Much Interest Is Shown In Church Of Christ Revival

Inspirational sermons by Minister E. C. McKenzie of Nashville, Tenn. together with good congregational singing under the direction of Gordon Gatewood, have created much interest in the revival meeting now in progress at the Church of Christ here.

The attendance at all services has been very gratifying, and the local membership has already been increased by three conversions and two memberships moved here from other places of residence.

Former pastor, Minister P. S. Young, who retired from the field this spring due to his health, and has been residing with a brother at Girard, attending the revival and visiting with friends here this week.

First Bale Ginned At Childress

Motley county's first 1943 bale of cotton was ginned at Childress, Wednesday, August 18. The bale was ginned by T. B. Simpson of the Northfield community, and gathered from about half of a 40-acre field planted April 5th. The load of 1,610 pounds of snapped cotton produced a 401-pound bale, for which the First National Bank of Childress paid 22 1/2 cents per pound. The 650 pounds of cottonseed sold for $52 per ton.

First bale of 1942 was ginned here August 30 by David J. Bryan of Whitestart community. His load of 1,600 pounds of snaps produced a 420-pound bale, which sold for 18 cents. The 630 pounds of cottonseed brought $43 per ton. His total cash for the bale was $89.14. Cash and merchandise prizes amounted to $60 additional.

First Bale Here

As the Tribune went to press yesterday afternoon, Boone Simpson of Northfield arrived here with the first bale of 1943 cotton to be ginned in Matador, and his 2nd bale for the year. The bale was being ginned at the Farmers Coop Gin, and the complete story will appear in next week's paper.

Ketchersid of Matador, had been taken to the Lubbock General Hospital for examination. She had been ill for approximately a week. Positive diagnosis was announced in a report by Dr. J. W. Deputy Collector To Aid Taxpayers Making Returns

Deputy Collector Fred I. Merrick will be at the First State Bank, Matador, on Thursday, September 2, to assist the citizens of this community with the preparation of income tax returns, according to advice received from W. A. Thomas, of the Lubbock regional office of Collector of Internal Revenue.

Forms and instructions for filing a Declaration of estimated income and Victory Taxes for the current year, 1943, have already been sent to all who filed a return for the year 1942. However, the present income tax law, commonly known as the "Pay-as-you-go-plan" has many new features not heretofore contained in the income tax law, and Mr. Merrick's visit to Matador will be for the purpose of assisting local taxpayers in preparing their returns.

Final Date For Filing September 15, 1943, has been set as final date for filing estimated income tax returns, and no other visit to this vicinity by a zone deputy collector is contemplated, Mr. Thomas advised. Farmers must file their Declarations of 1943 estimated income and Victory taxes on or before December 15.

In order to facilitate time in obtaining Mr. Merrick's assistance, the following information should be prepared in advance: 1. The amount of tax shown on your 1942 income tax return; 2. The estimated income and deduction items expected for 1943; 3. The estimated amounts of Victory and withholding taxes withheld by your employer from wages or salaries during 1943; 4. The payments you have made during 1943 to the Collector of Internal Revenue to be applied on your 1943 income tax.

Allen of Denton, Texas. His second marriage was to Miss Sadie Bradley, to which union were born three children, Charlie, now in the armed forces, Mrs. Carl Hall of Roaring Springs and Gladys of Matador.

Washington Dons Rosy Glasses To Set County's Part

MOTLEY COUNTY has been allotted a quota of $253,800 for the September 3rd War Loan drive, it was announced Tuesday by Elmer Stearns, chairman of the county sales committee. Rose-colored glasses frequently used in the District of Columbia, were donated by the Washington committee responsible for assigning this sparsely populated West Texas county with almost two and one half times the April war bond quota. No consideration was made for crop conditions, hog and cattle prices, population or bank deposits, it was declared in an official but unnamed communication. Neither regional nor state committees had any part in designating the quotas it was declared.

Motley county, riding the wreckage of promising crop hopes, is fighting one of the most severe droughts in recent years. The county has had no income from cotton, cattle or hogs since the April Bond drive. It is not a wheat producing county and receives no benefit from war worn pay-rolls of any nature.

Drive Plans Are Made Mr. Stearns declared that despite his great surprise in the quota assigned this county, plans for the sales campaign were already under way, and that every possible effort would be made to fulfill the requirements of the quota. As head of the First State Bank here, the county's only banking institution, he is, perhaps in a better position to know the county's immediate condition than any other person within its borders, but he refused to comment on the possibility of raising the staggering sum. "Nothing Compares With Home Paper" Says Bill Tilson

Wherever the fighting is hot—"somewhere" in the secret world where defenders of American freedom and American way of life, wage their lives against the future—there you will find Bill Tilson. He followed Rommel from the Nile to Tunis attached to the American Air Force with the British 8th Army.

"Nothing in the world can compare with it (the Matador Tribune)," he declares in a recent V-Mail letter, dated August 6, address withheld.

"Dear Mr. Meador: This letter is just to let you know that some of the papers have at last caught up with me. I received several papers at mail call the other day, the first I had received in quite some time, and to put it mildly, I was as happy as a kid with a new toy.

"I can't find words to express fully the importance of receiving one's home town newspaper, especially one as you print and put out. I have seen several papers my buddies receive, but they seem to lack that certain something that your paper has. Your paper is like a drug, the more you get, the more you want and the more you look forward to receiving the next issue. In fact I can't find words to express my appreciation and to thank you for the papers that I have already received. There is nothing that can compare with it. So long, Bill Tilson."

