Seniors Honored At Recent Banquet

Motley County High School seniors were honored Monday night, May 5, with the annual Senior Banquet sponsored by Fleming Post 337, American Legion and Legion Auxiliary, in the American Legion Building.

Speaker for the occasion was Garland Rattan, Superintendent of Cal Farley's Boys' Ranch School at Old Tascosa near Channing. A native of Matador and graduate of Matador High School, Class of 1950, he was introduced by his father, Post Commander Ward Rattan in what was possibly the briefest introductory speech on record: "Although he claims Matador as his native home, Garland was in fact four weeks old when he reached here. He knows most of you, and some of you know him. I present my son, who will be your speaker."

In 1955-56, Garland Rattan and his wife, Shirley taught in the Matador school system, and as faculty members attended their first American Legion banquet for members of the graduating class. After reminiscing, and congratulating the girls track team on their awards at state, Mr. Rattan spoke to the graduates on their rich heritage from both a local and national standpoint.

"A door closes with graduation," he said, "You awake to find yourself on the other side. However, responsibility doesn't wait until then to suddenly leap out and smother you."

He read from a column by Karen Jo Elliott (now reporter on the Wall Street Journal) in the Matador Tribune when she was employed here, in which she described the joys of one's hometown. "Once a student is out of high school and away at college, his attitude changes, partly because of his environment and partly because of his age," she wrote. "One's home becomes dearer but ironically less his own. Time cannot be reversed and the student wonders continually, where have those years gone?"

He also quoted this from Douglas Meador's Trail Dust: "Life is punctual to the extent that no gate is ever left open by which we can return to the pasture of yesterday."

"Maturity has many definitions," Mr. Rattan pointed out. "How well you do in life will be governed, in the most part, by your own attitude and sense of values."

As guidelines for a well-balanced life he offered Jesus Christ as an example. "Jesus grew in four vital areas: in wisdom, in stature, in spiritual growth (in favor with God), and in social growth (and man). If any of these areas should be neglected, life is thrown out of balance."

In conclusion he offered three rules for success: "Faith in yourself and God; put first things first...develop a positive attitude, and third, remember that someone is watching you. Yesterday is past, tomorrow is not yet here, so today is the most important day of your life. Live it well."

Invocation by Joe Campbell, Post Adjutant was followed by singing of "America" led by Mrs. Charlie Johnson and Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag led by Billy Wason.

County Judge Billy Joe Whitaker gave the Welcome address and charged the seniors with their responsibility, as the generation which will be at the head of the nation's government and the solution of the problems "which our present generation has created...some of you will become statesmen, and one of you may even become president of this country. The future isn't a bright one, but we know you will meet its needs."

Mrs. Johnson, president of the Legion Auxiliary presented Mrs. Edgar Lee with a gift of appreciation for her years of service in preparing and arranging the decorations for the annual banquet. A patriotic motif was featured in red, white and blue streamers down the center of the tables, miniature aircraft models and floral arrangements.

Walter Jones was given

Eighth Grade Science Class Gives Mineral Case To School

By Wade Vandiver

The eighth grade science class would like to thank those people who have helped in our paper and magazine collection this year.

We used this project to help clean up the environment that we live in, and to keep the trees from being cut down.

The papers and magazines were taken to Lubbock for recycling which saves money.

The money received was used for a science project. Our class bought a mineral show case.

The case has been placed in the lobby of the school. If you wish to see our project, just drop by the school.

If anybody wishes to donate minerals for viewing, contact the eighth grade science teacher next fall.

We would like to thank our teacher, Bill Peacock, for all the help he has given us.

Club Has Meeting At Campbell Ranch

Mrs. Harold Campbell was hostess to El Progreso Club at regular meeting May 8, at her ranch home, and presented an interesting program on "Our Roots." The Texas Heritage program was titled, "In Retrospect," and was led by Mrs. Joe Campbell.

Mrs. Franklin Price, president, opened the meeting and conducted a business session. She announced that Mrs. Harold Campbell had been installed as president of Santa Rosa District, at the state convention of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, on April 27, in Amarillo. Mrs. Campbell followed with a report of the convention.

groups of related tribes who migrated to the British Isles - Scotland, Ireland and Britain, who became known as the Celts. "Although their cultures were similar, they never became one nation or Empire," Mrs. Campbell related.

"The basic ideas of these people were brought to this country and incorporated in our Constitution which was set up on a belief in God, by our Founding Fathers. We share the basic cultures of the Celtic races and we all have the same basic culture that began in Egypt. This is our heritage--the heritage of the Anglo-Saxon race. Be proud of it. They originated the Constitution of the United States."

