LET HER LIGHT SHINE

Ossie Lee Brown is pictured here next to one of the only standing headstones in the Mt. Zion Cemetery near Roaring Springs. The headstone reads: "Anna Lee Bell Kanada, 1871-11 Jun 1936."

By Marisue Potts

They call her "Shine," some say because of her brilliant smile which radiates warmth and good cheer. But the family says the nickname was coined by her daddy, Charles Elbert Sanders, when she was little. As he entered the doorway, he said "Move over and let the sunshine come in." The little girl with the pigtails and skin of ebony, thinking he was teasing her, answered, "Me Shine?"

So it was that Ossie Lee Sanders picked up a name that has lasted through her marriage to Ervin Brown, nine children, and twenty two grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren. Known as a person in the community who gets things done, Ossie Lee has been honored as 4-H Leader of the Year in 1990, serves as vice-president of the Predicta Study Club, a Sunday School teacher, and secretary of Mt. Zion Baptist Church. But her burning dream these days is for a small cemetery sandwiched between a highway and railroad track.

As Ossie Lee, related to her study club recently, it all began in the fall of 1922 when her father Charles Elbert Sanders came to Roaring Springs to work in the cotton harvest, sending for his wife Jennie and children later. On the Lige Cooper farm, she explained, "We lived in a part house and tent: the bottom was wood, the top tent." People began moving to Roaring Springs for jobs, to pull cotton and chop cotton. That was before the time of cotton strippers, so the work was plentiful and many families stayed and farmed.

However, the small isolated community of "colored folks," as they were known then, had no church, no school, and no place to bury their dead. Determined to have a church, Charles and Jennie (Pope) Sanders held services in one of the little houses on farmer Ollie Scott's place. Before long a crippled man, whose name is lost to obscurity, died, and since there was no place to bury their own, they petitioned Mr. Scott for a place to bury him.

"I remember so well," Shine recalled, "for my father said they could not get him in the box they made for him. Mr. Joe Montgomery, Mr. Charles Elbert Sanders, and Mr. Lee Kanada made the boxes for our dead, as no one had any money to buy a casket, in the hard times. So they would furnish the lumber and made the box. Died tonight, bury them the next day. The families would set up all night with the body."

"We in later years would give some cloth to cover the boxes, and we felt much better for they looked much better... we had no funeral home to put our dead, so sat with them until we could bury them."

"After a few years more people began coming out to West Texas for work, and we needed some where to bury our dead... Mr. Scott gave the land to us for which I am very proud and grateful. He was a very helpful man to anyone who came out, and always had a place to stay on his farms. He had a row of houses from the Red Ball Gin to the highway. We had church and school in the church house [formerly the old rock Dutchman school house]."

U.S. Rep. Bill Sarpalius' Office In Matador Today, February 13

U.S. Rep. Bill Sarpalius' office will be in Matador on Thursday, February 13 (today) from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. at the courthouse.

The mobile office allows the congressman to bring his office's services directly to his constituents. A representative from the Congressman's office will be on hand to assist with constituent questions. "I have always believed that to be an effective public servant you have to go to the people and hear their wants and needs," Sarpalius said. "I was elected not just to represent you, but to serve you. That's why I have this mobile office."

The mobile office will be traveling to each town in the district on a monthly basis. For more information contact Aaron Alejandro, District Coordinator, at (817) 767-0541.

Ossie Lee is thankful for the cemetery, and her dream is that "someday, somehow, we will be able to keep it looking like a cemetery. My prayers are to live to see that day come, soon I hope, for I, Ossie Lee Sanders Brown have a mother, father, children and lots of relatives and friends buried there. I hope as long as I live that it will not be plowed over, but will remain a cemetery."

To her study club Shine expressed gratitude for their support, "I thank you for all the help. I feel I can never repay the debt I owe you all, for the help on our cemetery. You are the best people in the United States of America. Oh, if I had ten thousand tongues, I would scream, shout out, 'Thank you' to every one."

Let the light and dream of Ossie Lee Brown shine!

MT. ZION CEMETERY Roaring Springs, Texas

Texas Historical Commission
Report By Lee Peacock

Historical information gathered about our county of Motley, State of Texas, is often done without regard to the Black Community and their contribution and good works of those who came in the early 1920's and stayed to become good citizens of our town of Roaring Springs and the whole community.

