TRAIL DUST

DOUGLAS MEADOR

It is not easy to truly evaluate a blessing since it is impossible to weigh pleasure. Watching television recently from a rocking chair that was my mother's favorite, I remembered that she frequently sat in it and watched the sunset.

There is an age when dreams may become laminated, like a flower between layers of clear plastic; something to look upon at intervals but without the fragrance of life.

The wheels, engines and windows are gone from two old automobiles side by side in a shallow lake. They are partners in the lonely process of decay. The sound and the fury of usefulness has long vanished and the pride of owners has gone with it. Mute objects of rusting metal and peeling paint they await the silent hammers of time.

A contemporary who accepts work because of the necessities it produces, says that until he reached manhood he thought Manual Labor was a prominent Latin American celebrity.

Courage may be a fixed attitude of a few individuals who never hear the trumpets of fear.

No other experience can transport my memories back over the long road of years to childhood more quickly than the odor of fresh cantaloupe.

It is not considered living dangerously when a home is only one can opener away from starvation.

Youth Charged with Future of Nation

Young people attending the supper meeting of American Legion and Auxiliary Monday night at the Legion hall were charged with the future of the nation.

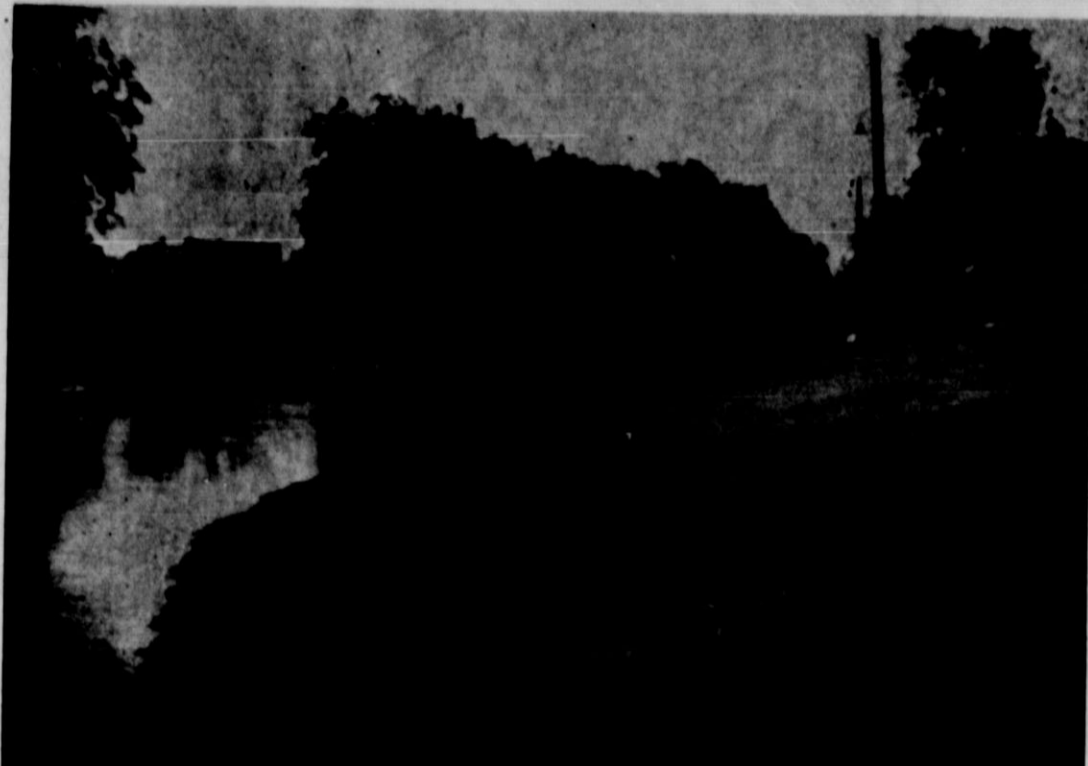

Placing the responsibility on the youthful shoulders was Tribune publisher Douglas Meador. "In the face of all the bad things taking place in our nation today, I still believe there are enough good people left in the world to make conditions right. I have implicit faith in our young people, because the good ones are in the majority. . . the hippies and other far-out groups are in the minority, although they get more publicity. The young people of this county and others like them, will be the ones who will have the task of electing the right people to important offices of responsibility."

