Pecans Or Grapes?

In case you haven't noticed, this is a very good year for pecans in Motley County. This tree is in the old Tom Hamilton (now E.D. Lowrence) yard. The trees were planted and tended for years by Mr. Hamilton.

In close up photo you can see the large cluster of pecans. Some clusters have 7 pecans. This seems to be a record, unless someone knows of a more prolific tree in Motley County.

Matadors Defeated By Hornets

by Coach Marks

I felt like we played an excellent second half ballgame Friday against Aspermont. However, the first half was another story. We gave them excellent field position 3 times, and they scored those three times, along with a late 2nd quarter interception which they returned for a Touchdown.

We were also given excellent field position on three occasions in the first half. Their kick-off scheme gave us the ball at mid-field each time the entire first half, but we were unable to take advantage.

We also had 2 blocked punts which hurt us badly. I hope we have that cured for this week against Knox City.

We held Aspermont scoreless the second half and scored one T.D.

Defensive standouts this week were Brian and Brent Marshall, David Trevino, Matt Washington, David Alexander, Les Woolsey, and Gilbert Hernandez. Our defense is getting a little better each week.

Offensively we're going to have to do a better job of mentally preparing ourselves for play. Gilbert Hernandez, David Trevino, Brandon Eddleman, Brent Marshall, Matt Washington and guards Jesse Ramirez and Jarrett Jameson all played an excellent second half. However, it takes two halves to win a football game, 100% - no less, and at all times. We have the potential for a really good football team and exhibit this fact at times. In order to compete upon a level in which we can win, we must be more consistent in our intensity for each individual play. We must strive for improvement day by day and game by game. In doing so, the scoreboard will take care of itself.

I realize that we are a young football team. We make mistakes that young teams make. Hopefully, we have many of these mistakes out of our system. We start District play this week with Knox City. I hope for and continue to strive for individual and team improvement. Should we get it altogether for one game - Knox City would be in trouble.

A special thanks to our community's support at our ballgames both home and away, the local Lions Club and of course our faculty and student body for keeping the faith - again, thanks.

School Dedication, Class Reunions To Highlight Homecoming

Dedication of the new Motley County School building by Congressman Beau Boulter, and class reunions are highlights planned for returning visitors during Homecoming for ex-students and ex-teachers. Also scheduled for the benefit of the "exes" is a tour of the county jail-museum.

Classes of 1937, 1942, 1947 and 1957 have announced plans for reunions and representatives have mailed letters to members of the respective classes. All classmates are welcome to attend, whether or not they graduated.

The jail museum, sponsored by El Progresso Club, will be open from 10 a.m. Saturday (Oct. 17) until 2:30 p.m. as the program and business meeting of the Ex-Students and Teachers Association will begin at 3 o'clock.

Congressman Boulter, United States representative to Washington, D.C. from the 13th Congressional District of Texas (including Motley County) maintains district offices in Amarillo and Wichita Falls, in addition to his official offices in Washington.

Other entertainment and features scheduled during Homecoming include a pep rally Thursday night; pre-game supper Friday, served by members of Eternas Study Club; football game with Valley; barbecue supper Saturday at the school, and homecoming dance at the Matador Volunteer Fire Department Hall.

Mrs. Hazel Donovan, secretary of the association is receiving letters from the former students and teachers, sending dues and donations to help defray expenses incurred. Rickey Lawrence is president of the association.

Barbara's Bylines

Ever sign up to win something and know you probably won't? Don't give up, your time will come. I was at the South Plains Fair last week and signed up for a lot of the give-aways and Monday morning I got a call that I had won $100 worth of free parts from Marine Electric in Lubbock. It's fun to win!

There is always lots of neat and interesting booths at the fair, people selling a new invention or showing quality in a product that's been around a long time.

The rides now are so different and wild with the loud music and high speed. They are almost hypnotizing, but some are alot of fun.

I only crossed paths with two families I know in the five hours we were there, makes you wonder who was there that we missed.

October Designated As Crime Prevention Month

Governor Bill Clements has signed a proclamation designating October as Crime Prevention Month in Texas. This is a national as well as a statewide observance.

In 1983, October was established as Crime Prevention Month by the National Crime Prevention Coalition and has become a major annual event for the National Citizen's Crime Prevention Campaign.

