Friends Appear
In presenting "This is Your Life" for Coach Hopkins, Miss Edwards had prepared a log of events from his life, revealing that he had been born Aug. 4, 1922 in Chillicothe, Texas. During his high school years, businessmen sponsored the football team and acted as "godfathers" to the boys. A letter was read from Lee Glazner of Vernon, who was Hopkins' "godfather".

The resume of events took Coach through high school, college and the Army, during which he displayed outstanding athletic and scholastic abilities. One of the reasons for his attending Texas Tech was his friend, Dillon, and his brief appearance at the banquet was highlight of the evening for Coach.

Others who were introduced in surprise sequence included Judge Vance Gilbreath, Matador who was High School principal

Pied Pinions

BY MRS. J. M.

It has been said there isn't much to see in a small town, but you can certainly hear a lot. And, we would add, do a lot.

Matador has been a busy little metropolis the past week. Attendance Friday night at the amateur show sponsored by Whiteflat Home Demonstration Club, with the appearance here of radio and television performers from Lubbock, got off to a slow beginning, due to the banquet which the Masonic Lodge was holding the same evening. However, the women were gratified that so many did attend their show, and expressed appreciation for the support which it received.

As we've said before, Matley County has more talent per inch than any other area of comparable size and population, and the show Friday was no exception.

When little 7-year-old Dennis Hoover (son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hoover) of Northfield appeared on the stage to sing a song, some thought he was with the professional entertainers from Lubbock, so uninhibited was he. We've rarely seen such poise and self-assurance from one so young, and if he didn't exactly steal the show, he certainly stole the hearts of some of his listeners. Besides he was "Dennis the Menace" in person!

Everyone couldn't be winners of course, and we didn't envy the judges their job. It would have been hard for us not to have voted the Melody Maids of Flomot one of the top places.

And once again those in charge of arrangements for the Mother-Daughter banquet did an outstanding job. The food was excellent and the decorations out of this world. The red and blue crepe paper streamers overhead made an authentic "big top", and we understand the doll clowns, wall and other decorations were hand-made. Mrs. Jack (Julia Carter) Luckett, we were told, made the clowns. She and Mrs. Jack Case are new hands at the business and joined Mrs. Tom Newman and Mrs. Homer T. Jenkins, who have assisted with the decorations in former years.

Annuals And Bulbs Discussed By Club

Annuals, bulbs and house plants were discussed Monday by members of Matador Garden Club, meeting in the home of Mrs. W. F. Jacobs. Mrs. Warren Clements acted as president in the absence of Mrs. W. N. Pipkin and Mrs. Jacobs served as leader in Mrs. Robert Darsey's place.

Mrs. A. C. Trawick, Jr., read a paper entitled, "Accent on Annuals." She urged each member to plan to fill in the gap between the early bulbs, roses and iris and the fall season when dahlias and chrysanthemums are used with annuals such as the zinnia, marigold, petunia and many others. "If we do this," she said, "we will be assured of plenty of cut flowers for the house and color for the flower garden."

Since Mrs. Freddie Welling was unable to be present, Mrs. Forrest Campbell read her paper on, "Plant your bulbs with a plan". Many lovely flowers were discussed in order to gain the best of the most interesting paper and feeding of house plants of the ornamental house plant, since it is the most delightful throughout the year.

The club's next meeting will be March 19, in the home of Mrs. J. L. Woodruff.

AT LAND BANK MEETING

Frank Price, secretary of Matador National Loan Association, and Delson of Whiteflat were in town this week where they led a stockholders meeting of Federal Land Bank. They the trip by plane from Lubbock.

Registrants Swell Draft Board Rolls

AUSTIN—A total of 6,602 young Texans registered at the state's 137 draft boards in January, bringing the total number of men on draft board rolls to 930,144.

Nearly all these men registering in January were registered on their 18th birthday, or within five days after their 18th birthday, Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said.