He quoted a statement by Bob Harp, native of Matador who visited here Sunday, and who stated, ". . . the good that men spend a lifetime building can be torn down so easily and quickly by evil elements."

"I believe the young people, who will be the leaders of tomorrow, can right these wrongs," Meador declared.

The guests included delegates who will attend Girls State and Boys State during the next two weeks, Judy Marrs and Don Cox of Matador, James Palmer of Roaring Springs and Joey Lee of Plomot; also last year's Matador delegate to Boys State, Jesse Perkins; and outstanding Matador students during the past year, Misses Vicki Holt and Deborah Tilson. Also present were Boy Scouts Robin Sinauiey, Lamar Tilson and Thomas Tilson, and Scoutmaster Ott Hines.

Post Commander Edgar Lee presided at the meeting and introduced the speaker.

Speaker Says Reds Seek Only to Exploit

THE COMMUNIST is not a friend of the United States, never has been and never will be, according to Henry Teubel of Tullia, principal speaker Tuesday at the regular luncheon meeting of the Matador Lions Club held in the basement of the First Methodist Church.

Mr. Teubel was introduced by

Rites at Dumont For Paul R. Smith

Funeral services for Paul Rudolph Smith, 50, were held at 2 p.m. Friday in the Dumont Methodist Church. Rev. Robert Williams of Hereford officiated with Rev. John Fitzgerald of Matador assisting. Burial was in the Dumont Cemetery, directed by Norris Funeral Home of Paducah.

Mr. Smith, a brother of Mrs. Jinks Wilson of Matador, died Wednesday, May 29 in the Plainview hospital following a four-week illness. He was born at Dumont, Nov. 16, 1917 and had lived there all his life. He was married at Dumont to Beatrice Thompson.

Survivors besides his wife include four sons, Paul Duane and Everett, both of El Paso, Glendell Smith of Abilene, former teacher in the Matador schools, and Curtis Smith of Muleshoe; two sisters, Mrs. Jinks Wilson, Matador and Mrs. Bama Nell Oliver of Dumont; a brother, Truett Smith of Corpus Christi; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otha Smith of Dumont, and eight grandchildren.

Attending the funeral from Matador were Mr. and Mrs. Jinks Wilson and daughter, Nelda, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Rattan, Garland Rattan of Boys Ranch, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Stokes, and Clarence Jinks. Those attending from Roaring Springs included Benno Wilson, Mrs. Verba Faulkner, Ross Woods, Jo Nell Woods, and C. J. Goodson.

IN GRAVE CONDITION

Ike Reed of Plomot is reported in a grave condition in St. Anthony's Hospital, Amarillo, following a heart attack Saturday. He had gone there Thursday for a check up. He is in the intensive care unit, and his children have been called to join Mrs. Reed at the hospital.

Miss Karol King has returned home from West Texas University, Canyon, for the summer.

Lion Bob Stanley of the program committee.

Born in Bavaria over three-quarters of a century ago, Mr. Teubel has been an American citizen since 1916. He has visited 44 states and has lived in Tullia for 31 years. He is well known for his patriotic speeches and his work in the Masonic Lodge.

"The communists have planned the destruction of the United States since before World War I," Teubel said, "and they have stolen billions of dollars in money and merchandise. They have stolen most of our important patents and continue to steal American ideas and inventions."

"The United States has tried to aid the countries of the world and is at the brink of bankruptcy," Teubel said. "The US has paid out 930 billion dollars to help others and only 16 billion has been repaid."

"France alone owes over 9 billion from World War I. The Russians fleeced us for everything they could lay their hands on during World War II. While other nations were taking part in the Normandy Invasion, the Russians were busy gobbling up the small nations along their borders."

"We are living in a fool's paradise," Teubel said. "Our national debt is over 380 billions and the American dollar is worth less today than ever before. It is time to stop, look and listen. The Russians are smart and have been planning this condition for years."

"The apathy of the American people is exactly what the communist wants. With his cheap labor he can undersell our products and add further to economic crisis of this country. That is why I say we must not do business with Russia or any other communist nation."

The modest West Texan who worked his way through high school and Texas Tech had an easy victory over his liberal opponent Don Yarborough.