"Crime and the fear of crime adversely affect the well-being of all citizens and institutions," the Governor said. "Crime prevention is an important means to control the financial loss, personal injury and community deterioration resulting from crime."

Crime Prevention activities continue to grow in Texas as evidenced by the many city and county law enforcement agencies now funding crime prevention units.

The Criminal Justice Division of the Governor's Office provides funding to many of these units.

"Citizen awareness and participation have proven to be a successful force in reducing crime," Clements said. "I urge all citizens, government agencies, businesses, schools, and civic organizations to recognize this observance, and participate actively in crime prevention efforts."

WTU Customers To Receive Fuel Cost Refund

West Texas Utilities Co. customers will receive another fuel cost refund this month.

The refund, requested by the Company, was approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas and will total about $4.6 million. This includes actual over-collections of fuel costs from December 1986 through July 1987, plus interest.

The refunds will be credited to customer bills. A typical residential customer will receive a little more than $7. This is the sixth refund made to WTU retail customers since the summer of 1985.

The fuel rates charged to customers have been adjusted with every refund, but the price of natural gas, WTU's main power plant boiler fuel during the period, has continued to decline.

Meanwhile, WTU is expecting a decision by the PUC in November regarding the Company's request to increase its base rates. A hearing in the case ended September 16 and a final order from the three-member PUC is expected in time to apply any rate change on December bills.

The Company had requested an increase to add $50.3 million in annual revenues, which would bring the new coal-fired Oklaunion Power Station into the rate base.

Sesquicentennial Mules Killed

FORT WORTH -- Two mules that trudged across 3,235 miles of Texas as the leaders of last year's Sesquicentennial Wagon Train were killed by a lightning bolt.

Bonnie and Beth, who pulled the train's lead wagon, died after lightning struck a North Texas ranch's tree under which they had retreated during a thunderstorm, officials say.

"A quiet funeral was held with a few words said over them," said Ina Nell Wood of Fort Worth, who drove the two mules for five of the six months they were on the trail.

"Only members of the owner's family and close friends were there, but we plan a full-fledged funeral later this fall when a bunch of us go on a trail ride through that area," she said.

and Jan France, formerly of Sulphur Springs, now of Roaring Springs, the originators of the Sesquicentennial Wagon Train. The Frances brought Bonnie in South Dakota. Beth was purchased from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

"Beth weighed 1,660 pounds and was well known before the wagon train," Ms. Wood said. "She used to pull a tour wagon for sightseers on the Lyndon Johnson Ranch at Johnson City. When the wagon train went through Johnson City, they gave Beth special recognition."

She described the mules as large but gentle animals, saying Beth flirted along the trail and "talked" often.

"I would imagine thousands of children have their pictures sitting on Bonnie and Beth," Ms. Wood said.

Along the trail that commemorated Texas 150th anniversary of freedom from Mexico last year, several mules and horses died, two people lost their lives and many others were injured.

"Some of us still get together and talk about the great friends we made and how we became close to our animals," Ms. Wood said.

National 4-H Week

by Tricia Palmer

This week is National 4-H Week. Many 4-H'ers across the country this week will be promoting 4-H.

Motley County has two active 4-H Clubs and a third is getting underway. The Roaring Springs Club is led by Dorothy Lefevre and the Matador club is led by Marie Linson.

The Motley County 4-H'ers have a new building this year. The 4-H Building is the old VFW Building. Dances, meetings and many other activities have or will take place there. The building is in the process of getting a new roof and being cleaned up by local 4-Hers.

4-H Clubs are more than just organizations, they teach youth how to work and get along with others. People do not always realize that 4-H is rewarding. The Texas 4-H gives away scholarships yearly to those that earn them.

If you would like to be part of 4-H, contact any 4-H member.

4-Hers help promote 4-H during National 4-H Week.

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

What a joy to meet dozens of kin whom I had neither seen nor heard of before. The little Shady Grove community near Burnet was a perfect setting for a reunion with its quaint little church, shady oak tree grove and a weathered old tabernacle. Children played, adults read name tags and exchanged genealogy information, while all the time studying facial features, hoping to see a common ear, nose, or chin shape.

