Community Chest Reaches Goal

Altho slightly unofficial, the 1950 Matador Community Chest drive has reached its $3,000 goal. Late Tuesday only $36 remained to be subscribed according to President Glenn Woodruff.

"We have been assured of the goal," Mr. Woodruff declared, "by additional subscriptions from contributors, but we yet have a large number of cards to fill and have declined the added contributions from members who have already made generous 1950 donations. The directors feel the organization is community-wide and that every citizen should have his share of responsibility in contributing to the needy.

"You may, however, announce," he told a reporter, "that we have received sufficient funds and pledges to attain the $3,000 goal. There is no question but that we would have been over-subscribed except for the extreme press of duties on many workers. Many persons living in the Matador Independent school district (area included in the Matador Community Chest) have yet to be solicited for a contribution. It is regrettable that all of us have been so busy during the drive.

"We are grateful, however, for the extremely generous response which workers have encountered. We find that more people are "solid" on the Community Chest than ever before.

"Of particular importance is the attitude of contributors who have noticed the decrease in door-to-door and on the street solicitations during the past year. They appreciate the privilege of making all contributions at once with the knowledge that every request for money is carefully screened by civic-minded local citizens. Men who serve without pay in order to see that worthy charity is adequately served and that unworthy "grafts" are discouraged. It is so easy to say: "Go to the Community Chest, that is where I make my contribution."

"Please express my thanks and the thanks of the directors," Mr. Woodruff said, "for the wonderful cooperation we have received from everyone."

County Officials are Qualified for Posts

Motley county officials must be rendering satisfactory service to the voters because the January first office qualifying ceremony was merely the requalification of former officials. Only one change, that of commissioner of precinct number three (North) was registered in the personnel. T. B. Simpson, sworn in as commissioner to replace Marvin Leary who was a candidate for re-election.

During the qualification ceremony County and District Clerk Pat Sheridan swore into office the county judge and commissioners court. County Judge C. W. Giesecke swore in the remainder of the officials.

The officials sworn into office were as follows: C. W. Giesecke, Jr. county judge and ex-officio county superintendent; Pat Sheridan, county and district clerk; Velma Fulfer, county treasurer; John Stotts, sheriff and tax-collector; T. F. Berryman, commissioner of precinct one; J. E. Monk, commissioner of precinct two; T. B. Simpson, commissioner of precinct three; J. N. Fletcher, commissioner of precinct four; H. F. Pipkin, justice of the peace, precinct one; J. D. Mitchell, justice of the peace, precinct four and A. W. Amick, justice of the peace, precinct five.

Representative Rogers expects to leave for Austin today where he will prepare for next week's meeting of the Legislature. He said much important business has been announced for the lawmakers and that he expects a busy session. While here he released a statement to the taxpayers regarding the possible increase in taxes. The statement is published elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune.

Firemen Sponsor Alaska Pictures

Projected color pictures of Alaska made by former resident Charlie Brown will be shown in the Matador high school auditorium Tuesday evening, January 9th, under the sponsorship of the Matador Volunteer Fire Department. Net proceeds from the program will be used to augment the fire department's general fund. Chief Freddie Welling said yesterday that a presale of tickets will be made over the week-end. Admission prices will be 20¢ for children and 75¢ for adults.

The collection of Alaskan scenes embraces about 450 pictures but only a portion will be shown because of the length of time required. They cover almost the entire territory of Alaska (some are made from planes) and include active volcanoes in a world of snow and ice, glaciers and scenery of almost incredible beauty. The fantastic sun that shines at midnight and the great frost that covers the forest when the temperature drops to 50 degrees below zero are but two of the subjects that enhance the entertaining qualities of Brown's unusual collection.

A viewing of the pictures is like a comfortable, inexpensive trip to the fabulous territory of Alaska. Steeped in information on Alaska, Mr. Brown is enthusiastic in his description of each scene and will answer questions regarding the United States' great territorial possession.

Displayed this week in the window of the West Texas Utilities Company local office are a number of Alaskan garments worn by Mr. and Mrs. Brown, snow shoes, an Eskimo doll and other items.

With Mr. Blair were his wife, a sister, Mrs. Floy Dickinson of El Monte, Calif., with her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Dickinson of Pasadena, Calif.

They were on their return trip home after a visit to Mr. Blair's old home on the Tom Burnett ranch at Iowa Park, and while there, they were guests of the Will Burnetts.

Infant Year Salutes Two New Babies

At 12:01 o'clock Monday morning a new year was born to the world and 292 minutes later at 4:52 a. m. a son, Billy Don (weight 1 lbs and 6 ounces) was born to Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Carson of Flomot at Stanley Clinic-Hospital.

