TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Some savings and loans banks are giving jewelry, stamps and household items for deposits of certain size when left for various periods of time. They provide an attractive incentive to save and with the value of the dollar shrinking, they may be worth more than the interest the savings earn.

A tiny sparrow flutters out of the path of a car to the temporary sanctuary of a weed. The small bird is still trying its wings and beyond its presence is a hostile world filled with predatory creatures seeking to destroy its frail life. It must find food for each day and most of all the sparrow must learn to use its wings; for with them comes a sublime liberation and protection from many of its earth-bound enemies and access to more abundant food. The crucial period is the time needed to learn to use its wings. The human being goes through a similar period.

Time has a way of shedding memories that are cut deep in the face of the past but may be restored with an incident. The sight of a wide, thick leather harness tug reminded me that horses were frequently tormented by the leather wearing away the hair on flanks to the point of irritation. Chain harness sometimes had leather shields to protect the animals from the traces.

It is natural to attempt to justify mistakes, and also to justify our actions that produce personal satisfaction. A basic order of life requires sacrifice and denial.

A water gap is a piece of fencing strung across the bed of a stream to define property and prevent cattle from straying. Its purpose is to break and swing back allowing a flood to pass. Later it is replaced by the owner. The Republicans apparently have confused the term with Watergate and at present are having trouble finding the original fence in the debris of investigation.

Dickens Agent Awarded Trip To Washington

Dickens County Extension Agent, Harry Campbell recently received word of his selection by the State 4-H office in College Station to attend the National 4-H Citizenship Shortcourse and Heritage Tour at Washington, D.C. with the Texas 4-H delegation.

Each year the Texas Extension Service sends one county Extension agent (agriculture) to assist the State 4-H staff with the 4-H delegation.

Campbell will assist with registration, assemblies, seminars, sessions, tours, and workshops while on the trip.

The group will stay at the National 4-H Center in Washington while attending the Citizenship Shortcourse. Two objectives of the Shortcourse are to develop a greater understanding and appreciation for American heritage and to gain an insight into the principles, processes, and structures of American government.

Heart Attack Fatal To S. J. Braselton

A MAN WHO LOVED Roaring Springs came home Tuesday afternoon when graveside rites were held for S. J. (Braz) Braselton, 57. He had died early Saturday after suffering an apparent heart attack at his home in Corpus Christi, and was pronounced dead on arrival at Doctor's Hospital there.

Funeral services were held in the coastal city at 10 a.m. Monday, at the Kenne and Carter Funeral Chapel, with Rev. Maurice Cadwalder, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church, Corpus Christi, officiating.

The body was flown here for graveside rites and interment in Roaring Springs Cemetery, with Seigler Funeral Home in charge of arrangements. The Rev. Mrs. Ben Dillard, pastor of the Roaring Springs Assembly of God Church and Leonard Dennis of McAdoo, Church of Christ minister officiated.

The large crowd attending the final rites at 3 p.m. Tuesday, was testimony to the popularity of the dynamic man who was everyone's friend.

He was a former mayor of Roaring Springs. He organized and was the first president of the Roaring Springs Lions Club. He was a member of the Roaring Springs Masonic Lodge and the Church of Christ, and was a veteran of World War II.

Born in Arkansas, S. J. Braselton Jr., was born in Russellville, Arkansas, August 21, 1915, and grew up in towns along the Quannah, Acme and Pacific Railway when his father, S. J. Braselton Sr., was a bridge foreman.

In the summer of 1927 he met some Boy Scouts about his own age in Roaring Springs and they invited him to go camping with them. "It was the greatest experience of my life," he once said, "and I resolved then that when I was grown I was going to live in Roaring Springs where the people were so friendly." He was elected mayor in April, 1963.

S. J. BRASELTON JR.

S. J. Braselton Jr., and the former Dorothy Shirley, also of Roaring Springs, were married July 3, 1936 at Dickens, Texas.

He had suffered a heart ailment for several years, and succumbed July 21, 1973 having attained the age of 57 years and 11 months.

Leak In Oil Line Cause Of Concern

MUCH CONCERN resulted in a leak in the oil pipe line from Roaring Springs field to the 5,000 barrel storage tank at Whiteflat where the oil is pumped into the large AMOCO pipe line.

