

E. R. Stettinius, Ex-Secretary Of State, Dies

GREENWICH, Conn., Oct. 31 (AP)—Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., war-time head of lend-lease and U. S. secretary of state when the United Nations came into being, died today at the age of 49.

The white-haired, handsome Stettinius, who at 37 became board chairman of the U. S. Steel Corp., was his country's first UN delegate. He was named rector of the University of Virginia after leaving the UN post in 1946.

Death came at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Trippe here. Mrs. Trippe is Stettinius' sister. Her husband is head of Pan-American World Airways.

A rich man's son, Stettinius went into government service and shortly became administrator of the $60 billion lend-lease program that played a major defeat of Nazi Germany.

The former cabinet member's secretary said member's of the household found Stettinius unconscious in bed this morning. He died soon after a physician arrived at the house.

Stettinius had suffered from a heart condition since last spring, his secretary said, and had been convalescing here.

His wife and her mother, Mrs. W. J. Wallace, were with him when he died.

Stettinius started his industrial career with General Motors, becoming a vice-president in 1931. He went to U. S. Steel three years later and succeeded Myron C. Taylor as board chairman in 1938.

He did not hold the post long. President Roosevelt made him chairman of the War Resources Board the following year and kept him in similar high posts in the face of charges by some new dealers that Stettinius was too "big business minded."

Stettinius was 43 when Roosevelt named him under secretary of state, a surprise appointment. He took over the top cabinet post a year later, becoming the second youngest secretary of state in American History.

Carrying on the work of his predecessor, Cordell Hull, Stettinius was permanent chairman of the Dumbarton Oaks Security Conference that gave birth to the United Nations.

Announcement Of Successor To Denfeld Is Due

Fired Chief Will Decide Whether To Retire From Navy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The next few days may bring official announcement on a successor to Adm. Louis Denfeld and also a decision by the ousted chief of naval operations on whether to retire from the service.

The two developments could happen today.

Secretary of the Navy Matthews has indicated that he would submit his nomination for a new chief of naval operations to President Truman and Secretary of Defense Johnson at the earliest possible moment. Johnson was out of the city over the week end while Matthews mulled over the problem.

The announcement on whether Denfeld will continue his long naval career in another spot or ask for retirement may appear as a joint official statement by the admiral and secretary. Denfeld's aides indicated that his decision probably would be reached over the week end and announced by Monday or Tuesday.

The only hint of what had been offered Denfeld in a meeting between the admiral and secretary on Friday was contained in Matthews' comment to reporters that the new assignment would "not mean any demotion in rank for Adm. Denfeld." Beyond that, the secretary said nothing about the proposed job.

Betting odds were still high this morning on the selection of Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman as the next chief of naval operations.

In a choice of Sherman for the post, it would mean that he would be jumped over the heads of nine vice admirals senior to him.

But Sherman had a qualification not possessed by any but one of the nine—he is an air officer. With present day emphasis on naval carrier task forces as the keystone of the fleet, this was important.

The other officer senior to Sherman who is a naval aviator is four-star Adm. Arthur W. Radford, commander of the Pacific fleet. Adm. Radford was, like Denfeld, strongly critical of Pentagon policy and the present operation of the service unification program.

Committee assignments shaped up at a meeting of the Christmas shopping season planners Monday.

Under direction of Walter Phillips, general chairman, the group announced several committee appointments. All are subject to enlargement prior to the season kick-off parade and program on Dec. 2.

Features will be the big parade and the traditional treasure hunt. Efforts are being made to enlist several visiting bands for the occasion. Activities will be built around the pre-Christmas visit of Santa Claus.

On the parade committee are Neel Barnaby, Jack Smith, Cecil McDonald and Cecil Rankin.

J. W. King and Dan Conley are in charge of the band division.

A. Swartz heads up the street light and decorations unit, while Nat Shick is chairman of the Christmas tree decoration.

Santa Claus float plans will be shaped by a committee headed by Mrs. Eva Pysati. On the treasure hunt committee are Fayo Coltharp, G. G. Morehead, J. D. Elliott.

Publicity is in the hands of Joe Hayden, Leonard Lyons, Jack Wallace and Joe Pickle.

Window unveiling will be directed by Mrs. Georgia Johnson and Lloyd M. Brooks, and treasure hunt ticket distribution is headed by C. M. Deal.

Parade time has been set tentatively for 5 p. m. with the window unveiling set for one hour later. There will be candy for the kiddies, and prizes for decorated floats in various divisions.

Gibson To Receive Sentence In 1948 Knife Slaying Here

Samuel B. Gibson, convicted of murder here last December, probably will be sentenced in 118th District Court after it goes into session Nov. 28.

A mandate from the court of criminal appeals, affirming the verdict and judgment returned in 76th District court, has been received at the district clerk's office here.

Gibson, a Negro, was found guilty of the knife slaying of Juan Olague. The slaying occurred on July returned a verdict of guilty on Dec. 9, 1948 and recommended the death penalty.

Quake Is Recorded

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—The Fordham University seismograph last night recorded a fairly severe earthquake about 2,900 miles from here in an undetermined direction.

Deathless Days 679 In Big Spring Traffic

Ending Of Steel Strike By Agreement Reported

Big Spring Area Gets Killing Frost

Frost, officially in the records as a killing variety, came Monday morning, the earliest since 1929.

Both the U. S. weather bureau and the U. S. Experiment Farm showed minimum readings of 30 degrees. The bureau showed the temperature sagging to freezing between 5:30 a. m. and 6:30 a. m., and the experiment farm trend was in line.

Reading was still at 33 at 7:30 a. m. but thereafter the mercury rose rapidly. It was 32 degrees at 11:30 a. m.

F. E. Keating, experiment farm superintendent, said that the frost may have nipped some cotton foliage, particularly in low places. It was, however, not severe or prolonged enough to damage bolls.

Tomatoes and tender vegetation showed effects of the frost.

Although considerably in advance of the normal date of Nov. 10, today's frost was by no means the earliest on record, Bureau records. That distinction goes to 1917 with a freezing temperature on Oct. 19. The previous year had contributed frost on Oct. 20, while frost came on Oct. 22 in 1911.

In 1929, the next in line to this season, the frost date was Oct. 24.

Whether the frost was enough to defoliate cotton extensively remained in doubt. Farmers would be pleased by such a development since it would permit stripping or sledding of cotton.

Temperatures dropped to a seasonal low of 24 at Dalhart. Brownsville's early morning temperature was 51 degrees. Along the coast temperatures dropped from the 80's to the 40's and 50's.

Other lows recorded were 25 at Lubbock, 25 at Amarillo, 37 in Fort Worth and 38 in Dallas. Houston had a low of 47.

Light rains accompanied the norther at Amarillo, Lubbock, Dalhart, Childress, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells, Texarkana, Beaumont, Dalhart and Dallas.

East Texas was in for fair weather and continued cold through tonight. Weathermen predicted light scattered frost in the northeast and extreme north tonight. Tomorrow warmer weather was expected. Fresh to strong northerly winds were forecast for the Coast, diminishing tonight and tomorrow.

West Texas prediction was for fair tonight.

It was expected to be not quite so cold in the Panhandle and South Plains tonight and fair and warmer tomorrow.

One man was killed in an automobile wreck during a heavy morning drizzle in the Panhandle yesterday and temperatures in that area dropped below freezing late last night.

Slain Fugitive Not Man Wanted Here In Leonard Murder

Sheriff Bob Wolf stated this morning that Floyd Luther Lewis, a Wyoming escaped convict machine gunned to death in Brownsville last week, positively was not the party wanted here in connection with the murder of Hope Leonard last month.

Police in other areas had speculated that Lewis could be linked with the slaying. Pictures of Lewis were rushed here and shown to witnesses who saw Leonard in the company with other men shortly before the killing took place.

Wolf said he had a definite line on two other men sought in the murder.

David C. Callaway, in jail here, has already been charged with Leonard's murder. He denied he killed the victim but admitted he was with Leonard the night before he was killed.

Leonard died as a result of a blow behind the ear, delivered with a blunt instrument.

Officials Decline To Confirm Rumors

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Steel industry sources said today a strike-ending agreement has been reached between Bethlehem Steel Corp. and the CIO Steelworkers Union.

These sources said an announcement of the agreement will be made at Cleveland this afternoon by Phillip Murray, head of the CIO and its striking steelworkers union.

They said a major feature of the agreement calls for expansion of the corporation's existing pension plan, with the employer still paying the entire cost of pensions.

In Bethlehem, Pa., officials of Bethlehem Steel Corp. declined to confirm or deny reports that it was about to come to terms with the steelworkers union.

There were also rumors of a settlement in the office on coal, but nothing to indicate that they were more than rumors.

One top officer of the steelworkers allowed reporters to get the impression that Murray and at least one of the major steel companies already had settled terms. Another Murray adviser denied any knowledge of a settlement.

