Lions Discuss Fate Of Motley Co. Clinic

By Lila Meador

The fate of Motley County Clinic, a growing concern of Matador and adjoining communities, last week was discussed by Matador Lions Club, in bi-monthly meeting at the First United Methodist Church.

The issue at stake is the closing of the health facility due to lack of funds, caused by a grant rejection on the part of South Plains Health Systems Agency, which controls federal money administered through South Plains Provider Organization of Plainview, through which Motley County Clinic is supported. Eight other county clinics also will be affected if an appeal does not reverse the Agency's decision.

The matter was presented in detail by Lion Larry Hoyle, a member of the Motley County Clinic Advisory Board, after Lion Ronnie Vandiver, president, stated briefly action taken at the directors' meeting Monday, and called on Lion Hoyle for an evaluation.

Lion Hoyle explained that basically, "Our clinic does not come under the same category as the other clinics involved, as the $2.4 million grant is for migrant worker health care."

"Motley County Clinic is operated on a pay basis and we accept Medicare, Blue Cross and other related insurance coverages." He pointed out that patronage of the clinic is gradually growing, although the revenue is not yet sufficient to make it a self-paying facility.

"It is not a drain on our tax payers, and if given enough time and a little more help financially, it could become self supporting."

The clinic is staffed with two competent members of the medical profession. Roy Tippin, R.N. Family Nurse Practitioner is on duty from Monday through Friday, and Dr. Victor C. Chavez M.D., of Lubbock is at the clinic each Tuesday and Thursday. Dr. Chavez is head of the emergency room at Lubbock General Hospital. In addition, the county is served by a corps of volunteer Emergency Medical Technicians, on call at all times to administer emergency treatment.

"We have recently installed an X-ray machine for laboratory use and are now in a position to treat certain cases instead of having to send a patient somewhere to a hospital," Hoyle said. "Our clinic can provide the basic health care needs here, if we can keep it going."

Asked what can be done in the matter, Lion Hoyle suggested letters to the South Plains Health Systems Agency, Lubbock, as the advisory board will meet May 21, and again May 26. (The address, as published in a recent issue of the Tribune is 1217 Ave. K. Attention Ron Warner.) He said further that Mrs. Earlyne Jameson, Motley County representative on the board, has been making calls and writing letters in behalf of the clinic.

Lion John M. Russell, when called on to comment, observed that if appeals through SPHS failed the only alternative he knew of was to apply for aid in South Plains Community Action Agency. (However, Motley County was not included in that bracket of counties when the health systems committee approved an $851,974 project for that agency to serve about 8,100 low-income persons in Hockley, Cochran, Lynn, Garza, Yoakum and Terry counties, at the same time it vetoed the grant for SP Health Provider Organization.)

Questions concerning the issue may be referred to members of the advisory board for Motley County Clinic. They are Joe M. Thacker and H. C. Smith of Roaring Springs, and Larry Hoyle, Ronnie Cox and Ronnie Christian, Matador.

The Lions Club voted unanimously to send a letter in behalf of the clinic, to this board to be passed on to the South Plains Health Systems Agency.

Appreciation for the enjoyable steak lunch prepared and served by Lion Walter Jones, was led by Lion Vandiver, and Lion Bob Stanley introduced guests at the meeting. These were Miss Virginia DeWitt from the social security office in Plainview; Ray Perryman, Matador and two members of Matador Boy Scout Troop 360, which the club sponsors, Wade Vandiver, Senior Patrol Leader and Cody Hardin, Patrol Leader, who had tickets to sell for the Scouts' pancake supper Tuesday night.

Lion Vandiver announced that the two Scouts are to attend National Jamboree in July, at Fort A. P. Hill, Va., located 40 miles from Washington, D.C. They will leave July 21 and return August 8. The 2-week trip will include visits to many historical places in that area, and enroute to the Jamboree and return.

Lion Vandiver, who is also local Scoutmaster, has been selected with John Madden of Denver City as the two leaders in the South Plains Boy Scout Council to accompany the 80 boys and assistant leaders from the Council's area. He announced that the Matador troop won first place for the fourth time in district contests and scouting skills at Scout Camporee held recently near Spur.