This is in line with federal draft regulations. Although no one is drafted in Texas under 21 years, except volunteers or men delinquent with their boards, the law obligates all males to register at age 18.

The law provides that a man must register when he is 18, no matter whether he is at home or not. He is required to go and register at the nearest draft board, no matter where he is. A man can find out where the nearest draft board, is by going to a post office.

If a man wishes to be registered with his draft board at home, all he has to do is give his place-of-residence address in that area and that is where his registration card will be sent.

All males in this country born since August 30, 1922 have had a legal obligation to register since August 1948, except those not yet 18.

Failure to be registered as required by law can mean a fine of $10,000, five years in prison, or both.

We Are Sincerely Grateful

To friends and neighbors for their many kind acts of sympathy during our sad bereavement. Our appreciation cannot be adequately expressed.

Mrs. Lois Martin is confined to her home while recovering from an injury to her leg, sustained in a slight fall at her home Thursday morning while preparing breakfast. She managed to drive her car to Matador where she was treated, and found that she had strained a ligament in her leg. The doctor has advised complete rest.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Tanner went to Sudan, Monday to attend the funeral of their land-lord, Walter McCaghen.

This is the second week for the Flomot school to occupy the new building. They held their first classes on Monday, Feb. 13.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Morris of Kress and their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Audrie J. Morris and children of Albuquerque, N. M. visited Monday in the Harley Gunn and Tom Bynum homes.

Audrie Morris is recuperating from burns received recently when his clothing caught fire. He was working with a seismograph crew, and warming at an open fire when his saturated clothing ignited. He and a cousin, Troy Bynum, were alone and managed to tear his clothing off. He is reported doing nicely at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spears of Flomot, accompanied by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom King of Matador, left Sunday for Merced, California, where they will visit their brother and son, Carl King and family. Carl is stationed there in the Air Corps.

Brotherhood Hosts At Chili Supper

Flomot Baptist Church Brotherhood entertained their families Tuesday evening with a chili supper at the church.

A program was given and included congregational singing, four choruses sung by the junior choir, a devotional by L. B. Turner with Scripture reading of the 121st Psalm.

Visitors present were, Berry Barham, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cogdill and Janet of Fairmount. Coffee, chili, crackers and cookies were served to approximately twenty-five adults, and sandwiches, cookies and coolade were served to fifteen children. A round-table social was enjoyed by the parents while the children were entertained in the nursery.

A wedding shower Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Lizzie Crowell, honored Mr. and Mrs. Roy Monk of Lubbock, who were married recently. The affair had been postponed due to the recent blizzard.

Hostesses with Mrs. Crowell, were Meses, Alfred Martin, Bly Shannon, and Bernice Gates and Misses Waydie Martin, Mary J.

Folly and Nova Martin. Miss Mary Folly registered the guests. Coffee and cake were served to a number of friends who called during the afternoon. Many gifts were brought, and sent by those unable to attend.

Mrs. Monk is the former Alma Reed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Reed of near Quitaque, and is a niece of Mrs. Crowell.

Residents' Niece Dies In Accident

Mrs. C. B. Jones and son, Bill Jones of Matador and her sister, Mrs. Ralph Stapleton went to Abilene Saturday morning in response to a message that their nephew's wife, Mrs. Charles Dennis Elmore, 18, had been killed in a car wreck.

The accident occurred Tuesday morning, Feb. 6, and funeral services were held Saturday afternoon, Feb. 11 at the chapel in the Abilene cemetery.

Mr. Elmore is in the Armed forces and is stationed in Africa. Through the aid of the Red Cross he received the message of his wife's death and flew home. He reached here in time for the funeral services. He attended school in Flomot several years, his mother being a teacher there and his father was gunner at Gilbert gin.

Mrs. Elmore was a passenger in the car with John Halley of Abilene and Miss Patricia Harasty of Ozona, a business college student. All three youths were killed. Too much speed going around a curve was given as the cause of the car's overturning.

