TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

Cattle drifted against the fence when the chilling wind struck, and a windmill spun on lower like a strong man disturbed in sleep. Tumbleweeds bumped across cow trails and clamored thru the dusk. The sleet was like a whip in the hands of a mad giant, leaving the cattle cringing and bowed with its lash. Darkness was fierce and sudden, as snow mingled its way thru the sky. The sound of a wagon rose above the noise of the wind and the cattle turned their heads in the direction of the sound. Soon bright bundles of feed were being scattered on the snow-covered prairie and there was the peaceful music of cattle eating. The wagon rumbled away, leaving the wind to sing its ancient song from the veranda of a winter night.

Pain is the unspoken thing behind a smile; the hurt behind laughter. It hides in a song and swings from the stars like a pendulum which is never still.

Looking at the cup of black coffee, the humble man thanked me before he touched it with his lips. His veined and scarred hand trembled under its weight. There was a mist in his eyes when the blonde girl bent the check and left it by his saucer. He refused to order food and slipped the coffee without comment. Back on the street, he took the old suitcase from my arm and walked toward the highway. He turned back and spoke his thanks again and there was the trace of tears in his voice. Then the thread of our acquaintance broke and he was gone. Never to know that in the trifling help to him, my own life had become less futile.

Walking hand in hand, the boy and girl paused before the lighted window and looked at its splendor. The rich tapestries and exquisite furniture were made for dreams and the girl buttoned her thin coat against the chill, as she continued to study the display. She held the boy's arm tightly as they walked away. Dreams can be sweet or rather reality.

Roaring thru the night like a frightened demon the mighty truck pounded the pavement with its heavy wheels, sparks flying from the dragging static chain. Near a small house close to the road, the deep-voiced horn sounded, and a door was suddenly flooded with light. A woman waved from the doorway, and the truck thundered on without pausing.

Faith is the soil which nourishes love. Flowers in a vase may be lovely to look at but they perish and shed their petals so quickly that the pattern of their beauty is not retained.

It doesn't require a big house to provide comfort and the proper atmosphere for happiness.

My aunt baked ginger cookies that bore a spicy fragrance in their crispness which might have been torn from the directory of enchantment. Sometimes I used to wonder if a secret opening at the bottom of the cookie jar allowed its replenishing after my small hand had kept returning, holding delightful abundance. Other relatives said my aunt was poor and that it was a shame because she was so beautiful. I never understood her poverty because she left me her heritage of hope and an enjoyment that has paid so much in the love of laughter.

Love is a laughing river that flows across life's otherwise barren plain. On its shores are the flowers of sacrifice which send perfume through the gates of paradise.

BILL PIPKIN IMPROVES

W. N. (Bill) Pipkin, assistant cashier of First State Bank is improving at his home, from an attack of flu and pneumonia which has confined him to his bed the past two weeks.

SURPRISE SNOW BLANKETS CITY

Matador and adjoining communities were pleasantly surprised upon awakening this morning, by a blanket of snow which covered the ground, and which continued to fall thruout the day, at times in extra large flakes.

Declared by many to be the "wettest" snow to fall in several years, new hope was given farmers who had wheat which was about gone. Estimates now reveal that a new wheat crop should be in evidence within 3 or 4 weeks. The moisture in the ground will also prove of great benefit for row crops to be planted later.

The snow, which evidently didn't start falling until well past midnight, was estimated by some to be about 2 inches on level ground, early this morning, while others declared it to be around 4 inches.

Fred G. Simpson Enters Race For Commissioner

The Tribune is authorized to announce the candidacy of Fred G. Simpson of Roaring Springs for the office of county commissioner of Precinct four, subject to the action of the Democratic primary on July 27, 1946.

Mr. Simpson, who was formerly in the drug store business in Matador for many years, moved to his farm near Roaring Springs because of his health, and needs no introduction to the voters of his precinct.

Regarding his announcement, Mr. Simpson said: "I feel that I am fully qualified to fill the office to which I seek election and promise, in event of being elected, to serve the tax-payers with all the ability at my command and in such a manner to warrant their confidence in me. I will appreciate the vote and support of everyone in my precinct."

New Beauty Shop Offers Best In Style And Service

The latest and best in beauty styles and service is offered by Matador's newest business establishment, the Charm Beauty Shop which opened Monday, with Mrs. John Stotts as manager, and whose announcement ad appears elsewhere in this issue of the Tribune. Assisting Mrs. Stotts as operator is Mrs. Ivey Cooper.

The shop, located in the theatre building, contains new equipment, and is attractively decorated in blue and pink.

