Farmers Favor Gas Regulation

A continuing effort to obtain state legislation to have the Texas Railroad Commission regulate gas that is sold for irrigation purposes received consensus agreement at a meeting of farmers in Dimmitt this week.

Wade Mills, president of Plains Irrigation Gas Users Association, said about 150 members of the organization met Tuesday night to explore steps to lower gas costs and improve gas quality.

The organization has raised concerns that natural gas sold for fueling irrigation pumps is overpriced and does not have a high enough BTU level to burn efficiently.

U.S. Rep. Kent Hance and state Sen. Bill Sarpalius attended the meeting of farmers to offer legislative remedies to the problem.

As a more short-term solution, a straw vote of the farmers showed unanimous support for a bill introduced in the regular session of the Legislature by Sarpalius, said association spokesman Carl King. The bill would have the Texas Railroad Commission regulate gas -- something now outside state regulation.

The consensus reached was to continue pushing the bill at future sessions of the Legislature.

King said that with Railroad Commission review, farmers might see lower prices for irrigation gas and the quality might improve. "At least we would have a neutral party" to decide if gas prices were fair," King said.

Hance offered what King said he considers a long-term solution to the farmers' concern about gas prices.

The congressman discussed possible federal legislation that would allow farmers the same access to natural gas as the gas companies have, King said, and that measure also might lead to lower prices.

Also present at the meeting was Charlie Vaughn, president of Energas. King said Vaughn denied that lower quality gas is being sold to farmers than is sold in cities.

Vaughn also reportedly said the company, which sells much of the natural gas to farmers, is doing all it can to keep down costs.

New Agriculture Program Would Boost Texas Economy

The Texas Legislature has approved an important agricultural program, sponsored by Senator Bill Sarpalius, which is expected to result in a significant boost for the Texas economy.

Lawmakers, during the special session of the legislature, passed a statewide refundable assessment program. The program, if approved by the voters in the way of c constitutional amendment this November will provide for financing of marketing, promotions, research and education programs relating to products such as corn, wheat, grain sorghum, soybeans and other commodities.

According to Senator Sarpalius, "This legislation is important to the general economy of the state. It could improve the entire agriculture situation in Texas."

The program will provide for the promotion of food and fiber in Texas by providing representative associations of agricultural producers with the authority to collect refundable assessments on their product sales. The check-off programs have to be approved by the producers who pay the assessments. They are administered by See ECONOMY Page 6

Senators pay raise hurts U.S.

By ANN BROWN

WHILE taxpayers seethe over the 15 percent pay increase the senators voted themselves, let's not forget 47 of them voted no.

So almost half of our senators did put principle above pay raise. That's probably better than Americans as a whole would rate.

But aren't our leaders supposed to set a good example?

The Reagan Administration has worked hard to reduce our destructive inflation. And while the House tries to lower income for taxpayers by cutting tax breaks, the senators heist their salaries 15 percent.

If every employee got a 15 percent pay increase, inflation would destroy us. Is it fair for our legislators to take from us what we cannot afford for ourselves?

Ten million jobless Americans would probably be delighted to get the $9,138 the senators voted to add to their salaries. And how many working Americans would turn down the $60,662 that failed to satisfy the majority of the senators?

In spite of the misery and degradation of many of our unemployed, they may not be the ones hurting most. What about people who work night and day only to sink deeper into debt?

Thousands of farmers reach their debt limit every year, and are pushed into bankruptcy.

Thousands of public school teachers and military personnel can qualify for food stamps. And thousands of small businesses—and a few big ones—teeter on the brink of financial ruin.

Our senators could aid our economy. Instead of helping the people who pay their salaries, they use their power to feather their own nests. Has it not occurred to that august body what would happen to their comfortable nests if the tree were to fall?

In addition to their salaries, many senators collect more than the average American income from speaking engagements. And the majority of them are invited to speak solely because of their official position—given them by the people who pay for their services.

Is it possible that 49 of our senators are more interested in serving themselves than serving their Country?

And what about the four who did not vote? They could have saved the beleaguered taxpayers almost a million dollars a year. (Remember that the next time you get a letter asking for money to finance their election campaigns.)

Let's hope Americans will learn how their senators voted, and send them a message from the polls. And the same for the House members who raised their salaries earlier.

Unfortunately, neither of our Texas senators have the honor of being among the 47 who had enough vision to put national good above personal greed.