The leader read the yearbook quotation, "There is a great longing in people for a sense of continuity, and it is one of the reasons they respond to anything with traditional overtones," by William Snaith.

In her introduction, Mrs. Harold Campbell read a quotation by Alex Hailey, author of "Roots," and went beyond the confines of Texas in tracing the lineage of the Anglo-Saxon culture to Abraham, father of the Israelite nation. Scientific, as well as Biblical proof of this information was discovered by Mrs. Campbell several years ago when she began a genealogical study of her paternal (Keltz) family. She found that in the 8th century B.C. there were

Mrs. Richard Fuller

Moore - Fuller Exchange Vows

Miss Cynthia Moore and Mr. Richard Fuller were married at 10:00 A.M. Saturday, May 3, 1980, in the chapel of the Floydada First Baptist Church. Rev. Hollis C. Payne officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Tom Moore and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fuller. Both families reside in Floydada.

Miss Penny Bertrand, organist, presented a prelude of traditional wedding music.

Guests were seated by Bill Moore, brother of the bride, of Canyon, and Ray Fuller, brother of the groom.

On each side of the alter were large brass candelabras decorated with yellow and white daisies.

Angie and Amy Fuller, nieces of the groom, of Lubbock, lighted the candles before the ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white lustre-glo polyknit by Mi Deb. The moulded bodice featured a Queen-Anne neckline trimmed with Venise lace and scattered with seed pearls. The Venise lace formed a cap sleeve. The A-line skirt had a panel of crystal pleats down the center front. Silk venise lace formed a border encircling the entire hemline and chapel length train. She wore a wide brimmed hat with satin ribbon and white daisies. Her bouquet was of yellow and white daisies. She carried out the traditional something old, new, borrowed, and blue. She wore a ring belonging to her paternal grandmother, Mrs. W. T. Moore. Her wedding dress was new, and she wore the traditional blue garter.

Mrs. Dean Watson, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a yellow floor length gown of polyknit. The sleeveless dress had a flowing chiffon cape. Mrs. Watson carried a bouquet of daisies.

The bride presented her mother with a long stem yellow rose as she approached the altar, and she later presented the groom's mother with an identical rose as she was leaving the chapel.

Deanna and Amanda Watson, nieces of the bride, wore flower girls. They wore identical yellow floor length dresses. They carried white baskets of silk daisies.

Gary Fuller, brother of the groom, served as best man. Chad Quisenberry, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer. The white ring pillow was topped with rings tied with a yellow ribbon and accented with white daisies.

Following the ceremony, the bride's parents hosted a reception in the Wall Street Annex of the First Baptist Church. The bride's table was laid with an ecru lace floor length tablecloth. Centered on the table was a silver candelabra with yellow tapers entwined with yellow and white daisies. The three-tiered white wedding cake was decorated with miniature baskets of daisies.

Serving the cake was Judy Payne. Mrs. Elaine Ruland presided at the silver punch bowl. The groom's table was laid with a matching lace tablecloth. An arrangement with single yellow taper was centered on the table. Miss Connie Self and Miss Julie Self, cousins of the groom, presided at the silver coffee service. An assortment of finger sandwiches and chocolate mints were also served. Mrs. Doris Ray and Miss Laura Campbell were members of the houseparty.

Mike and Shawn Moore, nephews of the bride, of Dumas, passed out the rice bags.

Mrs. Cathy Kubacak, of Lubbock, registered the guests. The registration table held an arrangement of yellow and white daisies, the bride's book, and a white plume pen. Special guests were grandmothers of the bride, Mrs. Etta Moore, of Matador, and Mrs. Vida Bumpus of Childress.

For a wedding trip to Galveston, the bride wore a yellow linen dress with a corsage of yellow and white daisies.

The couple will live in Floydada where the bride is employed by Lon Davis Grain, and the groom is associated with Fuller Trucking Co.

A rehearsal dinner on Friday night at King's Restaurant was hosted by the groom's parents, Wayne and Betty Fuller.

First Assembly of God

First Assembly of God

Rev. & Mrs. T. L. Lillard

WELCOME TO OUR VISITORS:

It is a pleasure to invite you to First Assembly of God. We hope that through our services you will be uplifted and find help for your spiritual needs. If you do not have a church home, we invite you to be with us regularly.