Inside the little church, the neglected old piano struck up a somewhat off-key tune of "Amazing Grace." There was prayer, preaching, reading names of the deceased, a poem, singing and then the common denominator, FOOD. The rickety old tables under the tabernacle groaned and creaked as they became heavy laden with food fit for a king. All too soon it was over and there was a longing to cling to one another not knowing what another year might bring.

Walking only a few feet away, we opened the gates of a beautiful little cemetery where my roots dug deeper as numerous granite stones rose up out of the ground with "Barton" engraved in their majestic walls. My mind was filled with wonder. "Lord, is this one with you? Did this one love you and serve you? Did this one raise his children to love you and fear you?"

Surely it can't be long before those graves will open and my kin and yours will rise up to meet the Lord in the air where we shall ever be with Him. That reunion will surpass all reunions planned by man. Not only will we be with our loved ones from earth, but also our Beloved who made it possible for us to abide in that wonderful place, whose builder and maker is God. The marriage supper of the Lamb banquet table will be more beautiful and palatable than mortal man has ever prepared. (Rev. 19: 7,9)

May we be faithful in our prayers for our lost friends and family so that there will not be even one vacant setting.

EAT TO WIN

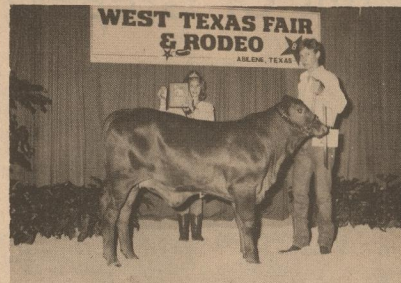

Eating right may give you just the winning edge you've been seeking. But like athletic training, you've got to do it every day, not just the day of competition.

On the day of an athletic contest, you should eat at least 5 hours before participation, especially if it's a large meal. However, a meal high in carbohydrates can be digested quickly, so it can be eaten up to 3 hours before game time. Dehydration can be a problem during athletic events that also can be helped by a good pre-game meal. A few glasses of liquid at this time may prevent the loss of stamina and strength due to dehydration. During the contest, special types of drinks aren't needed. Their sugar content might even add to your dehydration. All you need are a few drinks of water to keep you going.

Smart athletes understand the importance of beginning their good training habits early, and sticking with them to get the best results. Eating right for competition is part of their training, and contributes to their winning edge. It could help you be a winner too.

Remember When

By Annie B. Floyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hello Folks, we have been trying to remember a lot of things and you know it is getting harder and harder, the older we get. I heard this story that fits all of us that are getting to this point in life, that I think you will enjoy.

An old man and his wife were watching some show on the T.V. and the man said, "I'm hungry, aren't you?" She said, "Yes, you can get me a little something to snack on." When he asked, "What do you want me to bring you?" She said, "A little ice cream will be fine - but you better write it down because you are liable to forget all about it by the time you get to the kitchen." He assured her he could remember that and asked "Don't you want that chocolate syrup on the cream?" She said, "That will be good, but you still better write that down cause you will forget that for sure." He said, "No, I won't forget - I don't need a note to remember that. I could even put one of those cherries on top if you want it." She said, "That will be fine, but I still say you need to write it all down so you won't forget what you are going after."

The old man left and was gone a long, long time. When he came back to his wife, he handed her a plate of scrambled eggs. She took it and looked up and said, "I told you that you should have written yourself a note!" He asked, "Why, what did I forget anyway?" She said, "You forgot the bacon."

I don't think I'm that bad yet but I'm getting there. I remember telling Mrs. Lennie Gilbert about going to the kitchen to get something and forgetting what I went after. She said, "Just wait till you take the ironing board to the ice-box and open the door and realize you should be at the closet!"

I have heard other folks say that they can remember things that happened long years ago but can hardly remember what took place the day before. Don't you think we need to try and keep our minds busy at something all the time so they will stay active? It's something to think about anyway. You know the old saying, "Do something even if it is wrong and you have to do it over."

I better stop now and start doing some things around her but will be back and we'll "remember when" again soon.

September 23 brought new hope to cotton producers and their alien workers seeking work authorization cards under the Special Agricultural Worker (SAW) program of the Immigration Reform and Control Act (IRCA) of 1986.

