Longtime Motley County resident to celebrate 100th birthday

HAPPY 100TH!

Mr. John Barton, now a resident of the Kent County Nursing Center in Jayton, will celebrate his 100th birthday, Saturday, October 30, with a party at the Center. Mr. Barton was a longtime resident of Motley County.

Longtime Motley County resident, John Bryson Barton will celebrate his 100th Birthday Saturday, October 30, with a party hosted by his children and grandchildren at the Jayton Nursing Center.

John Bryson Barton was born October 30, 1899 15 miles north of Matador, to Al and Molly Barton. The youngest of Mr. Barton's 10 children, his mother died of pneumonia when he was only two years old.

John's father had four children with his first wife, Molly Moorland, who died in childbirth. The children born to this union were Wilburn, Sam, Clayt, and a little daughter. He remarried to Molly Sams of Floyd County and to this union were born Alfred, Charlie, Burl, Milda, Molly and John.

At the young age of two, little John was taken to Bertram, Texas to live with his older sister, Milda, who wanted to help take care of the chil-

Mr. Barton married Addie Bishop in 1904. To this union were born Leora, Dick, Katheryn and Wilson. As a small boy, John would ride the train to Childress where his stepmother, whom he referred to as Aunt Addie, would pick him up so he could visit with the family. Milda would pin a note on his clothing, stating his name, his destination, and who was to meet him. Passengers on the train would help keep up with him.

John attended school in Bertram and graduated 8th grade in 1912. He returned to Matador and attended high school, 1915-1918. He worked for his father who bought John his first car, in 1916.

In 1917, John traveled to Detroit, Michigan to work on Aircraft engines at the factory. He was put to work making parts for airplanes. Although the work did not suit him, it gave him a lifelong interest in flying.

After returning to Motley County, John purchased a Buick car, which he later traded for a Model T Ford. and later traded for a Henderson Motorcycle in Childress. He recalled a trip with a friend from Childress to Matador on his motorcycle which took all day. He enjoyed his motorcycle and recalled this incident, "While in Matador riding around on the cycle one day, my friend drove around for awhile and ran over my foot, breaking my foot and ankle." While recovering, he sold the motorcycle to a man named Cal White.

John married his sweetheart, Josie Martin, November 19, 1918 in Matador. The couple had three children, Louvaine, born in 1920, Blake, born in 1922, and Betty Jo, born in

The young couple settled on a section of land northeast of White Star in 1923 and ran over 50 head of cattle. In 1930 they moved 1/2 mile north of White Star.

In 1924, Mr. Barton's love for airplanes and flying got the best of him and he purchased a World War Standard Jenny Aircraft. It was the first plane in Motley County. He took flying lessons, but had problems with the plane, so never completed the lessons and finally did away with the

Mr. Barton, remembers enjoying fishing with friends, "I liked to fish, going to Buchannan Lake. At times fish would bite good and I had good luck. Sometimes I would bring back a load, 25-35 pounders. My fishing partners were Bron Martin, Curt Martin, Bob Martin, and B.F. Kirk."

Mr. Barton served on the White Star School Board for several years. Others on the Board at that time were Mr. Burleson, Amonett Vinson, Mr. Puckett, Mr. Fisher, and Mr.

Mr. Barton farmed in the Barton Community and White Star until his retirement in 1985. In 1997 he became a resident of Lockney Nursing Center and later that year moved to the Kent County Nursing Home in Jayton, where he still resides. Mr. Barton enjoys visiting with friends and is an avid fan of Football and Baseball, and tries to catch every game on T.V.

John Barton as a young man in 1913. Mr. Barton was only 14 when this picture was taken.

Mr. Barton has seen many changes over his century long life, and is looking forward to the changes he will see in the new millennium.

100th Birthday Celebration Saturday, Oct. 30 2:30 p.m. Kent County Nursing Home Jayton

We never have many trick or treaters at our house, sometimes none, but I think the kids are cute in their Halloween costumes.

I'm not too big on the celebration of Halloween, although I know the a "celebration" of darkness.