A usually well-informed government official said at Cleveland that announcement of Murray's settlement was being held up to allow simultaneous strike-end signals in steel and John L. Lewis' 43-day coal strike.

Well-placed Washington officials said they believed the time is near for the government to call the off-again-on-again coal talks to Washington.

For at least two weeks the government has centered all its peace-making efforts on steel. Cyrus S. Ching, top federal mediator, has spent most of that time talking with officials of U. S. Steel Corp., biggest steel producer in the nation.

Ching, it was learned, still believes that any settlement of the twin strikes in basic industries must start in steel, since many of the coal mines are owned or dominated by steel firms.

However, the coal talks have hit bottom. Negotiations in West Virginia between John L. Lewis' striking miners union and northern and western operators have been broken off entirely by the operators.

Adm. Sherman Flying To Washington Today

LONDON, Oct. 31 (AP)—Vice Adm. Forrest P. Sherman is flying to Washington today, perhaps to become chief of naval operations.

There have been persistent reports that Sherman, commander of the Sixth Task Fleet in the Mediterranean, would succeed Adm. Louis E. Denfeld.

Denfeld was ousted by President Truman last Thursday "for the good of the country."

Industry Profits Up In '49 Third Quarter

NEW YORK, Oct. 31 (AP)—Profits of American industry turned upward in the third quarter of this year for the first time in 12 months.

They stand only slightly below the all-time high mark of a year ago, when third quarter earnings were the peak in the record year of 1948.

An unusual feature of the third quarter was the substantial increase in earnings of automobile companies which offset a sharp decline in oil company profits.

The compilation by the Associated Press of earnings reports of 314 leading corporations in 111 major fields showed today a total net profit of $1,035,644,061 in the July-September quarter.

That is 4.3 per cent higher than the total of $992,162,819 reported by the same corporations in the second quarter of this year.

It is only 4.1 per cent lower than the $1,046,983,251 earned by these companies in the third quarter of 1948.

Corporate earnings slid lower in the final quarter of 1948 from their third quarter peak, and the decline continued in the first and second quarters of this year.

The upturn was not surprising to those who watched the recession of early 1949 give way gradually to an economic recovery around mid-year. The present profit trend confirms that rebound.

Largely responsible for the overall good showing are the earnings of two automobile companies.

The increase in their earnings more than balanced the decline in profits shown by the oil companies.

Chrysler and General Motors increased their earnings by more than $55 million in the third quarter of this year over a year ago, while the earnings of 22 oil companies fell nearly $97 million below the level of the third quarter of 1948.

Blonde Booked After Elderly Romeo Slain

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31 (AP)—"He said he wanted some loving. I told him 'all right, I'll give you some loving.' And I pulled out the gun and shot him."

On the basis of that signed statement to police, blonde Paty Rogers, 25-year-old switchboard operator, today is booked on suspicion of murder in the Saturday slaying of Furrier Harry Lapidus, 71.

Lapidus' body, five bullets through the heart, was found yesterday under a pile of fur coats in his Hollywood store. Lapidus came here two years ago from South Bend, Ind., where he had been in the fur business 30 years.

Miss Rogers said she had known Lapidus about 18 months and that he had been trying to sell her a fur coat. She was arrested about midnight Saturday in a downtown parking lot on suspicion of drunkenness. She broke away from officers at central police station but was downed by a detective's flying tackle. Her purse fell open and out rolled an automatic.

Det. C. C. Forbes quoted her thusly: "I guess I just blew my top. When I get mad I do a lot of things."

"He was standing across the table. He wanted me to love him. He looked kind of funny when I shot him."

"He asked me why I did it and then he flopped into a chair. I didn't know he was dead. I sat down and smoked a cigarette."

Lapidus' body was discovered by his niece and her husband. Lapidus' wife had become alarmed when her husband failed to return home at the usual time.

New Union Drives In Dixie Being Planned

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (AP)—The two big labor organizations, AFL and CIO, today aimed fresh organizing drives at the South to enlist union members and voters.

The rival groups have new and ambitious plans to swell their membership rolls and boost their ballot power to elect their friends and defeat their enemies.

The CIO is abandoning its scatter-shot technique. It has decided to concentrate its efforts. It has pulled its southern organizers out of four states, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and Florida.

Now the CIO plans to concentrate on the rest of the southern states, figuring its organizing investment in those states will pay off better. The AFL, mapping plans to pick up a million new members in the next year, hopes a good part of that number can be gained in Dixie. But its super-duper organizing plans for that million still are being figured out by AFL President William Green and his associates.

The rival organizations are regrouping their southern organizing battalions and readying for a new and bigger try.

They see a fertile organizing field in the South for some time to come. One reason is the still steady movement of industry toward Dixie. Danger of atomic bombings is encouraging the scattering of manufacturing plants. A number of airplane plants have recently moved South because of this.

Now that the organizations are taking a big part in politics, they're coupling vote-getting with member-getting. They figure a member not only strengthens the union's total bargaining position but he for they boosts labor's political power.

SAFETY GAG IS TIMELY

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 31 (AP)—Defense Secretary Johnson's unification trouble in Washington brought forth this gag at the big Treasure Island Navy Base today.

Sailor gagsters say the Navy operator at the Pentagon building recently answered one incoming call in this manner: "Johnson's Air Force, water division."

Engineer Succumbs

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 31 (AP)—Charles Volney Kerr, 88, noted mechanical engineer credited with inventing the first steam turbine used in merchant ships died here yesterday.

Negro, 105, Sole Survivor Of Accursed Town, Dies

OLIVER, Ga., Oct. 31 (AP)—The lone survivor of Jacksboro — the accursed town that was — died. Out of that once damned, now desolate region on Beaver Creek came word today that Richard Bryant, 105-year-old ex-Negro slave had died Friday night.

He was the only man alive who saw the terrible curse of a little hunchbacked itinerant minister, Lorenzo Dow, come true.

He saw the once bustling town disappear, house by house, store by store until but one house remained — the house specifically spared by Dow.

When Bryant was just three years old, he saw the white residents give up in despair at the freaks of fire, water and wind and move flock, stock and barrel five miles away to found another town, Sylvania.

It was in 1794 that Jacksboro, half way between Augusta and Savannah, was founded. It flourished as a coach stop and county seat.

Jacksboro was a rough, tough town near the hill country in a rough, tough time.

For 36 years the town went its boisterous way. Then in 1830 Dow drifted down and called upon its citizens to repent. People laughed. They pelted him with eggs. And they would not let him preach.

The tormented little minister with the burning eyes turned this way and that until a powerful man, Seaborn Goodall, gave him sanctuary in his home.

When the purposeful Dow strode to meet his tormentors again the following day, a mob drove him to rustic bridge and bade him never return.

Scornfully, Dow passed on the span, removed his shoes and shook the dust of Jacksboro from his feet.

Borden Paving Bids Asked For Nov. 15

Bids on two and a half miles of paving in southern Borden county have been asked for Nov. 15.

The state highway department has advertised for bids on construction of 2,480 miles of road starting 10 miles south of Gall and extending to a point south of the Colorado river.

Offers will be received for grading, structures, flexible base and single asphalt surface treatment.

Howard county has been working with the state highway department for extension of its pavement to the north Howard county line on the same route (Farm Market 66). This, plus the short southerly extension in Borden county, would leave a gap of something like half a dozen miles in an all-weather route between Big Spring and Gall.

16 Persons Perish Violently In State

By The Associated Press

At least sixteen persons died violently in Texas over the week end.

Eleven died in highway accidents, two were killed by trains, one man was shot, one person drowned and another took poison.

He turned and swore that God would bring swift vengeance, the same that overtook Sodom and Gomorrah. The townsfolk laughed again.

But then, unaccountably, fires broke out, windstorms tore off roofs, the placid creek through the middle of the town became wild and unruly, sweeping away homes in flash floods.

The remaining settlers finally gave up and moved their county seat to Sylvania. Time removed all traces of the town but the Goodall place which still stands.

Here Bryant was born into slavery. He was a young man when Sherman marched through, burning all houses along his route—but the Goodall home.

The night old "Uncle" Richard died, so they say, by the light of a flickering kerosene lamp, there was an awful rustling in the trees. And an old hound howled.

Opportunity Gets Preference Over Security In Education

President Ike Eisenhower of Columbia University recently told his students to seek opportunity rather than security. The only perfect security he said is the case of the man who is serving a life term in prison.

Well, a college education opens up opportunities for young people, but unless they seize those opportunities and make the most of them, they cannot convert them into security.

All of which remind us that at Kansas City the other day U. S. Commissioner of Education, Earl James McGrath, proposed a $300-million annual scholarship fund for more than 400,000 non-veteran college students. He also suggested a system of federally-guaranteed loans to college and university students along the pattern of those provided for GI's.

He declared there are more than 2,000,000 persons with college abilities who do not now get to college. His idea is to make the educational funds and the loans available to students who can demonstrate their ability and their worthiness.

