Show Future Uncertain

BOYS AND GIRLS will bring their cattle, swine and sheep here Saturday for what may be the final display of the annual Motley County Junior Fat Stock Show. Public interest will be the deciding factor as to whether the exhibition will be continued or allowed to become a part of the county's history.

Interest in the show, which has been on the decline for two or three years, reached low tide Tuesday night. A meeting of the directors of the Motley County Livestock Association had been called at the courthouse to make final arrangements for the show. It was a lonely vigil for three men. Two of the six directors on the board, C. M. Barton, "Doc" Taylor and County Agent Bill Palmeyer (who acts in an advisory place) composed the entire "meeting."

TRAIL DUST

Typical and topical of cowboy and philosopher, the late Tom Ing, was this advice: "Never go into a pasture that has but one gate."

Time creates an unspoken animosity between extreme youth and ripened maturity. Youthful sentiment grows out of overshadowing experience but those who possess it feel a kindred hostility toward their successors who have tickets to the show.

The obvious is obscured by leading too close to the mighty wheels at a time. Man is but a dust of his life and his works are the proceeds which must be accounted for in probate. The single exception is what he gives to other heirs of the estate.

Employers can develop chronic coffee nerves while employees are off the job drinking coffee.

Cream and scum are so similar that their identities may be confused in the broad evaluation of which society is responsible.

Church To Sponsor Talent Contest In Campaign For Funds

A campaign for funds is underway by the West Texas District of the Assemblies of God Churches to be used in construction of units for the youth camp located about nine miles southeast of Roaring Springs on land donated by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Dillard.

In this connection, a talent contest will be sponsored by the Roaring Springs church Friday, April 20, at 7:45 p. m. The program will be held in the school auditorium and an invitation is extended to all churches, open to all denominations, to enter skits or other appropriate entertainment, by young people from 13 to 35 years of age.

Also a feature of the campaign is a vote-raising project for Sandra Smith and Roy Sullivan who have been named candidates for the East Plains Section of the West Texas district of the title of Mr. and Miss Christ Ambassador of West Texas. Votes at 1c each will determine the winners.

The Roaring Springs church is ahead in the East Plains section which embraces Motley and surrounding counties and includes 18 churches.

A concerted effort is being made to complete the camp in time for summer sessions, and all contributions to the building fund will be appreciated by the churches in the district. Contributions may be sent to "Camp Fund, Box 26, Roaring Springs."

Revival Messages Creating Interest

A return to old-fashioned revival methods of bringing sinners out into the open is creating widespread interest in services in progress at the First Baptist Church this week.

Arville Setliff of Turkey told the Tribune Tuesday evening that all equipment is ready to be hoisted to place on the tower as soon as the weather permits. He said, however, that he "makes no predictions" when the tower will be in operation on a test basis.

Carson and Barnes three-ring circus will be located on the area immediately north of the former Spears Gin on north Main Street. There will be performances at 2:30 and 8 p. m.

Carson and Barnes is one of the oldest and most honored in circus business. The show will have many performing animals, a menagerie of the elephants, bears, lions, monkeys, llamas, camels and matched Liberty high school horse and trained Shetland ponies.

In addition is a large menagerie of many jungle animals that are ordinarily seen only in the largest zoos.

Approximately 200 people accompany the circus. The Lions are conducting a pre-sale of tickets for children (12 and under) at the school. Lion President Billy Wason said yesterday. The club will receive half of the admission price of the children's tickets, he said.

Work Is Scheduled At Methodist Church

SITE IS CLEARED and actual construction of the Methodist education building is scheduled to start Monday, it was announced this week by Rev. Roy Patterson, pastor. The new building will be 130 feet by 42 feet and located immediately south of the church. Entrance will be on Bundy Street. Rev. Hugh Hunt of Lubbock, chairman of the Methodist Town & Country Commission, is the architect.

The structure, which will have 11 class rooms, will be of frame construction with brick veneer. Attractive entrance will include a ledge stone wing and planter on Bundy Street.

Roof of the main structure will be gable with the exception of the 20-foot area immediately south of the church, which will be flat roof. Other rooms will include the pastor's study, prayer room, church parlor and coffee bar.