There is a story told of a young man who joined himself to a farmer as a hired hand. One day the foreman of the farm went to town in a wagon, and the farmer suggested the young man go along. This, of course, delighted the boy. Said the farmer, "My foreman is quite adept with the bull-whip. Ask him to demonstrate for you on the way to town."

As they rode along the boy told the foreman about the information he had received about the bull-whip. "Oh, I don't know," replied the foreman, "I can do some things with the whip." "Can you cut the flower off the top of that weed beside the road?" challenged the boy. A flick of the whip, and the flower was severed from the weed. "That was great! Can you kill that fly on the horse's ear?" the man did a delicate seish of the whip and caught the fly without touching the horse's ear. See a hornet's nest hanging from a tree, the boy asked, "Do you suppose you could split that hornet's nest in half?" "I suppose I could," the foreman said, "but I ain't gonna!" "Why not?" insisted the boy. The foreman answered, "Cause that's an organization with a purpose -- that's why!"

The purpose of all our organizations in the church is to compliment the home as it seeks to serve the total purposes of God. All we ask in return is total dedication of the home to God's program.

OUR PRAYER

God make the door of this church wide enough to receive all who need love, friendship, and Fatherly care, and narrow enough to shut out envy, pride, and hate. Make the threshold smooth that children and straying feet may not stumble, but rugged enough to turn back the tempters power. God make the doorway of this church the gateway of the eternal kingdom to many precious souls.

ROARING SPRINGS Mayor Brown Hinson and Texas Green Thumb Job Training Specialist Susan Armstrong watch as C. R. Melton signs an agreement to work for the city as water and sewage supervisor.

Older Americans Returning To Work

More and more older Americans are placing "out to work" signs on their rockers and are coming out of retirement and sharing experience accumulated after years of working.

C. R. Melton of Roaring Springs is an example of a senior citizen going back to work and showing a youth-worshipping America that is really can't afford to waste the vast skills, wisdom and experience of its senior citizens.

The City of Roaring Springs has hired Melton as water and sewage supervisor. According to Mayor Brown Hinson, funding for the position is aided by a federally-funded employment program which promotes the skills of older workers to all employers in both private and public sectors.

Texas Green Thumb Inc., sponsored by Farmers Union, offers an incentive program to all equal opportunity employers when they hire a low-income rural senior citizen. After a specified training time which allows the older worker time to learn the new job, Green Thumb reimburses the employer 50 percent of the worker's wages.

"Green Thumb staff handle all the paperwork for the training program," the mayor pointed out. "It's a great program for any employer to take advantage of. Melton started working for us in April and after several months, Roaring Springs will be paid back for one-half of his wages."

"What is most important is that we get a worker who we can count on. Melton is a good example of what many employers are learning about older workers," the mayor said. "The Department of Labor points out that workers over age 45 quit their jobs less than half as often as younger workers. They have a higher performance rate, a more positive attitude toward work, greater job stability and better attendance record."

Hinson also points out that the on-the-job training program is an advancement phase of the Green Thumb program. Many older citizens are currently taking advantage of the older worker program in which Green Thumb hires them directly and places them in community jobs on part-time basis.

In Motley County three men work on Green Thumb crews handling projects such as repairs and painting of the courthouse, jail and hospital. They are Hubert Hall, Lee Harris and Jim McCleskey, all of Roaring Springs.

Ruby Holcomb and Ora Stonecipher of Roaring Springs work in telephone reassurance. Each day they call home-bound senior or disabled residents to see how they are doing and to determine any special needs. Rose Witcher is paid by Green Thumb to drive a van. She takes senior citizens to doctors' appointments, pharmacies, the senior center and other important errands. In Matador, Bernice Daffern assists in telephone reassurance to her community.

The on-the-job training program is available to Green Thumb workers and other older Americans who qualify according to income and age. Anyone over age 45 wanting to know more about Green Thumb should write: Texas Green Thumb, 1701 Metro Tower, 1220 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79411 or call 1-747-8342.

Employers are encouraged to contact Green Thumb when they have a job opening and want to hire a dependable and experienced older worker.

Green Thumb is an equal opportunity-affirmative action employer.

In the Rough

It Happens Every Thursday

As usual -- so far this season -- Thursday morning was really cold... and wet, (from a pre-dawn shower). However, there are some hardy ones who play regardless of the weather -- Laverna, Leona, Loys, Louise, Geneva, Dorothy, Kathryn and Tommy being the group last week.

