FmHA Activates Farm Loans For Socially Disadvantaged Persons

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) is preparing to activate a loan program designed to help members of socially disadvantaged groups, including minorities, acquire land for farming. Neal Sox Johnson, FmHA State Director, said.

Under the new program, FmHA will try to find persons in those categories who are interested in farming and can qualify for an FmHA farm ownership loan. The agency would also be prepared to sell or lease to them a farm held in its inventory if any are available in that county, Johnson said.

FmHA can also provide other loan and technical assistance, if needed, to help the borrower get started.

The new program was included in the agricultural credit act signed earlier this year, Johnson said, and funds have been reserved for farm purchases based on the population of socially disadvantaged persons.

The population of such persons range from as low as 1 percent in some New England and midwestern states to highs of 68 percent in Hawaii, 57 percent in New Mexico, and somewhat lower percentages in southeastern states. Population groups involved are Hispanics, Native Americans, Blacks, Asians and Pacific Islanders.

Persons who think they might be eligible and who are farming or who would like to become farmers are urged to contact the Farmers Home Administration county office serving their area, Johnson said.

69th Annual Old Settlers Reunion Draws Big Crowd

"1923 - WE WERE THERE" Float, sponsored by the Roaring Springs Community Volunteers, won the prize for first place in the Old Settlers parade held Saturday morning in downtown Roaring Springs. Most of those riding the float were at the first Old Settlers Reunion, held in 1923 and are pictured as follows: Buck Marshall, Roaring Springs (standing left); Tom Yeates, Roaring Springs (sitting in chair left); Lillian Hoyle Thacker, Roaring Springs (facing front on right); Charlie Keith, Matador, standing; Ola Mae Collet Thomas, Shallowater; Sue Green Maxie, Post; Mamie Hughes Yeates, Roaring Springs; Amy Freeman Havis, Slaton; Winnie Kennedy Pate, Brownfield; Cora Phipps Mitchell, Amarillo.

It was a beautiful morning as the flag bearers, Charles "Chig" Gwinn and T. Jennings lead the 69th Annual Old Settlers parade.

Wayne Smith, Dickens, lead the horse with the empty saddle, in honor of all deceased pioneers.

After the parade began its journey from downtown to the Rodeo grounds the wagons and horses circled.

The winners were announced as follows:

Best Float: "We Were There In 1923", Roaring Springs Community Volunteers.
Bicycle: Matthew Brown of Roaring Springs.

Antique Car: Kirby Campbell, Matador.

Horse Drawn Carriage: Bob Moorhouse, Pitchfork Ranch.

Old Time Cowgirl: Jewel Hooper, Spur.

Old Time Cowboy: Roy Shepperd, Matador.

Modern Day Cowgirl: Tammy Palmer, Wylie Ranch, Paducah.

Modern Day Cowboy, Dan Wheelock, Alturas, California.

Jr. Cowgirl: Mattie Jo Wheelock, Alturas, California.

Jr. Cowboy: Brandon Moore, Matador.

Most Outstanding Parade Entry: "We Were There In 1923", float sponsored by the Roaring Springs Community Volunteers.

Following the parade the Tabernacle was packed for the Memorial Service. Motley and Dickens County Judges, Boyce Hart and Woody McArthur introduced Helen Arrington of Dickens who read the Dickens County memorial list and Lola Pohl who read the Motley County memorial list.

1992 plaques were given to Ben Overstreet, Dickens County Oldest Living Male and John Barton, Motley County Oldest Living Male; Eliza Kingery, Oldest Living Female of Motley County, and Winnie Kennedy Pate, Dickens County Oldest Living Female; John Barton living the longest in Motley County and Flora Rich, living the longest in Dickens County; Darrell "Buddy" King, traveled the farthest, traveling 1790 miles from Washington.

Penny and Kelly Keltz, Dick VanHoose and Billy Donaldson, accompanied by Gerald Pipkin on the piano, of the 3M Company provided entertainment.