Meeting Set To Discuss Clinic

There will be a public meeting Monday, May 18 to discuss the Motley County Clinic's future.

After recent reports that the South Plains Health Systems Agency voted to reject funding of the clinic for the coming year.

Meetings have been set in Lubbock for May 21 and May 26 at 7:30 p.m. in the George M. Brewer Assembly Room at Methodist Hospital.

The local meeting will be held in the Motley County Courthouse at 8 p.m. next Monday evening. All residents interested in keeping the clinic open are urged to attend.

If you want to urge the Systems Agency to reconsider the request for funds, write South Plains Health Systems Agency, 1217 Ave. K, Lubbock, or call Ron Warner at 806-747-0181.

A BOAT FOR THE COURTHOUSE -- In an apparent "all in fun" prank, someone decided to take Clay Jameson's boat for a joy ride onto the Matador square grass Wednesday night of last week. The boat was not damaged, but the grass was "dug up" in places. Sheriff Alton Marshall confiscated the boat and a pickup until the next morning.

GUEST DAY

Twenty five players teed off Thursday in our Guest Day tournament: Bunny Gotcher and Johnnie Lowrance of Amarillo; Jo Ann Harrison, Billie Bass, Johnnie Carlisle, Jean Hoover and Minnie Stewart of Spur; Tommy Anderson and Neva Abell of Ralls; Hazel Sherrod and Jean McPhail of Lubbock; Janet Hassell of Childress; Bodie Fudge and Marsanette Kyle of Jayton; and locals, Tommy, Laverna, Louise, Leona, Geneva, Lois, La Voe, Nell, Frances, Dorothy and Hazel.

Coffee and doughnuts were enjoyed upon arrival. After registering, players received bags of goodies. Marvin was most handy in assisting with bags, carts, etc.

LUNCHEON

We met at the Depot for lunch where some of the guests had enjoyed bridge and visiting before the golfers came in. These included Cora Mitchell of Amarillo, Gladys Gardner of Houston, Lillian, Mamie, Opal, Winifred, Lila, Bertha, Pam, Nita, Olivia and Lucretia.

Pam, La Voe, Lillian, Mamie and Nell were responsible for the decorations featuring daisies and butterflies in colors of green, yellow and white. Scattered along the tables were colored jeweled butterflies for favors, made by Nell. The Roaring Springs group had also cleaned the Depot and had it fresh and shining for the occasion.

Pam had a most attractive greeting of colorful print daisies "Have A Happy Day" used on the registration table.

Tommy, as president, presided with welcome and recognition of guests, thanks for use of the Depot, and appreciation of various committees - especially Lucretia and Olivia for managing the kitchen and serving the food - all so attractive, eye-appealing and most delicious.

WINNERS

Leona, as tournament chairman, declared the winners and was assisted by Geneva in presenting the prizes:

Second flight, Jean Hoover and Minnie Stewart tied (97) and Jean won on card play, Hazel Sherrod had 99.

First flight, Lois was winner (88); 2nd place, Neva Abell (91); Nell (93).

Championship flight: 1st Jean Hassell (77); 2nd, Louise, (81); Janel McPhail and La Voe tied (84) and Janel won on card play. Long drive was won by Johnnie Carlisle (who put the ball out of sight, it was reported).

Closest to pin on No. 3 was Neva, driving 2 feet.

Leona expressed thanks to Laverna for her able assistance in the tournament "in bailing us out" and not even on the committee. And also appreciation to Shelley Cox, who flighted the players and did all the book work (her forte), working real hard.

Frances, assisted by Olivia, presented door prizes. Due to the gracious donations by the merchants, each person received a gift.

Marvin received an extra prize for all his interest and willingness to always be helpful and assist us with our tournament.

THANKS TO MERCHANTS

The Women's Golf Association would like to thank the following businesses for donating items to be given as door prizes: Ronnie's, Billy's, Melinda's, Matador Variety, The Windmill, West Texas Utilities, Stanley Pharmacy, The Dugout, Higginbotham-Bartlett, Cheryl's Candles, Plainview Savings and Loan, Matador Nursery, Thacker Supply, Jo-Barb-Dee and Joann's Country Coiffure.