Mrs. Elmore was a beauty operator in Abilene.

McLaughlin Named District Director In Cancer Crusade

J. Edd McLaughlin, Ralls, District 3-S director of the American Cancer Society, has been appointed crusade director for District 3-S for the Society's annual fund raising educational crusade according to an announcement by Joe Polichino, 1956 state crusade chairman. "McLaughlin, long active in cancer control work in Ralls," stated Polichino in making the announcement, "will coordinate the efforts of hundreds of volunteers throughout District 3-S to secure funds for support of the American Cancer Society's three pronged attack on cancer through education, research and service."

District 3-S is composed of the following counties: Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Childress, Cochran, Cottle, Crosby, Floyd, Foard, Hale, Hall, Hardeman, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Motley, Parmer and Swisher.

"Last year," Polichino said,

"the Texas Division raised over $895,000. This year our goal for Texas is $1,017,640, and for the nation $26,000,000."

Indicating the importance of the annual April Crusade, Polichino explained "the April Crusade is the most decisive factor in saving thousands of lives from cancer each year because through the concerted effort of ACS volunteers everywhere Texans are learning the importance of recognizing the early danger signals of cancer."

"9,144 Texans died of last year, an estimated 10,000 more are expected to die this year. It is estimated that an additional 3,000 persons could be saved through a greater effort."

The American Cancer Society is spending nearly $6,500,000 annually in a strongly coordinated cancer research effort over 1,000 scientists in a 152 institutions. More than $250,000 is currently being spent in Texas alone.

Of Farm Operating Loans Used For Investments In Equipment And Livestock

Approximately $5,130,000 of the production and other loans obtained by the Texas Farm Home Administration during the year were used to purchase equipment, livestock and other investments, Walter McKay, State Director for the agency said today.

Loans are making these investments to set up the kind of systems that will make the most of their labor, land and resources.

Loans for production and subsistence are also made for fertilizer, tractor fuel, insecticides and other farm and home expenses. The loans bear 5 percent interest and repayments are scheduled in accordance with the borrower's ability to repay from crop production.

are to be made in the coming year.

Credit is also extended by Farmers Home Administration for financing annual operating expenses. These loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Annual production and subsistence loans may be made to farmers provided there is a sound basis for credit. This means that the anticipated gross income from farming and other sources must be sufficient to repay the loan, meet farm and home expenses not provided for in the loan and provide a reasonable margin above such amounts. This type credit is in addition to emergency loans available to farmers or ranchers primarily engaged in farming, McKay stated.

Real estate credit for purchase and development of family-type farms, for financing soil conservation measures, and for the development of water systems for farm, home, livestock and irrigation are also available.

Elementary Elim

The Diary of Mary White

November 17, 1955, Thursday

A gray dreary day with intermittent snow falling. School moved along nicely. Broke the belt that runs the movie projector. Hans made another one of friction tape. It lasted through two fifteen minute reels then was too loose. Will try again with a new belt. Worked on the checking of achievement tests tonight. As always I am amazed at some of the things these tests reveal.

I had thought Roger much better in his number work than his reading, but on his achievement test it was the reverse. These Eskimo children spell with a precision that is amazing, especially when one considers that half the words they are spelling have no place in their speaking vocabulary. Discovered today that not a single Eskimo child in the room knew what a pebble was. Considering their language handicap and the fact that many of them have never been out of the village of Elim, they do a marvelous job on these tests designed for Stateside tests.

Elim, Alaska

November 18, 1955

Dear Friday:

I was as glad to see you today as the two serving women in the lunch room and the thousands of teachers in schoolrooms all over the world. You give me a chance to "floop" when the hands of the clock finally say four. On other nights I must do preliminary lunch work and always some lesson preparation. Not so on Fridays. I claim the couch as mine, stretch my frame thereon, hoist a book and dare any member of the family to disturb me except with the words, "Dinner is ready." Usually I over eat, spend a miserable night, and wake up to Saturday's laundry and homework with a groan; ne'ertheless I reserve the right to indulge again, comes another Friday.

