RAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The faithful dream of peace, the world rubs its like a drowsy child, imbued by flaming walls and in the scalding blood of...

They had started to sprout in new soil of plowed-under progress was making surveys in the hitch-hiker and wagon yard community. Businessmen who still in saddle and blanket under rough counters, had vision-future to warrant concrete along one side of the square. Money was profuse material and gratis solicited. One cowboy in process of acclimating himself sleeping under a roof, refused to have a part in improvement. The walk pass near his house and boots scraping on harden-concrete at all hours of the would destroy the tranquility his sleep required.

Old Man Gloom rides the west Texas skies on rain clouds that shadow the uncertain crop prospects following a year's rainfall unprecedented in the memory of this section's earliest pioneers.

Rain accompanied by summer-time electrical display, started here Monday evening and at five o'clock yesterday afternoon 2.78 inches had been recorded by George Springer's official rain gauge. A later shower is estimated to have brought the total to more than 3 inches, while overcast sky and mist at 3 o'clock this morning gave no promise of relief.

Little cotton has been ginned in the county during the past week due to occasional showers continued cloudiness and heavy dew. Many fields are white with open cotton, but the middles are flooded to the extent that several days of dry, sunny weather will be necessary before pickers can gather the valuable lint.

Rainfall is reported heavy over the entire county. Testimony of the rains and deplorable road conditions in one sector of the county are vouched for by County and District Clerk R. A. Seay and Mrs. Seay, who spent the night in a borrow ditch between Matador and Northfield when their automobile skidded out of control early Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Seay had been to Northfield to post the forthcoming road bond election notice and were returning when the rain storm struck them near the Homer Shucks farm. Fighting the rain-drenched and slippery road slowly, Mr. Seay declared his automobile skidded into a borrow ditch about 7.30 and that all...

CONSCIENCE FUND OF SANTA FE RAILWAY RECEIVES LARGE SUM GALVESTON—Somewhere in this land of ours lives another honest man and the Santa Fe Railway is $595 richer for it.

This sum, enclosed in a letter, was received at the railroad's offices here today by Treasurer W. D. Sawyer. An unsigned note read: "Enclosed find $595 for which I was not due. It was received years ago. As my life has changed I want to clear all things up." Postmarked Fort Worth, Texas, the letter is puzzling local Santa Fe officials. "We often receive sums of money thru the mail from persons who wish to make restitution," Sawyer said, "but in nearly fifty years with the railroad this is the largest amount I have ever received."

The money consisting of four 100 dollar bills, three fifties, a twenty, two tens and one five, will be turned over to the Santa Fe's "conscience fund." Hundreds of dollars have been contributed to this fund over the years by conscious-stricken persons all of whom have remained anonymous. Mr. Sawyer added.

Legion Group To Meet At Dalhart

American Legion District 18, will meet at Dalhart, November 15-16, according to an announcement made this week by Grace Hodge of Amarillo.

District Commander Jim Johnson and District President, Mrs. Hupp Clark, urge all members of the Fleming Post to attend the meeting for which an outstanding program has been arranged.

Road Bonds Up Again In November

Motley county property-owning voters will go to the polls in the county's ten balloting places on November 22 and for the third time express their wishes on the proposed $70,000 bond issue to construct and repair county roads damaged or destroyed during the past excessively rainy season. The issue was defeated by a small margin of votes on October 11, and by a much wider margin on August 18th.

The third road bond election is being called by the Motley County Commissioners' Court by a petition signed by T. A. Bynum and 78 other persons, as required by law. There is no limit to the number of elections which can be ordered. The election requires a two-thirds majority to pass the bond issue.

PARITY PAY FOR '41 NOW OVER $67,000

New Scoutmaster

M. J. Stacy, above, who recently accepted the responsibility of Scout Master for the Matador Lions Club sponsored Troop 60, is Administrative Officer for the local AAA office.

Mr. Stacy moved to Matador last April from Levelland where he was associated with the Hockley county AAA office. He is enterprising, energetic and active in civic work. He is popular with Matador members of the American Boy Scouts and making rapid advancement with his work as Scout Master.

Motley Farmers Receive $13,607 During Past Week

Cotton farmers of Motley county have now received $67,420.64 in 1941 cotton parity payments, it was disclosed yesterday by M. J. Stacy, administrative officer for the local AAA office. Three shipments of checks received this week have totaled $13,607.34.

