Candidate Visits Local Relative

Ennis Moss of Roaring Springs visited Tuesday afternoon, when he was accompanied by his cousin Joe S. Moss of Texas, who is a candidate for Associate Justice, Court of Criminal Appeals, seventh Supreme Judicial District, Amarillo.

The Court of Criminal Appeals of the Seventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas holds sessions open to the public in Amarillo, and is composed of one Chief Justice and two Associate Justices elected by the people. The court decides appeals in civil cases tried in the courts of 46 Panhandle and North Plains counties.

Being in politics himself the local mayor of Roaring Springs made a whirlwind tour of the area with his cousin, impressive and well-planned.

A Tribune representative made satisfactory arrangements for an introduction and will be advertising for cousin Joe in his campaign to the Roaring Springs mayor. Since no limit is set on the size of space, the Tribune expects to remove some of the red figures from its bank statement before the primary.

Altho E. E. Moss is a highly successful inventor, gin manager and elevator operator, in addition to his office of Roaring Springs mayor, he is interested in his cousin's campaign and solicits his support in Motley and neighboring counties.

Private reports to the Tribune from Post, where Joe Moss practices law, vouch for him as an earnest and sterling character of outstanding ability. Besides Ennis Moss' cousin.

City Water Crisis Eases, Area Burns

Despite one of the most severe "heat spells" in West Texas' history, city of Matador water crisis has been relieved through the cooperation of water customers.

Last week water customers were using more water than city wells could pump and an appeal was made to users to alternate watering of flowers, gardens and lawns as follows:

Homes facing south and west use water on even calendar days. Do not water on uneven days. Homes facing north and east to use water on uneven calendar days. Do not water on even days.

Purpose of the plan was to break the peak load of water consumption and retain sufficient reserve to take care of fire or other emergency.

"I wish personally to thank the citizens for their cooperation," Mayor Meador declared yesterday. "I have checked with the Water Superintendent Lee Burns' department, and he assures me that the response has been unanimous. He said the water reserve is ample despite the unusual demands and that water patrons are observing the request. While a certain emergency situation must continue to exist as long as the drought continues, we feel that Matador is assured an adequate supply of water. City officials wish to thank water-users for their cooperation, and ask for continued observance of the plan while heat and drought plague the area."

five days, and according to Amarillo weather observers, the "heat spell" is exceeded by only one other instance. In 1924 the mercury registered 100 degrees and over for eight days.

Accompanying the excessive heat has been continued hot winds out of the southwest which may develop into a crisis with regard to the crop outlook.

"We are gathered here today to pay tribute to these outstanding former brothers, whose influence is still felt by those of us who are left behind," Meador declared, as he related the story of the old man who built a bridge for the benefit of future generations. "By their lives and examples they set, we might say that they were building bridges to make our own pathways easier to travel... I am proud today that I am a member of this great organization, which has had as members, such outstanding men as these whom we are honoring today."

Bill Wason served as Master of Ceremonies of the program which included a song by the Martin Trio (Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Martin and their son, Don), accompanied at the piano by Mrs. W. T. Gwinn. Mass Meeting Held In Effort To Stem Threat Of Liquor

A NEW county organization, United Motley County Drys, was formed in Matador last night. It was formed on the motion by Rev. Bob Jameson, pioneer Methodist pastor at a mass meeting held in the District Court room here, in a concentrated effort to stem the threat of the county's return to a wet status following a local option election called for July 5th.

The election was called by the Commissioners' Court after a petition bearing almost 100 names of church members, who fear an appealed liquor violation case may prove a local option election held in 1893 is invalid because of irregularities.

G. E. Hamilton, pioneer attorney of Motley county was named permanent chairman of the United Motley County Drys, which organized last night. County Attorney Howard Tra-week was named secretary-treasurer and Rev. Marvin Brotherton was named as vice chairman. The election was unanimous and without opposition.

Dry Leader Is Speaker

Rev. O. Ray Miller, Baptist pastor of Amarillo and principal representative of the United Texas Drys, was the principal speaker at last night's meeting. He cited the great increase in alcoholism, which he said amounted to 300,000,000, and cost the state $240,000,000.

