City To Reapply For Sewer Grant

The Matador City Council met Thursday, April 14 at 7:30 a.m. at the City Hall with Mayor Gary L. Lancaster, Councilmen, L.B. Campbell, John Briscoe, Travis Jameson and Doyle Rose; City Secretary Nell Berryman; City Water Superintendent Bill Jameson, attending. Joe P. Smith was absent.

Mayor Lancaster opened the meeting with the minutes being read and approved. The bills were read for a total of $28,372.23 being spent for March.

Mayor Lancaster read the reply from the Grant application for 1987. It was denied. They discussed reapplying in July for the same Grant which is for a new sewer plant. They will have more points by applying for the same grant as last year and were also informed that the point system will be changed this year so could have a better chance.

Jessie Turner of the WTU had sent a letter asking the City if the WTU could pay the City the Franchise Tax every quarter instead of each month. The City agreed to do this.

Mayor Lancaster asked the Council to pass a resolution stating April as Fair Housing Month. This is done for points in grant applications.

The Mayor read a letter from the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department asking for a mutual aid plan to be signed with them and the Matador Fire Department. The Councilmen discussed the fact that they had always helped other towns but had passed an ordinance years ago that the two City Trucks could not go out of the City limits. One time they were called to Paducah to help fight a fire and had a fire here and didn't have a truck left.

The Council didn't see anything wrong with this agreement but thought the VFD and the County should make the final decision on this since the rural trucks were County equipment.

Rose stated that he had been asked by the Matador Garden Club to remind the City that they were supposed to keep the park mowed for them. The Garden Club understood that the city gave them the park to fix up and keep up, but that the City was supposed to mow it for them.

Bill Jameson said it was no big deal to mow for them but when he did, some of them complained that he mowed the flowers down. After a lengthy discussion it was decided that the 32 lots in the park owned by the Garden Club, the City, and individuals, but that the City should and would keep it mowed.

Travis Jameson had been asked if the City would consider giving the Cemetery a water price break. They are fixing to start watering and are nearly out of money. After a lengthy discussion it was decided to give them a new minimum of 50,000 gallons of water for the $13.50 minimum instead of 2,000 gallons.

Travis Jameson asked if anything else had been done about a Vet coming to give Rabie shots. Mayor Lancaster said that Ray Minkley and

Dr. Westbrook of Paducah were supposed to set a time, as the 4-H had decided to sponsor it this year. Meeting adjourned.

"Brother Bob" Jameson Honored As A Circuit Rider

by Marisue Potts

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of articles on the background of the people, places, and events depicted in the Matley County Library's historical mural. In the spirit of research, corrections and additions are solicited.

Upholding a Methodist tradition, The Reverend R.L. Jameson traveled over the country, serving communities of cowboys, freighters, and early settlers as a circuit rider at the beginning of the century. He spoke the language of cowboys and led many, including the "Pitchfork Kid", Billy Parlow, to a conversion of faith.

Although very strict in his teachings and beliefs, "Brother Bob" or "Uncle Bob", as he was affectionately known, is remembered as a fun-loving man with a great sense of humor.

According to his granddaughter, Nona Williams, he was not adverse to playing either. Once when taking his children to school in a horse-drawn carriage, Jameson answered a neighbor's challenge to determine the fastest horse. The race ended in an overturned carriage and a broken collarbone for the preacher.

After attending Georgetown University, the young pastor was assigned to the Paducah Circuit in 1903, followed by a Matador assignment.

"I came to Matador as pastor of the Matador Circuit, Methodist Church, in November, 1906. For the first two years, I preached at Matador on two Sundays, at Whiteflat one Sunday, and at the Dutchman School one Sunday." "For the following two years, Jameson told the Matador Tribune in an interview on August 22, 1940, "I gave Matador three Sundays and Dutchman one, and in the early part of 1907, I organized the Whiteflat Church."

Other pastorates included Roaring Springs, McAdoo, Flomot, (Cottonwood) Afton, and Tulia.

"In the summer of 1905 I went to Roaring Springs to assist the Matador pastor, J.T. Hicks, in the first camp meeting held at the springs. At this meeting, every unconverted person attending made a profession of religion." Included was a lone cowboy, traveling through the country, who had camped by the springs that night.

Brother Bob recalled that at one of the camp meetings, a Lubbock preacher, Rev. W.P. Calloway, was preaching. "I noticed some confusion among the young people who were occupying benches to the left of the platform upon which the preacher was standing. Watching closely, I saw a rattle-snake crawling from under the benches and go under the platform.

