Rain Havoc Causes Grave Concern Here

Motley county is suffering great losses from continued excessive rains, which returned about 10 o'clock last night after four days respite.

While no official rainfall was secured yesterday from George Springer's rain gauge, it is estimated that approximately three inches of rain fell over the weekend.

Cotton gins in Matador were running late Monday night following the short time in which cotton pickers could work.

Various Estimates On Damage It would be difficult to quote any two men on the street who would agree on the extent of the damage.

RED CROSS DRIVE PLANS COMPLETE

Plans are complete to launch Motley county's most extensive Red Cross membership drive either Saturday or Monday.

Motley county has a goal of 900 members, which approximately doubles that of any previous year.

Flomol Youth Sent To Nevada School

LAS VEGAS, Nevada—Private Johnnie D. Davidson, Flomol, Texas, who joined the army Aug. 22 at Lubbock, Texas, was transferred early this month from Jefferson Barracks, Mo., to the newly-opened Air Corps Gunnery school here.

GINNING REPORTS

Census report shows that 551 bales of cotton were ginned in Motley County Texas from the crop of 1941 prior to October 18.

Food-For-Freedom Meeting At Lubbock

Farmer-committeemen of the AAA and representatives of government agricultural agencies from 19 counties will meet in Lubbock, Texas Thursday and Friday, October 30 and 31.

The district meeting will be one of 12 similar meetings being held thruout the state at the same time to get the food production time to get the food production time to get the food production time.

Following the district meeting, the county USDA defense board, working with AAA committeemen, will undertake farm-to-farm canvass in the food production pledge.

"DEATH VALLEY SCOTTY" MADE RUN IN 1905 TO CREATE RAILROAD EPIC

While Santa Fe stream-line trains make the run between Los Angeles and Chicago in 39 1/2 hours on regular schedule, the railway speed record of "Death Valley Scotty" between those points in 1905, of 44 hours, 54 minutes continues as one of the epics and thrillers of railroading.

Walter Scott, better known as "Death Valley Scotty," a Californian of legendary riches, appeared at the office of the Santa Fe Railroad in Los Angeles, on July 8, 1905, and nonchalantly asked for a special train to take him to Chicago faster than any man being had ever made the trip before!

He was hurridly exchanged with headquarters. Scott was told that the 2,265-mile trip could be made in 46 hours, but would cost a small fortune.

"How much?" "Five thousand five hundred dollars," was the reply. Scott laid down the cash and closed the deal. At 1 p. m. on Sunday, July 9, "Death Valley Scotty's" "Coyote Special," consisting of a locomotive, a dining car and the Pullman car "Muskegon," pulled out of Los Angeles on its history-making run.

It was a halt at Dearborn Street Station, Chicago, having beaten the previous record from Los Angeles to Chicago by 13 hours and 2 minutes.

The remarkable train ride of "Death Valley Scotty" caused a sensation and added a colorful chapter to railway history.

Farm Women Have Opportunity To Aid Defense

Self-sufficiency of farm families is a practical contribution farm women can make in the Food-For-Defense program, according to B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA Defense Board.

Pointing out that many lines of food production are now over-taxed because of heavier domestic demand and requirements of the Lend-Lease Program, he said that even a small increase on an individual farm would benefit the Nation and supply nutritious foods for the family's use.

Texas farmers have been asked to increase milk from 4,488,000,000 pounds this year to 4,650,000,000 for 1942. The state goal for eggs is 203,775,000 dozen, compared with 185,250,000 dozen for this year.

An extra cow, a flock of chickens, or a pig will represent a net gain in the farm income without increasing the farm overhead, he explained.

Mrs. Leonora Luckett is expected home this week from Waco, where she has been visiting her daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe Sams, the past two weeks.

Rev. L. N. Lipscomb To Hold Service

Rev. L. N. Lipscomb will preach at the Methodist Church Sunday at 7:30 p. m., according to an announcement by Rev. W. B. Vaughn, pastor.

The Fourth Quarterly Conference will be held at the close of the preaching service. All are invited to hear Rev. Lipscomb, and the members of the church are urged to be present for the Quarterly Conference.

The Annual Conference will be held November 12th in Big Spring, Texas.

Ralls Drops 12-0 Score To Matadors

Two scores in the last two minutes of play gave the Matador Matadors their third conference victory on an aquatic grid field where they met the Ralls Jackrabbits at Ralls Friday afternoon.

The first touchdown came when Algie Durbin passed to Phil Green, good for 25 yards. Vance Campbell added the second touchdown on a 25-yard cutback thru center as the game ended.

The Jackrabbits had produced most of the offensive play thru three quarters of the contest, driving to the half-yard line in the opening period and within the 20-yard line two other times.

Leroy Spivey guard and Russell Stevens, end, were outstanding on the Ralls defensive.

Football fans who braved the rain and mud to the plains city were repaid in an exciting game that brought the important points just 110 seconds before the game ended.

Continued rainy weather caused a change in time in last Friday's game to afternoon instead of the scheduled night play.

MISS PATTON RECEIVES INJURIES FROM FALL

Miss Rachel Patton, deputy in the office of sheriff and tax collector H. H. Courtney suffered painful injuries when she fell on the stairs at her home Sunday morning.

Miss Patton was called on at every turn Monday, for explanations, when she appeared in town with her ankle bandaged and her arm in a sling.

Motley County Ranchers Sell $75,000 Calf Crop

Motley county independent ranchers banked approximately $75,000 during the past week from the sale of the 1941 calf crop, it was disclosed here yesterday.

While market prices were higher than in past years, the average weight of this year's calf crop was declared lower than earlier estimates.

The approximately $75,000 received by local ranchers represented the calves from about 20 Motley county ranches, and is estimated to be somewhere in the neighborhood of 80% of the calves which will be sold to outside markets.

Despite the fact that this is rapidly becoming a duck country, the new laws offer ample protection for the ducks, according to a proclamation received by County Attorney Howard Tra-week, this week.

"Open season for geese, brant, coot ducks, sunrise to 4 p. m. each day, November 2 to December 31. Providing the open season herein proclaimed shall not be applied to any state game preserve or to any federal wildlife sanctuary or to any area where any kind of feed whatsoever has been placed, deposited, distributed scattered or otherwise put out, whereby such water fowl as named herein or any of same are lured, attracted or enticed, regardless of distance intervening between any such grain or feed and the position of the taker; and that no open season is provided for the taking of wild geese, brant, coot or ducks through the use directly or indirectly of live duck or goose decoys regardless of the distance intervening between any such live decoys and the position of the taker."

