Empty Saddles Tribute To Cowboys In Uniform

Sgt. Fulfer Back from War Theatre

Top turret gunner Sgt. G. W. Fulfer, veteran of the Middle East battle-scarred skies is back home. Wearing three gold and one silver oak leaf clusters, the last for bringing down a German JU-88 pursuit plane with his death-sputtering guns, awarded the Purple Heart and Distinguished Flying Cross, the youth who had been through more actual combat in six months than many professional soldiers experience in a lifetime, is still the modest, retiring boy that graduated from Matador high school in 1938.

Sgt. and Mrs. Fulfer met in Amarillo, August 26 and proceeded to Matador where they have been visiting relatives and friends. They will leave for New Mexico early Monday where they will visit Mrs. Fulfer's family before going to Salt Lake City, Utah, where Sgt. Fulfer will report for re-appointment of duties on September 14th. Until her husband's return, Mrs. Fulfer had been driving an army truck in Ogden, Utah.

Until it can be cleared through Washington censorship office, the dramatic story of Sgt. Fulfer's remarkable experiences must be withheld from publication. The article is being prepared and as soon as approval is received, it will be released in the Tribune. Sgt. Fulfer took part in one of the most important bombing raids of the war after he had completed 300 hours of air combat duty.

He was born near Whiteflat, April 19, 1920, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Fulfer of Matador. After his graduation he attended a Plainview business college for about a year and later worked in a Plainview hotel for about the same length of time. He enlisted in the Army Air Corps two days after Pearl Harbor.

AT BROTHER'S BEDSIDE
Mrs. Ray Sims arrived here Saturday night from Casper, Wyo., to be at the bedside of her brother Woodrow Haney, who is critically ill at the home of Mrs. Haney's mother, Mrs. F. F. Henry of Glenn. Mr. Haney is victim of paralysis which originated several years ago following removal of a brain tumor. Although apparently recovered from the operation, recent complications resulted in the paralytic condition which has affected the upper portion of his body.

Mrs. Sims is with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Haney, while here.

Tribune Following Men In Service To New Battle Fronts

Following the grisly wake of mighty guns, the Tribune is brought to more Motley county men in service as new fronts are opened. Pvt. Arvil Craven, medical detachment in Sicily, writes his brother, J. D. Craven of Matador, under date of August 11: "Tell Ben Meador that I bet I was the first to receive the Tribune here. For I got one just two days after I arrived."

So the Tribune, silent envoy from home, rides the wings of danger, spans the world's vast distances and brings regular news of home, friends and relatives to those who face the jaws of death. The small weekly newspaper becomes a mirror which retains the reflection of life back home and carries in weekly journeys to men in uniform.

The Tribune publishers express sincere appreciation for the following unsolicited contributions to the men-in-uniform paper fund made since last publication: J. H. Hines (Flomot) $2, H. M. Murphy (Whiteflat) $1, Mrs. Dub Drace (Lubbock) $2, J. C. (Doc) Burleson $10, A. D. Beauchamp $1, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Glenn (Roaring Springs) $1.

Revival Comes To Successful Close

The revival meeting which was in progress for ten days at the Church of Christ here, came to a successful close with services Tuesday evening. Eight new members were baptized, three were accepted by letter from other churches and there were two restorations.

RAIN COOLS HOT TERRAIN

Cooling showers here yesterday afternoon broke almost 2 months of the most intense heat ever recorded in the Texas Panhandle. Altho no rain of drouth-breaking proportions was reported in the county as the Tribune started to press, clouds indicated possible rains in Northfield, Whiteflat and Flomot areas. Only a light shower fell here. Decided drop in temperature resulted immediately and continued cloudiness indicated more badly-needed rain might be expected.

WAC RECRUITER TO BE HERE

Lt. Grace H. Siegmaster, WAC Recruiting Officer of this territory will be at the Court House in Matador on Wednesday, September 8 from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Lt. Siegmaster will make every effort to make personal calls on all women who have previously shown interest in joining the Corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Martin and children moved here recently from Glenn, Texas, to make this their home.