Mrs. Stotts needs no introduction to clients in this area, having been reared here and employed in local beauty shops the past six years, and she invites the patronage of both old and new friends. Mrs. Cooper is also well-known in the county, having been a resident for a number of years, and also having previous employment locally as beauty operator.

RETURNS FROM ILLINOIS

Sgt Phillip Graves returned Sunday from Scott Field, Ill., where he has been visiting his daughter and her husband, Pfc. and Mrs. Bill Eggleston.

Matador Wins Tilts With Flomot Friday

Matador took two and lost one in a 3-series cage meet with Flomot here last Friday with Flomot's first string defeating the Matador first string in a score of 34 to 18, the local girls winning over Flomot girls by a close score of 26-21, and the Matador B team taking an easy victory over the Flomot boys by a score of 34 to 11.

The first quarter in the "A" game was close, the score being 4-2 in favor of Flomot, but after that, the Flomot boys began to pull away. The score at the half was 13-7, in Flomot's favor.

Flomot boys should go far in their district, and possibly out of it this year, according to the opinion of those who witnessed their play. The local boys are a little green and unexperienced, but will be going good by the time long.

Wayne Timmons was the hot shot for Matador with 8 points, T. R. (Fud) Edmondson was outstanding for the local boys on good used clothing to be donated to the drive may leave their contributions at the rear basement entrance of the Methodist church, where they will be collected and held by the women in charge.

Further information concerning the drive may be obtained from Mrs. R. P. Moore, or Mrs. W. F. Jacobs, as organization for the drive is perfected.

Concerning the drive, Paul V. McNutt, High Commissioner of the Philippines says, "The contribution we made to victory in terms of money cannot be easily measured against the unutterable human suffering which the enemy brought to vast sections of mankind in Europe and Asia . . . starvation and disease stalk much of the civilized world beyond our shores . . . Every American will want to give to the full extent of his ability to alleviate the dreadful suffering which other peoples are undergoing.

"To win the peace, as we won the war, we must all give and give generously. Clothing now is as important as bullets were a few months ago to save lives, to stave off untold misery, and to undo the evil works of the barbarian aggressors."

Mrs. E. Stearns' Father Succumbs

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Stearns returned home Tuesday evening of last week from Abilene, where they had been called to the bedside of her father, W. W. Wilson, 89, who passed away on December 29. Funeral services were held on Sunday, December 30, in the Lawler and North Funeral Chapel.

Mr. Wilson had been a resident of Abilene for over 40 years.

Besides Mrs. Stearns, he is survived by three other daughters, Miss Lena Wilson and Mrs. John C. Lees of Abilene, and Mrs. Elvis Clements of Graham. Six grandchildren are also survivors.

Roaring Springs To Invade Matador

Roaring Springs girls and boys teams will invade the local gym next Tuesday night for three games with the local cagers. Coach Bert Ezzell announced. The Girl's team will play at 6:30, the boy's A team at 7:30, and the girl's A team at 8:30.

From recent scores the teams seem to be evenly matched, and three good games are in prospect for local fans.

Usual prices of admission will prevail. The gymnasium will be warm enough for the comfort of spectators.

NEW RESIDENTS HERE

Mrs. Ava Harrell and son Gordon Lee, are moving here from Transylvania, La., to make their home. Mrs. Harrell is a sister of Mrs. Clarence Kifer.

Seeks Office

H. Blevins, above, announced last week his candidacy for the office of sheriff, tax assessor and collector for Motley County, asking the consideration of the voters in supporting him. Declaring this to be his first time to seek office, Mr. Blevins pledged himself to fill the office to the best of his ability, if elected.

LEGION HALL WILL NOT BE ON MARKET

By a unanimous vote cast at a regular meeting of Fleming Post 337, American Legion Tuesday night, the legion hall will not be placed on the market for sale, but will remain the property of the organization, it was announced Wednesday by D. C. Bradley, post commander.

Much interest was manifest in the possible sale of the building but the members were heartily in favor of retaining it for use as a meeting place, and also as rent property, as heretofore.

AAA OFFICE WILL BE OPEN MONDAY

The AAA office will be open Monday for the benefit of operators who have failed to file performance reports, in view of the fact that Tuesday, January 15, is the deadline for making these reports. Elbert Reeves, Administrative Officer, announced this week.

Under recent federal regulations, the office has remained closed on Monday.

All who have neglected filing their performance reports are urged to do so on or before next Monday, in order to be eligible for benefit payments.