At 1:00 p.m. the Old Settlers Board of Directors met for their meeting. Truitt Read read the minutes and the financial report, with $925.20 in First State Bank of Matador and $3,694.06 in the Spur Security bank. Read also reported they are working to get their bookkeeping and financial report in order to apply for the grant to refurbish the Tabernacle. Read also thanked his wife, Chelsea, Frances Walters and Diane Washington for all

Visions of the Past

by Marisue Potts

The lone buffalo sought the protection of a small arroyo. Away from the biting wind of winter or the blazing sun of summer, he pawed the soft sand a little, then went down on his haunches never to rise again. Old or sick, he died there, his bones scattered by coyotes. The rushing waters of spring rains tossed the thick skull upside down and as the eddies subsided, sand and gravel gradually covered it. In the slow progression of time, blow sand and vegetation erased any evidence of a death here. Cattle grazed where two hundred years ago buffalo trod.

There in its solitary interment the buffalo skull remained until the spring and summer rains of 1992. As runoff waters rushed down the sodden slopes, a small waterfall swirled, eating at the base of a large cedar. As it crashed into the sand bed taking a large chunk of earth with it, the white tip of a horn protruded and glistened in the sun.

Not long after, intent on a weekend outing, Ricky Day and his companion Richard Galle hiked through the tall grasses, broomweed, and sandburs of the little canyon. Pointing out the erosion, Day, an earth sciences teacher at Andrews who had spent many of his boyhood days roaming these foothills, gestured to the crumbling bluff walls, "This is where you look for bones."

Shortly, Galle, director of the YMCA at Plainview, spied the tip of the exposed horn and as a novice asked, "You mean like this?"

And so the afternoon hike was postponed and an excavation begun. By Monday, through the courtesy of these gentlemen, the buffalo skull had joined Indian artifacts at the Motley County Museum to remind those who visit that only 114 years ago, buffalo still roamed the territory.

In 1879 Mr. and Mrs. A.B. Cooper met wagon load after wagon load of buffalo hides as they made their way to the trading post of TeePee City. However, the herds were fast disappearing because only three buffalo were killed near their new home afterwards.

So through the ochre skull, stained red from its long burial, and the name Tongue River, the tributary of the South Pease so called for the mass of buffalo who died of Black Tongue disease in its cool water, we conjure images of the woolly beasts as they migrated through the breaks and ravines of Motley County, lumbering to their next meal, or to their death.

OUT OF TOWNERS VISIT MUSEUM

Volunteers made good progress in showcasing the material at hand for displays of the Motley County Museum. Several additions were brought in by visitors. Those manning the museum during Old Settlers Reunion logged many visitors, including these from out-of-town: Mrs. Billy Jack Spray of Las Cruces, N.M.; Dorothy Hanesworth of Houston; Jennie Lou Murphy of Lubbock; Polk Cooper of Lubbock; Mary Helen and Gene Blakey of Tyler; Kurt Gwartney of Pryor, Ok.; William S. Campbell of Los Angeles; Duward Campbell and Andy Wilkinson of Lubbock; Beverly Shorter of Phoenix, Az.; Lee Moss of Floydada; Sue D. Bird of Madill, Ok.; Frances and James Moss of Lubbock, Maxwell and Zoe Smith of Tulsa.

Matador Senior Citizens of the Year Named

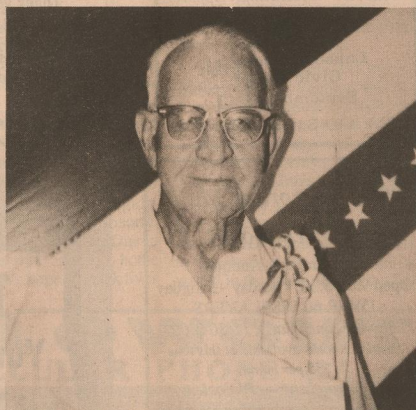

Cora Hall

Cora Hall of Matador was recently elected as Senior Citizen of the Year of Matador.