"No shooting from boat" Nor shall there be any open season that is deemed to permit the use of air craft of any kind or by power boat, sail boat or other floating craft or device of any kind used in taking or attempting to take any of the species of water fowl above enumerated; and that there shall be no open season for taking geese, brant, ducks or coots, except with a shotgun not larger than ten-gauge and providing that no automatic loading or hand-operated repeating shotgun capable of holding more than three shells in the magazine and chamber of such gun shall be used unless the magazine of such gun is plugged with a one piece metal of wooden filler incapable of removal thru (See DUCK SEASON back page)

When considering the county's income from the stock-raising industry, the annual sales of cattle from the vast Matador Land and Cattle Company ranch is an outstanding factor.

Ranching in Motley County has improved during recent years because of better average grades of cattle, improved transportation facilities, abundance of locally produced feeds and available cottonseed products essential in feeding.

Discount Rate On State Warrants Is Highest Since 1931

By Howard C. Marshall AUSTIN—An unofficial barometer has gone into action in Austin since Oct. 1 and pointed to unhappy condition in state finances.

Private companies which buy warrants issued on the treasury's general fund have increased the discount from one to one and one-half per cent.

The boost, experts explained, is due to the deficit of nearly $31,000,000 in the fund, an all-time top, and the fact that the deficit is growing, not standing still or declining.

The situation was described as follows: Not since 1931 has the treasury cashed a current warrant on the general fund, and in that year it made such payments only about two weeks.

County Collects $6,500 Delinquent Taxes In Two Days

Motley county property owners have been rushing the office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor and collector H. H. Courtney during the past week in order to take advantage of the savings offered by paying delinquent taxes before Saturday night.

The saving in delinquent taxes which may amount to as much as 44% when taxes have not been paid for eight or ten years, was made possible by a recent act of the Legislature to rescind penalty and interest until November 1 (inclusive)

Some county officials believe that almost complete collection of delinquent taxes in the county might have resulted if the law had been extended until January 1st instead of November 1.

New Type Roof For Local Ford Agency

A new type of roof is being applied to the Matador Auto Company building, local Ford agency, this week.

The roof, which is being placed by F. O. Carlson, is unusual in this area. Approximately one inch of concrete is being applied over double reinforcement on the large oval roof.

Mr. Carlson said that after the concrete has dried, which will require about 60 days, the roof will then be covered with a special asphalt to fill and seal cracks.

Weather permitting, he expects to complete the concrete work this week.

Will Dogwood Cure Malaria?

EVERY spring the hillsides of America from Maine to Florida are splashed white with the gorgeous, snowy bloom of this medium-sized, showy tree of the eastern states.

open before most trees are in full leaf, so that whole hillsides seem as though spotted with snow drifts in April and May.

Nearly two hundred years ago the first specimen of dogwood reached Europe and Linnaeus gave it the name Cornus florida, mistakenly supposing it was confined only to the southern states.

Agnes before Linnaeus tagged it with a Latin name, the Indians had a quaint idea about dogwood that modern science has completely dispelled. Apparently the Indians were much subject to malaria and like most primitive people looked for a cure among their native plants.

Not long ago an old Indian on one of the reservations which have been set aside for them, came to a government doctor with this dogwood infusion, and the lore of its supposed virtue may still exist.

Quinine, at first only an infusion of cinchona bark, is now a highly refined product and the world's remedy for malaria. Thousands of Indians on reservations and millions of people in the South are told by their doctors that 20 grains of quinine per day for 5-7 days are better than dogwood, ipecac, whiskey or a dozen other substitutes for this standard remedy for malaria.

WE DON'T KNOW OUR STRENGTH

There is something going on in America—something so tremendous that few realize it at all.

The productive capacity of the country is increasing and increasing rapidly, after a long period of doldrums.

Leon Henderson, administrator of the Office of Price Administration, estimates that total production of the country today is close to 45 per cent higher than it was in the peak of 1929.

Nor does that necessarily mean that we are simply "building up to an awful letdown." It means that we could have done this any time, given the incentive, and that we can continue to do it after the defense emergency is past if we will.

In 1917 Henderson surprisingly says, when the country turned to arms production, there actually was no increase in the total productivity of the country. That remained static. It was thought a good trick to keep it from falling, in view of the quick enforced shift from the aims of peace to those of war.

ning at the rate of 11 million a year, a "phenomenal" figure. There is no lack of cotton, whose surplus has been a national problem for years. So cotton textile goods, for example, are likely to be produced and used on a scale we have not known, no matter what the demands of defense industries.

A larger percentage of production must go, and will go, into defense. But that won't mean reduction in civilian production by the same amount. Some items of civilian production are going to climb right with defense. The result is that we are opening up a vista of plenty before us which we will not dare allow to be a mirage.

SAVING TO PAY OUR TAXES

The pungently obvious fact that Americans have got to start saving every month now to meet income tax payments next year under the new tax law, has just been pointed out by the United States treasury in a useful pamphlet "Know Your Taxes" being distributed by the collector of internal revenue.

The booklet primarily is to explain the treasury's tax-savings plan of tax-savings notes. These tax-anticipation notes bear interest, when used to pay taxes, but for no other use.

Then this booklet contains several tables of figures, showing what the total taxes will be of individuals of varying income—single persons without dependents; married persons without dependents, and with one, two, or three dependents.

At random: Married person without dependents, having a net income from salary or wages of $5,000, must save $31 per month to pay income taxes. Married person with one dependent, $27 per month; two dependents, $23 per month; and three dependents, $18 monthly.

Income tax payments begin for the single person, without dependents, at $750; married, no dependents, at $1,500; with one dependent, $2,000; two dependents, $2,400, and three dependents, 2,500.

The unmarried, no-dependent person who makes $10,000 in salary would have to save $124 per month for income taxes; one making $20,000 would have to lay aside $411 a month, and one, if there be such, getting $25,000, law directs. Herein Fail Not, but have you then and there before said court this writ, with your return thereon endorsed showing how you executed the same.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of said court, at office in Matador, Texas, this 15th day of October, A. D. 1941.

Attest: R. A. Seay, Clerk, District Court. (SEAL) Attest: R. A. Seay, Clerk, District Court. 10-30-41 would have to save up $602 each month of the year to meet his personal income tax payments.

These figures, it was pointed out are for the non-community property tax states, and are not precise for the classifications in Texas, if the Texas community provision remains in effect, wherein the making of separate, rather than joint returns, would affect the surtax brackets.

Pied Pinions BY MRS. M.

