64TH YEAR—No. 51

MATADOR, MOTLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1959

PRICE SEVEN CENTS

Rites are Held For J. R. Moore

A PIONEER, J. R. "Rufe" Moore, who came to Motley County before it was organized, is dead. Death came to the pioneer rancher early Saturday in Stanley Hospital following several years of failing health. He had been hospitalized for the last five months, first in Lubbock, and later here. He was 91. His wife of 60 years preceded him in death last Dec. 27.

Final rites were held in the First Baptist Church here Sunday afternoon at 3 p. m. with Rev. Gene Hawkins, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. W. B. Vaughn, retired Methodist minister.

Interment was made in East Mound Cemetery under the direction of Eudy-Seale Funeral Home. Graveside Masonic rites were conducted by the Matador Lodge of which he was a charter member. Pallbearers were: John Stevens, Ben Edwards, Elbert Reeves, Joe Bloodworth, L. B. Cambell, Gus Bird, D. P. Keith and Glenn Woodruff.

The Masonic graveside rites were under the direction of Furman Vinson as Worshipful Master, and assisting in the rites with other members of the order were Raby Webb, Pat Sheridan, D. E. Pitts Sr., and Robert Darsey.

Mr. Moore is survived by four daughters, 10 grandchildren and 16 great grandchildren. Two of his daughters live in Lubbock. They are Mrs. Chas. A. Guy and Mrs. Sam G. Dunn. Others are Mrs. J. Farris Fish of Matador and Mrs. Charlotte Hunsucker of Corpus Christi.

Born in Lenore, N. C., Aug. 26, 1867, Mr. Moore came to Texas at the age of 21, leaving a train at Childress, then the nearest rail point to Matador, and making the balance of the journey by backroad.

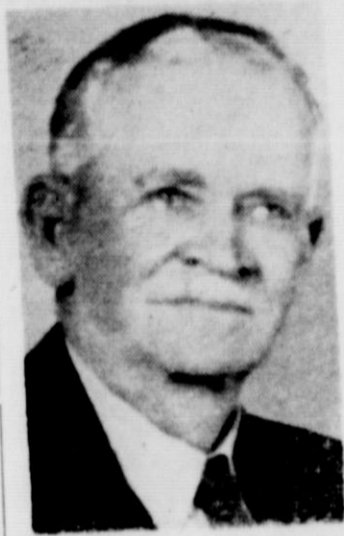

Early-Day Cowboy
James Rufus Moore worked first as a cowboy for the Matadors. After his marriage on Jan. 9, 1898 to Miss Velma Burleson, he and his bride lived at the ranch headquarters.

In 1900 Mr. Moore left the Matadors and went into the cattle business for himself. He operated his ranch, located between Matador and Roaring Springs continuously until he retired about five years ago.

He was a member of the First Baptist Church, and was also a Knight Templar and a charter member of Khiva Shrine Temple, Amarillo. He received his Blue Lodge pin in Lubbock several years ago.

Successful Rancher
Mr. Moore was well known as a pioneer of this area and among the most successful independent ranchers. He came here when this country was entering development as a cattle-raising empire. His vision prompted him to acquire the then cheap land and stock it with good cattle.

Mr. Moore had lived here continuously for 70 years to become one of the county's most prominent citizens. A perpetual memorial to Mr. and Mrs. Moore will be the history for the First Baptist Church which they had published two years ago, to preserve its chronology for posterity.

Interest to be Focused on Public Schools Week Here

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The cowboy is gone except on motion picture and television screens. He has been succeeded by a man who usually drives to the range in a heated automobile with his saddle horse towed along in a trailer. He may frequently drive a greater distance in an hour than the horse could travel in a full day on foot. The modern rider probably has a nylon lariat rope tied to the pommel side of his saddle horn. He beats his branding irons on a butane fire and smokes ready rolled cigarettes. He drinks his coffee from an electric percolator and sleeps under an electric blanket.

A man's train of thought is seldom reluctant to pull on to a siding when a pretty girl is passing.

Unused friendship is like a forgotten bank account.

A few seeds planted in the soil of encouragement may later grow to shade the ambition of a friend sweating under the yoke of adversity.

Unfortunately courage is all too often composed of equal parts of bourbon and water.