Too, you are Elim's mail day. You have failed us the past two weeks but our hopes always soar with your dawning.

So you see if I were a poet And could write a lovely sonnet.

Just about every line in it Would have your name upon it!

Goodnight from a charter member of the T.C.F.F. Club.

Your, truly,

M. W.

November 19, 1955, Saturday

Another gray day. The house is too hot to sleep in, to eat in, and certainly too hot to iron in. I raised the bedroom window but the storm window was stuck hard and fast with a coat of ice. With a chisel and hammer I finally managed to get it open. Ah, a breeze! True it was off a sea of ice but it felt so good. Back in September the Colonel from the air base made the remark that there was a tendency to overheat homes and buildings in Alaska. This furnace would be a thing of pride and joy to old Satan in his regions down below, the way it puts out the heat.

About noon a plane flew over the housetop. We nearly ran over each other getting to the door. It was Fred all right but he sailed right on. Our spirits fell until we heard the commotion at David's house. We looked and it was Ralph, the seventeen year old boy, hitching the dogs to the sled. We knew that he was headed for Moses Point and the mail sack, so we set ourselves to wait the four or five hours that the trip would take. We were rewarded with letters and packages. Roger got his sled, wool gloves and felt boots, so he is happy. Theretha got gloves, lined jeans and boot socks, so she's happy. Mamma and Papa got letters so they are happy. Got a shipment of educational film and two regular movies. Film all over the place and the projector with a broken belt! I'm holding LEGISLATIVE GET-TOGETHER held in Plainview last week at the Hilton Hotel included eight West Texas members of the Texas House of Representatives shown above. "There was no particular purpose for the meeting," according to Representative Leroy Saul, "we just wanted to have an old-fashioned get-together and do a little visiting." Following an afternoon of discussion, the legislators had supper and returned to their homes. Several were accompanied by their wives. Shown, left to right, first row: Jesse M. Osborn of Muleshoe, Leroy Saul of Kress, Sam Wohlford of Stratford and Bill Healy of Paducah. Standing, left to right: Moyne Kelley of Atton, Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, J. Edgar Wilson of Amarillo and Elbert Reeves of Matador.—Photo and engraving courtesy Plainview Herald-News.

all the film until the belt gets here from Anchorage. Some teacher down the line is sure to call me names, but these children do so love a show.

November 20, 1955, Sunday

There were no blooming flowers, no gentle breeze to play among tall grasses, and no riotous colors in the sunset, but this bit of the globe was a thing of beauty this day. The sun arose about 8:45 a. m. and a white landscape with blue shadows, green trees and spiraling smoke from little gray log houses made a picture that would please most any beauty lover. Our snow is between two and three feet deep and the houses look as though they had snuggled down for the winter. I stood on my back porch in a mild twenty above temperature and fed my house-weary lungs with gulps of the fresh, mild air.

I wanted to stroll around the countryside and make pictures, but my galoshes are in the freight we still have not received and this toeless, heel-less, footgear that I brought with me from civilization wasn't quite adequate for anything save the well-beaten path. Reluctantly I went inside to the unmade beds, the breakfast dishes, and the scattered books, papers, and letters of last night's hour of relaxation. It seems I'll never learn the wisdom of the old adage—"never put off until tomorrow what you can do today." Some how I always get a bang out of walking out and going to bed as though there were no picking up to be done.

The day moved lazily with each member of the family doing whatever suited him best. At 2:00 p. m. Eva came to bake bread. The sun was already down so we decided to crank the plant, turn on the lights and get a little work done. Went to church at 7:30. The missionary read his text, called for a song, read another portion of scripture then said:

"Our teacher, Mrs. White, has something to say to us."

I was utterly dumfounded. The postmaster was sitting just behind me so I whispered,

"What does he mean?"

"De Thanksgiving dinner," said David.

