COFFEE BEANS IN OUR LIVES

A young woman went to her mother and told her about her life and how things were so hard for her. She did not know how she was going to make it and wanted to give up. She was tired of fighting and struggling. It seemed as one problem was solved, a new one arose.

Her mother took her to the kitchen. She filled three pots with water and placed each on a high fire. Soon the pots came to a boil. In the first she placed carrots, in the second she placed eggs, and in the last she placed ground coffee beans. She let them sit and boil, without saying a word. In about twenty minutes she turned off the burners. She fished the carrots out and placed them in a bowl. She pulled the eggs out and placed them in a bowl. Then she ladled the coffee out and placed it in a Turning to her daughter, she asked, "Tell me, what do you see?

"Carrots, eggs, and coffee," she repled. Her mother brought her closer and asked her to feel the carrots. She did and noted that they were soft. The mother then asked the daughter to take an egg and break it. After pulling off the shell, she observed the hard boiled egg. Finally, the mother asked the daughter to sip the coffee.

The daughter smiled as she tasted its rich aroma. The daughter then asked, "What does it mean, mother?"

Her mother explained that each of these objects had faced

Believing that Jesus rose from the dead is the very heart of the gospel. This belief did not grow up within the church. It is the belief around which the church itself grew up. The early church understood that the resurrection of Jesus is the only explanation for the tomb being empty. Jesus called us who believe "blessed." Why? Because... "Blessed are those who have not seen and yet have believed." The gospel is still the power that changes lives today. Truly, God has the same adversity ... boiling water ... each reacted differently. The carrot went in strong, hard, and unrelenting. However, after being subjected to the boiling water, it softened and be-came weak. The egg had been fragile. It's thin outer shell had protected its liquid interior, but after sitting through the boiling water, its inside became hardened. The ground coffee beans

Does my shell look the same, but on the inside am I bitter and tough with a stiff spirit and hardened heart?

Or am I like the coffee bean? The bean actually changes the hot water, the very circumstance that brings the pain. When the water gets hot, it releases the fragrance and flavor. If you are like the bean, when things are at their worst, you get better and change the situation around you.

When the hour is the darkest and trials are their greatest, do you elevate yourself to another level? How do you handle adversity? Are you a carrot, an egg, or a coffee bean?

MOTLEY COUNTY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NEWS & VIEWS

By: Mary Louise Liebe-Harkort

Consider:

As the philosopher and literary critic George Santayana put it so perceptively once upon a time, "He who does not learn from history is doomed to repeat it."

Those of you who didn't make it to Friday night's Late Night Shopping event in Roaring Springs missed a fine evening. The full moon shone on Santa, as he arrived at a brisk clip in a mule driven wagon with bells ajingling and kids singing Jingle Bells. Mayor Corky Marshall handed out popcorn in a town beautifully decorated with Christmas lights and packed with people filled with holiday spirit. Most of the businesses had drawings for prizes, and there were goodies at every shop, even spiced tea at Petticoat Junction.

But you can learn from your mistake if you missed out on all the fun, since you have another chance to enjoy Late Night Shopping in the county, this time in Matador.

On Thursday, December 2, the event will start off with a treat for senior citizens: between 4 and 6 p.m., they will receive a special discount.

Then, at 5:30 p.m., Santa Claus will arrive in town to greet children of all ages. The smaller ones will be able to do some special shopping for things in their price range at the fire house after 6 p.m. Then the shopping can begin in earnest. Anyone spending more than $10 at one business will be able to draw a bell for a prize, which is described on the bell and will send you off to another store to collect your prize. If you can't make it in time, don't worry, since the bell prizes will be accepted through the next

Among the prizes are $75 worth of Motley County Bucks, donated by the Chamber of Commerce. But most all the businesses have donated some door prize, and you will have to check out the shops to see what

By 9 p.m., everyone should have been able to make it around to all the shops, despite the necessary visiting and checking the wares of the vendors with booths on Main Street, so the storekeepers will shutter up their shops after what promises to be an evening filled with holiday cheer.

PROOF OF THE TRUTH

BY TOM EDWARDS

Why the beginning focus on absolutism versus relativism?

Because a correct understanding and beginning assumption of the nature of truth is foundational to right thinking on all else.

Today, relativism rules, in government, academic, law, and even some churches. God gave us the ability to reason and think. This is part of being made "in the image of God." He even said, "Come now, let us reason together," (Isa. 1:18), but the fall of Adam impacted our very ability to do it. This is called the "noThe absolutist (and honest scientist) reasons from foundational self-evident truths and laws of logic, whereas the relativists "no absolutes" world view allows him to define his own truth, reality, and morality, changing it as he sees fit. As opposed to the right-thinking absolutist, the relativist has his feet firmly planted on false assumptions in mid-air.