The automobile is an instrument of freedom that has put wheels under man's dreams, and only slightly safer than if he had hitched his wagon to a plummeting star.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCaghen visited in Fort Worth from Friday until Sunday with their daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Darwin Scott and small son. En route home they visited relatives at Eastland.

SCOUT LEADERS RECOGNIZED AT RECENT BANQUET

Local supporters and leaders in Boy Scout work were among the approximately 250 area scout workers who attended the 10th annual Haynes District recognition banquet for adult Boy Scout workers held at Plainview Tuesday night of last week. Matador Boy Scout Troop #60 received signal honors at the banquet, and one of its scoutmasters, Douglas Pitts Jr., was among persons receiving scoutmaster's keys, a training award presented to top unit leaders who have served for three or more years.

Honors received by the Matador Troop included the National Camping Award, given troops that have had at least 50% of the members with 10 days of camping; the "Onward for God and My Country" award, given for attaining charter requirements, and the 100% Boys Life award, given to troops in which every boy is a subscriber to the scout magazine.

Dr. A. Hope Owen, Wayland Baptist College president was guest speaker for the occasion. Judge Harold LaFont of the 64th District and longtime scout worker and supporter, was master of ceremonies. New district officers installed were: Tut Tawater, district chairman, and Hugh Smith, district commissioner.

Attending from Matador were Judge and Mrs. Elbert Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fullingim and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Pitts Jr.

AT MOTHER'S BEDSIDE

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cooper drove to Pampa Monday night to be at the bedside of his mother, Mrs. Jim Cooper, a patient in Highland General Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cooper went to Stinnett last week and visited their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Worsham, and Mrs. Jimmie Worsham, through the week end, and were accompanied by Mrs. Worsham, to the hospital.

Lions Meeting at School Luncheon

ADULT TEXANS are going back to school next week as citizens throughout the length and breadth of the Lone Star State look in on the Texas schools. Plans are being made in Motley County schools to receive the visitors expected to visit class rooms and school plants. Here in Matador Supt. Ezzell and members of the high school and grade school faculties expect the number of visitors to exceed previous years.

Texans are taking a greater interest in their schools as result of the annual Public Schools Week program, started nine years ago with the Masonic Lodge as sponsoring agent.

Governor Price Daniel has proclaimed March 2 through March 6 as Public Schools Week, as have mayors, school board members and others. Greater interest is being focused on Texas' school systems than ever before.

Members of Matador Lions Club will be served the regular club luncheon in the school lunchroom. A meeting will be held in the high school auditorium which will be followed by a tour through the local school plant.

An "Amateur Hour" will climax the observance here. The evening of entertainment will begin Thursday (March 5th) at 8 p.m. following open house from 6 until 7:45 p.m. Students and teachers are busy working on unusual acts, and the program promises to be highly entertaining.

Visitors will be welcome any time during the week, said Supt. Ezzell, but a special invitation is extended for visitation on Thursday. All who plan to eat in the school lunchroom should send word by students to their teacher, or call the school office at number 179. The cost of lunch will be 50 cents to all adults.

Every person living in the Matador Independent School District is invited and urged to visit the school during this special week and see what is being done in the public school of today.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car" —The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

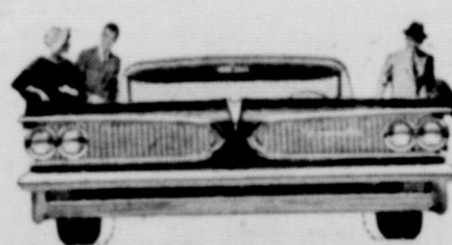

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fleet look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 420E Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you road-test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better grip on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean disappear, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier. Handling is easier. You drive with a new confidence, a comforting security. Pontiac gives you roadability no "narrow gauge" car can offer.

FREE! If you would like a reprint of the complete, illustrated article with all the tests and evaluations on which Motor Trend judged Pontiac "Car of the Year" — see your Pontiac dealer or simply send your name and address to a postcard to Pontiac Motor Division, Department 10, Pontiac, Michigan.

NORMAL DAY FOR STUDENTS

by Ida Fair

We wake each morning, 6:00 to 8:30, we are aware of a new day breaks before us. Usually breaks us, too. To get up we must go unless we are wakened at some awful hour on Saturday, then we merely turn over and snore some more.