Rev. Patterson said the construction will be under the supervision of Rev. Hunt and various phases of the work sub-contracted. It is estimated that the cost will be about $40,000, half of which has been raised by contributions. It is believed that the building may be completed in about three months.

When the new building is finished the class rooms will be moved from the basement allowing more space there for other activities, Rev. Patterson said. A covered walk on the west and south of the present church building will make for convenient access to both structures.

Banquet Fetes Juniors - Seniors

Living the right kind of life is much like taking a bus ride, Rev. Miller Robinson, pastor of the First Baptist Church told his youthful audience Saturday night as principal speaker at the annual Junior-Senior Banquet held in the American Legion Building.

The attentive students were told that they had reached the age when many important decisions had to be made by them. Rev. Robinson advised the students to be careful in making these decisions so that they would not journey through life and then find that they were on the wrong bus. He explained that a person cannot reach his goal in life by sleeping, any more than he can reach his destination by sleeping when riding a bus.

Master of Ceremonies was Pete Davis, invocation was by Glenda Lynn, address of welcome was given by Gary Lancaster and Vada Nichols gave the response.

The Legion Hall was transformed into a Treasure Island with sophomore pirates, waiters and waitresses strolling about. Treasure chests filled with jewels, and gold medallions, palm trees, and sea gulls made attractive decorations.

The tables were laid with "cross bone and skull" table cloths and miniature treasure chests, chocolate medallions, and pirate hats were favors. The programs were fashioned after scrolls and the guests dined by candlelight.

Famous Speaker Tells Seniors

Mediocrity Has No Position In World

"TODAY'S WORLD has no place for mediocrity," Berl Huffman told the seniors from Motley County's three high schools in the banquet meeting at the Legion Building last week. It was the fourth annual meeting of seniors sponsored by Fleming Post American Legion, and organized by the late J. L. Speer. "Each day we must do our job better than someone else," the dynamic Huffman said in one of the most inspiring addresses ever delivered here. He told his attentive listeners to live by the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Bill of Rights. He warned against a conscience becoming smooth to the point that it could not tell right from wrong.

"Have courage to stand in the minority," he said, "and do not believe that silence is always golden—it may be yellow. You have greater responsibilities to face every day and more temptations than any generation in the history of the world... it requires courage. Our system, our way of life is based on profit... you can't be American and listen to some alien ideology that promises something better... be more devoted and reverent to your home, your school, love your state and your nation... have only one fear, the fear of Almighty God..."

Huffman, baseball coach at Texas Tech, was introduced by Furman Vinson, a former student. He was accompanied here by former Roaring Springs resident John Hunter who was a guest at the banquet.

Students Introduced
County Judge Elbert Reeves served as master of ceremonies and paid tribute to Legionnaire Speer who originated the annual banquet. His widow, Mrs. J. L. Speer and son, John Speer of Ft. Worth, were honored guests. J. R. Whitworth led in the singing of "America" followed by invocation by Supt. Bert Ezzell, and a brief welcome address by Glenn Woodruff, in the absence of his father, Commander J. L. Woodruff, who was ill. Special music was by the Spark-a-lets, a trio composed of Judy Hobbs, Cherri Barton and Vada Nichols. Matador seniors, who were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John Stevens.

Members of the various school boards were introduced and sponsors of senior classes introduced the following students: Flomot, Sheldon Jacobs, Billy Speery, Danny Green, Judy Gilbert and Lou Brannon; Supt. and Mrs. Hobson Burris and Jess Browning; two students unable to attend were Patsy Gilbert and Mary Helen Kimbell. Roaring Springs, Melba Hall Gray, Jerry Warren Scaff, Jeanne Watson, Roger Ashley, Cecil Nolen, Bill Bailey, Jim McInroe, Gary Grizzle, Rebecca HoGland, Letha HoGland and Don Dawson; and Supt. and Mrs. M. J. Schofield. Senior not present was Virgie McGee.