Seeing that Congress hasn't yet got round to providing $300 million annually for aid to the public schools, Commissioner McGrath's proposal doesn't seem to have much of a chance.

Most education authorities agree that there are far too many students in college who have no business there, and far too many who aren't in college that should be there. How to separate the sheep from the goats, and send only the superior students, with or without subsidy, to the institutions of higher learning is a Grade A headache that no law passed by Congress could possibly solve.

But it is a problem that deserves serious study, and suitable action. If the nation has only so much money to use for education in the higher brackets, somebody should see to it that the beneficiaries are worthy, and that the end-product of a higher education justifies the means expended.

Utilization Of Raw Materials Awaits Local Demonstration

We've been noticing accounts of some of the industries which have sprung up throughout the South and Southwest. Undoubtedly there is a trend. Undoubtedly, a number of communities are exercising a considerable amount of ingenuity and faith.

One of the plants attracting attention makes plastic cord used in the manufacture of high-grade seat covers. The ingredients consist of salt and crude oil.

Now this is the sort of thing for which we might be alert. We don't mean exactly that kind of an industry, but the kind which would make use of raw materials which are possessed in abundance here.

If we have a phenomenal strike of luck, some companies might come in and develop these resources for us. If we have ingenuity and enough faith on the part of those who are able to invest, we can do the job ourselves. In the latter instance, it would be far better because such success as greeted the venture would become a community asset and increasing community asset.

One of the most significant contributions Cuden Petroleum has made this city and area is not alone in its processing and distribution of huge amounts of petroleum, but also in pointing the way to wider utilization of raw materials abounding in this area.

There is a gold mine in this field. Whether we have energy enough to find it and sense and courage enough to develop it remains to be demonstrated.

Lindbergh 'Gospel' For Europe Expected After Flier's Tour

FRANKFURT (By Airmail)—America can expect before long to see Charles A. Lindbergh arise again as the prophet of a U. S. foreign-policy "gospel" for Europe.

Months ago the famous aviator and his writing wife, Anne Morrow Lindbergh, slipped quietly into these crucial regions. The far and fast air travelers brought out of the Rembrandt era, adequate for the time, she left in early September to put her children in school; he has now gone, too—but not until he had crammed his long legs into the little car and driven 25,000 miles cross-country Western Europe up to the borders of Russia.

No closer, Lindbergh was careful not so much as to set foot into the Russian zone of Berlin. He said wryly that he thought the Russians didn't like him and might welcome the chance to nab him on a technicality.

The Lindberghs will write a book on their experiences. It will relate, it is understood, to both what people have told them and their own observations and conclusions.

Of one thing he is sure, Lindbergh has told friends; which is that the Germans no more than our allies, the French, Norwegians, etc., want first to be abandoned and then liberated. We shall not, they expect him to contend, get good results in Germany unless we set it within the line which Russia must pass.

This of course raises one of the countless hard questions inherent in the situation here. Can Germany be safely re-armed to any degree? If Germany believes she is to be left defenseless, can the democracies expect good political results here now? etc.

The Lindberghs' book is bound to excite as much controversy as Mrs. Lindbergh's pre-war "The Wave of the Future," and Mr. Lindbergh's isolation did. It could form a new rallying point for the stubborn isolationists in Congress who in the past have found Lindbergh a convenient page-one vehicle.

It is stated reliably that the Lindberghs were here as private citizens and had no official mission—public or secret. However, he has old friends in the Air Force, certain to be influenced by his opinions as a professional flyer.

With them he was available, friendly and communicative. With the general run of Americans he was remote, and with the press he was, as always, entirely hostile.

His friends say that Lindbergh wants to be allowed to live as other Americans. This is not quite accurate. Americans are gregarious and free-wheeling. Lindbergh does not, obviously, want to mingle with others, he wants to be left alone to do his own choosing of what he shall do, where and with whom he shall go. It is a privilege Americans can't grant their heroes. It is fair to add that most U. S. heroes—Roosevelt, MacArthur, Eisenhower—lap up crowds like W. C. Fields did martinis.

In any case, Lindbergh refused every request—even to pose for his picture. His message was that the oldest and worst picture used, the better it suited him.

Old Age Overtakes Blond Star Of 'Juvenile Jury' Broadcasts

NEW YORK—(A)—AFTER GIVING THE best years of her life to radio, Peggy Bruder has to give up her microphone job because of old age.

"I don't feel too old to go on, but I guess they know best," she said mournfully.

Peggy is 12.

"An old woman," she said, "I realize that."

For three years Peggy has been a star panelist on WOR's network program, "Juvenile Jury." On the program five experts from 4 to 12 years hear the problems of other children and suggest how to solve them.

"WHAT THOSE FIVE-YEAR-OLDS come up with you wouldn't believe," said Peggy, a blue-eyed girl with long blond curls.

"It gets to the point where the problems don't seem serious — only comical. And we try to make the audience laugh if we can think of a clever answer."

And that is the key to her temporarily forced retirement. For a child trying to be clever is rarely as funny as a child who is spontaneous. Or as Jack Barry, program moderator, put it:

"We depend for laughs and pace on the off-the-cuff answers of the kids. At 12 a child begins to get a little sophisticated."

So now Peggy has nothing to look forward to but adolescence, high school, college, an acting career, matrimony, motherhood and children, middle age, grandmotherhood, some other old age — and then the final curtain. That's all there is left when you're already 12.

MISS BRUDER, WHO IS A STAR STUDENT in the 8th grade, isn't too dismayed at the road ahead.

"Radio really has been wonderful to me, she said, just to prove she held no hard feelings because the show must now go on without her. "It's taught me to face an audience and to ad lib. I no longer have stage fright."

"Now I want to go on and be a dramatic actress. I love it, and I've been studying for it. I think I'd rather be in the movies — every girl looks forward to that. But right now I believe television is the right thing to be in."

Little Fellow Finds It Doesn't Pay To Get Into Misunderstanding Over Taxes

WASHINGTON—Last week this column told how various big-shot tax-evaders managed to delay or squirm out of criminal tax-fraud prosecution, sometimes because of leniency on the part of politically minded or easygoing U. S. attorneys.

It was pointed out that U. S. attorneys are appointed on the recommendation of senators or congressmen and sometimes appear to work more for the senators than for the Justice Department.

In contrast to the smooth sailing enjoyed by some big-shot tax-evaders, here is what happened recently to a little fellow who got into a misunderstanding over his taxes. This taxpayer, Francis J. Massey, of 220 2nd Street, Washington, a displaced government war worker, found a job after the war as a warehouse worker for Lansburgh and Brothers, a Washington department store.

In 1948 treasury agents checked Mr. Massey's tax returns for the war years and found proper returns had been filed and taxes paid. Then suddenly it was discovered that a Frank J. Massey had received $150 in dividends from stock owned in the Washington Gas Light Co., and the Treasury promptly assessed Francis J. Massey additional taxes.

LIEN ON $25 SALARY

Actually, Francis J. Massey never owned the stock and never received any dividends. It belonged to his father, now deceased, Edward T. Stafford, secretary of the Washington Gas Light Co., certified that Francis J. Massey never owned the stock and never received the dividends owed to his father, but this made no difference to the U. S. Treasury.

It demanded that he pay just the same. Mr. Massey's salary was only $25 a week, and he had a wife and two small children to support. But, under protest, he paid in small dribbles of $2 a week up to a total of $18.92. This, however, wasn't fast enough for the Treasury and it slapped a tax lien on his salary for the remaining $15.

This got him into trouble with his employer who did not want to be suspected of harboring a tax dodger, and he was fired.

Thus, unable to get a recommendation from his last employer — except with a tax-dodging record — Massey was unable to find full-time employment. His youngest child became ill, the family doctor had not been paid for past services and would not come when urgently needed. The child died and was buried in potter's field as government expense.

That's the experience of one little taxpayer who had no money to hire lawyers.

OF TEAPOT DOME

On the other hand, here is the experience of a man who had the money to hire lawyers and to live in luxury abroad — one Henry K. Blackmer, multimillionaire oilman who fled to France to escape being questioned in the Teapot Dome scandal.

Some of the others who remained in the United States went to former GOP Colorado politician who dug up the income-tax evidence against Blackmer, told friends in Washington:

"Henry Blackmer will never come back to this country while I'm alive."

TOM WALSH'S FIGHT

Sullivan died shortly thereafter, and almost immediately Blackmer's lawyers arranged to bring him back — reportedly with an understanding that he would escape a jail sentence. Now 80 years old, but in excellent spirits and good health, Blackmer flew back on a straitliner.

Blackmer has powerful friends in the U. S. A., among them GOP Sen. Millikin of Colorado who was a partner in the law firm that originally handled Blackmer's affairs. Millikin, despite a difference in politics is close to ex-Sen. Ed Johnson, Colorado Democrat, who recommended the appointment of the U. S. attorney in Denver, Max Bulkeley.