Tribune readers who have made unsolicited contributions during the past week to support the plan of sending the newspaper to all men in uniform and to whom the publisher expresses sincere appreciation, are as follows: S. It is probable that more of the inhabitants of the upper half of the State have viewed much more distant but less charming Southern California. This should not be. Texans should see their own Magic Valley at their first opportunity.

Jim Grisham, Dallas attorney who used to practice law in West Texas, has a droll sort of wit. One day, a young lawyer of the oil boom town who had very little learning or experience, met Grisham and exclaimed, "I've just been paid a thousand dollar fee to represent a man accused of murder. If you were me, what would you do?" Grisham answered, "I would use part of the fee to hire me a good lawyer." Afterward, he related, "You know that fellow walked away, downright mad. I never could figure out why."

Let me hasten to add for the benefit of the uninitiate that there was no wine in the former (it derived its name from the transparent red color) and that the latter actually broke no jaws but would have if you tried to chew it instead of letting it dissolve in your mouth—a process which took only about two hours.

CHARACTER is firmly etched in the face of this native Texan, R. A. (Uncle Dick) Seay. A typical pioneer, he has done his share in molding this country into its present state of development.

Michael Angelo said, "Genius is the capacity for taking infinite pains." But the paradox-loving Bernard Shaw said, "Genius is the infinite capacity for giving pain." And Edison declared, "Genius is 10 per cent inspiration and 90 per cent perspiration." San Angelo is not surpassed by any Texas city in its pronounced personality. Your columnist has visited San Angelo nearly 50 times but I am always thrilled anew by the sight of the big, white hats, the sound of the boot heels on the concrete and the feel of the brisk breeze sweeping across the wide main street. The city and its environs are richly endowed with scenery—two mountains, three rivers and Blondy Cross, the sports writer.

Hungarian Partridge Thrive In Texas Panhandle Since Recent Plantings

"In the Panhandle, particularly in the Canadian River Country, the nesting ground has been built to order for Hungarian Partridges," writes Eltinge F. Warner, publisher of Field & Stream, in the current issue of that popular sportsman's magazine. A wire from Gene Howe, of Amarillo, Texas, quoted in Mr. Warner's article, says that numerous large coveys have been raised from the original planting of 150 pairs of these speedy game birds, shipped in from Canada last March and April.

The partridge planting project was conceived in 1942, while Eli Warner, Tom Main of Alberta, Gene Howe of Texas and Lou Calder of Florida were enjoying a successful hunt near Brooks, Alberta. Hungarian partridges, plentiful in that area, furnished a big part of the sport. "We'd put up twenty or thirty coveys a day," Warner writes, and goes on to relate how they then and there planned to start the popular game birds in Texas, where along with other Southwestern States, the climate and nesting conditions are ideal. Warner and his hunting pals talked to every one they could find who knew anything about Hungarians, particularly Fred Green of Calgary, who imported Huns to Alberta thirty-five years ago. They read everything they could scrape together on the life and habits of the little foreigner, and among other things discovered that the hen lays her eggs in a small depression such as a hoof-print, or anything similar; that unless the soil is sandy and drains off rapidly, the water in these depressions rots the eggs. That is why the Hungarian partridge has not done well in many parts of the United States. But in the Panhandle and in similar areas of New Mexico, conditions are ideal.

On every ranch where the Huns were released the owners have agreed to take care of them and see that the coveys get a fair chance to multiply, and to furnish the game commission with periodical reports on how the birds are doing. A Field & Stream "game protective association" was organized, pledged to take care of the little band.

anged for the distribution areas and supervised the planting. "We are in hopes," Mr. Warner says, "that three years from now there will be a short open season on Hungarians in the Southwestern states." He points out that the Huns are great migrants, and believes that the Texas stock will in time overflow into neighboring areas of similar climate and conditions, just as the birds migrated from their original planting all the way from Western Alberta through Quebec and Ontario, until now there are literally millions of these birds in Canada and our own Northwest.

So Gene Howe's wire is good news to Southwestern sportsmen who look forward to the time when Texas huntsmen can try their skill on one of the fastest, sportiest game birds of all—the Hungarian Partridge.

PROTEIN PLAN SUCCESS LIES WITH FEEDERS

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles to help feeders make better use of available feeds in wartime livestock production.)

"Stretching" limited supplies of cottonseed meal and other protein concentrates, grains and roughages to make them produce more feed and other livestock products will depend largely upon feeders, themselves, says A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association, in announcing a new series of articles to help farmers and ranchmen do the job.

"Because the feeder determines whether his home-grown and bought feedstuffs are fed in balanced rations, without waste, any feed conservation program can be no more than a suggestion," Ward pointed out. "Therefore, providing feeders with practical, basic facts which enable them to work out their own feeding program is essential for the 'Food for Victory' program this year."

Livestock and educational leaders of the Cotton Belt and other areas have recognized this by drawing up, in most States, common-sense recommendations to meet conditions in those States. These suggestions available from County Agents, Vocational Agriculture Teachers and other agencies, in the form of printed or mimeographed bulletins, will be the basis for the Educational Service articles, Ward said. The articles will present these authoritative recommendations in condensed summaries, so that they will be of timely value to farmers and ranchmen.