Play was Liars Day -- playing the ball as it lay. A few had penalties -- improving the ball's position -- before players realized "no fair!" The weeds and wetness, no doubt, proved to be hazards enough. Louise won the ball (43).

Hazel joined Dorothy, Laverna, Leona, Loys, Geneva and Louise at Billie Dean's and got report on the morning. Handicaps were figured.

Loys and Joe were in Dallas over the week end, visiting Kay and Clarence W., and gallerying some of the Byron Nelson Classic.

The Drop-Outs -- Howard, Jake E., and John -- also Alfred and Gerald have worked on the greens, spreading new sand and re-working all of them. A special thanks to all who have helped on this project, for both their time and equipment... some of the ladies, including Louise, Laverna, Mickey, Dorothy, Geneva and hazel worked on the weeds around the greens.

THANKS TO ALL.

Mrs. Grady Webb Returns Home From Recent Trip

Mrs. Grady Webb recently returned to her home, after accompanying her sisters, Mrs. Louis Sinclair, and Mrs. John Kirksey of Lubbock; Mrs. Quannah Maxey of Post; and her cousin, Mrs. Dalton Hill of El Paso on an extended trip through the Southern States in quest of their "roots". They did genealogical research in county court houses, libraries, and cemeteries, and also at the State Department of Archives and History in Jackson, Miss.; and the State Department of Archives and Records in Atlanta, Georgia.

In touring the City of Vicksburg, Miss., they were surprised to find the historic and ancestral "Duff Green House", (also the name of their father), built in 1840 and used as a Confederate hospital during the Civil War.

These ladies searched for the grave-site of their maternal great-great grandmother Trimmer in Louisville, Miss., and their great-great grandfather Trimmer in Walhalla, So. Carolina. At the Walhalla Library, they were able to secure a book titled "Horseshoe Robinson" (first published in 1835, and still in publication). This story depicted the life of their grandfather Trimmer and his family, and the early history of So.

Carolina politics when he was a State Senator.

In Culpeper, Va., their father's cousin accompanied them to the paternal ancestral homes of the Green, Lewis, and Yancey families. Robert Green the first of their lineage in America from England built "Liberty Hall" in 1710; and it was owned and occupied by the Green families until 1876. There are five generations of Greens buried in the family cemetery at "Liberty Hall". Just across the Hazel River from "Liberty Hall" is their grandmother Green's ancestral home "Mount-ain View," built by the Lewis family in 1839. Near-by is "Arlington" the home of their great-great grandmother Elizabeth Yancey. The Yancey family occupied this home from 1710 until 1939. Seven generations of the Yanceys lie buried in the adjacent private cemetery.

One of the high-lights of their trip was a visit to the "Little Fork Episcopal Church" of St. Mark's Parish (the only colonial church in Culpeper County), where the Green, Lewis, and Yancey families worshipped. It was built in 1776, and was restored and re-dedicated in 1979. On the restored pulpit, which was built from the floor to the ceiling, an engraved plaque reads, "Pulpit given in memory of Robert Green 1675-1748. Member of first Vestry." By His Descendants.

Before returning to their respective homes, these ladies met Mrs. Sinclair's daughter and their niece Mrs. Dan Guy of New York City; for a week end of sight seeing in Washington, D.C. They also visited Mount Vernon, and Arlington National Cemetery, where two of their second generation grandparents were buried.

Matador Lions Club Views Film On Soil Stewardship

Matador Lions Club members Tuesday were reminded of National Soil Stewardship Week which started Sunday, May 11. A film on this subject was shown by Rodney Williams of the local Soil Conservation Service.

The film stressed the ownership of God and stewardship of man, of the land and its resources. Featured was a farm in Markham, Va., which had been owned by one family for several generations. Narrator was the present owner of the farm, who summed up the theme by saying, "God has given us the resources and ability to preserve the soil. It is our responsibility to do so."

Lion Alan Bingham presided in the absence of Boss Lion James Gillespie and presented credentials and pins to three new members, Lions Bill Durham, Donnie Jackson and Gerald Pipkin. Lion Bingham reported that the directors had voted to sponsor a local Boy Scout in attending National Scout-a-rama in Virginia in July of 1981. The Matador Lions Club has sponsored the Matador Boy Scout Troop since 1929, when the troop was organized.

Lion Bingham also announced that the directors voted to continue the eye bank project, designated at the White Cane Bank by District 2T-2.