Rev. Bob Jameson Is Honored At Service Sunday

Special tribute was paid Rev. R. L. (Bob) Jameson, pioneer retired Methodist preacher of this section, who preached at the Methodist church here Sunday morning, as a fellowship service was held at the noon hour, with luncheon served in the church basement.

In the absence of the pastor, Rev. G. E. Turrentine, W. F. Jacobs presided in the church service, which included for special music, quartet singing by Frank Jameson, J. R. Whitworth, T. B. and Jim Edmondson.

G. E. Hamilton acted as master of ceremonies at the luncheon program which included accordian music by Rosemary Bloodworth, introduction of the only living two charter members of this church, Mrs. F. M. Jinkins and Mrs. C. D. Pipkin, short talks by Mrs. J. R. Smith and Rev. Chas. Sargent of Roaring Springs, and W. L. McWilliams of Whiteflat, piano selections by Jolene Bloodworth, and a number of songs by the church quartet.

Rev. Jameson was presented a new hat as a gift from J. E. Russell, and Mrs. Jameson was presented a pot plant as a gift from Mrs. Russell, while Henry Pipkin presented the couple with a cash donation as a love offering from the church.

Visitors were present from Roaring Springs, Flomot, Lockney, Silvertown, Turkey and Whiteflat.

J. H. Turner of Long Beach, Calif., former Matador resident, was a visitor here the past week.

Stork Has Busy Week In Matador

The stork was a busy bird in Matador the past week, but by working fast, managed to keep all appointments notwithstanding few minor complications, such as two babies arriving almost simultaneously at Tra-week Hospital the same day, three others were born; and the necessity of using a dresser drawer for a bassinets at Stanley Clinic because the seven bassinets in the nursery were already occupied.

Sort of a Stork Club beginning, it would seem.

Doug Meador Is Candidate For Re-Election

The Tribune is authorized to announce the candidacy of Doug Meador as candidate for re-election to the office of County Commissioner of Precinct number one, Motley county and subject to the action of the Democratic primary, July 27, 1946.

Mr. Meador, county pioneer, who has made his home here for more than half a century, needs no introduction to the voters of this precinct and the county. Regarding his announcement, he declared: "Having finished one year of my first term as commissioner, I feel that I am better qualified thru experience to fulfill the duties of office and also that the voters have had an opportunity to observe my service as an official of the county.

"I want to take this opportunity to again thank everyone who in any manner contributed to my former election and also promise those who find it possible to vote for and support me in the coming election, that I will fulfill the office to the best of my ability. Your vote and influence will be appreciated."

CAGE CONFERENCE TO OPEN FRIDAY

The Matador high school boys will open their cage conference race at the high school gym Friday night against the Lockney Longhorns, it was announced this week. It was pointed out that this should prove an interesting game, as Lockney won the race last year, while Matador won the tournament, and were later defeated by the Lockney boys in the play-off.

Little is known of the strength of Lockney's team this year, except that they have two of their last year's stars back and they lost to the AA Plainview team by a close score.

The local boys will be weakened thru the ineligibility of three key men, but coach Bert Ezzell expects to replace them with members of the undefeated B string. Two games will be played with the B game starting at 7:00 and the A game at 8:00 o'clock.

FIRE BOYS TO ELECT OFFICERS MONDAY

New officers will be elected at regular meeting of the Matador Volunteer Fire Department next Monday evening, it was announced this week.

All members are urged to attend, as other business matters will be attended to, including initiation of new members. Officers to be elected are Fire Chief, secretary and hose captain.

ARRIVAL ANNOUNCED

Former residents Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Calhoun are announcing the arrival of a 7 pound daughter, Carol Ann, on January 2, in Plainview Hospital, Plainview. Mrs. Calhoun is the former Lorene Fryar.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Williams have returned to their home here, from Carlsbad, N. M., where they resided during the past several months.

Deposits in the First State Bank here exceeded $2,000,000 at the close of business December 31 and topped all previous records of county banking institutions. Deposits at the close of business, June 30, 1945 were $1,760,000.

While banks thruout the country show a great increase in deposits, Motley county experienced less than average crop production, has no oil income and few pay-rolls which usually reflect in savings.

No estimate of War Bonds and other securities owned by Motley county residents is available. Bankers in some areas have estimated that bonds may be owned in amounts almost equal to bank deposits.

Perhaps at no time in its history has Motley county been on a more secure financial foundation.

Elmer Stearns, vice-president and cashier of the First State Bank said that business had been good with the exception of collections in instances where borrowers could not pay because of the short crop.

I. O. O. F. Lodge To Hold Installation

Public installation ceremonies will be held for officers of the I. O. O. F. lodge here Tuesday evening, January 15, it was announced this week by Bill Wason, secretary of the organization.