Such a person in Roaring Springs was Jennie Pope Sanders, "Goody" Demeritt, Joe Young, and others, but especially Ossie Lee "Shine" Brown, daughter of Jennie Sanders. Ossie Lee lives in our midst today and is a caring and good Christian woman. She generates good will and kindness to all.

It is to Ossie Lee that we say THANK YOU for helping compile the following information on her own family and friends buried in the Mount Zion Cemetery at Roaring Springs.

Commissioners Meet In Regular Session

Motley County Commissioners Court met Monday, February 10 at 9:00 a.m. for regular session. Judge Boyce Hart, Commissioners John M. Russell, Donald Hughes, Franklin Jameson and J.N. Fletcher; County Clerk, Lucretia Campbell, and citizen Jerry Green were present.

Mr. Jameson gave the invocation after Judge Hart opened the meeting. Clerk Campbell read the minutes. Following one correction, they were accepted.

Bills were read and approved. All reports were read: J.P., Prec. 1, collected $5,545.00 and Prec. 4, $140.50; Treasurers, County Agent, Extension Service and Library.

Elaine Hart gave the tax collection report. In January, $64,884.93 was collected, bringing the collection percentage to 92%.

Judge Hart read a letter from 4 Winds RC&D District asking Motley County to renew their contract to be a sponsor for

A map has been prepared of the graves, and in September of 1991, the entire cemetery was hoed and cleaned up. With the help of the Roaring Springs Community Volunteers, plans are to fence the cemetery and erect a gate/sign with Mt. Zion Cemetery on it. A dedication ceremony is scheduled for May 24.

The name of the first Black man buried there has long been forgotten, but permission to be buried there was given to this man by Ollie Scott for whom he worked, and consequently others were buried there.

Mr. Scott meant to give the land, but failed to provide a deed. However, with the generosity of Tom, Dick, and Harry Hamilton, present owners of the land, it is hoped that this omission will soon be corrected.

Following are the names of people buried in the Mount Zion Cemetery, and a brief history of those that can be remembered as compiled by Ossie Lee Brown and Lee Peacock in 1990.

MODIFYING RECIPES FOR FAT.....

If you must reduce the fat and cholesterol in your diet, it can be accomplished through careful planning.

First, define your dietary goal. If you want to cut calories, you need to know what ingredients contribute the most calories. To cut fat, sugar and sodium, or to increase fiber, you need to identify the ingredients that contain these components -- calories, fat and cholesterol.

Fat is the most concentrated source of calories. Each gram of fat supplies 9 calories, compared with 4 calories per gram of protein or carbohydrate and 7 calories per gram of alcohol. Reducing the amount of fat in a recipe is the most effective way to cut out calories.

Cholesterol is a fat-like substance found only in foods of animal origin. Significant sources include egg yolks, meats (particularly organ meats), butter, cream, cheese and whole milk.

To choose the best approach, it is helpful to understand how fat functions in a recipe and what happens if you modify it. First, you can either eliminate the ingredient, reduce the amount or substitute a more acceptable ingredient.

Fat:
— Provides flavor and richness;
— Improves texture and tenderness in baked goods;
— Promotes flakiness and lightness.

Eggs:
— Provide structure and tenderness
— Act as a thickener and emulsifier
— Act as leavening agent when beaten

To Decrease Total Fat and Calories:
— In casseroles and main dishes, cut back or even eliminate added fat. For example, browning meat in added fat is unnecessary because some fat will drain from the meat as it cooks. Use a nonstick pan or cooking spray.
— Sauté or stir-fry vegetables with very little fat or use water, wine, or broth.
— To thicken sauces and gravies without lumping, eliminate fat and instead mix cornstarch or flour with a small amount of cold liquid. Stir this mixture slowly into the hot liquid you want to thicken and bring it back to a boil.

— Chill soups, gravies and stews and skim off hardened fat before reheating to serve.
— Select lean cuts of meat and trim visible fat. Remove skin from poultry.
— Decrease the proportion of oil in homemade salad dressings. Try one-third oil to two-thirds vinegar.
— Use reduced-calories sour cream or mayonnaise, or to reduce fat further, use plain low-fat or nonfat yogurt, buttermilk, or blended cottage cheese instead of regular sour cream or mayonnaise for sauces, dips and salad dressings. If a sauce made with yogurt is to be heated, add 1 tablespoon of cornstarch to 1 cup of yogurt to prevent separation.
— Use skim or low-fat milk instead of whole milk. For extra richness, try evaporated skim milk.

