Show Success Despite Cold

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The cold air was sweeping snow in the darkened road which the team followed as faithfully as if the sun were shining. The buggy was hardly large enough for my presence with my parents, but it was warmer that way. The vehicle was almost new and had a sheet of oil cloth in front to protect the passengers. A hole in the center allowed the lines to pass through. A space at the top allowed the driver to see. After a time the team stopped and my father got out and found that the horses were at a gate. We went through and then on into the night to reach our destination in about three hours. Much tribute has been paid to the pioneers and their sacrifices, but the faithful horse also deserved a place of glory in working beside those who blazed the trails into a new land.

My struggle with the cigarette habit is not a screaming victory. There is a question as to my losing the fight to this point. I do not smoke as many cigarettes but I also smoke cigars. Some friends say there is nothing to it. You just decide to quit, and quit. Others have more problems and have gone back to the weed many times. A feature article in the Dallas News magazine section says the cigarette is on its way out and that women are at the head of the parade of quitters. It is some consolation to know that others have problems. A good story is that of a man who was advised by his physician that he had to quit. Later the physician opened a drawer, took out a pack and lit a cigarette. The patient was amazed. "Why you?" he asked. "No doctor ever told me to quit," was the reply.

The team had started and sand was falling back into the ruts. The wagon held our worldly possessions except the milk cow tied to a wagon stanchion. We all looked back and saw the Shepherd dog. My mother called and the animal came leaping, wagging her tail in gratitude for being wanted.

Truth is like a universal solvent that dissolves its container; it must be free. Regardless of precautions taken in concealment, truth will eventually show its light to the world.

Warning Given In Shooting Off Roads

IT is a violation of the law to fire any type of firearm from any public road in Texas according to local Game Warden Ronnie Vandiver. He has asked the Tribune to warn citizens of the law. The fine is $200.

The Game Warden said "we would like to ask the cooperation of the public in observing this law and ask that they do not shoot from the road onto private property."

Levi Wilkinson of Whiteflat had a cow shot Sunday night, but it is not his first loss. He has lost several head of cattle and six hogs in the past few months. His total loss is in the neighborhood of $2,500 he told officers. He said no one has permission to hunt on his land at Whiteflat.

It is pointed out that livestock is very expensive and that the loss of one or more animals may lead to bankruptcy.

Residents are asked to report the presence of cars that might contain night hunters.

IT WAS COLD Saturday for the 34th Annual Junior Livestock show but one of the best crowds in recent years braved the weather and attended. The show was considered a success despite the fact that beef prices are several cents lower than a year ago. Hog prices are also lower than last year.

Tribune editor Douglas Meador who has been reporting the show for a quarter of a century, "froze out" and turned the old Speed Graphic camera over to Rev. Lewis Savage of the Assembly of God Church. He had about two minutes' lesson. He is an expert photographer with his own camera, but the Tribune's old camera did not respond.

To provide some pictures of the show animals, County Agent Bill Pallmeyer made a special trip to Floydada and made the show pictures in this issue. The Tribune is grateful to both men.

A group consisting of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Dirickson, Mrs. Alvin Stearns and Mrs. D. E. Pitts of Matador and Mrs. A. S. Edmondson of Tipton, Okla., returned last week from a Caribbean cruise, covering almost 6,000 miles by air and sea, in nine days.

The group left Matador Friday, March 8, and spent the night in the Windsor Hotel, Abilene, to arise for an early flight on Texas International to the Fort Worth-Dallas Regional Airport, where they transferred to Eastern Airlines for San Juan, Puerto Rico, with a stop at Miami, Florida. At San Juan they boarded the Cunard "Adventurer," a British cruise ship which was their home the remainder of the trip.

The tour of the island was made, which included Blue Beard's castle, Magen's Beach, which was viewed from the mountain top, facing the blue and green, unpolluted waters of the Atlantic ocean, and visiting many interesting shops carrying jade jewelry, perfumes and clothing. The island, called the "American Paradise - U.S. Virgin Islands," by the natives is a melting pot of all nationalities, mainly English, French, Japanese, Danish, Dutch and Swede.

Leaving Friday night, the cruise returned to San Juan where the final tour was a courtesy of the Cunard Lines, Ltd. of London. The group visited many shops in the old and new town, which has a population of one million people, and was then taken to the airport for an afternoon flight at 2:40 p.m. for Miami, Ft. MAXWELL GARDINER, M. D.

PADUCAH MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

DRAWER F
PADUCAH, TEXAS 79248

DEAR PATIENT,

AS YOU ARE AWARE, A NEW DOCTOR, DR. GARDINER, HAS BEEN INTRODUCED INTO THIS PRACTICE.

I WISH TO THANK MY PATIENTS FOR THEIR FORBEARANCE DURING THE LAST 15 MONTHS.

I HOPE THAT NOW THE SERVICE WE WILL BE ABLE TO PROVIDE WILL BE MORE COMPLETE, AND AT THE SAME TIME GIVE THE DOCTORS ADEQUATE TIME OFF.