Erosion Controlling Structures Are Used In Motley County

Farmers in Motley County are now installing many different types of erosion controlling structures. Waterways, Diversions, and Farm Ponds have been installed this year with the majority of the Conservation work being the construction of Parallel Terraces. Parallel Terraces are constructed across the slope but are positioned in the field so as to reduce the number of point rows within the field. As with the old standard terrace, many farmers were dissatisfied with the time and energy used to farm them versus the soil loss saved by the standard terrace. Parallel terraces also have advantages over the standard terrace. More heavy equipment work is done between each terrace, or interval as it is called, therefore reducing or flattening the slope of the land. This enables the rainfall received to be spread more evenly throughout the field. This flattening of the terrace interval also helps eliminate the barrow area on each side of the terrace that was a problem with the standard terraces. Farmers in Motley County installing parallel terraces this year include: Coy Franks, Robert Melcher, Leon Cloyd, and Billy Paul Simpson. Approximately 350,000 feet of parallel terraces are scheduled to be installed in 1981. Assistance in the installation of parallel terraces is provided by the Soil Conservation Service, located in the Motley County Courthouse, to all persons without regard to race, creed, color, or national origin.

What Are Farmers Made Of?

By Jim Anderson

A farmer is a man who wears out two pairs of overalls growing enough cotton for one.
A farmer can shape an ax handle from a persimmon sprout - and shoe a horse with a hunk of car tire.
A farmer starts every year with nothing, loses everything he grows and at the end of the year comes out even.
Nobody knows how he does it.
He doesn't even know himself.

What are farmers made of?
Farmers are made of bent nails, rusty horse shoes, barbed wire and held together with callouses.
Planting time and harvest season, he finishes his forty hour week by Tuesday noon.
Then painin' from "tractor back" puts in another seventy-two.
He can make harness out of hay wire, feed sacks and shoe scraps.
He grows corn and melons mostly to make fat crows.
He loads his planter with fifteen hundred dollars worth of seed, fertilizer, herbicide and insecticide.
That's one hour's worth.
In a normal farm afternoon, one to ten p.m., he'll bury $13,500 in the ground in a half a day.
Odds are it'll get too wet or too dry - or there'll be hail, wind, early frost, early snow, bugs, brickbats and bureau-crats.

And if he gets a good crop, he won't meet expenses.
Yet the only lines on a farmer's face are from grinnin'.
You look at his unattended chores, unpainted buildings, unsharpened tools and untidy barnlot and you say,
"The smartest man in the world would starve trying to do all that!"
And you're right.
The smartest man would starve.
But not the farmer.

His wife won't let him.
She has a basic menu; she serves what she has.
In good years that may be six vegetables at one meal.
In lean years she jumps from poke salad to blackeyed peas.

The farmer orders a seventeen inch John Deere disc - $4300.
By the time it's delivered it's $6500.
He's got a forty thousand dollar machine needing repair. It's 5:30 p.m. and the company-owned stores are closed.
And he's got five hours of daylight he can't let go to waste.
So he borrows a machine from a neighbor, is movin' it down the highway, When he's run into a ditch by some joker pullin' a boat.

Yet he remains the world's most stubborn optimist.
He believes that the fact he's come this far proves he can go the rest of the way.
He buries last year's disappointments with springtime plowin' because his faith is not in himself alone.
He'll finish a hard week's worth with a five mile drive to church.

And so he plants in hope, cultivates in faith and ends in debt - then starts over with greater hope and stronger faith.
Heaven help the family that depends on a farmer for support.
Heaven help the nation that doesn't have him to support.

Soil Stewardship Week May 11-18, 1980 "The Judgement of Nature"

The Upper Pease Soil and Water Conservation District will join in the nationwide celebration of Soil Stewardship Week to take place on May 11-18, according to an announcement by W. H. Marshall.

The theme of this year's celebration is "The Judgement of Nature." It's focus is especially appropriate as the United States considers the current condition of its soil, water and related resources, said Marshall.

"Through nature, we are linked with the past and committed to the future," it is said in the 16-page "Judgement of Nature" reference book let, which presents thoughts for consideration not only during Soil Stewardship Week, but throughout the year. Nature is defined in the publication as the continuing system of life created by God.

"Nature is neither fixed or static; it is a continuing process and inherently dynamic...it rewards care and constructive attention, even as it penalizes negligence and deliberate damage," the booklet states.

"The loss of some 3 million acres of productive agricultural land each year through urbanization and other uses, the decline in productivity of the topsoil as the result of destructive erosion, and continuing pollution of the nation's waters is serious cause for everyone's concern," the sponsors believe. Participation in Soil Stewardship Week activities offers an opportunity to reflect on the nation's natural resource problems and consider actions to resolve them or reduce their impact.

