MOTLEY COUNTY ATHLETES HONORED

Kathy Mangram won 2nd. Place at the State Track Meet.

The Motley County ISD Student Body and Faculty and parents and others turned out in a record crowd Monday night May 16 for the All Sports Banquet. It started out with a delicious meal prepared by Walter Jones.

Greer Willis, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Matador gave the invocation, followed by Mistress of Ceremonies, Mariana Zarate, crowning the Athletic King, Brandon Eddleman, and King Eddleman then crowned Queen, Kathy Mangram. Mariana then introduced the 1987-88 Cheerleaders who introduced Miss Spirit, Mariana Zarate.

Coach Marks was up next to recognize the adults and parents who had helped in any way in the past year. A special plaque was given to Travis Kendall for helping and building part of the weight benches and other equipment.

Coach David Hill recognized the Junior Varsity Football boys, Coach Cecil Marks recognized the Varsity Football boys, and gave the Dayton Graham Award to Brent Marshall. This award winner is chosen by the football boys.

The Girls Basketball J.V. team was recognized by Coach Hill and the Varsity team by Coach Don Ewing. This year, Coach Ewing wasn't sad to introduce the girls that he would lose, because he wasn't losing any. Coach Ewing gave the Fighting Heart Award to the girl chosen by the basketball team, to his daughter, Joely Ewing. The Varsity girls were Bi-District Champs the past two years.

Coach 'Mo' Eddleman recognized the Junior Varsity and Varsity Basketball boys. Coach Billy Wilson was absent because he and Pam had a baby girl that day. Coach Eddleman gave the Fighting Heart Award, also chosen by the basketball boys, to his son Brandon Eddleman.

Coach Eddleman recognized the Tennis players and Coach Hill recognized the Golf players.

Coach Hill recognized the Girls track team, which had 21 qualifications for the Regional Track meet and one qualification for the State Track meet. Coach Hill awarded the Track Fighting Heart award to Kathy Mangram. Kathy qualified for Regional in four events and then on to State in the tripple jump, which she won 2nd place jumping 35'6 1/2".

Coach Marks recognized the Boys Track team of which Tim Kendall was a Regional qualifier for the Discus and Shot. Coach Marks gave the Track Fighting Heart Award to Rusty Willmon.

Many volunteers, and managers and other helpers were recognized by the different coaches.

Jenifer Davis recognized different people for appreciation, Girls Track Coach, Wilson; Girls Basketball Coach, Ewing and Coach Hill; and Girls Basketball, LaJuan Eddleman for being their 'Mom' at all the ballgames.

Coach Marks introduced a man he held high regard for as a man and as a coach, L.G. Henderson, retired Head Coach and Athletic Director from Texas and New Mexico. Coach Henderson commended the athletes who had received recognition at the Banquet and the parents who stand behind these athletes. He also commended them on having a superintendent and school board who volunteer their time and help in all areas. He commented on how fortunate

Motley County was with the small school advantages, of being able to participate in more than one sport or activity.

Henderson believes athletes are made, not born. They are taught, lead, and trained by parents, teachers and coaches.

Henderson believes in being stern and being truthful. Kids respect you 'telling it like it is.'

Athletes will always be tempted to break training, but if they will dedicate themselves to doing good they will always be glad.

He challenged the athletes to THINK, about what their coaches were teaching them, THINK, joy, pleasure and happiness and be successful. Be the best by obeying your parents and listening to the coach. Have trust and faith in each other and be positive, and it will be an uphill walk.

Leon Ice Company On Mural Renews Memories For Many Families

by Earlyne Jameson

Working at the Leon Ice Company in Matador was a job that entailed hard work and long hours. However, the days were filled with laughter, a goodwill toward fellowman and to the customers whom they served by the many employed here through the years.

The plant was open twenty-four hours a day from May through September. As many as three trucks a day would haul per load, 18,000 pounds of ice to towns north, south and east of Matador. Within a twenty-four hour period, 84,000 pounds of ice was manufactured.