If you are planning to give hand-made gifts this Christmas, now is the time to start working on them. If you like to crochet, you might be interested in the sheets of instructions which were sent this office several months ago. These include fancy curtain pulls, sweaters, table doilies, and a lovely table cloth. However, the bedspread which was shown on the Woman's Page several weeks ago, was not included in the pamphlets.

Since we have had several inquiries as to where this particular bedspread pattern, "Jenny Lind," can be procured, it can be obtained from: National Needlecraft Bureau, 385 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. by simply sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The number of the pattern is 681.

Several years ago when knitting was quite the vogue, and scarcely anyone ventured out without her knitting bag, it became a common sight in the beauty shops for women to occupy the time while under the dryer, busily knitting a suit or sweater, and we became obsessed with the yearning to do likewise; but the activities ceased before we could set the wheels of our ambition to turning.

Now, with Red Cross stressing home-manufacture of much needed garments for war-torn Europe, knitting has again revived, and suits and sweaters are again heading the list of popular sports wear. Observed recently about a table in a local cafe, was a group of young women, all with their knitting in their laps, and taking a few stitches now and then as they lingered over their coffee cups.

While we still wish we knew how, it just doesn't seem worth the effort to go thru the necessary agonizing learning processes, especially when we have to admit that we would probably do more dropping than purling of stitches.

Thoughts on marriage from "Friend Jasper" in the "Texas Parade", published by the Texas Good Roads Association: "Marriage is a fair transaction on the face of it... older than the pyramids and as full of hieroglyphics that nobody can parse... when a couple marry, they think they are starting at the top, but they are starting at scratch... A marriage is something that has to be made... Next to a shortage of money, probably the greatest cause of divorce is the insane desire of women to remake their husbands... (or visa versa, we'd say)... one thing, praise the Lord, women don't pride themselves no longer on being good housekeepers. You can always tell a man who is married to a good housekeeper by the way his face lightens up when you speak kindly to him... "Affection is a fire that can be fed from day to day, and be piled ever higher as the wintry years draw nigh. Old men and women can sit by it with their thin hands clasped, little children can nestle

A single-track mind, coupled with senile dementia, do not make for a very happy combination. Just because one habitually places the water in the percolator first and then measures the coffee, shouldn't be an excuse for burning up the pot by reversing the procedure, except for the fact that after the coffee was measured, one just simply forgot that there was no water in the pot. However about the only resulting damage was a melted fuse.

Auxiliary To Meet Tuesday Evening

The American Legion Auxiliary of Fleming Post will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening, November 4, instead of on Monday evening, as erroneously reported in last week's Tribune. Monday night is regular meeting date for Fleming Post.

Various committees of the Auxiliary have been at work this week in preparation for the banquet which will be given Armistice, for the legionnaires and their families.

All members are again reminded of the date, and urged to be present Tuesday night.

Couple Club Is Entertained Tues.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Pipkin entertained members of their couple club Tuesday evening. Following dinner, progressions of bridge were enjoyed. As a special Hallowe'en feature, low score holders were forced to wear masks during the succeeding game.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Meason held joint high score, and Casey Jones was winner of the traveling prize.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Meason, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and the hosts.

Pep Squad-Football Banquet Saturday

The pep squad and football team members of the Roaring Springs High School were honored by the faculty, Saturday evening with a banquet in the gymnasium.

Long tables were gaily decorated with appropriate letters for the team, formed by yellow marigolds. Place cards of miniature pep girls and football boys were used, and the menu and program were enclosed in small footballs.

An interesting program was given, with addresses by Superintendent C. W. Giesecke, and Coach Forrest Faulkner.

More than fifty guests enjoyed the affair.

Abilene Is Preparing For Largest Baptist Convention In Texas

ABILENE, Texas—Abilene is preparing for the largest state Baptist General Convention ever held in West Texas, November 11-14, according to Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons University and general chairman of the local committee arranging convention plans.

Preceding the convention proper, which opens Tuesday night, November 11, will be the simultaneous meeting of the Women's Missionary Union Convention, in the First Baptist church, and the Brotherhood Convention in the Hardin-Simmons University auditorium. These conventions start Monday afternoon, November 10 and close Tuesday afternoon, November 11.

"Responsibility for working out the wisest possible distribution of housing space has been accepted by the various churches and civic organizations, heading up in the Convention Housing Committee", Dr. White said. Four thousand homes, in addition to hotel rooms, are being sought for the visitors. Committee members feel that this goal will be reached or exceeded.

The Hon. Pat M. Neff, Waco, president of Baylor University and former governor of Texas, will bring a patriotic message at the opening session of the Convention Tuesday night, Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, Houston, chairman of the program committee, has announced. A. D. Foreman, Sr., Houston, convention president, is another featured speaker Tuesday night.

Wednesday's session will feature Baptist work in Texas. Thursday's report and messages will magnify the work of Baptists in the South and around the world. Friday morning, the final session will be devoted to transaction of such convention business as naming of committees, etc., with Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas, bringing the closing message.

Now Is Time To Plan Landscaping

COLLEGE STATION—The present is a suitable time to carry out a landscape plan which is carried out during this planting season. Sadie H. specialist in landscape of the Texas Extension says that it generally is safe to transplant shrubs after the first frost in the next growing season. The planting planning home landscape is an activity which the whole family can participate and enjoy.

To develop a landscape successfully, some knowledge is necessary for making thoughtful attention to it required. Miss Hatfield suggests preliminary visit by the observer and use some of the desirable features such as convenient arrangement of shade drives, placing of shade to keep out the sun, screening work area from public view outdoor living rooms or areas. It is a good idea, to the family to make a trip to a nursery and nearby study shrubs and trees which might be used in the landscape.

Each family should know names of at least five shade evergreen shrubs, five deciduous shrubs, and five trees which they would like in their homestead beautification. More or fewer plants than may be used, but it is better to at least know those most

Will Dogwood Cure Malaria?

EVERY spring the hillsides of America from Maine to Florida are splashed white with the gorgeous, snowy bloom of this medium-sized, showiest tree of the eastern states.

The Indians thought dogwood could cure malaria.

