Livestock Barn. Keith Smith, Agricultural Science Teacher at Memphis, will judge the steers, lambs, hogs and rabbits.

Roy Walston, Hall County Agent, will judge the heifers.

Concession will be available with hamburgers and the works.

Anyone living in Motley County, owning land in Motley County, or youth eligible for the Junior Livestock Show, may show heifers. Heifers must be 12 to 18 months of age at show time. All producers who wish to enter heifers are asked to have the animals on the ground by 10:00 a.m.

Motley County Livestock Association memberships are being sold and may be purchased from any of the following: Billy Wayne Denison, Craig Turner, Bill Luckett, J.D. Russell, Bruce Lefevre, Charles Cammack, Jim Cooper or Rocky Vinson.

Remember to support the Motley County Jr. Livestock Show.

Meador - Marshall In Race For Motley County Sheriff

A Run-Off Election will be held April 14th in Motley County to determine who will be Sheriff.

The run-off is between James "Jim" Meador and incumbent Alton "Susie" Marshall.

In the Democratic Primary Election, held March 10, with three candidates for Sheriff, Jim Meador came out on top with a total of 295 votes, Susie Marshall received 207, and Jim Stockton, 138.

A 50% plus one majority of the vote is necessary for a clear cut win. Meador was only 21 votes short of this.

According to Charlie Long, Democratic Chairman, in order to keep cost as low as possible, there will be one box in Matador (located to be announced later), one box in Roaring Springs and Flomot. The Northfield ballots will be mailed with a stamped return envelope.

Early voting can be done April 6-10 in the Motley County Clerk's office at the Motley County Courthouse.

Emergency Farm Loan Applications Being Accepted

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by early freeze, high winds, very cool weather and excessive rainfall are being accepted at the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) office located in Spur, FmHA County Supervisor, Larry Clements said today.

Dickens and Motley counties are two of 25 in Texas recently named by Secretary of Agriculture Edward Madigan as eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the early freeze, high winds, very cool weather and excessive rainfall.

Larry Clements said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business or $500,000, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 4.5 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FmHA emergency loan," Clements said. Farmers participating in the PIK or Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until November 2, 1992, but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Clements said.

FmHA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at and rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FmHA office in Spur is open from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Christy Potts Winner of Speech Contest

Christy Potts

The 28th annual Government-in-Action Youth Tour Speech Contest sponsored by Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc., was held at the Lighthouse headquarters in Floydada on Thursday night, February 20. Winners this year were Christy Potts of Motley County High School and Spring Lipham of Floydada High School.

Christy is the daughter of Frank and Marisue Potts of Matador, and is a 16 year old junior at Motley County High School.

Spring is the daughter of Julian and Joyce Lipham of Floydada, and is a 17 year old junior at Floydada High School.

These two girls will be participating in the June 4-16 Youth Tour to Washington, D.C. along with winners from other electric cooperatives from across Texas. They will depart from Lewisville, Texas on June 4 by bus for the trip to Washington, where they will tour the Capitol, visit the White House, historic monuments, museums, and government buildings, see the House of Representatives and Senate in session, visit their Congressman, and participate in a wreath laying ceremony at the Tombs of the Unknown Soldiers in Arlington Cemetery.

The idea of sending young people to Washington was originated by the late President Lyndon Johnson in the early 1950's, when as a Senator, he selected outstanding young people and offered them the opportunity to visit Washington and see their government in action. The present format of selecting winners from electric cooperatives to participate in the Youth Tour to Washington was begun in 1965. Over the past 27 years, Lighthouse has sponsored 56 students from area high schools on the tour.

Clay has played varsity football and basketball for Motley County High School all four years, and has made all-district for three of those. This past season he made all district in four spots, place kicker, punter, quarterback and linebacker.

School Board Renews Teachers' Contract

The Motley County ISD Board of Trustees met March 16 with Superintendent George Blanch, Principal Dick Van Hoose and Board members, Guy Campbell, Randy Barton, Gale Stafford, Vann Francis, Coy Franks and Marisue Potts. Leslie Jameson was absent. Items on agenda discussed and passed were:

* Approval of early dismissal for March 17 and 31st.

* Approval of election Judges for May 2, 1992, Matador, Hazel Donovan; Flomot, Wilburn Martin; Northfield, Betty Simpson, Roaring Springs, Venita Sedgwick.

* Approved Final sign-up day of March 18 at 5 p.m. and drawing for ballot positioning March 19 at 5 p.m. Boards voted for places 3 and 6 on Board of Directors of the Educational Service Center Region 17. Approval of Textbook Committee selections.

Mr. Blanch wanted to inform the Board that they were running out of classrooms. He asked them to think about alternatives for the 92-93 school year. He explained they may have to have two 3rd grades for the 92-93 school year, as this class is oversized.

Board went into Executive Session to discuss personnel.

Out of Executive Session, the board renewed all teacher and Title I Contracts, with one exception, Rene Atkinson's contract will be renewed after she passes her exit level test.