To Decrease Saturated Fatty Acids and Cholesterol

— Use two egg white or an egg substitute product instead of one whole egg. In some recipes, you can simply decrease the total number of eggs.
— Use margarine instead of butter. Look for margarines in which liquid vegetable oil is the first ingredient.
— Use vegetable oil instead of solid fats. To substitute liquid fat for solid fats, use about one-fourth less than the recipe calls for. For example, if a recipe calls for one-fourth cup (4 Tablespoons) of solid fat, use 3 tablespoons of oil. For cakes or pie crusts use a recipe that specifically calls for oil because the liquid fats require special mixing procedures and different proportions of sugar.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Amy's Anecdotes

by Amy Woolsey

"To love very much is to love inadequately; we love-- that is all. Love cannot be modified without being nullified. Love is a short word but it contains everything. Love means the body, the soul, the life, the entire being. We feel love as we feel the warmth of our blood, we breathe love as we breathe the air, we hold it in ourselves as we hold our thoughts. Nothing more exists for us. Love is not a word; it is a wordless state indicated by four letters."
Guy de Maupassant

It's a special day set aside for me to show the ones I love how much I care. Maybe not with chocolates, roses, and all that good stuff, but instead with a big hug, a kiss, and the three words "I love you". That's more important than fattening chocolates, and roses that die. Those things get pretty expensive anyway.
A hug, a kiss, and "I love you" are worth more than what all the money in the world can buy.
So this Valentine's Day just give that someone special a hug, a kiss and that "I love you"-- you can make that last forever, whereas the chocolates will make you fat and (regret eating them) and roses will soon die. Give a great gift this year-- those three little words.
HAPPY VALENTINE'S DAY!!!!

When Valentines Day is mentioned, what comes to mind? Chocolates, roses, hearts, and cupids? To me it means love.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company recently filed an application with the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUC) for approval to redefine the location of the demarcation point, or demarc. The demarc is where Southwestern Bell Telephone wiring connects with customer-maintained wiring.

This request will not increase customers' service rates. This request simply changes the point within the wiring where Southwestern Bell's maintenance responsibility ends and the customer's maintenance responsibility begins. As before, customers will be able to connect their own wiring directly to Southwestern Bell's network at points up to the new demarc.

Southwestern Bell is seeking approval of this new demarc location to bring its tariff into compliance with a Federal Communications Commission Order in CC Docket 88-57.

More information will be included in customers' bills beginning February 1, 1992. Persons who wish to comment on the application should notify the PUC by March 20, 1992. Requests for further information should be mailed to the Public Utility Commission of Texas, 7800 Shoal Creek Blvd., Suite 400N, Austin, TX 78757, or you may call the PUC Public Information Office at (512) 458-0256 or (512) 458-0221, teletypewriter for the deaf.

Motley County FFA Chapter To Observe National FFA Week

The Motley County FFA Chapter will be celebrating National FFA Week February 15-22. They will conduct activities during the week to promote agricultural and the FFA.

"FFA-Leadership for a Growing Planet" is the theme that will be stressed across the nation by 382,748 members in 7,744 chapters. Motley County FFA president, Clay Ewing, said leadership is vital if our planet is to remain productive. "As young people, we want to move ahead and assume our role of leadership for tomorrow," Ewing said. "By assuming this role today, we can carry our leadership into tomorrow to assist our planet in all of its needs."

Ewing said the chapter has activities planned for the week. Greenhand members will be bringing treats to the teacher's workroom each day in appreciation for the support the teachers give the organization and it's members. K-1-2 students will be drawing and coloring scenes they think depict farm life. The colorings will be displayed in the hall of the elementary school. "We want to get the younger kids involved and inform them about our organization and about agriculture. This is a good way to do that," Ewing said. Other activities include a chapter meeting to discuss environmental issues on Monday. On Tuesday a jelly bean guess jar will be set up in the school lobby, with the closest guess winning the jelly beans. On Wednesday, FFA members will wear their traditional Blue and Gold jackets and official dress to show pride in their organization.

FFA Week is held each year during the week of George Washington's birthday to recognize his leadership and commitment to American agriculture. Both the National FFA Center and the National FFA Hall of Achievement are located on part of Washington's original Mount Vernon estate near Alexandria, VA.

High Plains producers and agribusinessmen should begin making arrangements to attend their annual county meetings to elect 1992-93 members to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG) Board of Directors.

The PCG Board is made up of two directors for each county, one producer and one businessman. The directors control and give guidance to all of the organization's activities, from financial affairs and farm policy to the oversight of the High Plains Boll Weevil Diapause Program and the Plains Cotton Improvement Program.

