Lions Get Preview Of New Structure

IT WAS AN ADVENTURE to most of the Matador Lions Club members who visited the new Motley County Independent School district building now under construction. The tour followed the Lions' annual visit Tuesday to the school lunch room during Texas Schools Week. The club members were in a good mood for they had just been served an outstanding luncheon in the lunch room. The menu included turkey and dressing and the "trimmings," choice of beverages and followed by peach cobbler. One of the most popular items served was the large homemade hot biscuits and ample quantities of real butter. Some members said they would have been content with the two items.

Only a few Lions visited the grade school building, as is the past custom. Everyone wanted to see the new building across the street which will house the grade school, high school, cafeteria, auditorium, snack bar, kitchen, home ec department and covers approximately 47,000 square feet of concrete floor.

Three groups of Lions followed guides including Supt. Charles Johnson, Principal Wayland Moore and grade school Principal J. E. Edwards. The groups were about evenly divided and visited all sections of the massive building.

One of the more interesting features was the "hole" which is basement and will house the library and serve as a storm shelter in event of a tornado.

The building is believed to be as near fireproof as it is possible to build a structure. All electrical circuits are in conduits and controlled from two large switch panels. Part of the equipment from the home ec department in the old building has been moved. Supt. Johnson said the desks would be used from the other buildings.

The old grade school building will be used as the agriculture school, with an addition on the south side which is partially equipped.

It happened early Saturday morning in northeast Matador. Norris Sims, 63, shot Raymond Jeffery, about 40, with a 410 shotgun. Jeffery was taken to Caprock Hospital in Floydada for surgery on his right arm and at last report was declared in a satisfactory condition.

Arresting officer was Deputy Fred "Snow" Crenshaw. Sims was charged with assault with attempt to murder. Sims has been paralyzed from the waist down since he was 11 months of age. He transports himself by means of a child's wagon, in northeast Matador.

Sheriff Jinks Wilson said yesterday the altercation resulted from a six-pack of beer. Sims told the officers that he had told Jeffery two or three times not to bother his six-pack. The incident happened about 2 a.m. Saturday morning.

He will appear Monday night, March 11 at the high school auditorium. Starting time is 8 p.m.

Dr. Kit is an outstanding hypnotist and entertainer, and has won acclaim wherever he has appeared. Tickets at the door will be $1.50. For student or grade school child the price will be $1 at the door.

Queen Contest For Old Settlers 1974

SOMETHING NEW has been added to the Motley-Dickens Counties Old Settlers Association program this year. Directors meeting February 22 at El Matador Restaurant approved the sponsorship of a Queen's contest. A plaque properly engraved will probably be given to the winner.

Those eligible will be school-age girls anywhere according to "Corky" Marshall, general manager and secretary.

Votes will be by tickets only (one ticket - one vote) and tickets will be on the Durham hand-made saddle. In other words a ticket will be a vote for the queen contestant, and an opportunity to win the saddle. The queen will probably be crowned and the trophy presented at the last night of the rodeo, Saturday, August 24, about 9 p.m.

Other business transacted February 22 included the hiring of Boyce Hart as rodeo manager, Don Warren as manager of the young people's dance and Algie Groves as manager of the old folk's dance. Mrs. Nathan Stephenson's band of Lubbock has been employed (but not confirmed).

Bill Hand and Guy Campbell have been appointed as parade chairmen. The parade will be at 10 a.m. Thursday, August 22, the first day of the reunion. During the meeting, Sam Ross of Flomot was re-elected President, and Johnny Koonsman of Dickens, vice president. Directors are Bill Hand of Roaring Springs, Bill Peacock of Roaring Springs, Jim Perryman of Afton, John Warren of Dickens, Guy Campbell of Matador and Corky Marshall of Roaring Springs, Secretary and General Manager.

TRAIL DUST

By DOUGLAS MEADOR

The pattern of western movies and now late television shows have all had a similarity which required cowboys, chuck wagons and especially scenery. The locations are not as plentiful as in early days, because of telephone poles, car tracks, paved roads and other symbols of modern time. Some scenes have been photographed so frequently that it is difficult to disassociate them from former pictures. Some cattle have been chased before the cameras so many times that they appear especially trained. Frequently it is the same herd that fits the description of early-day cattle and often they resemble modern stock. The chuck wagons are often very real and look like they had rolled out of the past onto a fitting stage.

