72ND YEAR—No. 21 MATADOR, MOTLEY COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JULY 28, 1966 PRICE SEVEN CENTS

RAIN BRINGS RELIEF TO PART OF COUNTY

A RAINSTORM in the Foothills early Sunday sent a headrise down Middle Pease River about five miles north of Matador, where a new bridge is under construction on State Highway 70. The floodwaters cut out a section of the paved by-pass below the construction (above) to disrupt traffic between Matador and Whiteflat, Flomot, Turkey and points north. Highway crews diverted the traffic until Sunday afternoon when the river "ran down" and the breach in the by-pass was repaired. On the watershed of the river to the northwest, over four inches of rain is reported to have fallen. Approximately two-thirds of the county still remains dry.

A STORM early Sunday brought relief to part of Motley County burning under more than 100 degree temperatures for approximately two weeks. The thunder storm arriving shortly after daylight from the northwest, dropped between three and four inches of moisture on Mrs. Hope Fish's Ranch southwest of Quitaque Peaks.

Middle Pease River came down in a headrise that cut a strip out of the paved by-pass being used while a new bridge is under construction. Traffic on State 70 between Matador and Whiteflat, Flomot, Turkey and points north, was diverted until the middle of the afternoon, when the breach in the by-pass was repaired. The storm swept Matador and south to Roaring Springs and to about the Motley-Dickens Counties line. Official precipitation here was .95-inch, but three miles east at the farm of County Judge Elbert Reeves, only .10-inch was recorded. Reports said no rain fell east at Tee Pee Creek.

Reports at Roaring Springs were one inch, 1.4-inches to 2 inches in some sectors. The rain reached but a short distance east. Here in Matador the Hackberry Branch of Ballard Creek experienced two headrises. The first was from the runoff of streets and highways in the immediate area. The second was about 90 minutes later when rain west of here flooded portions of the City Park and poured down the long-dry creek bed. It is interesting to note that the heavy flow did not reach Lake Jameson about one and one-half miles east of town. It is pointed out that the ground was so dry that it absorbed the water before it reached the lake, where only a light shower fell.

Another light shower fell here early Monday, but almost two-thirds of the County is still in dire need of moisture. The mercury dropped below the 100 degree mark Monday for the first time in almost two weeks.

Anniversary Issue Date Is Announced

Earlier, the Matador Tribune outlined its plans to publish a special 75th Anniversary edition during the first or second week in August. It was an impossible hope because of the vast amount of material and pictures which must be considered.

The special issue will be published Thursday, August 25, and by the offset process of printing. As much space as possible will be devoted to pictures of pioneer families here when Motley County was organized in 1891. The issue will also carry some reprints of pioneer history printed each August during more than 32 years of the Tribune's continuous publication.

A quarter of a century ago the Tribune printed 40 pages of history during the county's 50th Anniversary. Some of this material will be re-used. In the past, the pioneer issue has been released on the opening day of Old Settlers at Roaring Springs. The same release date will prevail next month.

All regular subscribers will receive a copy of the 75th Anniversary edition. Extra copies, however, will sell at 50c each (mailed anywhere in the U.S. for 60c). Advance orders should be placed immediately since the size of the press run will be based on the number of advance orders. When the sale of the extra copies exhausts the supply, it will be impossible to obtain more.

sent the crossbreeding program that is being carried out in Texas.

Anyone interested in cattle is urged to attend, as items presented could be the key to increased profits.

Several livestock producers have asked about futures trading in beef cattle, so basically the following information will apply.

This activity is regarded as a new marketing tool, and in the complex world of marketing, a futures market or futures trading is a system of buying and selling contracts for deferred delivery of a product. A futures contract calls for delivery of a commodity in a stated future month. It is an agreement to deliver or receive a specified amount and quality of the commodity at a price agreed upon by the buyer and seller.

To sell a futures you contract to deliver. To buy a futures means you contract to receive. While deliveries are provided for in the contract, very few will actually be made. The bulk of the contracts will be liquidated by purchases or sale of another contract. So the actual cattle need not be delivered or received, but the protection against price fluctuations remains. A contract to deliver can be offset by buying. A contract to receive can be offset by selling.

Ed Uvacek, Extension Livestock Marketing Specialist believes that the price protection device is an especially valuable tool, since it has a market stabilizing effect. He said the speculator is an essential part of successful futures trading—the man who puts up his money and hopes to make a profit. The hedger is simply trying to cut price risk. At present, feeders are the most frequent users of futures.

