given to the USO.

"Don't dig in the cellar," he urged donors. "Give the book you'd like to read yourself."

Technical books, best sellers and current and recent magazines are particularly desired, he said.

Mrs. Leonora Luckett, chairman of the Victory Book Drive for Motley County advises that the campaign for books here has met with but little response, and that contributions of suitable material for men in the armed forces will be greatly appreciated. Books and magazines are left with County Judge W. R. Cammack, at his office in the court house, until arrangements can be made to ship them to distribution points.

Bridal Shower Is Given at Flomot

Mrs. Frank Garrett and Mrs. Lawrence Washington of Flomot, were co-hostesses recently at a bridal shower in the home of the former, honoring Mrs. Troy Kell, who was before her marriage, Pauline Titus.

The bridegroom stood in the receiving line with his bride, and they were presented with many lovely gifts.

Refreshments of tea and cookies were served to the guests, who called between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock.

Among those who were present or sent gifts were: Mesdames A. S. Morris, Oscar Vinson, Reece Kell, A. L. Tanner, Harley Gunn, Gordie Washington, Leonard Crowell, Bill Morris, Woodrow Slover, R. Taylor, Joe Titus, Farris Martin, R. W. Amick, Herston Cromer, Harrison George, Ernest Fisher, A. L. Clements, R. M. Martin, L. B. Turner, Alfred Martin, Pearl Martin, C. E. Washington, M. S. Washington, M. F. Slover, Laura Williams and R. J. Merritt.

Misses Bonnie Ruth Crowell, Mary Slover, Marie McAlister, Sue McDonald, Bobbie Lee Amick, Joyce Fisher, Mary Yvonne Martin, Letha Faye Waters and June Titus.

GO TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Pied Pinions

BY MR. S. M.

From the June Lions bulletin: HAVE YOU HEARD THIS ONE?

"A First Aider asked Dr. Joe what to do if he came upon a man slumped over the wheel of his car.

Dr. Joe said: "If he is conscious, remove him from the car, lay him gently on his back, and give First Aid; if he should be unconscious, jack up his car and remove all four tires."—The Roar, Cliffside Park, N. J.

And from the Holyoke, Massachusetts Bulletin: "Dad, what does it mean when it says in the paper that a man went to a convention as a delegate-at-large?"

"It means that his wife didn't go with his son."

But the way it is told in these parts is this: If a man's wife goes along with him, he makes the trip for business purposes; if he goes alone, then it's a pleasure trip!

WANTED: Advice as to how to fill these salt and peppers that open with corks in the bottom, without spilling all the contents in the process; and without standing on one's head.

Isn't it just too humorous how many different ailments a person can develop just by reading the various health articles which appear from time to time in national publications.

With a little stretching of the imagination I've had all the symptoms of practically all the known ills. But recent self-diagnosis reveals largely a general settling due to approaching senility.

A glance at the headlines would indicate that while the bombing of Tokio has become background props for more recent developments, it is still in the minds and hearts of the American people. The raid was re-enacted by the Midland Army Flying School in a demonstration of precision bombing on July 4.

Further, Brig. Gen. James H. Doolittle, who led bombers in the actual raid, recently received a gold life membership card in the Army and Navy Legion of Valor, while a number of his officers have received the Distinguished Flying Cross for their participation in the bombing.

It is therefore, not untimely to mention that a member of the crew, Lt. J. H. Macia of Tucson, Arizona, is a nephew by marriage, of local residents, Mrs. J. H. Sample and Mrs. E. E. Campbell, Mrs. Macia being their niece, and the granddaughter of J. L. Murrell, also of Matador. Lt. Macia, who was born at Tombstone, Ariz., and is a former half-back on the University of Arizona teams, was the first southern Arizonan reported to have received the distinguished service cross in this war, according to a news release soon after the bombing occurred.

The young lieutenant, as one of the Flying Tigers, was presented the first of his two decorations by Madame Chiang Kai-Shek, wife of the Generalissimo, while still in China.

But Glory is such a fickle mistress and we remember with a secret hurt, the scant crowd which gathered before the Alamo Mission in San Antonio last month when Sergeant Alvin C. York, No. 1 Hero of World War No. 1 spoke.

A few indifferent spectators loitered along the street opposite the plaza, for several moments, then passed on, while others were interested only in seeking shelter from the light rain which was falling.

We venture to say that no rain would have been too heavy, or no catastrophe great enough to constrain the multitudes, had General MacArthur or Brig. General Doolittle so much as passed through the streets!