The Board elected to delay the contract for Jerry Bass at this time, due to the fact that he is being considered for Head Football Coach.

Meeting Adjourned.

"Spring Fever" is right around the corner, why is this time of the year so different and special?

Bill and I took a short trip to Red River, New Mexico last week during Spring Break. We enjoyed seeing the beautiful snow covered mountains. We went on a snowmobile ride to Greenie Peak and it seemed like we were on top of the world looking far beyond the mountains. We enjoyed walking around Red River and visiting the warm friendly people. We also attended the Faith Mountain Fellowship Church, where I have gone each year that I have gone to Red River. These loving Christian people always make us feel so welcome.

We spent one day in Taos visiting our Taos Pueblo Indian friend, attending the Taos Rendezvous Flea Market, and eating lots of 'green chili mexican food', mmmm....good!

We met a new friend who was a 'rock hound'. He cuts and polishes rocks and precious stones, so we learned more about rocks. The man gave us some of the interesting rocks, petrified dinosaur bone and a small cut geode with tiny crystals inside, this is so plain on the outside and yet so beautiful on the inside.

We found Otis and Neva Wilson in his Western Heritage Gallery on the square in Taos. This is another small world story.....years ago the Wilson family and my Dad's aunt's family left Lockney and traveled by horse and wagon to the Santa Fe area to raise their families as some of the original settlers in Santa Fe. The rest of this small story is that Otis is also Dell Bearden's sister's brother-in-law.

On the drive home we took a different and most interesting route. We drove to Wagon Mound then cut across to Roy and Logan, N. Mex. By coming this way we drove down into the Canadian River Canyon which is 600 feet deep and most beautiful! Definitely worth the drive to the canyon and to I-40.

I guess the reason Spring is so special is it is the resurrection time of our Lord Jesus.

I hope you enjoy this time of the year too.

MARCH IS NUTRITION MONTH VARIETY IS THE KEY TO EATING RIGHT....

Nutritionists have suggested a varied diet for decades, but is not clear that people know what variety means. "Eat a variety of foods" is the first of the seven "Dietary Guidelines for Americans" published by the Department of Agriculture and the Department of Health and Human Services. The guideline explains that more than 40 nutrients are needed for good health. A variety of foods, not a few highly fortified foods or supplements, is the recommended way to get these nutrients. No single food can supply all of these nutrients in amounts needed. For example, milk supplies calcium, but very little iron; meat supplies iron, but little calcium.

The Guideline addressing variety summarizes what's needed daily from the five major food groups:

- * vegetables, 3 to 5 servings
- * fruits, 2 to 4 servings
- * breads, cereals, grains, 6 to 11 servings
- * milk and dairy products, 2 to 3 servings
- * meat, poultry, fish, dry beans, eggs, and nuts, 2 to 3 servings

The number of servings you need depends on your age, body size, and activity level. Almost everyone should have at least the lower number of servings suggested from each group to get recommended amounts of nutrients. Follow the other guidelines when selecting a varied diet, making choices low in fat, saturated fatty acids, and cholesterol, and moderate in sugars and salt. Variety and moderation are the keys to eating right.

A DAILY FOOD GUIDE FOR AMERICANS

This guide can help you choose foods to get the nutrients your body needs. For variety, choose different foods from each of the five major groups each day.

Most people should have at least the lower number of servings from each group. Some people may need more because of their body size and activity level. Young children should have a variety of foods, but they need small servings.

Each group contributes different nutrients; so people who do not eat foods from one or more groups may need help from professional to meet nutritional needs.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY:

Eternity is two people and a 20 pound turkey.

The designation Accredited in Public Relations (APR) signifies a high professional level of experience and competence.

Branson has worked as the Operations and Training Manager for the Tarrant County 9-1-1 District in Fort Worth for the last 6 years. She is responsible for researching, designing, implementing, and evaluating public education and training programs for 9-1-1. Branson was

Jason Stanley National Award Winner

The United States Achievement Academy announced today that Jason Stanley has been named a United States National Award winner in Mathematics. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain. In fact, the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American High School students. Jason, who attends Motley County High School was nominated for this National Award by Rene Atkinson, a Math teacher at the school. Jason will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally. "Recognizing and supporting our youth is more important than ever before in America's history. Certainly United States Achievement Academy award winners would be congratulated and appreciated for their dedication to excellence and achievement," said Dr. George Stevens, Executive Director of the United States Achievement Academy. The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, counselors or other school sponsors and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director. Jason is the son of James and Margaret Stanley of Matador and the grandson of Robert and JoAnn Dickson of Anson and Etiole Stanley of Floydada.

Amy's Anecdotes

by Amy Woolsey

I can't believe the many things there are to think about. I can sit in a room and think of things that people never want to think about. The things in reality—that are happening today. The act of Satanism—we don't realize it but it is getting closer and closer to us. The AIDS Virus—it's all around us, but we're afraid to open our eyes and see how close it really is. The drugs and alcohol—don't forget about those either. We think that since we are such a small community that none of that will ever come here. It may already be here. We'll never know until it hits us straight in the face, then it will be too late! We'll have no other place to go. We need to start doing something now. These are the 90s and the trouble isn't going away unless we do something about it. What can we do about? Let me know how you feel. Drop me a line.

