NEW OIL production started in Motley County yesterday when the recently completed Pan American C. R. Brandon No. 2 was placed on the pump. It is believed that it will be one of the best producers in the West Roaring Springs field.

To the west of Dutchman Creek the E. E. Moss & Son's O. C. Scott No. 2 is drilling ahead at 3165 feet. It is estimated the well may be in production by late today or tomorrow.

The location is east of the former try by the same firm on the Scott property. E. E. Moss, prominent Lubbock industrialist, was formerly mayor of Roaring Springs when he owned and operated the Red Ball gin.

A new location has been made on the Turner Ranch by the C & C Drilling Company of Ft. Worth (Sec. 282). The location is N.E. of the ranch house. Exploration is being extended by Humble Company which will soon start seismic operations on the Matador Ranch, according to information received yesterday by the Tribune.

All Worthwhile Achievements Result From Dreams, Young People are Told

"Every worthwhile achievement was first just a dream and you are weaving the fabric of your life from patterns made of dreams," young people of the Matador and Whiteflat Baptist churches, and their invited guests were told here Tuesday night at the First Baptist Church.

Speaker was Mrs. Oelta Bottoroff, Youth Director of the First Baptist Church, Plainview and the occasion was the annual Sweetheart Banquet which the Women's Missionary Unions of the two churches sponsor each spring for their young people.

The address was part of the program presented following a delicious buffet supper in the church banquet hall which was transformed into a cherry blossom festival setting.

In keeping with the theme the decorations depicted the nation's capitol in the spring during "cherry blossom time," with wall drawings of the capitol building and other government buildings, and street markers designating Pennsylvania Avenue. Cherry "trees" (fashioned of popped corn tinted pink) lined the room and miniature sprays decorated individual tables where the guests were seated.

Mary Newman is Queen
Immediately following invocation by J. E. Edwards, the banquet queen's crown was placed on the head of Miss Mary Newman, and Thomas (Clem) Edwards received a similar crown as banquet king. Coronation of the Cherry Blossom Royalty was by Mrs. John Barnhill, president of the Matador W.M.U. who served as mistress of ceremonies.

Selection of the banquet king and queen is made on the basis of Sunday School attendance and church participation and loyalty. "Cherry Sundae" was vocal. (Continued on back page)

Junior Students Take Merit Tests

Five students took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test on March 8. The test was administered by Principal Johnson, and all junior students who were interested could take the test.

The test was a three hour measure of educational development and college aptitude. Emphasis was placed on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what is learned, rather than sheer knowledge of facts.

Results of the test are to be reported before the end of the semester. Students who rate among the highest in the state will take second examinations, competing for Merit Scholarships.

APPRECIATION for coaches Charlie Johnson and Don Macon (right and left) was expressed as Miss Carolyn Pohl presented them with a cake during the annual Football Banquet program held recently. The Matador Matadors advanced to district championship last season under the able leadership of the two coaches.

The students participating in the Merit Program were Anita Martin, Frances Cooper, Ida Fair, Gale Stafford and Donna Williams.

Around MGS

By Janie Waybourn

The eighth grade enjoyed hearing Mrs. Joe Bloodworth talk on Canada and Alaska, especially since they are studying Canada and Alaska now. They have decided that Seward's "ice-box" was a good investment.

Adjective phrases and clauses are what the seventh grade is now studying. Arithmetic is getting to be a problem to the seventh grade. They are learning how to find the area and perimeter of a square, the area and perimeter of a rectangle, the area of a triangle and a parallelogram, and the circumference of a circle.

The science books are just about finished in the fifth grade, but there will be more work after the book is completed. They have been writing business and friendly letters. The fifth grade had 32 visitors on visitors day. Best Citizens of the week in the sixth grade are Karen Elliott and Ronnie Cox. Their book reports were on display. Twenty visitors visited in the sixth grade last week.