It was educational to see how the ice was produced here. There were twenty rows, fourteen cans per row, each can holding a 300 pound block of ice. Pure water was placed in a long rectangular metal can with an open top. The can was lowered into a solution of brine. The brine was kept at a temperature of 6°F to 18°F by running liquid ammonia through pipes of brine. The liquid ammonia, which is very cold, took up heat from the brine. The heat boiled the ammonia off as a gas. The water in the ice cans froze first around the sides, so that expansion occurred upward toward the top, which froze last. Expansion did not split the can open as it does a container of water left outside in the winter. The 300 pound can of frozen ice would be lifted by a cable hoist and moved across the rows of ice to be immersed into a brine tank. The block of ice slipped out of can to glide down a chute to ice vault and be ready to run through a scoring machine or power saw. The empty can would be returned to its original position and the process of making ice would begin anew. The entire operation of forming the ice took from 20 to 26 hours.

The scoring machine that cut the ice into smaller blocks was a dangerous implement. You had to be alert and agile when operating it or you could lose an arm, leg, foot or hand. Only experienced employees were allowed to use the machine.

Not only was this building used to make ice, but the West Texas Utility Co. power generator was located behind the ice plant machinery. The WTU employees utilized this building, especially when electrical power was disrupted during storms. Also, the first cold storage lockers in Matador were in this building, which had fifty compartments. So the Leon Ice Company, comprising 100 feet frontage on Main St. South of U.S. Highway 70 was once a thriving business in Matador.

It was an ideal summer time and holiday job working at the ice plant for high school and college students. Boys that did not work here would visit with friends who did. Some would climb to the platform encircling the condenser tower and strum their guitars and sing songs for everyone within "ear-shot."

It is surprising how many residents in Matador remember putting a card in a window of their home so the ice man would supply them with needed ice on his daily route. You chose the card with the printed number of pounds you needed...100 lbs, 75c, 75 lbs, 50c, 50 lbs., 35c, 25 lbs., 20c and 12 1/2 lbs., 10c. A 300 pound block of ice cost a dollar. Today, a ten pound sack of crushed ice is a dollar!

The ice man was usually on a time schedule, so you knew when to expect him each day. However, if you failed to leave a card in your window, you could call the ice plant and they would accommodate you by making a special trip to your home. One hot summer afternoon, Roy Simpson was told that a Mrs. Lippitoe needed a hundred pounds of ice at her home. He didn't know her and asked where she lived. They didn't know the exact location, but assured him it was somewhere in the north part of town. Much later, Roy returned to the ice plant with an almost melted block of ice realizing there was not a Mrs. Lippitoe when he saw all the laughing men on and around the dock. Oh well, they were just "getting even" with him for putting a frog in the cash register the day before!

Years ago, Saturday was the highlight of the week for the rural residents, because this was the only day they came to Matador.

They would come into town before lunch to get a good parking place. They would get weekly supply of groceries, haircuts and walk up and down the streets visiting. You would see kids licking ice cream cones, trying to make it last as long as possible. Some would see the afternoon movie. The last place they would go before returning home would be the Leon Ice Company. There would be a long line waiting for their turn at the loading dock. They would guard their place in this line! Quilts, tarps and wagon sheets would be wrapped around the blocks of ice. Some would put thick brown wrapping paper around this to insure less melting of ice on hot days. If they planned to make freezer ice cream, they would get several blocks of ice. Fifty pounds of ice would last a week in the insulated compartment of a wooden ice box. The star attraction in the line of customers at ice plant on Saturdays was Ed D. Smith with his amusing stories and good sense of humor. The waiting in line, rather than being a dreaded chore, turned into a party time event every week! Everyone would leave for home in a jovial mood.

With an indication of accelerated business, C.D. Leon of Rotan became owner of the ice plant in Matador in 1936 that would supply ice for his ice houses in Spur, Silverton, Quitaque and Matador. Other ice houses supplied from Matador plant were in Dickens, Paducah, Guthrie, Roaring Springs, Turkey, Jayton and in between locations. Earl "Red" Laughlin was regional manager of the Leon Ice Company from 1936 until his death in 1949. E.W. Blackburn assisted by Harold Flora, who had been employed at plant since 1946, managed the business from 1949 to

The Roaring Springs Ranch Club, Inc. is now the property of the members. The Springs Ranch Company, owned by Jarrel Jennings had gone into bankruptcy about two years ago.

LOW-E WINDOWS ARE THEY WORTH IT?