Matador Area Families Needed To Host Foreign Students

Foreign high school students will be arriving soon into the Matador area for homestay programs, and the sponsoring organization is looking for a few more local host families.

According to Pacific Intercultural Exchange (P.I.E.) Executive Director, John Doty, the students are all between the ages of 15 and 18 years, have their own spending money, are fully insured and are anxious to share their cultural experiences with their new American families. P.I.E. has programs that range in length from two weeks in the summer to a semester and full academic year, where the students attend local high schools.

P.I.E. representatives match students with host families by finding common interests and lifestyles through an informal in-home meeting. Prospective host families are able to review student applications and select the "perfect match". As there are not "typical" host families, P.I.E. can fit a student into just about any situation, whether it be a single parent, a childless couple, a retired couple or a large family.

For the upcoming programs, P.I.E. has students from Spain, Germany, Yugoslavia, Italy, Argentina, Brazil, Colombia, New Zealand, France and other countries. P.I.E. is a non-profit educational organization that has sponsored more than 15,000 students from 18 countries since its founding in 1975.

Matador area families interested in learning more about student exchange or arranging for a meeting may call P.I.E.'s International Headquarters toll-free at 1-800-245-6232.

Home Ec. Awareness Week At Do Gooders' Club Meeting

The Do Gooders' Club met Monday afternoon, March 9 at the Community Center in Flomot and observed Home Economics Awareness Week designated as Design Day.

The afternoon activities featured a workshop led by Ms. Beverly Thomas, Regional Home Extension Agent of Vernon. She gave demonstrations, brochures and patterns for four different designed vests.

The first was a spiral and strip pieced vest, a brocade vest with beaded decorations or trimmed with leather suede was very stylish. Sashiko style was a quilted vest using a solid color denim. Last, was a silk tie vest, which the majority of those attending chose to make.

St. Patrick's Day decor including the color green and shamrocks enhanced the building. The table was laid with a green cloth centered with a cascading ivy and clover arrangement with a spray of pale red flowers in a wooden basket. Hostesses, Mesdames Bill (Erma) Washington, Doyle (Mary Jo) Calvert and Clayton (Bernice) Bond served finger sandwiches, fresh vegetables with snack crackers, cookies with decorative green frosting, iced tea, punch and coffee.

Mrs. John (Judy) Poulson, president, presided at the business meeting. A Health Screening Day, sponsored by the club, will be held Tuesday, April 14 at the Community Center. Members are to meet at the Community Center, Monday morning, April 13 for a Clean Up Day.

The Dundee Connection Relates International/Cultural Affairs

Among the programs given for El Progresso Club during the 1991-92 club year was the recent video presentation of "The Dundee Connection" by Mrs. L.B. (Lucretia) Campbell, telling of the 800th (Octocentenary) anniversary celebration of Dundee, Scotland which was attended by a group of West Texans who had ancestral connections through the Matador Land & Cattle Company. She related experiences in Scotland and the 800 year celebration of Dundee, the location of the Matador Land and Cattle Company headquarters from 1882 to 1952.

The Texas tour was organized by Dr. David Murrah, Director of the Southwest Collection at Texas Tech University, at the request of J.P. Thomas Mitchell, Lord Provost of Dundee in an invitation to Dr. Murrah and Friends of the University Library/Southwest Collection to visit Dundee during the city's octocentenary celebrations. Co-host for the tour with Dr. Murrah, was his wife, Ann. The tour began May 30 and returned home (Lubbock) June 8.

The opening narration as an introduction to the video was by Mrs. Campbell, who told of turbulent weather which prevented landing in Chicago for about four hours, during which their plane continued to St. Louis to refuel, then returned to Chicago where they were given a tour of the city, then the take-off to Dundee, where they arrived tired and exhausted several days late and just in time for the celebration parade.

They were greeted by Ms. Henry King, Dundee 800 Director, who had contacted Dr. Murrah in arranging speakers from the Texas group. These included Dr. Murrah; Bundy (L.B.) Campbell, Matador rancher and grandson of the founder of the Matador Ranch, H.H. Campbell, in 1879; and John Stevens, Matador rancher and last manager (1951) of the Scottish-owned Matador Land and Cattle Company, who owns part of the old ranch. The Scottish-owned ranch holdings were sold in parcels in 1951, to individuals and corporations.

Also greeting the group was Robert Fleming, in charge of the Matador Land and Cattle Co., archives in Dundee from 1881 to 1920. The ranch was founded in 1879 by H.H. Campbell, who was manager until 1891, according to "The Early History of Motley County" by Harry H. Campbell, son of the ranch founder.