Mr. Stacy said the $67,420 represents 694 checks from 451 cotton parity applications, and that a conservative estimate shows that an amount in the neighborhood of $13,000 is still to be paid on the 1941 parity contracts. Although the total sum is less than earlier estimates on federal payments to Motley county farmers, Mr. Stacy said that it was almost impossible to arrive at definite conclusions on the total amount, until after all applications had been approved and paid.

County Has 41,476 Acres Cotton

Mr. Stacy said that records in his office show that 41,476 acres are in cotton in Motley county this year, while approved allowances for 1942 will be exactly 41,463.9 acres. The county's lint yield is 156 pounds per acre, based on a five year average from 1936 to 1940 and including drought-stricken seasons.

Motley county now has 630 farms registered in the AAA office and the total amount of land now in crops in this county is 117,000 (double the amount listed in the 1941-1942 issue of the Texas Almanac). Mr. Stacy said that the 1941 grain sorghum payment had been fixed at 89c per acre.

1941 cotton parity payments totaling $67,420 have been received in 11 shipments of checks, as follows: $7,939.96; $7,604.37; $15,736.81; $232.38; $4,112.70; $4,580.49; $13,433.34; $173.94; $5,893.25; $221.56; $7,491.84. Mr. Stacy said he estimates $12,000 to $14,000 in payments are at his office awaiting delivery to farmers.

Truck and Trailer Damaged In Wreck

Leon Ice Company loaded ice truck, driven by Milford Cooper, struck a farm trailer being towed by Floyd Parks, near the Y on Highway 18, south of Roaring Springs, Monday.

Deputy Ward Rattan, investigating the accident, reported that the truck apparently pulled to the right too soon, to avoid meeting a third motor vehicle, and struck the trailer. His report showed estimated damage to the car and trailer at $15. Earl Laughlin, manager of the Leon Ice Company here, said Tuesday that the truck damage might be in the neighborhood of $150.

Young Cooper, while exonerated in the accident, was arrested for driving the truck without a chauffeur license, as required by state law. He is subject to a fine of approximately $28.

Matadors Measure Quitaque 69 to 12

Sparked by two speedy backs, Algie Durbin and Vance Campbell, Matador's improving Matadors punched out a 69 to 12 victory over a heavier but out-classed Quitaque eleven here last Friday night.

The Matadors scored the first time they got their hands on the ball, Durbin running 80 yards for a score. After that, the slaughter continued with linesmen Pitts and Allen in the backfield to carry on scoring.

This week the Matadors receive their first big conference test when they play the Ralls Jackrabbits at Ralls Friday.

The Jackrabbits smarting from a 25 to 0 defeat at the hands of the high-flying Floydada Whirlwinds, bounced back to whip the Spur Bulldogs last week, and are all set to avenge a sound trouncing the Matadors posted on them last week.

All local football fans are urged to follow the Matadors to Ralls Friday night when the game, hard-fighting Matadors face one of their most formidable opponents on the 1941 schedule.

WARNING SOUNDED ON RECORDS OF GROSS INCOMES

You may not have any money in the bank next March when the government starts collection of income taxes under the revised tax laws, but it will be prudent to have records proving what you earned, or didn't earn during 1941, according to a warning made yesterday by District Attorney John A. Hamilton.

Under the new law, Mr. Hamilton declared that any married man who has transacted as much as $1,500 business during 1941, will be subject to making a report, since income reports are based on gross instead of net incomes.

A married man whose salary or other income amounts to as much as $1,500 will be required to make a report and an unmarried man whose income reaches $750 will be subject to the new tax laws.

Mr. Hamilton urges everyone to transact all business thru the bank, designating on each deposit check what the money was received for and designating on each check what the money was paid out for, and above all keep every deposit slip and every check in a safe place.

All 1941 income tax returns must be made by March 15, 1942.

Selectee To Leave Next Week On New Induction Plan

David Leonard Campbell of Roaring Springs, will leave for Lubbock Wednesday, October 29, to appear before the Army examining board, in response to the county's recent selective service quota. He will be the first to report from the county under a modified plan for induction of trainees under the jurisdiction of the Texas Selective Service System, which is being placed in immediate effect with the Army's most recent call for 1,375 men.

The new system has the approval of the War Department and will reduce almost entirely the uncertainty with which registrants have heretofore been faced during the period between the local board examination and the date set for induction. A major advantage also in the new plan is that registrants will be given ample opportunity to make final arrangements in their financial and other personal affairs.

