PRICE FIVE CENTS

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The past is a curtained window which overlooks the backyard of years. Despite the alleged nostalgia of my generation to return to button shoes and high starched collars, in most instances it is a device of placing little sticks over the coals of conversation. Few aspire to surrender any part of their chrome and fluorescent world for even a brief journey into the primitive territory of wood boxes, tea kettles and coal oil lamps. There is admittedly a charm about many of the customs whelped by necessity, and there is charm about a camp fire on the beach yet even the violently neurotic would hesitate to make a picnic a permanent arrangement.

It is impossible to defend sentiment against the tide of progress. The ancient hills are torn with powerful blades and iron-toothed buckets. Old buildings rich with memories are razed and the throbbing heartbeat of the times is the riveter's hammer on the steel skeleton of a new structure. There is, however a limit to which commercialism can ravage the dusty necropolis of esthetic experiences. In central Texas there is an upright piano painted a revolting yellow and secured to a rocky hill by the highway. Advertising of a music firm is painted in black lettering over the yellow. Perhaps the keys have been removed from beneath the closed cover and there is no stool for the talented ghosts of lovers who must return on lonely nights. Denied the respectful transition of decay or flames, the old piano is forever silent beneath the stars; a mummy buffeted by the winds and rains. Weird coyotes howl to its soundless melodies and phantom laughter echoes in the skies while a spectral hand turns the music of a forgotten song.

On the steep grade while the mighty engine trembles and flexes its steel muscles, the engineer will hesitate to invest his precious steam to sound the whistle.

The seeds of truth bear flowers of splendor altho the soil where they find root may be made barren with countless lies.

Pioneers found humor a powerful ally against the continually reinforced attacks of adversity. It was said of the New Mexico homesteaders that the direction of a caravan could be determined by signs left behind at a camp site. If tomato and corn cans were scattered about the cold ashes of camp fires, the travelers were going toward New Mexico; if they left pieces of rabbit hide, they were returning.

About the only commodity which has escaped the skyrocketing price debacle, is advice. It remains cheap without being frozen.

Make Flying Trip

Ennis Moss, Roaring Springs' flying mayor, yesterday, accompanied by M. S. Thacker, landed at Amarillo's Trade Winds airport exactly 45 minutes after taking off from Roaring Springs Buz Field airport. Aerial hitchhiker on the jaunt was Mike Hoyle, manager of the Matador Implement company.

The return trip (without a tail wind) required one hour and one minute. The trio spent considerable time in Amarillo and arrived home in time for lunch.

GROUP TO ORGANIZE

A meeting is called for Monday night, at 7:30 in the district court room at the courthouse for the purpose of organizing a Matador Cemetery Association. Everyone is invited and urged to attend, as immediate action is necessary for continued maintenance of the cemetery.

RETURNS HOME

Mrs. H. M. Wagley returned home Friday from Pampa where she has been visiting her son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wagley.

Youths Hear Inspirational Union Service

"Youth for God" was the subject chosen by Rev. Marvin Brotherton, pastor of the First Methodist Church, for his address in a special union youth service Sunday night, inaugurating National Boy Scout Week.

Local observance includes also the girls of the community, and both Boy and Girl Scouts with their leaders, were recognized guests at the service.

Rev. Brotherton stressed the importance of early training both at home and in the church, as he cited three examples from the Bible: Referring to II Kings 5:2, he reviewed the story of the captive Jewish maid and cited in her life, both dependability and fidelity. From I Samuel, 3:16, he brought a lesson of responsibility and obedience in the examples set by the boy Samuel, and from the experience of Christ as a lad, leadership, instruction and training combined to form a life dedicated to the service of mankind, as related in Luke 2:49. "Parental authority is of utmost importance in training boys and girls," Rev. Brotherton declared, "They will need to be trained to take over world affairs which are in such a mess today. God knows no defeat, and neither will our youth if they will go with the Spirit of the Eternal God within them, filling each day's work with prayer."