At 6:30 p. m. Tuesday (January 2nd) a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Benham, Jr., of Afton at Traweck Hospital. His weight at birth was 6 lbs. and 5 ounces.

Thus two baby boys will support the infant year in establishing peace in a troubled and bleeding world. Two boys will someday take their places in life to help achieve the simple need of courage and contentment. The prayers of their parents and the prayers of millions are with the new year; that the world may be freed of the crime of war. Two brave little boys and the infant year, face the future with the divine courage of the innocent.

Dr. Clarence Poe Explains Point Four Program

South To Benefit, Says Progressive Farmer Editor

Birmingham, Ala., Dec. 20—Addressing a group of agricultural leaders from Alabama, North Carolina, Kentucky, Tennessee, and Texas in Birmingham recently, Dr. Clarence Poe, President and Editor of The Progressive Farmer, and recently appointed by President Truman as a member of the Advisory Board of the Point Four Program, said the whole South should profit from development of under-developed areas of the world under the Point Four program.

The program, stated Dr. Poe, is not a "give-away" project, but aims to help foreign nations help themselves through industrial and agricultural development. Dr. Poe defined the immediate objective of the program's committee as providing employment in industry and progress in agriculture with the aid of technical assistance and sound investments by American capital. It is hoped that the program will achieve a degree of agricultural progress in many rural regions of the world comparable to that accomplished in our own South through the Agricultural Extension work of farm and home agents.

The interest of American business in the Point Four program is evidenced by the fact that President Truman secured Nelson A. Rockefeller as chairman of the board and Harvey S. Firestone, Jr., as a member. The President also appointed John L. Savage, chief designing engineer of the Hoover and Grand Coulee Dams, and, indicating the great emphasis to be laid on public health, Dr. Thomas Parran, former Surgeon General of the United States.

The South has a major interest in the groundwork of the program in that the chief organizer has been Capus Waynick of North Carolina, and groundwork for its activities was laid in the widely discussed Gordon Gray report, authored by the new president of the University of North Carolina. Dr. Henry G. Bennett, president of Oklahoma A. & M. College, has been made executive director of the entire Point Four program, and Dr. Paul W. Chapman, of the University of Georgia, will advise on development of rural industries. Dr. Robert P. Daniel, president of Virginia State College for Negroes, is also a member of the Advisory Board.

Dr. Clarence Poe organized The Progressive Farmer Company and has been its president during the magazine's period of growth from a circulation of 5,000 to its present monthly circulation of more than 1,150,000. Dr. Poe has traveled widely abroad and is the author of two books on agricultural and industrial conditions in Europe and the Orient.

Heart Trouble Is Caused By Three Types Of Disease

What do you know about your heart? Do you know that the three major kinds of heart disease are: Rheumatic heart disease, high blood pressure and coronary heart disease?

One of childhood's most dangerous foes is rheumatic fever, declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. A child is most likely to develop rheumatic fever when he is less than 10 years of age. However, the disease is not confined to children. "In World War II, about 40,000 men in the American forces developed attacks of rheumatic fever." This disease may damage the heart valves and muscle. Any child who has rheumatic fever should have the best of medical care, plenty of rest, a special diet, and be free from anxiety or worry. Just because a person has rheumatic fever, is no sign he will have rheumatic heart trouble. But it's important to keep in close check with the family physician.

Coronary heart disease strikes those from middle age groups and up, more than other forms of heart trouble. And, it strikes men more often than women. Moderation in daily living is very important, for if a person worries too much, works too hard, exercises too frequently and hard, and eats too much his heart is overworked. Yes, one of the best checks against overburdening the heart . . . is moderation in all things—and plenty of rest.

High blood pressure is another important cause of death. Naturally, the heart has to work harder to pump the blood, when blood pressure is high. An overworked heart needs the care of a physician.

Sometimes symptoms of heart trouble aren't so noticeable; that is why a regular physical examination is so important.

Heart disease caused by syphilis, congenital heart disease, and heart trouble resulting from an overactive thyroid gland, are a few other forms of heart disease.

Stop and think about it for a moment. Do you give your heart enough rest?

AUSTIN, Jan. 3—Let's have a little quiz program.

Can you name your governor? If you said Allan Shivers you're past the first test. Let's go on to the next one. Who is your lieutenant governor?

Some of you were eliminated by that question, but many Texans recall that Ben Ramsey of San Augustine defeated Pierce Brooks of Dallas for this office in a campaign last August. Let's have a hard question.

Who is the man most likely to be named Speaker of the House of Representatives?

