WASTE REDUCTION ENVIROSHOPPING.

Waste reduction is a critical part of the solution to our solid waste problem. Reducing waste at the source is one of the most effective ways to decrease house-hold garbage. It's easier to manage gar-hold garbage. It's easier to manage garbage bage by preventing it from entering the home in the first place than to deal with it once it's there. Reducing waste this way is called waste reduction, or precycling. Is called waste reduction, or precycling. Precycling involves a three-step, deci-sion-making process about products and packaging. First, decide what it truly needed and affordable, then identify and compare the alternatives to buying new products and third, select the best product

Planned product obsolescence contrib-utes to our garbage problem and increases consumption of energy and natural re-sources

Consumption or energy and natural re-sources. Packaging is the single largest con-tributor to the household waste stream, and is steadily increasing in volume. In addition, packaging accounts for 30 per-cent by weight and 50 percent by volume of what we discard, according to the EPA. This indicates that most packaging is not being recycled. When possible, choose the packaging with the least envi-ronmental impact in terms of energy use,

Public Notice

On February 22, 1994, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company ("Southwestern Bell" or "Company") filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas ("Commission") to restructure the Company's Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of its Switched Access Service. This matter has been assigned to Docket No. 12784. The tariff sheets in Southwestern Bell's application, if approved, will bring the Company's intrastate Access Service Tariff into structural parity with the Company's interstate Tariff No. 73 for Local Transport. Southwestern Bell's companion interstate tariff became effective on January 1, 1994.

The transport rate elements provide for the transmission facilities between the cutomer's premises and the end office switch(es) where the customer's traffic is switched to originate or terminate the customer's communications.

Southwestern Bell proposes to implement the revised tariffs on a revenue neutral basis. Although the proposed tariff changes will affect all customers subscribing to Switched Access Service, the Local Transport and Directory Transport categories of Southwestern Bell's Switched Access Service is primarily for interexchange carriers. If approved, this application will result in an increase in Southwestern Bell's revenues of approximately $1682.00 during the first year. Southwestern Bell proposes that the changes be effective on December 1, 1994.

Persons who wish to intervene in or comment upon these proceedings should notify the commission as soon as possible, as an intervention deadline will be imposed. A request to intervene or for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757. Further information may also be obtained by calling the Public Utility Commission's Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221 for text telephone. The deadline for intervention in the proceeding is May 6, 1994.

Goat Production Meeting To Be Held In Dickens Tuesday, April 19

With the advent of NAFTA, the meat goat market may prove to be a viable; alternative for livestock producers with marginal rangeland in Motley County. Research has proven that goats are better suited to graze on poor rangeland than beef, especially on shinnery infested pastures. By implementing a goat productin program with current grazing strategies, hers may be able to utilize browse and other undesirable plants because of the eating habits of goats

On Tuesday, April 19th, a Goat Pro-duction Meeting will be held in Dickens County at 6:00 p.m. on Don Karr's Ranch. Dr. Frank Craddock, TAEX Sheep and Goat Specialist from San Angelo, will be on hand to discuss meat goat production on marginal rangeland in the Rolling Plains.

Topics to be addressed by Dr. Crad-dock include Doe and Kid Management, Selection of Replacement Does and Bucks, Marketing Spanish Meat Goats, and dis-cussion on the New Boer Goat.
