We think the average parent should know as much about drugs as the average pusher.

Sometime soon you're going to have to talk to your teenagers about drugs. The sooner the better. We hope this page gives you something to start talking about. Because we want you to get to your kids. Before someone else does.

THE OPIATES
When most people refer to "narcotics" this group of drugs is what they are talking about. Opiates are used medically as pain killers. On the street they cause pain for the user and society in general.

Opium
a white powder from the unripe seeds of the poppy plant. Opium can be eaten, but it is usually smoked in an opium pipe.

Morphine
is extracted from opium. It is one of the strongest medically used pain killers, and is strongly addictive.

Heroin
this strongly addictive drug is prepared from morphine. Outlawed even from medical use, heroin is the most commonly used drug among addicts. It can be sniffed, injected under the skin, or into a vein. Street slang for heroin includes "scag", "smack", "H", or "junk".

"On the Nod"
or nodding. The state produced by opiates. Like being suspended on the edge of sleep.

Mainline
or "to shoot up" - injecting a drug into a vein.

"A Hit"
street slang for an injection of drugs.

Works
the apparatus for injecting a drug. May include a needle, and a bottle cap or spoon for dissolving the powdered drug.

A Fix
one injection of opiates, usually heroin.

Junk
heroin, so named because it is never pure as sold on the street.

Junkie
an opiate addict.

Skin Popping
to inject a drug under the skin.

A Bag
packet of drugs, or a single dose of an opiate. Amount of the drug in the bag is denoted by price, a nickel bag ($.50), a dime bag ($1.00).

"Cold Turkey"
describes the withdrawal that occurs after repeated opiate use. The addict can become irritable, fidgety, perspiration increases, there is a lack of appetite. The main problem in discontinuing opiate use is not getting off the drug, it's staying off.

Track
scars on the skin left from the repeated injection of opiates.

Overdose
cause of over 200 teenage deaths in New York City last year. Death is caused because the part of the brain that controls breathing becomes paralyzed.

Addiction
physical dependence on a drug, so that when the drug is taken repeatedly, and stopped suddenly, physical withdrawal occurs.

THE STIMULANTS
These drugs stimulate the system, or make a person more lively. While they are not physically addictive like the opiates, they produce a psychological dependence or craving.

Amphetamines
these stimulants are taken in tablet or capsule form, or injected into the blood stream. Among the widely used amphetamines are:
Dexedrine - or "dex" or "dexies"
Benzedrine - or "bennies"
Methedrine - or "speed" or "crystal meth"
Biphetamine - or "footballs".

Speed Freak
person who repeatedly takes amphetamines or "speed", usually intravenously.

Mental Effects of "Speed" amphetamines produce a decreased sense of fatigue, increased confidence, talkativeness, restlessness, and an increased feeling of alertness. As dosage increases amphetamines can produce irritability, distrust of people, hallucinations, and amphetamine psychosis.

Amphetamine Psychosis
a serious mental illness caused by overdoses or continued use of amphetamines. The person loses contact with reality, is convinced that others are out to harm him. The most frightening part - this psychosis sometimes continues long after person has stopped taking the drug.

Rush
the brief heightened state of exhilaration at the beginning of a high.

Crashing
withdrawal from amphetamines, the swift descent from an amphetamine high to severe lows of depression.

Cocaine
another kind of stimulant, derived from cocoa leaves. It is sniffed as a white powder, or liquefied and injected into a vein. It produces a fast and powerful feeling of elation. Cocaine does not produce physical dependence (addiction), but does produce a strong psychological craving.

Coke
street slang for cocaine.

PSYCHEDELICS
The medical classification of all mind altering substances. "Psychedelics" change a person's perception of his surroundings.

Hallucinogens
Those psychedelics which cause hallucinations.

LSD
probably the most powerful psychedelic. Reactions to LSD are extremely unpredictable. Distortions in time and space. Brighter colors. Vivid sounds. Feelings of strangeness. A sense of beauty in common objects. Sometimes fear and panic. Sometimes even psychosis.

Flashback
a user can be thrown back into the LSD experience months after the original use of the drug. Other possible risks of LSD, which are being thoroughly researched, include brain damage and chromosome breakage.

Acid
a slang term for LSD. A frequent LSD user is an "acid head".

Drop
to take any drug orally. LSD is usually dissolved in water, and may be placed on a sugar cube. The term is to "drop acid".

DMT
a powerful psychedelic prepared in the laboratory as a powder or liquid. It is usually injected into the vein or smoked along with marijuana or in cigarettes.

Psilocybin
this psychedelic comes from a mushroom. It is less potent than LSD and takes a larger dose to get the effect.

Peyote
from the peyote cactus, causes pronounced visual effects. It is used in a religious ritual by some Southwestern U.S. and Mexican Indians and its use in these rituals is legal.

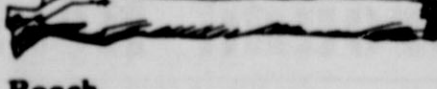

Mescaline
"mesc" is the common name for this drug which also comes from the peyote cactus. Stronger than peyote itself, mescaline also causes vivid visual impressions.

DOM
called STP by users. The effects of STP can last for two or three days.

Marihuana
the crushed and chopped leaves and flowers from the hemp plant. Sometimes smoked in cigarette form. Sometimes smoked in pipes. Reactions can be: a giddy feeling like drunkenness; changes in perception and mood; feelings of well-being or fear; and possibly hallucinations. Slang terms for marihuana are "grass" or "pot".

Joint
a marihuana cigarette.

Roach
the butt end of a joint.