EMPTY SADDLES IN THE SUN, empty stirrups dangling in the brown, sticky dust, paid symbolic tribute to absent cowboys at the 21st annual reunion of the Motley-Dickens Counties Old Settlers at Roaring Springs Pioneer park, Thursday and Friday. Cowboys of the two counties whose once booted feet are now clad in GI shoes, in the stirrups of destiny, of death and glory, will never know the full depth of reverence paid to them. There was a hush half way between a whisper and a prayer, as grey-haired old riders, companions, relatives and friends, started leading the unmounted horses in the long procession which preceded each of the two rodeos. Thin, empty clouds drifted in the white Texas sky and brown dust rose above the sun-blistered hills. Tears welled and cut their paths along many a tanned, wrinkled and dust-covered cheek. The heart and spirit of Texans, tense with the tribulations of war, paid homage to their absent comrades in uniform.

One Cowboy In Uniform

Approximately 35 saddle horses were led around the arena in tribute to men in uniform during the two rodeos. Only one participant, "Bantle" Brandon, home on furlough, was in uniform. John Russell and Mervin Green arranged the rodeos and directed activities. Sheriff H. H. Courtney lifted the entries, paid off the winners and kept "Doc" Bull Cross, announcer and master of ceremonies, informed of appearances in the arena.

Impressive Memorial Services

The pioneer parade at 10 o'clock Thursday morning ended at the pavilion where a large crowd was already gathered for the impressive memorial services. President C. C. Haile of Afton read the list of deceased pioneers from Dickens county, while Mrs. J. N. Seriverson read the names of Motley county residents who had died within the past year.

Cantaloupes Ignore Hot, Dry Weather

R. A. (Riley) Day, former business man who recently turned his talents to farming, had an unusual thought last week. It occurred to him that the publisher of a country newspaper cannot eat his merchandise when business is slow. Weighing the fact that publishers are often classed as human beings, he reasoned that they probably enjoyed food, especially delicious cantaloupes.

The result of his mental action brought three golden-ripe cantaloupes to the Tribune office, which were immediately placed under refrigeration. The melons were of perfect texture and delicious flavor, altho Mr. Day said they had been produced without irrigation. He said the vines continued to thrive and bear fruit without apparent damage from the severe dry and hot weather.

Soldier Dies In Wreck

Pvt. Herbert F. Anderson, 24, of Newark, N. J., was fatally injured Wednesday afternoon (Aug. 25) when a range truck of the Childress Army Air Field overturned 11 miles west of Whiteflat. The truck and crew of five enlisted men was returning from the CAAF maneuver camp on the Caprock north of Daugherty, where the men had been erecting an operations tower for the landing field.

Pvt. Anderson was fatally injured when the truck overturned after rounding a curve. Others in the truck were Pvt. Cecil Cannon, driver; T-Sgt. George E. Uhrin, Pvt. Norman S. Speed and Pfc. Lee R. Delacy, all of whom suffered injuries, which the Childress Army hospital reported were not serious.

The accident occurred about 4 p. m. Pvt. Anderson was brought to the Traweek Hospital here where he was pronounced dead by Dr. A. C. Traweek, Jr. Dr. Traweek told army officers Pvt. Anderson died almost immediately after the accident.

John Lewis was summoned by one of the enlisted men and brought the five here in his light truck.

Pvt. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Catherine Anderson, 44 Fourth Street, Newark, N. J., was notified of the fatal accident by Colonel John W. White, commanding officer of the Childress bombardier school. Pvt. Anderson was inducted into the army October 24, 1942 and was transferred to Childress from Midland when the school started.

The accident was the first fatality of any nature at the Childress Army Air Field since the army personnel arrived in Childress a year ago. The field has been in full operation since February this year.

