Arrested during a moment of innocent laughter the heart trembles in its prison of moving shadows and whispered sounds, afraid to lunge against the crystal chains of love; afraid the door to ecstasy is unbolting.

When the average citizen is aware of money in a considerable amount, he assumes it is his, flowing perhaps a little sluggishly in the process of collection.

Liquor brings equality to its followers and there is no aristocracy among drunkards; the gutter has only one level.

Fragile clouds were stacked on long windrows across the field of twilight and the fragrance of rain, sweet and mysterious, rose out of the valleys. Laughter from the lips of children at play braced the languid wind, like fragments of music hurrying to a rendezvous with silence. It was a splendid hour, furnished by passing of eons, with creation pausing to admire the achievements selected to remain eternal.

Youthful circumstances influenced my membership into the vegetarian cult with but slight resistance. In fact the experience later affected my political affiliation. I still enjoy black-eyed peas, corn bread and wild plum cobbler, but my preference for bag jowl in the peas and sugar in the cobbler swayed me to the Democrats.

A great amount of importance can be placed on some people without the slightest complaint from the weight.

A friend of mine who is trying desperately to find a job for his wife so he can devote full time to loafing, says there are only two kinds of people; the caught and the uncaught.

Definition of television in "Texas Outlook": A device for the convenience of people who have nothing to do, that they may watch people who can do nothing.

As a rule a man who replaces an over all suspender button with a nail is not clothes conscious. He is either so busy he can't spare the time for his wife to sew on another button, or he has only one pair of overalls.

FARMERS HURRY WITH PLANTING

Almost every piece of farm power equipment in Motley county has been in operation on a 14-16-hour basis during the past week in an effort to get long-neglected fields planted in row crops.

As soon as fields were dry enough to plow following the rains, the battle against time began. Many thousands of acres of combine milo, cane and sudan grass have been planted and fields in some areas are up to a good stand.

Both farmers and ranchers declare rainfall is needed again to help the young crop develop rapidly, and to keep the young grass growing.

Continued dry weather during the past week has taken a heavy toll of the precious moisture and weeded fields in some sections are almost too dry to plant.

Mrs. Tanner Succumbs To Attack

Matador was shocked late Monday when word spread that Mrs. Ben A. Tanner, 47, had died in Trawick Hospital only 15 minutes after suffering a heart attack in Tanner's office, which she and Mr. Tanner owned and operated.

Mrs. Tanner was rushed to the hospital in a Eudy-Seale ambulance and rallied slightly on arrival, but died within 15 minutes from a second stroke.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2 p. m. in the First Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Tanner was a member. The pastor, Rev. Bruce Oliver, officiated, assisted by Rev. L. W. Baker, Methodist pastor formerly of Flomot, now of Vigo Park, Phoenix.

Pallbearers were: Bill McCaughren of Matador and C. B. Jones, Tom Spears, Bill Morris, Harley Gunn and Tom Bynum, of Flomot.

Eudy-Seale Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements, and interment was made in Flomot Memorial Park, at Flomot.

Mrs. Tanner was born Olive Ashcraft, October 14, 1905, in Arkansas, and died at Matador, Texas, July 27, 1953, age 47 years, 9 months, 13 days. At an early age her parents moved to Ronger, Texas, where she was reared. She was married at 16, to Ben A. Tanner, May 16, 1925 and they moved shortly afterwards to the Flomot community where they had made their home until about a year ago, when they returned here to enter the cafe business.

Having no children of their own, the Tanners adopted two small girls several years ago, who had been left motherless at the death of their parents. Mrs. Tanner's friendly personality and devotion to her family won the esteem and friendship of all who knew her.

Survivors are her husband, Ben A. Tanner, two daughters, Ray Nell and Bengie Beth; one brother, Oran Ashcraft, of Baltimore, Md., and a half-sister, Mrs. Bessie Thomason of Moran, Texas.

