ISSUE NO. 3

Motley County School To Offer Gifted And Talented Classes

by Barbara Jameson

Motley County ISD Board of Trustees met Friday, Jan. 15 at 7:30 p.m. with President Donnie Cruse, Secretary Bobby Williams and Coy Franks, Guy Campbell, James Palmer, Roy G. Stephens and Randy Barton were absent.

Superintendent Ron Cummings, High School Principal Don Ewing, and Elementary Principal Michael Patrick were also present.

Gary L. Lancaster, CPA, explained the Audit Report for August 31, 1986 - August 31, 1987.

Motion was passed to approve the audit.

President Cruse asked for minutes to be read, motion passed to approve.

Cruse asked for Budget Amendments. Cummings explained and motion passed to approve these and pay the bills.

Cummings asked that the Textbook Committee be appointed for adoption of new textbooks. They are: Cummings, Ewing, Patrick and teachers, D. Hoyle, K. Davis, P. Thacker, C.A. Turner, D. Willmon, B. Parks, C. Read, C. Hays, S. Patrick, P. Staggs, J. Piper, C. Marks, and P. Wilson. Motion passed.

Cummings asked the board to adopt the updates on the Special Education policies. Motion passed.

Cummings asked the board to adopt new Career Ladder Policy. Board asked if this policy fit our school. Cummings explained that it is mandatory and fits as good as can, that it does encourage the faculty to keep current and attend classes for improving teaching skills. Motion passed.

The board voted to subscribe to TASB (Texas Association of School Boards), Policy Localization for four copies. This is to update school policies, to comply with State requirements.

Don Ewing explained the '86-87 "Annual performance" report. To comply with house bill 72 (last year Motley County was not in compliance) they have added Music, a computer class, taught by Mrs. Pat Staggs, Theatre Arts, Mrs. Carol Hays, Spanish I, Mrs. Lindy Stafford and Spanish II on Satellite Ti-In and 40% of Science being taught is lab work. This puts Motley County in full compliance. Next year they will have to add classes for "gifted and talented." Motley County is not able to offer the Honors Program, due to lack of space and teachers. Cruse asked if the Honors Program was required. Ewing said no and explained that it only helps the college bound students and Motley County needed at least 50 more students in high school to have the extra teachers it would take for this program.

Ewing explained we are making good progress in upgrading "reading comprehension." Cummings stated just getting our students on one campus has already made improvements. The Board was asked to call for the election to be held in May 88. Motion passed. Cummings stated there would be 3 - 3 year terms up for election, these position are currently held by Donnie Cruse, Bobby Williams and Roy G. Stephens.

Cummings informed the board that Mrs. Winifred Lee had given a gift of money in memory of her late husband Ed Lee. She asked that they build a trophy case and place a plaque in his memory. Williams asked if the sagging shelves in the case now were going to be corrected. Cummings stated that Bob Davis was going to correct this.

The board decided to take bids on the construction for moving the house to the lot in Matador. They will take bids for the stage lighting, except for one spot light they are going to purchase now.

They voted to take bids for disposition of property: 3 buses, 1 land plane, 4 portable buildings and a 4,000 ga. propane tank.

Cruse asked the Board to discuss a "Faculty Advisory Committee." He had Williams read a policy of purpose from another school. After a lengthy discussion they decided for Cummings to rewrite the policy to fit Motley County ISD and have it ready for review at the next meeting.

Cummings asked the Board to think of ways to have an alternative power source in case of a power failure during extreme cold weather. He also stated that the maintenance warranty was out on the heat pumps and refrigeration so he had consulted companies to get maintenance agreements and also to help the school make adjustments on current problems with the heating and cooling.

Cummings and Coach Cecil Marks, gave a report from the Track Committee. They have the construction set up in 5 phases. Cummings reported that Olivia Barton said she would sell the needed property to the school for $2,400, if they would move her fence and trees and start the track field this year. The cost of the lot and legal fees would run them about $5,000.

Cummings and Marks stated that Phase I which includes the dirt work (cutting, shaping, waterdown, packing; goal post, scoreboard and fence and bleacher moving and re-sodding part of the football field, could all be done in 1988 and ready for play in September, Phase I will cost approximately $25,000. The rubberized track would be done in Phase II in 1989.