It grows in the under-canopy of the forest but its great white bracts open before most trees are in full leaf, so that whole hillsides seem as though spotted with snow drifts in April and May. Nearly two hundred years ago the first specimen of dogwood reached Europe and Linnaeus gave it the name Cornus florida, mistakenly supposing it was confined only to the southern states. But it is wild almost to the Canadian border and perfectly hardy in most gardens in the northern states. Ages before Linnaeus tagged it with a Latin name, the Indians had a quaint idea about dogwood that modern science has completely dispelled. Apparently the Indians were much subject to malaria and like most primitive people looked for a cure among their native plants. Cinchona, the tree that furnishes quinine, does not occur in North America, but the Indians seemed to know that they needed some bitter bark, and found one in the dogwood. An infusion of its bark was used for centuries, probably with very little effect. Not long ago an old Indian on one of the reservations which have been set aside for them, came to a government doctor with this dogwood infusion, and the lore of its supposed virtue may still exist. But since this ancient Indian nostrum was first made, the bark of another tree has forever changed men's minds about malaria. Quinine, at first only an infusion of cinchona bark, is now a highly refined product and the world's remedy for malaria. Thousands of Indians on reservations and millions of people in the South are told by their doctors that 20 grains of quinine per day for 5-7 days are better than dogwood, ipecac, whiskey or a dozen other substitutes for this standard remedy for malaria.

WE DON'T KNOW OUR STRENGTH

There is something going on in America—something so tremendous that few realize it at all. The productive capacity of the country is increasing and increasing rapidly, after a long period of doldrums.

Leon Henderson, administrator of the Office of Price Administration, estimates that total production of the country today is close to 45 per cent higher than it was in the peak of 1929. The national income is estimated at around 93 billion dollars a year as compared with 76 last year. The entire scale of our national productive capacity is being rapidly scaled upward. Nor does that necessarily mean that we are simply "building up to an awful letdown." It means that we could have done this any time, given the incentive, and that we can continue to do it after the defense emergency is past if we will.

In 1917 Henderson surprisingly says, when the country turned to arms production, there actually was no increase in the total productivity of the country. That remained static. It was thought a good trick to keep it from falling in view of the quick enforced shift from the aims of peace to those of war. But this generation of producers have actually succeeded in increasing their productivity almost 45 per cent. The answer is that in 1917 a greater percentage of national production went into war purposes. Thus the war materials of that time were turned out at the expense of other production, without increasing the whole. But observe what is happening today. Cotton consumption is running at the rate of 11 million bales a year, a "phenomenal" figure. There is no lack of cotton, whose surplus has been a national problem for years. So cotton textile goods, for example, are likely to be produced and used on a scale we have not known, no matter what the demands of defense industries.

A larger percentage of production must go, and will go, into defense. But that won't mean reduction in civilian production by the same amount. Some items of civilian production are going to climb right with defense. The result is that we are opening up a vista of plenty before us which we will not dare allow to be a mirage. —Wichita Falls Record News.

SAVING TO PAY OUR TAXES

The pungently obvious fact that Americans have got to start saving every month now to meet income tax payments next year under the new tax law, has just been pointed out by the United States treasury in a useful pamphlet "Know Your Taxes" being distributed by the collector of internal revenue.

The booklet primarily is to explain the treasury's tax-savings plan of tax-anticipation notes. These tax-anticipation notes bear interest, when used to pay taxes, but for no other use. Supplementing the fact set out by Secretary Morgenthau in the booklet, income taxpayers were told they may get the answer to all questions about the tax-anticipation notes from bankers anywhere.

Then this booklet contains several tables of figures, showing what the total taxes will be of individuals of varying income—single persons without dependents; married persons without dependents, and with one, two, or three dependents. Also computed is the amount of monthly savings that the individual in each classification must make in order to have the money ready to pay taxes on this year's income.

At random: Married person, without dependents, having a net income from salary or wages of $5,000, must save $31 per month to pay income taxes. Married person with one dependent, $27 per month; two dependents, $23 per month, and three dependents, $18 monthly. Income tax payments begin for the single person, without dependents, at $750; married, no dependents, at $1,500; with one dependent, $2,000; two dependents, $2,400, and three dependents, 2,500. The unmarried, no-dependent person who makes $10,000 in salary would have to save $124 per month for income taxes; one making $20,000 would have to lay aside $411 a month, and one, if there be such, getting $25,000, would have to save up $602 each month of the year to meet his personal income tax payments. These figures, it was pointed out are for the non-community property tax states, and are not precise for the classifications in Texas, if the Texas community provisions remain in effect, wherein the making of separate, rather than joint returns, would affect the surtax brackets. —Wichita Falls Record News.

If you are planning to give hand-made gifts this Christmas, now is the time to start working on them. If you like to crochet, you might be interested in the sheets of instructions which were sent this office several months ago. These include fancy curtain pulls, sweaters, table dollies, and a lovely table cloth. However, the bedspread which was shown on the Woman's Page several weeks ago, was not included in the pamphlets.

Since we have had several inquiries as to where this particular bedspread pattern, "Jenny Lind," can be procured, it can be obtained from: National Needlecraft Bureau, 385 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. by simply sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope. The number of the pattern is 681.

Several years ago when knitting was quite the vogue, and scarcely anyone ventured out without her knitting bag, it became a common sight in the beauty shops for women to occupy the time while under the dryer, busily knitting a suit or sweater, and we became obsessed with the yearning to do likewise; but the activities ceased before we could set the wheels of our ambition to turning.

Now, with Red Cross stressing home-manufacture of much needed garments for war-torn Europe, knitting has again revived, and suits and sweaters are again heading the list of popular sports wear. Observed recently about a table in a local cafe, was a group of young women, all with their knitting in their laps, and taking a few stitches now and then as they lingered over their coffee cups.

While we still wish we knew how, it just doesn't seem worth the effort to go thru the necessary agonizing learning processes, especially when we have to admit that we would probably do more dropping than purling of stitches.

Thoughts on marriage from "Friend Jasper" in the "Texas Parade", published by the Texas Good Roads Association: "Marriage is a fair transaction on the face of it... older than the pyramids and as full of hieroglyphics that nobody can parse... when a couple marry, they think they are starting at the top, but they are starting at scratch... A marriage is something that has to be made... Next to a shortage of money, probably the greatest cause of divorce is the insane desire of women to remake their husbands... (or visa versa, we'd say)... one thing, praise the Lord, women don't pride themselves no longer on being good housekeepers. You can always tell a man who is married to a good housekeeper by the way his face lightens up when you speak kindly to him... "Affection is a fire that can be fed from day to day, and be piled ever higher as the wintry years draw nigh. Earlene Laughlin Is Party Honoree Earlene Laughlin was honored with a party Saturday evening, given by her mother, Mrs. Earl Laughlin, celebrating her birthday, which was Sunday, October 26.

A Hallowe'en motif was carried out in party appointments and refreshments. Favors were handmade clothespin dolls, appropriately decorated with marshmallow heads.

