Drug Program Presented At School In Observance Of Red Ribbon Week

A Drug Program was presented at school in observance of Red Ribbon Week, October 23-31. Carl Rickert, President of the Southwest Drug Education and Drug Deterrent Service, and Don Harp and his Drug Dog, Justice, conducted the program which included a drug search and find by Justice.

The Texas Commission on Alcohol and Drug Abuse is helping to promote the annual Red Ribbon Campaign which helps coordinate a wide range of substance abuse prevention efforts on the part of schools, businesses, prevention agencies, community groups, and religious organizations.

Kids, parents, and other concerned adults show their support for a drug free life and future by wearing red ribbons on their clothing during this special time.

The Red Ribbon Campaign was founded in the wake of the brutal murder of a U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent in 1985. Enrique "Kiki" Camarena, a 37-year-old father of three, was killed in the line of duty while investigating a multi-billion dollar drug marketing operation in Mexico.

The Texans' War on Drug program (TWOD) was the official state sponsor of the campaign through 1996. TCADA this year has been helping to update and produce the new program tools that communities can use in their own local campaign.

TCADA Executive Director Terry Bleier said: "One of the best prevention tools we have in the fight against substance abuse is increased public awareness."

"The Red Ribbon Campaign offers us an excellent opportunity to help the public focus on the need for prevention work."

Bleier said many Texans have been involved in prevention work for years, and TCADA is making major efforts to emphasize the importance of prevention in its programs and contracting.

Helping to promote the Red Ribbon Campaign gives TCADA an opportunity to build support for new and existing substance abuse prevention initiatives in communities across the state.

Red Ribbon Campaign materials are available to the public at TCADA's 11 new Prevention Resource Centers. For information about the nearest center, call the toll-free number (888) PRC-TEXX.

The first Red Ribbon campaign was launched by groups of concerned parents in Illinois and Virginia. Congress officially recognized and extended support to the program in 1988.

Since then, millions of Americans have joined in participating in the program. The National Family Partnership, formerly the National Federation of Parents, is the official U.S. sponsor.

4-H Specialist Named For Rolling Plains

Vernon -- A program specialist in 4-H and youth development for the Rolling Plains has been named by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The appointment of Brad Davis, effective November 1, was announced by Dr. Martha Couch, Assistant Director of Extension for 4-H and youth development, and Elaine Houston, Rolling Plains District Director for family and consumer sciences.

Davis has served as a county extension agent in Grayson and Collin counties for three years. In his new position, he will provide leadership for a comprehensive 4-H and youth program in the 25-county district. He will work with district directors and county agents of the Extension Service, with volunteers and adult and youth leaders to design, implement and evaluate appropriate youth programs and activities. He also will train Extension Service faculty and volunteers and will assist in resource development.

Davis holds an Associate of Science degree from South Plains College, Levelland; and Bachelor of Science and Master of Science degrees from Texas Tech University, Lubbock.

He is taking graduate work from Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa.

After graduating from Tech in 1990, he taught agricultural science at Lamesa High School and managed and operated a farm. He joined the Extension Service in 1995 as assistant county agent for agriculture in Grayson County. He has served since 1996 as Collin County agent for 4-H and youth development.

Davis is a member of the Texas County Agricultural Agents Association, the Texas 4-H Agents Association, and the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association.

At Texas Tech he was on the meat judging team; served as reporter, vice president and president of the Collegiate FFA, and secretary of Collegiate 4-H. At South Plains College he was on the livestock judging team. He holds the American Farmer Degree in FFA.

Extension programs serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, disability or national origin. If further information is needed, call the Motley County Extension Service at (806) 347-2733.

Small Business Owners Educational Seminar

Anyone interested in the basics of opening a business or expanding an existing business can attend an educational program on Monday, October 27, at 6:30 p.m. in the Motley County School Cafeteria. This educational program is sponsored by the Motley County Extension Service Program Council. Ms. Vicky Norton, Business Outreach Specialist, of the U.S. Small Business Administration, will present "Alternatives for Small Business."

This topic should be interesting for all business people in the community as it will include small business ideas, loans and opportunities. Anyone interested in hearing more on these subjects is invited to attend.

Information will be available on what a business owner should have before applying for a loan, what a banker is looking for, information in a business plan, accessing small business information, what to consider before starting your own business, the basics of financial planning, packaging and presenting your loan proposal. This is an opportunity for small business owners and prospective business owners to learn about the nuts and bolts of being in business and SBA's programs.