Low-E windows are double-paned windows that absorb and transmit heat more slowly than conventional windows. Low-E stands for "low emissivity," meaning light can be transmitted while heat is reflected away.

Low-E windows typically have a low-emissivity film between two window panes of a thermopane window on the pane next to the inside of the house. They cut about a third of the heat loss during the winter in cold parts of the country. But what about air conditioning costs?

The typical low-E windows will not cut air-conditioning costs in warm climates. However, one company does make a low-E window with the coating between the panes, but on the pane next to the outside of the house. This type of low-E window will save four times as much energy during air-conditioning in homes.

One side benefit of low-E windows is that they reduce ultraviolet radiation from the sun which is damaging to some materials and dyes. However, before you consider buying low-E windows find out how much more they will cost than a regular thermopane window and consider whether the expense will be worth it for your climate.

Senior Citizens Report
by Iris Blevins

The mini bus went to Lubbock Monday with 5 people riding. Everyone was ready for a lot of visiting and they all reported an enjoyable day.

Yesterday was our regular second Tuesday luncheon and we had 29 people sign the register.

Our president, Ruth Baker called the house to order at 11:45 a.m. for the minutes of our last meeting to be read by our secretary, Ruby Thompson. They were read and approved and all business cleared.

With Lola Eason at the piano, Happy Birthday was played and sang to all who had birthdays in April. We had eight visitors come and eat lunch with us and we were very glad you came. We welcome any and all of you to come back anytime.

I know that everyone enjoyed the singing of 2 or 3 songs, especially the singing of "Amazing Grace." It is one of my favorites. We all were ready for the good lunch awaiting us after the table grace was said by Lola Eason.

Friday evening was game evening at the center and we had the doors open at 2:00 p.m. I have mentioned the election coming up May 24th, for the "Silver Haired Representative," several times and one of the candidates, Maxine Earl of Post, Texas came and gave us a very interesting talk on what she would be interested in helping with in Austin, if she were elected.

Mrs. D.A. Hinson of Roaring Springs was here representing Senior Citizens there. We were glad to have everyone present. Don't forget to vote May 24th. It is also our luncheon day, so bring a covered dish and have lunch with us and play games in the afternoon.

The mini bus went to Plainview, Thursday with 13 people riding. Everyone enjoyed the visiting and shopping, and we were home about 3:30.

Tuesday, May 10, Nicholas Zarate, GeNelle Willis, Brenda Gillespie, Ashley Stevens, Cassie and Kittie Campbell, Rachelle Renfro, Luke, Hannah, and Will Boedecker, Clint Cooper, Skylar Clifton, and Elizabeth and Sondra Ho-Gland gathered in the Community Room where we watched the movie A ZOO'S EYE VIEW: FROM DAWN TILL DARK, before Robin Boedecker arrived to get us started on some musical games and activities. Lola Pohl was there with her Casio and it was such fun to curtsy and bow as we sang "Skip To My Lou" and to learn the new song, "Bluebird Through My Window." We had a very special guest, GeNelle Willis's grandmother, Mrs. Orb Fincher, from Water Valley.

The Mothers and I decided that for the Read-to-me Summer Reading Club, we would continue to meet on the second and fourth Tuesday of each month, keep our reading logs from June 14th through August 9th, and have an outing to celebrate our eight week reading club and present certificates to those who participated on August 23rd.

Two mothers from the older reading group suggested that we wait until August for their Reading Club, which would follow Baseball and Swimming Classes. I had decided we would have only four weeks this year, and their suggestions sounded good to me! I would like to hear from more mothers and children about their preference for meeting times. The theme for the Texas Reading Club this year is TRAILBLAZERS and STARGAZERS. Doesn't that start your mind to whirling with good biographies and adventure stories to be read. I am working on a morning fieldtrip to visit some of our modern day trailblazers and an evening meeting for some real stargazing. Larry Markham brought us a beautiful Smithsonian poster of all the astronauts that have participated in our space flights. We've been saving it for our reading program. Perhaps it will be the first thing to be pinned to the new stand-up bulletin board that Jim Cooper and his woodworking students are building for the Motley County Library. Thank you, Larry, for thinking of us when you saw that poster.