Palmer asked if any academic program would be slighted because of money used for the track and football field project. Cummings explained the money was allocated for the physical education program and there are going to be expenses anyway for the football field, etc. There are no funds that would be taken from the academic program.

The track field would be used by all grades and ages and after the rubberized track is finished, it would be used by the whole district. So would be a benefit to the whole community. The Board decided to ask an engineer consultant from Vibra-Whirl of Panhandle, to come and give the exact specifications and firm prices. Then get guaranteed bids for Phase I. The Board wants to meet again and make the final decision on starting this year or waiting.

Board went into closed session at this time.

Local Woman Injured In Car-Truck Collision

Local resident Adelle Durham was injured in a car-truck wreck on State Highway 70 near Quail Pipe Co., Roaring Springs at approximately 6:30 p.m., Tuesday January 19. She was transported by the Motley County Ambulance to the Floyd County line where they were met by the Flight for Life Helicopter, who continued with her to St Mary's of Lubbock. The truck, driven by Marlon Bryan Jordan of Hubbard, Texas was leaving with a load of plastic pipe en-route to Alabama.

According to Dickens County DPS Trooper, Trey Tellizzari, the truck driver was backing out of the Quail Pipe yard, as he stated he was unable to turn around in the Pipe yard. The truckbed was across the highway as Mrs. Durham was driving North and apparently did not see the truck in time to avoid collision.

Mrs. Durham in her late model Buick was pinned under the truckbed. The Motley County Fire Department and EMS were assisted by Quail Pipe employees using their large forklift to free Mrs. Durham's car. The forklift was used to raise the truckbed up above the car and the Motley County Fire Department used a truck and chains to pull the car out from under the truck. Mrs. Durham was then taken out of the car and loaded into the ambulance by approximately 7:30 p.m. Apparently Mrs. Durham did not have her seat belt on and was able to lay over in the seat.

The Spur & Dickens Fire Department arrived with their jaws-of-life but were not needed.

At press time St. Mary's Hospital lists Mrs. Durham as in critical condition.

Home Destroyed By Fire In Roaring Springs

Timmy Brook's home in Roaring Springs, destroyed by fire in Friday night fire. The inside of the home was completely destroyed.

Staff Photo

At approximately 9:00 p.m. Friday, Jan. 15, a fire was reported at the home of Timmy Brooks located on Maple Street in Roaring Springs.

The Roaring Springs and Matador Fire Departments promptly responded to this emergency and although every possible effort was made to bring this fire under control, the high wind made this task much more difficult, and by the time it was finally accomplished, most of the house and it's contents were totally destroyed.

In his investigation, Fire Marshall

Don Warren, concluded that a faulty and possibly misplaced propane heater, was the cause of the fire.

This fire occurred only ten days after another fire that destroyed a building, which housed Euguen Watson's Pease River Knife Co., also of Roaring Springs.

Once again the Roaring Springs Volunteer Fire Department would like to thank the Matador Fire Department and all others who volunteered their help.

Mayor Lancaster called for the reading of the minutes and for the bills to be paid. Motion passed to accept both of these. In going over the Insurance for the City vehicles, it was noticed that one 1968 truck was not insured. The Council voted to add this truck to the insurance.

Mayor Lancaster passed out the proposal for the 1988 Budget to be reviewed and voted on at the February meeting.

Councilman Campbell asked the council to think over a proposal for the next grant to be for a rest home. The Councilmen stated they were all in favor of this proposal.

LIBRARY NOTES
BY JIMMIE HUNTER

Tuesday morning, January 12, LaShae and Sherry Rose, Clint Cooper, and Kala Minkley met Mrs. Robin Boedeker at the Library at 10:30 for Library School. When Mrs. Boedeker learned that all three children had already been exposed to the chicken pox, she called the friend who was keeping her two, who did not have chicken pox, but also been exposed about a week before, and Hannah and Luke Boedeker and David Whitaker joined us for the showing of "Dorothy And Her Kite," followed by songs and activities with taped accompaniment. It wasn't the same without Lola Pohl, but we had a good time and heard Kala, Hannah and Luke sing a solo of "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star".