Individuals with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service or accommodations in order to participate in this event are encouraged to contact the Motley County Extension Service to determine how reasonable accommodations can be made.

ON THE JOB — Drug Dog, Justice, demonstrated his abilities to sniff out drugs, finding drugs which had been placed in a student's locker for the demonstration.

CHAMBER BOARD MEETS NEXT WEEK

The Motley County Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors will meet next Tuesday, October 28, at 7:00 p.m. at the Library. It is extremely important that all Board members and interested community members be there to kick-off the 1998 Shannon Davidson Pony Express Days planning.

If there are any questions, please call Jeff Thacker, President, 348-7216, or Charles Keith, Secretary, 347-2283.

Love Fund Established For Rose Children

A Love Fund has been established for the children of Kenny Rose at the First State Bank in Matador.

Mr. Rose, 36, passed away in Lubbock's Methodist Hospital Saturday night. He had suffered for many years with kidney disease. Among his survivors are his wife, Lisa, and two children, Quintin a sixth grader, and Savannah, a second grader, at Motley County ISD.

Those wishing to make a donation may do so in c/o of the Kenny Rose Children's Love Fund. All donations are appreciated.

Love Fund Established For Hurts

A Love Fund has been established at the First State Bank for Jimmy Don and Brenda Hurt, and their upcoming kidney transplant surgery, scheduled for November 6 in Lubbock.

All donations are appreciated.

Arts & Crafts Bazaar in Flomot November 1

The Do Gooders' Club is sponsoring an Arts and Craft Bazaar, November 1st from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Community Center in Flomot.

The rental of booths for $5 will be available at the planned activities. For more information please contact Mary Jo Calvert, 806-469-5212; B. Rogers, 806-469-5255; Annie B. Cloyd, 806-469-5353 or Judy True, 806-455-1173.

The profit from the project will be used for improvements at the Community Center. A variety of merchandise will be offered for your shopping pleasure.

Meador Scholarship Donation

Special thanks go to Mike Groves of Houston, Matador Class of '59, who has added to the Douglas and Lila Meador Honorary Scholarship fund with a generous contribution to match that of his brother, Pat Groves, '57. This brings the fund to within two-thirds of its goal of $6,000, which will ensure an annual $300 scholarship to a Motley County High School graduate interested in pursuing a career in journalism. Anyone interested in honoring the Meadors by contributing to this scholarship fund should contact the school's counselor, Joan Keith at 347-2283 for further information.

PUMPKINS FOR SALE — Kyla and Korbyn Simpson are sitting among the pumpkins and gourds they're mother is selling from their front porch in Matador, for Fall decorating. They are the children of Terry and Tammy Simpson.

Matadors Fall Short To Strong Sudan Team

by Coach Cox

A number of young players came through and played well as the Matadors lost a District game to a strong Sudan team last Friday night. Jermaine Hendrix, Dusty Jackson, Benjamin Ridgley and Sean Rose started their first game for Motley County, filling in for injured players. We are looking forward to good things from these young men as they continue to develop and mature.

Other Matadors playing well were Jerod Reiger with nine tackles and an extra effort; Sean Rose, seven tackles, two fumble recoveries, and one extra effort; and Dayton Grundy, seven tackles. Chooch Meyer and Ryan Martin both had fumble recoveries, while Benji Rodriguez, Brant Donaldson, and Jason Barton were credited with an extra effort play.

Jermaine Hendrix filled in for Keane Cruse at quarterback completing six passes for 113 yards and ran the ball well. Leading receivers were Brant Donaldson with 2 catches for 39 yards, Aaron Binder two for 15 yards, Ryan Martin one for 13 yards, and Aaron Green one reception for 46 yards. Green also rushed for 16 yards.

The Matadors next game is at home against Nazareth. Nazareth is coming off a big win over Springlake-Earth and we are expecting a great ballgame here Friday night.

The Mavericks travel to Nazareth Thursday night for a 5:00 p.m. game. Come out to watch these young men play as they deserve our support. They put in long hard hours and represent our school and county well.

I can't seem to think of anything to write this week because of the sorrow my heart and mind feel for the family and friends of Kenny Rose. Naturally, growing up in the same place, and attending the same school I knew Kenny all of my life, but I really came to know him when my sister married his brother. In fact at their wedding, I was the Matron of Honor and Kenny was the Best Man. When we walked down the aisle together, my then 3-year-old son, asked, after the wedding, if I had married Kenny. We considered Kenny a part of our family then, but he really became a part of our family when he married my double cousin, Lisa.