We would do this every morning except for annoying things like alarm clocks, frisky pets, frisky pests, such as a little fly with a water gun.

After a few minutes of trying to think how to keep from getting up we "cheerfully" hop out of bed, wash our faces and brush our teeth. We get up by ways of getting revenge on people who have spoiled our day. The minute no one is looking we put our oatmeal on the stove and pepper in the dish.

As soon as we have finished eating, we remember we have a first period assignment. We rush back into our rooms and start flying paper, dropping books, and ink over our newly laundered clothes, we finish our day.

We feel pretty proud of ourselves when we discover our clothes (which we threw earlier) are stopped and it's not really 9:00 but five 'til 9:00. We fly off to school combing our hair or brushing our teeth. When we arrive we look neat and calm, but you should see what we left behind.

FRESHMEN NEWS
by Judy Hobbs

Well, nothing unusual or exciting has happened to us "fish" service.

lately, and we finally got through six weeks test. We have been doing the usual thing in all our classes, but we have been experimenting in science. We have been testing different foods to see what elements are in each kind, and Mr. Moore showed us what to mix together to make colored fire. I guess we're all glad basketball is over, even though it seems odd to stay at home for a change. We were so used to rushing to catch the bus, we hardly knew what "slow down" meant. Well, that's the latest on the freshman class. We've really had a lot of fun this year, and we're all looking forward to the next three years in MHS.

Teen-Agers Tell How to be Popular

How to make yourself popular is a problem for all ages, but it can be a particularly disturbing one for teen-agers. Here is some advice:

- 1) Let people know you like them.
- 2) Don't monopolize conversation.
- 3) Think of ways to make others feel important.
- 4) Don't carry grudges.
- 5) Admit your mistakes cheerfully.
- 6) Don't tell long-drawn-out or involved jokes, or the same one over and over.
- 7) Keep your nose out of the upper atmosphere.
- 8) Don't burn people down just for a laugh.
- 9) Listen politely to other people's ideas even if they sound real crazy.
- 10) Learn to duck a fight without losing your dignity.
- 11) Be a good loser.
- 12) Be a good winner.
- 13) Don't be afraid to start a fad—someone has to.
- 14) Discuss other people's religions open-mindedly.
- 15) Make a list of your bad habits and try to overcome them.
- 16) Don't be a name dropper.
- 17) Let your friends know that in an emergency they can depend on you.
- 18) Don't confide in everyone.

NOTICE

1. It has been brought to the Superintendent's attention that many students are dying and refusing to fall over after death. THIS PRACTICE MUST STOP!!!

2. Effective the first of this month, any person found sitting up after he or she has died, will be dropped from the class roll at once, that is, within 15 days, if it is found that the person is being supported by a desk or other school property.

3. Principal and teachers will see that following procedure is strictly followed:

a. If after several hours it is noted that the position of a student has not changed, the teacher will investigate. Because of the highly sensitive nature of our students, this investigation will be conducted quietly.

b. Because of the close resemblance between death and the natural studying posture, teachers will be particularly careful so as not to awaken the student if he is merely sleeping.

c. If any doubt exists as to the student's true condition, the teacher shall test the student by offering him a signed permit to go home. If the student does not grab for it, it may be assumed that he or she is dead. (Note: In cases that the instinct is so strong that the reflexes may cause a grabbing action to take place even in the post mortem condition Teachers shall not be deceived by this action.)

d. In all cases a sworn copy

shall be obtained from the dead person giving special attention to page 10. This form is required by the auditor for mortality records.

The form shall be prepared in quadruplicate. The original shall be tied to the corpse's big toe for identification at burial. Of the three illegible copies, one shall be sent to the parents and the other two shall be filed alphabetically and chronologically. (Note: One additional copy may be made for misfiling at the discretion of the teacher.)

Chevy panel steps lively in Florida...runs day and night, delivers 19.3 miles per gallon!

This '59 Chevy panel is on the go, morning, noon and night; it covers as much as 587 miles a day... runs so constantly that its engine never cools off completely. Yet Mr. Clark Farber, the Tampa Tribune's circulation manager, reports that the truck is delivering 19.3 miles per gallon!

