Stars cling to space in the cathedral of silence above the crimson stain left in Vietnam, the wreath in Arlington, the folded flag; the pain of loving hearts pouring into the estuary of forever.

Another way to force an issue is to employ the obscured power of fading concern.

It is easy to remember one friend who could keep calm in emergencies, with a single exception. When the score mounted on a pin ball machine he would go to pieces and begin to flake around the gills.

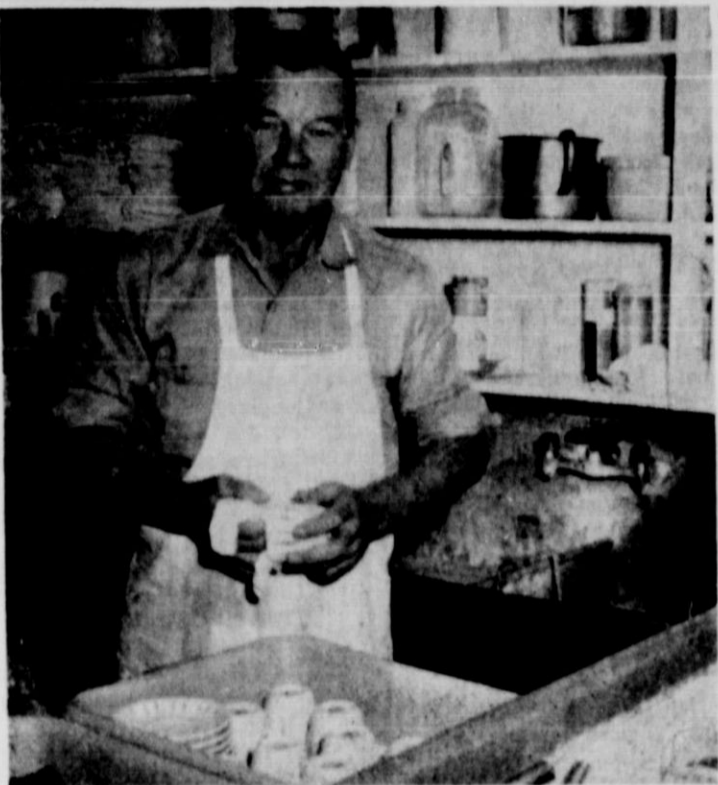

With a market for the surplus, the production of this country could be greatly increased by the elimination of needless conservation. On the other hand who but young lovers would discuss the weather?

THE LONGEST DAY

ONLY TWO World War II veterans in Motley County who made the Normandy D Day landing (June 6, 1944) were located Friday (there are probably others).

E. A. Day was in the first wave of "Red Fox" landing. He was a Private First Class with the 5th Special Brigade. "It was like the 4th of July on June 6th," he said. Now a farmer and rancher, he remembered "The Longest Day" with detail. He went into service at Ft. Sill in March, 1943. He was in service 33 months with 27 months spent overseas.

Knox Jameson was in the Navy on a LST ship 505 during the invasion, carrying soldiers and equipment to the landing point. "We went 60 hours without sleep," he said, "and our only food was canned salmon and fruit cocktail . . . our crew consisted of 126 men and we carried 300 soldiers at a time . . . we were in the thick of fighting, right beside the Battleship Texas, but nothing hit our boat and none of our men were injured."

He went into service Jan. 6, 1942 at Norfolk, Va., and became Seaman 1st Class. He was released from service at San Pedro, Calif., November 20, 1945. Jameson is presently employed at El Matador restaurant.

Wilson Cook, local ICX Transportation office manager, did not make the D Day landing but he was close, Moleworth Air Base, England, in the Air Force with the famed Hell's Angels who were pounding the Germans on Normandy. His job was driving a command car, transporting flyers from the ready room to the air base.

His most memorable experience was driving General Dwight Eisenhower on five separate occasions. Cook spent 36 months overseas and was in service from February 25, 1942 to September 21, 1945.

Funeral services for Jimmie Doolen Jameson, 76 of Plainview, former resident of Motley County, were held at 2 p.m. Monday in Wood-Dunn Colonial Chapel, Plainview.

The Rev. Bobby Chaney, pastor of the Lazbuddie Methodist Church officiated. Burial was at 4 p.m. in East Mound Cemetery, Matador.