The leak was in a conduit under the Northfield Farm to Market road at the northeast corner of the town section. The leak was discovered about daylight Friday by Jack Luckett when he went out to feed. Oil was leaking from the line and running north down a road. Mr. Luckett's property corners the spot where the leak occurred. The road was immediately blocked since a vehicle would splatter oil on the exhaust system and probably start a fire.

The six inch line is about 20 miles in length and was built in 1958. It is owned by the Scurlock Oil Company of Houston.

City and county equipment was brought into use to elevate the condition. The oil had been cut off about 4 a.m. and that draining into the road was from gravity, in the pipe.

Mr. Luckett said the oil firm brought a giant suction truck into use which sucked up the surplus oil. He said they also employed a giant broom which swept up oil and then sucked it into the tank truck.

Estimates of the amount of oil leaked from the line varied from 50 to 150 barrels.

Keith Patton said Tuesday that grass land owned by his father, M. S. Patton about three miles south of town, had been damaged by an oil leak for over two years, and that it is necessary to fence the leak location to prevent cattle from entering it.

Revival Attracts Interest

Revival services at First Baptist Church are attracting the interest of the community, and drawing attendance in gratifying numbers.

Challenging messages are being brought by Rev. Marion Fonville, pastor of the Ryanwood Baptist Church of Fort Worth, and a number of decisions for Christ have been made.

Terry Keltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Keltz and native of Matador, is leading the singing, and his wife, the former Jan Higginbotham is serving as pianist, with her mother, Mrs. Vernon Higginbotham serving as accompanist for duet numbers by the couple. Vocal selections include solos by both Terry and Jan in beautiful offerings of music. Mrs. Pat Seigler, Mrs. John Stevens and Mrs. Douglas Meador have been at the organ during the week.

Services are held twice daily, at 7:30 a.m. and 8:00 p.m.

"While our attendance has been good, we still have plenty of room for more, and extend an invitation to everyone, to attend the remaining services of our meeting," said Rev. Leonard Sims, pastor. "There are still many decisions for Christ, to be made in the community."

The meeting will come to a close with services Sunday.

Economic Plans to Be Ratified at Meet

The "Dutch Treat" breakfast starting at 6:30 will be followed

Motley County was eligible for special aid. He said the county was qualified because it had lost population between 1960 and 1970.

At that time he said: "The government is now trying to relieve conditions in rural areas to make them more attractive and to try to move the population back to them. We are trying to create jobs. We are trying to reverse the trend through the aid and cooperation of locally elected officers."

Water Is Rated High Conservation of surface water for municipal, irrigational and recreational use is rated high. Each proposed project is rated, A, B or C. The location is listed as well as the description, projected benefit, proposed sponsor, cost and proposed source of funding.

Think hard and submit your suggestion to the Tribune; someone will have the answer. We will publish your suggestion and name or we will publish your suggestion in anonymity, if desired.

Starts Industry To Create His Own Job

MOST young men in the Matador area who are inclined to work, know that it is almost impossible to find a job. Larry Markham, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Markham of Matador, faced the situation and proceeded to do something about it.

He started his own industry, the making of steel reinforced fence posts. He served 18 months in the armed services and was scheduled to go to Vietnam, when the war picture changed and he was discharged.

He wanted to live in Matador but there were no opportunities. Then he hit on the idea of making fence posts out of concrete.

He believed that if he made a good product and sold it at a competitive price, he would find a market. He had sold 70 last week end and he is manufacturing more. The posts, which weigh about 80 pounds, are sturdy. They are cast with slots for the barbed wires, which are secured with soft wires to the post. Prices are competitive with steel fence posts.

E. E. Markham, county road employee, is on vacation and has been helping his son in "tooling" for production. They have built steel forms for making 30 posts at a casting. The form layers are separated by plastic sheets.

Posts can be ordered custom made for a special number of wires, and a specific number of inches apart. A display of the posts may be seen at the Markham home at the northwest corner of the Matador town section. Telephone number is 347-2840.