Kenny was one of those happy, go-lucky guys who usually had a smile on his face. He was always willing to help anyone with whatever he could. He was very involved with his wife and children and devoted his life to his family. His children idolized him.

He was very involved in the Summer Baseball program and coached T-Ball every year. He was also involved with the Boy Scouts and he and his son, Quinten, have worked together in building a car for the Derby race. He also worked with the Motley County EMS and with his parents at their business Quality Discount Outlet in Matador, assembling new products. In fact he put my new desk together and we had joked just the other day, when I commented that I was afraid to trust Jim to assemble it, and Kenny said he didn't think Jim would have wanted too, it had taken him five hours. I will always think of Kenny when I sit at my desk.

I think anyone who knew Kenny is saddened by his death. Most everyone in Motley County knows everyone and really cares for each other. We all knew how Kenny had suffered for so many years with a terrible kidney disease and had to undergo dialysis for so long. But I had never heard Kenny complain. He always seemed to be positive and never gave up. I think he was an inspiration to all who knew him.

Kenny was laid to rest with pictures of his daughter, Savannah and his son, Quinten, clutched in his hand.

Kenny will no longer suffer with the disease that cut his young life so short. He now has a new body and is probably coaching an Angel T-Ball game.

Cheer up Jill!!
ONLY 5 MORE DAYS &
YOU'LL BE 18!
HAPPY BIRTHDAY!!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, & Jason

Opal Bradford has graciously loaned us two of her beautiful quilts to display in the library. They will be here through the end of this week. If you haven't come by to see them, you will want to do so. Opal's little, bitty, even stitches are a marvel. We appreciate her allowing us to show these lovely quilts in the library.

In the library display case we have samples of the State of Texas Christmas ornaments. We will have these pretty items for sale on November 16 when Nelda Laney comes to give a presentation on the restoration of the Texas Capitol. Come by and look at them, and if possible, tell us how many you think you might want so we'll have some idea about how many Nelda needs to bring with her. They sell for $15.00 each.

We appreciate the donation to the library made by C.D. and Evelyn Garrison in memory of Olivia Stockton. We also appreciate Rita and Algie Groves for helping out at the library on Friday. Thanks to Jo Scott for the donation she made to the library "in honor of the people of Motley and Dickens Counties for all the kindness they shown to her."

We have some new children's books for Halloween. One, Pumpkin Faces, glows in the dark. Cinderhazel, Your Turn to Scream, and Five Goofy Ghosts are all ready to be checked out and enjoyed by the younger set.

New to the adult shelves is Edward Rutherford's London. We also have three new crafts books: Woman's Day Book of Holiday Crafts, Decorate Your House for Halloween, and Trash to Treasure. These and many more new books are on the shelves, waiting to be checked out and enjoyed.

Matador Variety

No matter how you dress it, a hamburger that's undercooked smells like trouble.

Bacteria like E. coli, linked to several outbreaks of foodborne illnesses are completely destroyed when the meat is fully cooked.

The message is not new -- undercooked hamburger presents the risk of contracting foodborne illness, especially for the young and the elderly. Whether preparing ground beef products at home, or purchasing them from commercial food establishments, they should be adequately cooked to a "done" status.

According to Dr. Gary Acuff, food microbiologist in animal science at Texas A&M University, ground beef products should be cooked to an internal temperature of 155 degrees F. — an industry standard that will adequately destroy the indicated bacteria as well as others they may cause foodborne illness in susceptible individuals.

Commercial establishments should have controls to monitor the temperature, but consumers can tell if meat is done by the brown color throughout the product. Meat products should be treated with great care, especially ground meat products which are handled a lot in processing. The potential for bacterial contamination throughout the product is possible because of the grinding and mixing process.

Bloody diarrhea is the most common symptom of foodborne illness from E. coli. However, the young and the elderly are particularly susceptible to the health risks associated with this organism.

Infection caused by the suspect bacterium may cause a severe condition known as hemolytic uremic syndrome, which is the leading cause of kidney failure in young children.

In elderly adults, the most dangerous situation with infection from this organism is that it might cause a condition where blood clots affect the brain.