The SAW program permits undocumented aliens who can prove field work in a "perishable" commodity for at least 90 days between May 1, 1985 and May 1, 1986 to apply for temporary legal status. But that privilege until September 23 had been denied cotton workers because cotton isn't included on the list of perishable crops issued by the Secretary of Agriculture.

Now, although cotton still hasn't been declared a perishable crop, eligible cotton workers can apply for and receive a six-month authorization permit. That's the initial result of an Arizona lawsuit petitioning the federal court to overturn the Secretary's decision against cotton as a perishable crop.

If the court declares cotton to be a perishable crop, after six months cotton workers will be notified they are eligible to file for a temporary residency card good for three years. Otherwise, they will again become illegal when the temporary permit expires. The SAW application period expires November 30, 1988, but the Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS) could be expected to deny SAW applications immediately should an adverse court ruling become final.

Southern Arizona Legal Aid, plaintiff in the Arizona suit, had notified INS of its intent to file for an injunction compelling the agency to accept cotton worker SAW applications pending the outcome of the lawsuit. Instead, according to Don Owen, Chief Legalization Officer for Lubbock's INS Legalization Office, INS voluntarily agreed to accept cotton worker applications until the issue is settled, which could take two months or more. The applications will be "provisionally denied" but workers will be given the same six-month work authorization card given to other SAW applicants.

Owen emphasizes that his 1940 Avenue G Legalization Office is separate from the INS Enforcement Division, i.e. Border Patrol, and that his records by law cannot be made available to the Border Patrol, the Internal Revenue Service or any other government agency.

Application forms are available at the Lubbock Legalization Office along with information on how work during the requisite period can be documented, Owen says. Or, he adds, producers and workers for a fee can get forms and any help needed from any of several qualified designated entities (QED's) in the area. Among the QED's are Catholic Family Services of Lubbock, Migrant Advisory Service of Hereford, the League of United Latin American Citizens in Midland, the Seventh-Day Adventists and Catholic Family Services, both of Amarillo.

Owen reports that 7,141 alien applications have been processed through the Lubbock office to date, 6,580 of them under the IRCA's general amnesty provisions and 561 under the SAW program.

The general amnesty provisions require permanent residency in the U.S. since January 1, 1982.

THE FILTHY SWINE

I mention the swine because they have an important place in our economic set-up in our rural life.

Too many farms and ranches have too few hogs. My earliest recollections carry me back to sausage, spare-ribs, southern hams and other delicacies produced by a hog.

A hog is like most everything else, and thrives on good care and attention. I have served and waited on them with a feeling of deprecation and disgust. My interest in hogs is purely financial rather than platonic, but that doesn't keep a hog from being a useful animal. There are millions of them raised in the U.S.A., but the worse feature is that they are not raised in numbers where they are mostly needed. No, I don't find any deeply seated response in caring for hogs. Still, it has been my unhappy allotment to care for them quite a lot. So much so, I have felt like I knew what a hog would think about, before he even thought it, and that his thoughts were always something evil.

If all the hogs in the United States were made into just one hog, he could root a good sized canal from the mouth of the Mississippi River to Lake Michigan, in half a dozen roots and never have to grunt a single sigh of relief, when the task was finished.

The man that buys all the pork his family uses, either doesn't consume much pork, or else finds his pocket book as flat as if an elephant had stepped on it, after paying his meat bills. The old doctrine or just enough hogs to consume the wastage about the place, is no "Mucha Wano," for it means little meat, and the necessity of buying grease to fry what little pork you do have. The correct idea is to have plenty of hogs, care for them well, making the surplus pay the cost of those for home consumption. Remember to have well bred hogs for the sake of economy, since a long nosed roter will eat just as much feed as a well bred hog, but will not make as much pork. It just isn't his type.

Sure, there are large commercial hog growers, as there are large cattle ranches, and both are equipped to grow pork and beef, much cheaper than the little man can grow them, but it is to be remembered the big fellow is in the business purely for the money he can make, and not because he deeply loves people, and wants to feed and otherwise lookout for their best interest. When and if you do rely upon the larger grower of meats to supply your needs, you are either going to get meat hungry, or the thickness of your purse will be materially reduced from what it normally should be. It is the workings of the law of nature, sometimes spoken of as supply and demand.