RECENT VISITORS IN V. A. RATTAN HOME

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Rattan were two daughters-in-law and children, Mrs. Lawrence Rattan and Luella of Amarillo and Mrs. Truett Rattan and Yvonne of Levelland; and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Mullins and children, Carl and Shirley of Ennis, who have been visiting in Amarillo with their daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Burns. Mrs. Burns and baby daughter accompanied the group here also. Mr. and Mrs. Mullins and family then accompanied their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Mullins and children on their return to Dallas Friday after a visit here with the Rattans, who are parents of Mrs. Lewis Mullins.

RELIGIOUS SANCTUARY for over two thousand girls last week was Plains Baptist Assembly in Blanco Canyon near Floydada, where encampment was held for junior-age girls from Monday until Wednesday and for intermediate girls from Wednesday until Friday. A similar number of boys attended camps the previous week. In the center of the picture is a concessions stand, very popular during recreation hours; at the right are the dining halls and far right is the tabernacle where religious services are held. In the building between these two, are located the offices and first-aid room. Scattered about through the trees are cabins and campsites of the various churches in District 9. It is estimated that over half of the 183 Baptist churches in the district, now own cabins. The Matador and Flomot churches this spring erected cabins and had them ready to occupy during the encampments. Fifty-eight boys and girls, accompanied by 18 sponsors, from four Motley County churches attended during the two weeks.

Mrs. Deward Reeves

She is survived by her husband; two small children, Peggy and Deward; her mother, Mrs. Kitty Harris, and a young half-sister, all of Phoenix; a brother, Burlan Hart Harris, in the U. S. Navy and her grandmother, Mrs. C. Cartwright of Matador.

Sheriff Spots Phony in Claim of Holdup

Sheriff John Stotts is pretty apt to spot a phony. Last week (Monday night) a Lockney trucker reported to Sheriff Stotts that he had been held up and robbed of $480 on the highway south of Roaring Springs.

The man said he was enroute home from Ballinger where he had delivered a load of hay. He said he was stopped by a car on the bridge that blocked his passage.

He told the sheriff two men were fighting and a woman companion asked him to aid her in stopping the fight.

He said the woman then drew a gun and was joined by the men who took his money. He gave a description of the holdup car as a red Mercury about 1953 model.

Sheriff Stotts told a Tribune reporter about the incident last week but added, "I don't believe the man was held up."

Finally on threat of being taken to Austin for a lie detector test, the man admitted he had not been held up but that he had lost $300 in a "crap" game and was afraid his banker would not grant him another loan, so he invented the holdup story.

Sheriff Stotts said the man was released since he had only lied in an effort to conceal the money loss.

Slaughter is Stopped in "Never Declared War"

A STRANGE, "never declared" war has apparently ended in blood-soaked Korea with the signing Monday of an armistice. Few believe the pact brings any assurance of lasting peace, but the people of most nations throughout the world are grateful that the slaughter has halted. Under terms of the truce agreement the Communists will free 3,313 American captives, one of the great objectives of the long-delayed armistice.

War correspondents declare that from a military standpoint the war ended as a draw. It lasted more than three years, cost tens of thousands of lives and billions of dollars, yet two of those three years neither side tried seriously to win the struggle.

During the first year when virtually all the significant fighting took place, both sides were on the verge of victory at different times and both sides saw victory snatched from away at the last minute.

DOCUMENT SIGNED WITHOUT EMOTION

PANMUNJOM (Monday)—United Nations command and Communist senior truce delegates signed the long-awaited Korean armistice in a crisp 10-minute ceremony Monday, halting three years and one month of undeclared war.

Scheduled for 10 a. m. (7 p. m. Sunday, Texas time) the signing began at 10:01 a. m. and was over at 10:11 a. m. All shooting along the 155-mile front stopped twelve hours from the time of the signing at Panmunjom.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, Jr. signed for the U. N. command. North Korean Gen. Nam Il signed for the North Koreans and Chinese Communists.

The signing went like clockwork, in contrast with more than two years of bitter debate that led up to it.

Minutes after the historic document was signed and blotted, an authoritative source announced that the Communists had promised to return 3,500 American prisoners of war in a POW exchange to begin a week or less.

The Republic of Korea, which opposes a truce that leaves Korea divided with Chinese Red troops in the north, was not represented at the signing. The armistice was signed in a pagoda-like structure hastily built by the Communists in this wide place in the road near the thirty-eight parallel.