"It is so nice to have business people we can call on each year to help us. We appreciate their help and support for our club. This is just one more reason it's so nice to live in this community and shop "at home," says Frances and Mickey, Door Prize committee.

ADDENDA - Francine joined the group for late lunch and a visit.

The luncheon tables were most colorful - like a touch of spring. The various pots and baskets of flowers scattered about and centering the tables, together with yellow and green runners on the white covers and the butterfly favors, presented a festive atmosphere.

Thanks to Lucretia for getting the miniature doughnuts by fast delivery from Abilene's Jack and Jill!

Interesting skirt of La Voe's sister, Johnnie, had the letters HEAD DOWN reading down the front as a constant reminder of good golf playing.

We were thankful the low, heavy, dark clouds didn't produce rain during play, but waited until later for rain and hail.

A satin ribbon belt, that terminated in a back bow with streamers, complimented the crescent waistline. Each tier of the skirt was edged in matching lace. Her floor-length veil of bridal illusion fell from a picture hat accented with an organza bow.

Tucked into the bride's bouquet of white silk daisies and blue carnations was the lace handkerchief that the groom's maternal grandmother carried in her wedding.

CONTINUING WITH tradition, the bride wore pennies minted in the year of their birth in her shoes wedding cake. Crystal appointments, the bridal bouquet, and white tapers completed the decor.

Don't let the leftovers scene plague you. Handled with a little imagination and treated with respect, they will serve you well. Cheesy Chicken 'n Rice is a one-skillet supper that provides a complete balanced entree for two and makes the most of leftover chicken and mixed vegetables. The inclusion of cheese in the preparation of packaged enriched pre-cooked rice adds a texture and flavor contrast and lends substance to this colorful, tasty dish.

CHEESY CHICKEN 'N RICE

- 3/4 cup water
- 1 teaspoon butter or margarine
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 slices (3/4 oz. or 1 oz. each) process American cheese
- 3/4 cup Minute rice
- 1 cup cooked mixed vegetables
- 1 cup diced cooked chicken

Bring water, butter and salt to a boil in saucepan. Add cheese and stir until melted. Add rice, vegetables and chicken. Cover, remove from heat and let stand 10 minutes. Stir before serving. Makes 3 cups or 2 servings.

New Life

By Bob Cozby
Pastor Of The Assembly
Of God Church

Last week we ran a poem called "Mother". It described a godly mother who raised her children to know God and even after she was gone her children praised her for the knowledge of God that she had given them. Yet on the other end of the scale, there are Mothers who never share God with their children.

Maybe it's just my line of work, but I meet more people who claim to be Christians and yet never take their children to Church and Sunday School. How sad! It's like possessing a treasure and not sharing it with the ones we love most. I read a poem once that I think pretty much says it all. It's called "Mary had a little boy."

Mary had a little boy, his soul was white as snow. He never went to Sunday School cause Mary wouldn't go. He never heard the story of Christ that thrills a child's mind.

While other children went to Church this child was left behind.

And as he grew from boy to youth, she saw to her dismay, A soul that once was white had turned a dingy gray. Realizing he was lost, she tried to win him back, But now the soul that once was white had turned an ugly black.

She even started back to Church and Sunday School too. She begged the preacher "Isn't there a thing that we can do?"

The preacher tried and failed and said "We are too far behind."

I tried to tell you years ago, but you would pay no mind! And so another soul is lost that once was white as snow. Sunday School and Church would have helped, But Mary wouldn't go.

Proverbs 22:6 says, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from the way."

It amazes me that so many parents pay enormous prices for the best clothes, the finest piano teachers, and the nicest bicycles and cars. They sit up late helping with homework and study every child psychology book to give their children a great upbringing. And yet they leave the most important part of their lives to chance. If you think your child can receive enough knowledge of the Lord in one Vacation Bible School and a couple of Easter services, you are sadly mistaken! The only thing you can give your child that will help him all through his life is training in the things of God. Then he will always know where to turn when things get hard - and his life will have quality, substance, and meaning.