And yet Lieut. Col. Ralph Clinton Kenney, attached to the Fort Worth QMC Depot, who was a fellow member of the 82nd Division

Dr. Cox Stresses Early Dental Care

AUSTIN—A child by the time he is two and a half or three years of age should become acquainted with the atmosphere of a dental office and the ministrations of a dentist is the advice given by Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. It is of prime importance, according to Doctor Cox, that children look upon the family dentist as a friendly guardian of their health.

In stressing the importance of early dental care, Doctor Cox quoted the following from a bulletin of the American Dental Association:

"Parents should teach the child that the dentist is his friend. They should not allow him to receive the impression that a visit to the dentist means unpleasantness and pain. Such impressions are usually created in a child's mind before he ever sees the dentist.

"Parents can prevent fear in the child by taking him to the dentist before the teeth are decayed. Thus the first visit will consist of an examination only. Subsequent visits will consist of a simple cleaning or, at the most, the painless filling of small cavities. It is a grave mistake to neglect a child's teeth that his first visit to the dentist must be associated with pain."

E. C. Nelson

Judge E. C. Nelson is a candidate for Chief Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. This is one of the highest judicial offices in our State, one that demands the most thorough training and the widest possible experience. Judge Nelson has attended and graduated from the leading universities and law schools in our country, giving him an educational background of the highest order.

He taught school for five years before entering the legal profession, and served two years in the United States Army during World War I, fourteen months of his service being in France.

He has had a well-rounded legal experience. He has been a licensed attorney for more than 22 years. He has practiced law in all of our courts and has been judge of all courts of record up to the Court of Civil Appeals. As an appellate judge, he will be able, from his own experience, to review a case from the standpoint of both the practicing lawyer and the trial judge.

He is now District Judge of the district composed of Potter, Randall, and Armstrong Counties, and his record as a trial judge is one of the best in the State.

Judge Nelson is 51 years old, just the right age to undertake the work of an appellate judge. He is old enough for maturity, experience, and judgment, and young enough for the years of hard work the position requires.

The size of the district has made it impossible for him to see all the people, but he solicits the vote and influence of all our citizens.

Best Texas Writer Leads In Collier's

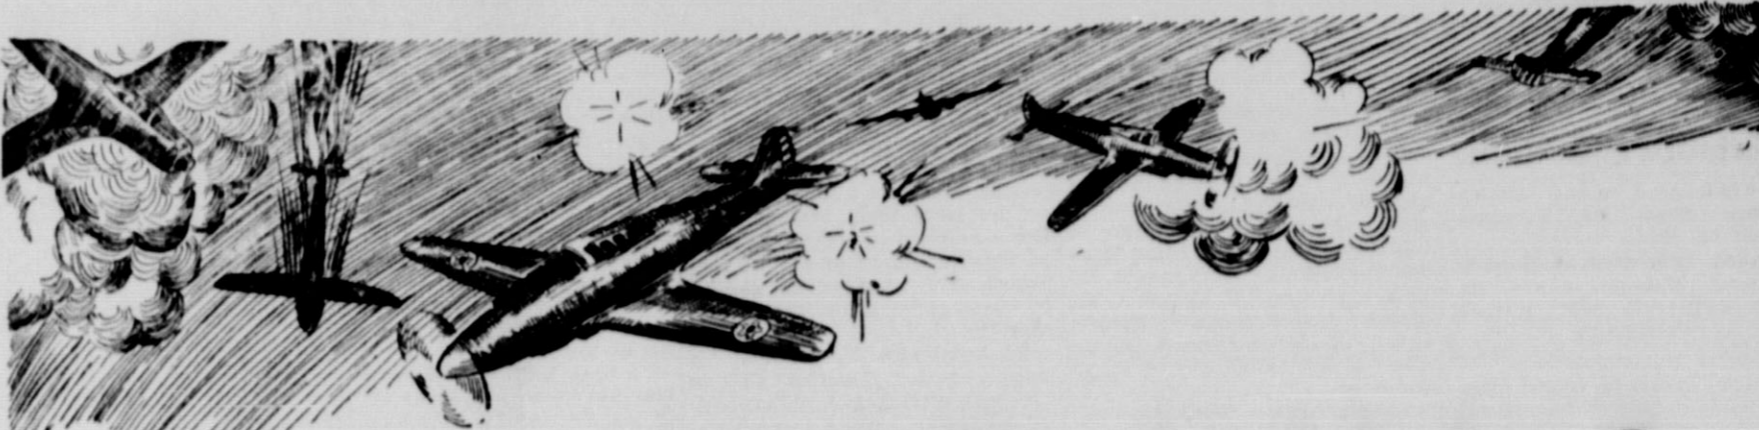

Staff story in the July 18 issue of Collier's magazine bears the author's name Frank Tolbert, sports editor of the Wichita Daily Times, Wichita Falls, later sports writer and book reviewer on the Fort Worth Star-Tribune.