Cora is the fourth daughter, out of 16 children, of George and Lydia Meador Ratcliff. She was born here November 22, 1913.

Her mother, at 16 years old, cooked for the people who were building the jail. Her father worked on the Railroad that was built from Roaring Springs to Matador and also worked on Twin Bridges between here and Four Corner. They went back to Quanah in 1914 and moved out 7 1/2 miles southwest of Quanah at Middlebury, where they walked 1 1/2 miles to school. They moved to Flomot in August 1930 and to Matador in January of 1932.

Cora married Mark Hall, September 9, 1933. He died February 30, 1990. They had two children, Martha Rae Hill and

Bill Dunning

Albert Stanley Hall. They have five grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Hall states, "My roots are deep as I do live within three blocks of where I was born. I feel like my loved ones have helped build Matador. I have worked in several homes here and feel like I do have quite a few friends here."

Bill Dunning was recently elected as the male Senior Citizen of the Year for Matador.

Mr. Dunning moved to Motley County in 1926. He attended school at Whiteflat and married Nora Belle Stephens June 11, 1933. They have two children, Kenneth of Plainview, owner of Wood-Dunning Funeral home of Plainview, and Wallace Funeral Home of Tulia, and Nita Murphy of Irving, Texas, an English teacher at Sam Houston High School.

He is a member of the Matador First Baptist Church and enjoys going places and seeing friends and dearly loves going fishing and trying to beat his wife catching fish.

Bill enjoys going to Senior Citizens Center for luncheon and each Friday afternoon playing 88 with friends and always bidding 70 and causes everyone to have to bid high to get to stay in the game.

LIONS CLUB REPORT

The 3M Company entertained the Lions Club and guests when they met Tuesday, September 1. "Elvis" (Billy Donaldson) was featured during the program performing "Blue Suede Shoes".

Three guests attended from the South Plains Lions Club of Lubbock.

Following the 3M Company's performance, Marilyn Haight, Great Plains Lions Eye Bank Coordinator and Bill Brown, Regional Director, briefly gave an update on the Eye Bank.

Haight explained they cover 22 counties and 37 hospitals. The Lions give $4.00 per member to be used for the program, not salaries.

The donors of organs and tissues has grown tremendously in the past 3 years. In 1990-91, 108 organs and tissues were donated and collected, in 1991-92, 268 organs and tissues were donated and collected.

Haight explained the best way to sign up to give is to tell your family members, sign the donor card and have it added to your drivers license.

Boss Lion Tony Rose reported the Lions cleared $157.00 on the lightbulb sale. He also reminded the Lions that they still have the boxes of light bulbs for sale.

The Lions are participating now in "Crime Watch", since the crime rate is getting higher in Matador.

The Committees were also announced for gate keeping and chain gang for Friday's first football game.

T & T Manufacturing Opening Plant In Roaring Springs

Kelly Willis, Tom Brian, attorney, Joey Thacker, Mayor of Roaring Springs, and Johnny Lloyd recently signed final papers to bring T&T Manufacturing to Roaring Springs. T&T Manufacturing will manufacture heavy stump removing equipment built primarily for the removal of mesquite bushes. This concept is a viable innovation because it is the most economical and environmentally friendly concept on the market today. Production will begin in approximately six weeks.

Engagement Announced

Veronica Prida & John Albert Hanesworth

Veronica Prida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Prida of Mexico City, and Dr. John Albert Hanesworth, son of Stan and Dorothy (Traweck) Hanesworth, and the late Bruce Gibson of Turkey, will be married this September. John is the grandson of the late Dr. and Mrs. Albert Traweck of Matador and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce O. Gibson of Turkey.

