TRAIL DUST

Tragedy is reflected in the high mirrors of heaven when a man hitches his wagon to a star and forgets that a wheel is tied to his limitations.

When the last flagons of truth have been emptied into understanding's vast cistern, it will become apparent that greatness is simply an attitude of the heart.

Laughter writes its own music to the accompaniment of flutes that are attuned to acoustics conditioned with the sound of angels singing.

Knowledge is so abundant that its value is often estimated by the supply, without making due allowance for the cost of processing.

In cutting the corners a man may deprive himself the harvest from cultivating some of life's most productive acreage.

Duty is the slave of character, anticipating a command before it is spoken, and polishing the master's boots while he sleeps.

Kind words are fireflies that dart through the foliage of private despair and sometimes light the candles of hope merely by their passing.

We must return to the historical day of tribute to those who gave of themselves for their country and return Veterans Day to November 11, he continued.

Williams said that Governor Briscoe has publicly endorsed this proposed legislation, and that all veterans organizations, such as the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, World War I veterans and others have endorsed and are pushing to have Veterans Day moved back to November 11.

"A Musical Book Review" Subject Of Club Program

El Progreso Club met Nov. 14 in the home of Mrs. J. L. Woodruff for "A Musical Book Review," presented by Mrs. R. M. Dailey of Grapeland, the former Dorothy Woodruff, and daughter of the hostess and Mr. Woodruff.

As members arrived they were greeted by the hostess and were invited to the dining area where punch, coffee and pumpkin bread were awaiting.

Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr., club president, presided over a brief business meeting and then presented Mrs. W. F. McCaghren, leader for the day.

Mrs. McCaghren opened the program by reading the caption from the yearbook, "There is sweet music here that softer falls than petals from blown roses on the grass," from The Lotus-Eaters, Tennyson. She then presented Mrs. Dailey, for the program "Cole." In a combined book review and organ presentation, Mrs. Dailey held her audience of members and guests in rapt attention.

In her introduction, Mrs. Dailey told of her early introduction to music through the encouragement of her parents, and speech classes at an early age, from Mrs. J. R. Whitworth. She enjoys her music every day, belongs to a book review club, giving one review a year, and she also enjoys an Organ club.

The book "Cole" by Robert Kimball provided the story of the program. In her narration, Mrs. Dailey told of Cole Porter's birth in 1891 in Indiana, and early years at the piano with his mother as teacher. He was formally educated at Worcester Academy in Massachusetts, where he was Valedictorian of his class and was sent to Europe as a graduation gift. He attended Yale, started Harvard Law School, then, not being interested, switched to their school of music. In 1917 he joined the French Foreign Legion and along with his back-pack, carried a portable piano, entertaining troops along the way, and was awarded Frances' highest honor for boosting morale of the troops in wartime.

After the war he met wealthy divorcee Linda Lee Thomas at the American Embassy, later marrying her and residing in Paris. HIS FIRST song to bring him an income was "In an Old Fashioned Garden." It brought him $10,000.00 and was his favorite song. Mrs. Dailey played this song on the organ and all or excerpts from other songs mentioned in the program.

In the 1920's Cole and Linda Porter lived lavishly in Paris and accepted luxury as their due. The 20's were the beginning of a new age for popular music. From this era came "Let's Do It, Let's Fall in Love" and "You do Something to Me." In the late 20's, Porter studied classical music during the day and jazz at night.

In the 1930's the Porters tired of the mad "carnival" life they were living, being unaffected by the Depression. During this decade he wrote over 100 songs, the first being from the show, The Gay Divorcee, from which the ever popular "Night and Day" came. In that medley, along with "Night and Day," Mrs. Dailey played "Anything Goes," "I Get a Kick Out of You," "Blow, Gabriel, Blow," and "You're the Top" from Anything Goes.

Porter collaborated with Moss Hart on Jubilee - "Just One of Those Things," and "Begin the Beguine," being two of the greatest ones ever written. From Born to Dance came "I've Got You Under my Skin," and "Easy to Love." Sunrise on the harbor at Rio de Janeiro inspired "It's Delightful."