Tolbert's first published venture in fiction is titled "Virgie Passes the Baton," and details the action of an eight-year-old daughter of a marine corps colonel. The background for the story is drawn from the service which Tolbert rendered early this year.

Last winter, the magazine published a feature article on the "City Mites," the Masonic football team, for which Tolbert was co-author.

The writer is stationed at Washington, awaiting officer training, and is over-seas service orders, while on The Leatherneck staff, Naval Marine magazine, published in Washington. While on the "Telegram" staff, Tolbert reviewed "Trail Dust" by Tribune author Douglas Meador.

Tolbert is the son of Mrs. Frances Tolbert of Lubbock.

What Can I Do to Help?

Every American who loves liberty desires to see our foes' weapons silenced forever. Every American who loves liberty should help crush the menace to our privilege of self rule that is being projected by the Axis war lords.

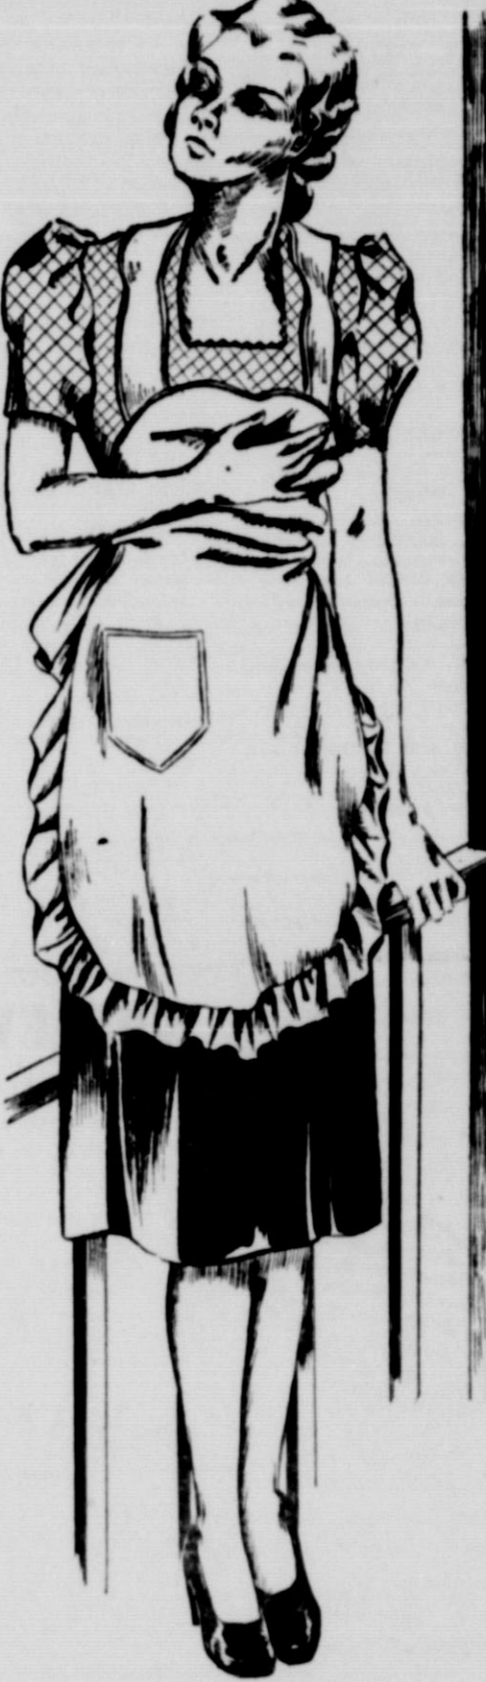

To that end, then, all of us must devote our resources, thought and energy with profound earnestness, for the defeat of our enemies is a job which calls for the cooperation of everyone—make no mistake about it! The housewife, the business woman, the farmer, the industrial worker, the business man . . . all have clear-cut duties.

Whether might alone makes right will be decided on the battle field in this war. And you, whether you employ, or are employed, hold the answer to whether innocent, peace loving, God-fearing people may be free in generations to come to work to worship as please. This war has placed great responsibility on you.