When my father hauled water I was too small to be of any help to him but he allowed me the pleasure of the trip. He would drive to the side of the tank which was made of boxing planks, separated one foot apart, held by two by fours, wired securely and filled with compact Oklahoma soil. The bottom was also of soil. A great Star windmill seemed always to be turning and it kept the tank to overflowing. My father would put a plank from the step on the side of the wagon to the top of the tank, then he would remove the top hoop from one of the three barrels and the weathered piece of heavy canvas. With a galvanized bucket he would proceed to fill the barrel, and repeat the process on the two other barrels. When we arrived at the house he would get another bucket and carry the two brimming containers into the kitchen. My mother had already gathered a sack of cowchips and had a fire going in the kitchen range. By the time my father had unhitched the team and fed them some bundled cane, supper would be ready. Fuel and water were the first requirements on a homestead, but my father worked most of the time on the railroad, receiving $25 per month as a section hand.

True poverty is the inability to be content with what we possess and use it to the best advantage.

The pollution scouts would have had a field day at our farm especially during rainy weather when the cowlot was ankle deep. We often went down to the windmill and washed our shoes before going to the house. We tried to be reasonably clean but never overdid sanitation.

Sharp-Shooter Has Dads, Sons Program

A MAN WITH a pistol entertained the fathers and sons assembled in the First Baptist Church basement, Thursday night with some expert marksmanship. The entertainer was Sgt. Ronald Barrett, who was accompanied by Sgt. Rusty Hightower. Both men were from the Wichita Falls Department of Public Safety.

The program followed the excellent barbecued beef supper which the Lions (with the help of Walter Jones) prepared and served to the almost capacity group attending the 37th Annual Father-Son Banquet.

The banquet was organized by the late Lt. Paul Eubank who lost his life in World War II. He was an outstanding civic and religious leader. He was elected to the Texas Legislature and held the office when he joined the Armed Service and never returned.

Sgt. Ricky Turner was master of ceremonies, and Lion "Pappy" Campbell led the singing of "America" with the invocation by Rev. Leonard Sims, in the church auditorium.

The group then moved to the church basement where Boss Lion Ervin Willard introduced Lion Ronnie Vandiver, who introduced the program.

Sgt. Barrett is an expert with a revolver. He split a bullet with a hand ax turned on its side at a distance of from 25 to 30 feet. He shot a pill off a glass plate without breaking the plate. He performed many more difficult feats, some with the gun held upside down.

He said almost any member of the Department of Public Safety could do as well after completing the course of training at the department's academy.

The program ended with the Scout Benediction, led by Ricky Turner.

MRS. VANCE ATKINSON

Atkinson-Simpson Vows Are Pledged

Marriage vows were pledged by Miss Cinda Lou Simpson and Willie Vance Atkinson in a double ring ceremony read at 4:00 p.m. Saturday, March 2, in the First Baptist Church, Matador. Officiating was Rev. C. L. Atkinson of Hale Center, uncle of the bridegroom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Edward Simpson. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Atkinson of Dickens.

A basket of white gladioli and greenery, decorated with a yellow ribbon bow, flanked by a pair of candelabra holding tapers formed the background for the ceremony. Yellow bows on the pews marked the bridal aisle.

Mrs. John V. Stevens, organist, presented wedding music and played the traditional wedding marches. Miss Betty Higginbotham sang, "More," accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Vernon Higginbotham. Belinda Simpson, the bride's sister, sang "The Lord's Prayer" following the ceremony, also accompanied by Mrs. Higginbotham.

Miss Naomi Simpson, cousin of the bride was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Merritt Simpson and Belinda Simpson, sisters of the bride, and flower girl was Melea Taylor.

Guests were registered in the vestibule of the church, by Miss Charla Wason.

THE BRIDE was escorted and presented in marriage by her father. She wore a formal gown of white satin, fashioned with bodice and puffed sleeves of lace, hand made by Mrs. J. P. Neighbors. The high waistline was accented with ribbon, and a bow at back from which the lace train extended. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a pearlized lace cap and she carried a bouquet of daisies and carnations atop a white, lace-covered Bible. Her attire included the traditional "something old, new, borrowed and blue."

Her attendants wore floor-length dresses of yellow double knit, styled on princess lines, with bands of yellow and white daisies and a bow at back, marking the waistlines. Each carried a long stemmed daisy, tied with yellow ribbon.

The reception was held in the basement Fellowship Hall, where the bride's table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with her bridal bouquet and Bible.

A three-tiered wedding cake, made by Mrs. Bill Pallmeyer was decorated with delicate confection daisies and topped with a bridal couple encircled in net. Mrs. Jerry Jones served the cake and Miss Ann Timmons poured the punch. At the bridegroom's table, where chocolate cake and coffee were served, Miss Lou Anne Woodruff and Misses Kay Gibson and Lisa Portwood, both of Glen Rose, presided.