Joan Patton, Lay representative, accompanied me to Lubbock for the West Texas Library System Meeting for approval of the Budget plan for 1990. While there we learned that training for Literacy Instructors using the Laubach method will be made available in February. Anyone interested in teaching non-readers or teaching English as a Second Language may call the Library or Ava Crump at 347-2302, so that we will be sure that you are notified when the training becomes available. If you are already experienced in the use of Laubach materials and would like to find a student to teach, please contact Mrs. Crump or Keith Patton, 347-2472. Materials for instructors and students will be furnished by West Texas Library System.

Let me say "Thank you" to the many who made donations to the mural fund last week and this. I have run out of time, but will try to include a list of donors in next weeks column.

Please remember that the preschool group will meet again on Tuesday, January 26, at 10:30, and is open to any child between the ages of three and six.

Several people have asked for Income Tax forms. We hope to have forms at the Library in ten days. We have an explanation of the Tax Reform Act of 1986 for Individuals and for Businesses, and several other information pamphlets if you would like to drop by and read them.

Doggett Enters Race For Supreme Court

Campaigns For Fairness

AUSTIN -- Former state Sen. Lloyd Doggett kicked off his statewide campaign for a seat on the Texas Supreme Court this week, entering the race in the Democratic primary, March 8.

He promised "equal justice for every Texan" if elected to serve as judge, and urged citizens who might never have been involved in a judicial race before to join his campaign.

The 41-year-old Austin attorney said that guaranteeing fairness to all citizens is his main concern in seeking election to the state's highest court.

"People who are on the lower rungs of the economic ladder, trying to climb up, deserve every bit as fair treatment as the few who are resting comfortably on top," said Doggett.

He noted that in past years judicial races have attracted more interest from lawyers than any other group. But Doggett hopes to change that.

He said he wants to include in his campaign "hard working Texans from all walks of life, the little guy, housewives and working women, who deserve a fair shake."

"The average Texan is equally concerned about justice and the quality of our judicial system," said Doggett. "And I want to include them in the process for a change."

Doggett strongly supports letting voters elect their judges, rather than giving the Governor the power to appoint them. A number of Republican candidates are trying to install a system of appointed judges that would exclude voters from the selection process.

In a move to strengthen unity in the Democratic party, Doggett and former West Texas Congressman Jack Hightower are not running against each other as it originally appeared.

When Supreme Court Justice Robert Campbell recently resigned, the unexpected opening allowed Hightower and Doggett to seek separate seats on the court.

"Senator Doggett and I discussed this thoroughly and are supportive of each other in our decisions," said Hightower. "I believe that both open seats will now have strong and effective Democratic candidates."

Doggett, who won the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senate in 1984, said he would bring a particular perspective to his work as a judge.

"A judge on our highest court," he said, "should guarantee that individuals and families who lack economic power will receive the same even-handed consideration of their legal problems as those who come into court with a whole fleet of lawyers."

In the Texas Senate, where Doggett served for more than a decade, he wrote 124 of the state's laws and earned a reputation as a leader for "reform" legislation.

Doggett says the recent groundswell of interest in court reform is a positive sign that his work in the past focusing on "open government," accountability, and election finance reform "represents the legitimate concerns of many Texans. He expects to talk about those issues in his campaign for the Supreme Court reaching out to build broad-based support in all parts of the state.

A practicing attorney in Austin since 1971, Doggett received his law degree with honors from the University of Texas School of Law in 1970. He was an Associate Editor of the Texas Law Review and passed the Bar Examination in 1970 with the second highest score in Texas.

Doggett was awarded "Best Brief" in the State Bar Moot Court competition and "First Place, Outstanding Advocate" in the Hildebrand Moot Court as a law student. He has also been named "Outstanding Young Lawyer" by the Austin Young Lawyers Association.

He has served as a briefing attorney with U.S. District Judge Jack Roberts in Austin, and also holds a B.B.A. from the University of Texas, College of Business, where he graduated first in his class.

"Son Beams"

By June Keltz

David, a mighty King, who was a man after God's own heart, said "Oh give thanks to the Lord, for He is good; for His loving kindness is everlasting. Let the redeemed of the Lord say so, whom He has redeemed from the hand of the adversary." (Ps. 107: 1-2).

Children brag about their Daddy, golfers boast about their game, students discuss their favorite teacher and coaches and quick to relate in detail the accomplishments of their team. We all talk about the weather - so is God not greater than man, the weather, sports, or our pastimes? Why do we seem to be embarrassed to talk about our Lord? He is the One who created us, the Master of our universe, King of all the earth, the One who loves us, gives us life, delivers us out of trouble and the One who remains our loyal friend when all others flee.