Before Army Examining Board

The modified plan calls for the usual preliminary local board examination within thirty to sixty days prior to date of call for induction. Within thirty days prior to call selectees will be sent to call selectees to the Army government expense to the Examining Board in their district, where a complete examination, including physical, citizenship, morals and literacy will be given.

After examination the local board will be notified of the result of the examination and the selectees will be returned to his home at government expense. Wherever possible, registrants will be permitted to return to their homes the same day they are examined by Army physicians.

Salvation Army To Make Annual Drive

W. D. Pedigo, divisional representative of The Salvation Army from Dallas is expected in Matador tomorrow to conduct the organization's annual drive for funds. Mr. Pedigo has represented the Salvation Army here annually for a number of years, direct from the state headquarters. Any donation made to him goes directly to the great humanitarian work for which the Salvation Army is well-remembered by World War veterans. A contribution made to Mr. Pedigo is for the entire year and the amount given should be considered on that basis. Any other solicitation for funds for the Salvation Army is without proper authority and should be reported to the state headquarters at Dallas.

Floyd County Singers To Meet

Announcement is made of a meeting of the Floyd County South Side Singing Convention to be held with the Fairview community, nine miles northeast of Floydada, on Sunday, October 26. The meeting will be held at the Methodist church "Rushing Chapel" and will last through the entire day, with basket lunch at noon. The announcement is made by Earl Ranier, chairman of the organization.

Sheriff Courtney Leaves For Dallas

Sheriff H. H. Courtney left Tuesday for Dallas, where he will receive treatments for his leg which was broken in an automobile accident last spring.

Enroute, he visited his sister in Wichita Falls.

George Stapleton Gets Advancement

Corporal George D. Stapleton, a member of Battery "A" 56th Field Artillery Training Battalion, Camp Roberts, California, has been promoted to Sergeant. He shall rank as such from the third day of October, 1941.

Sgt. Stapleton received his promotion as recognition of the high quality of work he has done as a member of this Organization. He has shown an outstanding ability to accept responsibility and to perform his assigned duties in a most satisfactory manner. Sgt. Stapleton is to be commended for his rapid advancement in the Army of the United States.

Sgt. Stapleton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Stapleton of Flomot, Texas. He graduated from high school there and later attended both Texas A. & M. College and West Texas State College. He was employed by Douglas Aircraft Company, Inc. of Santa Monica, California at the time of his induction into the Service on March 8, 1941.

Twenty-one per cent of the meals eaten by Americans are eaten outside of homes.

Lions Will Supply First White Cane In Club History

Residents of Flomot, removed from access to Highway 15, face the loss of the high school, possible loss of mail service and general detriment to the community, because of the destroyed Quitaque river bridge, north of the town. A vast, highly productive section of the county is isolated by an encircling network of washed-out, dangerous and often impassable roads, that would make it impossible for a doctor to reach the community in some instances. The fact that off-the-pavement property owners in the county must pay the same gasoline taxes, the same highway, state, school and county taxes as their more fortunate neighbors who have access to the modern, state and government maintained highways, is cited as justification in the desire to rebuild and repair the damaged country roads.

Approved at the director's meeting held in the Magnolia Cafe Monday morning and ratified at the regular meeting held in the Baptist church basement, Tuesday, the club will purchase a $50 defense bond, within a few days. Each member will contribute $1.00 toward the purchase of the bond.

Telephone Company Report Made

Roy Killingsworth, District Manager of the Southwestern Associated Telephone Company, was unable to attend the director's breakfast Monday morning, but a report of local telephone conditions was made by Douglas Meador, a member of the appointed committee. It was declared that plans of the company called for the installation of some new equipment in Matador, but that demands for other defense requirements had made it impossible. At present the company is facing the almost impossible task of securing sufficient materials to supply regular needs. It was also pointed out that the unusual weather conditions this year, with

Oil Mill Official Visits In Matador

General manager of the Qunah Cotton Oil Company and the West Texas Gin Company, was in Matador Friday afternoon.

Mr. Simmons, who is a Hardeman county pioneer, is one of west Texas' leading citizens, and has many friends in this section. Making a routine inspection of his company's property and conditions in Motley county, Mr. Simmons visited several friends in Matador and Roaring Springs before returning to Qunah.

Local Man Grows Abundant Tobacco

Chant of the tobacco auctioneer may be added to the sounds emitting from Matador at some time in the future if Mission Gas & Oil Company manager Hart Harris continues his adventures in growing the popular weed.