Special music for the service was the Matador High School girls chorus, directed by Mrs. L. D. Wilkerson. Invocation was by Rev. W. B. Vaughn and benediction by R. E. Campbell, sr.

Car License Tags Moving

Sale of 1951 Motley county car license tags is moving at a fair pace according to Miss Rachel Patton, deputy in the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector John Stotts. The new tags went on sale February first and may be attached to vehicles immediately.

The new tags for Motley county are lettered A over N and the number starts at 4300. The county received 1,250 licenses for 1951.

The 1950 registration set a record with 1228 registered to date. All new and out-of-state cars must be registered for the balance of the 1950 year (April 1st) before new 1951 licenses can be obtained. In registration of a new or out-of-state car it is not necessary to attach the 1950 tags if the 1951 license is purchased, Miss Patton declared, but the 1950 license must be paid.

Some confusion results in the Texas April 1 to April 1 fiscal year car registration, Miss Patton said. New car owners sometime feel that since the year is 1951 and they are buying a 1951 license, that should suffice. It is explained in this manner: If a new or out of state car owner purchase a 1951 license on February 1, 1951, the vehicle is licensed to operate until April 1, 1952, or a total of 14 months. The owner would "ride free" for two months as compared with the 12 months for which vehicles are registered.

"PLASTIC HEARTS" COLLECTING FUNDS

Hearts of red plastic are located in business places here and other county communities to collect funds for the American Heart Association which is devoting study and treatment in combating heart disease, the nation's number one killer.

The drive is sponsored by the Fleming Post American Legion. Commander Loyd Latimer said this week that no solicitation is being considered except the "silent appeal" of the plastic hearts.

"We know the people have had one contribution drive after another," Mr. Latimer declared, "and we hope the contributions to the plastic hearts will be sufficient that no other form of solicitation will be necessary."

"We are extremely grateful for the generosity of the people as indicated since the hearts were placed in public places. We of the Legion appreciate each contribution."

The drive started Thursday. Approximately 18 of the plastic hearts have been placed in business places.

Spur Voters Approve Hospital Bond Issue

SPUR, Feb. 3.—Voters approved a $125,000 bond issue here today by a ballot of nearly four to one for the construction of a municipal hospital.

Mayor Ned Hogan said the final vote was 362 for and 94 against the issue. He made it clear the city will build the hospital only if the $125,000 garnered from the sale of bonds is matched by state funds. Officials have indicated this will be done.

Opposition to the bond issue was slight even though city councilmen have said approval will require the raising of city tax evaluations by about one-third in order to retire the bonds.

An architect will be selected immediately to start work on sketches for the hospital, officials said.

MANY EARN PRIZES IN QUIZ ON TEXAS

Wearing blue jeans and calico dresses, approximately 200 girls and their moms (real and adopted) attended the 13th Mother-Daughter banquet here Tuesday night in the Baptist Church basement. The affair is sponsored annually by Matador Parent-Teacher Association.

Theme for the banquet this year was, "Deep in the Heart of Texas", and decorations featured crepe paper festoons in patriotic colors of red, white and blue, with Texas flags, small maps of the state, and colored balloons decorating the tables.

A potted red geranium which decorated the speakers' table, was the annual contribution to the banquets for the boys and girls of the community, of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Eubank of Dallas in honor of their son, Lt. Paul Eubank, former Scoutmaster here who started the custom of Father-Son banquets fourteen years ago, and who lost his life in service in World War II.

Miniature cowboy hats and wristlet gun holsters were given the girls for favors. Toastmistress was Mrs. Harold Campbell, P. T. A. president. Mrs. Albert Traweck, Jr., gave the "Mother's Welcome", and her daughter, Frances, gave the "Daughter's Response".

Following singing of favorite Texas songs, Mrs. Campbell introduced Mrs. R. E. Campbell, Jr., as "Uncle Jay", who impersonated the well-known Panhandle emcee in conducting a Texas Quiz, with girls and their "moms" from the audience participating. Approximately twenty prizes were given. Mrs. Johnnie Stevens, organist and pianist, was introduced as "Birmie Howell".