Stoned
describes the intoxicating effect of marihuana, or really any drug, or alcohol.

Hashish
called "hash". Also prepared from the flowering tops of the hemp plant. Hashish is smoked in a pipe or taken orally, and is more powerful than marihuana.

THC
tetra hydro cannabiol. Purified extract of the resin of the hemp plant. Also made in the laboratory. It is thought to be the substance in marihuana and hashish that causes the mind altering effects of these substances.

Trip
a name for the reaction that is caused by a psychedelic drug. A bummer is an unpleasant or frightening trip.

Head
someone who uses drugs frequently.

THE DEPRESSANTS
The category of drugs that depresses the functions of the brain.

"Downs"
street slang for depressants.

Alcohol
ethyl alcohol, a depressant because it slows the functions of the brain that control thinking and coordination. In high doses it produces drowsiness and sleep. Alcohol is an addictive drug, since after prolonged or continued use, it can cause physical dependence (alcoholism), and when discontinued, causes withdrawal symptoms at least as serious as the other addictive drugs.

Barbiturates
these drugs are in the group called sedatives - medicines to make you sleepy. Barbiturates are taken in capsule or tablet form. They cause physical dependence (addiction), and after repeated use, physical withdrawal does occur when these drugs are discontinued. Among the common commercial names for barbiturates are:
Seconal or "red devils"
Nembutal or "yellow jackets"
Amutal or "blue heavens"
or "blue-devils"
Luminal or "purple hearts"
Tuinal or "rainbows"
or "double trouble"

Barbiturate Overdose
more people in the United States die as a result of an overdose of barbiturates (usually suicide) than of any other single substance.

Intoxication
sedative or tranquilizer intoxication is similar in its symptoms to alcohol intoxication. Driving while intoxicated can be extremely dangerous, and is thought to cause at least 25,000 traffic fatalities a year.

Tranquilizers
drugs that calm tension and anxiety. These drugs do not cause sleep except in high doses. Tranquilizers are taken in capsule or tablet form. Some common commercial names for tranquilizers are: Equanil, Miltown, Librium, and Valium.

INHALANTS
Among substances which are inhaled and produce a high are: glue, gasoline, lighter fluid, and refrigerants. Continued inhaling has been reported to cause severe anemia, liver damage, brain damage, and death.

COUNTY AGENT

PALLMEYER SAYS:

Continuous production of high yielding, quality forage dictates that careful attention be given to the maintenance of a bountiful supply of nitrogen throughout the growing season.

Production of top quality forage for grazing, hay or silage requires that the plants have access to adequate supplies of all the essential plant nutrients, with nitrogen being the plant nutrient used in the largest quantity.

"Each ton of air dried forage testing 12.5% crude protein, contains 40 lbs. of nitrogen." This 40 lbs. can come from a number of different sources such as decomposition of organic matter, carry-over or residual from previous fertilization or from the current fertilizer application.

Generally speaking, at least 60 lbs. of nitrogen is required for each acre harvested. This means that additional nitrogen must be added immediately following each harvest or grazing period since most soils are low in this nutrient.

The ultimate source of all nitrogen used by plants is nitrogen gas, the inert gas that comprises about 78% of the earth's atmosphere. However, only properly inoculated legumes are capable of utilizing this elemental gas, which totals about 35,000 tons above each acre of the earth's surface.

Plants use nitrogen as nitrate or ammonia. All inorganic nitrogen sources, regardless of original form, are rapidly converted into the nitrate form when incorporated into soils that have the pH, temperature and moisture conditions favorable for nitrification. For this reason, nitrogen sources are usually about equal in agronomic response when "mixed into" the soil just prior to the period when used by the crop. This holds true for all sources, as well as for solids, liquids or gasses. Solid or liquids put on the surface and carried into the soil by irrigation water or rain give similar results.

Nitrogen recovery, under field conditions by the crop to which it is applied will vary from about 50% to above 75%, with the average for Texas being between 60% and 70%.

When considering nitrogen sources for surface application, consideration should be given to the nitrogen source. Evidence from research work indicates that urea, solid, or in solution, is less effective than ammonium sulfate, which in turn is slightly less effective than ammonium nitrate, because of volatilization losses which may occur when pH, moisture, temperature and air movement are critical.

All nitrogen sources should be incorporated into the soil. However, when incorporation is not feasible, care in matching the nitrogen source to conditions that minimize volatilization losses are necessary.

Equipment operator's manuals, a pencil and a notebook can make you money on farm equipment.

By following instructions in the operator's manual for any piece of equipment, all preventive maintenance services can be checked and carried out to insure the longest possible service from the equipment.

When the equipment makes its last trip out of the field for the season, list in the notebook all the items needing repair or replacement before the next season. It's easy to forget some of the repairs if time is not taken to make a written note.

Time to make repairs is during the winter. During the off-season more time is available for shop service and parts delivery.

Remember, repair parts and labor to replace them can be relatively small when compared to a major breakdown at a season when the equipment should be in heavy use. Down time in a rush season could mean the difference between a good year and one not so good, therefore start now. Get the notebook, and start making the notes that will save you trouble during the next year's work. If you have a breakdown this year caused by failure to make notes last year, you will know exactly what a little paper work can do for you.

Can You Spot The Difference In INSURANCE AGENCIES?

It's easy. If an agent represents many companies and handles all types of insurance, you know he is fiercely independent. He isn't tied to any one company and by representing many, he can place your business where it's best for you. Working on a commission basis he represents only your interests.

And if he lives in the community, he's local. A local, independent agent is hard to beat.