This spring Mr. Harris returned from east Texas with some tobacco seed which had been given to him. The dry plants remained around his home for some time and were finally tossed outdoors. In the summer a visitor remarked on the tobacco plants growing under his eaves. He had previously thought the tobacco to be either weeds or flowers. He recalled that the East Texas tobacco had been thrown where the visitor found the thriving plants.

At present one of the tobacco plants has reached a height of between five and six feet, and is in boom and bearing seeds. Of an enterprising nature, Mr. Harris plans to market the seeds if they mature in time to avoid frost, but he is uncertain with regard to the large heavy leaves. He said this week that he had ample advice with regard to the gathering and curing of his volunteer tobacco crop, but that in most instances it was from West Texans who believed tobacco to be grown in Bull Durham sacks or pressed in thick-cut chewing by some process of nature.

Digestion Greatly Impaired By Hasty Food Consumption

"For the last twenty years or more speed has been one of the dominant factors in American life. Today, because of the tremendous defense needs, assembly-line technique, whenever possible, has been injected into all activities connected with the emergency. Thus, more than ever, speed is being emphasized in the nation's life. Plainly, the need of conserving health and strength in the face of present demands is greater than ever before. It follows that 'to make haste slowly' in the art of living, at this time not only is basic good sense but patriotic also. It does not help vitality or health to apply a sixty-mile-an-hour pace to unessentials. Nevertheless, evidences of this type of existence are quite apparent. One of the numerous proofs of this fact is the habit many persons have of more or less bolting their food," states Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

It is little wonder, then, that solid food often is insufficiently masticated, that self-prescribed pills for a variety of gastronomical discomforts are popular, and that in extreme cases definite illness develops. "Of course, time and customs have changed many things, including eating habits. But the point is that nature does not change; while marvelously elastic, she still has her limits as well as punishments for those who persistently disobey. Consequently, the wise person if now a speedy-eater, will realize that to take a few minutes more time per meal and to chew food thoroughly that needs chewing are just as essential as are the quality and type of food consumed. "Bad as speedy eating may be in the case of adults, grown-ups only have themselves or the trend of the times to blame. However, the proposition is different when children are concerned. Youngsters are prone to swallow hastily anything. Chewing to them is a secondary process, and therefore must be definitely encouraged. When the time has arrived for the use of hard food (and that time is at the beginning of the teething period) the baby should be given dry toast, sweetbark, or a bread crust. The masticating function must be encouraged daily, if sound teeth and sturdy supporting tissue are to be formed. Moreover, emphasis on adequate mastication should be maintained thruout childhood both for proper growth and general health. "In short, everyone should realize that whether with respect to the young or the adult, speedy eating with its inevitable accompaniment of insufficient mastication is a practice which can give rise to conditions that in varying degrees deprive one of maximum health, and sometimes is directly responsible for even greater penalties. The practice, therefore, should be discontinued," concludes Dr. Cox.

Some jingler once wrote: "If all be true that I do think, There are five reasons we should drink; Good wine—a friend—or being dry— Or lest we should be by and by— Or any other reason why." This seems to be the logic of some who are urging a special session of the legislature. Not wishing to give the true purpose they have in mind, certain special sessionists put forward the proposed pipe line from Texas to the East as a reason but a correspondent points out that Congress already has given the President ample authority to condemn the right-of-way to build it—so they'll have to think up a new "reason", for urging that the taxpayers be put to the expense and turmoil of a special session. Mexican says: It is pleasant to command, though it be only a flock of sheep. He who loves not the loved one's faults does not truly love. However early you get up, you can not hasten the dawn. The dearest child of all is the dead one. He who loves you will make you weep, and who hates you will make you laugh. Lowly ground and poorly tilled will sometimes produce a fragrant rose.

GEORGIA DOGGEREL

De skeeters wid dair ptecnous bills Prepares yo' sistem fer sum pills, When lightin on yo' epiderm Dey nockerlates yo' wid er germ.

THIS masterpiece of foolery is part of a long rhyme written by Dr. H. M. Branham, a surgeon of Georgia. For many years he was a member of the Glynn County Board of Health, which operates in one of the worst malaria areas of the U. S.

Dr. Branham realized years ago that malaria in Georgia was their most serious local trouble. And in fact the whole state is pretty badly infected, while 37 counties are among those having the highest death rate from malaria in the whole country.

Georgia for many years has been trying to follow the suggestion of Dr. Branham who advises getting rid of mosquitoes. Many millions of dollars have been spent in attempting to rid Georgia of malarial mosquitoes, but the disease still takes a heavy toll. Far too many are ill with it each summer.