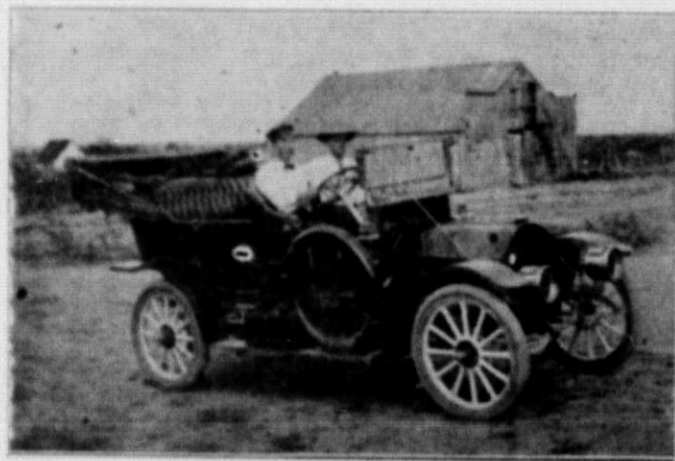

"To insure maximum feed production from available protein concentrates, grains and roughages, special care in planning and feeding rations this year is essential," he added. "Livestock producers will benefit greatly from the complete recommendations of College, Experiment Station and Extension authorities of their own States, and from reading the new series of articles in this paper based upon these recommendations."

You'll find just about three kinds of folks in the world. The wills, the won'ts, and the can'ts. The first get everything done; the second are agin everything; the third fail in everything.

EMPIRE BUILDER...

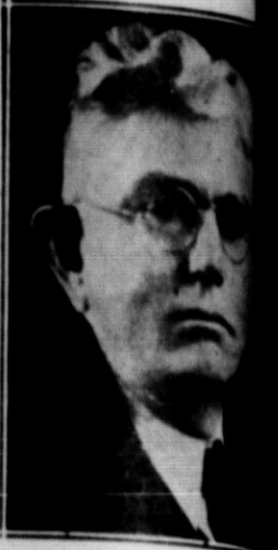

Looking toward a new, untamed country, the pioneer was able to vision its great possibilities. The pioneers of this section of Texas did not hesitate nor weigh the costs. They followed the dim trails and broke the prairie sod with a steadfast conviction in the land. They built homes against the lonely horizons as a foundation for the progress that was to follow.

This firm desires to pay tribute to the early settlers of Motley and Dickens counties for the part they accepted in creating the great empire of Western Texas.

Hibiscus flaunts its big, crimson blossoms down in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and bougainvillea's light purple is all around. Thousands and thousands of orange and grapefruit trees line the highway and, in season, are radiant in blossoms and fruit. Then there are olive trees and lemon trees as well as palm trees of contrasting kinds—one a chunky "explosion" of dense green leaves, the other a slim and graceful trunk crowned with foliage. Then there are mocking-birds and butterflies, the Gulf of Mexico and the Rio Grande with "a foreign land only a step away." With this tropical wonderland of beauty, perfume and song in EARLY LIVERY STABLE, built in 1904, was located near the present site of Campbell's Food Market. The purpose of early livery stables was to take care of teams when the pioneers came to town. Also, buggies were rented for out-of-town trips.

Texas, nevertheless it is estimated that only a million out of our 6,500,000 inhabitants have ever visited the region. It is probable that more of the inhabitants of the upper half of the State have viewed much more distant but less charming Southern California. This should not be. Texans should see their own Magic Valley at their first opportunity.

Jim Grisham, Dallas attorney who used to practice law in West Texas, has a droll sort of wit. One day, a young lawyer of the oil boom town who had very little learning or experience, met Grisham and exclaimed, "I've just been paid a thousand dollar fee to represent a man accused of murder. If you were me, what would you do?" Grisham answered, "I would use part of the fee to hire me a good lawyer." Afterward, he related, "You know that fellow walked away, downright mad. I never could figure out why."

There once was a man from Nantucket Who kept all his cash in a bucket; But his daughter, named Nan, Eloped with a man And, as for the bucket, Nantucket. Father followed the pair to Pawtucket— The groom and the bride and the bucket; And he said to the man He was welcome to Nan But as for the bucket, Pawtucket.

Michael Angelo said, "Genius is the capacity for taking infinite pains." But the paradox-loving Bernard Shaw said, "Genius is the infinite capacity for giving pain." And Edison declared, "Genius is 10 per cent inspiration and 90 per cent perspiration."

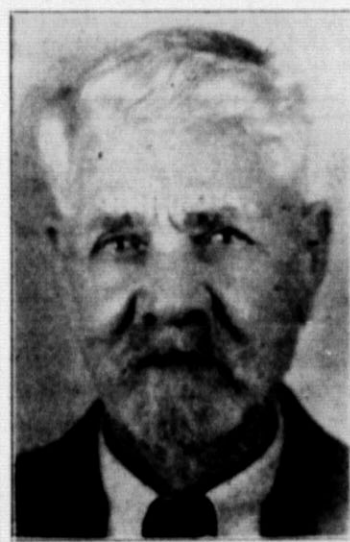

San Angelo is not surpassed by any Texas city in its pronounced personality. Your columnist has visited San Angelo nearly 50 times but I am always thrilled anew by the sight of the big, white hats, the sound of the boot heels on the concrete and the feel of the brisk breeze sweeping across the wide main street. The city and its environs are richly endowed with scenery—two mountains, three rivers and Blonely Cross, the sports writer.