No matter what denomination you are, may I encourage you to attend Church and Sunday School regularly, and if you have no church affiliation you are always welcome at the Matador Assembly of God Church. We have wonderful Sunday School teachers and good basic teaching for you and your family.

If you love your kids, take them to church - someday they will thank you for it!

WTU To Build Plant Near Vernon

An application has been filed with the Texas Public Utility Commission for a certificate of convenience and necessity for a coal-fired generating plant to be built in North Texas by West Texas Utilities Company and two other operating companies in the Central and South West Corporation.

The certificate is required before actual construction can start on the plant, which will be built on a 1,937-acre tract which WTU purchased from the fabled Waggoner Ranch eight miles southeast of Vernon and three miles southwest of Oklahoma. The application is for Oklahoma Power Station Unit No. 1, which will have a net capacity of 640 megawatts. Ultimately, three units with a total capacity of 1,920 megawatts are planned.

Cooling water will come from Lake Diversion, 20 miles south of the site. WTU purchased water rights in 1977 from Wichita County Water Improvement District No. 2 and the City of Wichita Falls. Boiler fuel will be low sulphur western coal, probably from Wyoming mines.

Oklahoma will be the first power plant to be jointly owned by CSW operating companies. WTU, the managing partner, will own 350 megawatts, Central Power and Light Company of Corpus Christi 115 megawatts, and Public Service Company of Oklahoma 175 megawatts. The other CSW operating company, Southwestern Electric Power Company of Shreveport, will not participate. PSO's participation hinges on a favorable ruling by the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission regarding an agreement between the CSW System and members of the intrastate Texas Interconnected System to install direct current interconnections across state lines.

The application states that the plant is needed to satisfy load growth of the companies and to reduce dependence on natural gas as a boiler fuel. Unit One is scheduled for commercial operation by December, 1986. Total cost is estimated at $675,104,000.

BRIGHTEN UP YOUR HOLIDAYS WITH TEX-MEX DESSERTS

The rest of the country is discovering what we have always known—that Southwestern cooking is special. Since Tex-Mex cooking styles are so popular, why not give your out-of-town holiday guests, and your family a treat—like Tex-Mex desserts—with a new twist?

Sound difficult? Not at all! The recipes have been redesigned by Smucker's with simplicity in mind to help ease the tension of your holiday cooking. Try these desserts and find a new side of Tex-Mex cuisine.

PINEAPPLE EMPANADAS

(Makes 16 turnovers or 8 servings)
1 cup Smucker's Pineapple Preserves
1/3 cup finely chopped sliced almonds
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
2 cups unsifted all-purpose flour
1-1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup vegetable shortening
About 6 tablespoons ice water

In small bowl, combine Pineapple Preserves, almonds and extract for the filling. In large bowl, combine flour, baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening with pastry blender until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Sprinkle with water; mix with fork until dough clings together. Add a little more water if dough is dry. Gather dough into a ball and knead just until smooth, about 10 times. Roll dough on lightly floured surface to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut into 4-inch circles with floured cookie cutter. Place about 1 tablespoon pineapple filling in center of each circle, leaving an edge all around. Moisten edge with water. Fold in half and press edges to seal. Press edge with tip of a floured fork. Roll off trimmings; continue to cut and fill. Place turnovers on lightly greased baking sheet. With fork, prick top of each turnover. Bake in preheated 400° F. oven about 15 minutes or until golden.

GOOD IDEA: For variety, try apricot or peach preserves, instead of pineapple.

