Exes Come From Far And Near To Celebrate Homecoming 1993

A successful Homecoming celebration was enjoyed by all who attended the past weekend. Activities began with the big bon fire held on Thursday night, and continued with a Pep Rally on Friday afternoon, before the big game with Lorenzo on Friday night. The Matadors made Homecoming even more great, when they won the game.

The annual Homecoming Program was held on Saturday afternoon. Co-President, Pennie Marshall Keltz, welcomed the exes and gave tribute to Secretaries Hazel Walton Donovan and Olivia Campbell Barton. She thanked them for doing all the work and keeping the Co-Presidents informed of the next step to take in the plans. Mrs. Keltz then introduced Ed D. Smith Jr., class of 1960. Mr. Smith, with usual jovial flair, was emcee for the program.

Vamer McWilliams, class of '43, gave the invocation. Mr. Smith read the memorial list for the year. Three members of the Motley County High School Choir, Brooke Brandon, Mandi Farley, and Kyle Mars, directed by Beverly Mars, sang three songs.

Classes holding reunions were recognized at this time. Exes were honored, with Mrs. Bertha Patton Stearns being honored for having taught the longest. Bertha was also recognized as one of the earliest graduates, along with Hazel Walton Donovan, Charlie Keith, and Gertrude Groves Smith, all members of the class of 1924.

The next awards were presented to Ruth Keith Latimer and Algie Durbin, who were selected Queen and King, both of the class of 1943. Jimmy Watson, class of '55, was recognized for having travelled the longest distance.

New Co-Presidents were elected, Brenda Renfro Osborn and her husband, Billy Osborn. Charles Keith was elected Vice-President with Hazel and Olivia re-elected as Co-Secretaries. Directors were also named, Pennie and Kelly Keltz, Colleen Baxter, Rhonda Williams Miller, Dana Dillard Rieger, Mark Wason, and Geraldene Wayborn Key.

The Andrews Gospel Singers, a group composed of Stanley and Melissa Bailey Martin, Matador exes, and Randy and Carol, also of Andrews sang a selection of gospel songs before Lloyd Latimer, class of 1943 gave the benediction.

Homecoming is over for another year, and was deemed a big success. Make your plans now to attend Homecoming 1994!

1993 HOMECOMING QUEEN & KING — Ruth Keith Latimer and Algie Durbin, class of 1943; and Jimmy Watson, class of 1955, was honored for having traveled the longest distance.

Changes Made For County Livestock Show

The 1994 Motley County Junior Livestock Show will be held on Saturday, March 12, 1994 in Matador. This will be the first time the Stock Show will not be held on a Monday. The Board of Directors for the 1994 Motley County Junior Livestock Association are Billy Wayne Denison, President; Craig Turner, Secretary; Bruce Lefevre, Mark Seigler, Ron Gastineau, and Rickey Lawrence. Advisors are Jim Cooper and Michael Clawson.

The Directors have made a few rule changes and set the dates for livestock projects to be on-feed for the 1994 Stock Show.

Youth Auction: for the 1994 Show, the number of animals (steers, lambs, hogs) and exhibitor can sell in the Premium Auction will be limited. If an exhibitor shows only one (1) specie of livestock (either steers, lambs, or hogs), he/she can sell a maximum of three (3) animals in that specie during the Premium Auction. If an exhibitor shows two (2) or more species of livestock, he/she can sell a maximum of two (2) animals per specie in which they exhibited.

Example #1: If an exhibitor has 4 hogs entered in the Livestock Show and all 4 qualify for the Premium Sale, he/she can only sell 3 of the hogs in the Premium Sale.

Example #2: If an exhibitor has 3 hogs, 3 lambs, and 3 steers and all qualify for the Premium Sale, he/she can only sell 2 hogs, lambs, and 2 steers in the Premium Sale.

Market Steers: All steers must be purchased and on-feed by the exhibitors before November 21, 1993. Steers will be weighted on Sunday, November 21, 1993 beginning at 2:00 p.m. at L.B. Campbell's south of Matador. Each exhibitor is limited to six (6) steers per exhibitor.

Market Lambs: Lambs must be purchased and on-feed before December 1, 1993. Lambs must have all baby teeth intact and must weigh 80 to 140 pounds at Show date. Wether or ewe lambs may be shown. Each exhibitor is limited to six (6) lambs per exhibitor.