Thanks also go to Junior Bearden for 7 new Western Paperbacks, to Jess Couch for Sierra Magazines and other bulletins, and Glenn Woodruff for several magazines. My thanks also to the person who brought the Wildflower Brochure from the Highway Department, so that I could post the names of the flowers beside their pictures, and to Clay Jameson for Bringing in a stack of the Texas Wildflower folders, a few of Rocks and Fossils, a Variety of Texas Highway Magazines, and two interesting folders of Texas Facts. Earline has placed the Wildflower folders on the display case, where you may pick them up when you come in for a closer look at the beautiful wildflower display.

Donations have been made in memory of Martha Dell King by Mollie Burleson and Mr. and Mrs. O.J. Lee, in memory of Mann Bird by Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Campbell and the annual Birthday memorial for Virginia Hoyle by Joyce Smith, Lillian Thacker, LaVoe Thacker, Freda Keahey and Ida Lee McInroe. Our deep gratitude goes to those who give memorials to the mural fund, the book fund, or just to be used where needed. We always have needs here - more shelves, another book cart, additional display space, file boxes for newspapers, magazines, etc.

We had thought we were about ready to close out the Mural Fund, but Joe Taylor, the mural artist, met with the Library Board last night to show us some sketches of parts of the mural he had planned for a booklet that we believe will make a nice memento, family keepsake, or a coloring book for children or grandchildren.

Any additional mural donations will go toward financing this project.

THE LIBRARY WILL BE CLOSED MONDAY

Joe Taylor will be here to do the final shading and touching up on the mural, and we want to give him full use of the space and uninterrupted working time.

THANK YOU

I will also have to cancel the meeting with volunteers that I had scheduled for Thursday evening, May 19, as I will be in Midland to attend a Management Workshop sponsored by West Texas Library System that Thursday and Friday. We will probably try to reschedule that for the first week in June.

Our out of state visitors since the last column was Ruth Vanderfell of New York City, N.Y. Out of town visitors were D.M. Gilbert of Flomot, R.B. Gafford of Floydada, Roy and Melba Rosser of The Colony, and Murray and Kathryn (Sheats) Johnson of Marble Falls, Texas. Murray Johnson is a retired Methodist minister. Bro. Louder came in the Library while they were here and had a very good visit with them. Kathryn is a cousin of Josephine Hamilton. When her husband retired, they had visited the old store building to retrieve an Aunt's bed, a table and several other pieces of furniture, for after spending a lifetime in furnished parsonages, they had no more furniture than the newweds who tell of coming in to choose what they needed from the Russell and Hamilton store of discards, using them until they were replaced or no longer needed and returning them to the old store building again to await the next couple or person who needed them. Kathryn was amazed at how attractive the building was and thrilled to realize that Matador had anything as nice as our new library.

Joy Jackson of Crosbyton drove down with her daughter and grandchildren Saturday afternoon to pick up some of our old wire bookends. Joy is the Librarian at Crosby County Library. They had an Open House for their beautiful new library recently. I know you would enjoy visiting it sometime.

LIONS CLUB NEWS

The Matador Lions Club met Tuesday, May 17, at the Methodist Fellowship Hall for a delicious meal prepared by Lion Walter Jones for 26 Lions and 4 guests who included

Rev. Jerry Moore and past Lion member, Pat Seigler.

The Boss Lion Ray Minkley reported on the directors meeting; the annual Light Bulb Sale will be held May 24 at 6:00 p.m. The Lions gave the MCYO $100 for the summer baseball program.

There was no program and meeting was adjourned.

Robin and I thank all of you for the love shown to us when I had surgery and while recuperating. Thank you for the cards, calls, visits, flowers, gifts, and food. We appreciate your prayers, your help with our boys, and the errands you ran. May God Bless each of you.

Beverly and Robin Darsey

Thank you "Everyone" for your vote of confidence as a write-in Candidate for the Roaring Springs City Council. A special thanks to those who made all the contacts.

Besides winning the place on the council, it was a thrill to see democracy in action.

I will do my best to fulfill this job and work for you, my friends and our town.

Mother's Day Observed By El Progreso Club Program

A tribute to mothers was paid by members of GFWC El Progreso Club, in regular meeting April 28, at the Senior Citizens Center, with Lola (Mrs. Frank) Pohl presenting the program.