Following the quiz, several surprise gifts were given to Mrs. C. P. Waybourn, the oldest mother present. Mrs. Wade Berryman, youngest mother; Letress Simpson, oldest daughter (school-age) and Carolyn Pohl, youngest daughter.

Invocation was given by Mrs. John Hamilton and benediction by Mrs. C. M. Barton, Jr.

In a bean-guessing contest, Glynda McWilliams and Lucretia Edwards tied for the prize both guessing 3450 beans in a jar which held 3676.

Express Appreciation

Officers of the Parent-Teacher association, and those in charge of various committees expressed appreciation for the cooperation of everyone who assisted in any way towards the success of the banquet. Mrs. Algie Groves, chairman of the food committee, declared she was especially grateful to those who prepared food, worked in the kitchen and helped with the serving.

Special wiring by Freddie Welling, West Texas Utilities electrician, also enabled the women to use extra electric roasters in preparing the barbecue in the church kitchen.

Many Homes Are Without Water During Big Freeze

Zero temperatures which swept the Texas Panhandle last week left many Matador homes without water until the return of warm weather during the week-end.

In instances where water pipes were exposed or had little protection, the "shut-off" was immediate with the arrival of the great mass of cold air. In instances where pipes were buried too shallow, or where wind or rains had removed the protecting, the freeze up was slower.

Water Superintendent Herman Stanfield said late Monday that he still had over 30 calls on hand, resulting mainly from the extremely cold weather.

A number of losses from frozen automobile, truck and tractor engines, were reported.

MOVE TO FLOYDADA

The recent move to Floydada, of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cooper and sons, to a new home there, was followed by a series of house changes by families here. Campus Chatter

Wow! Did you all hear what I heard? Pat R went with La Royce M. Saturday night. Is that true Pat?

For the last week Jerry Edwards has been talking to himself. When he starts answering himself, something has got to be done.

Who is this I hear Martha Hall is going with? Could he be from Texas Tech?

Well Georgia, who is the guy from El Paso? He couldn't be from the college of Mines.

Did you see that cute cowboy at Turkey last Monday night? He seemed very interested in Tresa and Wanda McMahan.

Cute couples seen after the ball games this week Jerry E. and Lois Blevins, Dewayne and Frances, Peck and Marlene, Cookie and Margie (as usual). Betty Ruth seems particularly interested in a certain cowboy with boots and a big white hat. Wonder who?

Tribune, Matador, Motley County, Texas, Thursday, February 8, 1951

What's this we hear about Wanda McMahan and Joe L. Sounds interesting!

We are glad to see cute ex-senior Bonnie Hughes home this week. Bonnie is a freshman at Abilene Christian College this year.

My Goodness! Watson and Frances are beginning to make this dating business a habit. They were seen together Tuesday night after the ball game.

Where! Oh Where did Marlene get that ring? Three guesses and I bet I could get everyone of them right.

Say Dewayne! Where were you planning on going Tuesday night when Coach changed your mind and told you to come to the ball game. It couldn't have been Paducah could it? Oh yes, Dewayne, did you enjoy the game at Quitaque Thursday evening. It looked like it.

I wonder what Jody was jumping on Watson for Friday morning? It couldn't have something to do with Roaring Springs Thursday night could it. Oh yes, who were you two going to ride back with after the ball game with Dickens Wednesday night?

When you all see R. L. you can ask him about the trip to Fort Worth. He will be glad to tell you about it. Won't you R. L.?

Cecil Irwin what is this we all hear about the names you are being called. It seems as though you have a new name each week.

Well bye until next time. And don't do any thing that you don't enjoy.

MATADOR EASILY DEFEATS DICKENS

The local high school boys team easily defeated the team from Dickens 55-37 in the Roaring Springs Invitational tournament Wednesday night, January 31. Watson Townsend and Kenneth Dunning scored fourteen and thirteen respectively for the Matador team. Gerall Farley and Leonard Brown racked up twenty-three points for the losers. The half time score was 26-17 in favor of the local team.