Mr. Jameson died at 5:30 a.m. Sunday in Plainview Hospital following a cerebral hemorrhage. He had been in failing health for several years and was afflicted with heart ailment and more recently, a stroke. He became critically ill Saturday morning and was conveyed to the hospital.

Mr. Jameson was born in Foard County, May 14, 1893 and came to Motley County in 1912 with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Jameson and other members of the family. He was married to Miss Clara Smith, Nov. 9, 1919, at Whiteflat and they lived in the Whiteflat community until 1944, when they moved to Hale County. They lived in Hale Center and Halfway before moving to Plainview in 1958. He was a retired farmer, a veteran of World War I and a member of the Methodist Church.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, James Horace of Lovington, N. M., and Harold of Oklahoma City; a daughter, Mrs. Vester Shirley of Amarillo; four sisters, Mrs. Redmon Pate of Lake Arthur, N. M., Mrs. Jim Ratcliff of Slaton, Miss Ona Jameson and Miss Roberta Jameson of Matador; two brothers, Frank Jameson of Lockney and Elmer Jameson of Carlsbad, N. M.; five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Nuclear Emergency Plans in Brochure

CULMINATING almost a year of study and planning, Motley County Civil Defense Agency has received 900 attractive brochures outlining a "Community Fallout Shelter Plan" for the county. Publication was prepared to provide guidance to citizens of Motley County concerning actions to be taken in event of a nuclear attack on the United States.

In the course of the survey, the Corps of Engineers in cooperation with the State Department of Public Safety and the local defense agency, has surveyed all public buildings in the county as possible fallout shelters. Four public buildings were found suitable for protection.

The buildings, and the available number of spaces for persons, were as follows: Motley County Courthouse 392; Roaring Springs High School 80; Matador High School 80; Stanley Hospital 47.

Flomot and Northfield areas were surveyed, but no public buildings could be certified as shelters.

The engineers, however, pointed out that many homes and farms in these areas, and other areas of the county, do have facilities for protection.

A careful study of the publication will enable many families to provide themselves with protection within their own homes or other buildings. Cost will be nominal, especially in homes that have basements. A most important part of the publication is information on how protection can be accomplished.

County Judge Forrest Campbell said it is hoped that every home in the county can be provided with one of the brochures. He said mailings will be made within the next few days. Additional copies are available at the courthouse. Residents are urged to keep the brochures for future reference in event of an emergency.

Production of the brochure which is being distributed to the public, was paid for by a grant from the Department of Defense, Office of Civil Defense, without cost to local government.

Oklahoma Man Dies In Highway Accident

A LARGE grain truck jackknifed to strike the end of a small concrete culvert. Wreckers were necessary to remove the truck from across the highway.

Mr. Brown's body was pinned in the crushed cab of the truck for almost an hour while State Highway Patrolmen and others worked to pry open the cab door and remove the body. Sheriff Spray said he believed the driver died instantly.

Russell Brown, 55, of Durant, Oklahoma, was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace W. W. Clements. Sheriff J. D. Spray said Brown apparently went to sleep, causing his truck to strike the end of a small concrete culvert. Wreckers were necessary to remove the truck from across the highway.

Al Watson, manager of El Matador Travel Center said Brown had been a regular customer for fuel at his station for three or four years.

The body was taken to Seigler Funeral Home here and later transferred to Paducah where an air ambulance flew it to Murray Funeral Home in Durant for services and burial.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth, of Durant; two daughters, Mrs. Shirley Horn of Hugo and Mrs. Judy House of Durant; a son, Ricky Brown of the home; and three brothers, Robert and Cooper, both of Houston and Tony of Illinois.

The accident was the third in this area within a week with big trucks involved. The accident Friday morning and one last week were on level stretches of highway. A big cattle truck jackknifed west of town earlier and killed 39 head of cattle.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES W. GHOLSON

June Sandefer And James Gholson Are Married In Church Ceremony

Louise ring marriage vows were pledged by Miss Lucretia June Sandefer and James W. Gholson in a ceremony at 4 p.m. Saturday, June 7, in the First Baptist Church, Matador. Rev. Larry Heard, pastor, officiated.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Mitchell of Matador. The bridegroom is the son of Bill Gholson and Mrs. Honor Belle Gholson, both of Aspermont.

