TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The expansive outlook on life from the inside of a wrap around windshield may become stretched and extremely narrow when work and responsibility are involved. Self esteem does not produce an executive-type man except by the same qualification that reading a medical book will produce a physician. There must be an investment of time, study and experience before dividends are justified.

Writers are told that all the basic plots have been used almost since the beginning of the recorded word. Late TV movies certainly leave no room for doubt in the statement.

The wind was singing and dancing in spasms of ecstasy across the autumn skies when jagged winter clouds spread chill, like broken glass on a ball room floor.

The hills, the valleys and the plains are empty now. The herds of bawling cattle are gone, and the cowboys that gathered, branded and drove them are gone. There is a melancholy emptiness from the high divide with its stock-pile of distance. The sea of grass laps the keels of phantom, forgotten ships.

It may be a coincidence but the newspapers have ceased publishing articles about crime schools conducted by gangsters since television programs have extended the scope of juvenile education.

Mavericks Crush Quitaque by 30-8

Matador Mavericks rolled past Quitaque by a 30-8 score Thursday night in a game played here.

The win kept them undefeated with a 40-0 mark. Quarterback Johnny Hughes raced 38 yards around left end in the first quarter for the first score. Fullback Tommy Moore scored the extra points.

Moore hit off right tackle and went 35 yards for the next score also in the first quarter. Halfback Joey Meador scored the extra points for a 16-0 lead.

The Mavericks sandwiched two third quarter tallies around Quitaque's only score to wrap up the ball game. Moore took the second half kickoff and returned it 70 yards for the first TD. Ronnie Cox rammed the extra points over. Quitaque's right half back then turned in the longest scoring run of the night, 83 yards, for their only tally. The fullback added the extra points. Halfback Joe Peirce went over from 9 yards out to end the Mavericks scoring.

This week the Mavericks meet Estelline here Thursday night. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Couple to Observe 50th Anniversary

A former Roaring Springs couple who married in Floydada, will celebrate their Golden Wedding anniversary Sunday in Roaring Springs.

They are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Yandell, residents of Plainview the past year. The open house observance will be held at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Eugene Watson, from 2 until 5 o'clock.

Other children of the couple will assist with hospitalities. They are, Ross Yandell, Tulla; O. W. Yandell, Mrs. Vester Roller, Mrs. Nolan Osborn and Miss Mollie Yandell, all of Plainview, and Mrs. Buford Sain of Amarillo.

George Washington Yandell and the former Miss Mary Martin were married at Floydada, October 11, 1911. They moved to Roaring Springs with the railroad about 1913, and he farmed until 1956.

At the time he retired, Mr. Yandell was believed to be the last "horse" farmer in Motley County. He has never owned an automobile or tractor. He has sold his horses, but still owns all of his farming equipment, the type used prior to the advent of the tractor.

Mr. and Mrs. Yandell still retain their home in Roaring Springs, but due to ill health, last year moved to Plainview to be near several of their children.

An open invitation is extended to all friends of the Yandell family, to attend their anniversary reception.

Firemen Purchase Extra Equipment

IN ORDER to be better equipped in the event of an emergency, Matador Volunteer Fire Department has purchased two pieces of equipment out of its own funds. The department's new "rolling stock" consists of an "emergency wagon" portable power plant and a "Jeep" equipped to fight prairie fires.

Freddie Welling, veteran Chief of the department for 18 years (he is also a member of the city council and local manager of the West Texas Utilities Company office) said the new equipment will be in complete service in a short time.

(This is Fire Prevention Week, October 8-14. If you appreciate the service of the volunteer firemen, why not tell them, or better still write your appreciation to Chief Welling, to be read at the next meeting.)

Chief Welling said the Jeep is equipped with a 100-gallon water tank and electric pump (from the battery) which can produce a stream of water from 50 to 60 feet.

The "emergency wagon" is strictly an emergency vehicle. The department purchased a panel truck and is equipping it with an emergency power plant (110-v. 3KW). Both hospitals here are being wired so that in event of a power failure the "emergency wagon" power plant can be plugged in it from the outside.

The equipment has been purchased from donations made to the department and from an accumulative fund.

Matadors Make 4th Win of '61 Season

by Johnny Ezzell

SWATTING the Lorenzo Hornets 20-8 at Lorenzo, Friday night, Matador Matadors recorded their fourth win of the 1961 season against two losses.

Matador rolled up 295 yards during the contest, all on the ground. Lorenzo, slowed down by a Matador defense that was led by Kenneth Davis, Ros Bearden and Kenny Barton, was able to total only 165 yards. The Matadors led in first downs by a 12-8 margin.

Gary Lancaster gained 99 yards on 19 carries to lead the offensive corps, and Ros Bearden gained 95 yards on 20 runs to go along with his two touchdowns.

The Matadors moved 50 yards in 12 plays to score the first time they had the ball. Lancaster turned in two of the big plays during the series, a 19 yard gainer to the 20 and a 4 yard gain on a fourth and two situation at the 12. Bearden went off right tackle for the final three yards on a fourth down play. Kenny Barton's extra point attempt was blocked.