The demand or need exists, but the public competence isn't always able to meet the demand, no matter how generous the supply may be. Many people that live on salaries are not in a position to grow much of the meat they consume, but that is no excuse for people living on farms and ranches, to buy much of the meat they need to keep them well and healthy.

All countries whose people are large consumers of meats are countries whose people are active and vigorous. Meats are energy builders for the brain and muscle.

McCAGHRENS RETURN FROM RECENT VISIT WITH CALIFORNIA RELATIVES

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCaghren returned home last week from an extended trip to California with Mr. and Mrs. Varner McWilliams of Lubbock. They traveled highway 101 along the rugged coast through the redwood trees and rain forest and places of interest to the home of Mrs. McCaghren's cousins, Shands and Nancy Harrow in Hughson, Calif., who joined them for a continuing trip through Oregon, to Washington, spending the night in Darrington, Wash., with the Harrows' son, Don Frank Harrow, who is a forest ranger. "His long cabin home, nestled among the Cascade Mountain range, was very picturesque and enjoyable," said Mrs. McCaghren.

"We visited in Richmond, Calif., with other relatives, Lula Kate and Jason Sauls," she continued, "taking the ferry boat ride to San Francisco. Missing the ferry back, we rode "Bart" a train which goes through a tunnel under the bay, and continued back to the Sauls residence by taxi.

"After the three couples left Darrington and Yakima, Wash., we traveled along the Columbia River, visiting the fish hatchery and salmon run, up the fish ladder and saw some very large fish in spite of the need of rain to cause fish to move out rapidly. We grieved over the lakes so low in the mountains and so dry in the Mojave Desert - even the Joshua trees seem to be suffering and all the vegetation so dry. The yellow broomweed and purple sagebrush in New Mexico was a beautiful sight to us."

"Another high point of the trip for the McCaghrens was visiting a cousin and daughter, of Bill's he had not seen since early youth. In Portland and Sherwood, Oregon, they visited Miles McCaghren's daughter and husband they had never seen, and caught up on some of the family history.

The McWilliamses visited relatives in Fresno, Sean and Royella Van Dyne, and in Pine Ridge, Auberry, Calif., and friends, in Holbrook, Ariz., and in Yakima, Wash.

And now abideth faith, hope and love. These three, but the greatest of these is love.

LETTERS COMING IN FROM EXES

Monday of last week Pauline Bateman received a nice letter from Mr. Chester D. Sullivan of Lubbock, former Commercial subjects teacher and assistant coach at Patton Springs. He taught at Patton Springs High school in 1937 under Mr. O.C. Southall and in 1938 and 1939 under Mr. Moyné Kelly. He reports that he has kept in touch with Patton Springs for the past 50 years and will be at Homecoming October 16th and 17th unless he is scheduled for knee surgery which is coming up for him in the near future. I am sure many people remember Mr. Sullivan and we do look forward to seeing him. He enclosed his homecoming dues.

Also received a nice letter from Shirley Brawner who wrote for her husband Stanley Brawner of Lubbock. It is sad however to learn that Stanley himself was unable to write due to a stroke he suffered three years ago, but he wants to be on the mailing list and pay his dues. The Brawners hope to be able however to attend this reunion, Shirley says it will depend on the weather and Stanley's condition. We hope and pray we will see you both there.

Hosting a class reunion for the Patton Springs senior class of 1935 and the Afton senior class of 1934 are Pauline Bateman, Clara Ragland and Lizzie Lou Bridge. The reunion will be held in a class room. The room number will be announced later.

I'm sure everyone remembers Mrs. Roxie Lewis who taught at Patton Springs so many years and was a wonderful teacher, and will be proud to know she is still living in Roaring Springs. Received such a nice letter from her and she may be unable to attend homecoming but she and her daughter Sandra Kay Lewis Smallwood wish to be members and send along dues. Sandra Kay lives in LaPray, Texas. (Thanks Mrs. Lewis for all the kind things you wrote).

Pauline also heard from an old timer Mrs. Nellie (Scott) Williams formerly of Afton, now living in O'Donnell, Texas. Nellie hopes to be present at Homecoming, and thanks to her she sent along addresses of her niece, Joyce Scott Burnett and her three nephews, Bill, Darwin and Stanley Scott. We finally got them back into the fold.