"I stopped the preacher, and we stood the platform on edge, killed the snake, and without further confusion, the preacher continued with his sermon."

Robert Lee Jameson was born near Joplin, Missouri, on October 4, 1874, to Sarah Day and James Knox Jameson. In this family of ten children, Robert, Charlie, and Almus would grow up to be Methodist preachers. The family moved to McLennon County, Texas, in 1884, migrating to Foard County in the 1890's.

Jameson married Mintie Baremore in 1897, and had eleven children: Malcom, R.L., Jr., Ed, Frank, John, Olin, Leslie, Eva, Velma, Oma Mae, and Ruth. Mintie died in 1948, and he married Minnie Higgins in 1950.

In 1910 Jameson was appointed by the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church to serve as one of the first trustees of Seth Ward College, Plainview, Texas. He served as school trustee of the Whiteflat School from 1922-1926 and 1938-1942, as a member of the county school board from 1932-1936, and as a county commissioner for Precinct II in 1919. He owned farmland in the Whiteflat community where many of his children settled.

As Earlyne Jameson summed it up so well, in a tribute on November 7, 1985, when a Methodist Circuit Rider plaque was placed on his gravestone, Reverend R.L. Jameson, "a man who saw this lousy country change from buffalo trails on the prairie to vapor trails in the sky closed his Bible, December 13, 1959."

WHITEFLAT CHURCH DEPICTED IN MURAL

The classic white frame church with steeple shown with Brother Jameson in the mural is the Whiteflat Methodist Church, built in 1912, and destroyed by fire in 1956.

Without question, the Methodist Church was the first organized church in the county, with both the Whiteflat and Matador being chartered in 1892. (The Baptists, following closely, organized in 1893).

Charter members for the Matador group were the Edmondsons, T.N., Mary, Fannie, and Ida; the Jones', J.A., R.J., Mary, and R.E.; and the William Wasons.

The Whiteflat Methodist Church charter members were Mr. M.A. Kimbell, Anna Kimbell, Della Kimble, Mrs. Laura Burkett, Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Barnard. However, this church was disbanded and later re-organized by Reverend Jameson in 1907.

School Board To Pay Teachers On Career Ladder

The Motley County ISD Board of Trustees met on Wednesday, April 13 at 7:30 p.m. with Guy Campbell, Bobby Williams, Randy Barton, James Palmer, Coy Franks, and Principals Michael Patrick and Don Ewing and Superintendent Ron Cummings attending. Donnie Cruse and Roy Stephens were absent.

Campbell asked for the reading of the past two meetings in March. These were read and approved.

Patrick conveyed to the Superintendent and the Board, the teachers and students appreciation for letting them go on the recent field trips, to the Science Symposium and the Ranching Heritage Museum, and getting to ride on the Activity bus.

The Board elected to pay the outstanding bills for the month.

Budget amendments were made for the Tax Appraisal District costs.

The Board was asked to elect to pay the teachers for supplemental duties as needed for the coming year. These are for the teachers that are UIL Literary Coaches and Sponsors of Classes and activities and other duties that are not listed on the teachers contracts. This passed.

After explanation and discussion it was decided to pay the teachers on the Career Ladder the money prorated by the State.

A letter was read from L.J. Barkley, Jr., asking to be withdrawn as a candidate for Board member of the Motley County ISD election to be held on May 7. It was explained that according to a state ruling that if one person ran for two offices in the same election and won on both that the candidate should resign one, so Mr. Barkley has decided to run on only one ballot.

The Board elected to accept Barkley's withdrawal and move Leslie Jameson's name in the 5th position on the ballot.

Cummings explained that they needed to decide if they wanted to lease or purchase copiers and typewriter-word processors for 88-89 school year. They decided to wait for bids.

A report was given on the construction of the Football-Track Field. Les Jameson hoped to be through next week. Paul Buck of Lubbock will come to reseed the football field, as soon as Jameson is through.

The Board discussed selling the two portable buildings and building a good press box or using one of the portable buildings for the press box. No decision was made at this time.

There was a lengthy discussion on building an addition to the teacherage now or later. The Board felt they needed to finish painting and carpeting and add on later.

Question was asked what was left in spending the Grant money and getting approval and hopefully receiving the second grant monies from the U.S. Department of Education. Cummings explained that they were nearly to the deadline on this and had everything in order for the inspection and then it should take up to 90 days for the approval and issuing the second check to the Motley County I.S.D.