"The church people are sufficiently strong to abolish liquor from Texas if they would go to the polls and vote," Rev. Miller declared. He said in one north Texas wet-dry election that more people held membership in the Baptist church of the town, than troubled to go to the polls and vote.

Rev. Miller admitted that in many city churches where he "preaches", the pastor dares not announce his talk in advance lest half of the regular congregation fail to attend the service.

Following the address, collection was requested from the group and a substantial amount received. Half of the collection will remain for the use of the county's permanent dry organization and half will go to the United Texas Drys.

13 HIROSHIMAS!

When the white-hot glare over Hiroshima faded away, the world trembled at the thought—one blast, 78,150 lives!

Yet since the turn of the century one million lives have been wiped out on the highways of our country. It would take the death-dealing power of thirteen Hiroshimas to equal that slaughter. All the American military deaths since Lexington, after 176 years, just equaled at the end of 1951 the toll of automobile deaths since 1900.

And death continues to ride the highways at an increasingly alarming rate. 35,000 killed in 1950! 300,000 in the ten years since Pearl Harbor! Last year more than 100 lives sacrificed to speed and carelessness every day! 5,000 injured every day!

You ask: What can I do about it?

You and 60,000,000 other drivers can do everything about it. You can be a safe driver alert to danger, sensitive to the killing power of speed. You can be a courteous driver considerate of other drivers and pedestrians.

Your contribution toward reducing this wanton waste of life on the highways, this calamitous toll of injuries and destruction of property, is your own effort to drive and walk safely and the common sense you use behind the wheel.

Mementoes of a press convention: Eight plastic plates and a plastic cup from Dow Chemical Co.; one pair of hose decorated with a clock-map of Texas, (black with a rhinestone center), courtesy of Aircraft Hosiery Mills; sunburn from Galveston's beaches; somebody else's hat retrieved by Mr. M., in lieu of his own which he left on a different bus from the one we rode back to town on from the Jackson Lake barbecue; a berth-mark on our own forehead, from banging our head on the upper berth of our compartment when the train gave a sudden lurch; also coffee stains on our dress caused by ditto reasons, as we tried to eat in the diner.

Although not a native Texan, we were properly impressed by the San Jacinto monument, located on the San Jacinto battlefield which played such an important part in the history of the Lone Star State. The shaft is 570 feet high, or 5 feet higher than the Washington monument. However, according to Texans visiting in the east, it isn't safe to point out this fact. It causes a very strained inter-state relationship.

The Battleship Texas is anchored near the Monument, and we felt duly appreciative of the many seamen who swabbed its decks, and for the part it played in the wars for peace.

This tour, which included a wonderful seafood dinner at San Jacinto Inn, was hosted by the Humble Oil and Refining Co., who conveyed the conventioners in chartered air-conditioned buses.

As Mr. M. points out, you can't get away from Baptists—we're everywhere. One of the most entertaining speakers at the convention was A. C. Wimpee, educational director of the First Baptist Church, Brownwood, who was luncheon speaker Saturday. His subject was "Seeing Eye Dog and A Press Man." His talk was spiked with humor and sparked with sobriety.

In the hotel coffee shop, a look of perplexity was on the face of a little colored maid as she polished a glass and watched another dark-skinned girl on the opposite side of the counter, who was being served as a customer. From the conversation in which she was engaged with an Anglo Saxon, one learned that she was a native of Argentina.

preached. After tea he was sitting in the garden with his hostess. Out rushed her little boy, holding a rat above his head. "Don't be afraid mother," he cried. "It's dead. We beat him and bashed him and thumped him until"—and then catching sight of the clergyman he said, in a lower voice—"until God called him home." (Duluth Publicity).

Recent mail brought us a unique message from a department store in Big D. It said, "A man I know keeps two books... a little blue book and a little white book. In the blue book, he keeps the names of all the business people who have served discourteously during the year. In the white book, he keeps the names of those who have done the little courteous personal things that come from a sincere interest, those extras that are not part of a purchase... I have a hunch that many people are keeping mental books just like these. And because you have not availed yourself of your charge account in several months, is our name in your little blue book?"

We hope Mr. M. will appreciate the fact that there was one charge account we didn't use last month.