Market Swine: Hogs must be purchased and on-feed before December 15, 1993. Gilts or barrows may be shown. Market hogs must weigh 200 to 260 pounds at Show date. Each exhibitor is limited to six (6) hogs per exhibitor.

Rabbits: Rabbits must weigh between 3 to 5 pounds on Show date. Exhibitors have the option to purchase rabbits through the Motley County Livestock Association or breed and raise their own. The rabbits should be approximately 70 days of age at Show date. Each exhibitor can show a maximum of 2 rabbits, either 2 bucks, 2 does, or 1 buck and 1 doe. FFA and 4-H members should contact Motley County Extension Office before December 1, 1993 if they plan to show rabbits.

Open Heifers: Anyone living in Motley County, owning land in Motley County, or youth eligible for the Motley County Junior Livestock Show may show heifers. The heifers must be 12 to 18 months of age at Show time. The heifers will be shown in a pen and do not have to be halter broke.

The Motley County Junior Livestock Show is open to all youth enrolled in FFA or 4-H in Motley County. Anyone needing assistance in purchasing livestock projects for the show should contact Jim Cooper, FFA Advisor, or Michael Clawson, County Extension Agent, as soon as possible. For rules and more information about the Motley County Junior Livestock Show, contact the County Extension Office at 347-2733.

Caprock Hospital District Delays Action On Hospital Opening

NOTE: The following article was taken from the Floyd County Hesperian-Beacon. Due to the fact that so many Motley County residents used the Floydada Clinic and Hospital, we felt our readers would be interested in the progress being made to re-open the Hospital.

The Caprock Hospital District met in regular session on Thursday, Sept. 16. No action was taken on setting an official opening date for the Floydada hospital. The Board was in a state of shock due to the sudden death of board member and longtime Floydada pharmacist, Jerry Thompson.

Administrator Ronald Ammons told the board his reasons for moving ahead with opening the facility with the present physicians and the newly hired Physician's Assistant (PA) as staff were the recruiting additional physicians would be easier and that confidence in the hospital would be raised if it were open.

Dr. Antoine Albert, currently on loan from St. Mary of the Plains Hospital in Lubbock stated that he felt it was important to the facility open and functioning, but recommended a step by step plan to do so. He indicated that with the current staff and the clinic, lab and x-ray departments working well, the next step he would consider would be to open a 24 hour emergency room.

Albert stated that this would provide sources of income to the district and allow time to assess the potential patient admissions from the clinic and an emergency room in order to calculate the possible patient population for the hospital. He questioned the legal aspects in-

Barbara's Bylines

How about those Motley County Matadors! If you haven't been to a game this year you are really missing a good team as well as some good football.

The Pep Rallies are real good and really gets everyone ready for the game.

There seems to be a 'stick mania'. At the end of the rally the cheerleaders give out painted sticks (Spirit Sticks) as prizes for the person or group that makes the most noise or has the most spirit. Things sure do liven up as the students and faculty vie for the "Spirit Sticks".

Something else new last week - Scott Salsbury was running with the MC flag at the pep rally and at the ballgame, when we made a touchdown. That was a good addition.

The Bonfire was extra good this year too, good job! My granddaughter Leanne enjoys the pep rallies and the football games. She liked her first bonfire, too.

SHINING STARS - These three members of the Tarleton State University Texan Stars dance team were recognized for their outstanding contributions at the halftime performance at the Tarleton game against East Central University. From left are Star Shine Heather Hobbs, a junior from Matador, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hobbs; and Spirit Stars Rodda Yeates, a senior from Boerne, and Porcha Clark, a freshman from Graford. Arts & Crafts Club Members Meet For Lunch And Crafts Seventeen members of Motley County Arts and Crafts Club met September 13 at the Senior Citizens Center for a most outstanding workshop.

Mrs. Bonnie Edmondson taught how to paint with sequin paint. It was a fascinating art form, now paint when dry, appears as sequins. Many lovely T-shirts were the result.

A most delicious luncheon was enjoyed by all, work continued at 1 p.m.

Joyce Meredith, Club President, called a business meeting at 2 p.m. Plans were made for future activities including assignments for Museum tenure.