WHEN NOT at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, they were in California. It was on one of these their marriage began to deteriorate. Cole liked the movie moguls; his wife didn't. During this time "In the Still of the Night," was enjoyed by many. In 1937 Porter was riding a horse, the horse fell, first on one of Cole's legs, then the other, breaking both of them. He was 46 when this happened and eventually, after many operations, one leg was amputated, with his suffering constant pain.

From 1940-1944 many songs were written for Broadway shows. From those years, came "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," "Every Time We Say Goodbye," "Don't Fence Me In," and "You'd Be So Nice to Come Home to." In the late 1940's he hit a lull. He thought long before he wrote the music for Kiss Me Kate, of which, "True to You in My Fashion," was one. From Can-Can came "It's All Right with Me," and "I Love Paris."

During the 1950's his life made a sudden change. His wife died from emphysema. He wrote the score for High Society and dedicated the song "True Love" to his wife of 30 years. He died in Oct. 1964 having lived 10 years after his wife's death.

THE INSPIRATIONAL Thought was given by another guest, Mrs. Tilden Armstrong of Albany, whom Mrs. Woodruff introduced with, "Good friends and music are her inspiration." Mrs. Armstrong sang Vincent Youman's, "Without a Song," accompanied at the piano by her niece, Mrs. Howard Traweek.

Mrs. W. N. Pipkin urged all to write Congressman Geo. Mahon to vote in the Senate Conference Committee for $775,000,000 for cancer research.

Members in attendance were Miss Mary Keith and Mesdames R. E. Campbell Jr., W. F. Jacobs, Furman Vinson, J. R. Whitworth, E. A. Day, Ben Keltz, J. E. Edwards, Raymond Davis, W. F. McCaghren, Freeman Thacker, Fred Simpson, A. J. Daffern, D. E. Pitts, Howard Traweek, Robert Darsey, and the hostess, Mrs. Woodruff. Guests were Mesdames Glenn Woodruff, Tony Dean, John Hamilton, Pat Sheridan, Freddie Welling, Tilden Armstrong, and R. M. Dailey. Enjoying the program from a back row seat were J. L. Woodruff and Rev. Tilden Armstrong.

Club Program Given On Cake Decorating

Members of Eternas Junior Study Club heard an interesting program on "Cake Decorating" at their monthly meeting, Thursday night, Nov. 21, at the home of Mrs. Johnney Turner, with Mrs. Pat Seigler serving as co-hostess.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Bill Palmeyer, who showed how to decorate a birthday cake for a boy, and a girl and how to decorate cakes for other occasions. The program subject was, "Working Together for Unity in the Home." Roll call was answered with, "My experiences with cake decorating."

Following the demonstration, each member decorated a cupcake, which served as refreshments. Cakes, coffee and nuts were also served. A business meeting was held following the program, with the president, Mrs. Ronald Vandiver, presiding. Roll call was heard, and the minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

LUNCHEON HIGHLIGHT

At our luncheon Thursday, Nov. 14 at Dorothy Day's, Tommy brought some golf pictures - that we all enjoyed seeing again - after all these years. . . one made in July, 1963, with Nell, La Voe, Jane (Goodwin) Thacker, Lillian and Hazel, at Buzz Field. . . one at Snyder C.C. Tournament. . . sometime after 1966, of Tommy, Catherine Bird, and Hazel. . . one of Tommy playing with the "Drop-Outs" . . . and another old one at our luncheon in Oct. 1962, at Louise's home, of all winners in our tournament - Nell, Marion Woodruff, La Voe, Catherine Bird, Erma Edwards, Lucretia Edwards Campbell, and Hazel.

The next meeting will be the annual Christmas program December 12, at the home of the president, Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr. Members were reminded to bring gifts at that time, for the Christmas box to be sent to the State Hospital in Vernon.

Jr. Campbell, Laverna, Frank, and Hazel.

A prayer of thanks was offered by Grace Campbell, for the gourmet feast consisting of plantation turkey, various kinds of salads, relishes, red beans, individual bread stick rolls, and cake. . . served from the dining table which was centered with an arrangement of red votive candles in a serpentine coil, and greenery - very festive.

Following dinner, everyone enjoyed a relaxing time of visiting. It was conceded that the gals might not be the best players in the world, but they could claim the title of Best Cooks!