Matador class, introduced by Charles Johnson, sponsor, included Geney Spray, Sue Cross, Doris Cooper, Vada Nichols, Judy Hobbs, Cherri Barton, Christina Damron, Dale Dixon, Roger Evans, Dixie Barton, Vella Ree Edwards, Sondra Stevens, Jimmie Green, Kenneth Davis, Bob Johnson and Johnny Ezzell, and Supt. and Mrs. Bert Ezzell. Student Loan Fund Plan Explained At Ladies' Night Meet

"Don't discount the youth of your area," Milton "Buff" Morris, business administrator at West Texas State College, Canyon, told approximately 100 Lions, Lionesses and visitors at Roaring Springs Thursday evening, March 29.

Lion Morris (he is Past District Governor of District 2T1) appeared on the program in the place of District Governor W. W. (Bill) Didlake, who was ill and unable to attend. He was introduced by Lion S. J. Braselton.

The banquet meeting was held in the school gymnasium. Delicious Southern fried chicken was served by the Roaring Springs senior class.

"Buff" Morris started his Student's Opportunity Plan with $500 in 1951. Since that time the plan has loaned more than $350,000 to students and currently approximately 140 students are able to attend West Texas through funds provided by the Opportunity Fund.

One of the students, Miss Pat Thompson of Muleshoe, accompanied Lion Morris and explained how the Opportunity Fund had made it possible for her to attend college. Morris has been with West Texas since 1940.

Unusual "Style" Show
Address of welcome was by Boss Lion L. E. Davis and invocation was by Lion Dan Coker. Lion "Corky" Marshall served as master of ceremonies. Charter members of the club and their ladies were introduced, and three new members, Dan Coker, M. L. McSpadden and Truitt Read, were initiated into the club.

Outstanding feature of the program was a "style" show produced by "Lady Lions" with Lioness M. S. Thacker serving as narrator. The models assumed literal translations for current "creations," i. e. a box jacket was actually a box, and a slip-over sweater was a slip over a sweater. The models appearing in the revue, which received repeated applause were: Miss Lula Swim and Mesdames Dan Coker, Caldwell Smith, Bill Peacock, Lem Miller, Carl Tardy, J. M. Thacker, Gerald Yeates, Truitt Read, Bob Clem, S. J. Braselton and Corby Lee Marshall.

Among charter members present were three from out of town: Henry Teague, McAdoo, J. F. Hughes, Spur, and Leo Purvis, Petersburg.

County Soil Tests Showing Increase

Soil testing is on the increase in the Rolling Plains area reports Roy McClung, County Agent from Seymour, who is in charge of the lab serving this area. More samples were received in February than any previous month since the lab was opened in 1956. Results from 21 samples have been received for Motley County since January 1.

Many of the soils are showing an unbalanced condition in fertility, as some require nitrogen only, others need nitrogen and phosphorus, and still others show a need for nitrogen, phosphorus and potash.

Until the lab started operation, it was generally believed soils in this area contained plenty of potash, but many of the sandy fields are showing a deficiency. There is no method of determining what a soil needs until it is tested.

New equipment has recently been added to the lab, and samples can now be run, with reports mailed in three days, to a week. Sample bags and information blanks may be obtained from County Agent Bill Palmeyer. Cost of a soil test is $2.

Chapter Observes National FHA Week

National FHA Week, April 17 was observed here by Matador Chapter, Future Homemakers of America.

Each member of the local chapter gave trinkets and gifts during the week to a "secret sister," the names of whom were revealed Friday.

Activities began Monday when a clue was given to a treasure which had been hidden in high school. More clues were given until the treasure was found Tuesday by Jean Martin.

Tuesday night a chicken supper was held in the homemaking room, with mothers of members, senior girls and their mothers, and other guests present. These included Supt. and Mrs. Bert Ezzell, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Johnson, and County Agent and Mrs. Bill Palmeyer. Mr. and Mrs. Palmeyer showed slides which they had taken during their trip through Northeastern United States last fall.

The girls brought sack lunches to school Wednesday, and ate in a group. FHA Week was ended Friday when each girl wore red and white, FHA colors, and the secret sisters were revealed.

Junior Jots . . .

By Judy Hart
The juniors enjoyed preparing and giving the banquet last Saturday night and are looking forward to the one next year where they will be guests of honor.