The third and fourth grades entertained on a P-TA program recently. The third grade presented a chapel program last Friday. M. Sgt. Tilson made a talk to the fourth grade on Africa.

Dr. E. J. Workman Speaks at School

Dr. E. J. Workman, president and director of the Research Division at the New Mexico Institute of Mining and Technology located at Socorro, New Mexico, visited Matador High, March 7. Dr. Workman is sponsored by the Texas Academy of Science and is sent out on application of a school.

He visited the biology and chemistry classes and conducted an afternoon assembly.

He spoke on the role of precipitation and evaporation in controlling the climate of the earth. He then explained, using motion pictures, how a thunder cloud started. The pictures were of the lapse-rate type in that a frame was taken every few seconds and projected at the normal rate. The speeded-up action of the clouds presented in this way made it possible to see details of movement, not otherwise possible.

Much knowledge was gained through Dr. Workman's visit and the students thoroughly enjoyed it.

The English and typing classes are industriously working on their term themes. The juniors must write on the vocation they plan to engage in, that is, after they have gotten out of high school.

The Ag III boys have turned to construction work now. They are building a scaffold. Buddy Davis seems to be a master carpenter. It has been told he can drive more crooked nails and break more boards than anyone around.

The chemistry class enjoyed seeing films on the mining and refinement of several elements. There have been a lot of protests and shut doors since we began our work of burning sulphur.

LIBRARY LAPSE

by Edna Williamson

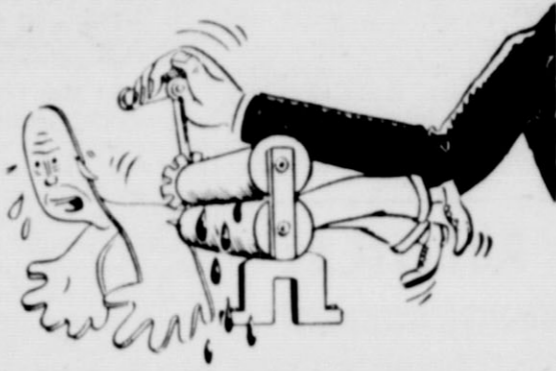

Twilight for the Gods by Ernest Gann is an intense and exciting novel about a ship, "The Cannibal."

The story takes place around October 12, 1927. "The Cannibal," a forlorn figure as she left the harbor, was one of the last commercial sailing ships still trying valiantly to compete in the world of steam.

In the swift weeks that follow, you come to know her passengers and crew as intensely real people. David Bell, Master and Captain of "The Cannibal," loves sailing and the high seas. Other members of the crew and passengers are Harry Hutton, Ethel Peacock, Rev. Butterfield, Oliver Wiggins and many others. The final passenger has no interest in the ship at all. She is Charlotte King, a woman of quiet beauty with a disturbingly quiet past. The story of Charlotte King is a novel within itself.

This book is one of Gann's finest novels and is a wonderful reading experience.

Follow these rules carefully. Use an insecticide only on the crops for which it is recommended and in the amounts specified on the label.

If a crop is not named on the label of a particular insecticide, it may mean that no residue of that pesticide is permitted on that crop; and hence the treated crop could not be shipped if it contains residue of that chemical.

Lions . . .

The loans are made to deserving youngsters who would not be able to attend college otherwise. Morris said he started the plan in 1954 on $500 of borrowed money and since that time has loaned $185,000 to students, with losses of less than $500. No interest is charged.

Every penny is budgeted to students for their needs. All their earnings must be paid back to the fund. Students must make their grades and be willing to work.

Students receiving loans are not permitted to own automobiles (unless essential to their work) and smoking is discouraged because of the costs.

Accompanying Lion Morris was Miss Gail Sargent, a West Texas student whose college education is made possible by the loan plan. She explained in detail how the funds she borrows are allocated for her needs.