If you are an old-time Texas League fan, you remember "Bad News" Jim Galloway, who used to bust fences when he was starring with Dallas and Wichita Falls. I see him every once in a while—he has an important position with one of the State departments. Everybody thinks he got his nickname from the fact that when he came to bat, it was "bad news" for the pitcher. But a friend says it really started before Galloway ever began playing baseball.

He had a job away from home (according to the story) and, being homesick, he had a friend to send him a telegram that one of the folks back home was sick. His employer let him off; so, later, Jim decided to try it again—and again it worked. But he tried it so many times that, no matter why he went into the office, the "boss" would look up and say, "What's the bad news, Jim, this time"

Which was your favorite kind of candy when you were a lad: a "wire-ball" or a "jaw-breaker?" Let me hasten to add for the benefit of the uninitiate that there was no wine in the former (it derived its name from the transparent red color) and that the latter actually broke no jaws but would have if you tried to chew it instead of letting it dissolve in your mouth—a process which took only about two hours.

CHARACTER is firmly etched in the fact of this native Texan, R. A. (Uncle Dick) Seay. A typical pioneer, he has done his share in molding this country into its present state of development.

Hungarian Partridge Thrive In Texas Panhandle Since Recent Plantings

"In the Panhandle, particularly in the Canadian River Country, the nesting ground has been built to order for Hungarian Partridges," writes Eltinge F. Warner, publisher of Field & Stream, in the current issue of that popular sportsman's magazine. A wire from Gene Howe, of Amarillo, Texas, quoted in Mr. Warner's article, says that numerous large coveys have been raised from the original planting of 150 pairs of these speedy game birds, shipped in from Canada last March and April.

The partridge planting project was conceived in 1942, while El Warner, Tom Main of Alberta, Gene Howe of Texas and Lou Calder of Florida were enjoying a successful hunt near Brooks, Alberta. Hungarian partridges, plentiful in that area, furnished a big part of the sport. "We'd put up twenty or thirty coveys a day," Warner writes, and goes on to relate how they then and there planned to start the popular game birds in Texas, where along with other Southwestern States, the climate and nesting conditions are ideal. Warner and his hunting pals talked to every one they could find who knew anything about Hungarians, particularly Fred Green of Calgary, who imported Huns to Alberta thirty-five years ago. They read everything they could scrape together on the life and habits of the little foreigner, and among other things discovered that the hen lays her eggs in a small depression such as a hoof-print, or anything similar; that unless the soil is sandy and drains off rapidly, the water in these depressions rots the eggs. That is why the Hungarian partridge has not done well in many parts of the United States. But in the Panhandle and in similar areas of New Mexico, conditions are ideal.

On every ranch where the Huns were released the owners have agreed to take care of them and see that the coveys get a fair chance to multiply, and to furnish the game commission with periodical reports on how the birds are doing. A Field & Stream "game protective association" was organized, pledged to take care of the little band.

anged for the distribution areas and supervised the planting. "We are in hopes," Mr. Warner says, "that three years from now there will be a short open season on Hungarians in the Southwestern states." He points out that the Huns are great migrants, and believes that the Texas stock will in time overflow into neighboring areas of similar climate and conditions, just as the birds migrated from their original planting all the way from Western Alberta through Quebec and Ontario, until now there are literally millions of these birds in Canada and our own Northwest.

So Gene Howe's wire is good news to Southwestern sportsmen who look forward to the time when Texas hunters can try their skill on one of the fastest, sportiest game birds of all—the Hungarian Partridge.

PROTEIN PLAN SUCCESS LIES WITH FEEDERS

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles to help feeders make better use of available feeds in wartime livestock production.

"Stretching" limited supplies of cottonseed meal and other protein concentrates, grains and roughages to make them produce more feed and other livestock products will depend largely upon feeders, themselves, says A. L. Ward, Educational Director, National Cottonseed Products Association, in announcing a new series of articles to help farmers and ranchmen do the job.

"Because the feeder determines whether his home-grown and bought feedstuffs are fed in balanced rations, without waste, any feed conservation program can be no more than a suggestion," Ward pointed out. "Therefore, providing feeders with practical, basic facts which enable them to work out their own feeding program is essential for the 'Food for Victory' program this year."

Livestock and educational leaders of the Cotton Belt and other areas have recognized this by drawing up, in most States, common-sense recommendations to meet conditions in those States. These suggestions, available from County Agents, Vocational Agriculture Teachers and other agencies, in the form of printed or mimeographed bulletins, will be the basis for the Educational Service articles, Ward said. The articles will present these authoritative recommendations in condensed summaries, so that they will be of timely value to farmers and ranchmen.

"To insure maximum feed production from available protein concentrates, grains and roughages, special care in planning and feeding rations this year is essential," he added. "Livestock producers will benefit greatly from the complete recommendations of College, Experiment Station and Extension authorities of their own States, and from reading the new series of articles in this paper based upon these recommendations."

You'll find just about three kinds of folks in the world. The wills, the won'ts, and the can'ts. The first get everything done; the second are agit everything; the third fail in everything.

Put your money in a tire-saving, gas-saving

USED STUDEBAKER

TIRE economy and gas economy are the things to look for in a used car these war days. You're sure to get them in a used Studebaker.