Lila (Mrs. Douglas) Meador, president, called the meeting to order, and Loys (Mrs. Joe) Campbell, secretary, read minutes of the previous meeting. After the business session, Vena (Mrs. W.D.) Lipscomb, as program leader, presented Mrs. Pohl.

Mrs. Pohl has been a member of this club since 1945, and served as president in 1949-51, and was perhaps the youngest president ever to serve in that office. She has been a valuable member and served on committees and furnished music with her casio on numerous occasions. Mrs. Lipscomb also observed that Mrs. Pohl is active in church work at the First United Methodist church, where she serves as assistant organist, and also in the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mrs. Pohl introduced Mrs. Homer T. Jenkins, a guest who presented two musical selections, "That Wonderful Mother of Mine," and "M-O-T-H-E-R" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Pohl. Mrs. Jenkins is assistant choir director at the Methodist Church and is recognized for her many charitable deeds in the community.

"Motherhood is a subject close to all of our hearts," Mrs. Pohl said as she introduced her Mother's Day program. "We all have had some close experiences with Motherhood; most of you are mothers, or have assumed the role of mother to some child who needed your help; we all have had a mother."

She cited several Matador women who had 'mothered' her during her residency here, having come to Matador as a young bride, and told of many famous persons who had honored mothers and sponsored Mother's Day. As early as 1868, Anna Reeves Jarvis of West Virginia sponsored Mothers Friendship Day, the object to reunite families divided by the Civil War, and the Methodist Church in Grafton, W. Va. hosted the first Mother's Day observance.

However, it was not until 1914 that it became an official observance when President Woodrow Wilson signed the first Mother's Day Proclamation, naming the second Sunday of May for the occasion.

Mrs. Pohl laced her talk with selections from poetry, and reminiscences of her daughter, Carolyn's adolescent years. She then invited those present to relate similar experiences in the lives of their children, or other family juvenile members. "Our mothers have made us what we are; we have learned from them and been guided by them," she concluded her impressive program.

Grace (Mrs. Harold) Campbell was hostess for the meeting and served delicious punch and cake, assisted by Marguerite (Mrs. J.E.) Edwards and Dorothy (Mrs. E.A.) Day, others present, in addition to those mentioned were Judine (Mrs. Bill) McCaghren, Josephine (Mrs. John) Hamilton, Bailey (Mrs. Ted) Elliott, Mary (Mrs. Gene) Louder, Loretta (Mrs. R.E.) Campbell, and Rachel Patton.

In her introduction to the Home Life program, Mrs. Lipscomb read the yearbook quotation, a poem on Mothers, written by Jo Ann Dickson. For the Inspirational Thought, she read a verse from the 31st chapter of Proverbs.

MOTHERS

by Jo Ann Dickson

God looked down on earth one day
And knew it needed more than sun's rays.
He opened heaven's gate so wide
And sent mothers on earth to abide.
Their love, their thoughtfulness, their care
Make life on earth easier to bear.
To us the sadness only comes
As we are left alone when God calls her home.

SEEDS FROM THE SOWER
By Michael A. Guido
Metter, Georgia

He was like the man who equipped his car with a radio, tape deck, a television set and a shaver; but was arrested the next day for driving without license plates.

Have you forgotten God?

A home without God is like a knife without blades, a pen without ink, an ocean without water. It's empty, purposeless and dull.

Invite Him into your heart and home. With Him the home will be thrilling, satisfying and wonderful - a little heaven on earth.

At an open house, my host said, "I've remembered the florist, the reporter and the photographer. Have I forgotten anyone?" "Yes, sir," I replied, "God."

Let us praise the name of the Lord, for his name alone is exalted; His splendor is above the earth and heavens.

Political Skits Presented AT Do Gooders' Club

The Do Gooders' Club of Flomot met at 11:00 a.m., Wednesday, May 11 at the Flomot Community Center. Due to inclement weather and illness of members, the planned tour of the Caprock Canyon State Park was canceled.

They enjoyed their picnic lunch and the members then enacted amusing political skits and quotes of the 1988 National Primary Elections.

A business meeting was conducted by president, Mrs. Wilson Barton. Appreciation was expressed to Mrs. Howard Rogers and Mrs. Billy Morris for their artistic talents and work on the Community Center sign erected in front of building. The next project discussed was to paint the exterior of Community building. By informal approval, two Game Nights at the Community Center will be held to help with the expense of this project. In other business, plan were made to visit the Motley County Library at the next club meeting scheduled for Flag Day, Tuesday afternoon, June 14.