It was that historic parallel which the North Korean Communist army crossed at dawn on June 25, 1950, in a surprise assault aimed at unifying Korea by force under the Red flag.

When the representatives of the warring sides entered the building the eighteen copies of the truce document were placed on an empty table in the middle of the one large room.

General Harrison signed in a businesslike manner, with Col. J. C. Murray, veteran U. N. command liaison officer, handing him the drafts.

General Nam and Harrison signed at the same time, alternating the documents.

Each chief delegate used only one pen on each document. Neither showed any emotion.

Texas Drivers Killed 2,498, Injured 12,968 In '52, Safety Dept. Reports

AUSTIN, July 25—Texas motorists in 1952 killed 2,498 persons, injured another 12,968, and damaged up nearly 500,000 motor vehicles and caused an economic loss of $154,000,000.

These staggering totals were reported Saturday by the Department of Public Safety in its annual review of traffic accidents.

There was plenty of room for optimism on the traffic front. There were fewer fatalities than in 1951, and the death rate per mile traveled dropped to its lowest point on record.

Cars trucks and other vehicles traveled 33,000,000 miles over the state's highways and streets during the year. The death rate was one 1,000,000 miles was driven, compared with 7.8 the previous year and 14.6 in 1937.

N. K. Woerner, chief statistician for the department, pointed out that the 1952 death toll would have been 5,176, not 2,498, if the 1937 rate had remained static.

Woerner has coined a new word, "motoricide," in connection with traffic deaths. He gave it this definition: "The killing of another human being by one's self through the operation of a motor vehicle—usually the result of negligence or carelessness."

But he made it plain that motoricide is actually a combination of two older words, suicide and homicide. In a lot of traffic cases the difference is purely academic.

Why the decrease in cases of motoricide last year? Woerner said the answer lies in better enforcement of traffic regulations, the building of better highways, better use of traffic control devices, better education of drivers and pedestrians in the use of vehicles and a greater display of courtesy.

As the years go by, these factors have tended to counteract the great increase in automobiles and mileage.

But Woerner and other safety officials lament the fact that motoricide is a public enemy that still goes relatively unnoticed.

The safety department review declares:

"Should a tornado strike one of our communities over a week end, kill a score of people and do thousands of dollars damage to property, the entire resources of the nation would be called upon to attempt to relieve the misery and suffering—the cause of which mortal man can do nothing about.

"Yet, almost every week-end, in Texas alone, from 20 to 30 persons lose their lives in traffic accidents—caused by man himself—and but a few are concerned or even alarmed.

"Should six persons become afflicted with polio in one of our communities during an entire year the public would demand that something be done, and should that number of cases appear in a single month, the schools would be closed and public gatherings prohibited.

"Yet, every day in Texas, on an average, there are seven persons killed and buried—not merely confined to a bed—because of motoricide."

The department pointed out that the causes for traffic deaths remain virtually the same year in and year out. For example, one-half of the rural accidents last year involved the consumption of alcohol on the part of one or more drivers.

More than one-third of the pedestrians killed had been drinking at the time of their death. State police reports are liberally sprinkled with the sentence, "A pedestrian walking along the highway suddenly staggered into the path of a car."

The only solution to the problem, the report states, "is quick apprehension and certainty of punishment."

The annual review brought out these other highlights of 1952's traffic toll:

A person was killed every three hours and 30 minutes, and one was injured every four and two-thirds minutes.

Almost one half of the vehicles involved were 2 years old or less and nearly half the drivers were craftsmen, laborers or commercial drivers.

One-third of the drivers were in their 20's and 60 per cent of the rural pedestrians killed were over 25.

Forty per cent of the rural deaths occurred on week-ends; of these, 53 per cent occurred at night and the favorite hour was between 7 and 8 p. m.

The department's tabulations do not include 128 motoricide victims who died on private property, including 31 children under 5 who were killed in driveways by cars backing out.

Tribune, Matador, Matley County, Texas, Thursday, July 30, 1953

Mrs. Jim Dobbins is in Lubbock this week on business.