Daily tours were arranged for the Texas visitors and included many historical places of interest: A tour of the Dundee area with a trip to Crathie Kirk, where members of the Royal Family worship when in residence in Scotland, and Balmoral Castle, the Queen's Scotland home. Included was the special opportunity to view the Queen's pedigree herd of Highland cattle, while passing through several beautiful Highland villages.

A three-day tour of the Highlands included Blair Castle and Dalwhinnie for a visit to its famous distillery where Scotch whiskey is produced, and many other sites of interest. During one tour a stop was made at the Loch Ness for a possible view of the Loch Ness Monster. Highlight of the tours was a day spent in Edinburgh, said to be one of the most charming cities in the world.

A number of historical castles and churches were on the tours, one notable church being the Kirkin' of Council, St. Mary's church, Nethergate, Dundee, just around the corner from Angus Thistle Hotel, where the Texans were quartered while in Dundee.

Mrs. Joe (Loys) Campbell was leader for the International Affairs & Cultural Exchange program, and for Inspirational Thought, she read a selection from "Wings of Silver." Roll Call was answered by members revealing their ancestral origins. Ancestors ranged from Royalty to robbers, with several being descendants of European kings and queens, to Jessie James and the Dalton brothers of early day fame in the U.S.

Hostesses, Mrs. Robert (Winifred) Darsy and Mrs. W.D. (Vena) Lipscomb served refreshments of cake and coffee at the conclusion of the program. Others present were Mrs. Dale (Jo Etta) Bumgardner, Mrs. R.E. (Lucretia) Campbell, Mrs. Bob (Nell) Clem, Mrs. E.A. (Dorothy) Day, Mrs. J.E. (Marge) Edwards, Mrs. Ted (Bailey) Elliott, Mrs. R.C. (Callie) Giesecke, Mrs. John (Josephine) Hamilton, Mrs. Douglas (Lila) Meador, Mrs. W.N. (Opal) Pipkin, Mrs. George (Sue) Seigler, Mrs. Harold (Grace) Campbell, and program participants, Mrs. L.B. (Lucretia) Campbell and Mrs. Joe (Loys) Campbell.

Mental Health

by Ron Trusler

NOTE: Ron Trusler, M.Ed., L.P.C. is Assistant Executive Director Central Plains Center for Mental Health, Mental Retardation and Substance Abuse.

Last week's column dealt with the first part of "HOW TO FIGHT AND DO IT RIGHT". Now we deal with the last six rules.

5. Don't "throw" your feelings at your spouse.

— Inform your spouse of your feelings - don't hurl them like a rock! Say it straight and clearly so that the other one understands. Make your statements direct and specific, not devious and general.

— One time a wealthy lady hired a writer to research and write a book on her genealogy. He discovered that one of her grandfathers had been electrocuted in Sing Sing prison. She asked the writer to work it so the actual truth would be covered up. The book read, "One of her grandfathers occupied the chair of applied electricity in one of America's best known institutions. He was very much attached to his position and literally died in the harness."

We often disguise, in a very confusing manner, the facts of our feelings.

6. Stay on the subject.

— Don't bring in matters that are irrelevant or unimportant. You may have to stop the conversation and start again.

7. Offer solutions with criticisms.

— For instance, don't say, "The way you leave your clothes lying around makes the room look like a pigpen."

— Try, "Would it help keep your room neater if I moved the dirty clothes hamper into the bedroom?"

That offers a solution to the problem. 8. Never say, "You never" or "You always."

Sweeping statements usually exaggerate and increase the difficulty:

— "You're NEVER on time"; "You're ALWAYS late"; "ALL women are emotional"; "ALL men are the same."

— Watch your volume. That's often used as an effort to "get through".

— Don't exaggerate. Sometimes we feel as if facts aren't enough so we dress it up a little.

9. Don't use criticism to become a comedian.

— Use humor with care. Don't try to be funny by criticizing your spouse. Ask yourself if this will relieve tension or increase it.

10. When you're wrong, admit it; when you're right, shut up. Some find "I'm wrong, you're right" an impossibility to say. When you own up to the fact of your being wrong and them right, you improve your communication 1000%.

Men, you'll win more of your wife's respect by admitting your failures than by reporting your successes!

State Comptroller Sends Texas Cities and Counties March Sales Rebates Totaling $91.6 Million

(Austin) - State Comptroller John Sharp today sent checks totaling $82.1 million to 931 Texas cities, a 12-percent increase over the $73.3 million received by cities last March.

Checks to 106 Texas counties totaled another $9.4 million, up 10.4 percent over last March's rebate of $8.5 million.

Quarterly rebates sent to mass transit authorities included: Austin, $11.2 million; Corpus Christi, $3.1 million; Dallas, $51.7 million; Fort Worth, $5 million; Houston, $58.1 million and San Antonio, $19.5 million.

Hospital districts in Baylor, Ector and Reeves counties were sent checks totaling $669,504. The monthly rebates to city transit departments in El Paso and Laredo totalled $1.2 million.

"Payments to Texas cities and counties overall this year are up a little over 5 percent," said Sharp. "That reflects a gradual overall improvement and a continued slow growth in consumer confidence."