He was not ashamed of us when He hung on the old rugged cross, naked, bleeding and dying. Although we can never repay the debt of love we owe Him, the very least we can do is tell others, with boldness, what He has done for us. We can lift up His precious name in the streets, talk about Him in our businesses, exalt Him over our coffee cups with friends. He is our personal Saviour, but nowhere in the word of God does He imply that we are to keep His deeds, His truths and His blessings a secret. We are His mouthpiece and we should shout it from the house tops with no thought of the rejection and persecution that it ultimately brings from the enemy.

"My mouth will speak the praise of the Lord; and all flesh will bless His holy name forever and ever." (Ps. 145:21).

Women's Golf Association Reviews Highlights From Past Coffees During Holiday Season

At the Thacker coffee this holiday season, the question was asked, "When was the first coffee for the golfers?"

Your reporter searched the golf scrap book and found the answer - and so enjoyed the reading of all the "coffees" and came up with some interesting reports -- some of which had been forgotten - and are shared as follows?

First reported golf coffee was Dec. 22, 1964 when the Thacker ladies (Lillian and LaVoe) entertained members of the Women's Golf Assn. with a coffee at Lillian's home. Those attending were Lucretia Grundy, Dorothy Day, June Keltz, Louise Barton, Vivian Campbell, Judine McCaghren, Mary Meason, Nell Clem, Faye Clements, Greta Smallwood, Jerry Campbell, Nan Berryman, Laverne Price, Joyce Smith, Winifred Darsey, Virginia Willie and Hazel D. Among the decorations was a golden angel made from paper towels, by Joyce.

On Dec. 30, 1965, Hazel entertained the golfers with a coffee, and again in 1966, on Dec. 23.

On Dec. 21, 1967, Lillian was hostess for the golfers and other friends, during icy, snowy weather.

Among the decorations was a nativity scene arranged in a brandy sniffer. The Holy Family were miniature dolls, dressed appropriately. Joyce had made a papier-mache' angel and there also was an ice skating scene. Those braving the weather to attend were Louise, Laverna, Lucretia, June K., Mickey, Mary M., Marion Woodruff, Vivian C., Catherine Bird, Billie Barnhill, Virginia Willie, Leona Cox, Winifred, Ruby Myles, Nell C., and Hazel; also Bertha Stearns, Lillie Barkley, Lelia Tardy, Ruby Ellithorp, Freda Keahey, Lula Swim, Emma Miller and Lois Cooper.

Hazel had a coffee on Dec. 23, 1967 and was assisted by daughter, Rose.

1968, on Dec. 22, Lillian and LaVoe were hostesses at Lillian's home. They were attired in colorful Christmas blouses which LaVoe had made. LaVoe's was red and Lillian's green, with gold braid trimming, worn with black pants, and red Christmas corsages. A pixie "tree" decorated the breakfast bar with handmade colorfully dressed pixies holding red golf tees, given as favors and each golfer picked her own color choice.

Roaring Springs 4-H Club Presented Program On Gun Safety

The Roaring Springs 4-H Club met Wednesday Jan. 13, 1988 at 5:30 p.m. in the Senior Citizens Building in Roaring Springs.

Club president, Billy Lefevre, called the meeting to order and the Pledge to the American Flag was led by Beth Bingham. Thiry Long led the 4-H Pledge and Motto with Christie Pierce leading us in singing "America."

Trent Willmon led the roll call with members answering with a "hunting sport."

Minutes were read by Trent Willmon and approved by the club. Rusty Willmon gave the Treasurer's Report. A short business meeting was held with the club discussing some fund raising projects and community services. Committees were appointed to take care of final details. Trent Willmon gave a report on District Livestock Judging and Rhonda Long gave a report on Christmas Caroling.

Danny Sailsbury introduced DPS Officer, Dude Speed, who presented a very interesting and informative program on the proper way to handle guns. He explained the safe way to carry a gun when hunting, the parts of a gun and the way to load and unload a gun. Mr. Speed told the club about many dangerous and deadly mishaps that could happen if a gun was not handled properly. The main point in Mr. Speed's program was "Always handle a gun as if it were loaded, even if you know it is unloaded."