The chocolate-covered birthday cake was decorated with orange colored candles, and served as a centerpiece table decoration when refreshments of cheese and pimento sandwiches, pickles, olives, hot chocolate and refrigerator cookies were served.

Methodist Society Meets At Church

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church, held regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening of last week, in the church.

A lesson from the study-book, on "A Christian Imperative" was given by Mesdames David Guest, W. Y. Higgins, R. P. Moore, A. J. Daffern, Marvin Vaughn, Frank Pohl and C. D. Pipkin.

Other ladies present were: Mesdames L. R. Bishop, H. H. Schweitzer, Harry Willett, Homer Sheats, J. R. Whitworth, Clarence Sparks and Fred Simpson.

A single-track mind, coupled with senile dementia, do not make for a very happy combination. Just because one habitually places the water in the percolator first and then measures the coffee, shouldn't be an excuse for burning up the pot by reversing the procedure, except for the fact that after the coffee was measured, one just simply forgot that there was no water in the pot. However about the only resulting damage was a melted fuse.

Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Pipin entertained members of their couple club Tuesday evening. Following dinner, progressions of bridge were enjoyed. As a special Hallowe'en feature, low score holders were forced to wear masks during the succeeding game.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Meason held joint high score, and Casey Jones was winner of the traveling prize.

Present were: Mr. and Mrs. John Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Collier, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Newman, Mr. and Mrs. Meason, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and the hosts.

Pep Squad-Football Banquet Saturday

The pep squad and football team members of the Roaring Springs High School were honored by the faculty, Saturday evening with a banquet in the gymnasium.

Long tables were gaily decorated with appropriate letters for the team, formed by yellow marigolds. Place cards of miniature pep girls and football boys were used, and the menu and program were enclosed in small footballs.

An interesting program was given, with addresses by Superintendent C. W. Giesecke, and Coach Forrest Faulkner.

More than fifty guests enjoyed the affair.

Abilene Is Preparing For Largest Baptist Convention In Texas

ABILENE, Texas—Abilene is preparing for the largest state Baptist General Convention ever held in West Texas, November 11-14, according to Dr. W. R. White, president of Hardin-Simmons University and general chairman of the local committee arranging convention plans.

Preceding the convention proper, which opens Tuesday night, November 11, will be the simultaneous meeting of the Women's Missionary Union Convention, in the First Baptist church, and the Brotherhood Convention in the Hardin-Simmons University auditorium. These conventions start Monday afternoon, November 10 and close Tuesday afternoon, November 11.

"Responsibility for working out the wisest possible distribution of housing space has been accepted by the various churches and civic organizations, heading up in the Convention Housing Committee", Dr. White said. Four thousand homes, in addition to hotel rooms, are being sought for the visitors. Committee members feel that this goal will be reached or exceeded.

The Hon. Pat M. Neff, Waco, president of Baylor University and former governor of Texas, will bring a patriotic message at the opening session of the Convention Tuesday night, Dr. E. H. Westmoreland, Houston, chairman of the program committee, has announced. A. D. Foreman, Sr., Houston, convention president, is another featured speaker Tuesday night.

Wednesday's session will feature Baptist work in Texas. Thursday's report and messages will magnify the work of Baptists in the South and around the world. Friday morning, the final session will be devoted to transaction of such convention business as naming of committees, etc., with Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas, bringing the closing message.

Now Is Time To Plan Landscaping

COLLEGE STATION—The present is a suitable time to plan a landscape plan which will be carried out during the planting season. Sadie Hatfield, specialist in landscape planning of the Texas Extension Service, says that it generally is considered safe to transplant shrubs after the first frost in the next growing season. The planting planning of a home landscape is an activity which the whole family can participate and enjoy.

To develop a landscape successfully, some knowledge necessary for making it thought and attention to it required. Miss Hatfield suggests preliminary visit by the family to some well landscaped home observe and use some of the desirable features such as convenient arrangement of walks, drives, placing of shade trees, outdoor living room areas. It is a good idea, to the family to make a trip to a nursery and nearby study shrubs and trees which might be used in the landscape.

Each family should know names of at least five shade evergreen shrubs, five deciduous shrubs, and five trees which they would like in their homestead landscape. More or fewer plants than may be used, but it is good to at least know those mentioned.

IT APPEARING to the said Court that said petition is signed by more than fifty (50) qualified property taxpaying voters of said Motley County, Texas; and

IT FURTHER APPEARING that the amount of bonds to be issued will not exceed one-fourth of the assessed valuation of the real property of said Motley County, Texas;

IT IS, THEREFORE CONSIDERED and ordered by the said Court that an election be held in said Motley County, Texas, on the 22nd day of November, 1941, which is not less than thirty (30) days from the date of this order, to determine whether or not the bonds of said Motley County, Texas, shall be issued in the amount of SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS ($70,000.00), in conformity with the Constitution and laws of the State of Texas, for the purpose of the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof, in Motley County, Texas. Said bonds to bear interest at a rate not to exceed THREE AND ONE-FOURTH PER CENTUM (3 1/4%) per annum, and to mature serially not to exceed twenty (20) years from the date thereof; and whether or not an ad valorem tax shall be levied annually upon the property of said Motley County, Texas, subject to taxation, for the purpose of paying the annual interest on said bonds and to provide a sinking fund for the redemption of said bonds at maturity.

THE SAID ELECTION shall be held under the provisions of the Acts of the Thirty-ninth Legislature, First Called Session, Chapter 16.

ALL PERSONS who are legally qualified voters of said Motley County, Texas, who are resident property taxpayers of said county and who have duly rendered their property for taxation, shall be entitled to vote at said election.

ALL VOTERS desiring to support the proposition to issue the bonds shall have written or printed upon their ballots, the words: "FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS AND THE LEVY OF AD VALOREM TAXES IN PAYMENT THEREOF."

and, those opposed to the proposition shall have written or printed upon their ballots, the words: "AGAINST THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS AND THE LEVY OF AD VALOREM TAXES IN PAYMENT THEREOF."

THE POLLING PLACES and Presiding Officers of said election shall be, respectively, as follows:

Matadors Hold Top Position In District 4-A Honors

(Childress Index)
The count in the 4-A loop to the south of Childress is still in just as big a muddle as it was a month ago.

The two pacesetters won Friday night starters with only a medium amount of difficulty. Matador beat Ralls 12-0, while Floydada slipped over Paducah 24-0.

The coming weekend Lockney will get the fire test and either stay in the running or skid into the has-beens, according to the outcome of the Longhorns' meeting with Floydada.