TO THESE ENDS, AN INTERNAL REORGANIZATION HAS BEEN CARRIED OUT. ITS EFFECT WILL BE THAT BOTH DOCTORS WILL WORK IN A NON-COMPETING PRACTICE, SHARING THE WORKLOAD AND BEING EQUALLY REMUNERATED.

OBVIOUSLY, THE ONLY WAY THAT THIS CAN BE DONE IS BY A BALANCED APPOINTMENT SYSTEM.

SO, FROM APRIL 2nd., SUCH A SYSTEM WILL BE INSTITUTED. THIS WILL WORK ON AN HOURLY BASIS, WITH EACH PATIENT SEEN WITHIN THE HOUR OF THE GIVEN APPOINTMENT.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS WILL BE THAT THE ELDERLY WILL NOT HAVE TO WAIT SO LONG, WHILE BUSINESS MEN AND OTHER WORKERS - WHOSE TIME IS AS VALUABLE AS THE DOCTORS' - WILL HAVE TO TAKE LESS TIME OFF WORK.

NATURALLY, EMERGENCIES WILL BE SEEN AS THEY ARISE; AND SUDDEN ILLNESS WILL BE FITTED INTO OUR DAILY SCHEDULE.

IN KEEPING WITH THE POLICY OF EQUALITY, AN "ON CALL" SYSTEM WILL BE INTRODUCED.

EACH DOCTOR WILL ALTERNATE WEEKS OF NIGHT CALLS FROM 4.30 P.M. TO 8.00 A.M. THE DOCTOR ON CALL WILL HANDLE ALL OUT OF HOURS WORK (INCLUDING HOSPITAL WORK), AND THE OTHER DOCTOR WILL BE RESTED.

A RESTED PHYSICIAN IS A MORE EFFECTIVE PHYSICIAN. YOU WILL BE ABLE TO FIND OUT WHICH DOCTOR IS ON CALL BY CALLING THE CLINIC OR THE HOSPITAL. THE STRAIN THAT ILLNESS PUTS UPON A FAMILY IS UNDERSTOOD AND THE "ON CALL" DOCTOR WILL DO HIS BEST.

IT IS HOPED THAT THE "OFF CALL" DOCTOR'S REST TIME WILL BE RESPECTED, AND THAT HE WILL BE ABLE TO FUNCTION WITH SOME NORMALITY IN HIS LIFE.

BE ASSURED, THERE WILL ALWAYS BE A DOCTOR ON CALL.

IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS, KINDLY CONTACT US.

Schools Get Heart-Lung Instruction

Through the efforts of Dickens County School Nurse, Mrs. Martin Pope, the freshman classes of Patton Springs and McAdoo schools were privileged to be the first students of Heart-Lung Resuscitation instruction presented by the Lubbock Division of the American Heart Association, Inc.

The three-hour instruction period was presented at the McAdoo School by Paul Huffington, M.D., Director of Medicine of Lubbock Methodist Hospital, and Mrs. Joyce Burkholder, Program Director for the American Heart Association.

The ABC's of Heart-Lung Resuscitation Emergency Measures for unconscious persons were presented as: 1. Airway 2. Breathe 3. Circulate. Dr. Huffington lectured, invited questions, showed and discussed a film illustrating the ABC's, and illustrated the techniques on a teaching-tool dummy. Then the students were put to work giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation and closed-heart circulation to the dummy.

The American Heart Association plans to have the program operating on a national basis next year for all ninth grade students.

Research Made On Area Trees

LUBBOCK - The locations of late blooming apricot trees on the South Plains are being sought by a Texas Tech University horticulturist whose goal is to develop trees which will produce five out of six years.

If anyone on the South plains has an apricot tree that still has 25 per cent or more of its blossoms, Dr. George Elle is interested. He asks that these owners write him in care of the Department of Agronomy, Texas Tech University, Lubbock, Texas 79409.

Elle will get in touch with the owners at a later date to obtain bud wood which will be evaluated in Texas Tech orchards.

"I have heard of people in the area who have trees which make crops five out of six years," Prof. Elle said, "and I am interested in the trees which have produced crops for three or four years out of the last six."

The average trees, he said, produce crops only one out of five years.

Elle said he hopes to circumvent the problem of late killing frosts common to the area. While Elle usually can find out-of-state stock for research he is convinced that the only solution to finding the right apricot trees for South Plains weather is to work with seedling apricots, which have come from seed planted in West Texas.

"If we can develop late blooming apricot trees," he said, "The public will be the beneficiaries. Our immediate goal is to find the right trees. We will develop a supply of them for the public to plant, harvest and enjoy."

RECP Program Available For Grass Planting

Now is the time to plant grasses, according to Ervin Willard, District Conservationist of the local SCS Office. Grasses should be planted in a firm seedbed with very little soil disturbance in order to prevent increased loss of moisture, Willard said.

