A Look back in Time

June 16, 1960
50th Wedding Anniversary Dress
Made by Grandson for
Mrs. J.D. Perkins

"Odds are that you don't know a 16-year-old boy who has designed and made the dress his grandmother wore on her 50th wedding anniversary."

"Odds are also equal that you don't know Robert Perkins, Amarillo High School Sophomore, son of Mr and Mrs. Troy Perkins of 1111 West 20th St. His ambition is to be a designer of women's clothes, and he started early."

November 10, 1960
Kennedy is Elected President
Nixon Leads County,
Loses Texas, Nation

"Eight years of Republican Administration was brought to an end Tuesday as 65 million voters went to the polls in 50 states and elected Democrat John Kennedy as the next President of the United States. A Texan, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, hit the political jackpot by being elected to two offices. He was swept back into office as a Senator and elected Vice-President."

Thought for the week

"It is intelligent to ask two questions: (1) Is it possible? (2) Can I do it? But it is unintelligent to ask questions: (1) Is it real? (2) Has my neighbor done it?"

— Kierkegaard

Matador American Legion to sponsor Scott Smith to Boys State In Austin

Scott Smith

The Matador American Legion Post #337 will sponsor Scott Smith, a Motley County High School Junior to Boys State in Austin, May 31 - June 6. Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chip Smith of Matador.

The American Legion believes there is no better way to assure the survival of our republic than to train our young people in the ideals and objectives of American government.

By teaching youth to understand and appreciate the basic principles involved in the successful management of a democratic society, America can be kept strong and freedom ensured for future generations. These are the distinguished and long-standing objectives of American Legion Boys State.

Boys State is a unique summertime program complete with its governing bodies and elected public officials. Rather than classroom lectures and text book learning, participation and personal experience in a model state is emphasized.

Boys State was founded, and its courses of instruction designed, to supplement the information taught in high school civics classes. Boys State teaches that our form of government is good and that its preservation depends on intelligent, informed and loyal citizens.

Young men chosen to be Boys State citizens can look forward to a challenging experience, acquiring a better understanding and deeper regard for our nation's legacy of freedom and democracy.

There were 11 Motley County 4-Hers that participated in the Rolling Plains District 3 4-H Roundup held on Saturday, April 12 in Vernon. Round-up provides 4-H members with learning opportunities and educational experiences that support 4-H project work, provides 4-H members the opportunity to compare the skills they have gained with those of other members and with their own previous performances. Roundup also helps 4-Hers develop and practice citizenship and leadership skills in a different environment, as well as recognizes the accomplishments of 4-H members and the support of volunteer adult leaders.

The Motley County 4-Hers that participated in the 4-H Roundup Contest are as follows:

Junior Division:

NEW STREET SIGNS — Matador City Councilmen, Boyce Hart, at top, and Don Warren, holding ladder, began installing new street signs in Matador last week. They are pictured here on Main Street hanging the Dundee and Main street signs.

Do you ever feel like you never actually talk to a real person when making a phone call anymore? Seems like everytime I make a call to a business, I reach a recording which proceeds with a long list of options to choose from. I usually have to choose the number to have the options repeated a couple of times, before finally deciding which number is the one for me, only to go on to another recording with another list of options. You certainly can't make a phone call to some places in a hurry. It takes five minutes to get through the first recording. What happened to the days when a real live person answered the phone and you actually got to talk to the person you called in the first place?

I guess my office is a little behind times - I am not on the internet, my computer is probably obsolete, a person usually answers the phone here, unless I have had to step out for a few minutes, then my voice speaks on the answering machine, and I really do call you back. Just call me old fashioned - but I like the old way of doing things. I actually enjoy searching through encyclopedias or other records for information. I guess I would be considered weird by today's standards.

It seems like anytime you ask someone for some information on a particular subject, they reply - "You can just look it up on the internet." And they look at you like you came from Mars, when you tell them you are not 'connected'.

Even the old fashioned way of communicating with letters is almost gone by the wayside, with the invention of E-mail. We receive E-mail addresses to communicate with some of our relatives. But I guess we will just try to get letters written and mailed, the old fashioned way. Although I have to admit, I'm not very good at that, E-mail would be handy, especially to talk to my cousin, whom I never get to talk to since she had to move off to Louisiana, and I limit my long distance phone calls to calling Jeremy and Whitney.

Oh well, someday maybe I'll get modernized and I'll be E-mailing everyone, I'll have my own list of options, and who knows, I may even be listed on the Internet!

"Obedience is the Thrust"

"Seeing is believing!" "You gotta believe!" Believing is a very important concept in our society. From believing in yourself (confidence and self-esteem) to believing in God (theology and spiritual values) it is important that we believe. But we need to appreciate a few other aspects of believing and renew our understanding of a few more, especially from the Bible's point of view.