An arrangement of ratian baskets, dried star flowers, autumn leaves and Jack-o-lanterns, graced the serving table, covered with an ecru tablecloth.

Hostesses were Opal Pipkin and Winifred Darsey. Members present were Joannie Stephens, Mary Lou Williams, Joyce Meredith, Betty Simpson, Joy Archer, Geraldine Key, Una Simpson, Dora Watson, Opal Pipkin, Winifred Lee, Pearl Rattan, Elsie Thacker, Pauline Hand, Lorene Lancaster, Marisue Potts, Bonnie Edmondson, and Winifred Darsey.

The October meeting will be held the 4th, at 10 a.m. A covered dish luncheon will be held at 12 noon, at the Senior Citizens Center. Program pending.

ARE YOU GETTING ENOUGH GRAINS?

Although most Americans are eating more grain-based foods, fruits and vegetables than ever, a recent national survey shows they're still not getting enough for optimum health.

The U.S. Dietary Guidelines encourage Americans to nearly double their daily bread, cereal and pasta intake, but a Gallup study shows most Americans are unaware of these guidelines. For example, the "Basic Four" have been replaced with five food groups. Although this change was made in 1990, only 19 percent of survey respondents knew there are five basic food groups. Only three percent of respondents claim to be "very familiar" with the Food Pyramid, the graphic which illustrates dietary guidelines. Another 24 percent said they are "somewhat familiar" with it.

Another compelling finding is that 83 percent of survey respondents could not correctly identify the Bread, Cereal, Rice and Pasta Group as the basic food group from which Americans should eat the most daily servings. Because breads and other grain foods are at the Pyramid's base, diets should be built around this group.

In fact, USDA recommendations include eating a minimum of six daily servings of bread and grain foods. Only five percent of those surveyed said they eat the recommended 6-11 daily servings of grain foods. The median respondent averaged just three servings. Ironically, 74 percent incorrectly think they eat the "right amount".

Even after researchers explained the Pyramid's grain food guideline, only 15 percent of the respondents were "very likely" to increase their consumption to the recommended serving level.

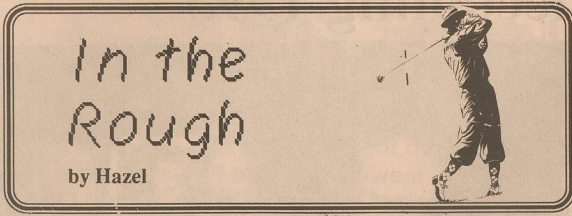

Misunderstandings about serving sizes could be one reason more Americans are hesitant about increasing their bread and grain consumption. Many people think eating 6-11 servings seems like a lot. But serving sizes are modest, so the recommended guidelines are easy to meet. For example, a slice of bread or one-half cup of cooked pasta is one serving. A bun, bagel or muffin counts as two.

Another reason for people not increasing their grain foods consumption is misinformation. Fifty percent of survey respondents incorrectly think bread is fattening. However, increasing bread and grain consumption can actually reduce overall fat percentage by replacing high-fat, high-calorie foods. Grain foods also help satisfy hunger, which reduces the temptation to overeat.

Gallup's survey of 1,000 adult shoppers nationwide was commissioned by the Wheat Foods Council after a 1991 study disclosed that half of the Americans surveyed didn't know white bread is a wheat-based food. Both surveys have a margin of error of plus or minus three percentage points.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are for people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap, or national origin.

Predicta Study Club Meets In Roaring Springs

The Roaring Springs Predicta Study Club met for their regular meeting, the third Thursday of the month at 7:30 p.m. in the Depot.

President Grace Zabielski opened the meeting with a reading on friendship, and conducted the business meeting. After the business the group enjoyed slides by Lula Swim, as we visited old friends at one of our annual Christmas parties, always held at LaVoe Thacker's home. We had glimpses of our annual barbeque dinner, always served on the Thursday of Old Settlers, then we traveled to see "Old

Involved in opening with so few physicians. This would be difficult for Dr. Tomasevic and the PA to cover an emergency room situation on a 24 hour a day basis without hiring outside temporary physicians.

Another reason of concern to Albert was possible transfer situations when the PA is on duty. According to Albert, transfer of a patient requires a physician's signature and it would be questionable to have a PA signing. He suggested seeking legal advice before taking this course of action.