All members are urged to be present, and a cordial invitation is extended the public to attend.

English Bicycle Creates Interest

An English bicycle, on the streets of Matador, created quite a bit of interest this week, and especially after particulars were learned concerning its appearance here.

S. Sgt. S. A. Russell, son of Walter Russell of this place, acquired the bike during his 7 months stay in England, which he shipped home before the D-day invasion. In order to make the shipment, the frame of the vehicle had to be cut in two pieces, and all parts dismantled. It was kept stored in a cellar belonging to relatives at Spur, until the sergeant's return to the states when he had it re-built by a Lubbock bicycle shop. However, instructions had to be obtained from the manufacturers in England, before the bike could be re-assembled. Russell paid over a hundred dollars for the wheel.

CONTRIBUTIONS CONTINUE TO AID SENDING PAPER

Tribune readers and subscribers continue to contribute generously toward the fund for sending the home-town paper to boys in uniform. Altho the number of papers going to the armed forces has decreased considerably in the past months, new names of those going into service, are added each week.

DOROTHY WOODRUFF JOINS TRIBUNE STAFF

Miss Dorothy Woodruff has joined the Tribune staff as news reporter and is also in charge of the circulation department, filling the vacancy made by the recent resignation of Mrs. Margie Mize.

Miss Woodruff, who is a senior in high school, is devoting part time to her new duties, until she will close of school, when she will have full time employment. Miss Evelyn Shelton, also a senior, is part-time employed in the mechanical department, as assistant to B. A. Tipton, shop foreman.

CLASS OF FASHION

The style now seems to be mostly blue jeans and plaid shirts, however, you'd be surprised how sweet the girls can look when they do dress up. For instance, before the game Friday night, Frances Schweitzer had on the most divine gray dress. It was trimmed with red and she wore a red jacket, with a red bag and red shoes. Boys, beware! Wilma Faye looked sweet in a gray wool jersey dress too. It was gathered at the neck and had the cutest belt, and sleeves. Of course, Evelyn had a new dress, brown with gold buttons. A green wool jersey dress was sported by Ernestine. My, goodness, they don't wear blue jeans all the time. See what I mean?

CLASS NOTES

From what the seniors were discussing in English class Friday, I think that someone has something up his sleeve (besides his arm). Jolene has been asked to prepare the next chapel program, which will be in two weeks and from all indications we think that she has decided on two one-act plays. The cast will be made up from the Senior English class. Won't that be fun?

The Seniors were also busy Friday trying to decide on the commencement invitations.

It seems that Geometry Class has been dull to everyone except John Irwin and Bernice Pitts. Why should they be especially interested?

Everyone is walking around in a sort of daze. Why? I don't know, but it couldn't be that we all have mid-term exams this week. We would all be insulted if we were accused of cramming, wouldn't we?

We were very pleased when many of the ex-seniors visited M. H. S. Wednesday. Among those present were: James Garth Jacky Simpson, Bobby Harp, Leona Martin, and Frances Bostick. Other visitors were Jean Mize from Abilene, and Bernice Dees from El Paso.

What A Wonderful Christmas

Everyone went somewhere sometime during the holidays. The day finally arrived! The day that every student of M. H. S. was waiting-for! For on December 19th everyone was free! Free from school, free from book reports, tests, and all of the other worries of school. Free forever! No, just for the 14 days during the Christmas Holidays, but all the students got as far as possible from that old school bell.

Miss Wylie spent the holidays with her parents at Gainesville. Billy Skaggs went to Chillicothe. Evelyn Shelton visited in New Mexico. Mr. and Mrs. Ezrell and Johnny spent the holidays with

"Self-Cooling" Water Pit

AN AMPLE supply of water is important as feed for profitable livestock enterprises. Here is a simple "self-heating and cooling" water container for hogs and cattle.

The pit is covered at all times, except when an animal is drinking. When an animal is thirsty, it lifts the hinged cover with its nose. When it has finished, the animal steps back and the cover comes down.

The temperature of the water is controlled by the temperature of the earth, which does not fluctuate like the temperature of the air. In winter the ground keeps the water from freezing; in summer it keeps the water cool.

The pit may be any convenient size, with the covers small enough so that there is no danger of young animals falling or being pushed in. The recommended depth is from 15 to 20 feet, with the greater depth favored for cold climates.

MEET A SENIOR

Dear Diary, Today I met the most wonderful boy! Something out of a dream, but definitely! He's so tall, 5'11" and has such beautiful brown eyes and hair. For a past-time he likes to play cards. He likes to play football, too, but mostly he's a basketball star. Gee whiz, he hits the basket every time, and we hope he'll be especially good this season.