In Scriptures the word "faith" is tied to the word "belief." They both come from the same Greek root and idea. There is the idea of "trust" and "commitment" involved when you speak of "faith" and "believing" in the Bible. The word "believe" is not confined to an activity of your intellect and the brain. Biblically, the words "faith" and "believe" are tied in to the matter of "obedience."

In Hebrews 3:19, the writer reminds his readers that the people of God did not enter the Promised Land because of their "unbelief." In chapter 4:6, he again reminds the readers of that same truth, but says that they did not enter in because of "disobedience." As one brother put it, "That's the negative side. Take off the 'un' and the 'dis' and what is faith? "It is obedience."

You have only five more days to take advantage of the Library's free Internet offer. In April we are offering to each Motley County resident thirty minutes free access to the Internet. Don't miss out on this exciting opportunity.

We appreciate the donation to the Library by the Marshall Brothers in memory of Bennie Keltz. We also thank Viola Stinson and Dude Barton for their memorial to Bennie Keltz. All of these donations are important, both to the library and to the memory of a special person.

The library received several new children's books last week. Three very lovely adaptations of Laura Ingalls Wilder's Little House books for younger children are The Deer in the Wood, Going to Town, and Christmas in the Big Woods. The color illustrations in these books are beautiful, and the stories are classic "Little House".

Two books about animals for the Juvenile section of the library are The Wolf and The Wonder of Raccoons. Both are informative and interesting and have colored photographs to illustrate the text.

One of our new books will interest kids and adults alike. It is The Satellite Atlas. This book shows all parts of the planet in photographs taken by the various satellites that are traveling around and around the Earth.

Two books about plans will interest young readers. One, Pumpkins, certainly applies to our area in the fall as we see loads and loads of pumpkins come through Matador. The other is The Berenstain Bears Grow-It! This book tells how plants grow from seeds and encourages the youngsters to grow their own plants.

If you have children or grandchildren, the library has many new books that they, and you, will enjoy. They are ready to be checked out now, so come on in and read some of these colorful new books.

The Friends of the Library has for sale Shannon Davidson post cards. These full-colored cards depict Shannon Davidson as seen in the Motley County History Mural in the Library. What better piece of mail to send and have postmarked with the special Shannon Davidson Day cancellations than one of these post cards? You can pick some up in the library.

Family and Consumer Sciences News

by Arla Felts,

Nationwide, the number of children who are reported abuse and neglected each year has risen to approximately three million. And sadly, as many as three children die each day during one calendar year.

Because there is a great deal of concern for abused children and their families, since 1983, the entire month of April is set aside to celebrate national Child Abuse Prevention Month. There are activities in all fifty states to support this effort.

Child abuse is a community problem; therefore, the responsibility for preventing child abuse is also the community's. The goals of National Child Abuse Prevention Month are: (1) to raise the public's awareness of child abuse; (2) to encourage involvement by local community organizations and businesses; (3) to create a climate that supports families and provides alternatives to abusive behavior.

Although the public has become outraged in recent years about the escalating numbers of children who are abused and neglected, many people are unclear as to the role they might play in being part of the solution.

One form of neglect can develop from not taking positive action to teach children important health and safety guidelines. Adults should help establish lifelong safety habits that set a pattern of safety for children - always buckle them in a child safety seat and teach them the importance of wearing bicycle helmets each time they ride. Patterns set early become patterns for life.

Here is an interesting fact. Research shows that child safety seats, when used correctly, can reduce fatalities among children less than five years old by 71 percent! That makes child safety seats one of the most effective safety innovations ever developed.

As more new vehicles with dual air bags enter the market, there are increased concerns about children who are riding unrestrained, incorrectly restrained, or in rear-facing child seats in front of an air bag. It is the adult's responsibility to check manufacturer's instructions and follow them carefully.

Children become pedestrians with their very first step, and their first mode of transportation is usually a bicycle. Adults must help them set acceptable patterns for life - teaching them to be alert and aware of traffic when walking, and, as already stated, to always wear a bicycle helmet.

DPS Kicks Off Parent-Taught Driver Education Program

Parents or guardians who want to teach their children to drive using a state-approved course may pick up request forms at most DPS driver license offices starting Monday, April 7.

Previously, only schools and instructors certified by the Texas Education Agency could provide official driver training courses. The Texas Legislature amended state traffic laws in 1995, however, allowing parents to train their own children. The DPS developed administrative rules and curriculum materials to implement the new program. Successful completion of the course allows teenagers to obtain licenses at age 16.

Parents must follow procedures and curriculum guidelines set by the DPS.

The first step is obtaining a driver education packet request form at a local driver license office. For your convenience, please call the nearest office ahead of time to confirm request form availability.

Parents must fill out the form and include the address of the driver license office where the student will undergo testing, since a driver education certificate must be mailed to that office in the student's name.