Whitey Sure "Rang the Bell"

Telephone woke me out of a sound sleep last Friday about eleven-thirty. "This is Whitey Fisher out on River Road," says a voice. "I just wanted to tell you how much I like this week's Clarion."

"Thanks, Whitey," I told him. "But why in blazes call to tell me at this time of night?" "Simple," he says, "your paper boy just delivered it a short while ago. Been waiting for it all evening."

Next day, Buzzy Wilson tells me he delivered Whitey's paper late because he stayed for the school dance and thought it would be OK to drop it off on his way home. From where I sit, I can't blame Whitey for his joke. He was just reminding me we owe other people the same respect we expect from them. Since I'm always talking about respecting the other fellow's rights—including his right to enjoy a glass of beer if he chooses, it was only fair that Whitey should "wake me up" to his right to get his copy of the Clarion on time. Thanks again, Whitey!

Electric Cooking Keeps Her Kitchen Cool and Clean!

When summer temperatures soar—electric cooking can help keep your kitchen a cool, clean, pleasant place to work. Controlled electric heat goes directly into the food, not into the room—the oven, insulated on all six sides, cooks the food and not the cook. And there's no foot, smoke or fumes to smudge walls, pots and pans because only an electric range cooks with clean "sealed" heat that leaves no residue of any kind in your kitchen.

Clarendon Annual Barbecue To Attract 16 Bees

The Clarendon Outdoor Entertainment Association, sponsors of the Annual Clarendon Fourth Celebration, are putting the final touches on what already proves to be the biggest celebration in Clarendon's history.

Teachers have already doled out 16 bees for the annual free barbecue to be held on the courthouse lawn at 10 o'clock on the Fourth, stated E. Faulkner, Secretary of the association. "This amount of hospitality will allow our guests to be enjoyed by more than the thousand people who ate here last year, people who come as far away as Washington," Faulkner added.

This year's celebration is scheduled for three days, July 3rd, 4th and 5th, instead of the customary two days. Featured performances will be the rodeo on the night of July 3rd, the afternoon and night of July 4th and the night of July 5th. Cowboys from the surrounding ranches and the top performers from the amateur circuit will vie for prize money totaling more than $2,000.00 in addition to shop made saddles and boots.

Other attractions for the three day celebration will include, besides the free barbecue and rodeo performances, a western parade on the afternoon of the Fourth and matched horse races on the afternoon of the fifth. Western dances each night at the air-conditioned American Legion Hall will feature the western music of Emmett Allen and His Sunset Ramblers.

Highlighting the attractions on the Fourth will be an Old Settlers get-together for persons who have resided in Donley County for twenty-five or more years and for former residents of the county of twenty-five or more years ago.

Model for model—costs less

Stack up a Chevrolet truck against any other truck with comparable specifications, capable of handling the same payloads. You'll find the Chevrolet truck lists for less and brings you great features.

Mile after mile at rock bottom cost

Truck users everywhere have proved that Chevrolet costs the least of all to own and maintain. Valve-in-Head economy, in the Loadmaster or Thriftmaster engines, saves on gas.

Right truck for the job saves money

Chevrolet trucks are factory-matched to your payload requirements. You don't waste money by buying "too much truck"—you don't risk work interruption by buying "too little truck."

Lower, slower depreciation

Records show that Chevrolet trucks traditionally bring more at resale than any other make which costs about the same new. The market value of Chevrolet trucks stays up because the value stays in.

Ice Cream Plus Fruit Tops In Refreshment

This time of year, heavy desserts don't do the trick. Tangy flavor and cool foods are in order, and they're easy to achieve, too, if you use whatever fruit is most plentiful in your local markets, as the topping for pre-packaged ice cream.

An elegant dessert for eight, this appetizing buffet platter is simple to arrange and serve, and simpler still to provide, since it means only buying two pints of pre-packaged ice cream when you do your market-buying, keeping them in the handy paraffined cartons in the freezing compartment of your refrigerator until you're ready to put them on the table with their time-saving loadings of sliced fruit, melon balls and berries.