The City of Houston received $12.6 million, the largest city rebate for March and virtually identical to the March payment of a year ago. Construction and finance sectors remain Houston's biggest employment losers, while the uneasy national economy continues to affect retail sales.

"But despite slowed growth, Houston overall has fared much better than most of the state during tough economic times," Sharp said.

Dallas, with strong government, transportation and trade sectors and growing service employment, received the second highest payment, $7.8 million, an increase of 8.6 percent over the March 1991 payment of $7.2 million.

Continued employment growth in the service and transportation sectors contributed to the $4.4 million rebate to San Antonio, the third largest payment in March and a 6.5 percent hike over the March 1991 payment of $4.1 million.

Totals for Motley County are as follows:

Matador: net payment this period, $1,549.59; comparable payment prior year, $1,235.10; % change, 25.46%; 1992 payments to date, $6,297.96; 1991 payments to date, $5,721.67; % change, 10.07%.

Roaring Springs: net payment this period, $594.54; comparable payment prior year, $1,981.88, % change, -70.00%; 1992 payments to date, $2,927.02; 1991 payments to date, $5,263.18; % change, -44.39%.

County Total: net payment this period, $2,144.13; comparable payment prior year, $3,216.98; % change, -33.35%; 1992 payments to date, $9,224.98; 1991 payments to date, $10,984.85; % change, -16.02%.

A Discussion With Garland Rattan

NOTE: The following article was taken from the Amarillo Globe-News. It is a question and answer discussion written by Gene Yoachim, Staff Writer. Mr. Rattan is a former Matador resident. He is a graduate of Matador High School and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rattan of Matador.

Garland Rattan, 58, superintendent at Boys Ranch Independent School District for the past 37 years, will retire in June to become Worthy Grand Patron of the Order of the Eastern Star in October. He now is Associate Grand Patron, Grand Chapter of Texas, Order of Eastern Star.

His wife, Shirley, who taught English at Boys Ranch for nearly 20 years, has been a librarian for the school district for nearly 14 years. She will retire when the school year ends.

Both have been active in the Order of Eastern Star for 29 years.

Except for one year, when he taught school and coached in Matador, Rattan has spent his entire career in education at Boys Ranch, where he helped its founder, Cal Farley, lay the foundation for a school that seeks to give troubled youth a second chance.

Question: If you hadn't been at Boys Ranch, what would have been doing for a living?

Rattan: "I would have been a teacher and coach in the public schools. It takes awhile to get in line and work your way to principal and then superintendent at a public school. Here, I kind of fell into it. Opportunity presented itself and I happened to be at the right place at the right time... Cal Farley's charisma was contagious. Nobody wanted this job but me. I give him all the credit for what we've been able to accomplish in these 36 years. Cal Farley told us back then, 'I don't know much about running a school, but I don't think a boy should be able to sit in the sixth grade and fail for three years.'"

Question: What has been the most trying event in your life?

Rattan: "Probably when my son, Chris, came down with multiple sclerosis a couple of years ago. We just had to learn to cope with something like that. We didn't even know what it was. My wife and Chris' mother-in-law went to MS chapter meetings to learn about it. We read everything we could read about it. We just had to work our way through it. We prayed a lot. We helped Chris in every way possible in his recovery.

Another traumatic experience was when Mr. Farley died in 1967. He had a cerebral hemorrhage on Feb. 19, 1967, and then a month later to the day after he died, she passed away. She had been seriously ill before then, but we all felt like Mrs. Farley just died of a broken heart."

Question: How has public school changed in the last 20 years?

Rattan: "Back in the '60s, we had the nuclear family: The father was the breadwinner and went to work and the mother sent the children off to school - prepared for school. When I was young, my mother had taught me my letters and I was disciplined. I knew if I got a whipping at school, I would get one at home. Now, most of the time, both parents work and we have latchkey children. And now, we have single-parent families. Now, children do not come to school prepared to learn like they used to."

We cannot turn back the clock on society and fix it. That is the basic problem we have in education. A lot of them are good students and ready to learn, but the masses of them are not ready. They don't have a father and a mother to teach them what they need to know. The lack of rearing children is the biggest problem."

Question: What has been the key to your success at Boys Ranch?

Rattan: I have to say at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch and Girlstown U.S.A. our basic program is Christianity in action. We provide home care, with people who care. We teach our students to mind, to work, to have respect, to be responsible. We also put them in a Christian atmosphere where the people they live with and are around are examples, people to look up to.

We have a chapel program here that is non-denominational. There are three things we do. First, we introduce Jesus Christ as their personal savior. Second, we teach the word of God as we understand it through our Sunday school program and by Bible based family living. Third, we instill the principles of Christian living that will last a boy or a girl a lifetime. That is our program. We have people who care, we give our students clean beds, good food and a healthy atmosphere. We are home, church, school and community here at Boys Ranch."

Question: What do you look for in an employee at Boys Ranch and Girlstown U.S.A.?

