MATADOR CITY COUNCIL REPORT

The Matador City Council met Thursday, July 14, 7:30 a.m., with Mayor Gary Lancaster, Councilmen L. B. Campbell, L. J. Barkley, Joe P. Smith, Travis Jameson, and Doyle Rose. Also attending was City Secretary Nell Berryman and City Water Superintendent Bill Jameson.

The Mayor called the meeting open and asked for the reading of the minutes by Secretary Berryman.

Discussed was that the T.V. reception was still bad and getting worse in some areas of town. The question was asked if the owner was contacted and asked to come to the Council meeting. No, he had not been contacted only the Paducah office. Rose informed the Council that he had spoken to some people at Spur and they were having problems with their service to. After a lengthy discussion it was decided that the Mayor would write a letter to the Cable owner, Jim Doucette of Lockney and ask him to meet with the City Council at the next meeting to discuss the problem and a solution.

Barkley reported that he had lots of interest in getting a county committee to look into bringing in industry or small business to Motley County. The Council decided to set a meeting date of July 28 at 7:30 p.m. at the Motley County School Cafeteria. The council discussed they hope people will show up, normally people would say they were interested but when it came down to getting something done no one would participate. The question was asked if a date had been set for the open meeting to have the

Roaring Springs City Council Report

The Roaring Springs City Council met Tuesday, July 12 at 7:30 p.m. with Mayor Eugene Watson, Councilmen, Charlie Long, Bill Moose, Gene Brannon, Councilwoman Devonne Dillard, City Secretary, Anna Wilson and City Water Superintendent Regan Holley. Absent was Joey Thacker.

The meeting was called to order by Mayor Watson. He had the reading of the past two meetings, the regular meeting and a special meeting.

Watson had a request to ask of the Council. He explained that part of the land between the loop 42 and the abandoned railroad right-of-way belonged to his wife, Cleo Watson, and they wanted to survey the property and fence it off, 911 Emergency system. No one had heard of one and they thought it was up to the Commissioners to set this up.

The question was asked if they had any reports on the Harp Apartments, the Mayor informed them that the Estate Executor had said they had a possible buyer and would let them know if this fell through.

The bills were read and approved to be paid. Outstanding bills were $1,990.00 for new dumpsters and $260 for the repairs at the City Park, deducted from this was the Lions' donation of $150.

Bill Jameson reported he would get started on the mowing as soon as he got the mower fixed. Rose said if they would shread the Park, the Park Committee would come in and mow it and trim it up.

The Council discussed the repairs on the front of the City Hall. Bill Jameson said they hoped to start soon. Jameson reported that Clay Jameson, Foreman for the Highway Department, had told him that the street in front of the Methodist Church was dropping, probably due to a broken seal and leak in the large drain from the Phillips 66 to the Park Hill. Bill said they needed to find where the problem is.

Barkley asked if the Council would okay the purchasing of eight Stop Signs. He explained that they were needed at various intersections. Motion passed.

Barkley also asked the Council to consider putting in flashing caution lights at the Highway 70 and Bundy Street for Watson explained it had been fenced at one time and the fence was gone now and they wanted to fence it legally and felt he needed the Council's permission. It was suggested he notify the neighbor property owner of the plans. Motion passed. Next on the agenda was the matter of storage rent on the old school and gym. Dillard reported that Thacker was going to bring in all his papers on paying rent and upkeep which they had agreed to in 1980. A lengthy discussion followed with the main interest being that the rent would help pay for the new roof and upkeep and hopefully to keep the burden off of the city. Decision was tabled until Thacker returns.

M.C.Y.O Elects Officers for 1989 Baseball

The M.C.Y.O. met July 14, 1988. Before the election of new officers, several amendments were acted upon.

There will be a two week sign-up period in April. No one will be allowed to sign up after this time. Games will be played in a round robin fashion. In T-Ball only, there will not be team placings. The team name will be put on these trophies.

Next year there will be three divisions: T-Ball for grades K through 3; Minor League Softball, for grades 4 through 7, and Major League Softball for grades 8 through 11. In softball, each player must play at least three complete innings.

The new officers for 1989 are: Commissioner, Luther Green; President Debra Scott; Vice-President, Kathy Gillespie; Assistant Commissioner, Dorothy Webb; and Secretary-Treasurer, Deidra Clifton.