The answer is Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba. His election is assured by the pledges of other members of the House and by the fact that he has no opposition. The Speaker, you know, is elected by his fellow-representatives, and not by popular vote. He is one of the most powerful men in the state government; his influence compares with that of the governor and lieutenant governor.

What kind of a man is Reuben Senterfitt, who will occupy this important position in the Legislature which begins its session this month?

He is a native of San Saba County, where his grandparents settled a hundred years ago. He has two brothers and five sisters.

As a boy, he lived on his parents' farm-ranch and went to a two-teacher school. Later, at San Saba High school, he developed into a good scholar and graduated as class valedictorian.

He received various honors at the University of Texas, where he earned a law degree. He went back to San Saba to practice his profession and was elected to the Legislature the first time he ran.

Senterfitt has continued to serve his district in the House of Representatives. Once he was elected while, serving overseas in the Navy.

He became known in the Legislature for his intensive work on important committees and served as chairman of some of them. He was House sponsor of legislation that established the veterans' land program.

Senterfitt is a sober, serious, hardworking man, but he has a sense of humor and a pleasant, slow, sincere smile. He is not likely to do anything before he has thought it all out first.

During the legislative session he and Mrs. Senterfitt and their three adopted children will live in the Speaker's apartment in the Capitol.

Senterfitt believes that the word "politician" should not be used scornfully—that responsible people must serve in public office if this state is to have good government. He sees hopeful signs. In a recent speech he said, in his somewhat classic language:

"It should appear wholesome to us, and quite reassuring, that out of the expansion and enlargement of our state government in recent years have come men of character and stature capable of rising above the old label of politician.

"Their conduct, contributions, integrity, and abilities in many instances have restored public confidence."

As you read account of the legislature's activity, you will frequently see Senterfitt's name; perhaps, after having read this sketch, you'll feel you know him.

TO THE VOTERS OF THE 121st DISTRICT:

Are you ready to pay more taxes? According to the money-spending (and wasting) experts in our state government, you will have to pay more whether you like it or not. The 52nd Legislature meets January 9 of this year and will find itself facing a deficit in state financing of many millions of dollars. Just how great the appalling shortages of revenue will be is a subject of considerable debate and confusion. Our "experts" offer guesses varying from $50,000,000 to $200,000,000—and this immediately following the record-breaking new-taxes and spending sessions of 1949 and 1950. Already our state government is bigger than any business or combination of businesses—even in the Great State of Texas. The last regular session of the Legislature spent more than $1,000,000,000 (one billion) of money from the pockets of Texas taxpayers. Present indications point to a great increase in State spending and State taxing, even beyond the present terrific pace. Every person in Texas has a big

The refreshment table was centered with three colored tapers on a mirror reflector, surrounded by angel's hair. Styrofoam figures were hand made by Mrs. John Hamilton and her children.

Mrs. Robertson presided at the dirilyte beverage service. Cake and coffee were served to: Mesdames Harry Willett, W. L. McWilliams, M. G. Brotherton, Joe Bloodworth, Fred Simpson, J. L. Woodruff and the visitors.

The couple was accompanied to Clovis by Mrs. Jameson's daughter-in-law, Mrs. Clyde Gilbert and Mrs. Ed Jameson. Attending them during the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith of Clovis, whose wedding ceremony Rev. Jameson performed twenty-five years ago.

Both Rev. and Mrs. Jameson are well-known here. "Uncle Bob" as Rev. Jameson is fondly called by his many friends, is a retired pioneer Methodist preacher of this section. He made his home at Whiteflat for many years until the death several years ago, of his wife, when he moved to Matador.

Marine From Spur Earns Silver Star

(Special to Tribune)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 4—Marine Corporal Andrew H. McClain, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. McClain, Route 2, Spur, Texas, has been awarded the Silver Star Medal for heroism in the Korean fighting. It was recently announced by the Commanding General, First Marine Division. The citation for the medal reads:

"For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action against the enemy while serving with a Marine infantry company in Korea on 27 September, 1950. Corporal McClain acting as a squad leader, was given the mission of assaulting a steep hill against well dug in enemy positions. With no thought for personal safety he fearlessly and courageously led his squad up the hill and succeeded in completing his mission. Upon reaching the objective, and rejoining the platoon, Corporal McClain learned that the platoon commander and all senior non-commissioned officers were wounded, so he immediately assumed command of the remainder of the platoon, and hastily reorganized and placed them in defensive positions. By his actions the platoon was able to hold its objective with no more casualties. He commanded the remainder of the platoon for a period of about two days. Corporal McClain's display of initiative, leadership and heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

McClain, a former Army corporal, enlisted in the Marine Corps on March 23, 1948, at Dallas, Texas, and was promoted to his present rank on November 17 of that year.