Rattan: "The people who work here exemplify the tried and true virtues in the Bible: hard work, fair play, respect for God and country, sanctity of marriage and the solidarity of the home. I believe that. Most of the people who live here and work here for any length of time fall into that mold. As a department head, when we screen applicants, we look for five things: a high moral character, interest in rearing other people's children, people who have a willingness to administer discipline affectionately, the job qualifications for the opening and a willingness to abide by policies established for the proper functioning of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch and Girlstown U.S.A.

It has been said of us that we never give in, we never give out, and we never give up. Go back and read Cal Farley's guidelines for parents and it is very basic. And that's what we do. That applies to anyone anywhere. It comes from the Bible."

Miller Robinson Featured In Hometown Bright Spot

NOTE: Rev. Miller Robinson is a former pastor of Matador First Baptist Church, and very well liked by everyone in the community. He was recently featured in the Snyder paper in a Hometown Bright Spot feature sponsored by Snyder National Bank.

Technically he's a Baptist preacher, and specifically he is pastor of Colonial Hill Baptist Church in Snyder. But in reality, Miller Robinson is a friend and inspiration to people of all faiths and from all walks of life in Snyder.

Miller Robinson has been pastor of the Colonial Hill Baptist Church since 1964, and he is only the second minister that the 1,200 member church has ever had.

Staying in one place for 27 years is a major accomplishment, but the feat becomes even more astounding when one considers his over-all community involvement.

Much of his success has to do with attitude. A long-time friend describes Miller Robinson as "wise, tactful, compassionate and humble — combined with a unique sense of humor."

His reputation for quick-wit has put him in demand for banquets and other civic occasions. It's not unusual to see him drinking coffee with people from various walks of life — many of them members of other churches.

His ability to rub shoulders with the masses caused another friend to describe Miller as "the community's minister." This helped start an Early Men's Sunday School Class several years ago.

People close to Miller also know that the minister suffers from acute, painful arthritis. Another friend recalls, "In 27 years, I've never heard him complain." Miller's dad died when he was nine, and he credits a strong mother with instilling the attitude of perseverance. His mother once advised him, "Nobody wants to listen to a sick preacher."

A native of Gatesville, Miller graduated from Baylor University in 1955, and from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1958.

Former pastorates include Coryell Baptist Church from 1954-58, White Mound Baptist Church from 1958-61 and First Baptist Church in Matador from 1961-64.

Miller was recently named to the board of Trustees for Howard Payne University in Brownwood. He has also served as a member of the executive board, the administrative committee and the State Missions Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas; a trustee of the Mexican Baptist Seminary in San Antonio; a trustee of Valley Baptist Academy in Harlingen and a trustee of the Baptist Memorial Geriatric Center in San Angelo.

Miller has attended seminars in Scotland, Sweden, Russia and other countries, and his mission work has included summer trips to Korea, Japan and Tanzania.

In Snyder, Miller Robinson has been active in the Scurry County Ministerial Alliance, the Snyder Chamber and the Snyder Lions Club.

In 1987, Miller was chairman of the chamber's economic development committee.

Just recently, the Snyder City Council named Miller to the five-member board of the newly-created Economic Development Corporation.

Miller and his wife, Sandra, have two sons. John lives in Dallas and Kinney resides in Gatesville.

AHHH, IT'S SPRINGTIME

If the millionaires who play major league baseball are going through spring training, can good fishing be far behind? It's time to stop watching fishing on television and get your equipment ready for the lake.

If you are tired of driving out of state or downstate and have decided that 1992 will be the year that you solve the mystery of catching walleye, then this column is dedicated to you.

Walleye guide and Lake Meredith expert MELVIN STOVALL offers the following suggestions that should improve your walleye catching:

1. New light line - Mr. Stovall believes that the average angler misses the faint bite of walleyes because their old, thick line is coiled up like a slinky snake. Stovall strongly recommends using a premium quality line between 4 and 8 lb. The lighter the fishing line, the more fish you will hook. During the winter, Stovall uses 2 pound line!

2. Start using a spinning reel because light line and light lures require casting that simply cannot be done with a standard baitcasting reel. Buy some 1/16 oz. jigs and practice in the back yard!

3. Loosen the drag for light line, use a limber rod and get ready for finesse fishing.

4. His final and best suggestion is to start trying new methods of fishing. Where does one learn these new methods? Mr. Stovall can't talk to every interested angler so he recommends reading some of the walleye magazines.

The In-Fisherman, a slick full color publication, is available at most book stores and is a great source of new methods of fishing for both smallmouth and walleye.

My favorite source of new fishing techniques is a great little newspaper magazine called the Walleye Insider. Mailed out in April, June, August, October and December, this publication reports how the winners on the Walleye Tournament Trail use new methods to earn prize money.

To subscribe to either magazine, call 1-800-441-1740 toll free. Cost of In-Fisherman is $13.97 per year, and the Walleye Insider costs $9.97.