You should avoid waste. You should follow peacetime buying practices, as nearly as you can, refraining from making purchases to store away, keep in mind the importance of conserving, especially those things vital to the armament program. You should carry on as normally as possible, considering that we are at war, for it takes physically vigorous and mentally balanced men and women on the home front to produce the things required to keep our fighting forces armed, and fed, and clothed adequately.

You should accept war news—the bad with fortitude, the good with reaffirmed resolution to not slacken your efforts in doing your part to see this war through to a victorious end. You should be careful not to disclose news about our armed forces. If you hear that a unit is leaving a post or camp at a specified time, keep quite about it. If you see trains bearing troops, divulge no information as to the direction of travel. While traveling, if you pass a convoy, do not spread the news. The safe way to treat news of a military nature is to believe that the enemy has spies everywhere, and act prudently to avoid being the medium through which the slightest harm could come to a single one of our men in uniform.

For the duration, keep in mind that your retail merchants, your service institutions, and your professional men are doing their best to carry on as normally as possible, but if war has forced certain changes and restrictions, bear with them, remembering that they are doing all they can to serve you the best that they can.

OUR DUTY: TO FIT THEM TO FIGHT

Our boys — your sons, your husbands, your brothers, your grandsons — are going to the front to do your fighting for you. You want them fitted to fight, don't you? We cannot do for them what they will do for us. To them we will owe our liberty and all of the fine things that go with living in free America. The least that we can do is to make certain that they are fully armed, well fed, and adequately clothed. It is our duty to bend our efforts and our resources to help supply them in such quantity that they will not want for a single thing. Let's get busy — work harder, buy all of the War Bonds and Stamps that we possibly can buy.

Troy Perkins Is In Hospital Corps

GREAT LAKES, Ill., July 8—Troy Perkins, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Perkins, Whiteflat, Texas, was graduated today from the Hospital Corps School at the U. S. Naval Training Station here.

A member of a class of 504 Blue-jackets from 43 states, he was promoted to hospital apprentice, second class.

Mr. Perkins has completed a study of anatomy, physiology, first aid, hygiene and sanitation, materia medica and weights and measures, and soon will receive additional training at a Navy hospital. Later he will be assigned to general duty with the Hospital Corps at sea or at a shore station.

RETURNS HOME

Miss Frances Stearns has returned home from Fort Worth, where she completed the first semester's summer course at TCU. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stearns drove to Childress Sunday evening, to meet and accompany her home.

Keep Appliances Repaired Advises Utility Manager

Mrs. Homemaker, faced with the probability that she soon will be unable to buy new electric appliances, is reminded by the West Texas Utilities that her sweeper, iron, food mixer and the like will last longer if kept in good repair.

Even new parts are becoming scarce and harder to get, says C. A. Pitts, WTU local manager. Practically all the factories, which once made household appliances, now have been converted to war production of some kind. For instance, a plant that used to make vacuum sweepers now is making gas masks.

The company, as a means of helping to "keep 'em working," has worked out a plan whereby appliances can be kept in useful condition for the duration.

Regardless of make or where originally purchased, WTU servicemen now are prepared to repair electric appliances insofar as new parts are obtainable. This special service is offered only as a convenience to electric users in communities where such repairs are not otherwise available, or the dealer from whom the appliance was originally purchased has discontinued business.

Small appliances, in need of repairs, should be taken to the local office for information about parts and costs while repairs for major appliances in most cases can be made in the home.

"By spending a little now," Mr. Pitts said, "you may save a lot—and keep 'em working."

Deadline Set For License Examiners

AUSTIN, July 15—Men seeking jobs as drivers license examiners with the State Police must have their applications in by August 1, State Police Director Homer Garrison said today.

A statewide examination will be given shortly after that date by Highway Patrol captains and sergeants in the 14 district headquarters over the state.

New examiners are needed to replace those who have joined the armed forces or been transferred to the Highway Patrol or replacements for men on leave with the military services.

THAT "SOMETHING ABOUT A SOLDIER" STRONG APPEAL TO WIFE AND SONS

That "something about a soldier" which appeals to boys and girls is especially strong when the soldier is father and husband. That is shown in this family scene of Lieutenant Vernon Lemens, taken this week at Camp Hood, Temple, while his happy family were visiting him from their home in Waxahachie. Mrs. Lemens is completing her husband's campaign for Lieutenant Governor which he began before entering the army.

Vernon, Jr., age 6, shows a preference for the U. S. Army uniform of his father, while Bobby, age 3, wears the sailor suit selected by his mother.

Senator Lemens served in World War I, was an active Legionnaire and reserve officer in the peace period, and is now on duty as assistant adjutant with the tank destroyer command at Camp Hood. As Senator of the Twelfth District he will be granted leave to serve in Austin during the session of the Legislature under War Department rules governing reserve officers holding public office at the time of army induction.