And it was Bulkeley who informed newsmen in Denver that it would be "inhuman" to send Blackmer to jail.

"He has paid his penalty," the U. S. attorney pleaded. "He has made good all the income taxes he evaded and paid heavy penalties and fines. I will not ask that he be sent to jail."

The venerable Sen. Tom Walsh of Montana, having spent a good part of his senatorial life unearthing the skulduggery of Henry Blackmer and his cronies, had joined with a Senate committee in flaying that skulduggery.

Film Gals Disagree On Subject Of 'Beefcake'

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 31 (A)—The latest thing on the exploitation front in Hollywood is "Beefcake" the exposure of famous male frames. And what do the glamor girls think of it?

This male counterpart of cheesecake has been much in the movie news lately. Bare-chested pictures of Alan Ladd, Richard Conte, Victor Mature, Kirk Douglas, Robert Ryan, Lex Barker and others have been widely circulated to help advertise films.

The question: Are the female stars concerned about the men muscling in on their territory? To determine this I asked a number of actresses how they feel about beefcake. They replied:

Ava Gardner—"It's sensational! Imagine if they showed Montgomery Clift that way! Really, though, I don't think it will replace cheese cake. Women like men's minds."

Joan Crawford—"Why not? I think it's about time men were given the chance to get in on cheesecake."

Eleanor Parker—"I guess it's all right to show a man's chest when the situation in a picture calls for it. But I don't think it will have the appeal of cheesecake."

Ella Raines—"Beefcake does not impress me. But if the men want to expose themselves, let them."

Jeanne Crain—"Frankly, I think it's what's in a man's mind that makes him attractive."

Pat Neal—"It's lovely."

Improvement Shown In Rural Homes Of Big Spring Area

One of the most striking changes hereabouts in the last few years—to this writer, at least—is the improvement in rural homes.

Time was, within my generation, when the farmer would invest his all in a great barn and implements with which to cultivate his place. At the same time, he'd let his family reside in anything with four walls and a roof on it.

His domicile ordinarily didn't boast electric lights because the REA program wasn't very far advanced at that time. He improvised his own refrigeration system to protect his butter and eggs with a tin basin extending from one window. He kept the butter and eggs partly submerged in water and covered with a damp cloth.

Furniture his parents had used, and their parents before them, suited him. It might have been considered elegant at one time but the varnish had long since worn away or been scarred beyond repair.

His house looked as if it never had been painted, and, in some cases, it never had. The roof of his manner had taken a beating from the elements and oftentimes had been patched with things not even remotely related to a shingle.

He made little effort to improve his place of residence because he felt no inclination to live like the Joneses. He had little time to visit and poor means of getting around when he did decide to go.

What changes time has wrought.

Today he has all the modern conveniences, including plumbing, electrification, refrigeration, even gas for heating and cooking and he builds a house to justify their presence. He entertains friends more than he used to, and travels about a great deal more, thanks to modern transportation and modern highways.

His living conditions are second to none, for, as the farmer goes, so goes the rest of the nation.—TOMMY HART.

The Nation Today-By James Marlow

Unification Act Is Root Of Quarrel In Armed Services

WASHINGTON, Oct. 31 (A)—THE quarrel between the Navy and the other armed services has its roots in the unification act.

Congress first passed that act in 1947 and then tightened and toughened it this year. It has this purpose:

To make the armed services work together better as a team, produce better planning, save money on purchasing equipment, and so on.

This is a brief explanation of how the act and the trouble grew:

Until 1947 the Army and Navy were completely independent of each other. The Air Force was part of the Army.

Each had two heads, military and civilian. This way: Army, chief of staff and secretary of the War Department; Navy, chief of naval operations and secretary of the Navy Department. In both cases the civilian heads were the military chiefs.

FURTHER, THE TWO SECRETARIES operated independently and each was a member of the President's cabinet. This meant they could go directly to the President with their problems or complaints against each other.

This set-up was changed by the unification act of 1947 and further changed by the revised law passed this year. This is the set-up now:

The Air Force was separated from the Army. Now there are three military agencies: The Army, Navy and Air Force Departments.

Each has its own top military man: Army chief of staff, Air Force chief of staff, and chief of naval operations.

And each department has its own civilian secretary. But—power was taken from the secretaries. They no longer are members of the President's cabinet.

That's because Congress created something new:

1. A Department of Defense. The Army, Navy and Air Force Departments are all parts of the Department of Defense.

2. A secretary of defense (Louis Johnson) to head up the whole show. He's a member of the President's cabinet. He's boss over the three civilian secretaries.

AND—THOSE THREE CIVILIAN SECRETARIES cannot carry their complaints to the President, unless Johnson approves. And they can't go to the President over Johnson's head. So he's top man of all.

The only one who can overrule him on questions of the Army, Navy or Air Force is the President, who is commander-in-chief.

For example: Navy Secretary Francis B. Matthews may think Johnson is wrong in wanting to drop 50,000 Navy men and officers from their jobs, and he may tell Johnson so. But if Johnson still says they're dropped, they're dropped.

Something else was added by the unification act. That's a body called the Joint Chiefs of Staff (JCS). It's made up of: The Army chief of staff (Gen. J. Lawton Collins); the Air Force chief of staff (Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg); and the chief of naval operations. This job was held by Adm. Louis B. Denfeld until President Truman fired him Thursday.

There's a fourth top man — in fact, the top military man of the country—in the JCS. He's the chairman (Gen. Omar Bradley). His job is to act as moderator. He has no vote.

WHAT FINAL AUTHORITY DO THE members of the PCS have? Suppose the Army and Navy chiefs think the Navy strength should be cut down, although the Navy chief disagrees. Is that 2 to 1 vote final and is the Navy cut down?

No, says Secretary Johnson. He told Congress the JCS members have final say so on nothing, that they can only recommend what should be done. He makes the final decision.

The admirals squirmed but were unable to block decision after decision to cut down Navy strength and ambition.

Before unification, it had been able, as an independent agency, to do its own planning, subject only to decisions by the President and Congress.

Finally, unable to do anything under the unification law to get what they wanted for the Navy, the admirals finally protested by making their feelings public.

Britain Fighting For Her Very Existence In Economic Crisis

BRITAIN'S SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT, having received a vote of confidence from its big majority in the House of Commons, is free to continue its struggle with the economic crisis which is tearing at the vitals of the nation.

That affords some moral encouragement to the harassed cabinet, but it cannot provide the material aid or even the advice so grievously needed. It is merely a friendly gesture at the zero hour as the badly armed government goes into fresh action against strange hazards.

One of the hopeful aspects of this grim situation is that the government has no delusions about the gravity of the situation. It is well aware that the country is in the midst of an economic life-and-death struggle.

ALL OF WHICH IS BY THE WAY OF saying that no man can foresee the extent of crisis, or the remedies necessary to its cure. It's likely to be a protracted operation. Recognition of these facts constituted the main value of the two-day debate in commons, or so it seems to me.

Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, was near to tears as he hammered home to a tense commons that "our civilization itself must fade and wither away" unless the nation produces more goods immediately and sells them to America. Cripps isn't given to exaggeration and he is not of the emotional type. He meant what he said.

BRITAIN IS SCRAPING THE BOTTOM of the economic barrel. Her immediate resources have been largely depleted. She hasn't the wherewithal for a quick recovery. That is why Sir Stafford warned the commons that it couldn't exist on the charity of the United States. Said he:

"At the root of our success or failure lies our own capacity to produce. The only real solution for our difficulties, is more and more economical and efficient production."

One drag on Britain's recovery rests in the fact that much of the rest of Europe also is hard hit. Numerous countries are just about living on the Marshall Plan which is slated to expire in 1952.

Druggist Denies He's Scientist

OAKLAND, Md. (A)—Joseph E. Harsted is 79 years old. He has run a drug store here for 57 years, and he says he is a druggist, not a scientist.

But he has written a botany text book, "Wild Flowers of the Alleghenies." It is used in schools and libraries all over the country. The botany departments of Harvard, Cornell and other universities encouraged the work and helped him with it. He has two honorary doctorate degrees. He is listed in "Who's Who" and "American Men of Science." Also, he's a fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. He is the friend of many scientists and of the late Thomas Edison.

He insists, however, he is still "just a country kid pursuing a hobby." His book has been praised both for its accuracy and its popular style. It has brought him letters from all over the world.

Today's Birthday

BARBARA BEL GEDDES, born Oct. 31, 1922 in New York, daughter of Norman Bel Geddes, theatrical and industrial designer, Broadway appearances of this young actress in "Deep Are the Roots" early in her career brought her critics acclaim. Later she went to Hollywood and appeared in the films "The Long Night" and "I Remember Mama." Barbara Bel Geddes' first acting in school productions prompted her teacher to discourage her. Her father helped her get into summer stock in Clinton, Conn., where she played bit parts for one summer. Later she toured the country with a U. S. O. troupe and then appeared as Broadway in short-run parts until she attracted attention.