Those attending were Mesdames Bill Washington, Donnie Rogers, Howard Rogers, Wayne Hunter, Doyle Calvert, Wilson Barton, Clayton Bond and Coy Franks.

Garden Club Announces Date For Dedication Of Constitution Tree

Matador Garden Club has set June 4, as the date for dedication ceremonies at the corner of Stewart and Main streets, for the red oak tree commemorating the bicentennial of the Constitution of the United States.

An appropriate plaque has been secured and will be placed on a concrete base near the tree, and a program is being planned for the observance.

Local merchants and individuals donated funds for the purchase of the tree, which was planted in January, and is already bearing leaves. Moore-Rose Funeral Home in Floydada assisted the club in obtaining the plaque. Special appreciation will be accorded these donors at the dedication, and the public is invited to attend.

Sam Porter of Afton was owner of ice plant from 1956 to 1962. A deal was culminated, Jan. 1962 in which Glenn Woodruff, manager of Matador Auto Ford Agency, adjacent to ice plant, purchased the Ice Company's lots and building. Mechanical refrigeration made the ice plant operation difficult, but popular demand in seven towns supplied by the plant, prevailed Mr. Porter to lease the building and continue operations until 1963. The building was torn down in 1973.

With ingenuity, artist Joe Taylor painted a perfect replica of Leon Ice Company from a sketch drawn by Clay Jameson, who worked at the Ice Plant while in high school.

The Leon Ice Company on mural renews memories and in all changes, we leave behind us a part of ourselves.

(Thanks to R.C. Giesecke, Pete Knight, Glenn Woodruff, Kathryn Russell and Clay Jameson for their interest and help with this article.)

Historical Data Of Matador Ice And Electrical Plants

Within a thirteen year span, 1914 to 1927, Block 129 in Matador on Main St. south of U.S. Highway 70 was involved in numerous business transactions. Many individuals and companies had business interests at this location from 1914 to 1962.

The Lot 13 on this block of land was first owned by L.B. Hubbard in 1914. He built an iron clad building for the first Light Plant and Moving Picture Show in Matador. Hubbard sold the plant and show to H.L. White in 1916. The City of Matador, contracted by L.M. Frier, Mayor of Matador, bought this real estate in 1918. Mayor Frier was the maternal grandfather of Kathryn Martin Russell.

The land was deeded to L.F. Alexander in 1922 and back to the City of Matador in 1924. In 1925, a business contract between the city, Glen Sample and H.G. Crowley was made. This business transaction was a benefit for the City of Matador.

A certified check was placed in escrow in the sum of $1000 payable to the City of Matador if a new building with a Light Plant and Ice Plant were not in operation in time stipulated. The Ice Plant was not to charge more than eighty cents per hundred pounds of ice delivered on platform of the plant and to produce at least ten tons of ice per day. Current was to be furnished for Street Lights at five dollars for each light per month. A cost of two dollars, per month for first twelve kilowatts and twenty cents per kilowatt for all over thirteen kilowatts. Parties of the first part further binded themselves when they were to increase capacity of electric light and ice plant as population of the city demanded for the products. The contract was for ten years.

More land was needed to complete the contract, so Glenn Sample bought Lot 14 in Block 129 from J.D. Harkey that was conveyed to Matador Electric and Ice Co. in 1925. Matador Electric and Ice Co. deeded the property to R.E. Davis in 1926, who during the same year sold it to Texas Plains Public Service Co. and West Texas Ice Co., Corporation. In 1927, the companies sold their interest to West Texas Utilities Co. who added Lots 15 and 16.

In 1934 to 1936, J. Solon Lea was owner of the ice manufacturing plant and machinery. Excluded was the electric generating plant and building owned by West Texas Utility Co.

C.E. Leon bought the ice plant and building from West Texas Utility Co. and additional Lots 17 and 18 in 1936. He enlarged the ice plant structure to accommodate the manufacturing of forty two tons of ice per day. He owned the business until 1956.

When driving by the current site, it is hard to visualize that this was once a thriving business location in Matador.