Baskets of greenery at each side of the altar formed the setting for the service. Miss Brenda Watson, organist, played traditional wedding marches. Miss Jeanette Day, pianist, played an offering of selected music and accompanied Miss Debra Stockton, who sang, "Walk Hand in Hand," and "The Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her stepfather, Bob Mitchell, the bride wore a street-length dress of de-lustered satin, topped with a lace jacket. The dress was fashioned with an empire waist and A-line skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of illusion was attached to a cluster of lace rosettes, and she wore, for "something old" a gold locket which belonged to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. M. D. Marshall. She also wore the traditional "something new, borrowed and blue." Her bridal bouquet was of white carnations.

Mrs. Billie Farley Jr., of Clarendon, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore an A-line yellow knit dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations tied with yellow streamers.

Ned Jones of Aspermont was best man. Ushers were Darrel Marshall, cousin of the bride and William Gholson, brother of the bridegroom.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gwinn. The bridal party and parents of the couple formed the receiving line.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth, underlaid with yellow, and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses. Miss Glenda Sandefer, sister of the bride presided at the crystal punch service, assisted by Miss Stockton. The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with yellow rosebuds was served by Mrs. Carolyn

Albright of Guthrie, sister of the bridegroom.

For a wedding trip to Fort Worth, the bride wore a yellow A-line dress with matching accessories. The couple will make their home on the Criswell ranch near Rotan, where Mr. Gholson will be employed.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Jimmy Bennett of Afton, sister of the bride, and included the following from out of town: Mrs. John Reynolds, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marshall, Carla, Jana and Laura of Wheeler; Mary Allen, May Belle Gholston, Mrs. Elvin Jones, Mrs. Dan Dibrell, Mrs. R. T. Cumbie, Mrs. William Gholson and Bill, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gholson and Mrs. Honor Belle Gholson, all of Aspermont; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Marshall, Roaring Springs; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Rash, Whittier, Calif.; Billie Farley Jr., Clarendon; Susan McConlier of Benjamin; Tommie Green of Bryan; Jimmy Bennett of Afton and James and Jana Albright of Guthrie.

THE RED CARPET was rolled out for us! When we arrived delicious doughnuts and coffee were ready for us . . . along with friendly, warm greetings. Everyone went first class . . . as carts were provided for all players . . . then, just about the time we finished our first nine holes, Altus Michele's husband, J. D. and Lou Nell Collins' husband, Garland, came around with sandwiches and Cokes and lots of ice . . . really did hit the spot and was most thoughtful . . . There may have been other Mothers and Daughters playing . . . but one pair I knew personally were Louie and Billie Harp.

THE COURSE at Childress has been changed a bit, with new water hazards and some holes changed. Enjoyed seeing the tee markers, handpainted by Sis McClendon . . . again . . . and Della Jones had decorated cans with plastic lids for all the greens filled with gum, candies, tees and score cards . . . The club also has a new appearance . . . redecorated and changes in some arrangements . . . wood paneling, a separate pro-shop with lots of interesting things . . . But in the ladies lounge there is the wall mural painted by Sis McC, depicting the fem golfers in eventual happenings . . . with typical characteristics of each . . . always a source of interest to us.

A MOST ATTRACTIVE table loaded with lots and lots of delicious food, with Mildred Brown much in evidence with the serving. Center of interest was a parsley topiary tree . . . which Luke Berry had helped make. She joined the group for lunch but isn't playing golf these days because of a recent heart attack . . . but hopes to be back sometime before too long . . . there were about 50 persons for lunch.

PRIZES AWARDED . . . included numerous door prizes . . . Winifred received a smoke ring scarf . . . Geneva, scuffs . . . Tommy, jar of hand cream . . . BUT wouldn't cha know MY number had to be 46! and Nos. 45 and 47 were called, as well as 41 and 49.

We were told to mark all the BIRDIES made . . . and there were 3 players making one each. They received P. G. A. balls (which are yellow) and were hand-painted with birds among flowers . . . done by SIS . . . Laverna had a BIRDIE on No. 6 with a hole-out on the rough on a par 4 hole . . . she says she is going to put her "birdie ball" on her trophy shelf . . .