B. F. Simpson visited in Mineral Wells over the week-end.

Patsy Timmons and N. L. Cook returned home from harvest, Thursday.

THE DRAFT LAW Rules And Regulations

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the seventh of a series of articles on the draft law, its rules and regulations. The series will follow in subsequent issues of the Tribune.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Holliman and family visited in Dumas over the week-end with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Vaughn and daughter of Durant, Okla., visited last week with his mother, Mrs. N. B. Vaughn and brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Vaughn.

Mrs. C. M. Martin and children visited Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Martin in Childress last week.

When a man is classified by the draft board, that classification is not permanent. It may be changed when the man's status changes.

Each classified man and each person who has filed a request for the man's deferment must report to the local board in writing any fact that might result in the man's being placed in a different classification. This must be done within 10 days after the change occurs.

Employers may be required to furnish information under the law, and police officials or other agencies may be requested to make investigations.

The local board may reopen and consider a new classification of a man (1) upon his written request, (2) written request of a person who claims to be his dependent, or (3) any person who has on file a written request for the man's occupational deferment. This can be done, provided such request for reopening is accompanied by written facts not considered when the man was first classified, which, if true, would justify a change in his classification.

Draft regulations say that the "classification of a registrant shall not be reopened after the local board has mailed to such registrant an order to report for induction, unless the local board first specifically finds there has been a change in the registrant's status resulting from circumstances over which the registrant had no control."

Brig. Gen. Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, points to two things which might happen to a man beyond his control: (1) a serious accident, or (2) death of his father, resulting in his becoming head of the family.

The local board must always reopen a case at either the request of the national or state director of Selective Service and must cancel any order to report for induction, if that is involved in the case.

Why FORD'S your best buy!

"WORTH MORE" IS THE ANSWER... IT COSTS SO LITTLE TO BUY... SO LITTLE TO RUN... AND HAS SUCH HIGH RESALE VALUE!

The best buy in an automobile usually means the amount of pleasure and satisfaction the owner gets from his original investment, plus low day-to-day running costs, plus the amount of value he recovers when he sells his car.

Mileage Maker Six? Maybe it's the easy way the car handles with Fordomatic Drive, or Ford's Master-Guide power steering! Perhaps it's Ford's suspended pedals, or Center-Fill Fueling or Full-Circle Visibility!

What is it that makes Ford your best buy? Is it the fine styling and craftsmanship of its Crestmark Body... or its new "ride" with curve-hugging and bump-leveling qualities never before known in low-priced cars? Or is it Ford's famous V-8 or Actually, it's not just any one or two of these fine things that make Ford your best buy. It's all of Ford's "Worth More" features combined... features which make Ford worth more when you buy it... and worth more when you sell it!

"Best buy" where you ride! Ford's foam-rubber cushioned seats, front and rear, are sofa-wide and sofa-soft. Interior fabrics, color-keyed to Ford's smart outside colors, would be a credit to any car at any price.

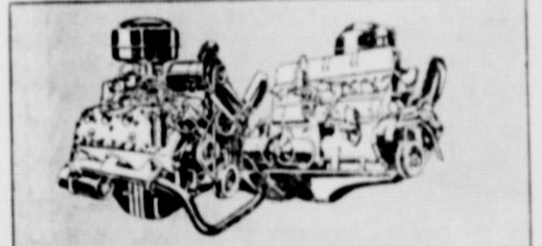

"Best buy" where you drive! Ford's suspended pedals operate more easily... eliminate dusty, drafty floor holes. And Ford drivers have a choice of Fordomatic Drive, Overdrive or Conventional transmission.

"Best buy" at the gas pumps! When you need to "fill 'er up", you do it the modern Ford way with Center-Fill Fueling. And Ford's Automatic Power Pilot gives you power to spare on a lean diet of regular gas.

"Best buy" on the road! The roughest the road the better your Ford likes it because Ford's new "ride" cuts front-end road shock alone up to 80%... babies you over the lumps... and cuts sidesway on turns.