Coach Marks asked the Board for a decision on the fence height to go between the stands and the football field. A new UIL Ruling states there has to be a fence to protect the players and coaches and referees from the fans. The discussion was for 4', 5', or 6'. It was decided that the Chainlink/pipe fence would be 4 1/2 to 5' high, with a 6' fence around the outside of the field with turnstyle gates.

Barbara's Bylines

Matador City Park?

Spring is here and everything is blooming and coming out in full dress, even the dreaded weeds. After attending the City Council meeting last week I drove to our city park. It is amazing how in two years time, something can deteriorate so fast. The park was cleaned and groomed in May 1986 for the Wagon Train and now looks totally abandoned.

What happened to City pride. I know it seems the same people do all the work, but sure looks like some other clubs or organizations could help the city and the Garden Club out with a clean up day.

Senior Citizens Report

by Iris Blevins

The Mini-Bus went to Lubbock Monday with four people riding. The Green Thumb workers used the bus Thursday. They were going to a work shop meeting for all of the Green Thumb Workers. We are fortunate to have these men to do door and window repair for our Senior Citizens that aren't able to do their own repair work. Thanks men, for the job well done. Thank you, Jimmy, for all of the mopping and cleaning that you do to our building. We appreciate you.

Tuesday was our luncheon day at the center and there were 24 people in attendance. We had as guests, the Assembly of God Minister and his wife, and the Baptist Minister and his wife and daughter. Mrs. Lipham had relatives visiting her and she brought them to the center and they sang and played the piano for us. The little three year old boy's singing was very outstanding. We invite you to meet with us at all of our get togethers.

Nora Belle and Bill opened the doors to the building at 2:00 p.m. Friday afternoon for games and fellowship. They had eleven people come and have fun together. We invite you to come each second Tuesday and fourth Tuesday of the month for lunch, followed with games all afternoon. Then every Friday at 2:00 p.m. for games and fun.

LIBRARY NOTES

BY JIMMIE HUNTER

Many memorials have come in recently. We are grateful to Billy Paul Simpson, Polly and Chig Gwinn, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Don Finch and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Potts for donations in memory of Morris Burkes. We thank Mr. and Mrs. James Renfro, the Vance Campbell family, and DeVonne Dillard for donations in memory of Ivy Cooper. A donation arrived this morning from the James Stanley family in memory of Mrs. Olive Russell, Mrs. Irene Traweek, and Morris Burkes. A beautiful book, COWBOY: THE ENDURING MYTH OF THE WILD WEST, by Russell Martin was presented as a tribute to the people of Matador for the friendship and concern given to her mother, Irene Lawler Traweek, by Francis Traweek Morris, Eugenia Tilson Bethard has donated another volume THE CHRISTIAN HISTORY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, in memory of her parents, Tom and Stella Tilson. I know you will enjoy looking over both these nice gifts.

I hope you have already noticed the colorful display of Texas wildflowers that Marisue Potts has arranged in our display case for your enjoyment. If you have time to come in and really study it, you will not only be able to enjoy the wildflowers that are beginning to show along the highways and in the fields, but you can also call some of them by their proper names! If you are near a Texas Highway Department office that is open sometime, you might like to pick up their pamphlet on Texas Wildflowers, Rocks and Fossils, as well as the maps and information about the various trails of Texas. These could help you plan an enjoyable vacation in our own state. Wouldn't you love to be in Austin for the birthday celebration of our Capitol on the first weekend in May? The new Texas Highway magazine has an article about the celebration and a great picture of the capitol on the front cover.

The Library School Group met last week and had a good time doing action songs with Lola Pohl and Robin Boedeker. If you happened in to check out a book and heard a siren sounding from the back room, that wasn't a siren at all. It was just Robin showing us how we could raise the pitch of our voices or lower it, and come up to the proper pitch and hold it for "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star." We saw a film of Zoo Animals. We have a new packet of films to choose from for next week's meeting. Do come and join us on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month from 10:30-11:45 for music, stories and films and check out some good books to read.

Out of town visitors this week were Grace McDowell and Hettie E. Davis of Lubbock; Ervin and Nita Merritt of Mineral Wells; Kathy and Josie Raetz of Spur; Lula Cramer of Arlington; Trula Martin of Flomot; and Ossie Lee Brown of Roaring Springs. Lula had to come home to get to read THE TRAIN TO ESTELLINE. When she returned the book on Friday she said, "I read the whole thing last night and Pace has been reading all day so I could return it." Maybe you can catch it in sometime soon and enjoy it, too.