SOPAPAILLAS

(Makes 24 fritters or 8 servings)
1 envelope (1/4 ounce) dry yeast
1/3 cup warm water
3/4 cup milk
3 tablespoons vegetable shortening
3 cups all-purpose flour, stirred before measuring
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup Smucker's Apple Jelly
3 tablespoons water
1/2 teaspoon ground cinnamon
Oil for deep frying

In large bowl, sprinkle yeast over warm water. Stir until yeast dissolves. In a small saucepan, heat milk until just warm. Stir warm milk and shortening into yeast. Add 2-1/2 cups of the flour, baking powder and salt; stir until well mixed. Add more flour until a stiff dough forms. Gather dough and knead about 2 minutes on lightly floured surface until dough is smooth, adding more flour if necessary. Cover dough on surface with inverted bowl; let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, in small saucepan, combine Apple Jelly, 3 tablespoons water and cinnamon; heat to boiling, stirring until jelly is smooth. Cover warm over low heat. Into a 3-quart or larger saucepan, pour oil to fill pan a third full. Heat over medium heat to 425° F. Roll dough with floured rolling pin to a 10 x 12-inch rectangle, about 1/4 inch thick. From the 10-inch edge, cut lengthwise into four 2-1/2-inch strips. Then, cut strips crosswise to form six 2-inch pieces. Drop the pieces, about 5 at a time, top side down, into the hot oil. (Dough puffs better when top side is dropped first.) Fry until golden mixture being careful not to brown, about 3 minutes, turning frequently with slotted spoon. Drain on paper towels. Return oil to 400-425° F. before frying more. Continue to fry all pieces. Drizzle sopapillas with apple jelly mixture and serve warm.

GOOD IDEA: Break sopapillas in half, fill insides with your favorite flavors of Smucker's jam or preserves. Omit apple jelly sauce.

ORANGE COCONUT FLAN

(Makes 8 servings)
1 cup Smucker's Sweet Orange Marmalade
8 eggs
2 cans (13 ounces each) evaporated milk (do not dilute or use sweetened condensed milk)
1 cup flaked or shredded coconut
2 teaspoons vanilla extract
1/8 teaspoon salt
2 medium oranges

Place a 13 x 9-inch baking pan filled with 1 inch of hot water in a 325° F. oven. Lightly oil the side of an 8 x 8-inch round metal mold (about 6 cups). Spread the bottom of the mold with about half of the Orange Marmalade. In a large bowl, combine remaining marmalade with eggs. Stir in milk, coconut, vanilla and salt. Place filled cups in a 14 x 10-inch roasting pan. Fill pan with 1 inch of boiling water. Bake cups in water bath 45 minutes or until knife inserted 1/2 inch from edge comes out clean. Cool on rack; refrigerate; unmold and serve with orange halves.

FOR INDIVIDUAL FLANS: Pre-heat oven to 325° F. Lightly oil eight 6-ounce custard cups. Put a tablespoon of Orange Marmalade in the bottom of each cup. In a large bowl, combine remaining marmalade with eggs. Stir in milk, coconut, vanilla and salt. Place filled cups in a 14 x 10-inch roasting pan. Fill pan with 1 inch of boiling water. Bake cups in water bath 45 minutes or until knife inserted 1/2 inch from edge comes out clean. Cool on rack; refrigerate; unmold and serve with orange halves.

Protect Leaves For Top Vegetables

Plant leaves provide a source of food used in the development of fruit. Thus it's important to protect foliage from diseases.

Although plant foliage is subject to attack from bacteria and fungi, losses from fungal organisms are by far the most common in this area. Fungicides to control diseases caused by fungi include captan, folpet, zineb, sulfur, copper, maneb and other maneb combinations.

Two new fungicides being used in the area are benomyl and chlorothalonil. Since these are more specific in their actions, they will often out-perform older standard fungicides when used properly.

Bactericides are used to control bacterial diseases. Those most effective contain some form of copper or an antibiotic (streptomycin sulfate).

Following is a list of commonly used pesticides for disease control and what they are effective against. This list does not include the host plant, so you need to read the label closely before purchasing the product to make sure it can be used on the particular vegetable that has a problem in your garden.

Social Security News

By Virginia DeWitt

Some of the results of America's advancing science, technology, and economics are longer life, greater freedom from infirmity and illness, a higher level of living, and more time free from the tasks of making a living or maintaining a home.

As a consequence, there is greater opportunity for more people to retire early and have a longer life after retirement from work careers. Older persons and retirees now represent 12 percent of the population and this proportion is expected to rise for several more years.