E. Coli can spread through food, water, and from one person to another. When spread from person-to-person, it is most likely from fecal contamination of hands. If the bacteria are on hands, they can spread by touching another person and also by using contaminated hands to touch foods which will not receive further cooking, such as lettuce or tomatoes.

Other bacteria are spread the same, therefore, the personal hygiene of food service employees and the sanitation practices of food service establishments are of prime importance in preventing the possibility of foodborne illness.

Outbreaks of foodborne illness, unfortunately, highlight the importance of basic food safety and sanitation principles. Thorough cooking of meat, poultry, egg and seafood products is necessary to destroy any naturally existing bacteria on the raw product. Basic personal hygiene practices of food handlers, such as washing hands after going to the bathroom, are crucial to prevent the spread of bacteria from person-to-person. Cleanliness and sanitation of employees, food preparation equipment and facilities is imperative to prevent cross contamination of safe food products.

The same basic principles of food safety apply to foods and food handlers at home or anywhere.

For those who frequently eat out, it's not always easy to tell whether an eating establishment is reputable. Therefore, it is important to observe hygiene practices and cleanliness of employees, especially those who handle food.

If you are interested in additional information regarding safety, health, and wellness including health dietary practices consider joining one of the Extension Study Groups in your county. Contact the County Extension Office for specific times and locations.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or natural origin.

Mercy, The Necessary Ingredient

On at least two occasions our Lord Jesus confronted the self-righteousness of some very religious people, saying, "I desire mercy and not sacrifice." What was the Lord implying? Could He have been saying that our Heavenly Father is not concerned with worship and religious ceremony?

Jesus was confronting a situation in which God's people had become so preoccupied with ceremony that they were leaving religion out of their personal relationships. No, Jesus was not condemning religious commitment or worship activities. He was simply emphasizing that if one's religion is to have any meaning it must include compassion and concern for our fellow man.

"If, therefore, you are presenting your offering at the altar and there remember that your brother has something against you, leave your offering there before the altar, and go your way, first be reconciled to your brother, and then come present your offering." (Matthew 5:23-24). Before there can be a right relationship with God, there must be a right relationship with each other.

It is still true today. Religious ceremony is no substitute for a compassionate relationship with one another. According to Jesus, true religion includes a right relationship with man together with a right relationship with God. Each has meaning only when accompanied by the other.

High School Students Hear Russian Program

On Tuesday, September 22, high school students at Motley County ISD were privileged to hear a guest speaker from Russia, Nikolai.

Nikolai spoke to the students about living conditions, education and governmental policies in Birobidzhan, Russia, a Jewish autonomous region near the Northern Chinese border.

Students were impressed with the size of the main fresh water fish available in the waters of the area - a 3000 pound kaluga. They also learned that the average life expectancy of Russian males is only 58 years, due partly to the excessive consumption of vodka - up to one quart per day by many.

Medical facilities are decades behind what Motley County citizens find in our area. Antibiotics are not readily available nor are advanced treatments of terminal diseases.

Because of poor laundry facilities, citizens wash their clothing and linens at home in bathtubs or showers. No home washers or dryers or laundromats are available in Birobidzhan, a city of about 80,000.

Russian teens find schools more strictly disciplined than American schools. The curriculum is also more difficult; students there study physics for 6 years, compared to one or two years here. Most Russian students begin their university programs much younger, but after finishing "high school", they all enter into a vocational program where they train for 1 or 2 years before actually entering into an academic program.

Economically, the area in which Nikolai lives is severely depressed. Many citizens are jobless; others, like Nikolai, have jobs but have not been paid in many months. Because the monetary rate of exchange is so poor, if a Russian has $200 American dollars, we would have over one million rubles, the Russian unit of money.

After he spoke, Nikolai answered questions from the students. Nikolai has been in this area for about 2 months as the guest of Mike Crowley of Matador and Ted Kingery of Silverton.

Local Poet's Work To Be Published

Lynda Flory of Matador was recently notified by The National Library of Poetry in Maryland that her poem, "Autumn Signs" will be published in their new book of poetry Chasing the Wind. This publication of her poem makes her a semi-finalist for the 1997 North American Open Poetry Competition.