Joyce Terry, daughter-in-law of Ellis Terry, met me at the door of the Library as I opened up on Thursday morning. She just came in to make some copies of recipes, but as I was giving her the grand tour of our Library, the Genealogy corner caught her eye. She returned later with her husband, Harold, who was delighted to find some history of the Terry family, and their daughter, Lisa, who is making a Family tree. They postponed leaving town until Saturday so that they could return Friday for more research and brought their sons, Joshua and Justin. Lisa took time to help me get the Anne of Green Gables books in proper order in the series. We plan to order about five of these books soon and Earline Vaughn has volunteered to proof read them before we put them on the shelf. The Harold Terrys are from Van Nuys, CA. John and Fern Green of Bakersfield, CA also visited the Library this week.

Home Economically Speaking By Carolyn Smead

Virtually no one goes through life without having at least occasional backache. And some people, unfortunately, suffer from backache almost constantly. But the problem of back pain isn't unbeatable. By practicing proper posture in all of your daily activities you can help prevent back pain and protect your back from injury.

Let's talk about proper sitting posture. Try to avoid soft chairs - the kind you sink down into. Instead, choose a chair that's firmly padded. And select a chair that has a tall enough back to provide support for your back. A third factor to consider is the height of the chair. Ideally, the chair should be low enough for your knees to be slightly higher than your hips when both feet are on the floor. At the same time, the chair should also be high enough for the seat to give support to your thighs.

If your chair is not "ideal" height you can modify it by putting your feet on a footrest. If you don't have a footrest, you can use a turned over waste basket, an empty carton or whatever is handy. The key posture guideline to remember, as in all body positions, is to eliminate swayback. Having your knees a little higher than your hips tends to round out your lower back and reduce swayback.

When you're working at a desk or table, keep your neck and back in as straight a line as possible with your spine. In other words, bend your upper body forward from the hips as a total unit instead of merely bending your head and neck.

And last, don't sit too long at any one time. Get up occasionally to stretch and move around.

But one of the hooks caught on to the counter. Huffman followed the line out of the store, down the street and into his coat pocket.

What a catch! But that's sin, for the Bible says, "Evil pursues sinners."

There's a thrill to sin, but there's also a tormenting conscience. Worst of all, you'll face the judgment of God against whom you've sinned. Is it worth it?

Sin today, and you'll suffer in time, and then eternity. Looking for a refuge? Try Christ!

Remember When

By Annie B. Cloyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hello Folks, it's just me, here in Flomot, thinking about old times and I'm not the only one - Trula Martin came over with a map of the town here as it was as far back as she could remember. She wanted Leon's help to try and remember who lived where and how many lived in each house. I just sat back and listened so I could try to remember a little of what they said. I hunted out the map that Delphia Jones had drawn and sent me and that was a help. We compared the one she had drawn with Delphia's and looks to me like they both did a good job with everything. They had all the businesses and houses that were here close to town.

After getting the map drawn, Trula decided to put names down and count how many folks were living and working here at the time. I think there were about 200 and if you counted the ones living out on the farms and ranches, there would be a lot more. It's hard to believe that there were so many people in this community. There were lots of kids in school back then.

Trula said that she would show the map to her cousin Ikie Gilbert and he would remember a lot more things about the town back then that she can. She said he never forgets anything.

We will talk more about the map of Flomot at another time - after Ikie gets to see it and tell us where we went wrong and help us straighten everything out.

I saved some more superstitions that you might be interested in learning about - so here goes - Never take ashes out of the house from fire places or stoves on Friday or Sundays. Never sweep trash out of the house after sundown. If a black cat crosses in front of you, if you are in a car or walking, stop and go another way or just wait till another car or someone comes by - and then it's safe for you to go. (Pity the folks that went across the cat's path first). Now don't ever bring a hoe or rake or an ax or any long handled implement into the house because that means bad luck. (A broom must be alright).

Remember the superstition about how you put your dress on and sometimes got it on wrong-side-out? We did that when there was no electricity and we dressed in the dark most of the time. If that happened you had better get someone else to take it off of you and turn it right or you would have had bad luck. Then there was the one about putting your dress on and if the hem was turned up, kiss it before turning it down and you would get a new dress.

I guess I had better stop and get at something else around here. I don't want to wait till sundown to take this trash out cause the 'bad luck' just might be a snake. Will tell you about our Rattlesnakes one of these days when we 'remember when' again.