MALCOLM REINHARDT PRISONER OF JAPANESE

Sgt. Malcolm T. Reinhardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Reinhardt of Matador, is a prisoner of the "Imperial Japanese Army", Philippine Military prison camp No. 1 according to a card received by his parents this week. It was the first word received from the Philippine hero since the fall of Corregidor, over 15 months ago. The War Department had been unable to supply any information other than that he was missing.

The card bore no date, but was signed in the handwriting of Sgt. Reinhardt. It was addressed to Mr. Reinhardt at Margaret, Texas and forwarded here by relatives. A printed form on the back of the postal card, under words "Imperial Japanese Army" was filled in with a typewriter, with the following information:

"I am interned at the Philippine Military Prison Camp No. 1. My health is good; I am not under treatment; I am well; Please see that yourself is taken care of. (Re: Family) with best of luck to all of you; Give my love to mother, father, brother."

AIR FIELD WILL PROVIDE DISPLAY HERE SATURDAY

NEW PLANS for the opening of Motley county's September 3rd War Bond drive were made at a meeting of community chairmen held in the First State Bank Tuesday evening, following a call by county chairman Elmer Stearns. Actual opening of the drive in the county will be postponed five days following the national opening on Thursday, September 9th. The county's drive to raise $253,800 quota will start Tuesday, September 14.

However, first action to arouse public interest here in the nationwide drive will be provided by the Childress Army Air Field, at 11 a. m., Saturday, September 4. Since army regulations now forbid special display, officers of the field have cooperated as far as possible by having a group of men and equipment returning to Childress from maneuvers on the Caprock, appear here for a short time at 11 o'clock, Saturday, while planes put on a special display overhead. Arrangements for the Army rally were made by Marvin Vaughn, member of the bond publicity committee.

Optimism Is Shown
"We have a tough problem before us," County Chairman Elmer Stearns told his leaders from various county communities, Tuesday evening, "but we will do our best. Crop and cattle conditions are not favorable for the vast amount assigned us in the quota, yet the people of this county realize the seriousness of this drive with relation to the war effort. It is also true that our fighting men on the many global fronts must face problems which do not appear favorable. We as soldiers on the home front accept our assignments as do those on the battle-fronts." Many of the community chairmen expressed similar spirit and optimism.

Mr. Stearns explained that the additional five days would allow more time to train solicitors and provide organization of communities. He stressed the plan of personal appeal to be used by solicitors and the value of person to person contact. He said the type "E" bond would again be the most popular seller. Co-chairman G. E. Hamilton simplified the problem of the drive by declaring that if only one thousand of the four thousand people in the county would invest $253.80 each, the quota would be attained. Fall Semester At W.T.S. College To Open Sept. 21

CANYON, Sept. 2.—The fall semester at West Texas State College opens September 21, Dr. J. A. Hill, the president said every effort had been made to plan the year's work to meet the needs of Panhandle students, and especially with wartime needs in mind.

"So many families are divided and conditions are so disturbed everywhere, we felt that boys and girls going to college this fall would want to attend the home school so they can be near their families and avoid the difficulties of war-time travel," Dr. Hill said. "Consequently we have done everything possible at West Texas State to be prepared to care for all the Panhandle students.

"The war has emphasized the need and desire for college education, and I am convinced that college training will be a very great asset in the post-war world. It has been the ambition of the faculty to make West Texas State the Panhandle school; now we're ready to serve in that capacity." West Texas State will offer a full schedule of regular and many special courses.

In the Armed Service

Pvt. Arvil B. Craven, with a medical detachment in Sicily, is tops among the natives of the small town where he is engaged in first aid activities. They think he is a doctor, he writes home, and because they do not have any medicine at all, Pvt. Craven's services and supplies are in constant demand. The little drug store there didn't have so much as aspirin, he related.

The people think so much of Pvt. Craven that they won't let him pay for anything he tries to buy and even do his washing free. Having seen a snapshot of Arvil with his young niece, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Craven, made while he was home on a furlough before being sent overseas, one woman turned to her friends and told them that these were his four children at home and she intended washing his shirts for him while he is there.