Civil wedding will take place on September 5 at the Talpan Castle, former country home of President Diaz of Mexico. The estate's style is that of an authentic Mexican hacienda with strong French influence in its stained glass windows and massive stained glass domed ceiling of the main house. A Catholic wedding will take place on September 19th in San Antonio at Our Lady of Grace Catholic Church at 3:00 p.m. followed by a reception at Carlos O'Brien's in San Antonio. Attendees for Vernoica and John's wedding will be friends and family from Texas, Mexico, and Spain.

Veronica is a graduate in fashion design from Incarnate Word College in San Antonio. She designs fabrics in San Antonio under her own label, "Veronica Prida Designs." She has designed her bridesmaids and flower girls gowns for her wedding.

John is a graduate of the University of Texas in Austin and the University of Texas Health Science Center in San Antonio. He has a private dental practice in San Antonio. The newlyweds will honeymoon in Guatemala and reside in San Antonio.

Motley County Arts & Crafts Club will Meet for Painting Day

The Motley County Arts and Crafts club will meet September 14 at the Senior Citizens Center for a workshop on painting on T-Shirts.

Winifred Lee will be instructor for the day. The meeting is called for two o'clock. A covered dish luncheon is planned for the noon hour.

September is the beginning of the new year for the club. Many interesting and informative programs have been planned. Dues are being paid this month, also bring a friend who might enjoy all our fun and activities.

Arts and Crafts will open for a few hours on October 16, the Craft Shop, at Matador Auto Co., time to be announced at a later time. Make your plans to 'drop-by' have a cup of coffee, and see what's new. We have some nice surprises!

Thursday Playday
August 27

Louise Barton, Loys Campbell, Dorothy Day, Laverna Price and Geneva Wilson. We played blind partners and Loys and Louise won the balls.

I didn't have time last week to write all I wanted too about foothills. We had a wonderful time that day. The weather was beautiful and everything just went great. When Loys got there she caught up with each group and had all of us sign Hazel's very cute birthday card. Loys' salad hit the spot with everyone. It sure tasted better than my cheese crackers and wieners. We were glad to have Hazel with us to celebrate her birthday. We have missed her the last few years. May you have many more birthdays and hope we can help celebrate them. Hazel we all love and admire you very much.

Home Economically Speaking

by Beverly Thomas,
Home Extension Agent - Home Economics

ARE YOU BUYING A HEALTHY HOUSE?

To protect your family's health and your home's equity, it is wise to get an environmental check-up for the home you are serious about buying.

Hire a home inspector to examine the structural parts of the home. These include the floors, walls, and room, the electrical and plumbing systems, the heating and cooling elements, the foundation, and the basement. You also may need to test for health hazards as well. Potential health hazards found in homes today range from lead and asbestos to new carpeting that can trigger respiratory problems.

Before signing on the dotted line, consider hiring an environmental engineer who will check for other common problems, such as deficient ventilation, combustion gases, formaldehyde, lead paint, asbestos, misapplied pesticides, and indoor carpeting. Once identified, correction of most defects can occur without spending a lot of money. Do not routinely exclude a would-be home choice because of a health problem.

If the home suffers from deficient ventilation, think about installing a central exhaust fan in the attic. This eliminates harmful pollutants from the house. Next, install individual fans in each bathroom. An exhaust hood over the kitchen stove vents built-up moisture that causes mold and mildew.

You must vent the byproducts of combustion gases, including carbon monoxide, nitrogen dioxide, and moisture to the outside. If the connection between the chimney and the flue pipe is black, backdrafts may permit gases to seep into the house.

The hazardous substance formalde-hide, appears most often in particle-board sub-flooring of houses built since the mid-1960's. It also appears in the foam insulation material, ureaformaldehyde. Pass over a house that has had this insulation put in during the last four years.

If you suspect lead paint, contact the State Health Department.

The substance asbestos can cause cancer and lung disease. It occurs most frequently in insulation that covers pipes and hot-water heaters. Textured ceilings of structures built from 1900 to the 1970's may contain asbestos.