Grade B is clear. It is allowed minor defects and blemishes such as planing skips, small spots of stain, minor seasoning checks, and in some woods, minute pitch areas, very small knots and so on.

Grades A and B may be sold separately, but they are usually sold together as B and better lumber.

Grade C allows a few more defects than grade B and is suitable for high quality paint finishes. Grade D is suitable for lower quality paint finishes. C grade is commonly used for exterior items such as cornices, porch floorings and porch columns. It is used as interior trim in bedrooms and kitchens and for built-in kitchen cabinets. This grade also makes high-quality siding.

Grade D permits an unlimited number of surface blemishes that will not transfer through an applied finish such as paint. It is used in the same places as grade C, where a lower grade is permissible.

There are four or five common grades of softwood lumber. Common grades are not suitable for finishing, but are usually sold for general construction and utility purposes.

When buying lumber for home construction, look for the grade mark and specify dry lumber.

JOHNNY GRACE Patriarch of ride

Johnny Grace Sets Trail Ride Record

A former Matador resident, Johnny Grace of Denver City, set a record recently when he rode horseback in a 100-mile trail ride from Andrews to Pecos. He was presented with a trophy for being the oldest rider to participate in the four-day West Texas trail ride, sponsored by the West Texas Trail Riders Association. Grace will be 66 years old this November.

Johnny Grace lived here from 1918 until 1936 when he moved to Denver City. He is a brother of local resident, Mrs. Herman Ellithorp.

Following account of the trail ride is from the Denver City Sunday Press, July 10 issue.

Johnny Grace, sun-tanned and full of the old nick, today is the proud possessor of a unique trophy which you can bet will occupy a place of honor at his home.

The trophy, made of polished stone and topped with a golden horse and rider, names Johnny as the oldest rider among the West Texas Trail Riders, who hit the trail at Andrews last week headed for the West of the Pecos Rodeo in Pecos.

Park in Kermit, while the third took them to Pyote. There the facilities of the schoolhouse were turned over to them, and nobody let alone Johnny, the patriarch of the trip—was too tired to enjoy a big "whing-ding" that was staged in their honor.

The fourth day, Thursday, the group rode into Pecos, the end of the line for the ride but just the beginning for a schedule of activities, such as a mammoth barbecue, dance, parade and Grand Entry the opening night of the rodeo.

"I wore my boots down to the heels," Johnny said as he reminisced about the dance given at Pecos to honor the riders. "Everybody wanted a twirl with the 'old un,' and I showed 'em it took more than a hundred miles on the trail to wear me down."

Harder For Pioneers

Riders had it a little easier than those pioneers who first trekked across the sand dunes. A chuckwagon accompanied the riders to furnish three rib-stick meals a day, for those who didn't want to fix their own meals; horse-shoers were on hand, and a water wagon and feed truck furnished ample supplies for the horses.

The riders took to the bar ditches as much as possible, staying off the paved roads. "It's easier on both man and horse, besides being less dangerous," Johnny explained.

At every town en route, they were met by large crowds and treated to true western hospitality.

At trails' end each evening, riders busied themselves making their horses comfortable for the night, then turned to satisfying their own hunger. Afterwards, there came the swapping of yarns, the singing of old familiar cow tunes, and early good-nights as the tired riders unrolled bed rolls.

It was a grand time for Johnny, who's been riding ever since he was big enough to "get aboard."

"Next year," Johnny mused, as he gazed proudly at his trophy, "I plan to get a duplicate—that is, if some old guy doesn't come along."

Dist. Tourneys Set For August

Dates for the district baseball tournaments have been set for August 1-6 by the Texas Teenage Baseball Association, according to local Association, president Forrest Campbell. Winners of each tournament will advance to the state tournament.

Although Matador will not have a team in either the senior, junior, or freshman leagues, seven Matador boys will be playing with other All-Star teams in the three tournaments.

Site for the Freshman League tournament is Floydada, which has two teams vying for the championship. Other teams in the tourney are Earth, Abernathy, Silvertown and Turkey. Ricky Lawrence, Mike Berryman and David Lee will be playing with the Turks during the five-day tournament.

Don Cox, David Garrison and Mark Hill will be in the Junior League tournament in Lockney as members of the Silvertown All-Star nine. The six teams slated to compete in the Lockney contest are Silvertown, Haskell, Floydada, Lockney, Stamford and Aspermont.