The score of this game was the highest score that the Matador team has run up against their opponents so far this season, even though the "B" team was repeatedly sent in during the entire game.

New in Style—New in Structure—New in Power—New in Thrift—Potent in Price Appeal—It's the 1951 BUICK SPECIAL!

HERE is good news for folks with a shrewd eye for what their dollars will buy.

Here is a tidy traveler that defies the upward trend of costs—proudly wears a 1951 price tag like that which zoomed last year's SPECIAL into popularity so great that it put a crimp in "the low-priced three."

Take our word for it, this is every inch and ounce a Buick—Buick-featured, Buick-designed, Buick-built from the ground up—but literally the newest thing on wheels.

The sturdy and ample body is new. The high-strength frame is new. The power is new to the SPECIAL, which now has the thrifty F-263 engine that first made its name in the SUPER, and here delivers 120 horsepower with standard transmission—128 with Dynaflo Drive.*

It's a Buick with less weight and more power—and that spells a pair of new thrills for you. There's a performance thrill such as you've never enjoyed in the SPECIAL—plus a handsome gas-saving into the bargain.

We'll make a prediction now as to what title folks will give it, once they get it out on the road.

That title in three words, will be: "Thriftiest Buick Yet!"

Better hurry around to your Buick dealer's and look this marvel over. We'll give you another prediction—which is: Once this one's discovered, the demand will be terrific.

No other car provides all this:

W. T. U. Co.'s NEW TURBO-GENERATOR GOES ON THE LINE—More than 37,000 horse power in electric generating capacity was made available for area use when the huge new turbo-generating unit at West Texas Utilities Company's Lake Pauline Plant was integrated into the Company's power system January 31. Pictured above are WTU engineers and factory test men making final operational checks preparatory to placing the unit in service.

Electric Power More Than Doubled By New WTU Company's Lake Pauline Unit

QUANAH—Following operational tests and check runs, the new 37,000 horse power turbo-generating unit at West Texas Utilities Company Lake Pauline Generating Station, located five miles southeast of Quanah, was placed in service January 31.

"The addition of this unit, which is a basic part of a multi-million dollar construction program to provide more and better electric service to the people we serve," said Price Campbell, WTU president, "is a part of our continuing effort to help this area grow and prosper."

The new unit, which more than doubles the plant's generating capacity, provides additional electric power sufficient to serve a city of 90,000 population, or the power needed to serve 14,000 West Texas farms.

The actual installation of the turbo-generator was but a small part of the work, C. M. Sample, chief engineer of the Pauline Plant, pointed out. An addition to the plant, equivalent to a steel framed masonry and concrete building 75 feet by 63 feet and four stories high, had to be built to house a boiler capable of generating 250,000 pounds of steam per hour. Construction on this addition was begun in September, 1949, and initial operation of the unit was scheduled for April, 1951. By pushing construction, it was possible to complete the installation of the unit two months in advance. There still remains a great amount of finishing work, such as painting and trimming, to be done before the construction is completed.

The Lake Pauline Plant, one of WTU's four modern steam generating stations, interconnected by 3,100 miles of high voltage cardinal transmission lines, was placed in operation in 1928.

Social Security Act Amendments Will Benefit Many

The 1950 amendments to the Social Security Act reduced eligibility requirements to about 14 years of employment, or 6 quarters of coverage for a wage-earner, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Office of the Social Security Administration. These quarters may have been earned any time since January 1, 1937. This new provision affects only those cases where the wage-earner was living on September 1, 1950. From now until July 1954, 6 quarters of coverage is sufficient for a fully insured status.

Many individuals who previously could not meet the requirements may now qualify for monthly benefits. "However," Hutton stated, "no benefits are paid to qualified persons until claim is filed." The benefits representative of the Lubbock office will be in Matador at the First State Bank on February 14, 1951 at 11:00 a. m.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Mery and daughter, Betty, accompanied by Mr. Mery's brother, W. H. of Tule, attended the Fat Stock Show and visited relatives at Matador during the week-end.

