Methodist WSCS has Program in Observance of 25th Anniversary

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist Church observed its twenty-fifth anniversary with a program Tuesday evening, January 25, led by Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, president.

Five charter members of the local organization were present. Two others were charter members elsewhere.

Prior to 1940 the church women called their organization the Woman's Missionary Society, and in the earlier days it was the Ladies Aid Society so-called because they "aided the preacher" in his work.

The hymn, "The Kingdom of God," opened the program, with Mrs. Maggie Hamilton at the piano. The devotional was given by Mrs. Frank Pohl. Mrs. J. R. Whitworth read a poem featuring the anniversary theme, and a resume of the accomplishments of the society was given by the president and the treasurer, Mrs. W. F. Jacobs.

Mrs. W. F. Gaede showed slides depicting the theme, "Factors that confront Us." Closing prayer was given in unison.

Refreshment were served in the educational building parlor. The table was covered with a beautiful cloth featuring blue and silver. A birthday cake, surrounded by 25 candles in silver holders, occupied the center of the table, and coffee and hot punch were served with the cake.

The seven women present, who were active in Missionary Society work at the time of re-organization to Woman's Society of Christian Service, were Mesdames Henry Ford, J. R. Whitworth, A. J. Daffern, Harry Willett, Fred Simpson, Mattie Brotherton and Maggie Hamilton. Others present were Mrs. Ethel Payne and Mrs. N. B. McMahan, in addition to those on the program.

The Matador WSCS will be hostess to the Sub-district WSCS on Thursday (today), beginning at 9:30 a. m. A sack lunch will be served at noon.

The Predicta Study Club of Roaring Springs met Thursday night, Jan. 20 in the home of Mrs. H. C. Smith, for a program on Viet Nam.

Following a short business meeting, a panel of members composed of Mesdames C. L. Marshall, Bobby Williams and Dick Carpenter, presented the program, after which, Mrs. Mike Hoyle of Matador showed slides sent to her by her son, Larry Hoyle, who is stationed in Viet Nam.

During the business session, the club voted to conduct a house-to-house canvass for the March of Dimes instead of holding an annual pancake benefit supper. Members will make the canvass Monday, Jan. 31, at about 5:30 p. m. it was decided.

Present, in addition to those named were, Mesdames R. C. Clem, Andy Hubbard, Charles Long, Lem Miller, Carl Tardy, Jim Lewis, J. M. Thacker, M. S. Thacker, Max Thacker, Jess Whittington and John Farris; Miss Freda Keahney, and Miss Lala Swim, President.

Words are inadequate to express our sincere gratitude for your comforting words and many acts of kindness and love during our time of great sorrow in the loss of our beloved husband and father.

We especially thank Pat Seigler, Bros. Ben Pate and Shelby Bishop, the pallbearers, all those who called, sent or brought food, gifts or flowers; those who served, and for the many cards of condolence and help which served to lighten our burden.

Our prayer is that God may bless each of you in a very special way.

Day by Day CLEANERS

REMEMBER WHEN?

"In the late 1800s families drew lots to see who would wash the dishes. I certainly hope yours doesn't, because there's no need for it. There are so many advantages to the automatic electric dishwasher that I'm sure when you've heard them all you won't be able to argue yourself out of having one. For instance, dishes washed automatically turn out more sanitary than those washed by hand—that's because much hotter water can be used in the machine than on your hands. And the latest dishwashers offer cycles not only for pots and pans but fine china and crystal, also dish breakage is 1/5 that experienced when dishes are done by hand. Best of all, the kitchen stays neat and uncluttered—even after between meal snacks. There are so many advantages to automatic dishwashing, there just isn't room to list them all.

See your electrical appliance dealer and tell your family they can quit drawing lots."

Four Inmates Will Speak In Matador

Four inmates from the state prison in Huntsville will be in Matador in March.

The group will present a program known as "Operation Teenager," at 2:30 p. m. in the high school auditorium March 9.

"Operation Teenager" began four years ago when four inmates decided to tell the story of their lives "ruined by crime" in an attempt to curb crime. Since its birth, fifteen different men have participated in the program which has been presented in hundreds of schools throughout the state. At present only one of the founding four remains with the group.

The four members remain anonymous to spare their families any further humiliation as a result of their lives.

Several Motley County youths were privileged to hear this unusual group this summer at the Attorney General's Youth Conference and The Farm Bureau Citizenship Seminar, and all agreed it was one of the most inspirational of programs.

The group was secured by Representative Bill Heatly of Paducah to visit schools in this area.

The public is urged to attend this outstanding program which will be presented free of charge.

TOP EDUCATION LEADER TO SPEAK AT CHILDRESS

Childress County Classroom Teachers will host an area-wide dinner meeting February 2, when they are visited by Richard D. Batchelder, of Newton, Mass., president of the National Education Association.