The most dangerous improperly applied pesticide chemicals are chlordane, heptachlor, aldrin, and dieldrin. Use of these chemicals for termite remediation has been banned since 1988. Before settling on a house, determine its pesticide history.

Some toxic substances found in new indoor carpeting are benzene, formaldehyde, and chloroform, all of which are carcinogenic. If consumers know they are chemically sensitive, consider alternative floor coverings. Choose coverings made from all natural fibers with no added dyes, finishes, preservatives, or other chemicals; otherwise, ventilate the house with new carpeting for several days to dilute the toxic substances.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY: Some folks say the squeaking wheel gets the grease, but others point out that it's the first one to get replaced.

Local Home Economist Attends Conference

The annual conference of the Texas Association of Extension Economists was held in Lubbock, August 5-7. Beverly A. Thomas, Extension Agent - Home Economics for Hall/Motley/Throckmorton Counties, participated in the three-day professional meeting.

Keynote speaker for the meeting was Wallene Dockery Barzizza of Memphis, Tennessee, who emphasized the importance of dealing with stress and balancing personal life and career.

Other workshop topics included "Addictive Disorders and Recovery Programs", "Food Technology and Hospitality for the Future", "Neurology of Aging", and "Your Money, Your Job, Your Future".

Extension Home Economists are professional staff members of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and the Texas A&M University System. They are employed in the County Extension Offices in most of the 254 counties in Texas.

These professional home economists provide research based information on child and family development, nutrition and health, clothing and textiles, housing and family financial management.

Your local Extension Agent - Home Economics may be contacted by calling 817/552-9941 in Vernon.

"CHEERING UP" IS NOT ALWAYS EASY

Depression can cause people to have a feeling of being in a "dark pit" with no way out. They may feel there is no hope for their situation to change and that things will only get worse.

Everyone gets the "blues" at times. This type of depression is not long lasting or doesn't have much depth. It usually subsides in a matter of hours or a few days.

Depression that can be a problem is the type that is on-going. There is a continuing or increasing withdrawal from activity or people. A person may lose interest in their personal grooming and other once-favored activities. A person may begin to have thoughts of suicide.

Depression has been defined as "anger turned inward." Depressed people are hurting people and they usually feel that there is no way it will stop. The cliché's people are prone to say are normally not helpful. Things like "cheer up, things could get worse," or "snap out of it," etc. Believe me, if a depressed person could snap out of it all of a sudden, they would. Somehow, just knowing things could get worse is not a real motivator for me to feel good about things!

If you are depressed and you feel it is beginning to affect your life adversely, get some help for it. I would suggest seeing a professional counselor and/or getting a medical check-up. Sometimes there can be a chemical imbalance. There is help.

Robin's 'Ritins

Since everyone is now settling down into the school routine it is time to get more serious about school work and athletics. This year's football season will kick off tomorrow night for our first football game, here at home, against Hale Center. It starts at 8:00 p.m. I hope everyone will come out and support our boys for their first game. Good luck guys!

Also starting is Jr. High Football practice, Cross Country and Girls Basketball practice. Since all of these will be coached by new coaches we need to support our teams as well as the coaches.

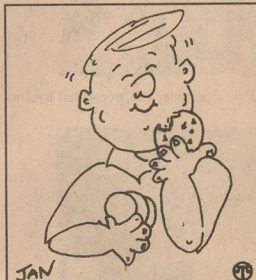

So, to our athletes and coaches good luck for a best season yet! Come out and support our teams this year and show them that we are behind them all the way!

Tri-County Peanut Field Day

The annual Hall, Motley and Briscoe County Peanut Field Day is scheduled for Thursday, September 10. It will begin at 9:00 a.m. at the Joe Edd Helms farm north of Flomot. This farm is located on highway 5 and is the first house on the east side of the road right after you cross the Briscoe-Motley County line heading south.