The ineffective drainage program has cost millions and some authorities have suggested that Georgia health officers spend a little time with paper and pencil, especially upon the arithmetic of malaria. The state has a population of something over three million. Malaria is largely a rural disease and if only one-third live in rich places that makes about a million potential sufferers. Fortunately only a fraction of these live in the most seriously malarial counties, perhaps no more than two hundred thousand. Assuming that half of these are likely to get malaria in any one year, what would be the cost of curing them compared to the cost of drainage?

It costs about 36¢ to cure the average malaria case by following the dosage recommended by the U. S. Public Health Service, who state that 20 grains of quinine for 5-7 days is sufficient. For one hundred thousand cases that makes only $36,000, which is a minute fraction of the money spent in trying to get rid of mosquitoes. Arithmetic such as this is worth a lot of study by not only Georgia but every malarial state in the country.

North Carolinian Uses Signs To Hitchhike His Way To Lubbock

Joe S. Honeycutt doesn't hear well and his speech is an effort, due to whooping cough suffered when 3 years old—but by painting his requests on his suitcase he was able to transfer residence from North Carolina to Lubbock without transportation costs.

With his pencil, he explained Wednesday to newspapermen. Last May, he said, he lettered on cardboard the large characters of "TEXAS" and fastened the sign to his suitcase.

On the highway he jerked his thumb. A motorist headed for Atlanta, Ga., ground to a stop after reading the sign and putting two and two together.

"It was no trouble from there to Meridian, Miss., where I visited two days with a deaf girl friend; then to the highway to a ride to Lufkin, Texas, in one hour," Honeycutt said.

NEARER, NEARER comes ski weather.

Overnight even now your car gets steely cold. These mornings, as your starter prods the engine, the precious parts that you want to keep fit are rarin' to claw each other. But not after they're Winter OIL-PLATED by the quick simple change to your seasonally correct Conoco Nth motor oil. Its magnet-like effect holds OIL-PLATING clear up to the topmost piston rings, though your car may stand cold for days. Instead of all quickly draining down, Conoco Nth makes OIL-PLATING stay up on guard in advance—ready ahead of mere fast-flowing oil—to ease up the coldest starts.

Then when your engine's insides—even in Autumn and Winter—naturally warm up more than a brand new sunburn, your Conoco Nth oil shows you the type of economy that won the sensational Death Valley Death-Test—certified. 6 identical cars—6 widely advertised oils of quality, including Conoco Nth—were kept speeding over the desert, each on a different 5-quart fill—locked in—no oil ever added.

5 quarts of one big brand burned up—engine burned out—when the car with Conoco Nth still had the protection of 3.65 quarts! Even the runner-up's 5-quart fill was consumed, and the engine was junk, when the car with Conoco Nth still had 2.7 quarts in the crankcase. All impartially certified.

Get the printed evidence at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. There's where to change to this popular-priced Conoco Nth oil that OIL-PLATES your engine for protected prompt starting. That's more than a promise.

Hats Provide A Subtle Key To Loveliness

Designers Offer Ways to Rectify Faults, Bring Out Beauty

Hats are hats again, thank goodness! The designers have been good to us. They've given us tools so that no matter how short or long our nose, how pudgy or bony our neck, how beautiful or cross-eyed our eyes—all we have to do is go out and buy the right hat, and presto—all our faults are concealed, all our beauty revealed.

Something like that, anyway. The point is, hats have brains to shield those dark circles, if that's our difficulty. If we have a receding chin, there's a hat that pulls it out and makes it look positively dominating. If the hair is streaked and unmanageable, there are hats with back drapery to cover all those straggly ends.

Hat Complements Figure

To make it simpler, here's a general idea of how we can make the most of ourselves simply by buying a new hat:

First of all, remember we have a body as well as a head, and see that the hat complements our figure as well as our face. It's best to stand up and peer into a full-length mirror when buying a hat.

Second, hats and hair-dos should go together. If our new hat calls for a new style of dressing the hair, okay—we'll do it a new way. Probably do us good to change.

Third, think of color. There's nothing we can add to our costume which will bring out the natural skin coloring so much as a hat. So—if skin and hair are inclined to be drab, avoid black and grays which will only emphasize the drabness. Choose a hat to dramatize either by repetition or contrast the color of the eyes or the natural undertone of the skin.

'Glassing' Adds to Housewife's Vocabulary

Grandmother did her "glassing" over a hot kettle, and put up a supply of glassed foods that would suffice during the winter. A typical grandmother of this bygone era is shown above at right. At the left, is a modern housewife who achieves the same results as Grandma but in an easier and more efficient way.