There was a THREE WAY tie for runner-up in second flight . . . Laverna, Geneva and Ruth Gil- liam of Quannah . . . so after lunch they had a sudden death play off . . . The others made the gallery . . . but Ruth won on the first hole and received a handy tote bag.

TWAS A MOST PERFECT day and even the weather cooperated . . . which hadn't been the case on Matador's Guest day . . . nor at Paducah's Guest Day . . . So good to see our friends. We all had lots of fun . . . and a special personal thanks to Mary Frances Gloor and Elizabeth Wilson (Paducah) for helping make my day most enjoyable . . . Stopping in Paducah en route home we were browsing around in Hall Scroggs and ran into our college friend Altha (Evers) Jones, who once taught in Matador . . . had a good visit.

LONG DRIVE ON 5 Thursday, Louise Barton, Geneva Wilson, Tommy Edwards, Dutch Echols and Hazel were out for play . . . Geneva and Louise won the long drive on No. 5 (20 above and below). Tommy had a hole-out on No. 9, taking a 4 on the hole. That afternoon Laverna Price and Hazel played and

Social Security Urges Report of Address Changes

Residents of Hale, Floyd, and Motley Counties who are receiving monthly social security checks are reminded by Mencie King, social security manager in Plainview, to report directly to the Plainview social security office any change of address or other events affecting continued receipt of their checks. Reports may be made by mail (you may use the back of your check envelope for this), phone, or in person. Appropriate report forms are available at the Plainview office.

King said this reporting method enables the district office to take advantage of the increased capacity of its high speed communications circuits to transmit information to record centers. Until recently, social security beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events by mailing pre-addressed post-card forms to a record center.

Events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks, in addition to address changes, are starting or stopping work (employment), marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce, and death.

Highlights and Sidelights

FROM YOUR STATE CAPITAL

By Vern Sanford Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Millions for welfare, billions for water, and trillions for wages. These three "W's" point up the money problem presently facing the State.

Final decision, of course, rests with those who eventually pay the bill — the people of Texas. Their decision as to whether they are willing to foot the bills with additional taxes will come through the ballot when they vote for or against constitutional amendments at the special election on August 5.

As for welfare... the welfare groups face a do-or-die effort to boost the welfare benefits ceiling from $60 million to $80 million a year. If that amendment fails, as a similar one did last November, the Legislature will have no opportunity to re-submit the increase before 1971. That means that benefit payments to the ever-growing list of recipients will decrease accordingly.

As for water... a massive statewide campaign is shaping up to sell Texans on a $3.5 billion revenue bond program that will be needed to bankroll the nation's largest state water development plan. A constitutional amendment on the August 5 ballot would authorize bonds — to be repaid by water users — to take care of the state's share of $9 billion Texas Water Plan... the largest and boldest of its kind ever proposed.

As for wages... legislators and legislative leaders have a special interest in amendments to increase their salaries and to provide for annual sessions. Under one amendment the lieutenant governor and the speaker could be paid up to half the governor's salary ($50,000). Senators and representatives could be paid as much as district judges receive from state funds ($18,000 a year). Legislators already have passed an act raising their own pay. But it goes only from the present $4,800 to $6,800. Even this raise is subject to passage of the amendment.

TO DO OR NOT TO DO — Gov. Preston Smith is keeping to himself his decision on calling the Legislature back into session. His "D-Day" is June 22, a Sunday. That's the last day for him to sign, veto or let become law without his signature, the $2.8 billion spending bill and the $61.9 million teacher pay bill.

Smith said if he signs the budget measure, the teacher pay raise "is dead" because there is not enough money for both.

Smith has expressed some disapproval of at least two of the revenue measures — a Department of Public Safety fund transfer and a $10 optional building use fee on students.

Not enough money was put into the budget for the schools for mentally retarded children and for the new community mental health-retardation centers, according to the Texas Association for Retarded Children.

Joe Day Jr., president of the association, objected because the bill provided money for planning a new state school in the Houston area while the Board for Mental Health and Mental Retardation had requested that new schools be built at El Paso, the Rio Grande Valley and Northeast Texas.

A last-minute change also reduced the allocation for air pollution control work by $60,000 a year.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes hopes that the governor will let the appropriations bill become law. He thinks that a year's wait will show that smaller taxes will be needed than if the Legislature levied them this year.