The average retiree lives on about one-half his prior income. Many live with relatives. They no longer have the routine of the work week to organize their life. There is a new way of life. It is important to recognize these changes in life style and to prepare for them.

Planning for retirement is just as important as planning a career. In fact, one is planning a retirement career of sorts. A person should plan his retirement several years in advance so that the transition will be smooth with no unpleasant "surprises" down the road.

There are many sources to be used in planning a retirement career. One of these may be found at your employers. Most companies have counselors to assist employees; many even have pre-retirement packets that are quite helpful. Most of these stress pensions, health care and social security.

In planning retirement, a worker can feel secure in one aspect of retirement; the timely payment of his social security retirement check. Unlike private pensions, social security is both tax-free and inflation-proof.

In fact, due to the cost of living increase in the last year, a 11.2% increase in social security checks will be in the July 3 check for most beneficiaries.

Self-employed workers and others who are eligible for individual retirement accounts usually will have an accountant or banker assist them in planning retirement. These workers need to project their financial needs for retirement into the future. They will also need to review their plans timely as inflation and the cost of living rises.

Another source of assistance for planning retirement is your life insurance agent. Many workers have several sources of retirement income. This is the objective all workers should strive to attain. Social security is a base for retirement; it does not replace a worker's earnings nor was it ever intended to do so.

Normally, it replaces from 30% to 55% of pre-retirement income. Of course, the basic source of information for retirees is the local social security office. We have many pamphlets in addition to the usual counseling and other information we furnish. Our services are also free of charge.

Remember, it is never too soon to plan your retirement. You also have many sources of information and assistance. The more sources you have, the more enjoyment your career in retirement will be.

If you have social security or medicare questions you may call our toll-free number for more information. The number is 1-800-392-1603. Teleservice will save you time, energy and money!

Dear Mr. Watson, I would like to respond

The new look to our home is finally completed. We are ready for National Nursing Home Week, May 10th through May 17th, and our Open House, May 17th from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. We invite everyone to come and join in on all the activities this week.

We are really becoming experts at making our craft dogs, during our bus trip Monday we went to Plainview to shop for more yarn. We have dogs in every color imaginable. If you haven't ever seen a pink, orange, or yellow dog come see ours. They are selling for $3.00. Those enjoying the trip were Sally Carpenter, Myrtle Burke, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Myrtle Payne, and Alma McDonald.

Our lucky bingo winners this week were Bill Holt and we had a special treat after bingo Friday, the Prayer and Share Sisters from Rock Creek gave a lovely Mother's Day Party. We enjoyed homemade ice cream, angel food cake and punch. We thank these lovely ladies for their thoughtfulness and time.

Our birthday honorees this month are Mamie Wofford, Pablo Salquero, Edna Thomas, Alpha Mitchells, and Kay Mitchell. We thank the ladies of the Main Street Church of Christ for giving another lovely birthday party. Special is the only way to describe these lovely ladies.

Thursday, Richard Lanham, Sally Carpenter, Myrtle Burke, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Eune Bradshaw, Bertie Bradley, Myrtle Payne, Alma McDonald, Laverne Christian, administrator, Shirley Stansell, Director of Nurses, and myself attended the Senior Fun Carnival at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. Richard Lanham, Donnie Hester, and Mary Jo Fielding participated in such events as Nail Pounding, Basketball Toss, Washer Toss, Hula Hoop contest, reel casting, and wheel chair races. Richard Lanham won third place in the wheel chair races, the only drawback was he was beaten by a little girl, he sure got a lot of teasing. We all had a great time.

Myrtle Payne said her favorite part of the day was lunch, she was in hog heaven when she saw they were serving fried chicken. Myrtle Burkes was named outstanding Senior Citizen from the Lockney Care Center. She will receive a certificate from a SPAG representative. We are all very proud of her. We send our thanks to Brother Jenkins and Neva Smith for lending us the bus and providing the driver. Mrs. Smith is a great driver.

We have Ruby Vaughn, Mattie Poole, and Sally Carpenter in the hospital, we send our hopes for a quick recovery to these folks, we miss them and want them to come home soon.