They are still busy rounding up the strays and found everyone except one from the classes of 1936 and 1937. This one is Gordon Chisenhall, a member of the 1937 class whose mother, Mrs. Edna Chisenhall taught at Patton Springs at that time. Does anyone know the whereabouts of Gordon? Please let us know if you do. We are also interested in locating Elda Stovall and Mr. Everett Richardson, who was a teacher at Midway before coming to Patton Springs and was principal here in 1937 after Mr. Giesecke went to Roaring Springs. Elda Stovall was in the Patton Springs class of 1938.

Freddie Middlebrooks Moore of Flint, Texas writes that she is interested in trying to help locate Mr. Richardson. She also sent along the address of her brother Bateman Middlebrooks of Topeka, Indiana. Bateman won the prize two years ago for traveling farthest to Homecoming and we hope to see him back here this year.

The association also heard from a former Patton Springs boy now living in Matador, Clayton Thomas, who also sent along his dues. He writes that he and his wife, Mae, will attend Homecoming. They expect to be on hand for the noon meal Saturday, October 17th, also his brothers and their wives, Charles and Emelie Thomas, Donnie and Shirley Hickman Thomas. (Charles, Donnie and Shirley are all Patton Exes) with them will be Clayton and Mae's son and his wife, Ray and Susan (Copeland) Thomas of Matador, (Susan is an Ex of Patton) and J.W. Joplin and his wife Gloria. (J.W. is also a Patton ex-student).

James Cook, ag. teacher at Patton Springs in the 50's sends word by Beverly Bridge Darsey of Matador that he will be at Homecoming and would love to see his former students. Mr. Cook retired in 1980 and now lives in Harlingen, Texas.

Theatre Arts was offered last year, also. During the year, the class will present plays and possibly a musical. The students learn how to project their voices and the correct standing procedures on stage.

A theatre class is required to receive a Honors diploma. Mrs. Hays is doing a fine job of keeping all 26 students busy.

VA News Feature

Q. - Is there a maximum amount a veteran can pay for a home when using a VA-guaranteed loan?

A. - The VA does not set a maximum amount that a veteran can pay for a home. However, the VA's appraised value as stated in its Certificate of Reasonable Value sets the maximum amount of a loan that the VA will guarantee.

Q. - If my VA guaranteed loan is assumed by a nonveteran, can my entitlement be restored?

A. - No. The amount of entitlement used when the loan was obtained cannot be restored until the loan is paid in full. However, the release of liability can be obtained.

Q. - Is a veteran entitled to compensation for disabilities that existed prior to military service?

A. - Compensation may be paid for pre-existing conditions when such conditions increased in severity during service beyond the natural progression of the disability.

Letters From Exes

Although many ex-students and ex-teachers will be unable to attend school Homecoming this year, they have responded to the invitation by sending dues and donations to help in defraying expenses. Following are excerpts from some of the letters received by Secretary Hazel Donovan:

From Frances Moss, Lubbock: "I plan to attend if possible. Hope this (donation) will help with some of the expenses."

From Hollis, OK, comes this message: "Dear Hazel, would love to come to the homecoming celebration, but doubt we'll be able to make it. Lilly (Edmondson) is having an eye implant and will be with us for a while...so it will depend on if she is able to come or not. Tell everyone hello for us. Our check for dues is included. I know everyone will have a great time. Sincerely, Lamar Guthrie, Class of 1925 and Georgia Westmoreland Guthrie, Class of 1931."

Mrs. Elbert (Jewell) Reeves writes from Plainview: "Dear Hazel, thank you for the invitation to attend Homecoming, and the Homecoming schedule. I am sorry I will not get to attend, but I am enclosing my dues and a small contribution."

"Enclosed is $5.00 for the 1987 school homecoming. Thanks for the notice. As of now Jim will not be able to attend," is a note from Mary Fulkerson (Mrs. Jimmy Fulkerson) of Lubbock.

Received from Grace Moore Guy of Lubbock, a generous donation and this personal note: "...your surprise birthday party must have been an 'unsurpassable' event!"

"We are unable to come to Homecoming, but we're sending the dues anyway. Have a good year. Fran Campbell, for Harry (Vernon, Texas)."

Pete Davis, Class of '63 writes: "Sorry we can't attend, but Brownfield High is also having their Homecoming at the same time. I hope everyone has a great time."