After the meeting the coaches and parents played softball. Everyone had a good time. Although no official score was kept, the coaches appeared to have won the game.

The M.C.Y.O. would like to take this opportunity to thank the Motley County Tribune for so willingly printing all of our news articles and announcements.

Settlers Association asked the City permission to fence in the Old Settlers grounds, so they could charge a $3.00 gate fee. He explained this fee would be for 12-60 year olds and would also be the rodeo admission fee. They were also going to charge a fee for campers. Rodeo participants would be refunded the $3.00 admission fee when they pay their rodeo fee. This passed.

Mary Baiza sent word for the city to send in the water samples. After discussion, Holley was instructed to take the different samples from around the town to send in to be tested.

Dillard reported that Omar Parks had said the city was welcome to drill test holes for water on his land adjacent to the city well land and that he would give them water rights. This sounded very favorable to the Council. No action was taken.

The Bronc Busters

by Marisue Potts

(Editor's Note: This article is one in a series about the people, places, and events depicted in the Motley County Library's historical mural. In the spirit of research, additions and corrections are solicited.)

In 1893, the Matador Ranch brought two or three hundred head of unbroken horses from Colorado. These horses, more powerful than the Texas-Spanish mustang, were wild, mean, and, at seven or eight years old, fully grown.

According to Duff Green in his excellent book Recollections, the result of this purchase was that the Matadors developed many bronc riders of merit. Those he named were Bob Haley, Joe Russell, Tom Baxter, John Jackson, Charlie Morris, Raldo Newman, Ed D. Smith, John Dodd, Claude Jeffers, Till Lee, and Roy McClane.

Horse breaking or busting consisted of some very basic training involving lessons of fear and respect which would break the animal's wild spirit. The amount of forcing or gentling depended on the time and money the owner was willing to spend on a horse. Five dollars to break a $35 dollar horse, with maybe six horses to break in a day, could earn a bronc buster about the same as a cowpoke.

This is the way it might have worked. In a large pole corral, the breaker ropes a bronco, chokes him down, then snubs him closely to a post in the center. If necessary, the horse is thrown and hobbled, but somehow, a bridle is placed on the rearing and snorting animal. Next a saddle blanket is placed on the bronc's back, and when he's quit kicking and accepted that, a 40 pound saddle is tossed on.

The stirrup is hooked over the saddle horn out of the way; the cinch is tightened. The horse fights to throw off the saddle and bucks wildly. Gradually he accepts the saddle. Then the breaker bites or twists the bronc's ear to distract the animal with pain while he swings up into the saddle. The horse breaks in two, trying to throw off the unwelcome baggage. The bronc "swallows his head and chins the moon." The rider is "screwed down and really settin' deep in his tree."

Burleson Memorial Roping Opens July 29

A full and exciting three days of activities are slated for the Burleson Memorial Roping beginning on Friday, July 29 and continuing through Sunday, July 31.

Cowboys and cowgirls, western artists, and scholarship winners will travel to the Burleson Arena near Plomot for the fifth annual benefit for the Range Management program of Clarendon College. $3,000 worth of prizes and an additional $500 in the women's team roping will draw top competitors. Buckles, bits, headstalls, and trophies will be awarded in each event.

A washer pitch under the shade of the hay barn and an art show-sale in the breezeway of the ranch barn featuring twelve area artists will tempt western fans away from the hot arena action on Saturday.

Kicking off the events on Friday at 10 a.m. will be the Cutting Horse contest,

"WORN OUT" YOUNG QUILTS AS DICKENS JUDGE

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was taken from the Lubbock Avalanche Journal.

DICKENS (Special) - Saying, "I'm not mad, I'm just worn out," Dickens County Judge H.L. "Bill" Young said Tuesday, July 12, he will tender his resignation to the Dickens County Commission today.

"I told my commissioners I would officially submit my resignation tomorrow (Wednesday, July 13)," Young said via telephone Tuesday, July 12. The action, he said, will take place at a 9 a.m. meeting in the Dickens County Court-house.

With each wild buck, the breaker furiously brings down his quirt, teaching that bucking brings pain. Exhausted and hurt, the horse is ridden to a standstill. The bronc buster wins the contest, this time, but there is tomorrow.

Claude Jeffers spent thirty-six years with the Matadors working from bronc buster, to range boss, to wagon boss, up to assistant to the general superintendent. However, he started out on the Pitchfork Ranch with a straight mount of young and unbroken horses. By the time the cattle work was finished and the cowboys reached headquarters, Jeffers turned in his bunch of broken, gentled, and bridled horses for another bunch.