Radio Bargains Being Stressed By Firestone

Home radio bargains are being made available at the Firestone Tire and Appliance store, 507 E. 3rd street. Ted Darby, manager, announces that radio-record player combinations have been marked down from $50 to $80 per set. Five models, capable of playing intermixed 10 and 12-inch records, are on display at the Firestone store. Each model can be adapted to operate with the new long-playing records, Darby said. Cabinets are finished in a variety of colors, ranging from blond to mahogany. Firestone is also displaying a large assortment of Christmas merchandise for the entire family. Though Darby will not formally open the Christmas department until Nov. 4, toys for children of all ages are already available. An assortment of dolls, miniature kitchen equipment, toy cars and trucks, wagons and bicycles may be chosen from.

CYCLE HEADQUARTERS—Operators of cycle equipment in the Big Spring headquarters look to the Thixton Motorcycle and Bicycle shop, 508 W. 3rd for dependable service. Cecil Thixton has spent his adult life in the business, handling repairs for bikes, motorcycles and scooters. In addition, Thixton has developed a wide following for Harley Davidson motorcycles, having been named the outstanding dealer in Texas the past year.

Area's Growth Is Matched By Firm

A home-owned business concern which has grown with Big Spring and which has the same aims and designs for a greater tomorrow as the community itself is the West Texas Sand and Gravel company. Today, the establishment has 10 times the personnel it had a decade ago. Some 60 men, many of them home owners here, are employed by the concern. Practically all of them purchase everything necessary to sustain them and their families from local merchants. An estimated $300,000 annually is spent in Big Spring vicinity by West Texas Sand and Gravel company personnel.

Steady Market For Grains Is Provided Here

Steady market with top spot prices is greeting the current Howard county grain sorghum crop. Major portion of the crop is being handled here by Tucker & McKinley, either through conventional purchases or storage under commodity corporation plans. The price has stabilized around $1.65 cwt.

Approximately 20 cars, or around 900 tons, have been received to date. There is no basis for the amount outstanding, but E. T. Tucker estimated that there would be five to 10 cars more come to market. In addition receipts are expected from several adjoining counties.

Tucker & McKinley are planning to lay in a large amount of storage to meet the demands of feeders in the late winter and early spring season. In addition, there will be big supplies of top seed for planting next year when many producers, faced with prospect of controlled cotton acreage, may swing back to larger plantings of grain.

A substantial amount of the grain is being processed by Tucker & McKinley to satisfy the local demand. Better than one car a week of prepared dairy, poultry and other feeds is being produced by the concern's feed mill. Another car of chopped oats is being delivered weekly along with a car of ground maize.

Besides this service, Tucker & McKinley is handling all types of seed for fall cover and legume crop plantings, and will have on hand varied grains for spring planting. Also distributed is a complete line of major feed mill products.

Braniff Portrait In Okla. Hall of Fame

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 31. (AP)—The portrait of T. E. Braniff, president of Braniff International Airways, will be placed alongside that of other famous Oklahomans in the state hall of fame Nov. 4. The state historical society will hang the portrait. Braniff is a pioneer Oklahoma City business man who now lives in Dallas.

Southwest Tool Sees That Machinery Stays In Shape

Big machinery never becomes obsolete in the Big Spring area. That is, virtually any type of heavy duty machinery can be repaired, regardless of availability of stock replacement parts. A local firm, the Southwestern Tool and Supply Co., makes a specialty of keeping such machinery in operation, whether demand is in the oil fields, the cotton gins or any other type of industry.

The Southwestern Tool and Supply Co., located at 901 East Second street, operates the largest machine shop in the Big Spring area. The establishment's experienced operators can take raw materials and turn out practically any type of tool or replacement part for big machinery.

Such work is accomplished on the huge lathes and other equipment that are located under the same roof with Southwestern Tool and Supply's welding department and blacksmith shop. In addition to the services offered at the shop itself, the establishment maintains a fleet of portable welding units that are available for jobs in the field and for emergency work.

The Southwestern Tool and Supply blacksmith shop enables the firm to provide forged welding, a

Demand For Locally Made Feeds Grows

Demand for home grown and home manufactured feeds is increasing steadily. Each week, Tucker & McKinley turn out more than a carload of 15 per cent high protein dairy feeds, together with an assortment of others for poultry and livestock. These are marketed through local channels and bear the trade name of Tucker's Best. All are compounded under rigid state approved formulas. Wherever possible, home produced feed are used in the rations.

Scotties Meet Top Contenders

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AP Sports Editor

Important games dot a jammed schedule of conference play this week in Texas schoolboy football. A half-dozen district titles will be in the balance with the feature at Grand Prairie where one of the state's five undefeated, united teams meets its greatest test.

Highland Park of Dallas plays the first serious contender for honors in its district in years and Grand Prairie is likely to bring to a halt the iron-fisted reign the Highlanders have held.

Grand Prairie has the hardest row to hoe of any of the unbeaten elevens. The others are Wichita Falls and Lubbock, which have open dates this week, and Fort Arthur and Corsicana. Fort Arthur plays South Park (Beaumont) in a game matching unbeaten teams in conference play in District 11 of Class AA. Corsicana takes on Waxahachie in District 13.

Two titles are on the line in the City Conference. At Dallas, Adenson meets Sunset in the game expected to determine the District 1 championship. At Fort Worth, Arlington Heights plays Paschal. In what is likely to be the championship struggle of District 2.

Amarillo's Golden Sandies open the District 1 Class AA race against Pampa, the team figured to give the Sandies the most trouble.

Marshall and Texarkana get together at Texarkana in District 9. Marshall is the only undefeated team left in conference play but Texarkana long has been rated the team most likely to upset the Mavericks. If Texarkana wins it will throw the race into a tie.

Port Arthur and South Park are unbeaten in District 11 warfare but it appears this condition will last only until Friday when South Park tries to stop mighty Port Arthur. In District 12 Galveston and Freeport, two of three teams unbeaten in conference competition, get together at Galveston Baytown, the other one, plays twice-beaten Galena Park.

Despite the fact that Highland Park has lost a game—a home conference affair with Wichita Falls—the District 8 struggle between the Scots and Grand Prairie is the top tilt of the state. The winner not only will be acknowledged as district champion but will be expected to go far in the state playoff.

Two teams in the state are undefeated but have been tied. They are John Reagan of Houston in the City Conference and Baytown.

LOCALS ENHEARTENED

Steers Open Workouts For San Angelo Battle

The Big Spring high school Steers, return to work today, beginning preparations for Friday night's invasion of San Angelo.

Any way you look at it, the Longhorns will be underdogs in their encounter with the Bobcats. Red Ramsey's Felines have been the more impressive all season. They bowled over El Paso Austin, 26-7, the same outfit that maul-ed Big Spring only last Saturday, 42-7. They smothered Paly at Fort Worth, 42-6. They trampled Arlington Heights of Fort Worth, 35-20, with a surprising show of power. And they routed Cisco, 70-7. Still and all, the local cause is not hopeless. The locals always play well against Angelo. Their efforts against Austin weren't nearly as badly as they appeared. They held their own in statistics and, with any sort of luck, could have scored one or two more touchdowns. Penalties halted drives at the wrong moments.

What gives the Bobcats more confidence, however, are the teams respective showings against Brown-wood. Big Spring edged Brown-wood, 14-13, and outplayed them from start to finish. San Angelo tied Brownwood, 33-33, and, in turn, was outplayed.

The Cats, gunning to recover lost prestige and to get back into the title fight, will send a veteran, seasoned eleven against the Herd. The Angelo attack will be directed by Bobby Clatterback, considered one of the best T quarterbacks in West Texas.

GETS 'A' FOR DEMONSTRATION
EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 31. — Freshman Bill Buccell began a recent assignment before a Michigan State College speech class by taking off his trousers.

Then, equipped with a flat-iron, he gave an illustrated talk entitled "press your own pants and save money."

Buccell's speaking ability, polka-dot shorts and bright-green garters apparently impressed the instructor. He got an "A."

RAMS PLAY EAGLES IN PRO HEADLINER

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. — The Los Angeles Rams, only unbeaten team in the National Football League, and the Philadelphia Eagles, 1948 champions, clash in next Sunday's outstanding pro game of the week.

In the All-America Conference, the New York Yankees and Cleveland Browns, still tied for first place, and the San Francisco 49ers, closest to that pair, all appear to have welcome breathers coming up Sunday. The Yankees play host to Buffalo, the Browns take on the Chicago Hornets and the 49ers visit Baltimore.

Of the seven games played in both leagues yesterday, only one was a lopsided affair—that in the NFL which saw the Eagles routing Pittsburgh, 38-7. The Rams edged to Chicago Bears, 27-24.

In the AAC, the New Yorkers, after stealing a three-touchdown advantage over the luckless Baltimore Colts, had to stave off a late rally to win, 21-14.

Cleveland kept pace with the Yankees by earning sweet revenge over San Francisco, 30-28. The tied-up leaders now have six triumphs and one loss each.