Now that the banquet is over, we are concentrating entirely on our play, "The Night Crawlers." It is a fast moving, hilarious, and suspense-filled tale about an amateur theatrical group, who try to convince a potential television sponsor of their abilities by acting out a riotous mystery play in such a way that the sponsor thinks all the weird things are really happening.

The play takes place in an old tumble-down farm house which has recently been inherited by Richard Karl, a young man who works for an advertising firm which represents the television sponsor.

Richard went to school with the theatrical group and is engaged to its leading lady, Carol Lewis. When he finds out that he is to drive Mrs. Yates and her teenage daughter to a mountain resort, and that they will pass right by his new inheritance, he instructs Carol and the group to go ahead, get into the old house and put on the act for Mrs. Yates, when the car supposedly breaks down and he and Mrs. Yates go inside for help.

The fun begins when two hillbillies, already inside the house, enter into the act without the knowledge of the theatrical group.

Zeke Skitters is a hillbilly in search of easy money, played by Pete Davis. Cindy Lou, a young hillbilly who is Zeke's intended, is played by Sandra Jenkins. Mrs. Yates is an efficient, business-like rather domineering woman who is the television sponsor, played by Mary Newman. Judy Hart plays her 17-year-old daughter, Marion Yates. Dick Karl, a personable young man who works for the advertising firm, is played by Gary Lancaster. Carol Lewis, the leading lady for the group is played by Jill Scaff. Other members of the theatrical group are Clint Roberts played by Joel Spray, Kitty Woods, played by Jane Hamilton, Jackie Burton played by Glenda Lynn, and George Allen played by Kenny Barton. This completes the cast of ten characters who hope to present to you a very enjoyable show.

Advance tickets are on sale now by the members of the junior class. So everyone be sure and buy a ticket and join us on April 19, 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

Senior Sidelines . . .

By Cherri Barton

As we seniors are coming to the "End of a Perfect Year," we are involved in such activities as our senior play, banquets, program planning, and many other enjoyable activities.

The County Senior Banquet which we attended last Monday was an unforgettable experience. Coach Berl Huffman was the speaker of the evening. We enjoyed a barbecue supper and two songs, "America Our Heritage" and "End of a Perfect Year," by the Spark-a-letz that were in keeping with the theme of the banquet, "Seniors and Americanism."

"Us Girls," the play presented by the seniors proved to be a big success. We truly hope everyone enjoyed seeing the play as much as we enjoyed presenting it.

Thanks, you juniors, for the memorable and enthralling banquet you gave for us seniors. This was our last banquet during high school, and it was one that we will never forget. The theme of the banquet was "Pirates," and we will always keep the treasure of memories which we found there!

Sophomore Scoop . . .

By Virginia Nichols

Only five more weeks of school! We sophomores have been counting the days and will be from now until school is out in May.

We are very proud of the results of the Interscholastic League Meet, but we're especially proud of the sophomore boys who were a great help in the track meet.

As this has been National FHA Week, we sophomore girls have been kept quite busy with the chicken supper, secret sisters, treasure-hunt and picnic.

Freshman Facts . . .

By Scottie Robbins

We have survived six-weeks tests again, and are very, very proud that we have only one more six-weeks of school!

The girls have all enjoyed FHA Week. Our secret sisters have sent silly presents, nice presents, and we have enjoyed our chicken supper and our picnic, even if it did rain! (Of course we were all glad to see the rain.)

Everyone was proud of the new annuals, so most of them are well-signed and autographed by now. We think the editor did a very good job.

Kampus Kapers . . .

By Vada Nichols

One of the happiest days of the school year is the day that the yearbooks come in. They came in last Friday, and everyone was really surprised to find them in so soon. Congratulations to Geney Spray, Cherri Barton and Ros Bearden. Geney was voted Favorite Girl by the student body, Cherri was voted Most Beautiful Girl, and Ros was doubly honored with the titles of Favorite Boy and Most Handsome Boy. Congratulations to Geney also for editing such a beautiful annual. The "Favorites" section is always prepared by Mr. Ezzell and Mr. Johnson, so Geney didn't know that she was being honored as Favorite Girl.