Modern methods applied to an old custom have evoked a new word for the housewife's language—"glassed." "Glassed" means anything that is glass packed or preserved in glass jars or bottles. It encompasses hundreds of products, but its use is particularly applicable to foods. You will find vegetables, fruits, meats, coffee, jams and jellies, of course, and scores of other glassed food products in the neighborhood market or grocery. In keeping with glassed foods, some other new terms come into the everyday language of Mrs. Housewife. "To glass" and "glassing" now replace other terms applied to packing or preserving.

Glass Led the Way

The term "glassed" is as old as the language and as new as the modern art of preserving. Indeed, glass was the first material ever used in both the commercial and home-preserving of perishable food-stuffs. But, like so many other words in the language, it has never been used correctly in reference to preserving foodstuffs in glass. Nicholas Appert, "Father of Preserving," used glass jars for his first experiments in putting up foodstuffs 'way back in the early 19th century. The men and women who perfected his art also used glass containers in their experiments. Grandmother had to forego any rest in "preserving time" in order that the family could enjoy fruits and vegetables later on. She evolved recipes and processes for preserving that eventually industry adopted. "Glassing"—the process of packing or preserving in glass jars. "To glass"—the act of putting up foodstuffs, or jams or jellies in glass containers.

New Terms Take Place In Housewife's Lexicon

These are the new words and terms for the housewife's dictionary: "Glassed"—packed, preserved, put up in glass jars or bottles. "Glassing"—the process of packing or preserving in glass jars. "To glass"—the act of putting up foodstuffs, or jams or jellies in glass containers.

SOPHOMORES PRESENT CHAPEL PROGRAM

The Sophomores presented our chapel program October 20. The girls sang the Hut Sut Song and "My Sister and I." Mr. Lomax played his guitar and sang "She'll Be Coming Around the Mountain," and was accompanied in the singing by the Sophomore boys. He then played two selections on his guitar, and at the same time played the harmonica.

The faculty regretted seeing itself characterized in a short burlesque given by the whole class. This skit was a replica of a teachers' meeting to discuss the Halloween carnival—and other things. It was so realistic and so typical of the teachers, it was very amusing to the students.

THERE GOES A TIRE! ... but why junk the car?

Any car can have a blowout in a tire. But you wouldn't junk the car. You'd just fix the tire—or replace it.

That's very much like a situation that exists in the retailing of beer. Beer retailing has its "flat tires," too—retailers who disobey the law or who permit unsavory conditions.

To protect your right to drink good beer, we of the beer industry want to eliminate the few "flat tire" retailers. Here's another reason: Right here in Texas, beer has provided employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and paid $2,273,968.64 in state taxes last year.

The state, too, has an important stake in the beer industry's purchases—for material, equipment and services—from more than 100 other industries.

Those benefits are worth preserving. You can help us preserve them by patronizing only the reputable and legal places where beer is sold and by reporting any law violations you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

Incidentally, Miss Hunsucker had quite an interesting story in the Lubbock Avalanche last week, and was given a by-line for it too, which is no mean accomplishment.

After all these years of secretly envying the girls who inspired the songs that were named for, and sung to them, comes now a little number just a shade late; in fact over a decade too late for any romantic reactions. Quemado Blacksmith Gets Life Sentence

SOCORRO, N. M.—Louis C. Wilson, blacksmith of Quemado, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday for the murder of J. M. Garrison on the main street of Quemado last May.

The 63-year-old defendant, who said he killed Garrison and the rancher's son, Arthur, in self-defense, accepted the sentence calmly, merely requesting that Sheriff Frank Balke of Craton County be assigned to take him to the penitentiary.

It was to Sheriff Balke that Wilson surrendered two days after the shootings. He had held officers till then at bay with his guns at his ranch home.

The jury which convicted Wilson a week ago recommended life imprisonment.

Floydada Favored For Honor Place

(Childress Index)

Down in district 4-A, where little was done during the current week end to straighten matters out, there is talk of Floydada's Whirlwind being the loop's strongest representative, but Matador is still unlicked in conference rivalry and Paducah and Lockney are far from being nudged out of the title running.

The Whirlwinds will get more than a mild test against the Paducah Dragons during the coming weekend, while Lockney and Matador should have an easier time opposite Spur and Ralls, both second division members.