Brad Wilson thanked Mr. Speed for presenting the program.

Announcements were made for upcoming projects and meetings. Meeting was adjourned.

Recreation was led by Christie Pierce. Lavenia Bowden and Thiry Long served Cinnamon bread and kool-aid for refreshments.

Other members present besides those already mentioned were Alana Bingham, Robin Long, Kasey Parks, Scott Sailsbury, Bradley Thacker and Jimmy Cummings. Leaders present were Ossie Lee Brown, Dorothy Lefevre, Nona Long, Barbara Parks and Vickie Pierce.

Local 4-H Members Attend Teen Leader Lab

On Saturday, January 16 at 3:30 a.m. four very sleepy 4-Hers and one adult leader set out for Brownwood. They arrived at Brownwood around 7:00 a.m. When they got registered and started to take their things to the dorms, the girls found a smelly surprise awaiting. In dorm 6-B an unwanted visitor had arrived. "Mr. Skunk" was never found; however, he left a smelly reminder behind.

The assemblies we attended were on Positive Attitudes and how to communicate, compromise, listen and get along with others. A video tape of Zig Ziggler was watched by 186 4-H people. Saturday night there was a dance and we all met new friends and can't wait to see them all again.

Sunday morning a short Sunday Service was held. Then each of the 18 groups presented a skit or talk on one of themes they felt was most important. After lunch, everyone left about 1:00 p.m.

Each 4-H member, Rusty Willmon, Rhonda Long, Trent Willmon, and Tricia Palmer would be glad to tell you more about what was learned. Everyone had a great time. We would like to thank Billy Willmon for driving us so far so early in the morning.

Be strong and take heart, all you who hope in the Lord.

Motley County Students Make Strong Showing For American Cancer Society

The American Cancer Society sponsored a free throw contest in conjunction with the Spur Junior Varsity basketball tournament on January 16.

Two Motley County students took top honors in the contest. Each school selected a boy and a girl as representatives to solicit donations for every free throw made during the contest. Natalie Burkes represented the girls team from Matador. Natalie hit 7 out of 10 free-throws and earned more than $200 for the American Cancer Society. Billy Lefevre was selected to represent the boys team. Billy hit 8 out of 10 free throws to contribute over $100 to the American Cancer Society.

Social Security Tips

by Terry J. Clements

People who failed to sign up for Medicare medical insurance, or who once had this protection but dropped it, will have a chance to get this important protection during the 1988 general enrollment period, January through March 31.

Medical insurance is that part of Medicare that helps pay for doctor bills, outpatient hospital services, and many other medical items and services not covered by hospital insurance.

Protection for people who sign up during the general enrollment period will start July 1, 1988.

Medical insurance is financed by monthly premiums paid by those who have the protection and the Federal Government from general revenues. Presently, the Federal Government pays three-fourths of the cost. The basic monthly premium in 1988 is $24.80.

Generally, people who sign up during a general enrollment period may pay a higher premium. This is because the premium is increased by 10 percent for each full year a person could have had this protection but did not.

More information about the medical insurance general enrollment period can be obtained at the Social Security office at 1401-B West 5th street, or you may call us at 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

Remember When

By Annie B. Cloyd
Box 22
Flomot, TX 79234

Hello Neighbors, it's good to visit with you again, this new year. I started talking about some superstitions last time and I found a few others that a friend of mine had so I thought you might like to hear about them. These came from East Texas but I think they will work out here just the same.

Now you know about the black eyed peas cooked with hog jowl that you just 'have' to eat on New Years day. The more you eat, the more money you will make in the coming year. Even if you don't like black eyed peas, you better eat some for good luck anyway.

It's best to have some money in your pocket or purse on New Years day. It will ruin you for the rest of the year if you don't!!

Don't ever wash any clothes on New Years day...causes really bad, bad luck if you do.

Don't sweep out the house on New Years morning....wait till afternoon, that's bad luck too.

Don't quarrel on New Years day, cause if you do you will be quarreling with somebody all the year.

It's bad luck to take anything out of your house on New Years day...so even if the trash needs taking out...don't do it.

Everybody wants to have good fortune, so...don't cut your finger nails on New Years day. And please don't cut your hair...that will 'cut' your good fortune very bad.