And to make things swell, he's going to finish Matador High School in May with the rest of the seniors. Of course, he's seventeen, so the Army may get him, but he will just look divine in uniform. At the present time, he doesn't have many ideas about college, but maybe he will decide about things like books and college in the near future since he doesn't seem to be paying any attention to the cute girls of M. H. S. (to the girls' distress.)

His name is Bob and he loves Eried chicken, and "I Can't Begin To Tell You". Doesn't he sound nice? I think he's grand. Maybe you can meet him someday. He's registered in the school records as Rattan, Robert. Sigh.

Shopping Hangover

SHOPPING is hard work at best—hard on the feet and hard on the pocketbook. Stores are crowded with buyers, goods are still scarce, and bargains aren't always easy to find.

Accept electricity! Lady, you don't have to stir one step outside your home to get a whopping big bargain in comfort and convenience—at low pre-war prices.

Electric service is always right at your fingertip—plentiful, dependable, ready 24 hours a day to lighten your household burdens and make your way of living more pleasant.

And it's cheap! As a matter of fact, the average family is getting just about twice as much electricity for its money as it did 15 years ago.

Yes, electric service is a rare household bargain. But not by accident. It's the result of the hard work and experience of the men and women in your company.

Spinning Frames Received By Tech

LUBBOCK—Six new long-draft spinning frames, the very latest in spinning equipment, has been received at Texas Technological College for use in the cotton fiber and spinning research project.

These machines complete the laboratory equipment, and full operation will begin by the end of January. A full staff, composed of nine persons, will begin spinning work as soon as the installation is complete. Prior to this time good progress has been made in fiber work, and a number of cottons from various sections of the country has been received and tested.

Purpose of the cotton fiber and spinning research project, conducted at Tech, is to make fiber tests on raw cotton, manufacture it into yarns and find the relationship between fiber properties and spinning performance.

Cotton fiber and spinning investigations are directed by George W. Pfeifferberger, cotton research supervisor of the Chicopee (Cotton) Manufacturing Co. of Chicopee Falls, Mass. The Chicopee company furnishes the research staff and operational expenses of the project. Physical facilities of the textile engineering department are utilized.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Patton spent the week-end in Dallas, where they visited their son, S/Sgt. Keith Patton, who will be transferred to the east coast next week.

Firing Up the Farm by BURTON WILLIAMS

Inexpensive Water Trough
IS THERE plenty of water on the place? That question is usually among the first asked about a farm. Some disadvantages can be overcome, but water is one thing that is absolutely essential.

Next in importance to the quantity of water is its location. Is it convenient? Water on one end of the farm isn't much good to stock kept at the other end unless it can be made convenient to them. Due to the fact that elaborate troughs are expensive and difficult to construct, many farmers fail to utilize otherwise excellent locations on their farms for stock.

If you need an additional trough on your farm, here's an idea that will save you a lot of money and labor and provide a convenient trough which may be moved if necessary. The materials needed to build this trough are an old steel oil drum, 2 bolts and 4 posts.

As illustrated, the drum is cut in half lengthwise; then bolted at the top of each end to a post set so that the drum is about 8 inches off the ground. Two short posts are set between the larger ones to give additional support at the bottom of the drum.

When the trough needs cleaning, all you have to do is loosen the bolts and it can be turned upside down.

Fun With Fish

With meat and poultry waning on civilian tables, fish assumes new importance in our meals. And if fish is going to be your steady eating for the year, you'd better give it a good build-up with the family. Fish can easily become a favorite if you present it well. What other food affords such variety... where can you find more subtle flavors... what textures so gratify the tongue... what dishes make such pleasing pictures on the table?

Be market-wise about the fish in your locality. Don't just stick to mackerel, halibut, and cod fish cakes. There are hundreds more fish in the sea than ever make most of our tables. In selecting fish, keep in mind the following facts: A fresh fish has firm flesh that leaves no pressure mark when touched. The eyes are bright, clear, and bulging; the gills should be moist, and red. Never buy a fish with dull scales that have dried. And be sure the flesh does not pull away too easily from the back bone. A fresh fish is practically odorless; it should smack only of a clear ocean breeze.

The best shopping practice is to buy for immediate use. Even so, it's likely your fish will spend a few hours in the refrigerator before cooking. So wrap it loosely and place in, or just below, the freezing compartment. If you are using an ice refrigerator, do the fish up lightly and place it right on the block of ice.