For what glory is it, if, when ye be buffeted for your faults, ye shall take it patiently? but if, when ye do well, and suffer for it, ye take it patiently, this is acceptable with God.

Severe Weather And Tornado Safety

The severe weather and tornado season is once again upon us here in West Texas and in Motley County. The Matador Fire Departments trained spotters are out whenever severe weather threatens to alert and protect the citizens of Matador, Motley County, and surrounding areas. The Matador Fire Department has three types of siren warnings to alert and protect the citizens of Matador. The types of sirens are as follows: (1) Fire: a constant siren. (2) Practice: 3 short blasts on Monday nights. (3) Severe Weather: A loop or up and down siren which lasts from 2 to 10 minutes. The fire department also has its Civil Alert system which will interrupt all cable television and FM radio. The system interrupts regular broadcasting with short bleeps which is then followed by an audiomessage which describes the weather conditions along with any special type of action to be taken.

If severe weather threatens the following are a few helpful steps which should be taken: Listen to weather radio, listen to local radio and TV, listen for warning sirens. If warning sounds, seek shelter immediately, go to basement or interior of lower level buildings. Get under something sturdy. If caught outdoors, lie flat in nearby ditch. Don't try to outrun a tornado in a vehicle, and always protect your head. To report severe weather or fires, call the Matador Fire Department at 347-2750 or 347-2487. Please do not call the emergency number as it is only to report fires.

Three Generations Of Bartons Meet In Austin

Jan Barton Hamilton visited last month in Austin with two of her grandfather, Charlie Barton's cousins, Mrs. Kathryn Bryson Perrin, and Mrs. Blake Bryson Patrick. The occasion for her trip was a Beef Promotion Meeting sponsored by the Texas Beef Industry Council. Jan is serving on the Beef Referendum committee.

Upon learning of the death of her great Aunt Milda Barton Maclarty, earlier this year, Jan contacted the family and the two elderly sisters invited her to come for a visit next time she had to be in Austin.

The family story is typical of earlier years, when many women died in childbirth. Jan's great grandmother, Mollie Sams Barton, and a baby died on the Kansas prairie accompanying her husband, A.L. Barton on a cattle drive. She left four small children Alfred, Charlie, Milda and John.

The children were moved to the Austin area to live with A.L. parents, and his sister, Milda. Soon the older boys returned to West Texas to help their father on the ranch, but Milda and John stayed at Burnett with their aunt and step-brother, Clayton Barton. Later John returned to Motley County also.

The homeplace in Burnett county was settled by Col. Wilson Barton who came from Virginia on a wagon train led by his son, Dr. Welbourn Barton in 1954. They homesteaded the land where Jan spent a Sunday afternoon with members of the Barton family. The homeplace is still inhabited by Barton descendants and bears a medallion from the State of Texas parks, marking this distinction.

Mrs. Patrick was a dietitian and one of the founders of the American Dietetic Association to which Jan now belongs. Her husband was a surgeon in Houston until retirement when they moved to Austin. Mrs. Perrins husband was a nuclear chemist with Diamond Shamrock Oil Company and helped design the fuel that launched the first space ship.

Both cousins have promised to come to Motley County soon to see their many relatives. Their addresses are Mrs. Blake Patrick, 4113 Ridgeline Drive, Austin, Texas 78731; Mrs. Thomas Perrin, 4159 Steck Ave. Unit 147, Austin, Texas 78759. They would like to hear from family members.

And now abideth faith, hope and love. These three, but the greatest of these is Love.

It is almost that time of the school year, where goodbyes are said to the Seniors. The older you get, the harder it is to say "Goodby." I can't believe that next year at this time, I am going to be graduating from high school. After graduation, usually the whole class is never together again. That is sad to think this may be the last time the Class of '88 will be together as a whole. The Seniors of Motley County in '88 have fun on your last week and be careful in the future. Teachers and students are anxious for the last bell to ring on May 27. The days are being counted down and some have it down to the seconds. The three month summer vacation is almost upon us and excitement is filling the halls of MCHS.

Semester tests will be given on Thursday, May 26 and Friday, May 27. Good luck to all.

NOTICE OF RATE CHANGE REQUEST AND STATEMENT OF INTENT

Notice is hereby given that LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. (the "Utility") intends to change rates for electric utility service effective June 3, 1988.