Meetings Held By 4-H Groups

Members of the Patton Springs 4-H Club met recently to plan a party for new members. The party will be held at Roaring Springs during this month and will include families of all 4-H members of the club and all who are interested in joining 4-H.

Record books were discussed and instructions were given on how to make a record book. Recreation was led by Jaye Lynn Warren and Tarey Scott.

The 4-H Camera group met recently to report progress on their individual projects. Each member is working on requirements to complete the unit of work he needs.

David Warren, Zanna Marshall and Cliff Shaw are working on Unit 2. Tarey Scott is a new member of Unit 1, which includes Jaye Lynn Warren, Steve Hughes and Cary Shaw.

After the requirements are met, the group will hold an exhibit at which each member will display his work. These will be mounted and will be judged on the requirements to be met. Ribbons will be presented.

Zanna Marshall demonstrated the use of a close-up camera, or lens which she had purchased to fit her camera. David Warren and Cary Shaw told of the Photography sessions at Brownwood Leadership camp, and showed Polaroid pictures which had been made there. Susan Warren, a Junior Leader will be available to help with records and requirements toward completing this project.

The Motley County 4-H Livestock Judging team consisting of Jackie Irwin, James Davis and Dudley Allen, all of Roaring Springs competed for state honors during the 4-H Roundup held at College Station June 3-5. Eight classes of animals and four sets of reasons were given.

The winning team from San Saba County will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to compete in the International Exposition Contest; and the second place team from Brown County will have its expenses paid to compete in the Kansas City Royal contest. The third place team from Bee County will compete in the Denver contest, with expenses paid.

Accompanying the team were Mrs. Albert Irwin, Roaring Springs; and County Agent Bill Pallmeyer. The Roaring Springs Lions Club assisted team members in making the trip by paying the registration fees.

In Frankfurt, the delegation will split into four groups, each to tour a different part of the country.

The Hudsons' itinerary will cover cities in Bavaria, from where they will go to Berlin to rejoin the rest of the American party for a trip to Bonn, and then Brussels, Belgium to meet with European Common Market officials.

Hudson, the only Texas Press representative on the trip, will speak on panels in Munich, Fulda and Berlin on newspaper topics including management of the small newspaper, such as the Herald.

Other panel discussions will involve politics, trade and monetary matters.

Germany with a military government detachment in World War II, will return to the United States on June 26.

Residents of Hale, Floyd, and Motley Counties who are receiving monthly social security checks are reminded by Mencie King, social security manager in Plainview, to report directly to the Plainview social security office any change of address or other events affecting continued receipt of their checks. Reports may be made by mail (you may use the back of your check envelope for this), phone, or in person. Appropriate report forms are available at the Plainview office.

King said this reporting method enables the district office to take advantage of the increased capacity of its high speed communications circuits to transmit information to record centers. Until recently, social security beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events by mailing pre-addressed post-card forms to a record center.

Events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks, in addition to address changes, are starting or stopping work (employment), marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce, and death.

As for welfare... the welfare groups face a do-or-die effort to boost the welfare benefits ceiling from $60 million to $80 million a year. If that amendment fails, as a similar one did last November, the Legislature will have no opportunity to re-submit the increase before 1971. That means that benefit payments to the ever-growing list of recipients will decrease accordingly.

As for water... a massive statewide campaign is shaping up to sell Texans on a $3.5 billion revenue bond program that will be needed to bankroll the nation's largest state water development plan. A constitutional amendment on the August 5 ballot would authorize bonds — to be repaid by water users — to take care of the state's share of $9 billion Texas Water Plan... the largest and boldest of its kind ever proposed.

As for wages... legislators and legislative leaders have a special interest in amendments to increase their salaries and to provide for annual sessions. Under one amendment the lieutenant governor and the speaker could be paid up to half the governor's salary ($50,000). Senators and representatives could be paid as much as district judges receive from state funds ($18,000 a year). Legislators already have passed an act raising their own pay. But it goes only from the present $4,800 to $6,800. Even this raise is subject to passage of the amendment.

TO DO OR NOT TO DO — Gov. Preston Smith is keeping to himself his decision on calling the Legislature back into session. His "D-Day" is June 22, a Sunday. That's the last day for him to sign, veto or let become law without his signature, the $2.8 billion spending bill and the $61.9 million teacher pay bill.