Parade To Open 50th Old Settlers Reunion

A PARADE through the business section of Roaring Springs at 10 a.m. Thursday, August 23, will start the 50th annual reunion of the Motley-Dickens Counties Old Settlers Association.

Added attraction in the parade will be Miss Ford Country (Sandy Lanford). All organizations in the county are invited to enter floats in the parade, and riding clubs and owners of antique cars are also invited to participate. Pioneer apparel and vehicles are suggested to add color to the event.

Following the parade, registration of Old Settlers will start at Pioneer Pavilion. The Memorial Service, as formerly, will include the reading of deceased in both Dickens and Motley counties, the past year.

The Memorial address will be given by Colonel Haynes Baumgardner of Lubbock, former ROTC instructor at Texas Tech University, recently retired.

The afternoon program, as announced by C. L. "Corky" Marshall, Secretary and general manager, will include the annual business meeting with President Sam Ross of Flomot as chairman and entertainment by the Afton Youth Choir.

The customary free dance for the old timers will be held at the pavilion, following the program.

Other features of the three-day reunion (23-24-25) will include nightly rodeo performances and two dances — the "old folks" dance under the pavilion and the young folk's open air dance.

Tentative plans have been made for a fiddlers contest Friday afternoon, and a square dance has been scheduled for Saturday afternoon.

The rodeo will feature the usual Old Men's roping contest. A hand-made saddle will be given as first prize. Any previous winner of the contest will not be eligible to win the saddle but may qualify for spurs and bits, to be given as 2nd and 3rd prizes. Age limit is 50 or over.

Word of the forthcoming broadcast reached Matador too late for last week's issue of the Tribune, but was published in Sunday's issue of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Courses Offered In Special Education

(Special to the Tribune) Two Matador students, Mrs. Morris Stephens, (Irene) graduate, and Brenda Wason, senior, are currently enrolled in special education courses at West Texas State University in Canyon.

WTSU exists as one of the few universities in the state of Texas where teachers can earn a special education endorsement for their teaching certificate says Dr. Wilma Jo Bush, coordinator of the special education program.

"Most teachers would have to attend school during the regular semesters to complete their special education requirements," Dr. Bush said.

Family Meets At Neighbors' Home

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Neighbors was the scene of a reunion of her sisters and members of their families, during the week end.

The group included Mrs. Robert Barcus of San Antonio; Mrs. Mae Wagley of Waco; Mrs. Ivan Gardner and daughter, Mrs. Larry Nygren and her sons, Eric and Daren of Salt Lake City, Utah; Joy, Gay, Thurman and Roger Lasater of Kingsville, who accompanied their grandmother, Mrs. Barcus; R. Mrs. Neighbors, the former Vertie Wagley, and her sisters, Mrs. Barcus (Bobby), Mrs. Mae Wagley and Mrs. Gardner (Mary Ruth) are daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Wagley. West of Lubbock, met their plane there. She later came to Matador to accompany Mrs. David Webb and children back to Lubbock, where they enplaned for Alabama to visit relatives. Mrs. Curtis King, Mrs. Elbert Seigler and Mrs. Charlie Scaff accompanied Mrs. Wilson Barton, sister of Mmes. King and Seigler, to Clarksville on July 16, to attend the funeral of their uncle, the Rev. W. H. Vail.

"However, the WTSU Education Department tries to make it convenient and practical for teachers who are currently working during the fiscal year to gain their endorsement in one summer's work."

Special education endorsements may be gained in four areas at WTSU. They are mental retardation, teaching the emotionally disturbed, language and learning disabilities and early childhood education for teachers of exceptional children.

"Each of these endorsements requires 12 additional hours of study except for the language and learning disabilities, and that requires 15 hours," said Dr. Bush.

Dr. Bush stated that West Texas is also well known throughout the state as being a university that is able to offer its students a practical study of actual teaching situations.

There are several institutions near the university, such as Kilgore children's Psychiatric Center and Hospital, Amarillo State Center for Human Development, Central Plains Mental Health Clinic, and Camp Wigwam, a summer camp for retarded children, where the students go for on the job training.

"These practicums are most beneficial to the students and to those being treated," said Dr. Bush.