The National Association of Conservation Districts has sponsored Soil Stewardship Week in the United States since 1955, in cooperation with the Nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts. Informative material in the Soil Stewardship Week theme each year is distributed through local conservation districts to clergymen, lay leaders, civic and educational organizations and to individuals interested in participating in the celebration. More than 6.6 million pieces of literature were distributed last year.

Information and materials for the 1980 celebration of Soil Stewardship Week can be obtained in this area from W. H. Marshall of Roaring Springs.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM

by
WILLIAM P. CLEMENTS, JR.
Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

AUSTIN, TEXAS
The earth, with all its resources, is a gift from God which has been entrusted to our use and care.

Every Texan is dependent upon the soil and water resources, wherever he dwells or whatever his vocation may be.

It is the concern and responsibility of Texans that soil and water resources be conserved and managed properly to assure the welfare of all citizens of this State.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts provide a practical and democratic organization through which landowners are taking the initiative to conserve and make proper use of these resources.

Soil and Water Conservation Districts are sponsoring Soil Stewardship Week as a commitment to protecting our renewable natural resources.

THEREFORE, I as Governor of Texas, in full appreciation of the value of the soil and water resources to the public welfare, and desiring to honor those committed to protecting it, do hereby designate the week of May 11 -- 18 1980 as

SOIL STEWARDSHIP WEEK

In Texas
In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 25th day of March, 1980.

Grass. Stirrup-high and far as the eye could see. That's the way it was. That's the way it can be.

When the first ranchers pioneered Texas and Oklahoma they were greeted by grassland. Ranging for miles and waving a welcome to the strong-spirited ranchers and their grazing herds.

When the land was all taken, it was not all taken care of. It was fenced and overgrazed. It was parched by the dry years, and invaded by deep-rooted and "drouthy" brush. Brush destined to invade nearly every ranch, and to cut in half the grazing potential of over 88 million acres.

But there's a new pioneer spirit among ranchers today. They want their land back from the brush...and back to its natural beauty and bounty.

And there's a new product that makes it practical. It's Graslan™ from Elanco. Graslan is a new approach to brush control. It's as revolutionary and unique as were three other Elanco products - Tylan® and Rumensin® for your cattle and Treflan® herbicide for soybeans and cotton.

To find out more about brush control with Graslan, talk to your local SCS, Extension Agent or Range Management Specialist.

Or call the toll free Elanco hotline: 1-800-428-4441. It could be the most important call you'll make for years to come.

Soil Stewardship Week Is May 11-18

Focusing attention on the care of our natural resources -- that's the purpose of Soil Stewardship Week sponsored annually by the National Association of Conservation Districts in cooperation with the nation's nearly 3,000 soil and water conservation districts.

This year's observance will be May 11-18 and the theme will be "The Judgment of Nature," points out Dr. B. L. Harris, land and water use specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"We must consider the role of nature as we consider the current condition of our soil, water and related resources," points out Harris. "Through nature, we are linked with the past and committed to the future."

"Today, the continued productivity of our soil remains our nation's most precious natural resource," contends Harris. "We depend on it for the food we eat as well as to provide food for export abroad."

"Our nation has abundant natural resources that have been entrusted to our care," emphasizes Harris. "What we do with them is up to us and our God-given talents. Nature will be the one to make the final judgment."

A WORD OF APPRECIATION
To all the people, who voted for me in the last election. I want to express my thanks for your support.
To you, who did not wish to support me. I hope I will be able to gain your confidence in the next four years.
It is still my determination to try to make Motley County a better place to live.

I believe the following quote from Theodore Roosevelt expresses the thoughts of everyone who has put forth the effort to help our community in so many ways.

QUOTE
The Man in the Arena
The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred with sweat and dust and blood, who strives valiantly, who errs and comes short again and again, who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions and spends himself in a worthy cause, who, if he fails, at least fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who know neither victory nor defeat.

Social Security Tips

By Virginia DeWitt
S.S. Representative

QUESTION: I heard that the Government plans to raise the retirement age. Is this true?
ANSWER: There are no present plans to raise the retirement age. However, the fact that workers are living longer and drawing social security benefits longer has raised the cost of social security higher than anticipated. The 1979 Social Security Advisory Council, a citizen's group appointed periodically to review the program, recommended that the retirement age be raised from 65 to 68, but not before sometime after the turn of the century.