Autumn Signs
by Lynda Flory

Summer has left us on the wind,
Waving good-bye like a friend.
Leaves are changing from green to gold
As breezes turn to cold.
Fields of pumpkins on the vines
One of autumn's lovely signs.
Flowers in the garden dropping seeds
(So are nature's stubborn weeds!)
Kids in school for another year
(Do you hear the mothers cheer?)
Yards aflame with fallen leaves
And decorations of old-time sheaves.
Nature's changing her green gown
For one of gold, orange, and brown.
Soon she will tire and go to sleep
'neath a blanket of white so warm, so deep.

Wedding Vows Exchanged In Candlelight Ceremony

Heather Ann Turner and Jason Scott Blount exchanged vows in a candlelight ceremony, Saturday, August 23 at 6:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church in Matador with Reverend Eddie Marcum performing the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Johnney and Carol Ann Turner of Flomot. She is the granddaughter of Joe and Carolyn Luckenbach of Silverton, the late Marvin Montague and the late Malcolm and Lola Turner of Flomot. The bridegroom is the son of Ben and Irene Blount of Paducah. He is the grandson of Georgie Ann Rekieta of Paducah, the late John Rekieta and Donald Blount and the late Iva Marie (Pete) Blount of Paducah.

The bride donned a full length sleeveless sheath gown of white bridal satin fashioned by her grandmother. The sweetheart neckline bodice of sculptured lace was covered in bridal illusion and alencon lace with rows of seed pearls encircling the neckline and armholes. The straight skirt was trimmed with lace motif appliques around the hemline and back. Miss Turner removed the detachable train for the reception. For a bit of antiquity, Mrs. Luckenbach appliqued a piece of lace from the mother of the bride's wedding dress into the train.

The bride completed her attire with a tiara of jewels and pearls attached to a fingertip length tiered illusion veil and matching bridal satin slippers embellished with seed pearls. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, star-gazer lillies, English ivy and heather, atop a white wedding Bible carried by her mother in her wedding. Tucked inside was a tatted handkerchief belonging to and carried by her great-grandmother, the late Laverna Brunner Sams, in her wedding. Also in the Bible was the engagement ring belonging to the late Lola Turner, grandmother of the Bride. For something old and blue the bride wore the wedding garter of her grandmother Luckenbach. For something new she wore a diamond drop, a wedding gift from the Groom.

The groom wore a black tuxedo with tails, white vest and bow tie. His boutonniere was fashioned of white roses tipped with pink and English ivy. Attending the bride as maid of Honor was Krissie Pigg of Flomot. Bridesmaids were Keri Sehon of Ropesville, Whitney Jones of Lubbock, Lacey Rankin of Dumas, Sheryl Davis of Lubbock, all friends of the Bride, and Michelle Blount, sister of the Groom of Paducah. They wore identical long, sleeveless, sheath dresses of raspberry satin, backed shantung with matching chiffon shawls and shoes. They carried nosegays of multicolored summer flowers tied with a sheer white ribbon.

Best Man was Chris Canales, friend of the Groom of Paducah. Groomsmen were Jeff Johnson, cousin of the Groom of Dallas, Jeremy Jones of Lubbock, Barrett Gibson of Houston, friends of the Bride and Groom, Brad Blount, brother of the groom of Paducah, and Cobey Turner, brother of the Bride of Flomot. The Groomsmen wore traditional black tuxedos and vest.

Ushers were Eric Rekieta of Paducah and Chad Smith of Vernon, cousins of the groom, Chris Burger, cousin of the Bride of Groom, and Mike Montague, uncle of the bride of Amarillo.

Candlelighters for the ceremony were Marisa and Michelle Montague of Houston, cousins of the bride. They wore identical long sleeveless dresses of muted shades of pink in a floral chiffon. They wore wrist corsages of multicolored flowers.

Attending the couple as flower girls were friends of the bride and groom, Kelci Hinojosa of Paducah, and Shane'a Russell of Matador. They wore matching dresses of white satin overlaid with organza, white ballet slippers, white organza harbors and pearl necklaces.

Serving as ringbearer was Hunter Rekieta of Dallas. He wore a black tuxedo matching the groomsmen.

The bride was given in marriage by her father before an altar flanked by baskets of beautiful summer flowers.

Central to the altar was a handcrafted memory candle surrounded by English ivy and heather accented with a golden cross. The candelabras were accented with English ivy, fern, and white tulle ribbon. The aisles of the church, as well as the altar were draped with white tulle and bows accented with English ivy, fern, and baby's breath. Hurricane globes with candles completed and accented the aisle. The aisles were fashioned by Betty Montague, aunt of the bride.