The completed form must then be mailed to DPS headquarters along with a non-refundable $20 fee for the materials packet. The packet includes instructions, necessary forms, a Texas Drivers Handbook, a model curriculum guide and a resource list for textbooks and other materials. When other course curricula are approved, information about obtaining them also will be included. Generally, requestors who pay the $20 fee should receive their instruction packets by mail within three weeks. However, delays may occur during the program's start-up phase. DPS will provide the packets by mail only and will not sell them over the counter.

The approved curriculum requires at least 32 hours of classroom instruction and 14 hours of in-car instruction. Parents must use state-approved textbooks in addition to materials provided by DPS. The DPS packet includes a list of approved textbooks and sources for obtaining them. Parents should pay close attention to the copyright dates on the textbooks since newer editions haven't been approved for use in Texas. No special classroom or vehicle equipment is required.

At least six hours of classroom work must be completed before students may take the written drivers' test and receive instruction permits, which allow them to drive when accompanied in the front seat by a licensed driver at least 18 years old. After successful completion of all training, students may take the driving portion of the test and become fully licensed at age 16. Parents may choose to waive the driving portion of the licensing test.

Parents who have been convicted of criminally negligent homicide or driving while intoxicated or who are disabled due to mental illness do not qualify for this program. Children can begin the course at age 14 but must not complete the classroom portion and cannot take the written test until they turn 15.

MEMORANDUM

TO: Board of Trustees
Medical Staff
Hospital Staff
Communities We Serve

FROM: Mike Johnson, Rn, MPA, LNFA, CHA
Administrator/CEO

SUBJECT: Swing Bed (SNF) Survey
Other Miscellaneous Items

The Texas Department of health surveyed our swing bed program on Tuesday, March 11, 1997. The surveyor has recommended certification of our skilled nursing program to HCFA. We should receive our provider number in a few weeks. As we have discussed, operating a SNF will allow us to more effectively minister to those we serve. It will also increase our operational and financial effectiveness.

We also received an excellent Laboratory and Home Health state survey. The St. Mary Family Health Care Center is doing very well. We are fortunate to have such wonderful doctors and nurses practicing at our facility.

We have submitted the application to TDHS to allow Crosbyton Clinic Hospital to offer Medicaid based CBA (community based alternatives) and PAS (personal assistant services) as a separate division of our home health agency. These programs will allow us to better meet the diverse low intensity health related needs of patients thereby helping us continually improve the health and quality of life of people in the communities we serve.

We are committed to providing patient focused, high quality, service directed, cost conscious care in support of the development of a regional integrated delivery system. These endeavors will help us maintain this important objective. We are further committed to supporting our hospital and medical staff as well as the communities we serve.

We must continue to aggressively manage our cost structure and diversify our services. It is important that every employee market Crosbyton Clinic Hospital on an on-going basis. This will help insure our long term viability, patient focused care, and over one-hundred and forty (140) local jobs with an annual payroll in excess of $3,500,000. If the community does not continue to support and utilize our services, the hospital will not survive. Not having a hospital would effect the availability of local doctors to support EMS, the regional nursing homes, and all ancillary services (ie., lab, xray, home health, home oxygen, etc.) and could diminish the level of service oriented quality health care currently available to people residing East of Lubbock.

ous entertainers as well as recording several albums of their own music. Aside from the many festivals and concert dates, Karl Shiflett & Big Country make several albums of their own music. Roaring Springs Community Volunteers to sponsor Bike-A-Thon Saturday

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital has announced plans for the Roaring Springs "Wheels for Life" Bike-A-Thon to be held on April 26, 1997. Coordinator for this year's event is Mrs. Darleen Fletcher who encourages all residents and businesses to support this community effort.

St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, founded in 1962 by the late entertainer Danny Thomas, is the largest childhood cancer research center in America in terms of the number of patients treated and treatment success. Treatment is provided at no cost to the family and all findings are shared freely with doctors and hospitals all over the world. Thanks to St. Jude Hospital, children who have leukemia, Pediatric AIDS, sickle-cell anemia, and other life-threatening diseases now have a better chance to live.

Ten-year-old Amy Lyon of Chicago, IL represents all the patients who have received the benefits of St. Jude's research. Amy was diagnosed with ependymoma - a form of brain cancer in August, 1994. After surgery, Amy had a series of radiation and chemotherapy treatments which ended in December, 1994. Amy loves to swim and is an avid reader. She also enjoys rollerblading. Thanks to everyone who supports events like the "Wheels for Life", St. Jude Hospital will always be available for children like Amy.

Thank You

Dear Ladies,

We enjoyed coming to the museum. It was fun. We saw many neat things. We learned a lot about Motley County. Thank you for your time.