We especially regret that Clyde and Elsie Gilbert were unable to attend our party, as he has been one of the most faithful of our "helpers." Clyde has just recently returned home from the hospital and surgery. . . and was at home recuperating.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

Consider the following scripture about the gospel which was sent from heaven via the Holy Spirit.

In Him, you also, after listening to the message of truth, the gospel of your salvation - having also believed, you were sealed in Him with the Holy Spirit of promise. . . . Eph. 1:13

Christians at Ephesus trusted in Christ after they heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation. To experience salvation, one must hear the gospel. Listen to Paul as he writes to Christians at Rome.

So faith comes from hearing, and hearing by the word of Christ. Ro. 10:17

But we should always give thanks to God for you, brethren beloved, by the Lord, because God has chosen you from the beginning for salvation through sanctification by the Spirit and faith in the truth. And it was for this He called you through our gospel, that you may gain the glory of our Lord Jesus Christ. II. Thes. 2:13-14

Paul reminds the Thessalonians that they were chosen "to salvation" by sanctification by the Spirit AND "faith in the truth." Paul also preached that faith comes by hearing the word of Christ. Also, the Thessalonians WERE CALLED by the gospel. How does God call people to Him? By the gospel of the Christ.

Has Got You Covered

If you were a cottonseed I'd be your best friend. You and I both know that cotton, soon after planting, can become a victim of many disease and insect attacks. That's why PER-FECT CON-TROL, a totally new concept in seed treatment from Gustafson of Dallas, was developed to cover High Plains cottonseed.

PER-FECT CON-TROL is a combination of VITAVAX 17F, a systemic fungicide from UniRoyal, GO-BETTER, systemic phosphate insecticide from Growth Inc., and CAPTAIN, the time proven fungicide.

All three are on the seed to give it protection from early insect attacks, pre- and post-emergence diseases, and soil borne fungi for up to 4 weeks.

These are all problems that we, as High Plains cotton growers, face every year. Come in and see me. Delwin Brooks of Brooks Grain & Delinting Company in Paducah for more information on using PER-FECT CON-TROL to cover your high plains cottonseed.

The Tradition of Freedom... Our Cherished Legacy

Freedom is a tradition in our great nation. From the earliest beginnings, the courage of our Pilgrim forefathers made it possible. The will and faith of our people have kept it alive. It will remain ours with vigilance and dedication. So—the past, the present and the future are inextricably woven together. Through freedom. Today we give thanks for this precious legacy. We remember and cherish our tradition. We pray that freedom will become the inalienable right of all nations.

County Agent Pallmeyer Says

Timely control of greenbugs will pay. Spray too late, and the damage can't be replaced. Spray too early and increase your cost of control.

Most of the time small grain from 3 to 6 inches tall can stand 100 to 300 greenbugs per linear ft., while grain 4 to 8 inches tall can stand 200-400 per linear ft., and grain 6 to 16 inches tall can stand 300-800 per linear ft.

The better the moisture situation, the more greenbugs the plants can stand. Also before deciding to spray, see how many beneficial insects are present, keeping in mind that if the crop is suffering, 25 to 50 greenbugs per linear ft. of row will justify control.

Appearing on small grain along with the greenbug are corn leaf aphids. These tend to be bluer in color and are found on the whorl and upper plant parts, with honeydew present. Normally greenbugs feed on the underside of the leaves (but not always.) Oats & barley are more susceptible than wheat or rye.

If controls are necessary, the warmer the day, the better the results, and if the temperature is below 65, use the higher recommendation. For recommendations, ask for a copy of MP-339, Suggestions for Controlling Insects & Mites on Corn, Sorghums and Small Grains.

WATER HEATER SAVER-TIPS
It's amazing how much water a leaky faucet will drip in a month's time and if the leaking faucet is a hot water faucet, it will waste both energy and water needlessly. As an example, a faucet dripping 90 drops per minute will waste 300 gallons per month.

To assure long life and efficiency, the water heater tank should have a small amount of water drained periodically. Once a month should be adequate. The purpose of draining water from the tank is to prevent sediment build-up in the tank bottom.

The thermostat controlling the water temperature is usually pre-set at the factory to deliver hot water at 150° F. This setting has proven satisfactory from the standpoint of operating cost and household needs.

A water heater that's old, or too small for your family needs, can be wasteful, because it's working too hard and using too much energy to keep up with your hot water demands.