I am reprinting the following from an October 30, 1986 issue of the Motley County Tribune. It appeared in a "Son Beams" column by June Keltz. Mrs. Keltz wrote, "Most of us are ignorant of the actual origin and significance of this abominable celebration, but once we are informed, we are then responsible as Christians not to participate. There are several thousand practicing witches in our own nation who congregate in Salem, Mass. every October 31 to sacrifice human beings and cast spells on those whom they wish to destroy This is not a fairy tale, this is

It's time for the spooks to be out. clares - "When you enter the land which the Lord your God gives you you shall not learn to imitate the detestable things of those nations. There shall not be found among you anyone who makes his son or his kids enjoy the festivities, it's actually daughter pass through the fire; one who uses divination, one who practices witchcraft, or one who interprets omens, or a sorcerer, or one who casts a spell, or a medium, or a spiritualist, or one who calls up the dead. For whosoever does these things is detestable to the Lord; and > because of these detestable things the Lord your God will drive them out: before you. You shall be blameless before the Lord your God."

We are told by those in our courts that our children cannot pray in school and in many places nativity scenes are prohibited for public display, yet decorations of witches, skeletons, bats and black cats seem to be

"Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal.

I Corinthians 13:1

"God Told Me...???"

The other day, a man drove a vehicle crashing into a building in Chicago. He said he had orders to do it -- from God! He said that God had told him to do it.

I'm not surprised that someone made such a claim. Many people listen to different voices telling them to do things. People try and convince me that God wants them to get a divorce, even though there were no Scriptural grounds for doing it.

Others are convinced it was God's will for something tragic to befall them. There are those who think God told them something or has given them a specific sign about other matters, or that angels had communicated with them.

People are quick to "know" that it is God's voice, or a messenger from God, but willing enough to see that there are false and lying voices who claim to speak for god.

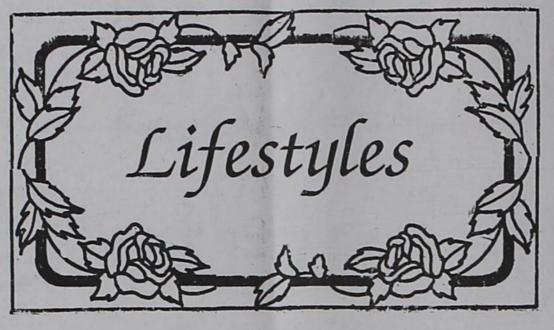

John said we are to "test the spirits to see whether they are from God, because many false prophets have gone out into the world" (I John 4-1). He goes on to warn that anything and anyone who does not point you to Jesus Christ in a way consistent with what Scriptures reveal is not to be believed or listened to. Their source is Satan.

I don't think you or I will drive into any buildings because we thought God said to, but make sure it's God guiding your other areas of behavior.

Other new books in the Library include Stephen King's Hearts in Atlantis, a fiction work that is composed of five interconnected, sequential stories set in the years from 1960 to 1999. Each story is deeply rooted in the sixties, and each is haunted by the Vietnam War.

We have had several calls for books about hockey now that the Cotton Kings are playing to such large, enthusiastic crowds. The Library now offers two up-to-date books about hockey. We have the Sports Illustrated Hockey: Learn to Play the Modern Way and, my personal favorite, Hockey for Dummies. Either of these books will help you understand what's going on whether you watch on television or in person at a live hockey game.

CAREFUL SELECTION CAN MAKE REVIEWS WORK

A growing refrain from cotton producers across the Texas High Plains and across the Cotton Belt has been their concern about the shorter than expected staple on much of the cotton they are taking to the gin.

Part of the reason, at least in the High Plains region can be attributed to the fact that most of the cotton harvested and ginned so far has come from fields that endured less than ideal growing conditions during much of the season.

The second is simply the normal amount of statistical error that usually exists in the USDA cotton classification process. This second factor, looked at logically, is where growers should be able to help themselves.

Through the judicious use of the review process, growers should be able to easily identify individual bales whose staple length measurements, or other HVI derived characteristics for that matter, fall outside the range exhibited by other bales of any given bale lot.