Your friends,
The Motley County
Kindergarten & First Grade

I would like to take this opportunity to convey my deepest and most sincere appreciation to the many fine people who extended acts of concern and friendship toward my mother, Kathleen Smith. During seven months of hospitalizations, rehabilitation, senior foster care and nursing home residency, she received many cards, verbal and telephone inquires, along with many visits.

When she lost her battle with cancer and her life, the flowers, food, cards, telephone calls and overall support that we received was overwhelming. I am deeply touched, but not surprised, because that is the wonderful way of Motley County folks and may God bless you for it.

Sincerely,
Ed D. and Pat Smith

Thank you for your outpouring of love, sympathy and praise for our Bennie and his Lord. Special thanks to Rickey Lawrence, Glendell Smith, the 3Ms and Richard Campbell for a perfect memorial service, and to the Methodists for the use of their church. God loves you and so do we.

HOW FARMERS AND RANCHERS CELEBRATE EARTH DAY
 Earth Day, that annual rite of spring, was once again upon us Tuesday, April 22. It's the time of year when many Americans take up the cause of saving Mother Earth from its occupants. It's the one day of the year when calling oneself an environmentalist is the cool thing to do.
 As we once again celebrated the April 22nd Earth Day, we see many images of well-intentioned Americans promoting supposedly Earth-friendly solutions to problems. Many champion solutions to problems were presented, that don't exist. It has some trendy each April for people with no natural connection to the land to talk about "Save the Earth."

What you probably didn't see during the days leading up to Earth Day were many images of the people who actually do something beneficial for the environment. You probably didn't see the folks who, unlike most people commemorating Earth, celebrate the Earth's riches everyday.

Take a close look at the agricultural community, and you will see one group working to help the environment. Modern practices have helped farmers and ranchers restore wetlands, reduce soil erosion, protect wildlife and generate less waste.

Land management practices have helped producers restore thousands of acres of wetlands. Thanks in large part to the agricultural community, 69,000 acres of wetlands were restored during each of the past 10 years. Compare that to 1987, when only 2,000 acres were revived.

The original premise of Earth Day was to promote the conservation of natural resources. Over the years, it has been transformed into a vehicle for radical environmental groups and bureaucratic watchdogs to promote their ill-informed and ill-conceived agendas. And agriculture always has been a fashionable whipping boy.

Who has the most at stake regarding the Earth's resources? Farmers and ranchers look to the Earth as their livelihood. What are their motivations for wanting to damage it?

With 90 percent of America's farms and ranches operated by individuals or families, maintaining and improving the environment is vital to keeping the business in the family for generations to come.

According to a recent American Farm Bureau Federation survey of young farmers, 97.2 percent plan to farm for life. Nearly all hope their children follow in their footsteps. Keeping the farm in the family provides strong incentive for today's food producers to protect and preserve the natural resources of their property. Doing otherwise would rob their children of the opportunity to carry on the family farm.

The environment is not only a farmer's lifeblood. It represents a family's future.

Forgive farmers and ranchers for not getting all worked up for Earth Day. For them, celebrating Mother Earth is a daily practice, not a once-a-year fad. Preserving the Earth and its treasures is all in a day's work.

Texas Farmers Should Be Cautious About Property Tax Changes

Sweetwater -- "Although everyone would like to see property tax relief. Texas farmers and ranchers should be careful they are not sold a pig in poke," Texas Farmers Union President Wes Sims said today. "Property tax changes will only occur with the adoption of new taxes, which, if we're not careful, could put terrible financial burdens on the economically strapped farmers and ranchers in this state."

Sims, a Sweetwater area farmer, noted, "The people of Texas have historically recognized the tremendous economic risk involved in agricultural production by exempting farm business purchases from the state sales tax."

Some legislators have proposed paying for a property tax cut by expanding sales taxes, and including essential agricultural production expenditures such as agricultural machinery and equipment, veterinary services, and motorized equipment repair, and adding a 10 cents a gallon tax on gas and diesel. Additionally, residential use of electricity, gas and water could be subjected to a new sales tax.

"As large corporations, including some that pretend to represent farmers and ranchers, fight to save their exemptions, we must be sure that more taxes are not shifted to Texas family farmers, ranchers and rural communities," Sims stated.

"We all want to see real property tax reform, but not at a cost greater than the savings that reform might generate," Sims said. "Texas farmers and ranchers should demand to see the real numbers and calculate the real cost of any changes before they make up their mind."

Sims urged all rural citizens to contact their State Senators and Representatives and "make it clear that an unfair shift in taxes to family farms and ranches will not be acceptable."

"Because of the limited income from our family farms and ranches, we cannot afford to lose the tax exemptions on agriculture-related expenses or the property tax based on agriculture productivity value," Sims said. "I'm afraid that we're seeing a Trojan horse approach, and we could all be worse off than before."