That's because used Studebakers, like new Studebakers, have no burdensome excess bulk. This means you don't overload your tires and overtax your gas tank. And the high quality of Studebaker materials and craftsmanship helps keep mechanical upkeep costs down. But remember, please, that used Studebakers are getting scarcer. Come in and make your selection now. Our stocks include good used cars of other popular makes.

Keep your car up to par with Studebaker service

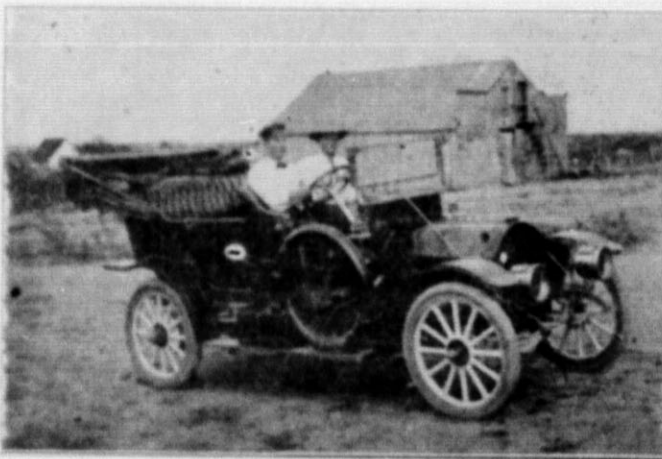

Drive in frequently and have your car inspected, no matter what make it is. If adjustments or repairs seem necessary, you'll be given a check list of what needs to be done. Efficient mechanics will do the work quickly and at moderate cost. Don't wait till trouble starts. Let Studebaker experts check your car regularly and "keep it rolling" for Victory.

EMPIRE BUILDER...

Looking toward a new, untamed country, the pioneer was able to vision its great possibilities. The pioneers of this section of Texas did not hesitate nor weigh the costs. They followed the dim trails and broke the prairie sod with a steadfast conviction in the land. They built homes against the lonely horizons as a foundation for the progress that was to follow.

This firm desires to pay tribute to the early settlers of Motley and Dickens counties for the part they accepted in creating the great empire of Western Texas.

WHEN PEACE COMES
 So you are sick of the way the country is run
 And you are sick of the way the rationing is done
 And you are sick of standing around in line
 You are sick you say—well that's just fine
 So I'm sick of the sun and the heat
 And I'm sick of the mud and the jungle flies
 And I'm sick of the stench when the night mists rise
 And I'm sick of the sirens' wailing shriek
 And I'm sick of the groans of the wounded and weak
 And I'm sick of the sound of the bombers' dive
 And I'm sick of seeing the dead alive
 And I'm sick of the roar and the noise and din
 And I'm sick of the taste of food from a tin
 And I'm sick of slaughter—I'm sick to my soul
 I'm sick of playing a killer's roll
 And I'm sick of blood and death and smell
 And I'm even sick of myself as well
 And I'm sicker still of a tyrant's rule
 And conquered lands where the wild beasts drool
 And I'm cured damn quick, when I think of the day
 When all the Hell will be out of the way
 When none of this mess will have been in vain
 And the lights of the world will blaze again
 And things will be as they were before
 And kids will laugh in the streets once more
 And the axis flags will be dipped and furled
 And God looks down on a peaceful world—The Bulldozer.

From across the waters comes this censor story, included in a letter from our Marine brother some months back. It seems that one of the boys over there received a letter from a girl friend in which she enclosed one of those "butterfly" contraptions that you wind up with a rubber band and which makes an awful noise when released. In a "postscript" at the close of the letter, the girl added, "Dear Mr. Censor, please re-wind the butterfly when you get thru with the letter." The censor obligingly complied with the request, which had the intended startling effect on the recipient.

Mrs. Arthur Cooper of Floydada the former Ruth Simpson who was born and reared here sends in a few helpful suggestions regarding publishing school news for the benefit of the younger men now in service, and of certain items she believes would be of benefit to the farmers, such as a resume of market prices of eggs, cream, poultry, hogs and feed and includes a whimsical contribution which she calls the "Seven Wonders of the Canning Season", as follows:

1. Wonder why it takes so much longer to fill jars than it does to empty them...

2. Wonder what makes the pressure cooker gauge so nervous and jumpy for me when its sits perfectly still for my neighbor.

3. Wonder why a worm has to crawl through and through an apple, instead of eating what he wants all in one little place...

4. Wonder why corn has to have silks and beans have to have strings....

5. Wonder how many burns a hand can get before it is reduced to a charred stump....

6. Wonder what those brats are doing while I can't keep my eye on them....

7. Wonder if I really did get a bug in that jar of food???? And she concludes her letter with this highly appreciated compliment, "I still think the Tribune is the most patriotic newspaper in the whole Allied Nations."

After several months of doing this and that, we herewith stage our "comeback"—but sans benefit of press agent to herald our halting re-appearance. Suffering from a chronic case of lethargy, or may be just plain laziness, we are usually still stalling around near dead-line, until finally it is too late to do anything about the situation this week, so with a little mental calculation, we figure maybe so we'll stir up something of interest over the week-end and have ready to turn in early Monday morning. But once the sheet is off the press, we blandly go about our business without a thought stirring, until long about Tuesday when an uneasy feeling begins to permeate in the back of a brain cell, and we begin trying to recollect what it was we intended to do and hadn't gotten around to...and so advances and passes another dead-line....