Motley County voters did their part in aiding the nominations. Of the 575 votes cast in the county Saturday, 474 were for Smith and 100 were for Yarborough.

James A. Joy of Plainview won the nomination for Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, Dist. 7, over Jack Hazlewood of Amarillo. Motley County voted for Joy 301 to 258.

A rainstorm here Saturday afternoon may have curtailed the voting to some extent.

Roaring Springs (109 votes): Smith 81, Yarborough 28. Joy 53, Hazlewood 52.

NEWS & NOTES FROM HEMISFAIR'68

WORLD EXPOSITION APRIL 6-OCT. 6-SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

An exhibit of the work of one of the world's best-known portrait photographers is drawing raves at HemisFair'68.

The selections are the work of Canadian photo artist Yousuf Karsh, who used the theme "Men Who Make the World," in creating the exhibit, which will be featured until June 15.

Probably the most famous photograph in the exhibit is of the late Winston Churchill. The picture was taken during the emotional peak of World War II while then Prime Minister Churchill was in Canada to speak before the combined houses of the Canadian Parliament.

The exhibit also includes famous portraits of such personalities as President Lyndon Johnson, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia, U Thant of the United Nations, former West Berlin Mayor Willie Brandt, (now German Foreign Secretary) and Pope Paul VI.

Karsh's work is represented in the permanent collections of the Museum of Modern Art and the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York; the Art Institute in Chicago; St. Louis Art Museum and George Eastman House in Rochester, N. Y.

MINI - FARE - French officials are so proud of the success of the French Pavilion at HemisFair'68 that they plan to use a similar plan for the country's exhibit at the 1970 World's Fair in Japan. Jack Benny and the Baja Marimba Band will team up June 3-8 for twice daily shows at the Theatre of Performing Arts at HemisFair.

Ninety-year-old Mrs. Julia Hawkins of San Antonio won the title of "oldest mother to visit HemisFair on Mother's Day," but her 11 children were not enough to win the "mother with most children" award. Three visitors—Mrs. Charles Stuart of Dallas, Mrs. Elodia Ramirez of San Antonio and Mrs. I. Valera, Sr. of San Antonio—had 12 children each.

The National Broadcasting Company's "Today Show" will feature HemisFair'68 in a nationwide show at the end of May. "Today" personalities were in San Antonio recently for the shooting. Actor Robert Taylor and his wife visited HemisFair for three days last week. The 1 millionth visitor to HemisFair was 18-month-old Mark Lynn of San Antonio, who entered the gates May 13 in the arms of his mother, Mrs. Fred Lynn.

"This is an excellent, magnificent fair... a bigger fair than the Seattle fair—and better." Those words of praise for HemisFair came from the man who should know—J. E. Gandy, president of the 1962 Seattle World's Fair.

Gandy, on tour with other members of the Washington State Stadium Commission, made the remarks at a news conference after touring the 92.6-acre World's Fair grounds at San Antonio.

Gandy said the San Antonio World's Fair has "great charm" that he had never encountered at any world's fair.

"You have built well, dreamed well, planned well," he said. "The City of San Antonio will be rewarded for years to come."

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

All cattlemen should familiarize themselves with the new USDA feeder steer grades. The rapid growth of commercial feed lots in Texas means increasing opportunities for producers to market their calves direct to the feeder, and in order to bargain effectively, cattlemen must understand how to grade feeder animals.

Due to pride of ownership, most ranchers over-estimate the grade of their own calves. Many then feel "shortchanged" on prices received at the market. Learn the official standards of grading and how to use them. Official written standards and pictures containing requirements for each grade can be obtained from the Livestock Division, Consumer and Marketing Service, USDA, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Grade names are the same as the slaughter cattle and beef carcass grades. These help predict the feeder's potential slaughter grade, so help yourself bargain with the buyer.

Prevented accidents never show up in the statistics, but they allow the individual more leisure time, less suffering and reduced hospital and doctor bills.

Anticipate accidents and think safety for prevention. This can be done by becoming familiar with machinery and being alert during the busy season. A few tips that may prevent an accident are:

Keep safety shields in place. All hazards are not shielded so keep a safe distance from moving belts and shafts.

Avoid wearing loose-fitting clothing.

Stop power take-off driven machines.

Avoid accumulations of dust and chaff; they are a fire hazard.