Dr. Ed Colburn, Extension Agronomist; Dr. Thomas "Chip" Lee, Extension Plant Pathologist; Leon New, Extension Irrigation Specialist and Dr. Rose Mary Seymour, Extension Engineer will be the specialist on hand for the program.

There will be a tour of all the surrounding fields in which the specialist will be available to discuss topics and answer any concerns that you might have relating to peanut production.

A noon meal will be sponsored by PCA of Matador at the community center in Quitaque. At that time the program will be concluded.

For further information, contact the Briscoe County Extension Office at 806-823-2131.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

High Plains producers were given an opportunity to voice their concerns and recommendations about the Farmers Home Administration's (FmHA) Emergency Loan Program. The hearing was held at the Floyd County Courthouse August 24.

Representatives of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) provided written and oral testimony at the Monday afternoon hearing before the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Conservation, Credit, and Rural Development. Subcommittee members Rep. Bill Sarpalis and Rep. Glenn English conducted the meeting.

PCG testimony was presented by PCG Board Chairman Larry Nelson, of Tulia. Nelson's testimony outlined three primary reasons most High Plains producers decide to forego the Emergency Loan Program.

He explained to the subcommittee that excessive paperwork, the 30-percent reduction in income required to qualify, and the fact that producers who truly need assistance need more help than a one-year loan that further extends their debt load combine to discourage widespread use of the program.

"Producing cotton on the High Plains of Texas is a risky proposition at best with profit margins averaging near 10-percent," notes Nelson. "Producers that can sometimes absorb one or two crop failures or years with low prices often end up with a net loss well below the 30-percent required by FmHA but still enough to put them out of business." Even if they qualified another loan doesn't do much to help them out of the hole they are in, adds Nelson.

In addition to the FmHA comments Nelson also asked the subcommittee to continue to encourage the President to release the remaining $755 million in disaster funds appropriated in 1991.

Lubbock hosted the 1992 Texas ASCS Conferences on August 25-26 at the Memorial Civic Center. The conferences brought together close to 1,700 ASCS employees from across the state.

Featured speakers at the two-day event included U.S. Representatives Larry Combest and Charles Stenholm, former Secretary of Agriculture Clayton Yuceter, ASCS Administrator Keith Bjerke and Texas Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry.

ASCS employees come together each year for the conference and training sessions in order to stay current on new regulations and programs.

WEATHER REPORT

Tommie Cruse, National Weather Service volunteer, 5 1/2 miles east, northeast of Flomot, reported .51 rain for the month of August at 4:00 p.m., August 31. Autumn is a beautiful time of year in this area, but farmers and ranchers are wishing for a good soaking rain, hot sunny days to help mature cotton and other crops and a LATE frost.

When an elderly man was asked why he was dancing at the Young Folks dance floor rather than the Old Folks dance floor at the Old Settlers' Reunion in Roaring Springs, he answered, "I'd rather smell the perfume here than the Ben Gay over there!"

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

Mrs. Jack (Rosa) Spray, a patient in the Lockney General Hospital since Aug. 19, returned home, Thursday, August 27. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Billy Jack (Sylvia) Spray of Las Cruces, N.M. accompanied her home from the hospital and visited until Monday.

Mrs. Wilma Hare of Clovis, N.M. visited Mrs. Spray in Lockney Hospital last Sunday as she was en route home from Matador where she visited overnight Saturday with Mrs. Elsie Thacker.

TRIP TO CALIFORNIA

Heather Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Turner and Mrs. Carolyn Ewing and daughter, Joely of Matador were in San Diego, California the past week. They attended the impressive Marine Corp. Boot Camp graduation of Mrs. Ewing's son, Clay Ewing held on the Parade Deck at the Marine Corp. Recruit Depot in San Diego, Friday morning, August 28. Among tourist attractions they enjoyed was the San Diego Zoo.