Lubbock Hospitals Provide New Helicopter Service

CareLink, the new aeromedical helicopter service provided by Methodist and Lubbock General Hospitals, began transporting patients on April 11, 1988 at 8:00 a.m. This emergency medical transport service is available to hospitals and communities within a 200 mile radius of Lubbock.

CareLink can be activated by physicians, emergency medical service personnel, hospital personnel, or law enforcement officers.

In a life-threatening situation, every second counts. CareLink's experienced team supported by advanced medical technology provides specialized care on-site and in the air.

CareLink provides 24-hour emergency patient transport service in its twin-engine SA 365N-1 Dauphin 2 air ambulance helicopter. The dual pilot aircraft exceeds all professional and FAA standards for safety and is Instrument Flying Rated (IFR). The Dauphin SA 365N-1 is known throughout the industry for its avionic technology, advanced speed and range capabilities. With a maximum cruising speed of 195 miles per hour, CareLink can travel to most cities in West Texas and Eastern New Mexico in less than sixty minutes. Even at top speed CareLink delivers a smooth ride so that procedures can be done in-flight.

CareLink is certified by the Texas Department of Health as a mobile intensive care unit. It has extensive life support equipment essential to providing care for patients in life-threatening or emergency conditions. Throughout the flight, the medical team communicates with the physician and receiving hospital personnel informing them of the patient's condition and vital signs.

In addition to two pilots, each CareLink flight is staffed with a registered flight nurse and paramedic with other specialty crew members available based on the patient's medical needs.

CareLink can be activated by a physician, hospital, emergency medical services personnel or law enforcement officer, fire and civil defense personnel.

The fate of an average $1.3 million in annual "seed money" for Texas natural fiber and nutrition research will be on the line in Austin May 5 and 6, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

That's when the Texas Sunset Advisory Commission meets to consider whether to recommend continuation or abolition of the Natural Fibers and Food Protein Commission (NFFPC). The advisory group's recommendation is expected to be a critical factor in the next session of the Texas Legislature where the final decision on the NFFPC will be made.

The 30-year-old NFFPC, an extension of the old Cotton Research Committee of Texas, coordinates and finances research at four Texas universities each year. Also at stake over and above state funds will be a like or greater amount attracted annually by the NFFPC monies from the U.S. Department of Agriculture, private industry, Cotton Incorporated and other sources. For example, the NFFPC 1987-88 budget of just under $1.5 million drew over $1.9 million in non-state funds.

Johnson, who is a member of the NFFPC Industry Advisory Committee, brought the matter before the PCG Board April 7, and at the Board's request has since prepared a resolution supporting continuation of NFFPC "with adequate funding to assure the continuity of the NFFPC's valuable contributions to the Texas economy."

The PCG resolution will be included for presentation to the Sunset Commission in a packet of letters and testimonials justifying state appropriations for NFFPC activities. Public testimony will not be heard at the May hearings, but NFFPC advocates will be present to answer questions.

The Texas Tech International Center for Textile Research and Development receives substantial support from the NFFPC for its work on cotton, wool and mohair. Also supported is the Natural Fibers Information Center at the University of Texas, natural fibers and nutrition utilization research at Texas Woman's University, and Texas Agricultural and Engineering Extension Services research on cotton and harvest aid chemicals, sheep and goat and food protein development.

The Sunset Advisory Commission held a public hearing March 23 at which, according to Carl Cox, Executive Director, NFFPC backers were assured their research reports had fully justified extension of the agency for another 12 years. However the absence of a quorum on that occasion prevented an official vote that could have locked up a favorable recommendation.

Subsequently Cox reported that one member of the Commission turned "extremely hostile...and is demanding that procedures be prepared to abolish the NFFPC." It was this latter information that sparked PCG and other farm, ranch and industry groups to redouble efforts on behalf of the agency.

Farmers Home To Elect New County Committee Members

The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will begin accepting nominations April 5 for election of county committee members under new rules that make it easier for farmers to qualify as candidates and vote, Larry J. Clements, County Supervisor said today.

FmHA county committee perform a variety of duties for the U.S. Department of Agriculture's credit agency, including deciding whether an applicant is eligible for a farm loan.

"One important change broadens the definition of a farmer to anyone who has an interest in a farm in the county as owner, tenant or sharecropper," Clements said. "The new definition also includes the spouse of an eligible farmer. An old requirement that more than half of the candidate's income must come from the farm operation has been dropped."