Are You Forgetting to Oil the Machinery?

Some businessmen look upon advertising as an expense to come under the knife.

When expense must be cut, the advertising budget is first. The trouble with that method is — it just won't work. The fact overlooked is that newspaper advertising represents only a fractional part of the cost of goods sold.

Advertising is the instrument which brings the greatest returns when it is intelligently planned.

Advertising becomes expensive when you don't use enough.

It's like failing to lubricate a piece of valuable machinery. You save the cost of the lubricant, but eventually you have to pay the big repair bill—and production losses while the machinery is idle.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

About 38 years ago I rode from Flomot to Matador and on to Paducah in a two-wheel cart with my mother. My mother and father were in the buggy ahead. Snow was on the ground and it was very cold. I remember the cold that seemed to penetrate my clothing like chilled water. We had enjoyed a wonderful holiday visit with relatives but the discomfort of travel did not leave me with the kind of memories I wanted to keep. There was not a foot of paved street or road in the entire area and but few automobiles. Somewhere between Whiteflat and Flomot an automobile passed us, the driver bundled in a heavy overcoat and black gauntlet gloves. Our horses shied and the buggy team lunged against the bit and my father's tight rein. I watched the automobile chug away in the cold sunlight and a thought raced through my young and confused mind. I have remembered it many times. Why not build an automobile with glass windows, like a passenger coach, to keep out the cold and weather? It might even be possible to heat the carriage. I reasoned. I have since seen many automobiles in the vicinity of that stretch of road, in more than ample fulfillment of my vision.

The dust of many troubled years has fallen on the path I used to tread down the hill to the barns and feed lots. I remember deep snow that weighed and caked between my shoes and ankles, and the serenity of cattle eating fodder scattered on the white-crusting earth. While I was born without any talent for melody, milk ringing against the sides of the pails always seemed like music.

The cowboy was on the slender side, tall and half as handsome as sin. His boots were shop made and fit like gloves, and his levis were faded to an exacting degree. If his shirt was not made to order it looked like it and he wore a white silk scarf tied at the side of his neck. Pushed back on his head was a flawless Stetson of the grade packed one in a box. He was busy at the table reading, as absorbed as a prairie dog digging a new den. Finally he turned a page; the page of a tattered comic book.

Egotism is a mental moss that gathers on heads shaded by nothing but their own self-evaluated importance.

History is replete with vain characters who sought to prevail against the church and change or destroy religion. They have passed like the vision of unreal fears; the wind groans and screams during the night but the mountain is unchanged at dawn.

Should the government impose a surplus profit tax on friendship it would still remain the soundest investment outside the portals of eternity.

The easy gate opens to the downhill road where failures study their confusing roadmaps under the shade of stunted destiny trees.

School Lunchroom Showing Deficit; Price Hike Looms

Matador school lunchroom may be forced to raise the price of meals from 20¢ to 25¢, Superintendent Bert Ezzell announced yesterday. The lunchroom has shown a deficit of $676.79 since the start of the present school term. One month, November, showed a gain of $54.98 but three months showed substantial losses. September lost $473.19, October $83.19 and Dec. $121.45.

Many factors contribute to the deficit but increased cost of food items heads the list. Reimbursement is still received from the state and government but it was cut 1¢ last year which accounts for about $40-$45 lower monthly income. The subsidy is 7¢ for meals served with milk and 5¢ for meals served without milk.

Number of free meals have also increased this term. About ten free meals are served daily to needy children (this is required by government provision that needy children be served at a reduced rate or without charge). Flow of USDA commodities have been reduced since last year. Some of the commodities received this season include potatoes, tomatoes, dried milk, cranberry sauce and dried eggs.

The lunchroom is self-supporting and does not receive any tax monies. It is probable, therefore, that it will be necessary to raise the price of lunches to 25¢, Mr. Ezzell declared, in order to balance the program. "It is hardly probable," he said, "that we can hope for any additional help from surplus commodities, and despite school officials' reluctance, the price raise seems the only solution."

Matador is one of the few remaining schools in the state still charging only 20¢ for student lunches.

IN CALIFORNIA

Claude Harp spent the past week playing golf in Los Angeles, Calif., having accompanied a group of friends from Plainview.

It is logical to assume that somewhere on the bloody fields where war's grim caissons have rolled among the dead, was a youth who, had he lived, would have proved a leader. He would have dedicated the now blighted life to blazing a course through the wilderness of greed, suspicion, fear and envy. He would have established the union of a world brotherhood and appointed the chronic sores of nations with peace; had war the compassion to spare him.