From Berndena Nelson Hawkins; Lubbock: "Enclosed is check for dues. Sorry I can't attend this year."

From Ruth D. Bryan, Pheonix, Arizona: "Allen and I had planned to attend Homecoming this year, but he passed away April 2. I'm enclosing his dues. He would want me to send it. Just wish he was here so we could attend."

A note from Cecil Cammack, Tyler, Texas: "Sorry - can't make it this year."

Neal Pipkin writes from his new home in Mesa, Arizona: "I am sorry I will not be able to attend this year's homecoming. I've made quite a few recently and have thoroughly enjoyed each one. Hopefully, I can make it back before too long! Maybe this is the year we beat Valley! Enclosed are my dues. I sure miss seeing the write-ups of games in the Tribune."

Dear Hazel: Enclosed is a check to help out with Homecoming activities. I would like to attend, but just returned from a visit with my folks this past weekend. The weather was perfect, and everything looked so green and neat in town. The new school is an impressive facility....I enjoyed reading about your birthday surprise. That cake was a real work of art and it must have been difficult to cut into it. Hello to all of those friends from the 50's and everyone else. Have a good time for us all! From Morris, Houston, Texas (Frances Traweck Morris)

"Hi Hazel: Hope you enjoyed your birthday half as much as we did reading about it! We won't be able to make homecoming this year, but know it will be great as usual. Tell Rose and Carl hello for us and better not read in the paper of them visiting in Midland again without a hello from them in person. Gary and Rene Laughlin."

From Katie (Eubank) Gustafson of Omaha, Neb., (cousin of the late Virginia Hoyle): "Happy to send my dues....wish I could be there, it would be so much fun."

"Thanks for the information concerning the 1987 Homecoming. I wish I could be there to help you celebrate the event in your new school building, but I will be unable to attend this year. However, I am making plans to be there next year when my 1938 graduating class will mark its 50th anniversary. I am looking forward to seeing all of you then. Enclosed is my check to help with expenses. May I convey my thanks to you, Hazel, for assuming the primary burden for the Homecoming for so many years. Very sincerely, G.W. Fulfer, San Diego, California."

"Dear Hazel: Again it will not be possible for me to be there for homecoming. I have finally moved to Phoenix and am still trying to get everything from Amarillo to fit into this house in Phoenix that was already full enough. I hope that you have a wonderful time. Sincerely, Margaret Nell (Crews) Norman."

"Dear Hazel: Steve and I look forward to seeing you and the members of the class of '57. Thirty years! How can that be, when we are all still 39! Love, Joanne (Darsey) Stevens, Dallas."

From Barbara (Ketchersid) and Raworth Tison, Lubbock: "Enclosing our dues and do hope we will be able to be there, at least for the meeting. Hope to see you then."

Each student received a four-inch piece of leather to create his own design using the six stamping tools and a mallet. Each creation could later be used as a bookmark or keychain.

Mr. Arnett told the classes, "Leatherwork in the home has many benefits...from being a simple, stress-relieving hobby to a way for people to make extra spending money by reselling projects. What better way for you to save money than to make Christmas and birthday gifts yourself? No other craft offers so many benefits for such a small investment."

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed this educational program and especially the hands-on activities it provided.

Announcement Of Elected District Director

H.R. Jameson of Matador was recently re-elected to the Upper Pease board of directors October 6, 1987. Jameson represents zone three of the district.

The purpose of the Upper Pease SWCD, with headquarters in Matador is to promote sound soil and water conservation programs on farm and ranch lands within the district and to serve as a voice for farmers and ranchers on conservation matters and other issues affecting private property rights of landowners.

The board of directors coordinates the conservation efforts of various local, state and federal agencies and other organizations and has authority to enter into working agreements with these governmental agencies and private concerns to carry out its purposes. As one of five individuals serving on the district board of directors, Jameson will be responsible for district policies and procedures for carrying out the district program within the framework of the Texas soil conservation district law.

In Texas there are 206 soil and water conservation districts. Each is a legal subdivision of state government organized by local agricultural landowners with the assistance of the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board. Unlike most other legal subdivisions of state government, SWCD's do not have the powers of taxation or eminent domain. All conservation programs managed by the districts are of a voluntary nature to the landowner or operator.