West Texas State special education courses are teaching the Texas "Plan A" concept of teaching.

"This concept," Bush explained, "is a program to establish special education in a regular classroom situation."

"In other words, instead of having a special class that consists of only special education students, the trained teacher goes into the classroom and teaches the special children from plans that were drawn up for those children by individual analysis."

"Hopefully, the student will spend the greater part of his day in the regular classroom," she concluded.

Plan A concept is scheduled to be a reality in all Texas public schools by September of 1976, according to the Special Education and Special Schools Department of the Texas Education Agency.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

The Bible is known to be a work of God by its ability to foretell future events. Man, unaided, can generalize about the future, but to foretell events in detail, which are to happen hundreds of years down the stream of time, is a feat which man's mental powers cannot accomplish with any degree of accuracy.

One of God's faithful prophets gave a very simple formula by which you and I may judge between TRUE and FALSE prophets. "When a prophet speaks in the name of the Lord, if the thing does not come about or come true, that is the thing which the Lord has not spoken. The prophet has spoken it presumptuously; you shall not be afraid of him." Deut. 18:22.

Many Bible writers prophesied about events which were to take place in the distant future, and their predictions came true. Consider Babylon.

Babylon is one of the cities mentioned very early in profane and divine history. The Bible mentions Babylon (Babel) as early as Genesis 10:10. Profane historians trace Babylon back as far as 3000 B.C. This city developed through the centuries until great double walls protected one hundred square miles within. Inside the walls there was enough land to furnish food to withstand a siege of indefinite duration. The water supply was of equal quantity. Inside Babylon's walls was one of the seven ancient wonders of the world -- the Hanging Gardens. In fact Babylon became such a wonderful place that the prophet Isaiah referred to it as "the glory of Chaldea's pride." Isaiah 13:19.

About the time that Nebuchadnezzar had developed Babylon into "one of the splendors of the ancient world -- 605-562 B.C., Jeremiah, God's prophet foretold Babylon's complete destruction and perpetual desolation. Read Jeremiah 51:37, 58. Also note this verse, "Then it will be when seventy years are completed I will punish the king of Babylon and that nation," declares the Lord, "for their iniquity, and the land of the Chaldea; and I will make it an everlasting desolation." Jeremiah 25:12.

Now turn to histories and you will find that Babylon "rapidly decayed" after 331 B.C., so that now it is described as "a collection of vast mounds of earth containing ruins." Universal World Reference Encyclopedia, Vol. 1.

This prophecy was made centuries before Christ and today the ruins are still God's witness. The Bible contains many such fulfilled prophecies. Man, without God, cannot make these amazing predictions. Peter knew what he was talking about when he said, "... for no prophecy was ever made by an act of human will, but men moved by the Holy Spirit spoke from God." II Peter 1:21.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

The Bible is known to be a work of God by its ability to foretell future events. Man, unaided, can generalize about the future, but to foretell events in detail, which are to happen hundreds of years down the stream of time, is a feat which man's mental powers cannot accomplish with any degree of accuracy.

One of God's faithful prophets gave a very simple formula by which you and I may judge between TRUE and FALSE prophets. "When a prophet speaks in the name of the Lord, if the thing does not come about or come true, that is the thing which the Lord has not spoken. The prophet has spoken it presumptuously; you shall not be afraid of him." Deut. 18:22.

Many Bible writers prophesied about events which were to take place in the distant future, and their predictions came true. Consider Babylon.

Laziness Scalps Lawns

If that hot sun is ruining the appearance of your lawn, here are a few simple points to check:

The most frequent abuse of lawns is "scalping." Hot temperatures bring out a little laziness in many people — especially when it's time to cut and trim the grass. To lengthen the time between mowings, some homeowners cut their lawns extremely short and "scalp" the grass.

This is harmful for two reasons: Scalping produces weak grass. And it enables weeds to spread more easily.

Lawn care experts for Rockwell International say mowing more frequently with a higher cut can do wonders for your lawn. Although ideal cutting heights vary according to the types of grass, a good average height is one and one-half inches. When the grass grows to one and one-half times the clipping height, it's time to mow once again.