"Rocky Mountain blizzards couldn't stop me!"

says JACK W. SEEFELD
3030 Vrain St Denver 12, Colorado

"The two winters I tested new Conoco Super Motor Oil—as one of a group picked to prove its winter wear-fighting ability—we had the worst weather in years. Blizzards came in on top of blizzards. The temperature went to the bottom and stayed there.

"BUT MY CAR ACTED LIKE IT THOUGHT IT WAS JULY! With new Conoco Super that car performed better than it ever had. At the end of the test, with proper drains and regular care, gasoline mileage was practically as good as at the beginning."

After a total of 386,422 miles, logged by Mr. Seefeld and other winter test drivers, Conoco engineers found no wear of any consequence! Analysis of drains showed this great oil actually stopped the dangerous accumulation of free water and acids, chief causes of winter wear. This test proved that new Conoco Super Motor Oil, with OIL-PLATING, fights off rust, corrosion and sludge. So, change to Conoco Super, now.

A Look At The World Of Tomorrow Through Preparation At Matador Primary Grades

(By Beth Johnson)

In these trying and crucial times many people are greatly concerned about the world of tomorrow. They worry about scientific and chemical progress but let us look at the stronghold of America, our children. These children will be the citizens and the public of tomorrow, so let's see how they are being prepared for it.

Since most of us started to school, times and teaching techniques have changed considerably, so let's go through a typical day in the primary grades of Matador Public Schools.

The day begins at eight-thirty with individual work on projects and reports on happenings of the day. At nine o'clock the children salute the flag, sing "Father, We Thank Thee" and other simple songs or singing games such as "Ten Little Indians", "Did You Ever See A Lassie", "Old Mr. Elephant", "I'm Very Very Tall", "Down In The Paw-Paw Patch", and "Pop Goes the Weasel". The children may also select and lead songs they especially like.

The boys and girls who (1) brush their teeth (2) comb and brush their hair (3) bring a clean handkerchief (4) bathe twice a week at least (5) eat a good breakfast and lunch (6) clean their fingernails (7) wash their hands and face, find their names written on boy or girl dolls riding the health train. If a child neglects to do one of the aforementioned requirements, the doll representing him must stand off the health train on the railroad tracks.

A large citizenship chart of pictures with boys and girls on parade with each student's name under his or her picture holding a miniature flag of the United States take care of all disciplinary problems. If a child does something that does not look right, the student body discusses it, then we ask, would a good citizen do that? If not, the person who misbehaved loses his flag. Only by doing extra work to be a good citizen may the flag be replaced on the chart again.

The first class is reading, which is the most important subject of school for the first year. First of all, there is one paramount factor to consider and, that is, that all children are different from one another. In learning to read, children are also different. We cannot account for these special differences, but we must recognize that they exist and make allowances accordingly.

After the child enters school, the first five or six weeks are spent with a Reading Readiness Program, which helps the child to prepare for his reading period. Within this time the child becomes adjusted to new friends, teachers, playmates, and new ideas.

Much interest is kept about what story will follow and what Dick, Jane, or Sally will do the following day by letting the students read their readers only in class. As one group goes to the reading circle, the other groups are given seat work related to the stories they are reading. Books are passed out to the group in the reading circle, new words are placed on a wall chart making a complete sentence. Pictures are used to introduce new words as far as possible. The group is asked to read to themselves with lips closed, without finger pointing to find out where Dick found the ball? Who helped Dick find the ball? After each one has read to themselves, they are asked to read orally the answer to certain questions about the story. Panoramas of animals with names under their pictures are found in the chalk trays, the picture of the animal with their names printed on small cards furnish an excellent method for students to learn the names of the animals. Different objects in the room are labeled also.

Charts are made of pets and placed in the room. Each child writes his or her story and bring a picture to represent his or her pet. This project was completed with a pet show. Children brought pets to school and invited other grades to see the pet show.

Pictures of rhyming words are placed on cards and placed in a wall pocket. The students are given another set of cards containing pictures which rhyme with cards in the wall pocket and they take turns bringing their pictures and placing them under the pictures which rhyme. Sounds of the beginning letters of words are illustrated by pictures placed with B as in baby.