Panic overtook the bookkeeping room one day last week while five girls worked overtime on their practice sets. Mr. Ezzell and Mr. Moore, upon hearing screams and commotion from the bookkeeping room, rushed to the rescue, thinking that someone had fallen off the fire escape. They found three of the girls standing on chairs and screaming, the other two jumping around on the floor, laughing hysterically, and a BAT fiercely struggling to get out of the waste paper basket. The girls had thought it to be a mouse, and when they saw the creature plainly, they wished it had been.

Grade School News

By Thomas Edmondson

Grade school students last week were busy getting ready for Interscholastic League, writing poems, and beginning a course in Driver's Education.

The first graders are enthusiastic over the history book they are making of cut-out pictures of the presidents.

The fourth grade students have written poems and will read them in a program given for the third grade.

The eighth graders started the study of Driver's Education under Mr. Johnson. They are all confused on which way to turn, how to turn, and when to turn.

Freshman Facts

By Scottie Robbins

Dot dash, dash dot dot dot, (for A and B in the Continental Code) has been a familiar tattoo among the freshmen students. According to the test papers, A and B were the only two letters we learned.

Another recent study topic has been a theme on a family happening. Of course, everyone says nothing ever happens to their family.

New Innovation In Seating Sponsored This Year by Carson & Barnes Circus

All Children's Tickets under 12 Hall Price

One feature of the circus this year that impressed the local sponsor of the Carson and Barnes big three ring circus was the new and attractive policy of informing the public of the PRICE of all tickets before attending the show, and allowing the public to pick the area they desire to sit in.

Carson and Barnes Circus has adopted the policy used by the major football and baseball stadiums and have made all of their seats reserved. A diagram of the seat location and the three price ranges can be seen in their news advertisement and on the circus ticket wagon. Remember, at the CARSON AND BARNES CIRCUS you select the area of the circus tent you desire to sit, purchase ONE ticket for the seat of your choice.

In addition to revolutionizing the seating policy of the circus, the Carson and Barnes Circus has modernized their performance to appeal to the adult as well as the children. Realizing that the television spectaculars like International Showtime, Ed Sullivan and the Dupont Hour, have been well received by the adult audiences the Carson and Barnes Circus has obtained some of the best acts appearing with International circuses.

These acts can be seen at both performances, afternoon and night at the local showgrounds.

The Matador Lions Club is sponsoring the one-day appearance here.

Why An Education?

By Jane Hamilton

"Should I finish high school? Should I work toward a college degree? Would I be wise to quit school and get a job? These are a few questions that today's youth ask concerning education. Before we endeavor to answer these questions let us look at a few facts.

One source of information on United States financial statistics indicates that an education is important. The eighth grade "quitter" makes about $101,320 in forty years of work, whereas the high school graduate earns on the average of $131,400. During a lifetime a college graduate earns approximately $200,000, and in later years many earn from $25,000 to $100,000 or more per year. These facts make a college education seem quite important.

The person who quits school too soon often feels that he has missed something. He seldom has the assurance that he is as well equipped as others, to handle positions of responsibility. He thinks he has cheated himself. He frequently develops an inferiority complex which causes him to fail to use even the abilities with which he has been endowed. This causes him to become apologetic or to develop an attitude of indifference. He remembers that he has no one to blame but himself. He misses one of the most valuable rewards one can have—personal satisfaction.

Every community needs outstanding leaders if it is to be the type of place in which we wish to live. Leadership suggests enterprise, courage, and vigor. It suggests a program and a purpose. An education develops such qualities.

Best of all, one who has an education acquires an ability to mix with others. No one can achieve real success in life without knowing how to get along with his fellowman. Man is a social being. He has always lived in groups. His personal needs—security, companionship, and recognition from others—are fulfilled in his contact with people. An education gives one the opportunity to develop the social skills necessary for successful group living.

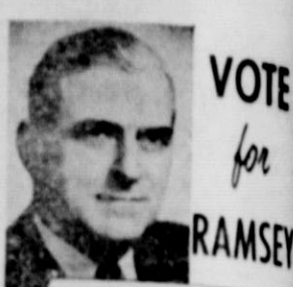

We have seen that getting an education is important to the terms of better earning capacity, individual because it pays in prestige, a more satisfying life, and the pleasure of knowledge. At the same time, it is important to all of us because it provides