In other national league games, the New York Giants eked out a 41-38 win over the downcast Chicago Cardinals; Green Bay squeaked to a 16-14 decision over Detroit, and the New York Bulldogs, still bitterless in the win column, did their best to date by tying Washington, 14-14.

Howie Schultz, former first baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers and Philadelphia Phils, now is player coach of the Anderson Packers of the National Basketball Association.

Don Low Named Standout Back

FORT WORTH, Oct. 31. — Don Low, versatile Brownwood back-gets the nod as the outstanding high school player on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram's "honor roll," roundup this week.

Low, a 180-pound senior, threw three touchdown passes, passed and ran for 318 of the 430 yards gained by Brownwood, and scored another touchdown on a plunge through the line as the Lions played a 23-23 upset tie with San Angelo Friday.

Charles Thompson, Sweetwater's 62, 230-pound tackle, made several outstanding stops and played a good offensive game as his team bowed to Abilene, 12-27.

Bill Galusha, Abilene back, accounted for most of the Eagles' between the line yardage and booted three out of four extra points.

Jack McMurry, Marshall back, scored two touchdowns on quarterback sneaks and lateraled to Deibert Rowland on a 15-yard play for the winning tally as the Mavericks defeated Henderson 21-14.

E. G. Sanders, 150-pound Amarillo half back, crossed the goal line after runs of eight, seven, and 61 yards as the Sandies defeated Yalta, 36-4.

Wayne Stroud, Lubbock back, plunged two yards for one touchdown, ran 98 yards for another and intercepted two passes to set up two more tallies as the Westerners rolled past Lamesa, 41-14.

The American League has won 29 World Series and the National League 17.

BLACK KNIGHTS LEAD

Army, Irish And Sooners Gouging On Touchdowns

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP STAFF

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. — It's no longer sufficient to say those grid-iron gargantuan — Notre Dame, Army and Oklahoma — won again. The pertinent point is: By how much?

As if jealously watching the scoreboard in their drive for national honors, these three top-ranking elevens are gouging themselves on touchdowns and pushing the modern record for scoring.

Army's Black Knights of the Hudson, second to Notre Dame in the current standings, are setting the point-production pace among the leaders with a total of 267 in six games, an average of 44½ per Saturday.

The Fighting Irish have register 197 in five games, an average of 39 plus, while the third-ranked Sooners have 229 in six games, a bit over 38 for each afternoon's sport.

They are not apt to wreck the listed all-time record of 504, established by Army in 1944, but they'll be mighty close at the end of this "point-crazy" campaign.

All three of the titans won games Saturday by robust margins. Notre Dame crushed Navy, 40-0, at Baltimore. Army overwhelmed Virginia Military, 40-14. Oklahoma smashed Iowa State, 34-7.

These are the other developments of the last October week end.

1. Pennsylvania, ninth ranked nationally, was tumbled from the unbeaten ranks by Pittsburgh, which scored a last minute safety to prevail, 22-21.

2. Perfect records were maintained by 11 other major teams—Notre Dame, Army, Oklahoma, California, Cornell, Baylor, Boston U., Virginia, Fordham, Wyoming and College of the Pacific.

3. Bowl hopes rocketed for California, Baylor, Pitt and Boston University.

4. Bowl hopes were shattered for North Carolina, Minnesota and UCLA.

5. Fordham, once an eastern giant, came back to the big leagues with a 42-0 triumph over Georgetown.

The Rams get a real test next Saturday when they line up against the Army steamroller.

California's Golden Bears just about clinched the Pacific Coast championship and the Rose Bowl bid by humbling UCLA, 35-21. The nation's fourth-ranked team now has won 17 regular season games in a row and has only Washington State, Oregon and Stanford to play.

But the possible Pasadena foe from the Big Ten became a greater puzzle as off-whipped Purdue rose up to smite seventh-ranked Minnesota, 13-7, and Michigan, No. 6, tripped Illinois, the conference leader, 13-0.

That put Ohio State and Iowa in the middle of the Rose Bowl picture. Ohio State vanquished Northwestern, 4-7, and Iowa won an inter-sectional fray from Oregon, 24-21.

Iowa takes on Minnesota Saturday in the game that can buoy or bash its bowl chances. Ohio State is at Pittsburgh, a returning power in the national football scene.

Baylor, a dark horse that just keeps on winning, became a stout bidder for the Cotton Bowl spot by overwhelming Texas Christian, 49-14, for its sixth straight victory. The Bears, however, must yet dispose of Southern Methodist and Rice. Rice, No. 5 in the ratings won over Texas Tech, 28-0.

Tennessee's once-beaten and once-tied Vols another old-time gridiron great making a postwar comeback, throttled North Carolina's great Charlie (Choo Choo) Justice and handed the Tar Heels their second straight setback, 35-6.

Cornell's eighth-ranked Big Red won its sixth in a row, rolling over Columbia, 24-0. Harry Agganis fired four touchdown passes as Boston U. lashed Scranton, 46-6. Wyoming sailed past Brigham Young, 45-0.

College of the Pacific, the other unbeaten-untied major eleven, subdued San Jose State, 45-7. Friday and now has a staggering total of 322 points for seven games.

Tourney Delayed Due To Weather
The tournament of the "also-rans"—entries who didn't place in the recent Women's Country Club golf meet—had to be set back by Pro Shirley Robbin Sunday. The show was re-scheduled for next Sunday, Robbin announced.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

In one, short season, Coaches Carl Coleman and Bert Brewer have ridden the Big Spring high school football team of a defeatist complex that had plagued the club for several years.

The Longhorns may not win many more games this year, but any failures they might experience can't be laid to a lack of confidence. Coleman and Brewer have instilled in their charges a belief that they can win, a very necessary something with any successful football club.

Steer fortunes have been down for the past several years but, give Coleman and Brewer time, and they can be counted on to produce. They've done a commendable job to date and have just started on their rebuilding program.

Capable assistants like Conn Isaacs, Wayne Bonner, Earl Crawford and Roy Baird are doing tremendous jobs down in the ranks, developing the younger boys who will be Steer regulars in the very near future. The program blooming there can't but help to pay off.

They tell this story on E. D. Walker, father of the famous SMU's grid star and a brother to Mrs. Louise Brown of Our Town.

The SMU halfback's picture has been on the covers of about 50 magazines, and the words devoted to his abilities would have taken millions to buy.

"It's wonderful what you're doing for Doak," one of Walker's neighbors assured him recently. "But didn't buying all that publicity for your son cost you an awful lot of money?"

MURPHY QUITE IMPRESSED WITH INDIANS
Pat Murphy, the one-time football coach who is now business manager of the schools here, is supposed to have scouted McMurry in the Indians' game with Texas A&I for Coach Red Pearce and the Sul Ross Lobos recently.

Brad Rowland, McMurry's great back, enjoyed one of his many great nights against A&I, so much so that he caused Patrick's eyes to pop. And Brad, let it be added, had plenty of help from a great little ball club.

Upon making his report to Pearce, Murphy is reported to have stated: "Suggest you concentrate on job of trying to beat A&I and other clubs on your schedule. McMurry is liable to be very, very difficult to handle."

CARL ERWIN, TEXAN, ON OREGON SQUAD
Ollie Matson, the Negro boy from Texas who is making good in a football way for the University of San Francisco, may vie for the headlines on the Coast next year with another Texas colored lad.

That would be Carl Erwin, now with Oregon university, a member of the Solomon Coles (Corpus Christi) team in 1948. He's a 200-pound back.

Clayton Hopkins, San Angelo Junior college's athletic director who coached at Odessa high school several years ago, is supposed to be quite ill with cancer.

Aggies Host Doak Walker And Company On College Station Turf Saturday

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 31.—All-American Doak Walker of SMU will play his final college football game in this section of the state next Saturday afternoon when Matty Bell brings his Ponies to College Station for a game with the Texas Aggies.

Since SMU does not appear in Waco, Houston or Austin this season, hundreds of fans from these cities and surrounding areas are expected to jam into Kyle Field to see the two-times all-American backfielder in action.

Between 35,000 and 40,000 fans are expected for the Mustang-Aggie game. More than 30,000 tickets were sold six weeks ago.

Last year, 53,000 Cotton Bowl patrons saw the Aggies, four touchdown underdogs at the opening kickoff, give the Ponies some real scares before bowing by a 20-14 tally.

Buryl Baty, Bob Goode, Jim Winkler, Odell Stautzenberger and Andy Hillhouse, who figured strongly in the Aggies' surprisingly good showing, are gone. It's doubtful that the Cadels have replacements for these players, but A&M football teams have formed a habit of turning in top-notch performances against SMU.

The game here will mark the Mustangs' first road tilt of 1949 after five appearances in the Cotton Bowl. Some 8,000 Dallas fans are expected to follow the Ponies here.