Nutritionally, fish is really a bonanza. The editor of the "Journal of the American Medical Association," Dr. Morris Fishbein, gives fish plaudits when he says, "The proteins provided by the flesh of the fish include all those that are found to be necessary for growth and health in the human body." But that is not fishes' whole service record. Fish oils are rich in vitamin D, and fish liver is an excellent source of vitamin A. The minerals of fish are similar to those of meat, even better in some cases; for fish supplies iodine, a mineral greatly needed by the body and present in few other foods. All of which add up to strong reasons why you should make fish popular with your people.

When it comes to cooking fish, use plenty of imagination. If your previous fish cookery has been confined to the frying pan, branch out. Try boiling, baking, steaming, broiling, stuffing. And above all, use seasonings and sauces. You'll find the perfect fish sauce is made these days from soup. Yes, soup! The condensed kind that comes done up in cans—condensed cream of tomato soup.

Baked Fillet of Perch in Tomato Sauce

This tomato soup is thick, almost like a puree. But it is richer from the cream that was added in the making, and more pungent from the precious spice infusion. This sauce is easy to make, too, because condensed soup gives you a prepared base so that little else needs adding. Here it is with perch fillets, but you'll find it equally delicious with any fish that's suitable for baking.

Ingredients:
 1 tablespoon bacon drippings browned—
 2 tablespoons chopped onion.
Combine—
 1 11-oz. can condensed cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 1/4 cup lemon juice
 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
 2 tablespoons brown sugar
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/4 teaspoon pepper.
In a shallow baking pan place—
 6 fillets of perch (approximately 1 1/4 lbs.).
 Pour tomato sauce over the fillets, lifting each to allow sauce to flow underneath. Bake in a hot oven (425° F.) for 35 minutes. Serves 4.

Tomato Fish Sauce

Combine, then simmer for 20 minutes, stirring occasionally—
 1 11-oz. can condensed cream of tomato soup, undiluted
 1 small onion, peeled
 1 clove garlic, peeled
 1/2 tablespoons sugar
 1/4 cup cider vinegar
 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves
 1/4 teaspoon allspice
 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 1/4 teaspoon prepared yellow mustard
 1/4 teaspoon black pepper.
 Run through fine sieve. Serve over fried fish. Yields 3/4 cup sauce.

TECH APPLIES FOR LAAF BARRACKS

LUBBOCK—Application to use empty barracks at Lubbock Army Air field to house veterans wishing to attend Texas Technological College has been filed with the Federal Housing authority according to Dr. W. M. Whyburn, president of the college.

Already over 1,000 veterans have applied for enrollment in Tech for the second semester. "The number accepted next semester will depend on the number of living quarters we can find for them," President Whyburn declares.

Tech and city officials are working together in attempting to locate additional housing for students in Lubbock homes. A campaign is being conducted by the Veterans Civic Service committee, composed of two representatives from American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Lubbock Federated Woman's clubs, Red Cross and the Chamber of Commerce, on behalf of Tech, to obtain housing for students in Lubbock residences.

An appeal from the committee to Lubbock citizens will be made for more homes to be opened for prospective students as a temporary arrangement for the spring semester. It is hoped that housing shortages will be worked out more satisfactorily by next fall.

SECRET PROXIMITY FUSE VITAL TO U. S. VICTORY

If a secret weapon is defined as a truly effective weapon on which absolute secrecy has been maintained, then the Navy's VT or proximity fuse was one of the outstanding secret weapons of this war.

Rear Admiral George F. Hussey, Jr., USN, Chief of the Bureau of Ordnance, made this statement recently coincident with the Navy's official revelation of a weapon which previously had been under the same impenetrable cloak of censorship and silence as the atomic bomb.

The proximity fuse automatically explodes a shell when it reaches the presence of an object at a point sufficiently close to damage or destroy it. Human errors in estimating distances, speeds and altitudes in fuse setting are completely eliminated. The fuse, located in the nose of a shell, contains a powerful, dependable, compact battery which springs into activity immediately after a gun is fired and operates an ingenious miniature sending and receiving radio station. A vacuum tube sends out electro-magnetic waves at the speed of light—186,000 miles a second. These waves are reflected back to the tube by any target that gives a radio reflection, such as metal objects, water or earth.

Fuse Protected British

When a VT-fused projectile, in flight, passes within 70 feet of an airplane the reflected waves act on the fuse circuit to trigger a switch which flashes electric current from the battery to an electrical detonator, making it explode. The explosion sets off an auxiliary electrical charge, or booster, which in turn detonates the explosive filling in the projectile.