He is asking a promotion to Lieutenant Governor so that he can preside over the Senate. He feels that his fourteen years of continuous legislative service and his military experience and standing especially fit him to direct the Senate in the wartime session ahead. The duties of Lieutenant Governor require no more time in Austin than those of Senator, which he now is.

LARGE PART OF STATE'S INCOME DEPENDS ON OIL

DALLAS, Texas, July 15—Nearly one million Texans get their entire living from the Texas petroleum industry.

This is shown by a study of Texas petroleum employment and payrolls just completed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, research and service organization of Texas operators.

Employees of the Texas petroleum industry numbered 240,223 last year, the association found. Multiplying this by four, the average to a family, gives a Texas petroleum army of 960,892 men, women and children directly supported by oil and gas operations.

Allred Asks Home Folks To Aid In Soldier Voting

James V. Allred, candidate for United States senator, has appealed to the families and friends of service men in every county in Texas to inform them of their right to vote in the party primary and to make that right effective.

"Texans in the armed forces of the nation this year can maintain a voice in the operation of their government," former Governor Allred declared.

The State Democratic Committee, after hearing arguments from Allred and others, has adopted a

This is almost one-sixth of the state's population.

The wage-earners of this group in 1941 earned $329,538,455, or nearly one-third of a billion dollars, the survey shows. Most of this was in turn spent with Texas merchants, business and professional men, landlords, etc., for food, clothing, shelter, professional services and many other things.

The Texas petroleum industry's payroll was only one of its expenditures which amounted to around $750,000,000 a year by latest reports. Other expenditures included lease and royalty payments to Texas farmers and ranchers, expansion of facilities including new wartime plants, and state, local and Federal taxes.

Last year Texas petroleum workers paid $39,732,884 in direct state and local taxes. With this added to the $88,706,747 paid by the industry itself, the Texas petroleum industry and its employees paid a total of $128,439,631 for State and local governmental purposes. This represents 55 per cent of the $234,057,889 collected for such purposes, exclusive of sales, poll and inheritance levies.

Land Office Is Repository For All Land Titles

Bascom Giles, Commissioner of the General Land Office, began the second week of his campaign for re-election, stressing the importance of experience in the office he now holds.

"To manage the public lands of Texas wisely and to preserve the valuable archives of this office, the commissioner must be imbued with the responsibility and knowledge of these intricate matters that only years of experience in the General Land Office can give," Commissioner Giles said.

He called attention to the fact that the General Land Office is the repository of the base title to every tract of land in Texas, and that extreme care should be exercised at all times to safeguard these important documents upon which the validity of every Texas land title is based.

Commissioner Giles invited those who have not done business with resolution permitting our soldier boys to vote.

The next step, Allred observed, is to see that the service men know of that right and that the correct procedure is followed. Those on the home front must aid in doing this part of the job, he said.

Service men must write their county clerk at home, asking for an absentee ballot, the letter accompanied by a poll tax receipt or affidavit that the poll tax was paid. The ballot must be filled out in the presence of a notary or summary court officer or adjutant and returned to the county clerk. Period for absentee voting in the July 25 primary is July 5-22, or not more than 20 nor less than three days before the election.

"Please send me 10¢ worth of electricity—today"

"But, Lady, you don't have to order it—just turn the switch!"

SUPPOSE, though, that you did have to order your day's supply of electric service, say, in baskets like groceries. You'd realize even more how convenient it now is. And you'd appreciate even more how little it costs... and how much it does for you.

Actually, a majority of all West Texas families have good light and operate their many appliances for about a dime a day—or less!

What's more, that dime buys just about twice or three times as much electricity as it did 10 to 15 years ago! And (are you surprised?) it's one of the few household items that hasn't "gone up" as a result of the war.

This bargain doesn't just happen. It comes from our united effort to give you better service at lower cost. It is made possible by practical, efficient business management of an institution built by Americans who invested their savings in an industry dedicated to the public service and regulated by the government.

That's the American way—and it works!

It works so well that even though our country today is pouring record-breaking amounts of electric power into the world's greatest production of planes, tanks, ships and guns—you still get low-cost current in your home... and at the flick of a switch. You don't need to order it... or secure a ration card.

Probably the few pennies a day you spend for electric service bring you more for your money than anything else you buy. For this small amount, would you clean oil lamps, beat rugs, scrub clothes, give up your radio?

Hardly! Electric service is the world's biggest bargain