And then too, your correspondent took a little vacation trip, which it developed was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone! The family enjoyed the peaceful free-from-nagging atmosphere which prevailed during my absence; the bank force enjoyed a season of harmony and freedom from moronic mutterings; lino-typist Mack enjoyed his brief respite from dealing with over-due copy, handed in usually accompanied by a combined wheedling promise-it-won't-happen-a-gain, but dare-you-to-refuse-to-set-it, attitude;

And the sister we visited was no doubt very relieved when we started for home, so she could begin the painful process of spoiling the children.

Texas Round-Up Be Held In Panama Canal Zone Sept.

A group of Texans in the Panama Canal Zone both men and service personnel are to get together to observe an "All Texas Round-Up" for the benefit of the natives and residents from the Star State on September 10. According to information here last week by Mayor T. Edwards.

In a letter to Mr. Edwards, Dr. T. W. Cagle of Abilene, Tex., man of affairs, it was stated that your city is among those presented here, and it is felt you, as Mayor of their home town, would be willing to write a message of cheer and encouragement to them. Your message will be transmitted to them by post in one of the main U.S.O. Club.

Complying with the request Mayor Edwards has sent a message to local citizens and men in the Canal Zone, in the citizens of Matador, Motley county. In further compliance with the letter from Cagle, a brief historic and descriptive summary of the area accompanied the letter of greetings.

An entertainment-dance program to be held in the new Bojo-Amador Road U.S.O. Club, Balboa, Canal Zone, will be featured.

Former local residents to be in that vicinity include Mrs. Jack Barton (Mrs. Barton is the daughter of Mr. Ed Cammack of Matador).

PIONEER PICTORIAL

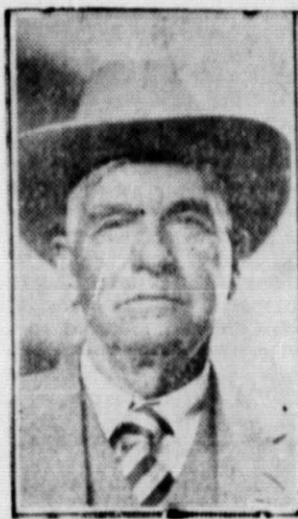

PRESIDENT OF MOTLEY COUNTY, M. E. Meador lived here until her death in 1940. Up until that time, she was the oldest woman in the county.

NATIVE TEXAN, Mrs. I. E. (Van) Martin moved to West Texas over fifty years ago. The family's pioneer home was a dugout, among the first in the Flomott community.

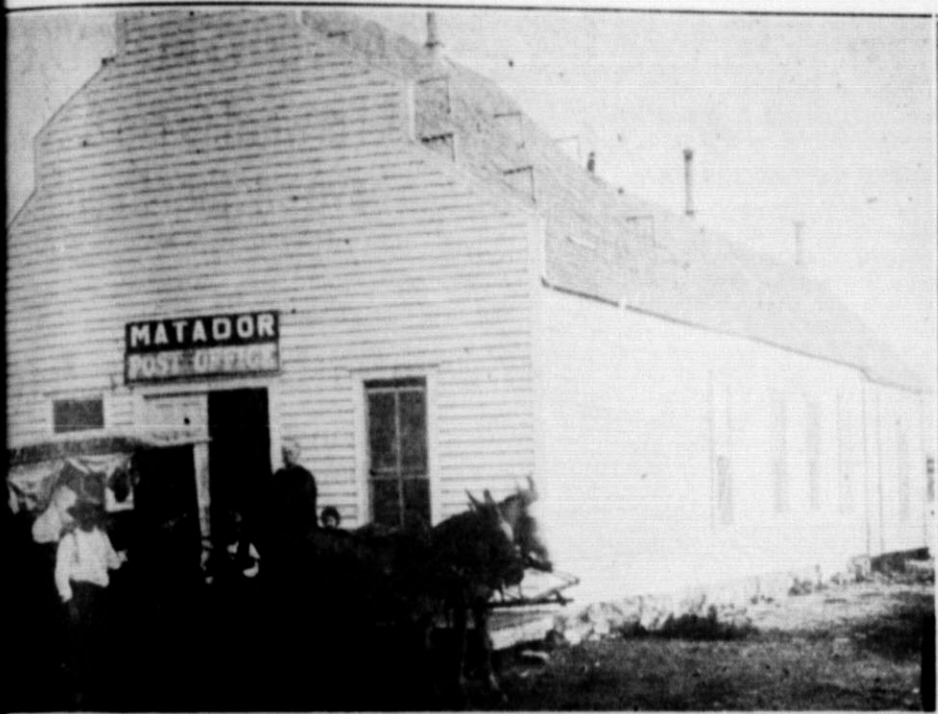

DISASTROUS FIRE, which destroyed most of the business section of Roaring Springs, is depicted in his picture. The blaze occurred in February, 1915.

PIONEER OF THE WEST and progressive leader until his death in 1940, A. B. Echols settled near here in 1890.

stop my Social Security payments until I tell you to resume them after I retire from covered employment again."