The Dragons nipped Crosbyton, who is idle during the coming week, by a 14-6 count Friday night, while Ralls defeated Spur 13-0 in the weekend's other conference tangle. Matador had easy pickings with class G Quitaque, winning 69-12 in one of the district's largest scoring games this year.

Floydada was idle this week end and should be more than ready physically for Paducah.

DEARBORN, Mich.—When the average person visualizes a big industrial plant, he (or she) usually views it in terms of miraculous operations done by mechanical marvels. Few think of a factory as a "school house," yet the vast Ford Rouge plant has an industrial school system comparable in size to a large university.

With the opening this year of two important new units, the Ford school system now enrolls nearly 10,000 students. Latest additions are an aircraft apprentice school and a U. S. Navy Service school to train Uncle Sam's blue-jackets.

Henry Ford started a school system in his automobile factories 23 years ago when he foresaw a future need for skilled manpower in industry. This foresight now is expected to go a long way toward solving his need for skilled hands in filling more than $700,000,000 in national defense orders.

Ford training facilities have grown in the past year to become the largest of their kind in the world. Space within the 1,200-acre Rouge plant devoted exclusively to classrooms, laboratories and school shops has been increased from three to five acres. One hundred instructors have been added.

In the new aircraft apprentice school, youths are being trained in machine shop, assembly, disassembly, inspection and testing of the Pratt & Whitney airplane engine which Ford is building for the U. S. Army. The school is located in the front portion of the new $27,000,000 airplane engine plant on the Rouge grounds.

Another unique Ford school project linked closely to national defense is the Navy Service School. Costing around $1,000,000, this school was provided and equipped through the Ford Motor Company, at no expense to the government. The first sections were erected in the record time of 40 days.

Two students in the Ford aircraft apprentice school (top photo) learn to operate a test cell panel used in checking newly built airplane engines. The instructor, with hand on the engine controls, explains the test instrument readings. In the photo above, carefree recruit sailors attending the Ford Navy Service School march across the Rouge plant grounds to their canteen after the day's classes end.

James and Bernice Ruth seems to hit it off splendidly. But definitely!

Everyone get prepared for a shock! Mavinee is planning on a swell time next week! Could she possibly be going somewhere with Alfred? Sounds serious to us. What about it Mavinee?

Dorothy W. says she had a grand time Sunday night. Could it be that Ralph Hogue was here from Paducah?

My!!! Did Buzzy and Glenda have a swell time the other nite? At least—that's the way it looked to us.

Betty Sue was seen reading a love letter on the bus. Don't try to keep it a secret, because we have a sneaking suspicion whom it was from!

The sworn woman hater, Gene Reinhardt, was seen winking at Velda Mae. What does this mean?

It seems there has been a slight comment on Faustena's disturbing the study hall calling Duane. Of course, they're a cute couple and all that, but still—

Norris is about ready for another Treasure Hunt. Of course you know why! (Fanny)

Morris is going to the Sophs for his girls now. We mean Paula, of course.

Ruby V. and Pete seemed to have had a swell time at Roaring Springs the other night. We think they make a cute couple.

Frances enjoyed the football game immensely the other night. Or could it have been Walter.

Charles and Lilly Joe make a ducky couple, don't you think? At least—they seemed to have had a good time at Jolene's party. Does she like red hair, Charles?

We're really cleaning up on these Fish! Bobby and Marjorie Ann had a grand time Wednesday night. We guess James was glad he had Bernice Ruth safely away.

Alvin, what's this we hear about Edna Mae? We believe you are just a two-timer at heart!

In spite of his broken collar bone, Richard doesn't seem to be doing so bad. Does he Gladys Mar'e?

How Verlin manages to get close to Mildred is a mystery to us. But it seems that he knows how it is done.

How Duane gets around! Last week it was Faustena, and now he's spending all his money buying Betty caramels. We wonder who it will be next week.

Bert and Ruby seem to be going places. And how! E. A. seems to be losing out. Tough luck, kid, or is it? You should see the sweet notes E. A. writes Wanda in typing!

Catherine doesn't waste time dropping hankies for people to pick up. She merely drops herself for Vance to pick up. Nice going Cat.

Norman isn't quite a Micky Rooney, but June says he's next thing to it.

Things are looking pretty serious for Billy and Kat. First he asked her to go to a Sunday School party and now he is pumping her around on his bicycle. Too bad that bicycle isn't built for two. Or is it, Billy?

Mary seemed to have enjoyed the Lubbock fair (?) Saturday night.