Matador is certain to stay on the crest, as the Matadors take a lay-off this week end.

Crosbyton and Spur, both without a district triumph, draw for the cellar berth in a meeting at Spur, and Ralls and Paducah will tangle at Paducah to finish the week's bill.

Apple Polishing—

I started to school with the intentions of apple polishing my teacher, Mrs. White.

The first day of school, I marched into the class room and laid an apple on Mrs. White's desk. Before I had got to my seat, she told me to come get the apple and eat it myself.

At that moment Jim spoke up and answered "Because she hasn't any teeth."

Mrs. White took Jim's and my names down and told us to remain after school.

After school we explained that we were only trying to be nice and didn't intend to embarrass her. She accepted our apology.

I left the room with a heavy heart because my plan had failed. As I was walking along, I thought I should do something to make up for the terrible blunder.

I decided to pick her a bouquet of the beautiful yellow daisies along the path.

The next morning I could hardly wait until I arrived at school. I strutted proudly up and set the vase of daisies on Mrs. White's desk.

At this, she began sneezing and continued until the flowers were carried out side. (She didn't thank me for the bouquet.)

I would like for the students of M. H. S. to take heed and not try to apple polish your teacher because I've tried and it's always embarrassing if you don't succeed.

The World's Lovely Things Destroyed!!

Peace is one of the most wonderful things in this world.

It makes one shudder to think of war-torn Europe; how beautiful buildings and homes are torn to pieces by bombs, and make nasty holes in the ground; how terrible fires have been made and have killed many people; how tanks trample rich soil, that would be good for growing something; and how fumes are thrown at men and other tanks. Look how men shoot at each other in cold blood, and how thousands are slain mercilessly, or taken prisoners; how airplanes fight in the air and drop dozens of bombs a day; how ships are torpedoed by other ships and bombed by air planes; and how ships shoot down airplanes. Then see cities that are forced to be dark at night because of air raids; how children are forced to stay inside from their play. All this is caused by a few greedy dictators.

Is all of this worth a piece of land? Will all the lovely things in the world be destroyed?

A Home-Sick Ex. Writes Home

Dear Students,

Gee, was a fellow ever homesick? What wouldn't I give to see all of you kids again! But this college life is fun—wish you were here—Shall I tell you about these first four weeks?

Back in the summer when I received that card saying, "Bring a green dress; it is compulsory," I wondered—but I never expected this. If I had known—if I had thought—if I had ever even half suspected!—But being a freshman, I had no way of knowing.

The utter-utter something or other of being forced to wear the same green dress every morning, every afternoon—every day for a whole week! and my hair—pardon me, I mean my hay—and I do feel so one-sided!

But as I was saying, back in July—or whenever it was I got that card, I quaked, I groaned—I was frightened within the last inch. "Those horrible upper classmen!" I thought. "What will they do to me?" I guess I more or less expected them to wear horns and carry pitchforks, and not be like real people at all.

Well none of them are that bad, and some of them aren't bad at all; but they did immediately jump me into this business of being initiated. And when I started jumping—well, I've been at it ever since. I've made beds, swept floors, said the pledge, sung the same song until I feel like somebody's personal maid and a member of some fifth-rate opera company that keeps doing the same song over and over. You see, about half of us can't even carry a tune (which apparently makes no difference to the upper-classmen). But oh, what it does to us, this business of moaning unharmoniously through a perfectly senseless song for what seems ages at a time.

"All This and Wastebaskets, Too!" I shall take for my theme song—

And for something really ego-defating—did you ever see about 250 people—all dressed in green, shoeless, and with mussed hair come across the stage and announce in a quavering voice that they are so-and-so from such-and-such, and that they major in this or that? Then you realize that you looked equally foolish when you did just that same thing, and only a few minutes before. And did you ever hunt for a pair of shoes in a pile of that many other shoes? I have, and as I heard someone remark, "It ain't funny, McGee!" And that style show! Where do they get those clothes? And those horrible ideas? And those other things they put on us!

But it's all over now—and I'm an initiated freshman. And it wasn't so bad after all! And upper classmen are human and quite nice, and I really think I got off easy—
And I can hardly wait until next year!
As ever,
An Ex-Student.

I took a leg from some old table, I took an arm from some old chair, I took a neck from some old bottle,

JUNIOR CLASS FUN NIGHT BIG SUCCESS

While lightning, thundering and rain played havoc outside last Tuesday night, people inside the high school auditorium were enjoying a delightful evening.

Highlights on the program were June Barton as a coquet, and Alton Marshall as bride.

Following are the other enjoyable numbers on the program: "The Coquet", a pantomime; readings by Rachel Carpenter, Onieta Whitaker, and Dorothy Woodruff a stunt, "Gathering of the Nuts"; songs by Alene Bloodworth, Jolene Bloodworth, and Gordon Russell; a playlet, "Courting Under Difficulties," a kitchen orchestra, and the "Womanless Wedding".

M. H. S.

Kampus Klatter

Well, students, it seems as though we have another of those awful triangles on our hands. This time it's L. M. and Raldo having trouble over Faustena.

Wiley Frank has been making eyes at Leona. Now isn't that just too, too sweet?

Well, well! We've just come across another triangle, and at the football game, too. James couldn't even watch the game for looking at Bernice Ruth and Billy Wason.

And speaking of football, Math and Grace Laverne weren't doing so bad. Were they?

Richard and Gladys Marie are seen together almost as much as Phil and Johnnie Belle.

Glenda has just noticed what lovely big brown eyes Mc has. We trust that she will be more observant in the future.

Junella always did like football; so she simply got herself a football hero! As a hint, his number is 25.

Charles likes the Junior girls, we guess. He was seen talking to both Rachel and Onieta.

Verlin has an eye for feminine beauty that we didn't suspect he possessed! When Bobby appeared at the scout meeting dressed as a girl Verlin began to make love to him. Maybe he was thinking of Mildred.

Edna Mae is making eyes at Vance! Careful Edna Mae or Catherine will be mad. Laverne might have something to say about that, too. We hear she and Vance had a swell time the other night.

In spite of Wiley Frank's love for Leona, she still looks dreamily at Alvin.

Sam has been wondering when Imogene is going to notice him. He has done everything he knows how to do, but she still won't acknowledge his existence. She just keeps flirting with Alvin. But who doesn't?

We are beginning to suspect that Gene Reinhardt isn't really a woman hater at all! At least that's not the impression we get when we saw him talking to Velda Mae.