We welcome Mr. Jeffee Griffith, sister of Ben McGee, to our family. We look forward to her joining in all the activities.

It was sure strange coming to work and seeing all the goofy people! It was crazy day here and we all looked the part. We sure got some funny looks from passerbyers when we went to the hospital to visit.

other bleeding hearts and proponents of gun control.

The general trend seems to be to outlaw "Saturday Night" specials. I fail to see the honor or glory of being shot with the higher priced gun. Really there may be an advantage to being shot at with the so called "Saturday Night" special, it may be more prone to snapping than the better gun and it is definitely less accurate.

Now, I don't think we should condone the attempts on our presidents life nor that of any private citizen. Gun control in NOT the answer, we need PEOPLE control. A very harsh penalty on anyone using a firearm of any kind to commit a felony.

I'm sure if all cases where handguns were used for self protection were made known, they would greatly outweigh the assassination attempts. These cases are seldom published.

I don't think you should legislate inanimate objects, just the people who use them.

I would like to offer a few cases where guns have helped save people instead of destroying them, the first of which is a personal experience near Bayfield, Colo. I was pushed off the road by three Indians while driving east of Bayfield. All were drinking and being rather rambunctious. When they tried to jerk my car door open, I pointed my "Saturday Night" special at one of their heads and it got their attention at once. They turned and ran to their car and sped away.

I am enclosing a few published accounts of defensive use of guns and can furnish many more if desired.

I do hope that Mr. Shields comes out of the bright lights and does some research in places where guns are wanted and needed.

The polls we see are picked from city populations; they are easier to get and say the things they want to hear.

I hope people will get behind the "Anti Gun Control" act. A good start is the "N.R.A."

Sincerely, R. L. Brandon

The Armed Citizen

More presence of a firearm, without a shot being fired, prevents crime in many instances, as shown by news reports sent to The Armed Citizen. Shooting usually can be justified only where crime constitutes an immediate, imminent threat to life or limb or, in some circumstances, property. The accounts below are from clippings sent in by NRA Members. Anyone is free to quote or reproduce them.

Deputy prosecutor Mary Ann Willin and retired judge Avrum K. Rifman were crossing a Baltimore, Md., parking lot shortly after dark when three men converged upon them. As one man pulled a gun, Willin drew her revolver from her purse and exchanged fire with the gunman. Apparently uninjured, the trio beat a hasty retreat. Willin and Rifman were also uninjured. (The Journal, Winston-Salem, N.C. 12/1)

When Tod McCray failed to answer a knock at the back door of his Beaumont, Tex., home around midnight, four youths opened the unlocked door and walked inside. Hearing the commotion, McCray armed himself with a shotgun, captured three of the young prowlers, and held them at bay until police arrived. Police found the fourth intruder hiding under a bed. (The Enterprise, Beaumont, Tex. 1/17)

When Douglas Elliott noticed a man pacing back and forth in front of his Sacramento, Calif., pharmacy, he picked up a pistol hidden under the counter. The suspicious man entered the store, grabbed a female clerk, and stuck a gun in her side. Seconds later, the clerk broke free, and before the gunman could react, Elliott shot and killed him. (The Bee, Sacramento, Calif. 2/1)

Two men armed with pistols walked into a New York, N.Y., jewelry store and announced a hold-up. When one robber shot a young clerk in the stomach, store owner Charles Sulli drew his revolver and in an exchange of gunfire killed the man. The other gunman fled, crashing his way through a glass door. The clerk was rushed to a hospital for emergency surgery. (The Daily News, New York, N.Y. 2/14)

A man walked into a Bronx, N.Y., bank, pulled a gun on a teller, and demanded money. When retired policeman Louis Testa, the only customer in the bank, drew his own revolver, the robber fired. Testa returned fire, seriously wounding the gunman. As Testa crouched over the wounded man, an accomplice outside the bank fired a shot which hit Testa in the leg. The gunman then escaped. (The Daily News, New York, N.Y. 5/14)

When 16-year-old Christian Tomlinson heard someone inside his Bensalem, Pa., home, he found a shotgun and began loading it. The noise of the gun being loaded apparently convinced the intruder to escape while he was still able. Police later found a suspect hiding in a nearby vacant lot. (The Bucks Co. Courier Times, Levittown, Pa. 5/9)