For her wedding trip to Stamford Lake, the new Mrs. Atkinson wore a yellow knit dress with a white lace-trimmed collar, white accessories, and carnation corsage from her bouquet.

They are presently at home in Dickens, where the bridegroom is employed by Shaw Fencing Contractors. He is a graduate of Patton Springs High School. The bride is a 1973 graduate of Matador High School.

Presidents' Wives Reviewed For Club

El Progreso Club met February 28 in the home of Mrs. Freeman Thacker for a Public Affairs program on "Women in Washington."

Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr., president, reminded the group of the District meeting to be held in Burkburnett, March 15-16. Those interested in going should contact Mrs. Campbell for details concerning the time, etc.

Mrs. W. F. McCaghen was leader for the afternoon and introduced the program with the yearbook quotation from Adlai Stevenson, August 27, 1952: "What do we mean by patriotism in the context of our times: - A patriotism that puts country ahead of self; a patriotism which is not short, frenzied outbursts of emotion, but the tranquil and steady dedication of a lifetime. There are words easy to utter, but this is a mighty assignment. For it is often easier to fight for principles than to live up to them."

Mrs. McCaghen then presented Mrs. Robert Darsey, who gave sketches of wives of three United States Presidents, Mary Todd Lincoln, Mamie Eisenhower and Lady Bird Johnson.

In her interesting manner, Mrs. Darsey quoted, "Behind every great man is a great woman," and in her reading, found this true of the three women she reviewed. "Mary Todd Lincoln was not Abraham Lincoln's first love... that was Anne Rutledge," she stated. "Mary Todd grew up in Kentucky of a good family. She was a well educated girl for that time and said before she ever met Lincoln, that she was going to marry a man who would be President of the United States. Poverty hung around the door most of the time, and with four children, it was a difficult time, but she realized her ambitions when Abe became President.

"In marrying Abe, Mary Todd chose the right man to get her into the White House and together, they were in turn happy and unhappy, in poverty and out. She was extremely extravagant in her clothing, and she had many enemies, as the people in Washington thought she was a southern spy, as her brothers were fighting for the South."

Mamie Eisenhower was born Marie Geneva Doud, of affluent parents who had a home in Denver and later, San Antonio. In contrast to Mary Todd Lincoln, Mamie was a very pretty girl who loved people and gaiety. She met "Ike" at Ft. Sam Houston and his "air" indicated he still had a touch of West Point in him.

"That, she liked," recounted Mrs. Darsey. "They met in Oct. 1915, became engaged on Valentine's day, 1916 and were married that summer, July 1, in Denver, Colo. They moved all over the world and wherever they were she made a home with the pictures and mementos of their travels. Her living room was always yellow and her bedroom was always pink and green. During World War II she stayed secluded in her Washington apartment. She charmed everyone she met, young and old alike, and she loved to care for her grandchildren."

Concluding with a short sketch of Mrs. Lyndon Johnson, whose husband was the 36th President of the United States, Mrs. Darsey found these facts of interest: Lady Bird was born Dec. 22, 1912, with the name Claudie Alta Taylor. The name Lady Bird was given her by her nursemaid, who said she was "As pretty as a ladybird." Her mother died when Lady

Bird was five years old. Her aunt came to care for her until such time that she could do for herself. Her mother left her 3800 acres of land in Alabama when she died, so Lady Bird was not raised in poverty. LBJ said of her that she had great understanding, an enduring and great character, and she was the most interesting woman he ever knew. Her children were brought up with the concept to think of others before self.

"She faced three major crises: (1), when Lyndon went to war; (2), during the Senate campaign in 1948 when he won by 87 votes and (3), in Los Angeles when he accepted the vice presidential nomination. Lady Bird's outstanding contribution during her husband's presidential career was her "America The Beautiful" program."

Those present were Mesdames Ralph Stapleton, W. D. Lipscomb, W. N. Pipkin, Raymond Davis, J. L. Woodruff, D. E. Pitts Sr., Ben Keltz, Furman Vinson, Frank Pohl, W. F. Jacobs, J. R. Whitworth and Harold Campbell, in addition to those mentioned.

Mrs. Henry Ford spent the week end in Slaton with Mrs. Virgie Hunter. She was accompanied to Lubbock by Mrs. Ethel Payne, who spent the week end with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Payne.