After being such a "man about school" for so long, Walter is now in love with Mary Ann! You had better be careful Mary Ann; you know how fickle he is!

What do these people see in Whiteflat? We can understand Sonny's liking for the place, but what about Mary Ruth?

Kathryn spent the week-end in Afton and reported a swell time it's rumored that he has a green Chevrolet.

Ruth Evelyn has been seen talking to Donald. We wonder what's happened to Tom Ed?

The Juniors have really enjoyed the play practice. Mack and Rachel did, at least.

Norman and Marion Alice were seen strolling through the moonlight together Friday night. It should be "agin the law" for out-of-town girls to get all the football heroes.

Algie and June are another couple who seemed to enjoy play practice. Too bad that Morris is the hero, or is it? Could he be taking the role seriously?

Lawrence was seen talking to Mary Ruth. Could this be another M. H. S. romance? Will it develop into a love affair? Look in Kampus Klatter next week for further developments.

Onieta and Faustena are still receiving letters from Bryan. We wish James Ballard would visit James Russell so that maybe Faustena would show him to us.

Sonny and Estelle are still being seen together quite often. We are getting used to them now.

Joyce seems glad that Raymond moved here and he's not what you might call unhappy! They make another one of the cute couples you hear so much about.

My Pet Dislike... Especially English

Well, why should I like English? After all, I was "raised up" speaking the English language.

Now I ask you. Why should I have to go through all the processes of learning why a verb can't be a noun or a pronoun or a fraction? Gosh, what do you expect me to do? Like it? Why, only a few years ago my friends would say, "Say, you ain't supposed to say 'ain't.'" Now I have to come to school and what does the English teacher say. "Me, you aren't supposed to say 'ain't.'" Well, now what do I do? I turn in an English paper and say "Isn't they cute." Now what does she do? She tells me I am supposed to say "aren't they cute" in that case. Well, how am I to know what case it is? That's the day I was absent.

Now I decide I will try to make a-a-a- honor roll or something like that this six weeks, and what happens? I make good on English and flunk he other three subjects. So what! The English teacher goes around patting me on the back, and the other teachers go around patting be on the "b-". What did I gain? One weak praise and three strong bawling outs.

Now what would you do in this case? I wouldn't say "I ain't gonna take it anymore." Because I have to. Well, what do I do? Nothing!

Say, see his essay I've just written? See what I'm talking about? She has just tricked me into writing it by getting me to explain why I don't like English. Now see what I've done? What's the use of me telling you, though? You wouldn't understand.

A college student is like a thermometer because he is graduated and marked by degrees.

They marked the exams so strictly, they flunked him for having a period upside down.

Ross has finally begun paying a little attention to Bennie. That accounts for that dreamy, far-away look in her eyes.

We guess E. A.'s heart still belongs to Jewel. At least we don't seem to be able to dig up any dirt on him except what happens in typing, and that seems to be every day habit now.

Johnnie was very interested in that single boy with the Stamps Quartet at the Singing Convention. What about Phil?

Now just who was that we saw Elsie with at the football game Friday? Was it Mildred's brother, Frank? Frankly we wouldn't know.

What's this we hear about Brown Morris flirting with Ruth Evelyn? And all the time we thought he was bashful! "Live and Learn."

Dorothy Wason has finally survived from her latest heart-break and is now leading S. A. around. Such is life.

Say! Justine, how was the show last Saturday night? We hear you surely did have a nice time.

Delbert and a certain Genn girl from Roaring Springs have been seen together a lot lately. Sounds serious. We wonder—?

Joyce and Suzie have been seen playing hands while at play practice in the auditorium. Watch out, Suzie. She's a heart breaker.

Harris, just who is the "Ruby" you seem to be so crazy about? Don't try to keep any secrets now.

Another romance is thriving. This time it is Ruby Vivian who has fallen; and it is for a certain boy called Cartell, too.

Frances Seigler and that cute little C. C. C. boy from Floydada reported a swell time during the week end. What will Paula and Mary Ruth say about that?

Jr. is still blushing about a phone call he received Wednesday night. Better be more careful, Jr. They'll fool you every time.

Don't You See?

By Justine Rattan

If you think you've found a beau, Don't hang on to him so; Keep on 'til you get three, Then you'll have a standby. Don't you see?

If you think he loves you lots It's just tied up into knots, And don't say, "I know he likes me lots."

That's where the trouble starts. Don't you see?

If he hasn't dated you for weeks, Don't let him pat your cheeks. He thinks he's got you up a tree, But you know he hasn't, Don't you see?

If he has no car and doesn't have a way, And if he isn't with anyone, He'll have a lot to say. Don't go to saying "gosh, oh gee!" That's the way they want to be. Don't you see?

Use your head and use your heart, Then you'll never part; But if he hag your heart and key, They'll always find another. Don't you see?

Students' Opinion

The question—"What would you do if you were a teacher?"

Answers: Alton Marshall—I think, if I were a teacher, I would give the students four days out of the five to do anything they wanted to; and read to them on the fifth day.

Marshall Vinson—I would have no pets and library reading. I would also take the students on a picnic every month.

John M. Russell—I would make all the students like me so they could have lots of fun and less talking in my classes.

Faustena Fulfer—I would try to understand the students and help them in their troubles.

Estelle Morris—I would try to be as pleasant as possible; and express myself effectively so there would be no misunderstandings.

Buster Mize—I wouldn't be very hard on the students. I would give them a copy of the test the day before it was given, and I would also let them use notes.

Morris Stephens—if I were a teacher, I would probably lose my temper and never find it again.

Ross Fite—About once a week I would let them have a little fun in class "a tellin' jokes an' such like."

Virgie Van Camp—if I were a teacher, everyone could talk, throw paper wads or books, and leave his books uncovered.

Avis Kimbell—I wouldn't sign lessons over the week-ends 'cause, after all, students need to rest then.

GOOD ADVICE—

A young man who wanted married wrote to his father for his advice. He received the following reply:

"My Dear Son: Your mother I would like to see you married. She tells me to get out the many advantages cozy fireplace, chair, slippers and go on, with your darling sitting beside you. I am going to know, my boy, that you decided to settle down at last. Your mother has just let me in. Keep single, you idiot"

Legislation Will Support Needed Food Prices

Texas farmers answering America's call for increased quantities of vital foods in the Farm Defense Program have the protection of Federal farm legislation against price collapses of these commodities. B. F. Vance, chairman of the Texas USDA Defense Board, said this week.