It was the proximity fuse which successfully combatted the rocket bombs hurled against England. During the last week of the now famous 80 Days of German V-1 attacks, VT-fused shells accounted for the destruction of 79 per cent of all targets engaged. The fuse played a vital part in the recoil of the German armies in the Battle of the Bulge; it performed prodigious work by on Luzon, Guam, Okinawa, and proved a lethal answer by the U. S. Navy to Kamikaze plane assaults in the Pacific.

Three Main Sections

Basic components of the fuse are (1) miniature vacuum tubes strong enough to withstand the tremendous stresses of being shot from a gun, as essential elements of simple electrical circuits; (2) a miniature rugged battery to provide electrical power, and (3) safety devices to prevent operation of the fuse until the shell has travelled a safe distance from the gun. The heart of the fuse is its battery. The story behind the battery discloses a miracle of American ingenuity, research, and production.

In the autumn of 1940 Government agencies behind the project consulted National Carbon Company, Inc., whose scientists solved the problem of maximum compact power by adapting to the proximity fuse battery the principle of the "Mini-Max" battery produced commercially before the war. This revolutionary cellular arrangement not only proved capable of providing the desired power for the fuse but withstood the terrific shock of acceleration when shot from a gun as well as a high rate of rotation in flight.

And now the silence has been lifted—not only on the super-secret proximity fuse but on the great part American industry played in creating and making it.

Better Posture Would Make Us Nation of Sweater Girls

Sweater girl forms would be as common in the United States as they are in Bali if American women would pay more attention to their daily posture.

There are two simple things any woman can do to improve her figure up front, according to an article in the January issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

First, and most important, is good posture, according to the article, which states in part:

"If you stand with head forward and chest hollowed, the pectoral muscles weaken and in time the breasts sag and lose their firm shape.

"A lifted chest is necessary to keep these muscles strong. So the best every-day exercise for the bosom is good body posture. Stop often during the day to straighten your neck, lift your chest, and without raising your shoulders pull yourself tall. Sleep without a pillow.

"Then spend at least ten minutes a day on exercises like these:

"Bend arms at shoulder level in front of you and push hands hard against each other, spreading arms out at sides and rapidly close them forward twenty times. Rest, and circle backward.

"Stand erect, arms at shoulder level, elbows bent, hands touching shoulders. Now raise both arms above the head, then lower chest, and swing them back as far as possible.

A "Look at the Books"

OR

"A Finger in the Pie"?

Which is the UAW-CIO really after? Is it seeking facts—or new economic power? Does it want to know things—or run things?

These questions concern you as well as General Motors.

For years the facts about General Motors have been made public.

In spite of this, the UAW-CIO demands a chance to look at our books, with the hint that we could meet Union demands "if the truth were really known."

We have firmly declined to recognize this as a basis for bargaining:

1. The Full Facts are Published

How much General Motors takes in each year—how much it pays employes—how much it pays to stockholders—how much it pays in taxes—how much net profit we make—and many other facts are plainly stated in annual reports and quarterly reports.

These are broadcast to 425,000 stockholders from coast to coast—sent to newspapers and libraries. Additional copies are free for the asking.

2. All Figures are Thoroughly Checked

Every General Motors annual statement is audited by outside auditors. Similar figures are filed with the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Does the UAW-CIO honestly believe that General Motors would or could deceive these experts?

3. Basis of Collective Bargaining is Defined

The Wagner Act lays down the rules for collective bargaining. These cover such areas as rates of pay, hours of work, working conditions.

No mention is made of earnings, prices, sales volume, taxes and the like. These are recognized as the problems of management.

4. Something New has been Added

The obvious fact is that the UAW-CIO has gone beyond its rights under the law—and is reaching not for information but for new power—not for a look at past figures, but for the power to sit in on forecasting and planning the future.

A "look at the books" is a clever catch phrase intended as an opening wedge whereby Unions hope to pry their way into the whole field of management.

It leads surely to the day when Union bosses, under threat of strike, will demand the right to tell what we can make, when we can make it, where we can make it, and how much we must charge you—all with an eye on what labor can take out of the business, rather than on the value that goes into the product.

5. This Threatens All Business

If the Union can do this in the case of General Motors, it can do it to every business in this land of ours.

Is this just imagination? Union spokesmen have said, "The Union has stated time after time that this issue is bigger than just an ordinary wage argument, that it is bigger than the Corporation and bigger than the Union."

For Labor Unions to use the monopolistic power of their vast membership to extend the scope of wage negotiations to include more than wages, hours and working conditions is the first step toward handing the management of business over to the Union bosses.