PLAY DAY

Olivia, Louise, Lucretia, Dorothy C., Polly, Pennie, Dorothy D., Winifred, Geneva, Loys, Leona and Hazel played. Loys was winner with 6 bogeys on odd holes.

We helped move all the extra carts out of the barn, and Ray Z. made the comment that it looked like the parking lot on a shopping mall in Chicago ... (kinda all jumbled up).

All enjoyed lunch at the club. Loys and Hazel took advantage of the delightful weather and played another 18 holes after lunch.

IN QUANAH SCRAMBLE

Saturday, Geneva, Leona, Laverna and Louise played in a scramble tournament at Quannah CC. About 34 teams entered.

Louise and Laverna won 3rd in 2nd flight, with 79, and Leona and Geneva had third place in third flight with 89. All received gold chain necklaces with gold beads.

Decorations were of a circus theme, with balloons and circus figures. They enjoyed a delicious lunch -- and had an enjoyable day.

Social Security In Motley County

By Terry J. Clements

Several new benefits included in the Social Security amendments of 1983 respond to long-standing criticisms regarding gaps in the protection the program provides women.

The provisions include expanded benefits for certain survivors of deceased workers and for divorced women. Although they apply equally to both sexes, women are more likely to be affected. The changes include the following:

Provides for the continuation of benefits to surviving divorced spouses and disabled widows and widowers who remarry.

Under present law, benefits are payable to widows, widowers, or surviving divorced spouses on the record of a deceased spouse or former spouse at age 60. Benefits are also payable as early as age 50 to disabled widows and widowers or disabled surviving divorced spouses. Under prior law, remarriage to other than certain other Social Security beneficiaries terminated benefits for widows, widowers, and surviving divorced spouses under age 60. Remarriage of a surviving divorced spouse after age 60 to anyone was a cause for termination of benefits. Under the new law, as of January 1984, benefits for these individuals will not terminate if they remarry.

Independent Entitlement of Divorced Spouses.
The new law permits an eligible divorced spouse age 62 or over who have been divorced for at least 2 years to receive benefits on the earnings of a former spouse who is eligible for retirement benefits, regardless of whether the former spouse has retired or applied for benefits. Under prior law, a divorced spouse could not qualify for benefits based on the earnings of a former spouse until the former spouse applied for benefits. If the former spouse became entitled but continued to work, a divorced spouse could have some of all of his or her benefits withheld due to the former spouse's earnings over the annual earnings limit.

The requirement that the divorce be in effect for 2 years is intended to discourage divorces solely for the purpose of becoming entitled to benefits or avoiding the earnings test. The provision is effective as of January 1, 1985.

Increase Benefits For Disabled Widows and Widowers.

Benefits for disabled widows and widowers will be computed by the same formula applied to benefits for widows and widowers at age 60, producing a benefit equal to 71 1/2 percent instead of 50 percent of the deceased worker's benefits at age 50. There will no longer be a benefit reduction for entitlement to benefits prior to age 60. The provision improves benefits for a group unable to work, 99 percent of whom are women. This provision is effective after December 31, 1983.

Index Deceased Worker's Earnings To Widows and Widower's Eligibility.

If a worker dies before age 62, benefits to his or her spouse will be based on the worker's earnings indexed to reflect wage increases (rather than price increases) after the worker's death. The new computation applies only if a higher benefit results. The provision is effective for survivors first eligible for benefits after December, 1984.

Las Vegas Rites Held For Clayton C. Titus

Clayton Charles Titus, 65, retired Las Vegas business owner and civic leader, died early Tuesday, June 21 at a Las Vegas Hospital, after a long illness. He was the owner of Garehime Music Co., the oldest music business in Las Vegas.

Visitation began at 9 a.m. Thursday in Palm Mortuary Chapel. Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Friday, June 24 at the chapel. His family has suggested that contributions be made to the UNLV Library, in lieu of flowers.

He is survived by his wife, Wilma Garehime Titus; a daughter, Carol McGarvie of St. George, Utah; a son, William L. Titus of Las Vegas; brothers, Duane Titus of Las Vegas, and L. B. Titus Jr. of Tulsa; sisters, Catharine Sheelk of Las Vegas and Joy of Hemet, Calif.; and three grandchildren.