They explained home, Saturday. Clay left Sunday for Canyon where he has enrolled at West Texas State University for the fall semester. Joely returned to Brownwood, Sunday to continue her classes at Howard Payne College.

Idleness is Destructive

Victorious Romans legions, left behind to rule defeated Spain, built an aqueduct in Segovia in 109 A.D. For 1800 years, 60 generations, that aqueduct carried sparkling water to hot and dusty Segovians. About the turn of the 20th century, thoughtful Spaniards decided that the aqueduct should be relieved of its age-old labor. So they laid modern pipelines and stopped the flow that for centuries had gushed in the aqueduct. Shortly thereafter, the aqueduct began to fall apart! The blazing sun dried the mortar and made it crumble, its stone sagged and fell, and soon it lay in ruins! What ages of service could not destroy, idleness rapidly disintegrated!

The Bible tells us that our Lord Jesus "went about doing good." Idleness was not a characteristic ascribed to the Lord. The reason for this is seen clearly in the Scriptures. One can oppose arguments. One can deny truths fervently spoken. But one can not argue against good works. There is no argument which can stand against a demonstration of good works. When an argument is pitted against deeds of mercy and acts of kindness, the argument will come in second best every time. Idleness is destructive no matter how loud it might be.

We are beginning a study of the book of Revelation September 2nd, 1992. This will be each Wednesday evening at 7:30 p.m. Please come and join us in this Bible study hour. It will be at the Matador Church of Christ building.

Senior Citizens Report

by Nora Belle Dunning

On August 19th, seven people arrived in Lubbock at the Civic Center to help celebrate the 17 County Jamboree. Cora Hall represented the ladies of the Matador Senior Citizens and Bill Dunning represented the men, each received a large plaque signed by Governor Ann Richards.

Special music, games, dominoes, 88 and many more activities were held throughout the day. St. Mary's Hospital gave different tests throughout the time we were there. We met J.W. Pritchett and played 88 with him. Due to the fact we had our table of 88 in the middle, they had the loud speaker going so you couldn't hear yourself think and music and dancing on the other side. We had to yell at each to hear what we said. A good time we always have at the Jamboree anyway.

On August 24 we met for our regular luncheon with 29 people present. So sorry, Monica, that you were not there. Due to the fact nearly everyone had to go home we didn't play 88. We hope you sick folks will hurry and get well, we need you. We will be electing new officers for next year on September 8. Please come help us. We've asked 10 or 15 people if they would take the President next year, no one will do it. If I have to take it I'm sure going to need lots of help.

We need all you Senior Citizens to get started to coming and we feel like you need us. So many of our regular members have been out for the summer most of the time.

Barbara and Carla, the paper for the Motley-Dickens Reunion was so good. I love the old pictures so much, and those articles that were written in there of things of the past. It brings back all the wonderful reunions that my parents took me too when I was a little girl and growing up with so many old friends. Life is so short to let all those treasured memories pass away. The first reunion I remember going to was down at the Springs and we kids waded in the water around the falls.

by Frances A. Ellis

NOTE: Mrs. Ellis is an aunt to Barbara Armstrong. She writes for The Paris News, Paris Texas. She recently returned from a trip to Russia.

Prague, Czechoslovakia, was the last of four cities visited during the "People to People" International Communications Consortium, August 7-21, and the 24 of us from all over the United States really appreciated the City as one of the world's most beautiful, dating back to the 13th century.

A two-hour flight on Czechoslovak flight 899 had an interesting break with a 30 minute stop at Bratislava in the Slovak Region where a waiting room was full of people of many different dress and language. They left for the Persian Gulf cities like Adis Ababa.

Landing at the Slovak Airport, we were met by Jitka Markova of the "Welcome Touristic Praha" and to be our guide and interpreter for three days. Many tourists were winding down their summer visits, with the report that as many as 3 million visit Moscow each day.