Scalping weakens the grass's root structure, the experts warn. When over a third of a blade of grass is cut off, the blade's root growth is slowed or stopped completely. Conversely, higher clipping promotes good root growth. And the more root growth a lawn has, the better it can withstand long dry spells.

Another victim of lawn laziness is trimming. A lawn that has been expertly cut but not trimmed reflects unfavorably on the homeowner.

Hemphill County Roads Named For Formby

Marshall Formby of Plainview, a former chairman of the Texas Highway Commission and newly-elected governor of Rotary International's 573rd district, received a pleasant surprise when he paid his official visit to the Canadian Rotary Club recently.

Local representatives of the Texas Highway Department and members of the Hemphill County Commissioners Court were also guests of the club and heard Commissioner Joe Bill Barnard read an order passed by Court designating two Farm-to-Market roads which Formby helped to improve as "Marshall Drive" and "Formby Road."

"Formby Road" is the new official name for a ten-mile stretch of FM 2266 between the city of Canadian and Lake Marvin, which was paved in 1956 during Formby's tenure on the Highway Commission.

"Marshall Drive" is the newly designated title for the South River Road (FM 2388) southeast from Canadian, paved in 1958 with assistance from Commissioner Formby.

County Commissioners, following approval from the State Highway Department, ordered the new name changes on May 31, at the request of Tom Abraham of Canadian, longtime friend and college classmate of Formby. Abraham spearheaded the drive to secure paving of the two roads in the 1950's.

Following the club luncheon, Formby was taken to see the new road signs which designated the newly-named routes.

J. W. Campbell to Become Publicist At WSC Aug. 1st

J. W. Campbell, a native of Roaring Springs will become new director of communications and sports information at Western State College of Colorado, effective Aug. 1, according to a recent news feature in the Gunnison (Colo.) Courier.

Campbell has been a member of the Division of Arts and Humanities faculty since 1961 as assistant professor of English. Previous to this, he taught in Gunnison High School six years.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Campbell of Roaring Springs, J. W. is a graduate of Roaring Springs High School, class of '51. He earned the B.A. degree at Abilene Christian College, with majors in English, speech and journalism. He completed the M.A. at Western State in English, and has done advanced study at The Universities of Indiana and Colorado.

DURING his career in education he has taught English, speech, journalism and German. In addition, he has coached or assisted in basketball, football, baseball, debate and dramatics. He has also practiced professional journalism, including vacation stints at The Gunnison Courier and News-Champion.

Campbell holds membership in such professional groups as the Colorado Language Arts Society (charter member and past officer), the National Council of Teachers of English, the American Association of University Professors, and Colorado Education Association.

Cooperating with John Q. Cope, WSC assistant professor of English, and Dr. James Kinneavy, former Western State teacher now at the University of Texas at Austin, Campbell has worked toward a textbook of rhetorical principals for writers.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell (the former Joan Niccoli) and three children, Mark, Mike and Mary reside at 610 N. 14th Street, Gunnison.

THE CAMPBELL family are avid dog fanciers, and breed, train and sell Siberian Huskies. They have won many ribbons and places in shows, and in sled dog contests.

Their dog, Muki, of Sun'n Snow won best female Siberian Husky of show at Colorado Springs June 10, and in second place with their female Siberian Husky, Rudoal of Sun'n Snow.

At the show the day before in Pueblo, their female puppy, Sun'n Snow's Munchin took second in a class of 5. A pup they had raised was first.

This brings Muki's total score to 13 points. With two more she will be a 15 point dog and will be a Champion Dog. Last year she was the winner of the Colorado Springs and Pueblo shows for the best Siberian Husky.

A good solution to this final, but often dreaded task—say the experts—is a Rockwell upright cordless electric grass trimmer. It eliminates tiring, uncomfortable bend-over and kneel-down trimming.

A third point of lawn care to consider is the soil's nutrient level. An ideal soil structure cannot support a fine lawn if there is a lack of sufficient nutrients in the soil. Inadequate nutrient balance can be corrected by use of a fertilizer.

Although many lawns are not fertilized even once a year, a fertilizer application produces the most noticeable change in lawn appearance of all improvement techniques.