Titus was born August 25, 1917 in Motley County, Texas, and spent his early years in that state. Recognized as an outstanding high school football player, he was brought to Las Vegas in January, 1937 by Coach Harvey Stanford, to become a lineman for the Las Vegas High School Wildcat's football team. He became a star player for the team. After graduation, he was employed by the National Ice Co. for a few years and then on to the Las Vegas Heating and Oil Co. In 1954 he became manager of the family business, Garehime Music Co., which he purchased a few years later. He enlarged and developed the business until his retirement in 1978.

He was active in civic enterprises and was past president of the Retail Merchant's Association of the Greater Las Vegas Chamber of Commerce; past president of the 49ers Lion's Club, district lieutenant governor of the Lion's Club; and past president of the Las Vegas Golf Association.

New Administration Takes Office At Lions Meeting

Newly elected officers assumed duties at last Tuesday's (July 5) meeting of Matador Lions Club, with Boss Lion Gerald Pipkin presiding, and Lions Queen Renee Renfro assisting when called on. Since the Queen is the only person with authority to fine the Tailwister, she gave her permission for him to be assessed a fine of $5.00 for negligence of duty. As chairman of the Flag Committee, he had failed in having the flags over the city taken up before night, on July 4th.

Miss Renfro was presented with a special Lions Queen pin, which she will be required to wear at all meetings, and Ray Minkley, new County Extension Agent was welcomed as a new member, transferring his membership here from the Stinnett Lions Club, of which he was a charter member.

For the program, a film from the Motley County Library, titled "Tornado" was shown by Lion Pipkin. The timely subject included pertinent information describing formation of funnel clouds during a storm, the use of radar as weather detectors, and the important part spotters play in alerting communities. The douseups of tornadic clouds were graphic, and included in the film were tornadoes which had struck in various areas of Texas.

Lions were assigned sections of town to distribute and sell the community calendars, which the club had compiled, and the sales force went into action Tuesday evening.

Lion Pipkin led the club in applause for the enjoyable lunch of barbecued chicken, salad, vegetables, ice cream and cake, served by Lion Walter Jones.

By Ray Minkley MEMOSA WILT

Are you seeing yellowing leaves, dead limbs or already dead mimosa trees around town? If so, or if its your tree you may be wondering whats going on.

It is a disease called Fusarium Wilt or Mimosa Wilt. Other types of the Fusarium wilt attack tomatoes and cotton but this is a different type of the Fusarium fungus that is specific to Mimosa trees.

This is not a new disease. It started on the East Coast and has been moving slowly across the U.S. The fungus can not be controlled and will likely kill the mimosas it is affecting.

There are no control measures to be taken except to replace the dying or dead trees with trees that are adapted to this area and relatively disease resistant.

We have some lists of shade and fruit trees available at the Extension Office that could aid you in selecting landscape trees that will give long and productive lives to the beauty of your landscape. A handsome landscape will add a lot to the beauty and worth of your home and to the community.

"TOMI" OFFERINGS FOR JULY

July offerings of the Telephone Outlook and Market Information program, known as "TOMI" include a wide range of subjects of special interest to farmers and ranchers.

The system is provided by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University system, and subjects help agricultural producers stay updated on commodity markets and other information for use in planning and managing their operations.

July topics include the dairy situation, rice outlook, Texas agricultural export, PIK and farm input industries, cotton update, July cattle on feed report, mid-year cattle numbers, feed grain outlook and the soybean situation.

Information on these subjects is available according to the schedule shown by dialing (409) 845-TOMI.

The telephone system operates seven days a week on a 24-hour basis. Messages are prepared by Extension Service economists, who use the latest information available.

For the rest of July the schedule will include:

July 12-14 -- PIK and Farm Input Industries -- Forrest Stegeline.
July 15-18 -- Cotton Update -- Carl Anderson.

July 19-21 -- July Cattle on Feed Report -- Ed Uvacek.

July 22-25 -- Mid-Year Cattle Numbers -- Ed Uvacek.

July 26-28 -- Feed Grain Outlook -- Ed Smith.

July 29 -- Aug. 1 -- Soybean Situation -- Johnny Feagan.

The "TOMI" discussions can aid in decision-making, and the information is as near as your telephone.

STATE 4-H CONGRESS TO FOCUS ON "CITIZENSHIP"

"Citizenship" will be the focal point of the 1983 Texas 4-H Congress.