The new act of Congress, known as the Steagall amendment, requires that whenever it is necessary to encourage the expansion of non-basic agriculture commodities in the present emergency the Secretary of Agriculture must issue a public notice of expansion.

Through the same law, Vance said, the Secretary of Agriculture supports the farm price of the commodity at not less than 85 per cent of parity. Before the price-supporting program can be discontinued, the Secretary must give sufficient public notice of the termination so that producers may make readjustments in production, Vance continued.

Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard has already given public notice covering hogs, eggs, evaporated and dry milk, cheese and chickens until December 31, 1942. Cotton, wheat, corn, tobacco and rice are supported by law thru loans at rates based on 85 per cent of parity, Vance declared, but he pointed out that surpluses of these crops already exist and no increased production is needed.

The new protection is not needed now, the State Board chairman said, since the prices of the non-basic commodities named are well above the 85 per cent of parity level, but farmers can plan their 1942 production in the knowledge that prices can and will be supported should it become necessary.

DISCOUNT RATE-

warrants or checks, issued to pay operating expenses of the government far exceeded the tax revenue flowing into the fund.

The income not only did not meet the outgo, the difference steadily increased.

The treasury adopted the policy of paying the oldest outstanding warrants first. Currently, it is paying warrants about a year old.

But recipients of the warrants, for example, most state employees could not wait a year for cash, therefore, they obtained cash for the warrants from financing companies, including banks, for discount.

Theoretically, the banks held the warrants until they would be paid by the treasury in the order of issuance and charged interest for the service. The interest was the discount.

For a long period the discount was one per cent. Now it is one and one-half per cent.

Hold Checks Longer

The finance companies estimate they will have to hold the warrants longer than in the past.

From the state employee's standpoint, if his salary is $100 a month, he formerly was able to cash his warranty at a bank for $99. Now he receives $98.50. He pays $18 a year to obtain cash for the checks the state gives him. If his salary is more than $100 a month, he pays more to get it in spending condition.

Casting into the future, government financing authorities opined Texas have seen "nothing yet" in deficits.

They predicted that at the end of this fiscal year, Sept. 1, 1942, the deficit would be $44,000,000, on Sept. 1, 1943, the end of this biennium, would exceed $50,000,000.

The present legislature, at its general session which ended July 4, passed an omnibus tax bill estimated to yield $23,000,000 additional revenue, of which about $5,000,000 would go to the general fund. It was the largest tax bill in Texas' history.

Legislature Spends
But the Legislature also made record-breaking appropriations, largely on the recommendation of Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel, and the deficit kept right on mounting.

Still further hikes in the discount rate on general fund warrants are considered not improbable.

While viewing the spreading "red" on the general fund's ledger, the experts at the same time saw favorable aspects to the situation.

One was the fact that next year the people would vote on a constitutional amendment which would authorize the Legislature to issue bonds equal to the outstanding in 20 years, and pay off over 20 years. The Legislature would be prohibited thereafter from making appropriations without providing matching revenue.

The theory of the amendment is that the deficit would be wiped out in 20 years, the general fund would immediately go on a cash basis, and deficits would become impossible.

Another bright spot seen in the picture was that next year the famous "bread bonds" voted for relief in the depths of the depression would be paid off. A total of $2,750,000 has been diverted yearly from the general revenue for that purpose. The original bond issue was $20,000,000.

Moreover, it is by no means certain, it was suggested, that the very heavy appropriations for the biennium would be continued by future legislatures.

General Fund Grows
Revenue from the omnibus tax bill is expected to be somewhat greater than originally estimated.

Oct. 1 was the end of the first full quarter of a year under the bill and gross receipts taxes for the quarter soon will be rolling in. Such taxes, on sulphur, telephones, and utilities, chiefly are payable quarterly.

Ad valorem taxes for this year also were payable Oct. 1 but detailed figures on the statewide trend of receipts will not be available until early next year.

Following is a table showing the growth of the general fund deficit over a five-year period:

Sept. 30, 1941	-$30,826,000.
Aug. 31, 1941	-$28,665,000.
Aug. 31, 1941	-$23,296,000.
Aug. 31, 1939	-$16,983,000.
Aug. 31, 1938	-$13,427,000.
Aug. 31, 1937	-$10,419,000.

Program Suggested To Recoup Vigor And Lost Health

"The American way of life is full of superlatives; we have the tallest sky-scrapers, the fastest trains, the greatest number of automobiles. We spend more per capita on vacations than any other nation. However, due to high speed, we usually crowd our summer vacations with such a high speed program that we fail to secure real physical relaxation," states Dr. Geo. Cox, State Health Officer.

"For most persons the exactions of office, of factory or of home for a 50-week stretch reflect themselves in the need for improving one's physical tone. However, to expect the majority of vacationists to change their habits regarding the diversions of a summer sojourn perhaps would be asking too much. The point is if one has burned up additional energies and perhaps called on his physical reserves to weather thru the 'good-time' vacation, an excellent opportunity now exists to make amends by taking advantage of the stimulating autumn weather.

"In fact the best season of the year to recoup vitality lost thru the year's work now is here. Its possibilities to build up general health and bodily resistance to winter's onslaught can not be over estimated.

"To recoup some of the vigor and abounding health which have been lost due to the strains and stresses of the past twelve months, the following program is suggested: 1. a brisk walk every day; city streets will do, if one is denied the open country; 2. seven to eight hours' sleep, depending upon one's personal requirements, in a properly ventilated room each night; occasional breakers will not be serious drawbacks, but the habit should be established and maintained; 3. a cut-down on stimulants, if at present any are being used excessively; 4. a reasonable intake of nourishing food; 5. elimination of self-drugging of any type, relying solely upon the physician for medical treatment, if he considers it to be indicated; 6. proper daily elimination; 7. an attempt to keep worry, even in these troublous times, within bounds; and finally, to make use of the autumn weekends by being in the open as

People:
Bruce Shulkey, assistant superintendent of Fort Worth schools, used to be Olney superintendent when I was editor of the Enterprise. He and I one evening set forth in his flivver for a program in a rural community. We had been talking about vehicles getting out of control and he had told about a fellow who bought a motorcycle, learned how to start it but not how to stop it and so had to ride around town wildly for an hour till it ran out of gasoline. And then the motor of Shulkey's flivver began to race and he said, "It's running away!" An elbow turn was just ahead but he switched off the ignition and we made the turn, then to keep the machine from stopping, he cut the engine back on; and after it again started running away, he switched it off, and so on till we reached a crossroads filling station where the owner found that a pin was missing, put one in and charged a whole dime—and the rest of the journey was uneventful.