"The nominating period has been extended to 45 days from the previous 25 days, thus allowing more opportunity for people to run for the committee," Clements said. "At least three eligible farmer voters, including the nominee, must sign the petition."

Two of the three committee members are elected by farmers in the county, and one is appointed by FmHA. One of the elected seats is to be filled for a three-year term at this year's election, which is scheduled for June 30.

"Another important change this year is that one member of the committee can be an active FmHA farm borrower, or be eligible for an FmHA farm loan," Clements said. "Previously, this was not allowed."

Anyone interested in running for the committee can obtain a petition and other information from the FmHA county office at 401 N. Burlington, Spur, TX, Clements said.

Tax Payments

AUSTIN, Tex -- State Comptroller Bob Bullock sent checks totaling $57.5 million to 908 cities that collect local option sales taxes at either one or one-half percent rates.

This month's allocation brings the year-to-date increase over 1987 to 6.5 percent.

"The state's economy is on the upswing and growing. Texans are becoming more confident about spending their money," Bullock said.

Bullock also sent checks totaling $5 million to 81 counties that collect a half-percent county sales tax. Businesses in these counties and 55 cities that adopted the additional half-percent tax began collecting it on January 1 this year.

Only a part of the allocation increase can be attributed to the additional tax and the widened tax base, according to Bullock.

"There's more money being spent in the state. Cities and counties are finally beginning to reap the benefits of Texas' recovering economy," Bullock said.

The largest city allocation this month, $9.6 million, went to Houston

El Paso County received $772,626, the largest county allocation.

Bullock also sent checks totaling $26.1 million to the state's six metropolitan transit authorities.

April's checks represent taxes collected by monthly filers in February and reported to the Comptroller's Office by March 21, Bullock said.

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

Social Security hopes to dispel many of the myths and misconceptions that people have about the program through its nationwide advertising campaign. Many of these myths have plagued the program since its beginning and have obscured its real nature.

Some of the most common myths about Social Security include the following:

MYTH: Social Security is just a retirement program.

FACT: Actually, Social Security is a package of protection - retirement, survivors, and disability insurance. It protects you and your family while you work and after you retire. More than 40 percent of the persons receiving benefits are non-retirees.

MYTH: Social Security is a full national retirement program designed to provide a person's total retirement income.

FACT: Social Security is designed to provide a base of retirement income, not the entire income in retirement. It should be supplemented by savings, investments, and other types of income.

MYTH: Social Security works like a bank account.

FACT: Social Security works more like a pipeline. The taxes paid by today's workers are used to pay today's beneficiaries. This is a pay-as-you-go plan and has the advantage of permitting the balancing of income and expenses of the program as needed over the years.

MYTH: Social Security is going broke.

FACT: This myth grows out of the problems the system faced in the 1970's when rampant unemployment, high inflation, and a defect in the cost-of-living formula meant severe short-and-long term deficits. Bipartisan legislation in 1983 resolved the problems. Since then the trust fund reserves have been building up steadily each year. The latest trustees report indicates that the program is sufficiently financed to pay benefits well into the next century.

MYTH: Most people don't get their money's worth from Social Security.

FACT: In fact, most people do get their money back from Social Security under today's system. A 65-year-old worker who has paid taxes on the maximum amount of covered earnings throughout his or her career has paid $26,371 in Social Security taxes through 1987. He or she could expect to get that sum back in less than 3 years. Based on average life expectancy at age 65, the retired worker could expect to continue receiving monthly benefits for another 10 years if a man, or 13 years if a woman. Future retirees also stand to get their money's worth, although it may take longer.

MYTH: Social Security funds are used for all sorts of government projects.

FACT: Social Security taxes are, by law, used only to pay benefits and administrative expenses of the program. The trust fund reserves are invested in U.S. Government bonds, which generate interest income to pay benefits. In 1986, the Social Security trust funds earned $4 billion in interest from U.S. Government bonds. This myth results from the fact the government uses the money from the sale of bonds to Social Security for routine expenses, along with other money in its general fund.

Cotton 'Perishable' From Ag Workers Standpoint

COLLEGE STATION - As far as seasonal agricultural workers and employers of such workers are concerned, cotton is a "perishable commodity".

That ruling was made recently by a U.S. district judge in Lubbock. The judge ruled that "cotton is a fruit and thus within the ambit of the term 'fruits and vegetables of every kind.'"