This year, the light-, medium- and heavy-duty trucks of the 1959 Chevrolet Task Force fleet are out to whip anything that comes their way—and they've got what it takes to do it!

Take the panel pictured above, for example. Powered by the '59 Thriftmaster 6 with new economy-contoured camshaft, it's building a sensational economy record, despite the sizzling pace of its work. That's typical of the way Chevrolets of all sizes are turning to on the most challenging jobs in America. The way they're made, with tough-built truck components, they make the hardest hauls look easy!

If you have a job that puts a truck on its mettle, see your Chevrolet dealer!

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

The Young Elizabeth by Jennette and Francis Letton. Elizabeth Tudor was only 14 when her father, Henry VIII died. For the next 11 years this brilliant, indomitable girl fought a solitary battle against the conspiracies of unscrupulous and desperate men, and the fanatical hatred of her royal half-sister Mary. Her only weapons were a lightning intelligence, nerves of steel, and a passionate love for England. With these weapons she successfully fought for her country, her throne, and her very life.

The Young Elizabeth is a Reader's Digest condensation in the Spring 1954 Selections. The story is 110 pages long.

JUNIOR NEWS

by Kay Rattan

The juniors have survived another 6 weeks test as usual, by the "hair of their teeth".

Everyone was glad to get his oral book reports made last 6 weeks in English III class. Each year they have to have 3000 papers in, and I think that the juniors are on their last lap or so.

Term themes will be due March 20th. The juniors are supposed to write on an occupation. It seems that there is always something to keep everybody busy, and griping!

The date for the junior play has not been set yet, but everybody is looking forward to working on it, if they are lucky enough to get a part!

We are all proud of Daphne Lynn who received honorable mention at the District tournament, for the district team.

Here's congratulations to Thomas Edwards, Bundy Campbell,

Letter to The Editor

The following letter, received this week by the Tribune from a former resident, will be of interest to friends who knew the A. W. Haywood family:

"Matador Tribune, Matador, Texas. Dear Editor:

"I just read an item from the Tribune in the Los Angeles Times. When I read this it took me back 52 years, as I used to live near Matador for years as a small girl. Also went to school in Matador one winter, then my father, A. W. Haywood sold out the farm and moved the family to Seminole, Texas where I lived when I was married. I lost my husband three years ago, of a heart attack.

"I went to school with the Morriss girls, the Keith girls, Allie Chalk and Virginia Walton and a host of others, of whom I thought a great deal. We are all getting up in years — those of us who are still living.

"If you see fit to print this letter in your paper, I'd be so glad to hear from any of my old friends who might read it.

Respectfully,
Mrs. Lillian (Haywood) Flenn,
4409 Wilson Ave., San Diego 16, Calif."

After a background in national farm loan association and commercial banking fields, Mr. Weatherford came to the Land Bank in April, 1937 as supervisor of the Loan Division and has served as vice president since 1951.

CULLIN CASTLE
By Charlotte Cullin

Cullin's Castle is a normal six room apartment . . . livingroom, kitchen, bedroom, bathroom and two closets. It has seven windows, a floor furnace and two garbage disposal units whose names are Old Yeller and Nigger. One is a Heinz Variety dog and the other is a black Cocker Spaniel.

Occupants of the Castle include four bachelor coffee drinkers, two neighbor children, roaches, and Charles and myself, the bride and groom. Or as Mr. C. said the other day as he waxed the livingroom floor . . . "the bride and broom."

Upon request this column will be a factual report. A blow by blue account of homemaking experiences, from the wife's point of view of course.

Today the average homemaker has things easier than in the day of yore and pioneers, for which we should thank our lucky scientists. Today's average husband homemaker is too busy paying down and out on modern appliances to have time for setting the woods on fire.

But we aren't concerned with the average homemaker. We are concerned with ourselves, homemakers who can't afford to save by installment buying, but have to pay cash. That's us.

One of the biggest problems that confront new home renters is that of economical interior decoration. The home must satisfy the personalities of the individuals who eat and sleep there. Color is the key.

Color entertains, informs, and inspires. Look at the walls of your home. Do they have entertaining carvings on them? Do they tell you that you wear too much hair oil on your greasy head? Or do they inspire you to turn the lights out and watch television? You need a change, and so do they, and so do we.