Building number stories may be made meaningful by having students take colored balls and build 1 and 1 are 2 or 2 and 1 are 3. By placing colored balls on the flannel board children learn to count quicker. There are four different strings of colored spools and on these they learn the colors as well as learning to count. When the children have finished their seat work, they are free to go one at a time and count the colored spools to themselves. Numbers from 1-20 are made on dogs and cats and are then placed in erasers and left in the chalk-rail where all can see them. By looking at these the children learn to count in order because they can see what number comes before and after. There are many games which make numbers more meaningful, "Chickadee" and "Ten Little Indians" are two which are enjoyed most by the primary grades.

Art is best expressed in the first grades through the use of clay, free hand drawing, water colors, and finger paint.

Language is planned to give the student an opportunity to express ideas of excursions for certain units of work. Health and safety precautions at home and at school are thoroughly covered. Writing health rules, safety signs, writing get-well letters, and thank you notes are all included in this study.

Health, physical education, safety, and science are made more impressive by the movie projector in our school, also film strips, and slides of animals, fruits and vegetables are useful when used on the opaque machine. The opaque machine is also used for free hand drawing and writing.

This past week the reading class was conducted over the wire recorder and the results were surprising and interesting. There is also a radio and record player at our disposal which make singing games more interesting and affords them the opportunity to hear programs in keeping with many of their units of work.

The two first grades are taught by Mrs. Vance Gilbreath, graduate of Texas Tech, and Mrs. Minnie Coldiron, graduate of Southeastern State Teachers College of Durant, Oklahoma. Mrs. Gilbreath is a veteran teacher of eighteen years and she says, "I prefer teaching the first grade because of their eagerness to learn and because they are so interesting". Mrs. Coldiron, a native of Hendrix, Oklahoma, has 8 years teaching experience and says she also prefers the primary grades to high school. Mrs. Coldiron has one son, Bob, a Junior at High School.

Now that you have typical day in the primary grades and have met the teachers, let me urge your co-operation with the faculty and trustees. The molding lives today and the zens of tomorrow.

The More He BREAKS The More He MAKES

Texas motorists, Texas highways and Texas taxpayers should be protected against the ONE PER CENTERS.

ONE PER CENTERS are truck combinations weighing, loaded, 20,000 pounds or more. Only one of every 100 vehicles registered in Texas pays a license fee for 20,000 pounds or more. FEWER than three out of every 1,000 are registered for more than 40,000 pounds.*

Our highways should be SAFE for ALL the people—individuals, commercial users and the military alike.

Texas highway tax dollars should be conserved and used wisely. This can be done

- (1) by limiting the weight (gross load and axle load) that may be transported legally by the ONE PER CENTERS and
- (2) by enforcing the law against those who persist in overloading.

Texas highways are paid for by and belong to ALL THE PEOPLE. Highways adequate for 99% of Texas users—individual and commercial—can be constructed and maintained for about ONE-THIRD of the cost made necessary by the weight of the ONE PER CENTERS.*

This is your problem. Send for your copy of the booklet, "THE CASE OF THE ONE PER CENTERS," which tells you, among other things, why

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Blue Wins This "Hunt"

Cappy Miller's coon dogs—except for one of them, Old Blue—are about the finest hounds in the county. Blue's too friendly and easy-going to care much about hunting. He doesn't act the way we think a good dog should, so we figured he'd never amount to much. But a fellow comes around Saturday looking for a good dog to photograph for some advertising. And the dog he picks is Blue! Says Blue's happy, friendly face is just the one to attract people's attention. So Cappy gets more money for that picture than his other dogs will ever take in hunt prices.

From where I sit, that should teach us not to look down on humans, when they act differently than we think they should. For instance, maybe you think tea goes best with food. O.K.—but don't size up wrong the man who enjoys a bottle of beer at mealtime.

Like Blue, I guess we're all "different" in one way or another—but that doesn't mean we don't have our good points, too!