REVIVAL CLOSURE

The Methodist revival meeting closed Sunday night with an addition of thirteen coming into the church. Miss Arline Ragle and Mrs. Berry Baker of Olton, came down Wednesday and assisted in the meeting through Friday. They were accompanied home Friday night by Rev. Baker, who had been doing the preaching. Rev. L. N. Lipscomb, district Superintendent from Plainview, preached in the services Saturday night and Sunday morning.

"I have a hard time trying to convince these people I am not a doctor. They come with everything wrong with them. I try to tell them I do not have the medicine they need, but they want just any kind. One little boy that I had been treating, brought me a loaf of bread, and that is one of their most sacred foods over here. I tried to tell him he needed it worse than I did, but nothing would do him but for me to take it.

"The kids here swing on our arms everytime we walk out on the street, and they want to buy us ice cream cones. They have a sherbet they call ice cream, and they have an orange soda, and the men want us to drink wine with them.

ROY BURLISON INSURANCE BANK BUILDING MATADOR, TEXAS

West Texas Gin "Reliable Ginners"

We wish to express our appreciation to cotton raisers for the patronage given us last season, and assure you we are prepared to continue the same reliable service as another ginning season gets under way.

We provided cake and meal to all our customers until August 20, when our stock was exhausted of everything but cottonseed meal. Some time next week the mill will operate again to produce more cow feed.

In case you are not our customer, be certain your ginner promises to make available the amount of cake and meal your seed will produce. The seeds from every bale ginned with us will be processed and brought back here in the same amount of cake and hulls.

This is essential to the war effort for my boys and your boys need all the vital things made out of cottonseed, that they may come home to us again. Don't take your cottonseeds away from the gin. Cotton is vital to war. Ammunition made from linters produces accurate hits while other ammunition produced from substitutes is far inferior, often fails to fire and more often fails to reach its mark. We have many substitutes but the Navy refuses to accept any of them and the Army accepts them only when required. Your boys and my boys may fail to return because of poor ammunition. They must have the best, and the best is produced from cotton linters, taken from cottonseed hulls at the oil mills.

This is my 13th year here, and I have done everything my customers asked of me; my feed and ginning customers attest to continued reliability. Since I came here you have had better ginning, more feed and better feed. I have tried to supply everything you asked for. I will appreciate your dividing your ginning with us. We buy cotton.

Yours truly, WEST TEXAS GIN Joe M. Gaines, Manager

West Texas Gin "Reliable Ginners"

We wish to express our appreciation to cotton raisers for the patronage given us last season, and assure you we are prepared to continue the same reliable service as another ginning season gets under way.

We provided cake and meal to all our customers until August 20, when our stock was exhausted of everything but cottonseed meal. Some time next week the mill will operate again to produce more cow feed.

In case you are not our customer, be certain your ginner promises to make available the amount of cake and meal your seed will produce. The seeds from every bale ginned with us will be processed and brought back here in the same amount of cake and hulls.

This is essential to the war effort for my boys and your boys need all the vital things made out of cottonseed, that they may come home to us again. Don't take your cottonseeds away from the gin. Cotton is vital to war. Ammunition made from lintners produces accurate hits while other ammunition produced from substitutes is far inferior, often fails to fire and more often fails to reach its mark. We have many substitutes but the Navy refuses to accept any of them and the Army accepts them only when required. Your boys and my boys may fail to return because of poor ammunition. They must have the best, and the best is produced from cotton lintners, taken from cottonseed hulls at the oil mills.

This is my 13th year here, and I have done everything my customers asked of me; my feed and ginning customers attest to continued reliability. Since I came here you have had better ginning, more feed and better feed. I have tried to supply everything you asked for. I will appreciate your dividing your ginning with us. We buy cotton.

Yours truly, WEST TEXAS GIN Joe M. Gaines, Manager