Floydada Theatre Bills "Prince of Peace" For Week-End; Is Story of Lawton Pageant

Story of the Lawton, Okla. Easter pageant, "Prince of Peace" will be shown at the Palace Theatre in Floydada, during this week-end, according to an announcement by the manager. The picture is scheduled for Sunday, June 29, matinee at 2 p. m. and night at 7:45, and on Monday night, June 30.

One of the most unusual and definitely one of the most worthwhile movies released in recent years, the Lawton Story of "The Prince of Peace" is actually two stories in one. The picture is based on the life of the famous Little Minister, Rev. A. Mark Wallock of Lawton, Okla., and his world-famous Easter pageant which has become America's greatest Passion Play.

A full year in filming, the producers have tried the impossible and accomplished the unusual by casting professional Hollywood actors and actresses into certain of the story's roles and surrounding them with a cast of more than 3,000 strict amateurs—citizens of Lawton, Okla.—who handle the biblical roles with sheer perfection and amazing sincerity.

"The Prince of Peace" is top screen fare for Christian people—men, women and children who believe in God and who want to learn more of the story of Jesus Christ. It incorporates 53 tableaux from the New Testament, and its reverence, simplicity and faithful portrayal of the life of Christ makes it indeed a thing of beauty and a picture of great significance.

through a thickly wooded area, was fired upon by the enemy from point blank range, pinning down the forward elements of the platoon.

"He, with utter disregard for his personal safety, quickly moved forward, exposing himself to direct automatic weapon and small arms fire, contacted his platoon and then employed his platoon so aggressively and effectively that a numerically superior enemy force was driven from his position. While the platoon was reorganizing, the enemy counter-attacked fiercely and in force, from the front to the left flank. Lt. Mitchell led his men in a hand to hand struggle against the enemy, repulsing the counter-attack.

"He then organized and led a group of volunteers through the enemy lines in the growing darkness, to rescue wounded marines. In order to protect his litter bearers, altho suffering painfully from multiple wounds, he courageously and aggressively charged enemy lines in hand to hand combat until mortally wounded. By this sacrifice First Lt. Mitchell saved the lives of four wounded Marines. His outstanding heroism was in keeping with the highest traditions of the U. S. Naval Service, and he is awarded the highest award of the government."

Lt. Mitchell was killed in territory still held by the enemy, his mother this week told a Tribune reporter. She said she received her information from Marine chaplain who witnessed the action. Mrs. Mitchell declared that no information is available that her son received burial in the hands of the enemy.

Receives Many Awards

That Lt. Mitchell deserves the rank as one of the nation's outstanding heroes, is further testified by his many awards as listed in a letter to his mother from J. F. Blakeney of the decorations and medals branch, by direction of the Commandant of the Marine Corps. In addition to the Medal of Honor and Silver Star medal, excerpts of the letter follow: "Your son was also post-humously awarded the Bronze Star medal for his service in Korea from September 24 to October 4, 1950.

"Your son's service in the Marine Corps has been further recognized by the award of the Purple Heart with Gold Star in lieu of a second Purple Heart and certificate; copies of the Presidential Unit Citation with ribbon bar and two bronze stars awarded the U. S. Enterprise for service during World War II and the First Marine Division for service in Korea; the Good Conduct Medal and one bar (second award bar) for his service 1939-1942 and 1942-1945, respectively; the American Defense Service medal with fleet clasp for service while a member of the Marine detachment aboard the USS Enterprise during the emergency; the American Campaign medal indicative of at least one year's service in the United States during World War II; the Asiatic-Pacific campaign medal for service in the Asiatic-Pacific area; the Victory Medal World War II, the China service medal for service in China 1946-1947; the Korean Service Medal with two bronze stars and the United Nations Service Medal.

Albert Rattan thought the programs "very good", and expressed the hope that more people would attend the remaining meetings.

Mrs. Douglas E. Pitts, jr., stated that she was very glad she had attended and hoped that she would be able to apply some of the worthwhile principles discussed.

Rev. Keith McCormick said he believed the programs were "getting at one of the basic problems of America; the laxity and disintegration of the American home. I feel that any person interested in the home and our country should find the discussions beneficial."

The next unit in the series will be on the subject of "Family Feuds" and is being planned for Wednesday night, July 2, at the Methodist Church, a nursery, with adult supervision, is maintained during each meeting.