MISS LAURA JACOBS

Tea Reveals Engagement

The engagement of Miss Laura Jacobs, daughter of Mrs. W. F. Jacobs and the late Mr. Jacobs, and Earl Ray Rowan of Floydada, and the date of their approaching marriage were announced at a tea Sunday afternoon, March 3, by Mrs. Jacobs. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Rowan of Floydada.

Assisting with hospitalities were aunts of the bride-elect, Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr., who greeted the guests, Mrs. W. N. Pipkin and Mrs. Robert Darsey; and her cousins, Mrs. Jim Allison of McLean, Mrs. Neal Pipkin of Lubbock, and Miss Charise Cullin of Matador and Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Mrs. Larry Nolan of Floydada presided at the guest book. Featuring Miss Jacobs' chosen colors of azalea pink and white, the refreshment table was laid with a white organdy cloth over pink and centered with a crystal candelabrum containing an arrangement of carnations and mums in the pink shade, and holding four white tapers. Satin streamers from the arrangement were inscribed with the names of the couple, and their selected wedding date, April 20. Finger sandwiches, cucumber puffs, cookies, mints and nuts were served with both cold and hot spiced tea, with Mesdames Allison and Neal Pipkin presiding at the silver tea services.

Out-of-town guests at the announcement tea included Mrs. Clifford Allison of McLean, Mrs. M. J. McNeill and Mrs. Johnny Dunlap of Floydada; Mrs. Ricky Moss of Lubbock and a number of friends from Roaring Springs, Flomot, Whiteflat and Northfield.

Miss Jacobs graduated from Matador High School, and is a mid-term degree candidate from Texas Tech University. Mr. Rowan is a graduate of Floydada High School and is engaged in business with his father at Rowan's Garage. They will be married here in the First United Methodist Church and will make their home in Floydada.

STUDIES ABOUT THE BIBLE

Christians at Corinth divided themselves into four groups, and the spirit of division forbid them to worship together, including the Lord's supper. Paul gave them the cure for their sin. "Speak the same thing," and "no divisions." "No divisions" leaves little room for partyism in the church. These Christians had perverted the gospel of Christ to the extent that division among Christ's followers was the result. If all do not speak the same thing (gospel), sin is taking over.

In the first century of Christianity, a common problem was a certain element of Jewish converts who insisted that all Christians (even gentiles) must keep certain parts of the Old Law. Much of the books of Hebrews and Galatians is designed to correct the influence of these false teachers. Therefore, many scriptures in these two books are explicit about there being two separate covenants, and that the two covenants are not in force concurrently.

Early in the Book of Hebrews, Paul reasons, aided by the Holy Spirit, that the Levitical priesthood has been abrogated. He states that we now have a "new high priest" 3:1, 4:14. This new priest was NOT after the order of Aaron, but after the order of Melchizedek. Heb. 7:11. And this new high priest is Jesus the Christ, the Son of God.

Then Paul declares, Heb. 7:12. For when the priesthood is changed, of necessity there takes place a change of laws also.

By use of the word "necessity" we understand that the law of Moses has been fulfilled. Col. 2:14. When the priesthood was changed from Aaron to Christ, the law was changed from that of God through Moses to the law of God through Christ. Both laws were from God, but were to serve different dispensations and different purposes. Gal. 3:23-25. But before faith came, we were kept in custody under the law, being shut up to the faith which was later to be revealed. Therefore the law has become our tutor (schoolmaster, KJ) to lead us to Christ, that we may be justified by faith. But now that faith has come, we are no longer under the tutor.

We are no longer under God's first law by Moses, but we are under God's second law, which is by Christ.

6 WAYS TO CONSERVE AND SAVE

ON HOME LAUNDRY

1. Wash and dry a full load, but never overload... it is essential for each item to move freely for proper cleaning and drying.
2. Choose the correct cycle for washing modern materials. Perhaps hot water isn't needed, and only a gentle drying temperature.
3. Too much detergent can clog machine and drains... always measure, don't guess. Follow the manufacturers recommendations for your equipment. Mixing brands of detergents can cause graying of clothes.
4. Many manufacturers of permanent press garments recommend machine washing and machine drying for best results. Following instructions on the garment tag can preserve the life of your clothing and give you wrinkle-free clothes without need for ironing. A big savings!
5. An important maintenance function for you to do is to clean the lint trap and lint filter on both washer and dryer after each load of a full day's use of your home laundry.
6. Never-never pour bleach directly into the washer with clothes in it. Always dilute bleach before adding it to wash water. Also, timing is important. Bleach should be added after the clothes have washed at least 5 minutes.