The SMU-Aggie series began in 1918 with the Cadels winning, 62-0. Since then, the Aggies have won 16 times, SMU 12 times and three games wound up in stalemates.

Only once since 1925 have the Mustangs outscored A&M on Kyle Field. That was in 1947 when Gil Johnson's super aerial show brought the Ponies a 13-0 decision.

Noted Throat Specialists report on 30-Day Test of Camel Smokers...

NOT ONE SINGLE CASE OF THROAT IRRITATION due to smoking CAMELS!

Yes, these were the findings of noted throat specialists after a total of 2,470 weekly examinations of the throats of hundreds of men and women who smoked Camels—and only Camels—for 30 consecutive days!

Visit Mr. and Mrs. Cole of Fresh Meadows, N. Y. (left), who made the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test under the observation of a noted throat specialist!

DICK COLE is a manufacturer and his own boss. As he interviews a salesman, he pauses to light a Camel. "I didn't know how much fun smoking could be," he confides, "until I changed to Camels!"

LILLIAN COLE'S hobby is interior decorating and her home shows it. She reports: "I don't know who's enjoying this more—my husband or me! Every Camel tastes so good and smokes so mild!"

31 Fined Total Of $557 Today In Corporation Court

Fines totalling $557 were assessed 31 offenders this morning in Corporation court. Three persons forfeited bonds amounting to $27 on failure to appear.

Intoxication was the chief offense as 20 pleas of guilty were entered to the charge. Largest fine for drunkenness was one for $45. Others were for $18 and $20.

Two were assessed $10 each for soliciting funds without a city permit. A $50 levy was made for driving with defective brakes and operating a vehicle without a license.

Charges of drunkenness and affray resulted in fines of $25 and $50.

A $25 fine was made for passing on a viaduct and a $15 fine was levied for driving without license. Two men were found not guilty to charges of affray, while another was fined $10 following a plea of guilty to the charge.

Two $50 bonds were forfeited when a pair charged with gaming failed to appear. Bond of $15 was forfeited when a man failed to appear on charges of intoxication.

Three persons charged with driving while intoxicated were transferred to county authorities, as were one charged with aggravated assault and one charged with driving without a license and with defective brakes.

A fine of another, charged with speeding, was set for Wednesday after he entered a plea of not guilty.

Posse Hunting Jail Escapee

BEEBE, Ark., Oct. 31. — An armed posse today tackled the rugged Ozark foothills in a search for a gunman who may be Jack Tatum, 26, the lone fugitive from a daring jailbreak at Phoenix, Ariz.

The manhunt was launched yesterday after a farmer identified an early morning caller as Tatum, one of five desperadoes who smashed their way out of the jail Oct. 22.

Several Arkansas state troopers, peace officers and armed citizens combed the rugged hill country nearby for hours yesterday. The search was called off last night because of darkness.

Two bloodhounds flown here from the Arkansas Penal Farm at Cummins, Ark., were to join the search today. Beebe is about 32 miles northeast of Little Rock.

Deputy Sheriff Mack Edwards said the farmer, Bennie Huff, gave a stranger breakfast early yesterday. Huff, who described the man as a tough character, later told officers the man was carrying a pistol.

Edwards said Huff identified the man as Tatum from an FBI information circular.

Five inmates crashed out of the Phoenix jail cell in a break for freedom. Two prisoners were shot down in a gun battle with officers; two others surrendered. Only Tatum escaped. He crawled out a window.

Big Spring Woman Injured In Auto Crash Near Abilene

Mrs. S. F. Jones, injured in a head-on automobile collision near Abilene Sunday afternoon, was resting well in an Abilene hospital Monday morning.

Mr. Jones, who sustained a bruised chest, cut lip and facial bruises, was precariously but seriously hurt. Mrs. Jones had a fractured rib, several lacerations about the face and lower body.

The mishap occurred about a mile west of the Abilene municipal airport at 2:35 p. m. Sunday. Highway Patrolmen G. C. Fitzhugh and H. B. Slaughter said that the Jones' machine apparently skidded in loose gravel on the shoulder of the highway and careened back on to the highway to be met by the Martin car. Mrs. Jones was thrown paritally through the windshield.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones were returning from Dallas where they had visited relatives and attended the Texas-SMU grid game. Mr. and Mrs. Martin were returning from Merkel where they had taken a daughter, Mrs. Estel Guthrie, to leave from that point for her home in Buckeyes N. Y.

35,000 TO BE IDLED Steel Strike Forces Chrysler Shutdown

DETROIT, Oct. 31. — The auto industry's first major shutdown resulting from the steel strike is set for Friday, when Chrysler Corp. plans to close three divisions indefinitely.

The move will throw a majority of 35,000 Detroit area Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler plant employees out of work.

Chrysler officials said they hoped to maintain production of Dodge trucks until Nov. 11, and to keep assembly lines moving at the Plymouth plant "as close to Thanksgiving as possible."

The last of the dwindling steel supplies will go into Plymouth cars, the corporation said.

"After all our steel is gone, we won't be able to call our people back on any substantial basis for at least a month after the steel strike is settled," a spokesman added.

A few of the Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler workers will be retained for inventory, parts and engine work.

The Ford Motor Co., also running short of steel, expects to start closing down its big Rouge plant Nov. 11.

"By Nov. 15, when the assembly lines there stop," reported Ford Vice President Ernest R. Breech, "we'll have 115,000 off the payroll."

General Motors Corp., third member of the automobiles industry's "big three," already has closed a few of its plants temporarily for reallocation of steel supplies. Two Chevrolet and one Fisher Body plant in Flint were affected by that move.

GMI is expected to put some of its factories on a four-day week starting today.

Mrs. Hobby Lauds U. S. Newspaper At Publishers' Meet

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 31. — The 47th convention of the Southern Newspaper Publishers Assn. opened today.

A report by Association president, Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby of Houston, and speeches by B. M. McKelway and Col. Henry A. Byrde were among first day activities.

McKelway is managing editor of the Washington, D. C. Star and president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Byrde is director of the office of German and Austrian affairs of the U. S. State Department.

Mrs. Hobby, Houston Post executive and former commander of the Women's Army Corps, last night said America has the biggest five cent bargain in the world.

At a barbecue given by Walter Murray, publisher of the Mineral Wells Index, she said "the mineral isn't paying for what he gets in a newspaper. Look what he gets—a key to local news, to state news, to national and international news, a key to advertising bargains and to latest fashions."

"I don't know where a nickel has such great purchasing power as in a newspaper."

Brad Rowland Ups TD Lead

Brad Rowland gets a chance to boost his scoring total against St. Rose this week and chances are he'll do it.

The Mercury whiz chalked up three touchdowns last week in the Indians' 34-19 victory over Austin College. That gave him 16 for the season for 96 points and may help him keep his place as the nation's top scoring back.

This week Abilene Christian College plays Texas A&I. Austin meets Southwestern, and Howard Payne plays East Texas Baptist.

Last week, Howard Payne lost to Trinity, 21-12. Southwestern bowed to East Texas Baptist, 20-6, and A&I walloped St. Rose, 46-4.

Leading scorers TD EP TP Brad Rowland, McM. 15 0 0 0 Alton Green, ACC. 8 0 48 5 Gene Green, ACC. 8 0 48 5 Floyd Sampson, McM. 7 0 42 2 Weidon Day, McM. 3 22 40 0 John Duke, Austin. 5 0 20 0 Bob Johnson, McM. 5 0 20 0

NEW YORK, Oct. 31. — Some of the biggest schools could use Brad Rowland, halfback for McMurry College at Abilene, Texas, who held a big lead today as top individual scorer of the country's college football teams.

Rowland has rolled up a total of 96 points in seven games, clicking for 16 touchdowns. That gives him a lead of 16 points over Bill Young, who has chalked up 11 TD's and 14 conversions for unbeaten, untied Lilledale (Mich.) in six starts.

A week ago, Rowland led Young by only four points, 78 to 74. The leading scorers by sections included Randall Clay, Texas, 7 7 19 61

Team Work Did It, Says Bear Football Coach

WACO, Oct. 31. — Bob Woodruff says his Baylor team has done much better than he expected before the season started but he's not surprised.

"If you know the kind of boys I have playing on this team you wouldn't wonder that they're undefeated and untied today," Woodruff declared as he looked back over the crushing 40-14 victory Saturday over Texas Christian.

"Mainly, we have great leadership. And then there's the finest group of assistants a coach ever had. We intercepted nine passes Saturday. We did it against the nation's No. 1 passer — Andy Berry. Chuck Stone, my guard who ought to be named lineman of the week, rushed Berry so hard he couldn't get them off right. My halfbacks and linebacks gobbled them up. I don't believe any college team ever intercepted nine passes before playing against such a passer as Berry. And you know, nine pass interceptions is equal to gaining about 497 yards."

Woodruff lauded his quarterback, Adrian Burk, whose passing shot down Texas Christian. "He's one of the finest ball-handlers in the business and a great quarterback."