While Mary is at the fair with one of her boy friends, Billy Jean is at the preview with another. Better watch out Bill. Mary can be a pretty tough character when she wants to be.

Red seems to know more about the history of the Brownfield boys than she lets on. Give—Red. We don't like for people to keep secrets.

It seems Sonny is about to take C. D.'s girl while he is out of school. Playing hands in the hall is not the '41 style of getting acquainted!

The Seniors have been complaining about a certain Fish who knows too much about other people's business. Better take heed and keep quiet, Red!

Baltimore Receives Exact Duplicate Of Original "Star Spangled Banner"

A huge flag which is the first exact duplicate of the original "Star Spangled Banner"—was presented to the city of Baltimore recently with impressive ceremonies and it is now preserved in the War Memorial Building there.

The original flag was flying above Fort Mchenry during the attack on the city in September, 1814, and it inspired Francis Scott Key to write his immortal poem.

In the presence of representatives of historical and patriotic societies, and of the United States treasury, war and navy departments, and thousands of other persons, the duplicate was presented to the Hon. Howard W. Jackson, Mayor of Baltimore, in ceremonies at the War Memorial Plaza.

The presentation was made by George B. Sippel of Cincinnati, president of the Master Brewers Association of America on the occasion of its 35th Annual Convention. The ceremonies included an address by Arthur P. Sewell, curator of the "Flag House" on the history of the "Star Spangled Banner," the unfurling of the duplicate and singing of the anthem by an audience of thousands.

efforts to regain the road were useless. He and Mrs. Seay spent the night in their automobile and shortly after daylight he started on foot to a farmer's house to secure aid. When about one half mile from the car, threatening clouds loosened a heavy down-pour on him. Mr. Seay had not taken his coat with him on the trip. Thoroughly wet and wading mud and water almost to his knees, he reached a farm home and secured the aid of a team, which failed to remove his car from the ditch. Friends brought Mr. and Mrs. Seay back to Matador and he sent a wrecker back for his automobile yesterday afternoon.

Face Uncertain Harvest Farmers and businessmen still face an uncertain crop harvest. Much of Motley county's 41,463 acres in cotton might probably yield in the neighborhood of 34 bales per acre average if dry weather should prevail for 60 days and frost and freeze hold off for four or five weeks. However, a frost or freeze in the near future and continued rains would probably result in many hundreds of acres completely destroyed. The county's total yield might be reduced to that gathered during years of the most severe drought. Almost without exception, the county's most sun-baked drought-fearing "native" is hollering "calf-ropes" to the continued pluvial weather.

Oil Exploration May Be Resumed

Prospects for renewal of oil exploration in the Childress area have been boosted this week by reports from several sources of possible drilling plans and of the announcement that the federal government is asking oil companies to put down 30,000 wildcat wells in the nation in a move to increase this country's potential petroleum supply.

In Fort Worth today, Robert Allen, director of defense oil production, said steel oil field equipment had been placed at the top of the priority list to speed drilling of the 30,000 wildcat wells.

Work of assembling one lease block in Childress county is going forward satisfactorily and if the block is secured it is likely that a wildcat will be drilled within the next few months. It was reported that more than half of the necessary acreage already has been assembled.

Seismograph crews of two major companies have been working in this section during the past few months and both companies hold some "commercial leases" in the county. There have been rumors that one of the companies plans to drill on its acreage soon.

The only wildcat now going down in this vicinity is the Humble company's deep test on the Matador ranch property in Motley county, which is now nearing 6,000 feet.

Tech Graduate Dies in Florida Crash

Aviation Cadet John P. Vineyard, 24, of Turkey, 1940 graduate of Texas Technological college, was killed when his training plane crashed Thursday about 28 miles southwest of the Jacksonville, Fla., naval air station, an Associated Press dispatch that afternoon disclosed.

The tail of his plane was nicked in a slight collision with another plane while he was flying in a three-plane formation near the auxiliary Bostwick field, a station spokesman was quoted as saying.

Vineyard's body was found 100 feet from the plane, his parachute partly opened. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Vineyard of Turkey.

Vineyard was graduated from Texas Tech with a bachelor of arts degree, major in chemistry, records in the office of Registrar W. P. Clements show. He attended Amarillo Junior college two years transferred to Tech in the fall of 1936 and attended the four succeeding long sessions.

He was registered in college from Quitaque and gave his father's occupation as railroad agent. In October of 1940 he wrote the registrar's office from Washington, D. C., for a transcript of his credits, to be sent to the naval reserve.

He was born July 6, 1917.