Do you put up a new calendar on New Years day? I have and now I find that I shouldn't have done it at all, because it's bad luck and I'll regret doing it.

Now this is something that I wish I had known before because I have some apple trees that never have even bloomed and they are getting 'up in years'. The saying goes that if you want your fruit trees to bear good in the New Year, you should walk by them and wish each one a "Happy New year" on Jan first. Say it loud because they don't like mumblyings! But I think if I did that I would have to look all around to see if any of my neighbors were listening and think that I had lost my mind.

Well, try and remember all this good advice for the next New Year's day so we can all have good luck and lots of good fruit next year.

I'll come back and we will "remember when" again soon. So, see you next week.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Editor:

Hi Barbara,

Find below a letter I would appreciate being published in the Tribune.

Roaring Springs Residents:

This being a New Year, especially when resolutions are being made, I pause to wonder if you who read this have considered what a unique hamlet in which you reside.

I grew up in Roaring Springs, was educated there, having moved away in 1943, but upon returning find the same loyal friends. Fourteen people gave me support letters this past summer. Those letters mean more to me than for the purpose for which they were written.

The loyalty of friends who remembered my mother, Emma Miller, even though she's been away from Roaring Springs over a year.

Having returned from Hong Kong recently where an average of 7 people live in a high rise apartment with only 200 sq. feet of room the space of Motley County took on a greater appreciation for me.

I've recently moved to Texas where I visit my mother weekly. I asked her last week what message she would like to send to her friends. Her reply, "Oh, I don't know, they are all so wonderful." With that I agree.

Wanda Miller Konsdorf

P.S. May each of you have a healthy and prosperous New Year.

When a person (or persons) who was born here and lived here all their life, then move, naturally there are people who wonder what became of them? I have been asked repeatedly, "What became of Olga, Reatha (Bobby) and Princess? Where did they go?" The answer finally came, after getting a Christmas card from Reatha last year, I answered with a letter.

Here is the answer (this year): Reatha is now manager for Love's Country Store, a convenience store, where she has worked three years in April. She enjoys her work and says the pay is gratifying. Last July, Olga moved to a new apartment unit for the elderly. Princess lives with her parents and goes to College. She is studying to be a nurse, it is a five year degree and she has about another year and half. Olga and I were in grade school together and I have always had an affinity for Reatha. I'm sure friends will be glad to know their address: Box 96073, Weatherford, OK 73096.

I am,
Pete Dirickson

PANTHERS

Salt Flats On Salt Croton When The Rains Came Tongue River Watermelons

Bill Stafford, an old Spur man, is left alone to tell of the time around fifty years ago when the Panthers killed and ate the night horse they had staked to one side when they were in winter camp in a dugout along the Caprock on the head of Duck Creek.

The boys in camp with Bill at the time have long ago passed over the divide from whence no man has ever returned; gone, gone, these many years, leaving Bill as the rearguard.

Salt Flats On Salt Croton

Buffalo Gap is a pass through the watershed, between the Colorado and Brazos Rivers. Pass that way and observe the difference in soil, vegetation, and even the general topography of the country, on one side as compared to the other.

The Salt Flats on Salt Croton is another of nature's freak wonders. Salt Croton is a very ordinary creek, passing through a rough, gullied section, a narrow stream until it cuts its way through the hills into the Salt Flat. There the hills seem to tire of being so close together, swing a part and form an oval, then in remembrance of former proximacy, come back near each other to allow the creek a narrow outlet.

During damp or wet seasons were you to pass over the Salt Flat, you would see a waste valley of red naked soil. No vegetation grows there.

Those surrounding hills have springs of clear sparkling water coming from their base or out of the rills that jut into them. Clear as a crystal of purest ray serene, but in fact as salty as brine. Its only need is condensing. At other times and when dry, that valley looks like a small snow bank, so white in the sunlight that your eyes suffer from its glare in crossing it.

It is there during the long dry hot summer days that one could see a solid cake of salt, a thousand acres of it, crystalized and laying there to be dissolved and disappear when the first rains come.

It can easily be had in depth up to four inches. A wagon can be loaded without being moved. Just scoop it up with a shovel, once you get under it. There was a time when the salt bed often was the only thing that kept some hungry nester and his family from serious want.

A generous hearted rancher would buy a load of salt where less abundant. I say buy, and that is correct, but the only cost was a nominal dreyage; the salt cost nothing, the expense was for hauling.