COW POKES

By Ace Reid

"My missin' cow is motley faced brindled with a touch of Bramer, a crumpled horn, swaller fork in the left ear, crop off the right, triangle brand on the hip, figure 5 on the shoulder and a spoiled left udder!"

This feature sponsored by THE FIRST STATE BANK

Carry dry-chemical type fire extinguishers on machinery and use spark arrestors on all engine exhausts.

Be sure equipment is properly lighted and marked with reflectors, flags and Slow Moving Vehicle emblems.

Finally, make safety a habit.

If bagworms have been a problem for you, the following information should be of value.

When the bags appear on the trees, you have waited too late for control, unless you pick the bags off, and burn them. Chemical treatment of sprays are very effective if applied before the young worms begin to construct bags around themselves. Malathion, carbaryl (seven), lead arsenate or toxaphene insecticides are very effective, when the label directions are followed. Be sure to cover the tree completely, and see if you are not pleased with the results.

Some Motley County farmers will find a very important document in their mailboxes in the next few days. This is the spring acreage survey of the Texas Crop & Livestock Reporting Service, a cooperative effort of the USDA's Statistical Reporting Services and the Texas State Department of Agriculture.

Crop reports for more than 100 years have been important aids to farmers in planning their production and marketing activities. The accuracy of these reports can increase the efficiency of the next year's crop report, and make it more valuable as a planning aid.

Your cooperation in returning these forms promptly will be appreciated.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

TOPIC: Working High School and College Students

Every year at this time thousands of young men and women get a job during their summer vacation and then return to school in the fall. Those students getting a job for the first time will need a Social Security Number to give to their employer so he can withhold their income tax and their social security tax. Most of them will get back the income tax come next January, but Social Security checks and Medicare are quite a few years away.

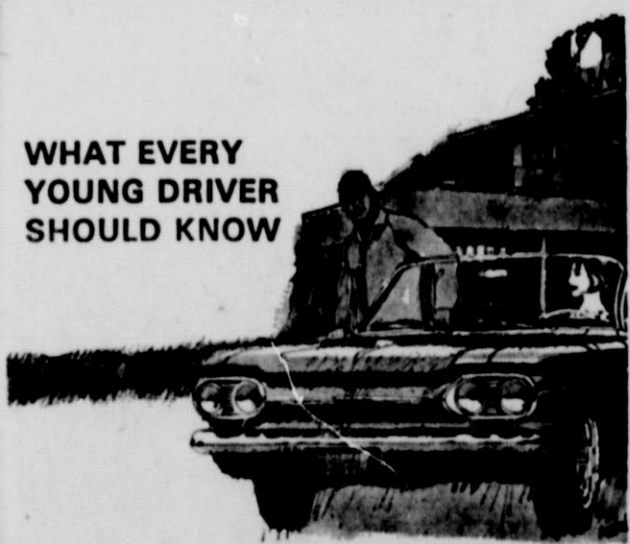

If you work on a summer job, talk to your employer about your W-2 form. Make sure that he knows where to mail it to you so you can file a tax return and claim a refund if you have one coming. Ordinarily you will receive a refund of all income taxes withheld, unless you make more than $900 during the year.

Lawn Mower has Potential Hazard

AUSTIN, (SPECIAL) — Ever since George Washington turned a flock of sheep onto the grounds at Mount Vernon to keep his lawn well-groomed, homeowners have been plagued with the task of keeping up with the Father of our country.

And, "keeping America beautiful," is no longer as simple a task as turning loose a flock of sheep, even though it is easier today than it was back in 1919 when the first power mower was put into operation by an enterprising homeowner.

This ingenious piece of equipment consisted of a gas engine from a washing machine attached to a hand-powered mower. But, it was effective enough to launch the power mower industry in the nation and today it is estimated that there are more than 25 million mowers in use across the country.

However, E. E. Edmondson Jr., President of the Texas Safety Association, and Safety Director for Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation, Houston, notes that power lawn mowers, particularly the rotary type, have proven to be a mixed blessing.

"The power lawn mower is potentially hazardous and it is estimated that these efficient, time-saving devices cause over 100 fatalities and between 55,000 and 80,000 personal injuries across the country each year," he explained.