Recover Fumble

The Big Red recovered a Hornet fumble at the Lorenzo 35 in the second quarter to start their second scoring drive. Bearden capped the 8 play march with a 10 yard burst off left tackle for the touchdown. Barton then kicked the extra point.

COTTON HARVEST MOVING RAPIDLY

BRIGHT sunny weather last week brought a spurt of Motley County's multi-million dollar cotton crop to the gins.

At noon yesterday the total ginning for the county was 1,727 bales, with Flomet leading for 509 bales, Roaring Springs 450 bales and Matador with 368 bales. Staple and grade are exceptionally high.

County Agent Bill Palmeyer estimates that about 40% of the crop may be open and that perhaps 10 to 12% may be harvested. Many growers are defoliating to hasten the harvest with mechanical pullers.

Rain storm Monday morning dumped 80-inch precipitation here and brought the cotton picking to an abrupt halt. Clear skies and dry west wind Tuesday took the moisture away and some harvest hands had returned to the fields by yesterday.

Grain Being Harvested

It is a busy season for farmers. In addition to the important cotton crop the county has approximately 23,500 acres of grain sorghum. Estimates are that the yield will be in the neighborhood of 1500 lbs. per acre. The general market price is at present $1.45 per 100 lbs.

Growers who are eligible for government loans currently receive $1.87 per cwt. less storage and service charge, which leaves them a net of $1.77 per 100 pounds. Generally estimating, county farmers may realize in the neighborhood of $1 million from grain sorghum.

Wheat Program has Liberal Provisions

ALLOTMENT for wheat in Motley County has been cut by 10% but the provisions of the new program are so liberal that the farmer will profit by the reduction. Tommy Moore manager of the Motley County ASC office said this week that approximately 225 farmers are eligible to participate.

The 10% "lay out" land is eligible to convert to soil conservation use (no crop may be harvested) but the farmer will receive approximately $16 per acre (county average).

Attending the recognition service from Matador were Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cox, Mrs. T. E. Long, grandparent of Mike Baird, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Berryman, grandparents of Jamie Johnson.

Church and Society

All Church Night Introduces Study For Methodists

In a talk Wednesday night of last week at the First Methodist Church, Miss Sue Glenn introduced the theme for an all-church and W.S.C.S. mission study on Latin America, which was begun last night.

Mrs. G. E. Hamilton was leader of the program, held following a covered dish supper at the initial meeting. After the opening devotional and litany, Mrs. Harry Willett presented Miss Glenn.

Background for Miss Glenn's talk was her trip to South America this summer. The tour included attendance in Union Church services in Rio de Janeiro, and in Methodist Church services in Buenos Aires which Ambassador Roy Rubottom and his wife, former Texans attend.

The economic structure of the Latin American countries form the basis for their cultural, religious and social life, Miss Glenn learned during the tours.

Communism as a religion is being taught to the people through the theatre, puppet shows and television programs, said Miss Glenn. These media are used because the masses are unable to read or write.

In combating such propaganda, the Christian faiths need to advance the standards of truth. "To founders of our way of life since Moses brought down to us the Ten Commandments, key to all our systems, cultural works have been measured by three standards: Truth, right and beauty," Miss Glenn quoted.

Gwen Killingsworth Honored at Shower

The home of Mrs. Sut Braselton was the scene Thursday night of a pre-nuptial shower honoring Miss Gwen Killingsworth, bride-elect of Jimmie Irwin.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Rattan, at a table decorated with a bridal couple, setting the stage for the reception. A gilded driftwood floral arrangement was the background for a miniature "just married" car, decorated appropriately with the names of the couple, and formed the centerpiece for the refreshment table which was laid with a cutwork cloth.

Miss Mary Margaret Irwin presided at the punch service. An assortment of tea cookies, mints and nuts were served with the punch.

Following their marriage Monday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin left for St. Louis, Missouri, where he will attend Gradwohl School of Laboratory Technique.

PIED PINIONS

By Mrs. M.

It is said the sun never sets on the British Empire. Almost the same can be said of Texans. Everywhere one goes, one bumps into a Texan or two.

On her trip to South America during the summer, Miss Sue Glenn had the pleasure of meeting several former natives of the Lone Star State. Among these were Ambassador Roy Rubottom, whose home was Brownwood, and his wife a native of Corsicana. They are members of the Methodist Church in Buenos Aires, where some of the clubwomen attended worship services.

The speaker for the service that day was a representative for International Bible Service, and in his discourse he explained that black Bibles were looked upon with superstition by many natives, and had been substituted for bright yellow covered volumes, the natives themselves selecting the color.

In Guatemala some years ago, Mr. M. had the privilege of interviewing and photographing Ambassador Kyle, who originally hailed from College Station, and for whom Kyle Field is named.

Visiting in Matador last summer was Lola Pohl's brother, George Knierim, an agronomist with the department of agriculture, engaged in experimental projects in India, where he returned after his visit here.

With the military in Japan are two Lieutenant Colonels and their families, well known here: Jack Robinson Jr., and Haynes Baumgardner, whose wife, the former Myrnavae Barkley was rearred here.

The sun has risen but still shines on a Texan - yet!