Jeffers, who rode broncs with self assurance until age 64, was estimated to have broken from 50 to 100 broncs a year. He won prizes for bronc "snapping" at the Seymour and Roaring Springs reunions.

Another famous old time bronc buster, The Pitchfork Kid, was not so lucky. The Kid, a thirteen year old Kansas City waif who came to Texas in 1884 with buffalo hunter Frank Collinson and a Mr. Lattimore, went by the name of Billy Parks. Years later, on a trip to Kansas City, he learned from friends that his real name was Billy Partlow.

An eccentric trapper, Ridge Greathouse, took Billy along for company and to help set traps and poison varmints. Sometime later D.B. Gardner, manager of the Pitchfork Ranch, placed Billy in his outfit; the boy had found a home and a name.

The name stuck when the Kid went to work for the Matadors. As their employee in 1892 he was gathering Matador cattle on the Pitchfork range. George Martin who was with the Forks wagon asked the Kid to "dust off" a horse Martin saddled. The horse pitched and fell back, injuring the Kid. For 19 days he remained unconscious. Though the management of the Matadors sent him away for treatment, the eighteen year old never fully recovered.

For over twenty years the quiet and courteous Kid rode for the Matador Ranch, cowboying, chasing down outlaw steers, and roping cantankerous bulls. Duff Green recalled that Partlow, an expert with the bull whips and quirts he plaited, came nearer to popping a whip in all directions than any man Green ever saw.

When some Matador cattle were sent to pasture in New Mexico, the Kid was sent there to care for them. While going down a mountain side with feed for the cattle, Partlow, 45, was thrown from the feed wagon and killed, ending or creating a legend.

A bronc buster of more recent years is Rosie Deaton, who began working with horses as a young man on the Pitchfork Ranch where he grew up. "When I started breaking horses for the Matadors in 1937, we had lots of time, all the time we wanted," the veteran breaker recalled in an interview in the November 1987 issue of Horse & Rider. "Most of the time we could tell if no one was going to pitch or not, but sometimes we sure did get fooled.... You had to be ready. You had to watch 'em all."

"The Matadors," he continued, "had by far the best horses I ever had a chance to fool with. The majority of them was good natured. They was easy broke." His stint in World War II was followed by a job with the purebreds on the ranch he returned to. Deaton stayed away from horse breaking for a while, but when thirty or forty head from six to nine years old came to the Matador division from the upper Alamocitos division of the ranch, he started in again.

Deaton summed up his career of bronc busting, no doubt with a grin and a twinkle in his eye: "Well, I always liked to work with horses better than cattle, but when I got too old to fight them horses, I got to kinda enjoying them cattle."

much earlier so they can watch the wild west show.

The four 1988 beneficiaries of the Dusty Burleson Scholarship Fund, Clarendon Junior College Ranch Management Program, are Matt Pugh from Keyes, Oklahoma; Jim Bob Beem from Tullia; Miss Leslie Floyd of Des Moines, New Mexico; Clint Martin of Springtown; and Jeffrey Lynn Taylor, a graduate of Sudan.

Taylor, son of Gail and Willie Mae Gregg of Floydada, attended school at Motley County schools while his stepfather was basketball coach there. His grandfather, J.P. "Fats" Taylor is a long time rancher in the Floyd County caprock area, and was a partner in purchasing some of the land owned by the Matador Land & Cattle Co., Ltd. Young Taylor is working with his grandfather during the summer.

Eddleman Hired To Coach Paducah Girls

'THINK SAFETY' FOR A VACATION TO REMEMBER

Now that school is out, family vacations are just around the corner. The Motley County Clinic staff reminds you to "think safety" to help avoid some of the most common "accidents" that can spoil your vacation.

If you are driving long distances, you or a mechanic should give your car a thorough inspection. Check the brakes, battery, fluids, oil, and tires, including the spare.

Buckle up everytime you get into the car. If you have toddlers, be sure to have child restraint seats - not only for safety reasons, but also to allow the child to see outside and enjoy the ride more.

Being outdoors in the summer sun and heat can cause unpleasant side effects such as sunburn and heat exhaustion if you're not careful. Use a sunscreen whenever you plan to be outdoors - even on cloudy days. Wear protective clothing such as t-shirts, hats, and sunglasses. Take the sun in small doses, and don't overexert yourself in the heat. Drink plenty of water to replace what you lose in perspiration.