1992 SPRING TURKEY SEASON opens on April 4th. With a mild winter, the number of birds is up and hunting is expected to be excellent. Renting a good video tape can help you learn some secrets of calling up ole Ben Franklin's favorite bird. Turkey hunting is rapidly becoming big business in the eastern Panhandle.

June 6 starts the "1992 Take A Kid Fishing Week." Don't make the mistake of buying a cheap off-brand kid's fishing reel. At about $10. ZEBCO'S model #33 is a great low cost reel, and it will last a lifetime.

SOCIAL SECURITY EXPANDS WORK RULES FOR DISABILITY BENEFICIARIES

A change in the law effectively expands the time frame for people with disabilities to test their ability to work without losing Social Security benefits.

People getting disability benefits can work and earn as much as they can without losing benefits for up to nine months. The rule change will allow those nine months of trial work to be a more realistic assessment of their ability to work.

The new rule takes effect January 1, 1992, and provides that a trial work period will be exhausted only after the beneficiary works any nine months during a rolling 60-month period - that is, nine months of work during any 60 consecutive months.

For example, if a person works for two months one year, but has to stop and doesn't get back to work again until six years later, the first two months of work won't count towards the trial work period. This means that failed work attempts are less likely to count toward the 9 months of trial work and the beneficiary will have more time to establish his or her working ability.

Another provision of the law provides a brand new trial work period everytime a person becomes reentitled to a new period of disability.

Let's take a person who is entitled to disability benefits and uses only three trial work months before benefits end because he or she is no longer disabled. If that same person at some point in the future becomes reentitled to disability benefits, he or she will have a new trial work period of nine months.

Under Social Security rules, any month in which a person earns at least $200 counts as a trial work month. During trial work months, the amount of earnings does not affect the amount of the monthly Social Security check - no matter how much money is earned.

After 9 months of trial work, earnings are reviewed to see if they are "substantial." Average earnings of $500 a month are usually considered substantial.

People who are still medically impaired in spite of their earnings can have their benefits reinstated without an application for any month that earnings drop below the "substantial" level. This "extended period of eligibility" lasts for 36 months.

The trial work period makes it possible for people to test their ability to work without losing their benefits and Medicare coverage. Under the change in the law, we can expect that more people may be willing to make the attempt. Anyone who wants more information on the trial work period should contact their nearest Social Security office.

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

For High Plains Cotton producers one of the best things to come from the rains that hampered 1991 harvest activities has been the increase in underground moisture that will be waiting for the 1992 crop when planting time comes around.

According to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) the wet weather area producers fought a losing battle against during December and January has set the stage for a great start in 1992.

Information recently released from the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District shows that the rain has filled about 91 percent of the district's service area with six to eight inches of available moisture. The remaining 9 percent has four to six inches of available moisture according to a Water District survey conducted between November of 1991 and January of 1992. The rains delayed both harvest and regular land preparation activities for many producers.

"Area-wide we are finally seeing more producers out in the field doing land preparation activities," notes PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson. "Many producers will move to a reduced tillage type of operation because of this shortened preparation period."

Johnson pointed out that the current market situation combined with the higher Acreage Reduction Program for 1992 will decrease the overall number of cotton acres planted on the High Plains. Plantings, however, are still expected to be around three million acres in 1992.

For those producers who do plant cotton Water District records indicate that above average yields are likely when the five foot root zone is at or near field capacity at planting time. With over 90 percent of the Water Districts service area zero to four inches from capacity normal planting season precipitation should eliminate the need for many pre-plant irrigations and set the dryland crop up for a good start.

Dryland producers are also looking forward to the 1992 season. Rainfall totals from the southern part of the High Plains, where most of the dryland acreage is located, have also been above normal and should favor a strong beginning for the 1992 dryland crop.

"Dryland producers are looking at their best opportunity in several years of making a crop and they are now getting ready to make the most of this chance," says Johnson.

Water District officials are also cautioning producers not to neglect their fertility programs for 1992, even though many are planning to cut back on the number of crop inputs they use this year. They note that from 1985 to 1990 area producers increased their lint yields from 335 to 450 pounds per acre with appropriately increased fertilizer applications.

Cotton aphids have been a sore spot for many High Plains Producers since the massive buildup that occurred in 1991. The Cotton Aphid Task Force was formed during the Fall of 1991 and has been working to develop a series of suggested management techniques to help prevent a repeat of last year.

The Task Force has formulated ten cultural and chemical practices to help combat the aphid in 1992. The majority of the suggestions are aimed at reducing the severity of another aphid buildup this year.

I want to take this opportunity to thank everyone for their support in the Primary Election and apologize to the ones I didn't see before the election and I promise to make the effort to see you before April 14th.

Scrambling to win -- 4-H student Dowell Garrison received a $1,000 calf purchase certificate, donated by John and Lynda Trousdale, after winning the calf scramble at the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

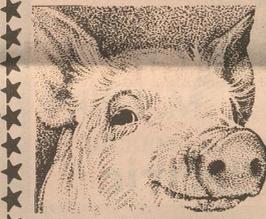

Speed, strength and perseverance paid off for Dowell Garrison, a 4-H student from Smithville, during the calf scramble at the Feb. 22 performance of the 1992 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo.