Smith said if he signs the budget measure, the teacher pay raise "is dead" because there is not enough money for both.

Smith has expressed some disapproval of at least two of the revenue measures — a Department of Public Safety fund transfer and a $10 optional building use fee on students.

Not enough money was put into the budget for the schools for mentally retarded children and for the new community mental health-retardation centers, according to the Texas Association for Retarded Children.

Joe Day Jr., president of the association, objected because the bill provided money for planning a new state school in the Houston area while the Board for Mental Health and Mental Retardation had requested that new schools be built at El Paso, the Rio Grande Valley and Northeast Texas.

A last-minute change also reduced the allocation for air pollution control work by $60,000 a year.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes hopes that the governor will let the appropriations bill become law. He thinks that a year's wait will show that smaller taxes will be needed than if the Legislature levied them this year.

Members of the Patton Springs 4-H Club met recently to plan a party for new members. The party will be held at Roaring Springs during this month and will include families of all 4-H members of the club and all who are interested in joining 4-H.

Record books were discussed and instructions were given on how to make a record book. Recreation was led by Jaye Lynn Warren and Tarey Scott.

The 4-H Camera group met recently to report progress on their individual projects. Each member is working on requirements to complete the unit of work he needs.

David Warren, Zanna Marshall and Cliff Shaw are working on Unit 2. Tarey Scott is a new member of Unit 1, which includes Jaye Lynn Warren, Steve Hughes and Cary Shaw.

After the requirements are met, the group will hold an exhibit at which each member will display his work. These will be mounted and will be judged on the requirements to be met. Ribbons will be presented.

Zanna Marshall demonstrated the use of a close-up camera, or lens which she had purchased to fit her camera. David Warren and Cary Shaw told of the Photography sessions at Brownwood Leadership camp, and showed Polaroid pictures which had been made there. Susan Warren, a Junior Leader will be available to help with records and requirements toward completing this project.

The Motley County 4-H Livestock Judging team consisting of Jackie Irwin, James Davis and Dudley Allen, all of Roaring Springs competed for state honors during the 4-H Roundup held at College Station June 3-5. Eight classes of animals and four sets of reasons were given.

The winning team from San Saba County will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to compete in the International Exposition Contest; and the second place team from Brown County will have its expenses paid to compete in the Kansas City Royal contest. The third place team from Bee County will compete in the Denver contest, with expenses paid.

Accompanying the team were Mrs. Albert Irwin, Roaring Springs; and County Agent Bill Pallmeyer. The Roaring Springs Lions Club assisted team members in making the trip by paying the registration fees.

Cheatham-Harmon Vows Exchanged in Recent Ceremony At Quitaque

Miss Billie Sue Cheatham and Alex Harmon were united in marriage Saturday, May 17, at 3:00 o'clock in the first Baptist Church in Quitaque.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Cheatham of Quitaque. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Harmon of Quitaque, former Roaring Springs residents.

The Rev. Bill Curry, pastor, performed the ceremony. Music was furnished by Mrs. Ross Herrington at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace floor-length gown over satin. It was designed with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline, and long tapered sleeves. The lace tiered skirt extended into a train flocked with pearl sequins. Her veil of illusion was edged in lace, and was attached to a tiarastone covered crown. She carried a white bride topped with a corsage of white garden centered with a white orchid and white satin streamers.

Miss Jackie Lou Cheatham, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Paul Langdon, sister of the bridegroom, were honor attendants.

Bridesmaids were Miss Katy House, turkey, Miss Lalonna Matanews, Mrs. Alex Harmon, sister-in-law of the bridegroom and Miss Evarene Cheatham, sister of the bride, all of Quitaque.

Their gowns were bonded lace forams of light blue, designed with an empire waistline, emphasized with a white velvet ribbon. They wore long white gloves, and white veils of illusion, and carried bouquets of blue carnations.

Misses Donna Brown and Kim Langdon of Rais were flower girls and Dane Bradley Cheatham, small brother of the bride, was ring bearer.

she chose the American and Christian flags. Her chosen scripture is, "Judge not, that ye be not judged. For with what judgement ye judge, ye shall be judged," Matthew 7:1-2. The dedication in the yearbook reads, "The Yearbook is dedicated to the Masons. Through their Masonic relationship, we are privileged to serve in Eastern Star."