"Studies show that about 70

Plans and specifications including minimum wage rates as provided by law are available at the office of Algie Groves, Resident Engineer, Matador, Texas, and Texas Highway Department, Austin. Usual rights reserved.

percent of the injuries and deaths result from direct contact with moving parts of the mowers and 30 percent from flying objects. The hurling of objects by the whirling blade of rotary mowers is the greatest 'single cause' of injuries, with flying wire apparently the most common object since it is not easily seen in tall grass and is readily propelled through the air."

The Association President said toes and fingers are the parts of the body most frequently injured. More than 50,000 toes and 18,000 fingers were amputated by power mowers in the United States during a recent year. One in seven of the accidents brought a permanent disability and rotary mowers were involved in over 90 percent of all cases.

These injuries result from getting the foot or hand into the cutting area. Toe injuries usually happen when the power mower is being operated on an incline and the machine is pulled up over the shoe top, or when the foot slips into the cutting area under the machine. Fingertips are often amputated when the operator tries to pull grass or other material, which has stopped the blade so that it will not rotate, from the mower. If the motor is still running, the blade will turn rapidly and catch fingers or the hand when the grass or other object is removed.

Many injuries to feet, ankles and legs are caused when objects are propelled by rotary blades. The blades of the rotary mower constitute a potentially tremendous propulsive force as well as a powerful direct hitting force.

"The swift blades can pick up a rock, stone, rusty nail, bits of glass, steel or wood and hurl them at the operator or a bystander at the speed of a bullet," Mr. Edmondson said, and added: "So fast do such objects fly from the mower that when people are struck they frequently do not even realize what has happened to them."

Studies of such accidents show that projected objects usually strike the left leg, ankle or foot of the operator. Sometimes they are thrown upward hitting the torso, or the eye, causing serious eye injuries or the loss of sight. More rarely, a piece of broken blade, loose metal, wire or stone is hurled out of the discharge chute with such force it can kill anyone it hits.

Boys, ages 10 to 19, are injured more frequently than other operators, according to one study. Among all injuries reviewed, there were three and one-half times as many males as females injured. Saturday was the day most of the victims were injured, but Monday and Thursday did not lag far behind. A high number of accidents occurred in late afternoon and early evening when visibility was decreased and fatigue increased. The highest number of accidents occurred during the early mowing season, with the month of May having the largest number of injuries and showing twice as many mowing accidents as June, the second highest injury-month.

Mr. Edmondson reports that all power mower studies show that most power mower accidents are preventable and offers the following tips for "keeping America beautiful" safely:

Before Mowing

Read the instruction manual that comes with your mower. It contains useful information and hints on the right way to use the mower.

Check mower for cracks, loose nuts or bolts and parts that need replacing.

Fill the tank so you won't have to do this during the operation when the engine is hot — but leave space for expansion. The heat of the sun can cause gasoline to expand. Work out-of-doors to protect yourself from harmful fumes.

Inspect the lawn and clear away any small objects, such as stones, sticks, wire and rocks. Place large objects, such as sand boxes, tricycles and swings where you will not step back and trip over them.

Be sure you can stop the mower and motor at a moment's notice. Know how to disengage the clutch and stop engine quickly. Practice this for any emergency.

Don't wear ill-fitting or loose clothing that can get caught in the machine. Wear sturdy shoes, preferably steel-toe safety shoes. Never mow in sandals or bare feet. Wear safety glasses for eye protection.

Keep children and pets away from the area of mowing at all times. Do not permit children or young teenagers to start or operate the mower. No inexperienced person should be allowed to use your mower.

Do not use electrically-powered mowers when grass is wet or when it's raining unless you're sure entire motor and power cord are in perfect condition and the motor is properly grounded.

While Mowing

Stand firmly when starting the mower. Keep feet well away from the blade. Set machine on a flat, even surface so that it will not tip or roll when starting.

Stop the engine and wait until it is cool if you must re-fuel. Stay clear of the front of self-propelled mowers.

With hand-propelled mower, cut hills, banks and slopes sideways, rather than up or down, provided the grade is not too steep to preserve balance and control. Do not pull mower back toward you on a downgrade. With a riding mower, mow slopes up and down and use extreme caution when on steep inclines.

Never attempt removal of any object from the mower until motor is stopped and blades have stopped turning. If you want to work on the underside to make an adjustment, disconnect the spark plug wire or the electric plug so you won't accidentally start the motor while lifting or turning the mower.