This year PCG Businessman Directors will be elected in 23 of the 25 counties PCG serves. Hale and Swisher County producers and businessmen will be electing Producer Directors to the PCG Board.

The elections come at a critical time for cotton producers on the High Plains notes PCG President Larry Nelson, a producer and ginner from Swisher County.

"The current situation in the U.S. and the world make it imperative to have a strong organization like PCG working on behalf of area cotton producers. It is during periods like we are experiencing now that PCG can do the most good for producers on the High Plains," states Nelson.

Through its work the PCG Board brings together the views of the producers of the High Plains and sends out a united message on the numerous issues that threaten to affect the area.

By actively participating in these election meetings and staying in touch with their county directors, each producer becomes an integral part of shaping the future of the High Plains cotton industry. Strong support and active participation also help PCG accurately represent the true needs of the High Plains cotton industry.

The date and time of each county meeting will be set by the current PCG directors in each county, hopefully avoiding any conflict with other local activities. All meetings should be completed between now and March 18.

Announcement of each meeting will be made about ten days before the meeting in news releases and with posted meeting notices in county gin offices. Information about upcoming meetings or the results of meetings already conducted is available by calling PCG's Lubbock office at 806-792-4904.

Support for PCG's activities primarily comes from voluntary producer dues of 25 cents per bale, with supplemental support from gin, compresses, oil mills, banks and other area businesses. All producers and businessmen in the PCG area are invited to the county elections; however, only current dues-paying PCG members are eligible to participate in the election process.

New directors will be certified by the PCG membership at the PCG Annual Meeting, the morning of April 9. Following the Annual Meeting the PCG Board will convene for the election of 1992-1993 officers. The PCG Annual Meeting is scheduled for opening day the annual Texas Cotton Ginners' Association Convention and Trade Show at the Lubbock Memorial Civic Center, April 9-11.

"We are encouraging everyone to attend their county meetings and then come to the PCG annual meeting," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of the 36 year-old organization. "Producers and area businessmen working together have made PCG the responsive, effective and respected organization it is today. Together we can continue the work of making the High Plains the number one cotton region in the U.S."

Information received by PCG late Monday afternoon announced the final 1991 deficiency payment at 10.1 cents per pound. The 10.1 cent payment rate is a mere 0.1 cent higher than the initial USDA projection of 10 cents made at the beginning of January last year.

For producers who received the 4 cent advance payment last spring a final payment of 6.1 cents can be expected.

USDA has also projected a 15 cent deficiency payment for the 1992 crop. Producers who wish to sign up for the advance payment can expect to receive 40 percent, or 6 cents, of the projected payment rate.

1990/91 DISASTER PROGRAM Short notes about the Bill and conditions in Motley County

Sign-up for eligible losses on a farm in either 1990 or 1991 began February 3rd, 1992, and will end March 13th, 1992.

Prospects for high yields, even record yields for 1991 cotton and peanut crops were "laid to rest" on October 29, 1991 as temperatures went from the mid-70's to the teens in 48 hours and stayed below freezing for several days. Since that time, farmers have suffered through the wettest, worst weather conditions during harvest season imaginable. Low and below grade cotton along with poor prices are affecting most farmers in the area. That has also gone on to affect businesses on Main Street. At this time, estimations are that at least 40% or 12,000 acres of cotton are still in the field in Motley County. Peanut farms have also suffered marketing and production problems that mainly consisted of freeze damaged peanuts. Most producers are quite ready to get this year behind them.

The recently enacted Disaster Bill passed by Congress and to be administered by ASCS will entitle eligible producers to receive relief to a degree for losses in expected production greater than 40% if they did not have multi-peril insurance. If the crop did have multi-peril coverage, then 35% in losses is the eligible disaster level.

Three weeks ago, disaster packets were mailed to all known operators. If you failed to receive a packet, contact this office and we will be glad to give you one.

Nationwide, eligible producers will be limited to 995 million dollars under phase one. If requests exceed this amount, a factor will be applied to all applications across the board. If phase two is acted on by the President, then 775 million dollars in addition to the 995 million dollars would become available. However, the year the farm received eligible disaster funds under phase one would be ineligible to receive additional funds. I have been reading outside sources that do make that fact clear. Some Congressmen have already started urging the President to act on phase two. Even if he does, a second sign-up separate and apart from the one going now would be held.