Phillip Ferguson and his wife were awakened by noises in the bedroom of their Jacksonville, N.C., apartment. When Ferguson's wife switched on the light, the couple saw a man armed with a machete standing in the room. Ferguson grabbed a rifle he kept near the bed and ordered the intruder to halt. When the man continued toward the bed, Ferguson issued another warning and then fired, killing his assailant. (The News & Observer, Raleigh, N.C. 5/25)

When two men, one armed and wearing a mask, entered a Cocoa Beach, Fla., coin shop, owner Jim Williams reached for a revolver hidden in a desk drawer and came up firing. The gunman was hit in the shoulder. Both robbers fled but were later apprehended by police. (Today, Cocoa Beach, Fla. 5/9)

Two armed robbers entered a Miami, Fla., fast-food restaurant and announced a hold-up. As U.S. Customs agent Harold Sawyer, a custo-

A man forced his way into a Chillum, Md., apartment, and raped the female occupant at knifepoint. After the assault, the woman grabbed a pair of scissors from a nightstand, but the rapist wrenched them from her. She then pulled a handgun from the drawer and opened fire, wounding her attacker, who crashed through a glass door and fell three stories to his death. (The Post, Washington, D.C. 12/10)

Lowell J. Hutchins, a paraplegic, was alone in his parents' Patrick County, Va., grocery when a man wearing a ski mask and carrying a hunting knife entered through the back door and shoved him from his wheelchair. When Hutchins pulled a pistol from his pocket, the robber slashed at him with the knife, cutting his arm. Hutchins then shot and wounded his assailant, who fled in a pickup truck. (The Times & World News, Roanoke, Va. 2/21)

Two men wearing masks and carrying pistols entered a Warr Acres, Okla., auto supply store, threatened a customer and employee, and started searching for cash. (The Avalanche-Journal, Lubbock, Tex. 2/15)

Awakened by his dog's barking, Roger Siclare peered through the bedroom window in his Davie, Fla., home and saw a man taking items from the garage. Siclare grabbed a revolver and surprised the thief. A man wearing a stocking mask entered a Kenner, La., drug store, pulled a pistol, and fired twice at pharmacist Robert Liljeberg, narrowly missing him. Liljeberg produced his own .357 Mag. revolver and fired, wounding the would-be robber, who staggered out of the store and drove away. Moments later police found the wounded man collapsed near his car, which had crashed into a tree. (The Times-Picayune, New Orleans, La. 5/15)

When a man knocked at the door of a Perry, Fla., home and asked to use the bathroom, the female occupant refused to let him in. The man then forced his way inside and attempted rape at knifepoint. In the ensuing struggle, the attacker dropped the knife, and the woman ran into a bedroom, found a revolver, and secured the door. When her assailant broke into the bedroom, she shot him in the chest; the would-be rapist ran to his car and died. (The Democrat, Tallahassee, Fla. 5/3)

Jose San Miguel was behind the counter of his San Francisco, Calif.,

Soon after Harland Smith opened his Quinton, N.J., gun shop, two men, one carrying a shotgun, walked inside and approached the counter. When the 75-year-old Smith asked if he could help them, the gunman shot him. Wounded in the arm and chest, Smith drew his .38 cal. pistol and fired, killing the gunman and wounding the accomplice, who fled but later surrendered to police. Smith also found a female accomplice waiting outside and held her at gunpoint until police arrived. (Today's Sunbeam, Salem, N.J. 3/3)

As Randy Nelson walked down a Mesa, Ariz., street toward his truck, he saw a stranger sitting inside. When Nelson approached, the stranger brandished a gun and ordered him to get in. The gunman directed Nelson to a remote desert road, where he instructed him to get out and then threatened to kill him. When the gunman stepped out of the truck, Nelson grabbed a revolver from behind the driver's seat, fired twice, and sped to safety. Police failed to locate the kidnapper, who was apparently uninjured. (The Tribune, Mesa, Ariz. 5/9)