Review first aid, pack accordingly for your trip, and remember to pack a first aid kit.

Finally, use your common sense and "think safety" to make your vacation accident free.

Obituaries

LARRY NORRIS

Services for Larry Eugene Norris, 41, of Matador were held at 10:30 a.m. Saturday in First United Methodist Church with the Rev. Gene Lauder, pastor, officiating.

Graveside services were at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Forgan, Okla., Cemetery with the same officiant.

Burial was under direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Floydada.

He died at 7 a.m. Thursday in his residence. Justice of the Peace Gertrude Smith ruled the death due to natural causes.

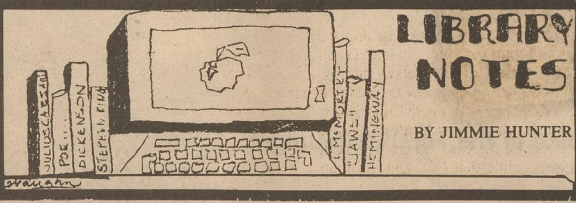

Norris was born in Matador and moved from Edinburg to Motley County in 1985. He married Rita Gale McAllister on July 10, 1975, in Livingston. She died in 1987. He was a criminal investigator, a Vietnam veteran and a member of First United Methodist Church.

Survivors include a son, Robert S. of Matador; a daughter, Crystal G. of Matador; and his mother, Laverne Norris of Matador.

Pallbearers were Johnny Phillips, John M. Russell, Billy Osborne, Pete Williams, Billy Wason and James Taylor.

We issued three new library cards last week to Mrs. Cheryl Buchanan, and her two daughters, Caralee and Chana. They had just recently moved to town and we were happy to enroll the children in our summer reading programs, check out books for both of them to read. Blanca E. Gutierrez also signed up for a library card last week and was here Friday morning to chose books and see some of our filmstrips while waiting for her brother. We welcome her and her mother to our family of Library users and look forward to getting to know them all better.

Attended a meeting in Lamesa, Thursday, with Jo Amandes and Nancy Hill of the West Texas Library system, who are coordinating the Literacy program for the area libraries. Our coordinator, Irene Welling, had planned to attend, but found it impossible to go after a very hectic week. One thing I learned was that most of the participating libraries have a Literacy Council of several members, and I feel that we really need to organize one. If you are interested in helping someone learn to read English there are many ways you can serve: with publicity (writing article, creating posters or bookmarks, making a tape for radio use), enlisting students or tutors, hosting workshops or social times for students, tutors and their families. WTLS is searching now for people who are interested in training to train tutors. I have an application blank that explains more about the time that would be involved in completing this training. You would be qualified to conduct 10 hour workshops which prepare people to teach THE LAUBACH WAY TO READING or 15 hour workshops to train tutors to teach THE LAUBACH WAY TO ENGLISH AS A SECOND LANGUAGE. Our need just now is to locate people to take these 10 and 15 hour workshops and be willing to donate one or two hours a week to the satisfying task of opening the world of reading to someone.

I realize that this hurriedly written column may sound confusing, so please feel free to call me at the Library, 347-2717 or at my home at 469-5240 for more information or to volunteer for tutor training or to let us know of someone who wants to learn to read better.

Beverly Vinson shared with us a letter she received from Jane Wood, author of Train to Estelline that said her popular novel would be coming out in paperback this month, so you might want to watch for it.

request to ask permission to clean up and repair and put up a second light at the tennis courts adjacent to the school property. This passed.

The City received a letter from the Red River Authority saying the City will not be able to burn trash after August, 1989. The City will have regional incinerators, not more than 60 miles from the city. (probably at Crosbyton). The City will have to buy dumpsters or some other way to be state legal. Some council members asked, where they city was supposed to get the money to make all these changes. After lengthy discussion, they know they have a year to make arrangements and hopefully receive assistance.

Edith Daniels sent a request to burn her boxes in an incinerator behind the Red Hen Market. After discussion it was suggested that Long give Edith specific regulations to build a box incinerator. This passed.

Setting a new meeting day and time was discussed. It was elected to meet the second Tuesday morning of the month at 7:00 a.m. at the Dream Cafe.