Oh! I had told the women that we would meet and appoint a committee to be in charge of the Thanksgiving dinner at the church. I had meant after church services, but they had told him I wanted a meeting, so he was giving me the church hour for it. Was I relieved to know that I was to conduct a meeting and appoint a committee instead of preach a sermon!

November 21, 1955, Monday

Felt good today (a three day week) so school fairly breezed along. Grouped second, third and fourth in arithmetic drills while older students worked in workbooks. Louisa Charles and Judith Moses were to serve. Mrs. Moses was ill, so Alice, the married daughter substituted. Mrs. Charles did not feel well. R. W. gave her an aspirin and she got through the dishes. Selma Daniels and Janet Amaktoolik came around soliciting donations for the Thanksgiving dinner. Gave them a case of evaporated milk, two cartons of shortening, two packages of rice, two packages of noodles, one pound of coffee, two boxes cocoa, a dozen fresh eggs and $5.00. Their faces gave no indication of whether I had given too much, not enough, or just the right amount. So I'm hoping that I didn't go too far astray from precedent. Retired early only to have a caller about ten o'clock. It seems R. W.'s aspirin wasn't enough, for Mrs. Charles was having chills, fever, and a heart attack. No doctor at that time of night, and I didn't want to give anything because of the heart trouble. The daughter begged for a rest tablet so her mother could sleep and the only thing I had was phenobarbital, so I gave her two tablets and prayed that they did not affect the heart.

RECORDS SHOW . . .
season make the difference between a good crop and possible failure. These little rains are almost always scattered making a dependable record impossible. Their frequency, however, is important.

In 1940 the total rainfall was only 15.89 inches (average in April, May and June, none in July and 1.59 in August) yet the average lint cotton yield was 171 pounds. 1948 had a dramatic rainfall, only 13.02 inches (less than the tragic 1934) yet the lint average was 156 pounds. The rain in 1948 fell in May, June, and July.

By way of contrast 1950 was a good rainfall year with 24.45 inches and above average, but cotton production was only 80 pounds of lint per acre. Heavy rains in September damaged the crop more than they benefited. Best soaking in the long record was in 1941 when the county average was 47.14 inches. Lint production that year was 209 pounds per acre of planted cotton. No moisture was received in November but the rainfall for the other 11 months was above normal.

By the month the 30-year average for this county is as follows: January 31, Feb. 43, March 38, April 1.72, May 3.39, June 2.60, July 3.32, August 1.98, September 2.89, October 2.14, November 31 and December 81.

Mr. Palmeyer checked the ten-year average and found them almost without change. The period between 1944-53 was off about an inch, yet one year during the time (1946) had a total of 27.11 inches. Highest monthly total on record in Matador) was in June 1941, which had 9.32 inches. On June 27, 1946 Matador had 5.20 inches of precipitation and 8.25 inches fell during the month of May.

Back to the Spur records the average annual rainfall starting in 1911 and continuing for 38 years was 21.21 inches. Cotton production is greater per acre in recent years. Mr. Palmeyer declared. He said new farming practices are producing more crops per acre, especially better seed, better cultivation and better water conservation. He said there is still room to increase the income of the county despite cotton allotments, simply by farming better than in the past decade.

In the ten year period between 1924-33 Motley county had an average of 67,383 acres planted in cotton. The next ten year period between 1934-43 this acreage was reduced to 43,990 acres average. In the past two years the county has had an average of 39,000 acres in cotton.

Youths Admonished To Retain Heritage

Youths attending the united church service held Sunday night at the First Baptist Church were admonished to retain their priceless heritage of being born in a land of freedom and plenty.

Rev. W. V. O'Kelly, pastor of the First Methodist Church told his youthful listeners that they must execute their duties to God and country. He said many great decisions are to be made if civilization is to continue its progress and not be obliterated.

"You are living in a dangerous time," said Rev. O'Kelly, "but your generation will safely pilot the world if you remain true to God and your country."