"This ruling means that under the provisions of the Immigration and Reform Act of 1986, seasonal agricultural workers (SAW) engaged in producing and harvesting cotton for 90 mandays during the period May 1, 1985 through May 1, 1986, are eligible for the legalization process," points out Dr. Richard Edwards, economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

Previous rulings by the U.S. Department of Agriculture had excluded cotton as an eligible crop under the SAW provisions, Edwards points out.

"Persons who are eligible for legalization under the SAW provisions have only until Dec. 1, 1988, to make application," the economist adds.

The proposed line route originates at West Texas Utilities' existing Spur Substation located at the intersection of Seventh and Burlington Streets, and then proceeds south for a distance of approximately 1,000 feet. At this point the line route turns in a southeasterly direction and parallels an existing 69kV transmission line for about one mile. The route then proceeds due south, paralleling a county road lying one-half mile east of Farm to Market Road 261. At a point lying approximately one-quarter mile north of the Dickens/Kent county line, the line route bears to a south-southwesterly direction, crossing the Salt Fork of the Brazos River at a point located about 3.2 miles east of Farm to Market Road 1081 in Kent County. After crossing the river, the line route proceeds to the south, where it terminates at Brazos Electric Power Cooperative's proposed Salt Creek Substation. This substation site is located in the Salt Creek Oil Field, lying approximately nine miles northwest of the community of Clairemont. The estimated cost of this project is $1,111,255.

Persons who wish to intervene in the proceeding or comment upon action sought, should contact the Public Utility Commission of Texas at 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757, or call Public Utility Commission Public Information Division at (512) 459-0223, or (512) 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 for teletypewriter for the deaf within 15 days of this notice.

Ray Farabee To Withdraw From Senate Race

Former State Senator Ray Farabee announced that he will remove his name from the November General Election ballot on August 14; the day after the special election for State Senator. By waiting until this date, Farabee's action guarantees the people of District 30 the opportunity to vote on all the candidates for state senator.

"I'm disturbed by talk of bypassing the summer special election," Ray Farabee said. "Without such an election to act as a 'primary', the 30 democratic county chairs are forced to pick one candidate and the 30 republican county chairs are forced to pick one for the November general election ballot without any input from the voting public. This is outrageous. Not only is it an unfair burden to put on these chairman, it is extremely unfair to the 300,000 people who have a right to vote.

"No matter how many votes Helen Farabee gets or how many her opponenets get in the August electon, the important thing is that the people get to vote on all the candidates. I give you my word that my name will come off the ballot the day after the August public election," Farabee continued.

"If I remove my name any sooner there may be an attempt to deny voters their rights. The integrity of this senate seat is being severely threatened, and I cannot stand by and merely watch."

"I know the county chairs join me in saying that the people should be allowed to vote on all the candidates for state senator," he said. "The democratic party has always been a strong proponent of letting the people have their say.

Furthermore, Texans have clearly endorsed the public election of judges and of our State Board of Education. Surely, the public election of our state senators is just as important, if not more so."

Currently, there are four candidates interested in filing for the senate seat in the August election. Because Ray Farabee is waiting until August 14 to take his name off the ballot, all four candidates and any other interested person can put their name on the August ballot before the county chairs can be forced to choose the candidate for November. "This allows the August election to take place with all interested candidates on the ballot," Farabee explained. "My primary concern is to let the voting public be heard and not ignore their rights."

EXPERIMENTAL RANCH FIELD DAY TO FEATURE GRAZING MANAGEMENT

Techniques and technology to provide the most efficient and effective grazing management for cattle in the Rolling Plains of Texas will be featured here Thursday, April 28, at the field day of the Texas Experimental Ranch.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. at the ranch, with presentations on grazing management by staff members of the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station. The presentations will be followed by a two-hour tour research facilities and study sites on the ranch, said Dr. Rod Heitschmidt, associate professor of range management with the Experiment Station. A dutch treat barbecue lunch will be served following the tour.

The experimental ranch is 11 sections on the Throckmorton Ranch owned by the Swen R. Swenson Cattle Co. It is on U.S. Hwy. 183 and 283, 10 miles north of Throckmorton and 20 miles south of Seymour.

In the event of bad weather on April 28, the field day will be rescheduled for the following Thursday, May 5, Heitschmidt said.

Announcement of such a change will be made on local radio stations the evening of April 27 and morning of April 28, he said.