"Best buy" in engine power! Only Ford in its field offers you a choice of V-8 or Six. Ford has built more V-8's—over 13,000,000—than all other makers combined. And Ford's Six—the most modern in the industry—with Overdrive, won the Mobilgas Economy Run Grand Sweepstakes!

"Best buy" in power steering! Ford's Master-Guide (available on all V-8 models) supplies hydraulic "muscles"—automatically whenever you need them—to do the work of steering for you. All you do is guide the car. Makes all driving easier, and safer. And parking's so easy!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

It's Fine To Be Fooled - Sometimes

Handy Peters entertained for the ladies of the Auxiliary the other night—and had the ladies believing for a while that he's the best marksmen ever.

Handy put on a great act. He set up a whole bunch of balloons on a muslin backdrop and then took out his pea-shooter. He shot blindfolded, standing on his head, every which way—and broke a balloon every time!

No wonder Handy impressed the ladies. What they didn't know—till the show's end—was that Buck Mulligan was hiding behind the backdrop improving on Handy's aim with a hatpin.

From where I sit, we all get things "put over" on us now and again. When it's good-natured—fine! But, some folks would like to fool the rest of us into believing it's wrong to enjoy an occasional glass of beer—just because they prefer something else. For real American tolerance and neighborliness these people are simply "off target."

Polio On Decrease But Still Menace

Polio isn't running wild in Texas this summer as it did in '52, but it is still smart to play safe with the kids. State Health Officer George W. Cox will tell you.

There are several common sense items parents ought to keep in mind during the polio "season." Dr. Cox lists them like this:

Don't get panicky. Keep in mind that half of all polio victims recover completely, and 30 percent of the other half recover with only slight weakness. Only 14 percent have lasting paralysis. Realize that gamma globulin is not a cure for polio. There is no cure. GG is intended only as a temporary preventive against paralysis. At best it is effective only for 5 weeks, after which it has all been eliminated by the body.

Gamma globulin has been tested on more than 54,000 children and the results are now under study, but once the polio virus has reached the nerve cells, GG cannot alter the course of the disease.

You can find out whether or not your child is eligible to receive gamma globulin by asking the health officer in your county. He is familiar with the formula for GG distribution in effect in Texas.

Meanwhile, don't isolate your youngsters when you hear of a case of polio in the community. There is no point in letting them contact strangers, but they ought to be allowed in their usual circle of friends.

Keep them clean and see that they rest in the afternoon. A nap is fine, but even playing quietly part of the day will help conserve their strength.

Last, but highly important, call your doctor at the first onset of any of these signs: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back. The earlier a case of polio is diagnosed, the better are the chances for recovery without lasting damage.

Great strides are being made toward the development of a vaccine, but until it is finally developed Dr. Cox believes that opinion is still valid:

"A high level of environmental sanitation and personal hygiene is the individual's best defense against polio."

Mrs. W. W. Bain visited in Northfield the past week with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Bain.

For two straight years, while negotiators talked, soldiers fought a stalemate trench war, often bloody, almost always futile and frustrating. End of the war was delayed by the dramatic release of 27,000 anti-Communist prisoners by Republic of Korea President Syngman Rhee.

As punishment of the South Koreans for this act, the Chinese Communists hurled an army of 100,000 men in a great offensive down the Kumsong bulge in the closing days of the war.

The UN command saw it as a war fought with far too few men and not quite enough of anything to make the victory stick. From the Communist side it was a war wrought with a wealth of manpower, but never enough guns, supplies and most important, airplanes to translate the manpower superiority into victory. The fighting began on the morning of June 25, 1950, at 5 o'clock.

From the day it began until July 5, 1950, it was primarily a civil war with the Communists of North Korea fighting the poorly armed and confused soldiers of the Republic of South Korea.

On July 5, "Task Force Smith" a scattering of infantrymen and artillerymen of the US 24th Division under the command of Lt. Col. Charles B. Smith, made it a war belonging to the world.

Near the Korean town of Osan, the soldiers of Task Force Smith met the Communist invasion of South Korea with bullets and blood. The war in Korea continued up and down the peninsula from then on, involving soldiers and mercy teams of 21 countries.