Dowell, a seventh grader at Smithville Middle School, was one of the 28 determined contestants who was challenged to halter and maneuver one of only 14 unruly calves across the Astrodome floor into the winner's square.

In exchange for this effort, Dowell receives a $1,000 calf purchase certificate donated by John and Linda Trousdale which will be used to purchase a registered dairy or beef heifer.

The scrambler is required to maintain monthly progress reports, monetary records and a scrapbook detailing the project which will culminate in 1993 when the heifer will be returned to the Houston Show for a special showing competition with other 1992 scramble winners.

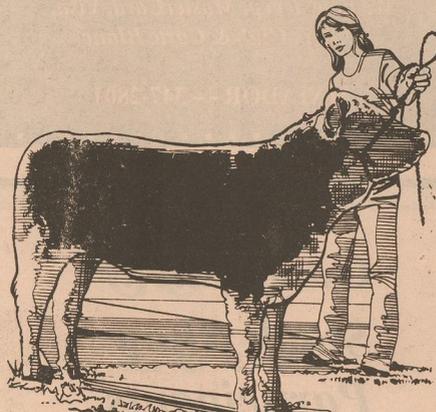

Dowell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Garrison of Smithville and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C.D. Garrison and great grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Shelton of Matador.

HEALTH NEWS

MAKE YOUR HOME A SAFE PLACE

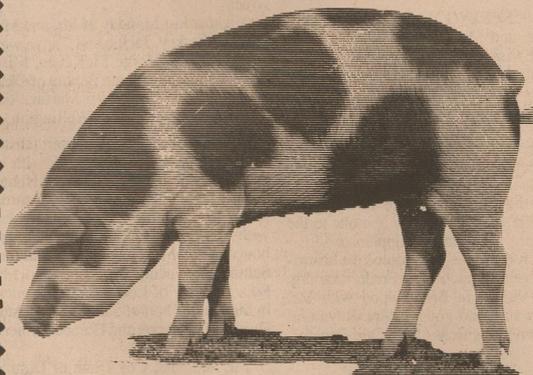

There's no place like home for feeling safe and comfortable. But, every year 22,000 people die in their homes, and one out of 10 suffer a serious injury from avoidable accidents. While we're all at risk, children and the elderly are the most vulnerable.

According to Chuck Barton, M.D., medical director of Methodist Hospital's Emergency Department, a lot can be done to avoid injuries in the home. Preventing the most common accidents, which include falls, fires, electrical hazards, poisonings and burns and scalds, is as easy as walking from room to room.

- In the kitchen:
- * Wear short or tight sleeves when cooking.
 - * Turn pot handles toward the back of the stove.
 - * Replace or clean cooking vents.
- In the living room:
- * Tuck phone and electrical cords out of the way.
 - * Keep poisonous plants out of a child's reach.
- In the bathroom:
- * Keep medicine in childproof containers and locked in cabinets.
 - * Move any electric appliances away from the sink and tub.

- * Install a non-slip surface or appliques in the bathtub or shower.
 - * Tack down carpet edges securely, and use no-skid rugs.
 - * Keep combustibles away from heat and flammables in tightly capped containers away from children.
 - * Use safety plugs, and don't overload outlets.
- Throughout the house:
- * Never smoke in bed.
 - * Use flame resistant pajamas and mattresses for children.
- Take time now to look for any potential dangers, and remember to re-evaluate your home periodically to keep pace with changes in your life, such as children, pets, aging and guests.

1 Cor. 13:13

We Live By Providence

"Oh, where is the sea" the fishes cried, As they swam the Atlantic waters through; "We've heard of the sea and the ocean tide And we long to gaze on its waters blue." Anonymous

There are little fishes all around us looking for the sea. I speak of people living, moving and having their being in the ocean of God's providence. Yet some cannot see the ocean for the water. Perhaps it is because we refer to it by another title. The Hebrew people of long ago, whom the Bible came through, were for the most part, a religious people. They saw in every activity, the hand of God. If it rained, it was God who sent the rain. When their crops were good, it was God who gave the increase.

However, in our land today, that is not our thought nor our speech. We tend to think in terms of laws, either chemical or natural law. When we receive rain, we know it is the natural condensation of vapor. When our crops are good, we give the credit to the fertilizer.

In a world that could not for one moment exist without the activity of God, we have educated our minds to a pattern of thought which allows no room for Him. So many of our wants are provided by what seem natural and impersonal forces that we have lost sight of the great Provider in the middle of providence. Those who have moved from the country to the city might remember how easy it is to get out of the habit of offering thanks at the table when we sit down to eat. This may be in part because the food before us came from the grocery store shelf rather than directly from the good earth. Perhaps in our society today there are some who cannot see the ocean of God's providence because of the water in their eyes.