He praised the leadership of Captain Don Mouser and the fighting qualities of his team. "Take J. D. Ison," Woodruff said. "He got knocked out and when I sent a sub he wouldn't come out. He just waded in. He'd been hurt and he'd been hurt but he'd work him over! But you know, that guy got up and caught another pass."

Woodruff lauded his quarterback, Adrian Burk, whose passing shot down Texas Christian. "He's one of the finest ball-handlers in the business and a great quarterback."

Strain To Join Local Weights; License Staff C. B. Strain, formerly in charge of the Drivers License Bureau for the Department of Public Safety, will be assigned to the Weights and License office here, at least until after Jan. 1, he learned over the weekend.

Four Randolph Flyers Killed

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 31. — Four flyers from Randolph Air Force Base were instantly killed in a spectacular midair collision this morning.

Their charred bodies, burned beyond recognition were taken from the hulls of two 5-6 training planes which crashed to the ground on the J. H. Harper Farm, seven miles southeast of Sayers. The scene is near the Atkins-Elmendorf road and is about 10 miles southeast of Randolph and to the east of Brooks A.F.B.

Names of the four victims were not immediately available.

25,000 Strike-Idle In Houston Seen

HOUSTON, Oct. 31. — There's a chance nearly 25,000 workers will be idle here this week because of strikes.

Three-thousand workers are already on strike, another 6,000 to 7,000 may walkout by Thursday and another 15,000 may refuse to cross picket lines.

Guests Escape As Fire Guts Hotel

MARSHALL, Oct. 31. — Twenty-eight guests escape safely yesterday from a four-story hotel after a fire of 16 points overtook the building.

One elderly guest was overcome by smoke, but a policeman saved him. A blind man was led out of the building by a hotel clerk. Two firemen received minor injuries.

The blaze broke out in the annex of Hotel Marshall. It was confined to the fourth floor and did not damage the adjoining seven-story hotel. Three floors of the annex received smoke and water damage.

Fire Chief Carl Bechtold said the blaze started in a fourth floor room. He said its cause had not been determined.

Leonard H. Smith of Amarillo was overcome by smoke. Policeman R. T. Munden tied a rope around him and lowered him down a fire escape. Smith received treatment at a hospital.

Three Killed As Secret Warplane Crashes, Explodes

YEOVIL, Eng., Oct. 31. — A new secret British navy fighter smashed into a papir of connecting houses today and exploded. The pilot, a child and a woman were killed.

The blast of the plunging plane demolished one house, killing the occupant, Mrs. W. Brown. Police hunted through the debris for Mrs. Brown's sister, believed missing.

Ann Wilkins, 6, was killed as she pedaled her cycle in the street in front of the house.

The pilot was Michael Graves, 25, assistant chief pilot for Westland Aircraft, Ltd., makers of the plane, the Wyvern T73 turbo jet fighter.

The search for Williams began several weeks ago, shortly after Gen. Eisenhower mailed out autographed copies of his book, "Crusade in Europe." The mailing list included Williams and other members of the general's personal staff.

Williams' copy of the book was mailed to Dallas where he enlisted. But Williams had left Dallas and the book was returned.

Gen. Eisenhower, now president of Columbia University, then asked his aide, Maj. Robert L. Schultz, to take up the search. Maj. Schultz wrote the National Assn. of Combat Units in Washington.

Gaming, Drinking Head Roster Of Weekend Offenses

County authorities had a busy time of it over the weekend, breaking up 12 dice games and bringing in two persons charged with drunkenness.

Some 14 men, all of them Latin-Americans, were charged with gaming and were to face trial in justice court today. The drunkenness cases were also supposed to reach justice court today.

Officers of the city and county and state highway patrolmen also picked up three persons charged with driving while under the influence of intoxicants and lodged charges against them in county court.

Democratic Leader Crosses Party Lines As Wedding Plans Are Made

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 31. — Vice President Alben W. Barkley, who has scored many successes in a long political career, has also proved himself lucky in love.

Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, the comely young widow whom he courted diligently for nearly four months, announced last night that the two would be married here Nov. 18.

The announcement was made informally in the presence of a few friends and newspapermen in Mrs. Hadley's apartment as the vice president stood by smiling.

Wedding details were not made public. Friends expected the ceremony would be a simple one and would be performed in one of the local Methodist churches. Both the 71-year-old Kentuckian and his 38-year-old bride-to-be are members of that faith.

The wedding announcement, set for 7 p. m., was delayed nearly 30 minutes while the Veep, as he likes to be called, put through a phone call to President Truman at Washington. The president and Mrs. Barkley reported.

The former senator then turned to those present and said chivalrously: "The vice president yields—shall we say—to the senator from Missouri."

Mrs. Hadley, with eyes sparkling said simply "The vice president and I are going to be married on the 18th of November. The plans will be announced later."

Friends then rushed up to congratulate the couple, while photographers' bulbs flashed.

"I certainly deserve to be congratulated," Barkley commented. "I regard myself as greatly honored by the announcement Mrs. Hadley has just made."

About 40 persons, who had gathered on the lawn outside, were admitted to the apartment to congratulate the couple, who seemed as shy and gay as a couple of youngsters who had just told their folks there was going to be a wedding.

The vice president said he would remain in St. Louis until tomorrow when he will leave for Pennsylvania to keep a speaking engagement.

He and his bride-to-be planned to go shopping for a wedding ring today.

Barkley and Mrs. Hadley met last July 8 while she was visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarke Clifford in Washington. Clifford is a presidential aide. The two were introduced during a cruise down the Potomac.

After that Barkley was a frequent visitor to St. Louis, usually making the trip by air. He parried reporters' questions on the budding romance with evasive but polite answers. And all the while the dark haired Mrs. Hadley smilingly declined comment.

Mrs. Hadley's husband, who died in 1945 at the age of 42, was general counsel for the Wabash Railroad Co. She has two daughters, Jane, 14, and Anne, 17, who is a student at Sophie Newcomb College, New Orleans.

She is a native of Keytesville, Mo. Her maiden name was Jane Rucker. Her mother, Mrs. Estle Rucker, is a professional pianist. Her father, Roy Rucker, an attorney, is now ill in a Kansas City hospital.

Mrs. Hadley attended Washington University in St. Louis and married Hadley in 1931. She is now employed in a secretarial capacity at the Wabash headquarters here.

Barkley is a widower. His wife whom he married in 1903, died in 1947 in Washington. There were three children, David M. Barkley, MacArthur II, wife of a nephew of the general.

Barkley is an attorney and has been in politics since 1905. He served in Congress as representative and senator from Kentucky for 26 years before being elected vice president last fall.

The nation's No. 2 Democratic crossed party lines in his selection of a bride because Mrs. Hadley in—or was—known as a Republican. In 1940 she worked at Wendell Willkie's campaign headquarters here.

Friends say she was rather staunch in her support of the Republican presidential nominee. They relate that she queried her milkman as to his political leaning. He finally admitted he was for Roosevelt.

The next morning, so the story goes, the milkman found a note from Mrs. Hadley in a milk bottle on the back porch. It read: "No Willkie, no milk."

RIBBON RAMBLINGS By Mildred Young

Notice in this issue of the Texas Clubwoman, that 140 clubs in Texas with a total membership of 6,375 have entered the Bull-A-Better-Community Contest sponsored by the General Federation of Women's clubs. Included in the group of contestants is the Spoudazio Forum of Big Spring.

Prizes totalling $60,000 for the best projects carried out during the year will be awarded by the Kroger Company of Cincinnati.

The 149 Texas clubs represent 137 official entries, since in some instances, several clubs are combining their efforts.

If you happen to be attending the Texas Federation of Women's clubs convention to be held in Austin on November 16, 17 and 18, you may be interested in some of the candidates for office.

One of the candidates, Mrs. John O. Douglas of Houston, who is seeking the TFWC second vice presidency, began her club work on the local level as a member of the Houston Woman's Club in 1924. She later became a member of the Sorosis club and the Democratic Woman's club. Her career advanced from city federation work to district federation work to state federation work, and in 1947 she represented Texas in the election round at the General Federation of Women's clubs convention in New York City.

Mrs. Douglas has held responsible offices in every club of which she is a member, as well as in Fourth District and the Texas Federation. She is now an appointive member of the TFWC executive board.

Mrs. Douglas, the wife of a Houston attorney, although busy with her many club and political activities, can still be counted on for service as baby sitter for her five grandchildren, children of her two sons, John O. Douglas, Jr., and H. Mack Douglas.

VISITS and VISITORS

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Conley and Geraldine McGinnis of Conley's Flowers, and Carrie Scholz of Caroline's Flower Shop, attended a Telegraph Delivery Spirit Design School in San Angelo Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hardesty have had as their guests during the past week, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Self of Cleburne. Mrs. Hardesty and Mrs. Self are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hickson of Austin, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Hickson of Big Spring, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Holly of Coahoma. R. E. Hickson is a senior student at the University of Texas.