Some 600 4-H members aged 15 to 19 from across Texas will be attending this year's congress in Austin July 19-21 which will focus on individual responsibilities and citizenship. Congress headquarters will be the Sheraton Crest Hotel.

Theme of the 10th annual congress is "Celebrate Citizenship."

Attending from Motley County is Holly Hobbs of Matador.

Highlighting this year's congress will be tours of the State Capitol, actual participation in the Texas Legislature, and special "Citizenship in Action" seminars.

Featured speakers will include Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, Extension Service director, and Ola Madsen, president of Adventure in Total Development, Nicholasville, Ky.

Each Congress delegate will actually be sworn in as a state senator or representative and will take part in developing and passing legislation.

A special 75th 4-H Anniversary Celebration the last evening will conclude the Congress program.

Texas 4-H Congress is the highlight of the 4-H careers of many older youth. It is held in a different Texas city each year to allow the use of various unique educational aspects.

boards which are elected by the producers. Any producer of a commodity who does not wish to participate may request a refund. Texas is currently lagging behind other states in its ability to finance marketing promotions. The newly proposed program will allow for the financing of promotions, research and education at home and abroad.

"The potential for growth, especially for our grain, is tremendous," according to Senator Sarpalius. "The program could provide jobs and improve the entire Texas economy," Senator Sarpalius adds.

According to Elbert

Harp, executive director of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, "For every million tons of grain, wheat and soybeans which Texas can export, a total of 3000 jobs will be created. The jobs would be created in industries such as railroads, trucking, elevator operators and more."

"Nearly 50 percent of our farmland in Texas has been idle because our ability to produce exceeds current markets.

Farmers in Texas are cutting back on purchasing farm machinery, insecticides, fertilizer and more. This could be reversed with effective commodity development," according to Bill Nelson, executive vice president of The Texas Wheat Producers Association.

"The purpose of this constitutional amendment is to allow farmers the right to join others to work to develop markets here and abroad which will benefit our entire state," Senator Sarpalius says.

PUBLIC NOTICE

At the request of the Office of the General Counsel of the Public Utility Commission, the Commission has established Docket No. 5113 to inquire into pressing issues involving the entire telephone industry in Texas. Docket No. 5113 will deal with many issues resulting from the impending divestiture of American Telephone and Telegraph Company and Southwestern Bell Telephone Company. Some of those issues include establishing the service areas of Southwestern Bell after divestiture and assessing the impact on other telephone companies in Texas, including General Telephone Of The Southwest, of current settlement arrangements between Southwestern Bell and those companies. Additionally, Docket No. 5113 will deal with the issues arising from the Federal Communications Commission's Final Order in Docket 78-72 (the Access Charge Docket) as they impact all telephone companies, including General Telephone Company Of The Southwest. It is anticipated that Docket No. 5113 will be evidentiary in nature. RATES FOR GENERAL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF THE SOUTHWEST MAY BE DETERMINED BY THE COMMISSION IN OR AS A RESULT OF THIS PROCEEDING. Interested parties seeking further information or desiring to participate in Docket No. 5113 are advised to write to Rhonda Colbert Ryan, Secretary and Director of Hearings, Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Boulevard, Suite 400N, Austin, Texas 78757 or telephone the Public Utility Commission Consumer Affairs Division at (512)458-0223 or 458-0227, or (512) 458-0221 TTY for the deaf.

THE SUPER-7™ WEED WIPER

Seven times the "kill surface" of ordinary rope-type wick applicators.

For contact-type, translocating herbicides, no ordinary rope-type unit works as well as the Century Super-7™ Weed Wiper.

The secret is Super-7's unique, patented applicator boom that provides seven times more kill surface and unequalled control and economy with these expensive chemicals.

- Here's how it works:
- Herbicide in the elevated reservoir (A) flows by gravity to wick bar, controlled by cab-operated solenoid valve.
 - Light weight polystyrene inserts (B) minimize amount of herbicide required to thoroughly fill applicator bar and keep it full, even on uneven ground.
 - Holes (C) on underside of dispenser tube allow herbicide to flow onto felt (D), double wrapped around thin plastic inner liner (E). Herbicide is drawn over top of liner, thoroughly soaking outer carpet (F), edge to edge. Let us show you how the Century Super-7 can rid your fields of yield-reducing weeds that grow above crops. We'll also show you today's most complete, up-to-date spraying equipment in Century's colorful, new 40-page catalog. Stop by today.