Next on the agenda was Regan's proposal for a purchase, or lease of a ditcher or backhoe. Holley had 2 prices. The price of a new Ditchwitcher was $9,000 or $175 per day lease and the City spent $5,000 in 1986 leasing or hiring both backhoe and ditchwitcher. Holley has 45' of sewer line to lay as well as other lines to lay or repair. The Council suggested Secretary, Anna Wilson, look at the Water account to see how much they could afford for monthly payments for a ditcher.

Watson reported that the budget and audit would be ready by August.

Spraying Mesquitos in the City was discussed. The Council decided to contact Bill Jameson about spraying the City for a fee and the city would purchase the chemicals.

Secretary, Wilson reported they had received one of three boxes from Anne Alvarado and in preparing for the audit, the material of bank statements and other papers had helped them greatly. Wilson also said with Dillard working for two weeks getting all the other papers together for the auditors, it looked like the city would come out paying a lot less than they first anticipated. Wilson asked for permission to borrow the money from the bank the day the auditor needed payment. This passed.

Mitzi Christopher had reported she was still trying to secure fire insurance. The Council elected to give her more time as she and Barbara Marvel are doing a fine job in the cafe and in getting everything fixed to get the insurance.

Regan reported he was having problems with the electricity in a well house and was in the process of correcting this. Meeting adjourned.

HOW DO YOU LIKE YOUR DENIM?

The popularity of denim clothing is a wonderful example of the old saying that "you can't please all the people all of the time." For every person who likes faded denim, there seems to be another who is unhappy about creases, streaking or color loss. Denims Always Lose Dye.

Changes in most denim fabrics are inevitable because they're indigo piece dyed fabrics. The dye is applied in a heavily concentrated form so the residuals are mostly on the surface of the fabric. Friction with the body, rubbing or mechanical action during laundering will dislodge the dye particles from clothing.

The loss of color will be most apparent on creases, double seam thicknesses and edges, since they receive greater abrasion. Heavy denim lacks draping capabilities and retain the same position of creases in the washer and dryer, this also contributes to color loss and streaking.

REDUCING COLOR LOSS, CREASES, AND STREAKS

So what if you don't like the creases and streaks? They can't be eliminated, but you can reduce them. Turn the garment inside out for washing if it's not heavily soiled. Underload the washer, increase the water level and shake out the garment before putting in the dryer. Another alternative is to buy jeans made from a polyester-cotton blend. The dyes used on blends are different from the dyes used on 100% cotton, and less likely to fade.

FADING YOUR DENIM AND JEANS

Do you like the faded, streaked look for your jeans and other denim clothes? If you do, you can save some money by purchasing regular denim cloth or clothes and fading them yourself.

At least two companies are marketing products for fading denim at clothing. Fast Fade For Jeans is made by the Rit Company. It's a concentrated pre-wash product designed to fade and soften jeans and denim. The product claims that it fades and softens jeans right in the washer without damage to the fabric.

Old Blue is a denim pre-wash that softens and fades in one washing. It's manufactured by Malco Products, Inc.

CAUTIONS ON BLEACHING AND FADING

Bleaching jeans will weaken the fibers, so they will not be as strong and durable as they were before the bleaching process. Commercial pre-wash products may also have a similar effect.

Rubbing wet denim with a pumice stone or rubbing an emery board on seam edges, pockets and other areas to produce a stonewashed or worn look also weakens the fabric in those places.

However, people who like the faded look will gladly trade durability for fashion.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Barbara,

Enclosed please find the payment for another years subscription to the Motley County Tribune. Thanks for a job well done on the ole' home town news.

I also want to express my utmost appreciation for the article that you ran in the paper concerning my son, Patrick's graduation from Law School. It has brought correspondence from old friends which I had lost contact.

Sincerely,
Teresa Meece

Dear Ms. Jameson:

I have decided this year to buy myself an Eightieth Birthday present by extending my subscription to the Tribune.

I taught Sixth and Seventh grades in the Whiteflat School some sixty years ago. In fact I was just twenty years old when I was there, and I was amazed to read your paper and to find what a lot of memories I have from that nine-month school term.

I have enjoyed many of the articles you have run about Motley County's early days. I begin with the story about Brother Bob Jameson some time back. Brother Bob was Chairman of the School Board when I was there. My wife and I drove through your country some thirty years back and visited Bro. Bob. I was amazed that he not only remembered me, but he knew something of my more recent work as a Methodist Preacher. (Brother Bob was one, too.) Folks said of Brother Bob, "his word is his bond."