Enough salt goes to waste there each year to care for the needs of all the livestock in Texas.

The salt beds on the upper reaches of the Brazos River is one reason its grazing area from Llano Estacado to the Gulf of Mexico was a desirable grazing country for it supplied salt in nature's way. The flood waters in the West washed tons and tons of liquid salt as it rolled its way downward, depositing salt in the silt and sand, along its crooked banks.

In dry, hot summer when the river was at low tide, the saline taste was quite pronounced. At other times, you might not notice it, yet it was there in sufficient amount to satisfy the needs of livestock.

When The Rains Came

It was a good many years before white men ever saw very much water in the basins on the Plains. On June 14, 1899 the deluge began and continued through without abating for sixteen days. Every lake on the Plains was full and running from one to the other and flowing off the Caprock like a miniature Niagara Falls.

Some of those inland oceans were twenty feet deep and one-half mile across; and retained water for five years, becoming a great harbor for wild geese and ducks.

The following winter was a blustry, frigid one that tossed the winter in those lakes and froze it in reefs from end to circumference and back again, making them appear as range after range of ice-covered hills.

Tongue River Watermelons

Jeff Harkey came to this section of the country in 1877 with one of the earliest cattle herds. I once heard him tell of a time in 1878 or 1879 when the outfit was working the country as they went out on a drive on Tongue River, or fifteen men riding along together, found a watermelon vine with eight or ten ripe melons on it. What a feast to those boys in a country, at least a hundred miles from any farm, so unexpected and so strange. Where did they come from? How did the seed get there? It was a great puzzle to Jeff at the time. In after years, when I had learned the habits of the raven, it was not so incomprehensible.

At that time there were a few farms scattered up and down the Clear Fork of the Brazos River. The winter home of the raven and where most of them stayed the greater part of the year.

At times in the summer and early fall when grasshoppers, the cotton leaf worm, and other things they feed upon, were plentiful here, great droves of raven came in. It is no stretch of the imagination, to see how easily it would have been for them to have covered the distance with watermelon seeds in their claws and dropped them on Tongue River, even at a time when no one lived there, but the Indians or buffalo hunters.

I once saw an account of watermelons that were found on the Salt Fok of the Brazos somewhere in Kent County, Texas, but many years after Hareky had eaten melons that grew wild on Tongue River. In the case of the Salt Fork melons, it was theorized that they had washed down there from the Quaker Settlement at Old Estacado on the Plains, but it wasn't very practical or reasonable either. Likely in both cases, the lover of watermelon, the raven, sowed the seed in its westward flight or sojourn amid a grasshopper infested region where he found the picking according to his liking.

My theory seems sound, whether it is a correct one or not.

World Record Holder Visits Motley County

Record Holder, Paul Handy, as he traveled through Matador last week.

by Carla Jones

"Keep Smiling," Paul Handy said as he waved goodbye after an interview at the Tribune last week.

Who's Paul Handy? He's a sixty-two year old man who does alot of walking. He walked 17,000 miles collecting money for the March of Dimes, beginning in Jan. 1982 from Gloversville, New York and ending in Jan. 1987. Since then he has walked 3000 plus miles for himself. Mr. Handy also holds the worlds record for the longest walk without a ride.

Before beginning his long walk for the March of Dimes, he spent 25 years of his life as a clown in the circus. In fact, he is the original Sad Sack clown.

"I love to see the kids smile," said Mr. Handy, and his love for children was very obvious in everything he said.

He also has a wonderful, happy outlook on life. "God has blessed me alot, I am a rich man, I have my health, and when you have your health, you have everything."

Mr. Handy was quite a hit in Matador, as he smiled and waved at passerby's with children. One child wondered if he may have been Jesus or Santa Claus. The teenagers visited with him and found him "really neat."

Mr. Handy talked of visiting children in hospitals and making them laugh. In fact, he requested that I visit a child in the hospital and show them his picture to make them laugh, as payment for the little rocking chair he left me. He make these miniature chairs from aluminum cans and sells them for a "little spending money."

Mr. Handy is on his way to Wichita Falls to visit relatives and then on to Jacksonville, Ala.

When asked if he gets tired of pushing his grocery cart, he replied, "I push this stuff, because I'm to lazy to carry it."