Joe Luckenbach, grandfather of the bride read I Corinthians 13, "The Love chapter", from a Bible belonging to Laverna Sams during the ceremony. Carolyn Luckenbach, grandmother of the bride, served as organist. Soloist for the wedding was Kathy Shorter of Flomot. She sang, "The Wedding Song", "Everytime I Close My Eyes", and "Grow Old With Me."

Guest were registered by Cathey Turner, cousin if the bride, of Matador. Serving in the house party were Wendy Lancaster and Laurie Hoyle of

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Blount (nee Heather Turner)

Matador, friends of the bride and Hannah Rekieta of Lubbock, and Stephanie Smith of Vernon, cousins of the groom.

The bride's table was covered with a batenburg lace tablecloth accented with silver candelabras, greenery, baby's breath and fresh flowers. Silver, cutglass and crystal appointments were used throughout. Punch was served from a beautiful cutglass punch bowl belonging to the bride's great-grandmother. The solid white four-tiered bride's cake was embellished with fresh flowers.

The groom's table was decorated with a golfing motif. A beautiful arrangement of Summer flowers accented the table with favors of golf tees and divets engraved with the bride and groom's name and wedding date. The chocolate groom's cake was designed and made by Nova Dale Turner, aunt of the bride. Golf mints were also served. Guests were also served an assorted buffet.

The wedding party, family, and friends attended a rehearsal dinner hosted by the groom's parents at the Springs Ranch Club. A golfing theme carried out the decor. Steaks and all the trimmings were prepared by the parents of the groom, family, and friends.

Bridal courtesies included a Shower at the home of Mrs. Jeff Thacker, Shower at Paducah held in the Catholic Fellowship Hall, Lingerie Shower at Paducah hosted by family and friends, Engagement luncheon hosted by Donna Burger, Connie Fields, and Holly Burger in Pampa, and Bridal Luncheon hosted by Brenda Cruse, Judy Cruse, and Deidra Clifton in Flomot.

The Bride and Groom both attend Texas Tech University in Lubbock. Following a short wedding trip the couple are residing in Lubbock.

Floydada Punkin Days
October 25th

If you've been looking for something fun for the whole family to participate in, Floydada's Punkin Days celebration can provide it. Celebrated every year, this harvest party is held the last weekend every October to herald Floydada's claim as Pumpkin Capital U.S.A.

Punkin Days will kick off on Saturday, October 25, with a 5K race and fun run beginning at 8:30 a.m. Arts and Crafts booths will be open for business beginning at 9:00 a.m. on the manicured lawn of the Courthouse. The booths feature home made items from all over the United States. It will be a great time to do a little early Christmas shopping. Local merchants will also feature great buys at downtown stores!

Judging will begin under the pavilion at 9:30 a.m., on entries of the smallest pumpkin, the largest pumpkin, ugliest gourd, prettiest corn, best painted pumpkin, best carved pumpkin and best pumpkin pie. Entries will be accepted from all over Texas.

Smaller children will enjoy the special games created for them, including: a pumpkin drawing contest, pumpkin rolling race, the great pumpkin toss and pumpkin bowling. Those a little older can partake in a timed carving contest, seed spitting contest, wheelbarrow race and a pumpkin pie relay race.

The person who guesses the weight of the pumpkin piled in a trailer will win $25.00, and prizes of $200.00, $300.00 and $500.00 will be awarded to the winners of the Cow Patty Bingo.

It is an all day event that can be enjoyed by everyone in the family. If you are too tired to travel home at the end of the day, you can recuperate at the famous historical Lamplighter Bed & Breakfast.

After a short rest, children can enjoy a costume contest at the Floydada High School and then a safe "Trunk or Treating" around the walking path at the high school. This newer version of Trick or Treating was created by the Punkin Day Committee in order to give children a more protected environment in which to walk and to also give parents peace of mind about candy being distributed to their children.

Trunk of Treating will begin at 6:00 p.m. at the high school park. Cars belonging to volunteers (screened by the committee) will be parked along the park with the trunk lids popped open. As the ghosts and boglins pass the vehicles they will be treated to the candy stored inside the trunks.

For more information on Punkin Days call the Punkin Day Chairman, Angie Lipham, 983-3434. Those who want to get an early start on the arts and crafts, or on the races, come out and spend Friday night in Floydada.