Mow to the left away from exit chute. If you are using an electric-powered mower, keep electric cord to the right behind you, and mow to the left, using care at all times not to run over the cord.

Do not allow double riding on a riding mower and never allow your child to ride with you while you're mowing.

Summers-Varnell Vows Pledged In Afton Baptist Church Rites

Marriage vows were pledged by Miss Darla Ahnise Varnell and Mr. Alfred Hugh Summers in a double ring service read at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, June 1, in the First Baptist Church of Afton. The Reverend J. Allen Smith, campus minister of Austin College, Sherman, officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Varnell of Afton and the parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. F. Bailey Summers of Houston.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length white linen gown, designed with an empire waistline and slightly gathered skirt. The rounded neckline and skirt were accented by embroidery. Her veil was floor-length and held in place by a small crown of organza rosebuds and pearls.

The dress was designed and made by the bride.

Attached to the bride's bouquet of white daisies and English ivy, was a pocket watch used by her paternal grandfather when he worked in the copper mines in Bisbee, Arizona, some sixty years ago. This was her "something old" and she also wore the traditional "something new, borrowed, and blue" and a sixpence in her shoe.

Forming the setting for the ceremony were two strands of greenery and two baskets of white daisies and stock. The windows were decked with honeysuckle.

MRS. STEPHEN JENKINS . . . (Vella Ree Edwards)

Marriage Vows are Exchanged in Candlelight Service in Lubbock

In a candlelight service read at 7 p.m. Saturday in Bowman Chapel of First Methodist Church, Lubbock, Miss Vella Ree Edwards and Mr. Stephen Philip Jenkins pledged double ring wedding vows. The Rev. James R. Williams officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Edwards of Matador and Mr. and Mrs. Philip A. Jenkins of Spearman.

Altar setting for the ceremony featured candle trees containing tall white tapers and two arrangements of white gladioli and white mums. Larger arrangements of white glads and mums were placed before gold candelabra holding crystal votive lights, farther out to the sides of the altar. Emerald palm greenery stands completed the decor. White satin bows with white gladioli marked the pews of the bridal aisle.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Jerry Edwards of Strawn, to a point near the altar, where she was joined by her father, who presented her in marriage. She wore the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue," and a penny in her shoe.

Her gown was of antique ivory Alencon lace and silk organza. The moulded empire bodice of lace was fashioned with high bateau neckline of natural scallops and long, tapered sleeves outlined in natural scallops over the hands. A slim A-line skirt was sprinkled in lace medallions and the court train was fastened at the waistline.

A matching lace coronet highlighted with seed pearls and sugar beading held the bouffant veil. She carried a cascade arrangement of mystery gardenias and white roses surrounding a white cattleya orchid.

Attendants Wear Chiffon

Mrs. Jerry Edwards of Strawn, sister-in-law of the bride was matron of honor. Miss Kathy Jenkins of Spearman and Miss Mila Marion of Houston were bridesmaids. They wore floor-length gowns of apricot chiffon veiled over linen. The yokes and sleeves were in a deeper shade with a square neckline. The floating wattleau panels were attached at the yoke with flat satin bows. They wore matching butterfly veils and carried crystal votive cups with apricot glamelias and gladiolus buds.

Mr. Jenkins served his son as best man. Serving as ushers and groomsmen were Larry Anderson and Dale Crawford. Jerry Edwards also seated guests.

Terry and Suzanne Edwards of Strawn lighted candles. Flower girl was Michelle Edwards of Strawn. Shannon Jameson of Matador was ring bearer.

Traditional wedding music was offered by Bill McMillon, organist, with Mrs. Kay Rives as soloist.

Reception At Church

A reception honored the couple at the church. The bride's table was draped with a formal white satin cloth with a full gathered flounce. A silver cherub-adorned footed bowl held a large arrangement of apricot and talisman gladioli and white roses to center the table. The traditional tiered white wedding cake was served by Mrs. Bundy Hal Campbell and fruit punch was served from a silver punch bowl by Mrs. Vann Francis, both of Matador. Tiny nosegays of fresh flowers adorned the tiers of the cake and accented the shades of apricot of the centerpiece and the tint of the punch.

Following a wedding trip to points in Colorado, the couple will be at home at 2400 44th St. in Lubbock.