Ammons told the board he had checked into it and that a PA's signature was acceptable as long as a physician countersigned within 24 hours since this is classified as a medically underserved area.

Board member Tom Farris questioned the advisability of "trying to force the hospital open on a shoe string without an adequate staff of doctors." He stated that the odds of keeping it open were not good under those circumstances.

No decision was made and no action was taken. The Board was to meet again Tuesday, Sept. 29.

Don Warren Retires From Texas Department of Transportation

Don Warren

After 34 years of service and dedication to the Texas Department of Transportation, Don Warren, of Matador, is retiring. Don began his career with TxDOT in September, 1961 as a maintenance technician. He worked 26 months before returning to active military duty for the Berlin Crisis in 1961. When Don returned to the Department, he worked in several areas including acting as Crew Chief for the asphalt crew for 22 years. Earlier this year Don was promoted to Assistant Foreman. Don and his wife, Pat, are natives of Matador, and have two children, Joe Don and Donna Kay.

Hundreds of veteran State employees are expected to accept a special legislative invitation, better known as SB81, which raises the annuity for employees eligible to retire between September 30, 1993 and August 31, 1995. Effective September 30 the Texas Department of Transportation's Childress District, which includes thirteen counties, will lose an estimated 742 years of experience in 24 employees.

Save Hot Water Cost Without Switching To Cold Showers

AUSTIN, TX - Sept. 27 -- A water heater fueled by propane could save the average Texas family nearly $200 a year compared to the cost of heating water electrically, while at the same time benefiting the environment and creating jobs in Texas.

That's the message of the Railroad Commission's new newspaper and radio advertising campaign that kicks off statewide this week. The campaign is part of the Commission's legislative mandate to educate Texans about propane's benefits as an environmentally beneficial alternative fuel.

Commission studies show the initial expense of installing a propane-fueled water heater is no higher than other types, but the return on investment is much faster. According to Chairman James E. (Jim) Nugent, fuel-cost savings recoup the initial purchase price in about two years. "That's about a 50% annual return on investment," Nugent said, "which is considerably more than you get at the bank." Assuming typical delivered costs of 82 cents per gallon for propane, savings over the ten-year life of the water heater could total more than $2,000, Nugent added.

A major reason for propane's economy is its efficiency compared to other methods of energy production. More than two-thirds of the energy generated by oil or coal-burning electric utility companies literally goes up in smoke, and is therefore lost at the source. Propane, a clean-burning primary fuel, is nearly 2 1/2 times as efficient, delivering 87 percent of its energy directly to the burner tip.

Propane is widely distributed and readily available throughout Texas. "More than a third of the nation's propane comes from Texas," noted Commissioner Mary Scott Nabers. "Texas has a state-wide propane production and distribution network in place, and the more people take advantage of propane as a domestic and commercial heating fuel, the more jobs that network creates." Nabers added that a new market worth $65 million a year to the Texas economy would arise if the 60 to 70 percent of all propane-heated Texas households that heat water electrically switched over to propane.

Propane technology has also become more efficient in recent years. Today's propane water heater uses one third less fuel than heaters manufactured as recently as five years ago, which contributes to the fuel's economy. Advanced burner design, energy-saving temperature controls and better insulation make the most of every gallon of fuel.

Texas' environment also benefits from using propane to heat water, according to Commissioner Barry Williamson. "Air pollution concerns all Texans, in both urban and rural areas," Williamson said. "Gallon for gallon," Williamson added, "it takes nearly three times as much fuel, generating nearly three times as much ozone-depleting greenhouse gas, to heat water electrically as it does to heat it directly with propane."

Quick recovery is a primary benefit of propane water heaters. Anyone who has ever run out of hot water in the middle of a shower, especially in cold weather, will appreciate the prospect of having plenty of hot water on tap. In a comparison of first-hour recovery rates of typical 40-gallon water heaters, the propane model provided nearly twice as much hot water over the same period of time as a comparable electric model.

As part of the Commission's latest educational consumer campaign, look for newspaper ads touting "Pay less per fill up" in 368 weekly newspapers across the state and statewide radio commercials illustrating the economic and environmental benefits of propane water heating. For more information, call the Texas Railroad Commission's Alternative Fuels Division at 1-800-64-CLEAR.

We cannot be just if we are not kindhearted.