In another instance, a watchman came to our office one day to file his claim for retirement benefits, declaring he guessed he was through working, Tate continued. About ten days later he returned to report that a construction company was going to use his past years of experience as a labor foreman by putting him in charge of an excavation gang. So he withdrew his claim, and when his present job is completed he will file another application for monthly benefits. The call to work cheered him considerably, the war effort reclaimed a good worker from the retired rolls, and the Social Security Board will be able to pay him and his wife larger benefits when he finally quits work, thanks to the wages he is receiving on this new work which are higher than he had been getting as a watchman.

Early in 1942 an experienced welder, too old to stand the gaff of shipyard work, wrote in to the effect that he was teaching welding in a government training school. Of course, he did not forfeit his insurance benefits because government employees are not affected by the provisions of the Social Security Act.

"On that score," Tate interposed, "there may be others like him past the age of 65 who are eligible for old-age insurance benefits and who do not know it. The right to receive such benefits does not depend on the absolute cessation from work, but upon the individual's no longer working for wages in excess of $14.99 per month in an occupation covered by the Act. STEADY INCREASE IN CANCER DEATHS SHOWN IN STATE

AUSTIN—A steady increase of deaths in Texas from all forms of cancer is disclosed by the fact that over 45,000 persons have died from this dreaded disease within the last 10 years, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The public should be warned against cancer 'quacks' and so-called cancer cures," Dr. Cox said. "Advertising of medicine and so-called cancer doctors puts dangerous misinformation before the public. Undoubtedly," Dr. Cox declared, "there are many persons who being thus delayed in seeking proper medical advice, unnecessarily lose their lives to this disease."

According to the State Health Officer there are two recognized scientific ways of treating cancer, namely, surgery and the use of radium and X-ray. Treatment must be started early and be carried out by a competent surgeon. In almost two-thirds of the cases, surgery is relied upon to remove cancerous growths, while X-ray or radium is used to good advantage in approximately one-third of the cases successfully treated. Frequently the two methods are combined.

"The greatest defense against death by cancer is early diagnosis," Dr. Cox stated. "Every case is an acute emergency demanding instant attention, and it is unfortunate that so many persons suffering from cancer do not seek medical advice until beyond possibility of cure."

Dr. Cox pointed out that any unusual bleeding from any body cavity, any lump in the breast, or any surface sores, especially on the face and mouth, changed appearance of any wart or mole, and even chronic indigestion may be symptoms denoting the presence of cancer.

"Where cancer is suspected, do not delay but consult your physician at once," Dr. Cox advised. "Self-medication, serums, colored lights, pastes, salves and diets are absolutely worthless in the treatment of cancer."

Washing Silks And Synthetics

Never soak silk and synthetics. Don't rub, twist or wring the garments, either. They just can't take it, according to Westinghouse home economists. Instead, wash gently in mild, lukewarm suds, and if washing by hand squeeze suds through garments. Rinse quickly at least twice to get every bit of soap out. Knead gently to remove excess water. Then hurry onto the line or towel.

RETIRED WORKERS RETURN TO JOBS

His country's call brought many a worker from the ranks of the retired in the Lubbock area and sent him to the rolls of the defense plants and allied activities, according to an interview with Erton F. Tate, manager of the Lubbock field office of the Social Security Board.

"From statistics compiled by the Board, it is clear the same situation prevails throughout the nation," Tate said.

Some of the examples occurring from 1941 to date and readily brought to mind are recounted below.

A carpenter, nearing 70 years of age, called at the local field office, saying in effect, "The wife and I have been doing all right on our little place, thanks to the $42 monthly old-age and survivors insurance check we've been getting. However, they need carpenters pretty badly now and we decided I wasn't too old to again saw a few boards and drive a few nails. So

WELL-KNOWN MERCHANT here, T. B. (Boss) Edmondson arrived in Motley county over fifty years ago. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. N. Edmondson, brought their family here and settled east of Matador.

PRESIDENT of the First State Bank here, C. D. Bird first began working for the Pitchforks in 1884 and later for the Matadors. Now a prominent rancher, he and his wife are typical of the true pioneers.

HORSE AND BUGGY DOCTOR in the early part of the century, Dr. A. C. Traweck later owned the county's first motorcycle and automobile. Forty-five years in Motley county, Dr. Traweck is one of the most progressive and best-known physicians in West Texas.

We Salute our Guardians of FREEDOM.... Everyone In Uniform

Spur Laundry Spur, Texas

WE PAY OUR TRIBUTE.

To the Pioneers of West Texas and Their Descendants in Service

VISION of pioneers accepted the opportunity and the challenge of the fertile, rolling prairie country below the cap rock. It was the shrewd cattlemen who first declared it to be the finest cattle-raising country in Texas. Later the home-seekers appraised the rich soil, the abundant water, and staked their claims. It is to their courage, faith and years of work that we humbly pay our most sincere tribute.

To our Men in Uniform...

We send our sincere Greetings... We are grateful for the sacrifices you are making and we pledge our best efforts to support you on the Home Front!

Two Days Of Rodeo Fans of the rope and saddle will find amusement to their heart's content in two days (afternoons) of rodeo activities. John Russell and Mervin Green, in charge of the rodeo plans, have arranged plenty of livestock of the salty variety, and opened the contests to cowboys from neighboring counties. A small charge of admission will be made to help defray the rodeo expense.

Starting after the basket lunch at 2:30 p. m. today, old-time dance music will continue through the afternoon and into the night at the Pioneer pavilion. A new open-air dance floor has been purchased by the association to provide modern dance facilities for the young people both evenings of the reunion.