The Texas Experimental Ranch was established in 1957. It has conducted research on livestock responses to rates of stocking, types of grazing systems and levels of winter supplementation of feed; longterm vegetation response to grazing treatments; effects of stocking and grazing systems on rate of water infiltration and sediment, production and calf growth development.

The ranch is a cooperative venture of ranchers, businessmen and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, an arm of the Texas A&M University System. Pasture and livestock are provided by the Swenson Land and Cattle Co, TAES provides personnel and funds for research, and citizens formed the Texas Experimental Ranch Committee to raise private funds for construction of facilities. The committee also serves as an advisory board.

I will be planning to attend this field day. If you would like to go with me, please call the County Extension Office at 347-2733 or call me at home at 469-5214.

Women Are Farmers, Too

Editor's note: This article was taken from the Amarillo Daily News, by Kay Ledbetter.

Women involved in agriculture have been declared people.

That may sound like a stupid statement, but it is necessary to tell the U.S. Department of Agriculture this, because its farm program considers a woman an extension of her husband and not an individual.

Women have been trying to tell USDA they are people too, but it took a court case to bring the fact to the federal officials' eyes, and even now they will probably appeal that decision.

Women Involved in Farm Economics (WIFE) contested the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service regulation which states a husband and a wife will be considered one person in determining a $50,000 crop payment limitation.

A decision was handed down in U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia in the case of WIFE vs USDA. Judge Joyce Hens Green found Section 795.11 to be unconstitutional under the Fifth Amendment and in violation of the Administrative Procedure Act, according to a WIFE news release.

Alice Parker, WIFE president, said in the release, "the ruling will not affect every farm in the country because all other criteria for separate person status must be met, however, it does establish a woman's right to be considered a separate person, regardless of marital status."

The ruling will go into effect April 18 unless USDA appeals the decision and the appellate court stays the district court decision during the appellate process.

Green's ruling reverses an 18-year USDA policy and rejects the ruling of a similar 1981 court case that upheld the marriage regulation because of "the economic interdependence of married couples."

"...The plain and ordinary meaning of the term 'person' requires rejection of the archaic notion that husbands and wives are one 'person,'" Green said in her decision dated March 31, according to a Knight-Rider news service story.

The payment limit per person is $50,000 and payments are limited to persons "actively engaged" in farming. To be eligible as a separate person, an individual must make significant contribution of a capital, equipment or land and personal labor or active personal management. In addition, his or her share of profits must be commensurate with contributions and must be "at risk," according to USDA.

Adult family members are defined as parents, children and brothers and sisters. A husband and wife will be considered one person unless they were engaged in separate, unrelated farming operation prior to marriage, USDA states.

The Agriculture Department argued that farms operated by couples are so interrelated that it was illogical to consider farm couples as separate operators. Moreover, USDA contended, changing the definition would cost taxpayers an additional $182 million a year in crop subsidies.

But Green termed the notion "wholly unpersuasive" in addition to questioning USDA's mathematics.

"The Secretary (of Agriculture) has seen fit not to make such stereotypical assumptions with regard to other economically dependent entities, such as partnerships," she said in the news release.

Until last week, a father and his son farming in partnership were regarded as two people, whereas a husband and wife were considered as one.

If the ruling stands, its major effect would be on couples with larger farms who are already bumping up against the $50,000-a-person limit. The $50,000 limit is reached at roughly between 1,600 acres base on dryland wheat and a 1,700-acre dryland milo farm.

In arguing against any change, USDA attorneys insisted their regulations were designed to curb the blatant abuse that concerned Congress, the wire story said.

But, replied Green in her decision, "The government has not adequately explained how married couples could defraud the program...nor have defendants explained why they pinpoint married couples as such significant potential sources of fraud."

Taste and see that the Lord is good; blessed is the man who takes refuge in him.

Psalm 34:8

Home Economics Briefs

With terms like "maltodextrin," "monocalcium phosphate" and "sodium bisulfite," food labels can read like a chemistry test. "Although consumers have cultivated a taste for an all sorts of convenience foods that require additives, they also wonder about the long-term health effects of the chemicals listed on the labels," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with Texas A&M University's Agricultural Extension Service. Are shoppers' concerns well-founded? "Food additives are hardly new,"

she explains. "They've been with us for thousands of years, probably starting with the discovery that salted meat lasted longer." The man-made chemicals added to foods are closely scrutinized and strictly regulated by the Food and Drug Administration. Their use is permitted in foods only at levels that ensure a large margin of safety between levels of human exposure and the highest level at which no harm of any sort is evident in test animals, the nutritionist says.