We therefore reject the idea of a "look at the books" not because we have anything to hide but because the idea itself hides a threat to GM, to all business, and to you, the public.

"How do I draw this $20 a week allowance?" This is a frequent question and concerns the Re-adjustment Allowances under the Servicemen Readjustment Act of 1944.

The readjustment allowances are cash payments to eligible Veterans of World War II. They provide a means of subsistence until the Veteran can become gainfully employed or established in self-government.

The first or initial requirement to become eligible is that the Veteran must have served in the active military or naval service at any time after Sept. 16, 1940 and prior to termination of World War II, that he must have a discharge other than dishonorable and must have served 90 days or more unless discharged for a service-connected disability.

An unemployed or partially employed Veteran may receive this allowance at $20 per week if he meets the initial requirements and these special requirements. (1) The veteran must be residing in the U. S., (2) be totally unemployed or partially employed and receive less than $23 per week, (3) be registered with and continue to report to a public employment office (in Motley county you may register for employment with the readjustment allowance representative) (4) be able to work and available for suitable work unless he becomes unable to work due to illness or a disability.

Requirements for self-employed veterans will be continued next week.

Women Must Work Hard Daily If They Would Be Beautiful

To be beautiful you must work hard at it every day just as a musician, writer or golfer must keep constantly at it if they wish to remain near the top of their profession.

Even a born beauty must take pains to make the most of her looks, and for less fortunate women constant care is imperative, according to the January issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

All of us know women who had little natural beauty to begin with but who, through painstaking attention to detail, make a more attractive picture than their naturally better-endowed neighbor.

"If you are run-of-the-mill, you must take your best point and polish it and play it up so that no one can miss it," the article states in part. "You must face your greatest weakness; learn to do what you can to improve or camouflage it."

"You must eat for beauty, so that your skin, your hair, and your figure all reflect inner health and wholesomeness. You must learn the wizardry of color in make-up and in dress, the effect of line in hairdo and clothes, and put both into practice to create your own individual good looks."

County Has Huge Job For Home Repair

More than $191,000 is expected to be spent during the next five years by Motley County home owners on remodeling and repair work.

The year 1946 promises to inaugurate one of the greatest eras in American history for home repairs and modernization, according to estimates released by the Title Council of America. "Few developments will contribute more to employment and general prosperity in any community," according to R. E. Jordan, chairman of the Council's Residential Construction Committee.

Because of lack of materials and manpower during the war, majority of the county's 1,530 dwelling units are in need of some kind of repair or remodeling work. Kitchen improvements and modernization of bathrooms, installation of tiled showers and in some homes addition of a second bath top the nation's list of most wanted major improvements, Jordan said.

Outside paint jobs are needed on more than 505 per cent of homes, and addition of rooms and construction of porches also rank high in remodeling plans.

REUNION TO BE HELD BY FAMED 36th DIVISION

BROWNWOOD, Tex.—The first reunion of the famed 36th Infantry Division, the "Texas Division" which invaded Hitler Europe at Salerno, fought thru the rugged mountains of the interior of Italy, and pushed the Nazi back thru France, Germany and Austria, will be held in Brownwood January 19-21.

All former members of the 36th Division—and that includes veterans of the World War I Division—officials of the 36th Division Association and by the City of Brownwood and the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce.

Highlights of the three-day reunion include a street parade in downtown Brownwood, memorial services for 36th Division men killed in action, several dances, business sessions and general get-togethers of the Texas soldiers.

Sunday afternoon, January 20, Governor Coke R. Stevenson will dedicate the 36th Division State Park at nearby Lake Brownwood. Major General Fred L. Walker, wartime commander of the 36th, will accept the park on behalf of division veterans.

Numerous state and national dignitaries, including high-ranking War Department officers, will attend the reunion.

Persons planning to attend the reunion should write or wire for hotel, tourist court or private home room reservations to the Brownwood Hotel as soon as possible. Only reservations for double rooms at hotels can be accepted. Single men can, in an emergency, be accommodated at Camp Bowie.

It was Mark Twain's "Puddinghead Wilson" who remarked, after listening 15 minutes to a dog howling under the floor of the village grocery store porch: "I wish I owned half of that dog." "What would you do?" someone asked. Puddinghead replied, "I'd kill my half."

But he wrote out his speech in English, had a teacher translate it into Spanish, then he had these words written out phonetically so he could pronounce them correctly as, of course letters have different sounds in a foreign language to what they have in English.

He then memorized the speech. But, unfortunately, he didn't know which words were important and which were not, so he pronounced them all with the same emphasis.