God is a God of absolutes. St. Augustine said, "a Christian is one who thinks, in believing, and believes in thinking.'

THANK YOU FOR READING THE MOTLEY COUNTY TRIBUNE

by Marilynn Hicks, Principal

I hope that everyone got to visit with family during the Thanksgiving break. The weather cooperated, and there was eating and hunting and football games in the homes where Randy and I were. He has always said that Thanksgiving is his favorite holiday; there is no stress for giving and everyone seems relaxed and gets to engage in fun activities. He could be right.

Speaking of Christmas .. Sometimes I think that we teach children to be selfish. It was never our (The Hicks) plan to ask kids what they wanted for Christmas. We just got what we thought we could afford, and believe me, it was always a surprise. When I taught English, my classes wrote a paper about what was the best gift they could give someone. I encouraged them to think of something that had no cost or low cost. It was a challenging assignment but usually insightful.

In the book, The Essential 55, Ron Clark has as "Rule #9 Always say thank you when I give you something. If you do not say it within 3 seconds after receiving the item, I will take it back. There is no excuse for not showing appreciation. I think that often we miss a great op-portunity to teach and require appreciation from our children.

By the time you read this, all of the K-5 students at Motley County will have seen The Polar Express movie. This is a great book, and I hope that the movie is good.

There are basketball tournaments and games are out of town for the next two weeks. If you want to see the action you will have to travel to Patton or Vernon or Guthrie. It might well be worth the trip.

By Annie Green When I began the sixth

Not only writing it, but reading it as well. I read this poem once, but I am not certain who wrote it. It is a beautiful poem that I thought you would enjoy.

How Could You Say No To This Man? Thorns on his head, spear in his side,

LETTERTO

Dear Carla,

I want to take this opportunity to say thanks to all the businesses and everyone who made the late night shopping in Roaring Springs a big success. It has been years since I have seen our town without a parking place on a Friday night.

If I start naming names I will leave out someone so I will not try. I do need to name one who did the most work to make this a success. That person is Linda Hess who called me with the idea and then worked three weeks contacting businesses; writing the advertisements and then sending them out. Thank you, Linda. I also want to say a big thank you to Marisue Potts and Ralph Powell who brought the mule team and a wagon to bring Santa Claus to town. Thank you to Billy Bruce Lefevre who was Santa's helper.

Now, I want to say thank you to the businesses who gave door

FARM & RANCH NEWS

Developing this year's marketing plan for cattle will be topic of one-day workshop

from the office of Motley County Extension Agent, Eric Lewis

To say that the cattle markets have been wild for the past two years would be an understatement. While cow-calf operators have weaned and sold their calves for record prices, stocker cattle operators have been wearing out their pencils trying to decide whether a profit can be projected once they buy the calves. Still further, cattle feeders have been punished by lower-than-break even offerings from packers. All of this uncertainty makes a marketing plan a critical component of any cattle operator's management tools. Want help in developing this year's marketing plan for cattle? Well then, plan to attend the one-day Advanced Topic Series (ATS) course entitled Developing This Year's Marketing Plan for Cattle being offered on December 17, 2004, at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center in Vernon. This course will begin at 8:30 a.m. and end at 5:00 p.m.

In this one-day workshop, participants will learn about fundamentals, technical signals, seasonal trends in cash, basis and contracts for cattle. In addition, different marketing strategies will be discussed for both stocker cattle and retained ownership. The objective is for participants to leave the course with all the information necessary to complete a written marketing plan for their operation for the upcoming year. This course will be taught at a highly applied level utilizing a combination of lecture and small group work to maximize the learning experience similar to the Master Marketer training.

The speakers for this short course are Stan Bevers-Professor and Extension Economist, Vernon, Dr. Steve Amosson-Regents Fellow and Professor and Extension Economist, Amarillo and Dr. David Anderson, Association Professor and Extension Economist - Livestock Marketing and Policy, College Station. Mr. Bevers' specialization includes farm and ranch management, marketing and risk management, and marketing club development. Dr. Amosson's program emphasis includes price risk management and market analysis, price outlook and market information and dissemination. Dr. Anderson, Texas Cooperative Extension's new Livestock Marketing Economist, focuses on all aspects of the livestock industry in Texas.

The registration fee for this workshop is $75 per participant. The registration fee includes the cost of materials, breaks and lunches. Pre-registration is required with the registration deadline being one week prior to the program. The registration forms are available through your County Extension office or through your Area Extension Economist, Stan Bevers at 940-552-9941, ext. 231.