El Progresso Club Members
"Search for the Mayflower"

by Winifred Darsey

The El Progresso Club met Thursday, October 9 for its program on "Americanism," to make plans for the Fall Board meeting, and to celebrate Halloween.

President Elect, Loys Campbell, presided over a brief business meeting. Final plans were made for the trip to Seymour for the Fall Board meeting of the Santa Rosa District on October 18.

Mrs. Deborah Martin was program leader for the day and Mrs. Winifred Darsey was introduced as speaker for the event.

The Search for the Mayflower was the topic with the following excerpts:

"Whatever became of the Mayflower, that staunch little ship which carried one hundred and two men, women and children safely across the Atlantac Ocean more than three hundred years ago? People have thoughtlessly chipped away bits of the Plymouth Rock, eager to touch, to hold in their hands a sacred piece of the earliest cornerstone of America's history. And whatever there has been talk of destroying Old Ironside, that famous little vessel built in 1797, which played such a conspicuous role against the pirates and in the War of 1812. Americans have risen up in loyal and indignation and have clamored to save it, to preserve it as a tangible link with our country's earlier days of heroism.

How much more, even the wonderful little ship that first brought Colonist to our New England shore! Was it sold and destroyed? Does anyone living know anything about it? What really did become of it?

Such thoughts stirred Dr. Hamilton Holt, now president of Rollins College in Florida. As he turned away from the tercentennial (every 300 years) celebration of the landing of the Pilgrims. He was going to England that summer of 1920. He would have some leisure time, and he was determined to ask questions, to keep his ears open, and to see what he could see.

In a tavern shortly after his arrival, he was dining with his family when he chanced to meet an elderly English gentleman, given to friendly.

"Tell me," said Dr. Holt, "Is there any record of what became of your famous ship, the Mayflower? Did anyone ever seek to preserve it?"

The stranger showed no apparent enthusiasm but he shared what knowledge he had in the matter.

"There's a barn standing some twenty miles out from London in Buckinghamshire," he said and some folks believe it is built out of the timbers from the old Mayflower? It's a jolly ride out there," he added, turning to go. One of the most beautiful and leafiest lanes in the countryside."

Dr. Holt was at once interested; a bit incredulous, too, but even a few Dickson were hostess for the meeting timbers, if they could be proven a part of the famous little ship, would be some gain in his guests. Determined to see for himself, therefore, he drove out to the Quaker settlement at Chorley Woods, where William Penn, his two wives, and their seven children lie buried beside the old Quaker meeting house.

A few yards beyond he found the Jordan Hastley, now owned by a Society of Friends. There was an old stone farmhouse built on Colonial lines, with various sheds and barns and a haybarn. He inquired of the owner about the Mayflower and was led to a hay barn, and behold, the Mayflower! It was turned upside down and made into a haybarn. Inside, the timbers were gray, the portholes were there, the wonderful little ship is still in toil.

There is still much to be read about the Mayflower - and the reasons it is made into a barn, but it's unfair to the Tribune to ask them to print the rest of the story, call Winifred Darsey for the rest of the story.

The program closed with the singing of the song, "America". Grace Campbell and JoAnn Dickson were hostess for the meeting and served Halloween decorated cake and cookies, orange fruit punch, nuts, and mints to the members. It was a delightful time.

Mrs. Dickson is president of Santa Rosa district and urged all members to attend the workshop.

Rolling Plains In For Good Quail Season

by Dana Wright, Wildlife Technician III, TPWD

Quail hunters in the Rolling Plains area of Texas can expect a better hunting season this year compared to the last 3 years according to the Texas Parks & Wildlife Department's annual quail surveys. The Texas Parks & Wildlife Department annually surveys the quail population by conducting roadside counts along 20 mile routes during mid-August. The routes are driven at 20 miles per hour, starting at sunrise or one hour before sunset. Quail observed on the route are counted, then broken down into singles, pairs or coveys, and recorded.

Although most of the Texas Panhandle, including the High Plains and the Rolling Plains has had drought conditions for the past 3 years, the 1997 year has been different. This year started off with mild temperatures and plenty of spring and summer rains, which produced good nesting and brooding habitat for quail and a plentiful insect population, which is critical for chick survival. The quail population in the Rolling Plains has been in a slump, since 1993, however this years survey indicate a significant increase in the number of quail. In 1993 the average number of birds seen per route was 40.12, in 1996 the average number of birds per route was 9.0 and this year the average number of birds per route was 31.476. Quail numbers in 1997 are up by almost 30% compared to the seven year average of 21.73 birds per route.