The Plainview Herald has one of the best edited papers in this area, and one of the features which make it so is the woman's department. Mrs. Dora Scott is Woman's Editor and Mrs. Myrna Smith, staff photographer. The latter's husband, Buster, has become acquainted around Matador, having come to the aid of Tribune from time to time by setting type, or running jobs on the off-set press.

A recent Sunday's edition, featuring National Business Women's Week had shots of two former Matador people, both teachers in Plainview schools. Grace McDowell, Mrs. Ed Cammack's daughter, was shown at a coffee break with friends at Plains Drug and Frances Jones, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, Flomot, was looking over new hair styles in a Plainview beauty shop.

Morning Devotions Held by Students

At the beginning of each school morning, students pause in the study hall before going to their class rooms, to give their full attention to the morning devotionals. The devotional is given by a different high school student each morning and consists of scripture reading, explanation of the reading or an example, and prayer.

The students agree that these few minutes taken from routine study are helpful in beginning the day with the right perspective and attitude.

In addition to the morning devotional, the students participate in giving the Pledge of Allegiance and the school song.

Junior Jots by Judy Hart

Hurray! This was an exclamation coming from the Junior students after sixth period, Friday. The last six-weeks' test was over and no home work was assigned for the weekend.

The Juniors seem to think this six-weeks' test was very fast. They are planning a party before this semester skips by.

The World Series played a big part in the activities at school last week. The study hall became the stadium, as many students vicariously joined the baseball throngs by means of radio.

Rally Brightened By Football Song

As students entered the auditorium Friday, October 6, for the Lorenzo pep rally, each brought pep and school spirit with him.

One of the main highlights of the rally was an inspiring pep talk given by Mr. Bill Moss. For added encouragement two of the "Mighty Matadors", Vaden Hayes and David Rattan, gave pep talks that were received enthusiastically by the students.

During the pep rally everyone, with possibly the exception of Vada Nichols, yelled loud enough to make themselves hoarse. Vada perhaps restrained her voice until she had sung her solo which was a clever football song.

School spirit was "sky-high" as the pep rally came to a close with the singing of the school song.

We're looking forward to our first Homecoming in High School. From what we hear, Homecoming time is full of fun and excitement. We all hope this one will be even better!

Everyone is really glad that six-weeks' test are over. They were a lot different from our grade school tests. Now we have five weeks to get ready for the tests next six-weeks.

We welcome back all of the ones who were out of school with the mumps and other illnesses.

New Discovery Made in Chemistry

Matador chemistry classes have really enjoyed lab work year. Each chemistry class is allotted two days a week for lab, and the students are really enjoying experimenting with different elements.

Last Friday Mr. Moore, the instructor, was demonstrating to the classes the different properties of frozen carbon dioxide (dry ice). He showed the students that when the dry ice is put in a small amount of water in a corked bottle, the ice turns to a gas and builds up enough pressure to "pop the cork."

Mr. Moore then found a more practical use for dry ice than using it for packing frozen foods—the theory that "popping the cork" is a very effective way of keeping disorder in class at a minimum—that is as long as it is popped at the disorderly student.

SPOT CASH GROCERY

Growers Advised On Best Use of Cotton Strippers

The following suggestions are provided by County Agent Bill Palmeyer as to the most successful use of mechanical cotton harvesters.

Since much of the present crop is expected to be harvested in this manner, this information is published as a service to farmers.

1. Do not operate strippers too soon after the use of defoliants or frost. Allow ample time for all the leaves and leaf stalks to dry out completely before starting the stripper. Green leaves will stain the cotton as it goes through the stripper, and cotton stained in this manner can easily cost the farmer $10 per bale in grade. A drying period of 2 to 3 weeks is needed to condition the plants. Further delay tends to allow broken stems and branches to be gathered, and weathering lowers fiber quality.
2. Don't start strippers too early in the morning. Research has shown that harvesting cotton with too high a moisture content can cost the farmer $10 to $15 a bale in quality. Cotton gins best at a lint moisture content of about 7 1/2%. A good rule is to squeeze a few bolls and if the cotton bounces back after being squeezed, normally, it is dry enough to harvest. If the cotton stays in a ball after being squeezed in the hand, it will be too moist for good harvesting.

Ample Trailer Needed
3. Provide ample trailer space. It takes up to 450 cu. ft. of space for one bale of cotton. To tramp and crush cotton into too small a space results in lower grade cotton. Even gins with the most elaborate and expensive systems cannot remove all of the small "pin and pepper" trash that is ground into seed cotton when it is tramped into the trailer.

4. Fix a green boll box on the trailer when a stripper is used. Throw the green bolls out on the turnrow and allow them to dry out and open before carrying them to the gin. Too many green bolls indicate that you are attempting to strip too soon. Use wood slatted or wire sides trailers as this will allow leaf and other trash to blow out of the trailer.

5. Keep strippers and trailers clean. Do not over lubricate. Wipe off excess grease.

6. Keep the strippers centered on the row and operating at the proper speed will help eliminate barked cotton.

7. Keep a few tarpaulins on hand in case of rain or dust storms.