Matador Senior League disbanded earlier in the summer but John Smith of Dumont was tapped by the winning Floydada Drillers as a possible pitcher for the district tournament in Haskell.

Sponsored By VFW
Matador Veterans of Foreign Wars sponsored the local baseball program this summer in which approximately fifty boys participated.

Three More On All-Star Teams

An announcement was made this week that three more Matador boys have been chosen to play with all-star teams in the forthcoming district baseball tournaments, August 1-6.

Mike Berryman, 11, was selected by Turkey coaches, Johnny Fuston and Jackie Young, as their third and final choice for the Turkey Little League All-Stars. Berryman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wade Berryman, has gained experience at a number of positions, first base, short stop and pitcher, but will probably pitch in the district tournament.

Joining Don Cox and Mark Hill as the final selection for Silvertown's Junior League champions is David Garrison. Garrison, 15, has made a mark for himself on the mound as well as behind the plate and may be utilized at either position. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Garrison.

Playing with the Floydada All-Stars in the Senior League district tournament in Haskell will be John Smith, former pitcher for the Matador senior league. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith of Dumont, has played with the Matador leagues for several years.

Locals In Little League Tournament

Turkey Little League All-Stars played last week (July 18-23) in the Childress invitational all-star tournament, after ending their regular playing schedule July 8.

The teams in the tournament were chosen from the top players of each team in their category.

Turkey won the Caprock Little League championship and playing with the champions were three Matador boys, Ricky Lawrence, Mike Berryman and David Lee.

Play for six teams, Wellington, Turkey, Quanah, Shamrock and two Childress teams, began Monday night. Turkey All-Stars did not play until Tuesday when they went into double figures.

leaving Quanah behind, 11-5.

Thursday night Turkey clashed with the Childress All-Stars, who took Wellington in Tuesday night action, 9-4, and came up short, 4-2. Since the tournament was a single elimination one, this loss threw Turkey out of the tourney.

Lawrence worked behind the plate throughout the entirety of both games and Berryman and Lee pitched Berryman also played first and short stop.

WTU NOTEBOOK—PATTERNS FOR PROGRESS

INDUSTRIAL SITES AND BUILDINGS ...basic for new and expanding industry

Industries' requirements for land and buildings are one of their most important interests when selecting a town in which to operate. Each industry has its own peculiar needs. Therefore, a wide variety of different type industrial sites gives a community increased chances of obtaining new industry as well as helping its existing industry to expand. Planning and zoning by a community is important to the community as well as to industry. Land is now available in West Texas. Wise planning for the future can easily be accomplished.

INDUSTRIAL SITES — range from industrial parks, planned industrial districts, individual sites (with all utilities) to raw land to be developed. Communities desiring new industry should have the following information on firmly committed industrial sites . . .

PLATS — Showing size, shape, location of utilities, access to transportation and topography.

LOCATION — Inside or outside of the city and any zoning restrictions.

PICTURES — Aerial photos tell an excellent story on an industrial site.

INDUSTRIAL BUILDINGS — existing buildings are very important as they are usually available at a lower cost than building new ones. In addition to the above information on sites, a community should have the following information on buildings . . .

FLOOR PLAN — Showing the size and dimensions of building, wall and ceiling heights, floor bearing capacity, office space, whether it has sprinkler system for fire protection and what type heating and air conditioning would be available.

PICTURES — Show the type construction of the building as well as many other items of information that industry would be interested in.

VIP (Very Important Part) — Have firm commitments in writing on all industrial sites and buildings as to sale price and/or lease price, cost of extending utilities or roads and basic construction costs in the area for new facilities.

Ask your WTU local manager for additional information and services available.

Adequate Recreation Facilities Could Increase Income Of County

Upper Pease Soil & Water Conservation District

Recreational facilities is one of the least utilized resources we have in Motley County. We have roadside parks, one city park, one swimming pool and camping facilities for the public, and 8-10 fishing reservoirs and a limited number of acres used for hunting.

With recreation needs growing every year, new camping and swimming places like "Roaring Springs" are needed. More roadside rest areas with facilities for picnicking and fishing are needed. There are very few acres of the county that could be leased for hunting, either for small game, turkey or deer. Hunting ponds used for fishing, boating and swimming like the structures of W. T.