The article about Saturdays in Matador brought back memories, also. About the Barbershop: I remember that as each of the many men came into town on a Saturday he would drop by the barber shop and "take a number." Then he would go out on the streets, do whatever he had to do, meanwhile circling around by the barber's where was posted the number being served at the time. As a man's number began to come up he would enter the shop to take his turn.

One final thing, this about the Q.A. & P. Railroad. We locals called it "Quit Aching & Push!"

Best Wishes,

Dear Editor,

I believe that living in a small town has advantages and disadvantages. One of the most aggravating things that I know of is going to the post office and about half of my mail is someone else's. I can either go back to the post office or throw it away. Have you looked at the postmark and wondered where in the world your mail has been, although there was the correct zip code and box number. Have you had someone call you and tell you that they have a current magazine at their house but can't get back to the post office? Or do you have direct deposit for your Social Security or retirement check, yet you don't receive a deposit slip? You call the bank after six or seven days, they did mail it. You receive it ten days later.

We do know our post office employees can read but we don't know what is on their mind when they put the mail up. I do believe the problem can be solved with a little more concentration and observation. I am not the only person this happens to, but it does make me angry that I pay 25 cents for a piece of mail I send and then receive someone else's mail or it is 10 days late. I do know it couldn't be an overload of work. There "ain't" that many of us in Matador or Motley County. Maybe there are others who have the same feeling that I do, lets speak up.

a school crossing. Barkley informed the Council that all the other towns had these warning lights and he felt it was something needed. It was decided that Barkley would ask the Highway Department about this and report back at the next meeting.

It was brought to the attention of the Council that the school had not had the dirt workers to finish the smoothing of the park where they removed the dirt to fill in the north of the football field. The Mayor said that the school superintendent was aware of this and said it would be finished. Also in this discussion was the fact that the dip in the City Park such needed to be dug out and fixed like the one they fixed on White Street, a number of years ago. The Mayor reminded the Council that they had $12,000 in the budget for street paving and they needed to decide what was most important and most needed. Travis Jameson said he thought they should look into repairing some of the dirt streets instead of paving or sealcoating. The Council was also informed that Fred Lipham was coming soon to repair the South end of Eubank Street. The Council decided to compare cost of needed work and then decide what to do.

Some Councilmen asked if anything could be done about the hoglot on the west edge of Matador and the bad odor that met people as they entered town or stopped at Billie Dean's, Allsup's, or Davis Fuel. They were reminded that the hog lot was not in the city limits but that someone could call the Texas Health Department and the Texas Water Commission Board.

WILD ANIMALS ARE MAIN CARRIERS OF RABIES

Summer in Texas usually includes increased outdoor activities. Fishing, camping and hiking, whether on public land or on private retreats, are popular both for native Texans and for vacationers from other states.

And besides the benefits of the fresh air and exercise, the outdoors offers an opportunity to watch abundant wildlife, including some species which are unique to this state.

Except in remote areas where one may glimpse a rare mountain lion, bobcat or wolf, there are a few warm-blooded animals which are naturally threatening to humans.

But the Texas Department of Health (TDH) cautions that even a squirrel or raccoon can be dangerous, if handled. A bite or scratch from any animal can become seriously infected, but it is wild animals which are the primary carriers of rabies. When people or domestic animals contract the disease, it is usually through contact with an infected wild animal, according to Dr. Foy V. McCasland, Chief of the TDH Bureau of Veterinary Public Health.

TDH laboratories in Austin, Houston, San Antonio, and El Paso diagnosed 432 cases of rabies in 10,748 animal specimens during 1987. Only 69 of those cases (29 dogs, 19 cats, 13 cows, 6 horses, and 2 goats) were domestic animals. The remaining cases included 278 skunks, 66 bats, 15 foxes, three raccoons, and one armadillo.

There were no cases of rabies in humans reported during the year.

Dr. McCasland said, "Since there is no approved rabies vaccine for wild animals, and since these animals are likely to bite or scratch sooner or later, they should not be adopted as pets." He especially advised against handling wild animals showing abnormal behavior, such as those showing no fear for man and those observed in unusual places at unusual times. Such behavior is a clue that the animal may be rabid.

Pets should be vaccinated to protect them and their owners. State law requires that all dogs and cats four months old and older must be vaccinated annually against rabies.