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

People who believe they may be eligible for supplemental security income (SSI) payments should apply without delay. Payment can begin only with the day of application or the date of eligibility, whichever is later. In the case of a child, an application can be made by a parent or guardian or by some other responsible person.

The application process can be speeded up if the person brings along certain information at the time he or she applies; however, the application should not be delayed simply because all of the information is not available. Social Security personnel will help obtain whatever else is needed. This information includes:

- * The applicant's social security card;
- * A birth certificate or other proof of age;
- * Details of income and assets

(such as payroll slips, bank books, and copies of tax returns);

* Medical records for applicants claiming eligibility for SSI on the basis of disability or blindness.

Sometimes a blind or disabled person who lives in a public institution becomes capable of living in the community but lacks the necessary funds to do so. Monthly SSI checks may permit the person to live outside the institution.

As an alternative, a responsible person can apply on behalf of the institutionalized person when it appears that he or she will soon be discharged.

Additional information about the SSI program can be obtained at the Social Security office at 1401-B West 5th Street, or you may call us at 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

LION news and notes
Taking Pride In A Healthy Community

The Matador Lions met October 6 in the United Methodist Church Fellowship Hall for a delicious meal prepared by Walter Jones. Served were 29 Lions and 4 guests, Royce Mills, Nell Clem, Charles Francis and Barbara Jameson, newspaper editor.

Boss Lion Minkley reported on the directors meeting. He stated they had decided to help get glasses for some children in Motley County.

Lion Larry Hoyle introduced the local Post Mistress Nell Clem, who introduced Mr. Charles Francis, Account Representative for the Post Office Department of Lubbock.

Mr. Charles Francis said he was glad to be in Matador even though it sounded like he was in Aggie territory. As a Texas Tech graduate he was real pleased with the outcome of Saturday's game.

Mr. Francis explained the postage rate chart and other services available from the Post Office. Some, he explained seem to be well kept secrets. He assured the Lions that the Post Office was there for the benefit of the people.

Highway Construction Recruiting Women

There are now job possibilities for women in the highway construction industry. The Highway Construction for Women Program will be recruiting women for referral to highway construction jobs in the Lubbock area in October. These positions include form setters, concrete finishers, steel reinforcers, carpenters, truck drivers and general construction laborers.

The Highway Construction for Women Program staff is interested in talking with women who may desire the new challenge of "non-traditional" work. Interested women should call on MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, ONLY (806) 763-9441, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and ask for the Highway Construction for Women Program. The Highway Construction for Women Program is operated by the Texas Engineering Extension Service, a part of the Texas A&M University System.

Free Flowering Trees For Fall Planting

Ten free flowering trees will be given to each person who joins the National Arbor Day Foundation during October, 1987.

The Foundation will give two White Dogwood, two American Redbud, two European Mountain-ash, two Washington Hawthorn and two Flowering Crab trees to members joining during October. The free trees are part of the Foundation's efforts to improve the quality of life in America by encouraging tree planting.

"The National Arbor Day Foundation is encouraging more people to plant trees in the fall, which is an excellent time for tree planting," John Rosenow, the Foundation's executive director, said. "So we're giving these free flowering trees to people who make a $10 membership contribution during October.

"These trees were selected because they will give a colorful flowering pink, white and red blossoms throughout the spring," Rosenow added. "The six-to-twelve inch trees will be sent postpaid at the right time for planting between October 15 and December 10, with enclosed planting instructions. The trees are guaranteed to grow, or we will replace them free of charge."

To become a member of the Foundation and to receive the free trees, a $10 membership contribution should be sent to FLOWERING TREES, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Avenue, Nebraska City, NE 68410, by October 31, 1987.

Leather Program At Patton Springs

On Monday, September 21, Otis Arnett and his assistant, Cathy Crisp, from Tandy Leather Company in Lubbock visited the fourth through eighth grades at Patton Springs to give a leather presentation.

He began his program with some facts about leather through the ages. As he spoke, he passed around many different kinds of animal skins which were tanned at his company. The skins ranged in size from the little toad found in your yard to the twelve foot python found on four continents. He also demonstrated how easily calf leather can be indented while metal did not even leave a mark on the tough shark skin. Some other favorites the students handled were the skunk, elephant, and the red