Administering this Disaster Bill will be similar to the 1988 and 1989 Bills. However, with this Bill combining two years, 1990 and 1991, new and different decisions must be made by the producers eligible. Future years requirement of multi-peril insurance has been taken out, at least under phase one. Rules for phase

We urge all parents to get SSNs for their children early so they will have them when they are ready to file their 1991 tax returns.

Southwest Outdoors

with Mel Phillips

Old Palo Duro Phil, that grumpy ole groundhog who lives near light house rock in Palo Duro Canyon, ventured forth last Sunday and failed to see his shadow. Old timers know that this means the winter of 1992 will only last another month and a half. Of course, if Phil sees his shadow then winter will last a full six weeks.

What happened to winter? Some weather guessers on TV blame El Nino in the Pacific Ocean. Enjoy the warm weather because I have a feeling that pipes will freeze before spring really arrives.

One great benefit of mild weather is sneaking off to Lake Meredith and catching a mess of walleye without wearing four layers of clothes and two pairs of gloves. The prime time to catch this delicious fish is February through March.

Check out the face of the dam, main lake points, and my favorite spot, a sunken point off Rattlesnake Island. Slowly, and I mean s-l-o-w-l-y, work a minnow from about three feet down to twenty-five feet deep. Walleye are notorious for changing depth depending upon barometric pressure, light conditions, and other factors known only to water breathing animals.

Experts, like profession walleye angler Stan Berry, recommend a delay in setting the hook. Wait for that second tap or until the bit starts "swimming off", and then just sweep the rod while turning the reel handle. "Flippin sticks" are out; that old fiberglass rod is perfect for walleye.

Bass fishermen need to UNLOCK their drag settings and start using some six to eight pound test Magna-Tin by Dupont. Lighter lines means feeling more fish. Frequent retying knots and checking for line abrasions will get those fish in the boat.

An added benefit of light line fishing for walleye is the frequent excitement of a feisty smallmouth, trying to steal a rod and reel.

LAKE MEREDITH locals like Deputy Sheriff MIKE HARBER claim that the really good walleye and smallmouth fishing is done "at night when a blue northern blows through!" It's hard to verify this report because I am usually snipe hunting in a windmill tower during those weather conditions.

MEXICO BASS El Paso native BILLY CHAPMAN, JR., has put together some of the best world class fishing packages, and he reports that LAKE EL SALTO is the hottest new lake in Mexico. If catching 20 bass per day over five pounds sounds like fun, give Billy a toll free call at 1-800-468-2347. His family has over 32 years experience in the Mexican bass fishing business and they know how to take care of any border crossing problems.

Social Security Tips

by Mary Jane Shanes

EVEN 1-YEAR-OLDS NEED SOCIAL SECURITY NUMBERS

Here's an important reminder for parents who do not yet have Social Security numbers (SSNs) for their children: this year, when you file your 1991 federal income tax return, you must have a number assigned to each child age 1 or over in order to claim him or her as a dependent. Previously, federal law required a Social Security number for any dependent age 2 or older.

Parents will be pleased to know how convenient it is to get a Social Security number for their children. Simply call the toll-free number, 1-800-772-1213, any weekday from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. The Social Security Administration will send you an application form and instructions. You can mail the completed form and required documents to Social Security in the pre-addressed envelope that is provided with the application. The documents will be returned promptly, and a Social Security card usually will be issued within two weeks.

The application and card are provided free of charge by Social Security, and they also provide free help in completing the form for those who need it.

Noah's Ark

Has the remains of Noah's Ark been found? Come view a video concerning the findings of remains believed to be the Ark. We will begin showing the video at 7:00 p.m. on February 19th at the Matador Church of Christ building. You are invited to attend the viewing. It will be shown for two or three Wednesday evenings as time dictates.

The discovery of Noah's Ark, if it really is Noah's Ark, is one of the most important archeological finds perhaps of our time. It would be a tremendous testimony to the trustworthiness of the Bible. The Ark itself carries a profound spiritual message from those who rode out the waves of the flood in the Ark. They were saved from God's judgement on a rebellious and ungodly people. Those not in the Ark perished in God's judgement. The Ark is an amazing picture of our Lord and salvation.

It is noteworthy that the only mention Jesus made in the Scriptures of Noah and the Flood is found in Matthew 24 and Luke 17. The context of these two passages is of His coming in judgement. It may be that the unveiling of the remains of the Ark at this time in history, has significance in God's eternal purpose.