Getting color on the mind is easier than getting it on the walls. But remember economy! Trick your friends into painting for you. Invite them to coffee. Hide the coffee spoons. Jokingly ask said friends if they mind stirring with a paint brush. (Friends will chuckle and say that they'd do anything for coffee.) Then bring out the paint. You will either get the room painted or you will save coffee.

That is our helpful hint for the day. Next round we will tell wives how to get rid of unwanted food with Cullin's Castle's Culinary Cues.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Leslie and small daughter, Jerri, of Lubbock were weekend visitors here with her mother, Mrs. Velma Fulfer.

Rev. and Mrs. Gene Hawkins visited in Bovina Friday night and Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hawkins. His mother has been ill.

Former Resident Writes from Base At Edge of Arctic

A former Motley County resident, Kenneth R. Fox is now serving with the Iceland Air Defense Force at an isolated base on the island, and writes to express appreciation for the Tribune.

"I shall now appreciate the Tribune as never before," he declares. "Being stationed on an isolated base 350 miles from the nearest settlement, also on the edge of the Arctic Circle, I am sure you understand why the Tribune is greatly appreciated. Thanks for sending me the paper, and keep up the great work."

"Please send the Tribune to my new address: A 3c Kenneth R. Fox, AF18509769, APO 81 Box 229, 932 AC&W Row, Iceland Air Defense Force, New York, N. Y."

Miss Frances Strickland of Lubbock was a business visitor in Matador, Monday. She was accompanied by T. G. Herring, also of Lubbock.

About Your Health

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.

Henry A. Holle, M. D., Commissioner

The next time you hear the rich full voice of your favorite singer, don't envy him. Pity him instead. He probably has extra large sinuses, and when they stop up . . .

Some racial groups are apparently immune to specific maladies which beset the rest of humanity. Eskimos rarely if even get cancer. And toothache is practically unknown among natives in remote parts of the globe.

But apparently the rule concerning sinus trouble is this: if you're human you're susceptible. Thus, if you suffer from a sinus condition either chronically or occasionally, you are in excellent company.

A nasal sinus is a lined cavity in the face bone which opens into nose. There are two important ones on each side of the face: one in each cheek bone, and one over each eye.

Checkbone sinuses are triangle-shaped, large enough to hold half an ounce of fluid. Oversized ones can hold up to a full ounce. Eyebrow sinuses are smaller, the average having a fluid capacity of one-fifth ounce.

Sinuses are lined with mucous membrane, a continuation of the membrane lining the nasal cavity. When a sinus lining becomes inflamed enough to interfere with drainage, someone is in for trouble.

You can get all sorts of answers as to what good purpose sinuses serve. Some specialists believe they warm and moisten air as it is inhaled. Others believe that sinuses, like the appendix, are evolutionary remnants which are sometimes more harmful than useful.

Sinus sufferers subscribe unthinkingly to this latter theory. But the truth probably is that sinus cavities serve as resonating chambers for the voice. Whether a person has a high or low pitched voice, according to this reasoning, is dependent on the size of his sinuses.

There are as many different causes of sinus inflammation as there are people suffering from it. Infection-producing agents such as viruses, and irritants such as pollens and dusts, are most often the cause. But injuries, infected teeth, and other conditions can also bring flare ups.

What to do about it? Sinuses drain, which is a little like telling the winter to go away. Still it can be done. You can identify and eliminate the cause of irritation.

Temporary relief can sometimes be obtained with drugs or inhalers, but the cause should be determined and treated by physician. (A weekly public service featured from Health Education Division, State Health Department.)

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cullin McLean visited here during the week end with their respective parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cullin and Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Jr. Judge and Mrs. Elbert B. visited in Amarillo Saturday night with their son and family. Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. returned home Monday morning.

Don't Pass Your Rx Around

When a physician directs a pharmacist via a prescription to prepare a medicine for a particular patient he selects a drug or mixture thereof which he considers to be specifically indicated for that individual patient.

He then calculates the size of the dose and the frequency of administration which will give maximum therapeutic results and still be well within the safety limits of the drug.

Thus, the prescription is individualized. It is unreasonable from a medical standpoint and frequently dangerous for any other person to use that medicine.

Don't pass your prescription around to other people!