Visitors were from Lubbock, Quitaque and Abilene, and Greeley, Colorado.

Hostesses for a reception following the meeting, were Mrs. J. N. Fletcher and Mrs. Avery Payne. Decorations on the tables featured a white stripe of crepe paper, overlaid with a red rippled and twisted crepe paper highlighted by arrangements of flags.

Punch was served by Mrs. Payne from a crystal punch bowl, and cake squares were decorated with flags, in keeping with the "Americana" motif.

summer, as they can be effectively controlled.

Chlordane and dieldrin are among the most effective insecticides for use against ants. They should be applied along windows and door sills, foundation cracks, baseboards and other runways used by ants.

Find and destroy the nests. These may be behind walls, in closets, in furniture and other dark undisturbed places. Inside the home ants can be controlled by applying 2-3% chlordane or 5% dieldrin sprays. These materials may also be applied with a brush, with retreatments applied as necessary.

Outside the home, apply a band of insecticidal dust or spray around the foundation wall and treat all nests in the yard. One tablespoon of 84% chlordane mixed with a gallon of water is very effective for treating nests, and only a cup or two of the mixture is needed per nest. If young ants are noted in about two weeks, a retreatment in most cases will finish this nest. Other materials that can be used are 2% dieldrin or a 5% heptachlor dust. Granular materials are also available of these chemicals.

After a wedding trip to Altus, Okla., the couple is at home in Quitaque.

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Quitaque High School. Her husband is a 1963 graduate of Quitaque High School and attended Clarendon Junior College. He served two years in the armed forces, one of which was in Viet Nam. He is presently employed with a government agency in Quitaque.

Among out of town guests at the wedding were the bridegroom's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Fletcher of Roaring Springs, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCaghren of Matador.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

The greenbug was with us last summer on grain sorghum, and according to reports from other counties, he may be with us again this summer.

Producers should observe plant conditions closely as greenbugs can result in stand loss from the seeding stage up to early pre-boot stage. Plants of this age showing visible damage with colonies of greenbugs on the under surface, should be treated.

The larger the plant, the more greenbug resistance, but yield reductions result if infestations are noted during the boot, blooming and grain development stages. For older plants, a rule to remember is: controls are warranted when greenbugs are the cause of two or more of the lower normal sized leaves.

Materials that may be used for greenbug control are: Trithion, Demeton, Diazinon, Malathion and Parathion. If these materials are used, be sure to follow label recommendations as to the amount of material to use per acre, and the days to elapse between the application and the start of harvest or grazing.

There is no need to turn the home and lawn over to ants this

ECONOMIST OUTLOOK FOR THE FEED GRAIN SITUATION:

The supply situation plus the expected increases in domestic usage; production goals for the 1969 crop which are aimed at holding output slightly below 1969-70 needs and an expected decline in exports are strong factors in the outlook for feed grains.

John McHaney, Extension Economist said the 1968-69 marketing year supply is estimated at 216.3 million tons, up only 1% from 1967-68 marketing year. The smaller crop in 1968 helped to keep the supply of feed grains from increasing to any great extent.

This season's starting smaller "free" supply (privately held stocks plus production) coupled with a projected increase in total requirements for 1968-69 could result in a tighter supply situation later this spring and summer than was experienced in 1968. A smaller "free" carryover into 1969-70 may also result.

Domestic use during the present marketing year is expected to be 5 to 6 million tons above a year ago. Grain consuming animal units are expected to reach 184 million, up 5 million from last year and heavier unit feeding is also forecast.

Exports of feed grains will probably be somewhat smaller than the 22.3 million tons exported during the 1967-68 season.

As for sorghum grain, the 1968-69 supply was 13% below the 1962-63 average, but 3% larger than last year. Domestic usage is expected to continue strong and will probably exceed last season's demand. Exports, on the other hand, are expected to be down from last year.

The larger quantity of sorghum grain going under loan in 1968-69 marketing year, together with the generally strong domestic demand should give support to prices during the remainder of the marketing year. Further price advances may be limited by the larger supplies available for domestic use, especially since prices are now above the loan rate.

Time, June 19, 1969, and then at said Court Room publicly opened and read aloud.