I predict that hunters in the Rolling Plains region of Texas should have an excellent hunting season compared to the past 3 seasons, so get out and enjoy it. The quail season statewide, begins Saturday, November 1, 1997, and continues until February 22, 1998. The bag limit is 15 birds per day with a possession limit of 45 birds.

Anyone interested in quail management should contact: Dana Wright, Texas Parks & Wildlife Department, Route 1, Box 175, Paducah, Texas 79248 or (806) 596-4678.

Regulated Herbicide Provisions to be discussed in Public Hearing

There will be a called meeting of the Motley County Commissioners Court to hold a public hearing to discuss changing the current Regulated Herbicide Provisions for Motley County. The hearing will be held in the courtroom on the 2nd floor of the Motley County Courthouse on Monday, October 27 beginning at 10 a.m. This hearing will be to inform Motley County residents of the proposed changes of the current Regulated Herbicide Provisions for Motley County in Chapter 75 of the Texas Herbicide Law that was written in 1986. The current provisions read:

of November 1 to May 14 of the following year.

The proposed changes would read:
1. No permit is required for the period beginning October 2 and ending April 30 of the following year.

2. The application of all regulated herbicides, with the exception of Dicamba, is prohibited during the period beginning May 10th and ending October 1 of each year.

This hearing is open to the public and anyone who has a concern with the current Regulated Herbicide Provisions for Motley County is encouraged to attend.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has disapproved the Section 24 (c) special local need registration that allowed Texas cotton producers to use flowable carbofuran (Furadan 4F insecticide) on cotton to control aphids. Agriculture Commissioner Rick Perry issued a Section 24 (c) on August 15th when cotton farmers were facing potential losses of $40 million because of the devastating aphid problems across much of Texas' cotton growing region.

EPA notified TDA October 16th in its five-page disapproval letter stating the action of TDA in issuing a SLN registration was invalid and "procedurally defective in its issuance." The letter contained a strong warning to the Department that EPA may find it necessary to suspend Texas' authority to issue 24 (c) registrations in its entirety if the state should pursue a similar course in the future.

Producers can no longer legally use Furadan 4F insecticide on cotton to control aphids. However, the pesticide may still be used according to the EPA approved label.

Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. makes a move into cyberspace as it unveils its internet World Wide Web site.

The newly revised site features "Cotton Country Navigator" as well as areas dealing with the organization itself, cotton improvement and the boll weevil. Through "Cotton Country Navigator," a producer can surf the web but with focus on sites most likely to be of interest.

Sites have been grouped into board categories including precision agriculture, weather, news, markets, worker protection standards and pesticides. To access the services, a user will need a computer, a modem, appropriate software programs and access to the Internet.

The Plains Cotton Growers' site is hosted by The Door, a Lubbock-based Internet service provider. Unlimited Internet access through The Door is only $15 per month with a local call to Lubbock.

The World Wide Web address for Plains Cotton Growers and its "Cotton Country Navigator" is <http://www.plainscotton.org>. For more information or advice on the site or how to obtain Internet access, call PCG at 806/792-4904.

Early samples moving through the USDA Lubbock Classing Office are reflecting high quality and good color grades according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

However, Wendell Wilbanks, Lubbock Area Director, USDA Cotton Division, has concern over the lower-than-normal leaf grades he is seeing. "In the first 100,000 or so bales classed this season, we are getting a lot of 5 and 6 leaf grades that otherwise is high quality and good color," says Wilbanks.

A leaf grade of 6 can decrease the value or sale price of that cotton by as much as 900 points, or 9 cents a pound, in the pricing system.

Wilbanks commented he expects leaf grades to improve overall after area cotton is exposed to a freeze. He considers some of the problem to be associated with plant regrowth that will discontinue after a frost or freeze finally terminates the crop.

Wilbanks expressed greater concern that 30 percent of the crop classed so far can be described as "Light Spot." "This is considerably higher than in past years," commented Wilbanks. "Much of it is green from the regrowth now, but I am afraid we may see an increasing color and staining problem as more cotton gets classed that has been exposed to boll weevil damage."

Wilbanks has been Area Director at the Lubbock Classing Office since 1996 and has been classing cotton since 1962.

Legislative and regulatory issues continue to remain the focus of Plains Cotton Growers officials as harvesting activity picks up across the area. Progress is being made toward fi-