"Youths Deserve Chance"
"These boys and girls deserve a chance for a college education," Lion Morris said, "and we can not afford to allow their talent, ambition and determination to go to waste. It is the richest resource of our West Texas empire . . . boys and girls of this type are honest. They want a chance . . ."

music by the Spark-a-letz, Misses Judy Hobbs, Vada Nichols, Melanie Brown, Vella Ree Edwards, Dixie Barton and Cherri Barton, accompanied by Miss Sandra Stevens; "Cherry Flip" was singing by Misses Ida Lee Fair, Linda Thompson and Carol Campbell, accompanied by Miss Gwen Killingsworth; and "Cherry Soda" songs by a male sextet, Guy Campbell, James Renfro, Roy Hobbs, Clem Edwards, Carl Thompson and Robin Darsey, accompanied by Miss Stevens.

Organ music was played by Mrs. John Stevens as the guests assembled in the church sanctuary, and during dinner.

Rev. Gene Hawkins introduced the speaker and her daughter, Nancy, and benediction was by Mrs. C. D. Garrison, president of Whiteflat W.M.U.

"Life Is A Loom"
"All of us are weavers," Mrs. Bottorff told her listeners. "Life is a loom and each of us is provided with the necessary 'thread' . . . the qualities of mind and spirit . . . each in his own way must weave the pattern for his life."

Using as a background for her address, "The Weaver," by Harold E. Dye, Mrs. Bottorff developed the subject with the use of skeins of colored yarn.

"Among the threads that go into the weaving of our lives is the red thread of courage," she said. "Courage is not absence of fear, but rather mastery of fear."

She cited blue as the thread of strength, listing endurance, perseverance and stability among the qualities which are interwoven in physical, mental, moral and spiritual attributes; gold as the thread of faith; . . . faith in ourselves, in our fellowman and in the Eternal God. No one ever succeeded without faith; violet as the thread of love; "Love is the most personal thing in all the world, and the heart of a true Christian must have compassion for others"; green as the thread of patience; . . . Be still and know that I am God - wait on the Lord" she admonished.

"Into every life must come the black thread of sorrow - and we are reminded that Christ himself was a man of sorrow, acquainted with grief."

"But the sustaining outline of each pattern is the white thread of righteousness," Mrs. Bottorff said, and in conclusion, "Into every life is woven the woolen thread of simplicity."

"Happiness is a by-product of forgetting self and living for others. Plan patterns for life that are challenging then ask the Lord to help you put them in the right proportions."

APPRECIATION EXPRESSED
Mrs. Barnhill expressed profound appreciation to everyone who helped in any way in the preparation of the banquet.

"Everyone was so wonderful in working and planning the banquet and I want each of you to know of my personal gratitude. It could not have been accomplished without the cooperation of so many people."

Are we buying 7,079 % Kefauver?

Digging for Scandal in the Drug Field

(From the DALLAS NEWS, December 10th, 1959)

It appears that the fifty-niners of the political mining camps have discovered that there are votes in them-thar scandals. The scandal now alleged by a new Kefauver investigating committee is that the Schering Corp. has made a profit of 7,079 % on a new drug combination which it recently marketed. The News is inclined to suspect a charge like that because of its sheer dimensions.

The Schering Corp. has been in business since 1935. It has just under 4 million shares of common stock of $1 par value, with a relatively small amount of preferred stock. The book value of the common stock was recently estimated at $12.34 per share.

Market price has been around $1.75. Dividends paid ranged from 13c paid in 1952 to a current rate of $1.40 a share. Earnings for 1958 were reported as $3.06 a share.

This does not read like a get-rich-quick enterprise—certainly not on a scale of 7,079 per cent profits. It is fair to assume that for each wonder drug developed, there are 10,000 experiments which have been washed down the laboratory drain. Somebody pays for 10,000 failures previous to the experiment which produces.

The most patent, the most dangerous, and most prevalent markup in American life today is the political markup. What men like Estes Kefauver cost the taxpayer, compared to what the Kefauvers are worth to the taxpayers, would probably be much more than 7,079 percent.