Prague is the capital of the Czech and Slovak Federal Republic although there is no head of the government until the election of September 30 when the countries combine or remain separate. The Czech side is affluent and forward, with the opposite on the Slovak side where there seems to be no desire to get together.

One of our most interesting visits was to "Lidove Noviny" in a downtown upstairs building. Formerly an underground newspaper, during the 1980s it had 16 to 18 pages, letter size, but changed in 1989 becoming a free press, daily with 130,000 copies, depending on circulation and advertising. A staff of 25 with correspondents in many European areas adds up to about 80 persons working for the paper. The general manager spoke to us and shared copies of the August 19 issue. The cartoon on the front has a caption "Some People have problems finding their identity."

After lunch at the Bellevue Restaurant with more wonderful Russian soups, we were guests of the Czechoslovak Union of Women and Prakticka Zena, in a beautiful and well preserved old building, four flights up as all meetings seemed to be!

The women leaders shared their magazines and their hopes to make them better. "Mona" is the main one and we noted the first article was on Jackie Onassis, and their wish is to make this one like American "Vanity Fair".

"Vlasta" was like a magazine section of a daily paper with all kinds of articles including one titled, "Nejen pro Texasany" showing a picture which was probably of an American with a flag in his hat! Another magazine was "Pratticka Zena" or practical woman, containing articles on clothing, especially sweaters and knitted tops, and included the directions for making them.

"Zena Moda" was the fourth magazine with fashions and even the patterns for doing some of them.

We made our presentation on the Paris News column, "People and Places", an interesting experience because it is necessary to make one statement at a time so the interpreter can get it into Russian. They seemed to enjoy the pictures of Paris which to them is a very small town.

The evening was delightful with a trip to a Mozart concert in the Villa Bortramka where Mozart lived while composing Don Giovanni, which was presented by professional actors singing in German.

The second day included a visit to Charles University Department of Journalism where results of the 1989 "change" were very evident. We noted a stack of books, papers and materials in the court yard, and they said these were the communist teaching materials which were discarded after the change. The only textbooks they were using had been sent to them by universities and colleges in the European countries, and their only desire was to have this kind of help for their future.

A visit to the Czechoslovak TV Station in the afternoon was something to remember, for we were allowed to take pictures, never done before the change, and to ask many questions.

Obituaries

Agnes Aaron

Funeral services for Mrs. Agnes Aaron will be held at 2:00 p.m. Thursday, September 3 in the First United Methodist Church in Matador. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery in Wellington. Mrs. Aaron died Monday morning in Amarillo. A complete obituary will be printed in next week's paper.

Katherine Williams

Katherine "Kathy" Williams, 73, of 1702 S. Roosevelt St., died Saturday, August 29, 1992.

Services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Bell Avenue Chapel of Schooler-Gordon Blackburn-Shaw Funeral Directors with the Rev. Raymond Dyess, a retired Methodist pastor, officiating. Burial was at 1 p.m. Tuesday in Memorial Park Cemetery in Plainview.

Mrs. Williams, born in Wolfe City, moved from Matador to Quitaque and then to Amarillo 16 years ago. She was a homemaker and a Methodist. She was preceded in death by her husband, the Rev. Woody Williams, in 1971, who was a former pastor of the Matador Methodist Church, and a son, John Elliott Williams, in 1988.

Survivors include two daughters, Ann Miller Bernard of Canyon and Jeannie Varnell of Portales, N.M.; four sons, Don Williams of Midland, Bob Williams of Livingston and David Williams and Terry Williams, both of Amarillo; a sister, Maurine Moon of Brownwood; 18 grandchildren; and 11 great-grandchildren.

Thank You

I want to thank everyone for the food, calls, gifts, flowers and prayers during and after my surgery.

Rex Carson

We wish to express our sincere thanks for the many forms of help, love, and concern that has been given to us since Frank's stroke and before. We appreciate your prayers. May God bless you.