"If you are bitten by a wild animal, it should be tested at TDH for rabies. If the animal is a dog or cat, it should be isolated and closely observed for ten days," Dr. McCasland said. Dogs and cats cannot transmit rabies more than ten days before they show symptoms of the disease. All bites should be reported to the local health authority, which will provide specific advice and assistance.

"Any animal bite wound should be immediately cleansed with soap and water and a physician contacted. The physician will determine the appropriate treatment," Dr. McCasland added.

Social Security Tips

By Terry J. Clements

People who are approaching 65 and do not plan to retire should be aware that their Social Security check will be larger when they finally do apply for it.

The reason is because of "delayed retirement credit." This credit increases a person's retirement checks for each month he or she does not get a benefit after 65 and before 70.

The credit adds 1/4 percent for each month - 3 percent for each full year - a person does not get a check because of work. It also applies to widows and widowers benefits.

The credit will gradually increase to 8 percent a year between 1990 and 2009.

In addition to these credits, a person's earnings after 65 may also result in a larger check than would have been payable at 65.

Of course, a person who starts getting checks at 65 can still work and earn a significant amount before his or her benefits are affected. In 1988, people 65 through 69 can earn $8,400 and still get benefits for all of the year. There is no limit for people 70 and older.

If earnings go above $8,400, then $1 in benefits is withheld for each $2 of earnings above this amount. This annual exempt amount will increase automatically to keep pace with increases in average wages. The exempt amount for people under 65 is $6,120 in 1988.

People who are working and estimated they would not earn more than the exempt amount should make sure the estimates are still accurate. Any change in a person's estimate should be reported to Social Security.

Tax Payments Increase Statewide

State Comptroller Bob Bullock said Tuesday that payments to cities that collect local sales tax continued to show an increase this month, with July payments up 14.3 percent over those sent in July last year.

"The gaining strength in our state economy is being reflected on a local level, and local governments can continue to expect a steady increase in their share of sales tax collections," Bullock said.

Statewide, year-to-date payments are 10.8 percent higher than the same period last year, according to Bullock.

Houston's payment of $10 million was up 17.5 percent over last year's allocation, Bullock said, and Dallas' payment showed a 10.1 percent increase.

Bullock said that 915 checks totaling $61.3 million in local sales taxes were sent Tuesday to cities that collect the local option sales tax at either one or one and one-half percent rates.

Allocations to the state's six metropolitan transit authorities also showed an increase of 17.5 percent, with their checks totaling $28.9 million. El Paso's city transit department, the only CTD in Texas, received a payment of $794,658.

Checks totaling $5.8 million were also mailed Tuesday to 81 counties that collect the one-half percent county tax, Bullock said.

July's checks represent taxes collected by monthly filers in May and reported to the Comptroller's Office by June 20, according to Bullock.

County Totals are as follows:

Matador: Net payment this period, $764.69; comparable payment prior year, $1,249.77; % change, -38.81%; 1988 payments to date, $13,422.32; 1987 payments to date, $12,128.06; % change, 10.67%.

Roaring Springs: net payment this period, $682.25; comparable payment prior year, $1,061.03; % change, -35.70%; 1988 payments to date, $6,263.34; 1987 payments to date, $6,326.95; % change, -1.01%.

County totals: net payment this period, $1,446.94; comparable payment prior year, $2,310.80; % change, -37.38%; 1988 payments to date, $19,685.66; 1987 payments to date, $18,455.01; % change, 6.67%.

A Christian missionary was captured by the communists, and he taught one of the guerrillas English by means of the Bible. One day the communist said, "You know, as you've read the Bible to me, I've come to believe that you Christians have a greater message than that of Communism."

But he added, "Still I believe that we're going to win the world. Christianity means something to you. But Communism means everything to us."

It's not enough that Christ means something to you. He must mean everything. If He doesn't mean everything, He doesn't mean anything.

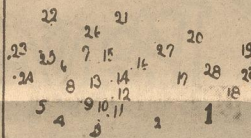

What does Christ mean to you?

And now abideth faith, hope and love. These three, but the greatest of these is Love.

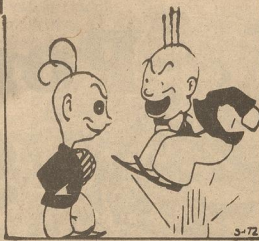

1 Cor. 13:13