With much of the 1999 crop falling very near key break points for staple length on the USDA Loan Chart growers who carefully review their classing results have a good chance of adding to the value of individual bales, especially when the other bales from that same lot have more favorable values.

"The key thing for growers is not to throw an entire lot of cotton back for review if they all have a 20 or 30 staple assigned to them," notes Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Executive Vice President Steve Verett.

same the odds of getting them all upgraded is remote. The better opstaple readings in a list that is otherwise averaging more like a 33 or better, those few bales are what are called outliers and have a high probability of retesting at a higher average value."

Another option for produces to consider is module averaging to get an average value for the machine derived HVI classing information on each bale ginned from an individual module of cotton. Statistically module averaging has been proven to provide a much more accurate and repeatable HVI reading.

An added benefit of module averaging is that, since each bale is still tested, bales with results outside a set of given parameters are not included in the average and receive their individual class.

Also beneficial is that produces can request a free review from USDA on these outlier bales, saving them

Extension faculty, educators and others were on hand to watch the youths receive their awards.

It doesn't take much for the review to more than pay for itself and more. A bale with 21 color and a 30 more. A bale with 21 color and a 30 more. staple really stands out in a listing that averages 21 color and mostly 33 and 34 staples. If the review on that bale moves the staple up to a 33, all other things staying equal, the producer has increased the loan value on that bale as much as 4.5 cents, more than enough to make the effort worthwhile.

PRESIDENT SIGNS AG APPROPRIATIONS BILL

After a week long delay the FY 2000 Agricultural Appropriations Bill and the accompanying $8.7 billion emergency relief package have re-ceived the President's signature and started the ball rolling for the delivery of much needed emergency assistance to producers.

For cotton the delay has been a little more problematic since it is probably holding up the completion of both export and domestic cotton sales until Step 2 funds are definitely made available. Industry efforts have been focused over the past week on Motorists driving along Texas roads will soon see autumn colors taking hold on the state's landscape and the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) is making it easy to find them.

Again this year, TxDOT is operating its fall foliage hotline, 1-800-452-9292. The hotline will run through "If every single bale is about the mid-November with weekly updates on the state's fall foliage. With regular reports from TxDOT's 25 district tion is to identify the 29, 30, or 31 offices, state parks and tourism associations, information on fall colors from around the state will be avail-

Last week's first blast of cooler air and sunshine are making conditions right for a palette of beautiful autumn-colored leaves, especially in the Panhandle and West Texas. Motorists driving along FM 2266 in Hemphill County will see a variety of trees, such as sumacs, cottonwoods, and Virginia creepers, showing some fall color and the color change in parts of the Guadalupe Mountains National Park is nearing its peak.

Fall colors are also being reported in Lamar County. Motorists can enjoy a picturesque drive as shades of red, gold, purple, and orange are in view along drives to Globe, Forest Chapel and Pat Mayse

As more cold fronts make their way to Texas, other parts of the state will begin reporting more fall colors. Last year, TxDOT's travel counselors reported approximately 500 calls for fall foliage information.

To obtain information on the fall colors, TxDOT's fall foliage hotline will operate seven days a week from 8 - 6 p.m. CST. Spanish-speaking travel counselors are also available.

Note of Thanks

We would like to thank everyone for the cards, flowers, the kind words of encouragement, the food brought to the Youth Camp, and especially your prayers during our time of sorrow. A special thank you to the Assembly of God Youth Camp for the generous use of their facilities. May God bless you at your time of need.

The family of Donald B. Martin

Thank you to everyone for your cards, thoughts and prayers for my brother, Lon Hughes, while he was in the hospital and since his death. May God bless you.

Jean and J.B. Cooper

We wish to thank everyone for all their support, cards, flowers and all the wonderful food that was sent. We also wish to thank the EMS crew that helped with Mom during her transportation to the Hospital. It was such an unexpected event in our lives and to have all our friends to be there and give their support helped in our time of need.

> God Bless you all! The Womack and Leslie families

I wish to thank each and every one that showed concern when I was ill. It really makes one feel loved, and that goes a long, long way. I really appreciate Edna Ruth and Luther for closing my house and calling my daughter. Tony, that was the second time around for us. Thank you and your helpers so much.