District Judge Alton B. Chapman will make a patriotic address shortly after the basket lunch today. No program has been planned for tomorrow morning. Old-time dancing will start at 2:30 in the afternoon, at the same hour when the 2nd day of the rodeo will get under way. Pioneers and young people's dances will be in progress tomorrow night.

DISTRICT YOUNG PEOPLE TO MEET HERE AUG. 28-29

A two-day district meeting of Methodist young people of the Plainview District will be held at the Matador Methodist church Saturday and Sunday, August 28-29, it has been announced. An interesting program, including recreation, worship and "eats" is being planned for the occasion, by local committees.

VISIT IN CARPENTER HOME

Visitors here Tuesday and Wednesday in the W. W. Carpenter home were Rev. and Mrs. V. R. See of Dallas, who were enroute to their home from Fluvana, where Rev. See held a meeting for the Methodist pastor of that place. Mrs. See will be remembered here as the former Miss Mae Sandlin, having lived here a number of years ago.

Mrs. Tokie Doty and small daughter, Martha Jane of Sudan, visited here from Thursday until Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Birchfield.

BOND QUOTA . . .

Motley county," Mr. Stearns, declared, "they will buy every dollar's worth of bonds that is within their power. If they have enough money they will attain the quota. They have given their sons to every battle front and they have never failed to support every demand of the government with their entire resources, energies and cooperation. As a group, they have but one aim, and that, to win the war as quickly as possible. Whatever they possess is available for its most practical use to that aim."

"Non-Banking Quota" Quotas in the 3rd War Loan are named as "non-banking" quotas, which means that the amount must be raised in addition to the amount that will be required of banking institutions. Also the "foreign" purchases made by non-resident insurance companies, will not be allowed.

The drive is scheduled to open on September 9th throughout the nation. Mr. Stearns, collaborating with G. E. Hamilton, county vice-chairman, has announced the following community chairmen: D. E. Pitts, Matador; Melton Thacker, Roaring Springs; W. L. McWilliams, Whiteflat; H. S. Gilbert, Flomot; W. W. Bain, Northfield; Willie Meyer, Folley and Willie Morris, Dumont.

GREETINGS SENT FROM HAWAII BY FORMER RESIDENT

Greetings to friends in Motley county were received in an interesting letter this week from Mrs. Vesta Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Piemons, from Wahiawa, Oahu, in the Hawaiian Islands.

Mr. Murphy is employed in civilian defense work there, and was joined by Mrs. Murphy and their children only a short time prior to the bombing of Pearl Harbor. Mrs. Murphy's letter follows: "Am enclosing a check for five dollars. Please add this to your fund for sending the Tribune to the service men from Motley county. My work here keeps me, from ten to twelve hours daily, in direct contact with the service men, so I know how very much it means to them to receive news from home. Your plan is certainly an admirable one. It would be impossible to estimate the good it does as a morale booster, all over the world. It surely means a lot to me to receive the Tribune regularly, only it makes me homesick for Texas. Since Brooks was brought back to Oahu, we have been seeing him once a week. His leg does not seem to improve so, as yet, he has not been allowed to leave the hospital grounds, altho he can be up and about the hospital. Twice Ed Lee came to the hospital when we were there. You can probably guess rather accurately the trend of our thoughts and conversation when four Matador-ites get together. Ben, ever since I have been over here I have wished for and tried to make time to write a long letter to you people to describe the situation here, to tell you some of the interesting things, the abnormal aspects, etc., —but time is our most precious commodity. It is a question of rationing hours and minutes; we just try to pick the most essential task — then, of necessity, postpone the others, or forget them. So many phases of the "whole"—the net result of the war in this area, would be interesting to you. Again expressing our enjoyment of the Tribune, especially Trail Dust and the letters from the Service Men, and my appreciation of the great work you are doing for the Motley county boys and their friends, I am, Sincerely, Vesta (Piemons) Murphy.

ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

Elec Manley, negro, was arrested for burglary and housebreaking at Hunter Watson's farm last Saturday afternoon. The boy was fifteen years of age. He was tried on Monday and paroled back to his father W. E. Manley.

FDR says: Originally we asked for 10 percent in bonds; now we need considerably more.

Rationing of Stoves Is Started

Housewives who want to buy a new cooking or heating stove will have to convince the local war price and rationing board that they need it. Rationing of cooking and heating equipment started Tuesday, and dealers are forbidden to deliver a new stove to a purchaser who does not hold a certificate from his ration board. Used stoves are not affected.

Must Show Need

To get a certificate for a new stove, a would-be purchaser will have to do more than show that the present one is beginning to exhibit signs of age and is lacking in some of the modern gadgets. It must be shown:

1. That the new stove actually is needed for heating or cooking in "essential" living space, and
 2. That the applicant does not have on hand any equipment that can be used, or repaired for use, for the purpose.
- Selling a usable stove to meet these two conditions won't go. The applicant has to show that no such equipment has been disposed of within the last 60 days, except for "good reason."

The rationing program applies to cooking and heating stoves burning coal, wood, oil or gas.

Will Be Assigned Quota

Each county will be assigned a quota which will set a top limit on the number of stove rationing certificates that can be issued in a month.

Dealers in rationed stoves will register with the rationing board on Sept. 1, 2 and 3.