The dinner will be at 7 p. m. in Fair Park Auditorium and tickets will be $2.50 each. The public is invited to attend, and it is requested that reservations be made to Mrs. R. B. Austin, Wilson School, Childress.

The young national education leader has cancelled a scheduled trip to Hawaii to come to Childress. The Childress Teachers Association feels it a distinct compliment that he has done this, and is anxious that administrators, teachers and patrons of West Texas attend the banquet and hear Dr. Batchelder.

They are missed sadly when you spend them away from home. A dollar that leaves town will never support our schools and churches or provide jobs and opportunities for our young people. All benefits are gone for good.

Two New Teachers Assume MGS Duties

Two new teachers, Mrs. Dean Turner and Mrs. Glendell Smith, have assumed teaching duties in Matador Grade School for the spring semester.

Her teaching experience includes teaching American history in Matador High School two years ago and Junior High language arts in the Turkey school system. Mrs. Turner at-

Literary Land

Published in 1891, The Red Badge of Courage, by Stephen Crane, is the masterpiece of war novels. The novel, which describes the triumphs and trials of a regiment in the Civil War, is a mystery to literary critics because the author had never experienced the warfare he so accurately describes in his book, and was only in his early twenties at the time the book was published.

Crane, in order to picture war, paints in words the actions of two days' fighting. The subject of the painting, the youthful Henry Fleming, symbolizes moral maturity of man while the war symbolizes life itself. When Henry finally throws himself into battle, he symbolically accepts the world for what it is.

In order to show the horrors of war, Crane uses parallels between the animal and human worlds. War itself is described as a terrible machine to Henry. "Its complexities and powers, its grim processes, fascinate him. He must go close and see it produce corpses." War seems so brutal to Crane that it robs man of the free will and intelligence that draws the line between man and animal, and man becomes either an animal or a machine.

Crane achieves his greatest effects through what is known in the literary world as impressionistic writing. His combat descriptions shift swiftly from one scene to another and he uses contrasts of colors, thus bringing the blurred fragments of battle together to produce a vast vision.

Thursday, January 20, Mrs. Bill Pallmeyer showed several slides of Indians from all over the United States.

Darla Cruse and Mike Berryman were Best Citizens of the fourth grade last week.

The fourth graders have also been creating Mondrian designs. The designs which originated with Piet Mondrian are made by the use of rectangles and are used in dress and art designs.

A. L. Fair, SEVENTH grade teacher, was absent Wednesday, January 19, as a result of illness. Mrs. W. F. Gaede substituted for Mr. Fair.

The Branding Iron

The English classes gave book reports recently and began their literature books. The seniors are reading the prologue to Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and the juniors are preparing to write themes on an outstanding American poet.

Larry Elliott wowed the girls, shocked the teachers and rocked MHS by exchanging his long curly locks for a more conservative crewcut. The change was appreciated by everyone and several students were heard muttering, "If Sparky Meason would be just . . ."

Intellectual freedom has made its home in the math room as signs of political nature and otherwise (for example, Eat More Pork, Keep the Market Up) find their way onto the blackboards with the regularity of high school dropouts to the draft board. As yet, however, Mr. Byerley has not reached the point of complete toleration with many of them, since they are often erased with the same regularity.

Report cards, the pleasure of some and the downfall of many, arrived last week with the quickness of the Grim Reaper, leaving everyone with a burning desire to do better next six weeks.

The inevitable has come with news from Mr. Byerley to the effect that the boys health class has now begun in earnest; however, Friday as they began the study of nutrition, a jolly old time was had by all, with the possible exception of Mr. Byerley.

The P. E. girls and Mrs. Timmons have been pounding gravel for two miles a day on their bi-weekly hikes, and come in looking like Joe Namath on the Coke commercial.

MHS has a new student, Barbara Hart, from Coolidge, Ariz. Barbara is a freshman.

Term themes for the juniors and seniors have been assigned by Mrs. Timmons and Mr. Johnson, respectively. The juniors will write on the vocation they plan to pursue and the seniors' themes will be on a historical or current event.

Results from the SAT college entrance tests taken by eight MHS students December 4, have arrived thus relieving the uneasy feeling of Pat Day, Joanne Barton, Wanda Liphart, Carolyn Perkins, Harold Meason, John Barnhill, Ronnie Cox, and Karen Elliott.

Ford sales are booming! One reason—engineering magic like this:

- New stereo tape player option with easy-loading cartridges.
- New station wagon Magic Doorgate—swings out like a door for people and down like a tailgate for cargo.
- New automatic speed control option.
- A ride so quiet that owners of European luxury cars—after a handcrafted Jaguar to a $14,000 Mercedes—have said, after a demonstration ride in a Ford XL or LTD, that it was even quieter than their custom-built cars.