Cost-shares through the Great Plains Conservation Program and the new RECP Program (ASCS) are available to assist Motley County farmers. A grass drill is available at the Voc. Ag. Dept. at Matador High School. For further information contact the local SCS Office assisting the Upper Pease SWCD.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Land that is deepbroken or chiseled can cause cloudy conditions, making it nearly impossible for proper incorporation of preplant herbicides such as trifluralin or planavin. If the land is reasonably free of large clods, effective control can be obtained, but make sure that any plant material is well worked into the soil. Stubble will tie up any herbicide that hits it before it gets into the soil. Where plant residue is heavy, it is often wise to increase the herbicide rate by 25 percent.

Be sure to follow the directions on the label of the herbicide. These materials have been tested, and if directions are not followed, most of the time results will not be as expected.

For additional information on herbicide weed control, ask for a copy of "Suggestions for Weed Control with Chemicals." Different recommended materials are listed by crop, and precautions given.

Motley County livestock producers will be affected by the 1974 Texas Brucellosis Eradication Program, which officially began Jan. 15, 1974. Texas became "modified-certified" in August, 1973 which meant that less than 5 percent of the cattle herds and less than 1 percent of the cattle were infected. The new plan will make Texas a Brucellosis-free state.

The new Brucellosis (Bangs) program is designed to locate infection, contain it and assist the owner of infected animals to eliminate the disease. The methods of testing used are: Brucellosis Ring Test for dairy herds; Market Cattle Test of all breeding cattle slaughtered; and Blood Test of all breeding cattle exchanging ownership. All infected and exposed cattle are quarantined and their movement is limited to slaughter only. Blood testing procedures are used to assist owners of infected herds to free their cattle of the disease.

All cattle, except steers, spayed heifers and vaccinated animals under two years old must be tested within 30 days of any change of ownership.

A relatively simple "card" test has been developed that gives quick results - an improvement over the old system of sending blood samples to a laboratory. The cost of this initial test by a practicing veterinarian or other authorized person must be paid by the cattleman.

If a brucellosis reactor is found at a sale yard or slaughterhouse, federal or state personnel tract the animal back to its herd of origin. Traceback tools include registered back tag or ear tags that many sale facilities are routinely putting on consigned animals. Ear tags are required for interstate shipment of most cattle.

Other animals in consignment where the reactor was found can be handled any of three ways - sold immediately for slaughter, sent to a quarantined feedlot, or returned to the ranch for quarantine.

All members of the herd of origin are considered exposed to the disease and must be tested at 30 and 120 days after the first reactor is found.

Government agencies conduct these additional tests and pay the direct costs. All reactor animals must be branded with a "B" on the jaw and sold immediately for slaughter. Meat from these animals is not tainted.

Fortunes made in no time are like shirts made in no time; it's ten to one if they hang long together.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Unless roses are pruned, the owner can't expect the beauty and growth the plants are capable of producing. Annual pruning is necessary to keep the plants shaped and healthy. The best time in this area to prune roses is late February and early March.
 Heavy pruning results in fewer flowers, but size and quality is improved. Remove all dead, diseased and injured twigs as well as all of the thin, spindly growth that is frequently found at the base of an old, established plant. Cut back top growth to 15 or 18 inches above the ground, keeping four to six with straw, leaves or some other organic matter," explains Welch.

He emphasizes that evergreens should be kept moist during the winter months, since their leaves lose water rapidly in cold, windy weather. This results in burning of the leaves or even death of the plants if exposed to prolonged winds and low soil moisture.

Plants that will not tolerate freezing temperatures can sometimes be kept alive by placing them in a garage or similar area where temperatures do not reach the freezing point. Welch suggests keeping these plants on the dry side until they can be placed in a better lighted area and resume growth once again.

"It is usually more practical to replace tropicals such as the copper plant, plumbago and hibiscus each spring rather than try to get them through the winter," adds the Texas A&M University System specialist.

In recent years, container grown plants have added a different dimension to landscapes due to their portability. A "mini-environment" can be created for plants since many growing conditions can be regulated. So, certain plants not adapted to a particular area may still be grown, says Welch.

Climbing roses should receive their major pruning after the spring flush of bloom. On healthy plants, remove or cut back any cane over two years old. Thin last season's growth by at least one-half and cut back to within several feet of the base to encourage new growth.
 Cover all cuts and ends of canes with pruning paint to prevent entry of disease and insects.
 Roses will usually start growing within two or three weeks after pruning. Be ready to start preventive disease control against Black Spot at this time and continue every two weeks until frost.

Most container grown plants can be enjoyed for many seasons if given proper care. And special care is important during the winter season, notes Dr. William Welch, landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"When considering winter care of hardy container plants, remember that the free movement of air around the container makes the plant's roots more susceptible to cold damage than if planted in the ground. Some small container plants can be overwintered by sinking them in the ground in a fairly protected area and mulching
