Roaring Springs Man Meets Sister After 35 Years Of Searching

Glennard Daniell with his sister, Jeanette.

by Carla M. Jones

Glennard Daniell of Roaring Springs, knew from the time that he was a small child that he had a half sister.

His father, Oliver Daniell, had told Glennard and his brother, Dean, and sister, Billie Ruth of their half sister, but he never knew where she was or how to find her.

Oliver Daniell left home at the age of 13. After years of traveling and working in various places, throughout Texas, he met and married his first wife in Comanche, Texas, June 10, 1919. They were married only a short time, when Mrs. Daniell became very homesick and unhappy. She wanted to go home to her father, and she left only 3 or 4 months after marrying Oliver. She divorced Mr. Daniell in 1920. He didn't know that she was carrying his child.

At one time he had received a letter and a picture of his little girl, Gertrude Jeannette, from his first wife. She was born June 6, 1920. He then believed she was in the San Angelo area.

After the divorce, Oliver swapped his horse for a suitcase and traveled to Sweetwater and Mt. Pleasant. He met and fell in love with a young girl and finally married her, and they began a new life together.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniell moved to Roaring Springs in 1935, with two small children, Dean and Billie Ruth. Glennard was born in Roaring Springs. The children were raised in Roaring Springs and attended school there. After leaving home and beginning their own lives, Glennard made his way to Dallas, where he met and married his wife, Edith, May 12, 1956. They now have three sons.

Glennard and Edith, along with Billie Ruth and Dean, continued their search for their sister, with very little information. The only place they knew to look was in the San Angelo area.

Finally, about a year ago, they received a tape of a conversation between their father and their nephew, Houston, which was made in 1976.

Mr. Daniell told a story in the tape of meeting a friend he called Little Tom Robertson. Little Tom had been to California, visiting family and they had told of visiting in Beatty, Texas in Comanche County. While there, they attended the Methodist Church and met a woman and her little girl, Jeanette. Mr. Daniell believed this was his little girl. That is the last news he had of Jeanette.

After hearing the tape, they began searching in Comanche County. Billie Ruth and her husband, Tim, went to the Comanche newspaper and talked with older people in Comanche, which led them to a woman, Jeanette's half sister. She gave them the information they had searched for so many years. Jeanette was living in Stephenville, Texas.

After phone conversations, Glennard and Edith and Dean and his wife, Bobbie Joyce had a tearful reunion with Jeanette in Hico, Texas, the weekend of October 7 and 8.

Jeanette told them that her mother had died when she was 12. She had told her of her father. After her mother's death, she went to live with her grandparents. They wouldn't tell her of her father, so she never knew where he was. She always longed to meet him and her family.

They realized what a small world this is and the irony of their search, when through conversation, they realized that Edith was born and raised in Beatty, Texas, the same town in which Jeanette spent her childhood years.

The family now plans to spend as much time as possible with Jeanette and get to know the sister, they searched for, 35 years.

October 23rd Is Red Ribbon Day

October 23 will be Red Ribbon Rally Day across the United States.

You are encouraged to wear a red ribbon on this day and display red ribbons at your home, business, on your car, mailbox, etc.

The Red Ribbon Campaign originated when Federal Agent Enrique Camerena was murdered by drug traffickers in 1985. The Red Ribbon became the symbol to reduce the demand for drugs, just as the yellow ribbon symbolized the hostages in Iran, and the green ribbon symbolized the murdered children of Atlanta. Texans' War on Drugs (TWOD) is proud to sponsor the Red Ribbon Campaign in the state of Texas. The national campaign is sponsored by the National Federation of Parents (NFP).

The Red Ribbon symbolizes a commitment to a drug-free, healthy lifestyle...no use of any illegal drug and no abuse of a legal drug.

The goal of the Texas Red Ribbon Campaign is to present a unified and visible commitment toward a drug-free Texas. Along with other states, Texas will join the nation in promoting a drug-free America.

The Texas Red Ribbon Campaign is designed to establish a parent-community coalition in every community in support of drug-free lifestyles. The coalition should include all aspects of communities: Schools, parents, youth, religious institutions, business and industry, law enforcement, government, service organizations, media, medical, social services, legislators, and YOU.

Red Ribbon Week is October 22-29, with the kickoff on October 22. Red Ribbon Rally Day is October 23, and the Wear Red Day is October 25. Red Ribbon Religious Weekend is October 28-29.

Demonstrate your commitment for a Drug-Free Texas and a Drug-Free America by wearing and displaying red ribbons during Red Ribbon Week. Participate in Red Ribbon Week prevention education activities and programs in the community and help build the bridge from apathy to action.

New Roaring Springs Postmaster Named

Kitty McDowell

Kitty J. McDowell has been appointed the new postmaster in Roaring Springs, effective Saturday, October 7, 1989. Sectional Center Manager/Postmaster Donald S. Bloyd of Lubbock announced today.

McDowell began her career in Lorenzo, Texas in 1984, as a window-distribution clerk. She has worked as officer in charge in Ralls and Idalou, and has also worked intermittently in Lubbock at Monterey Station and the General Mail Facility.

Postmaster selections are made on the basis of merit from a list of qualified candidates submitted to the Sectional Center Manager by a review committee. The review committee, composed of a Sectional Center, a postmaster from the same sectional center, and a sectional center director from a different sectional center, review the applicants for the position and recommend to the sectional center manager those candidates who best meet the position requirements. The sectional center manager then selects and recommends to the Postmaster General the best qualified person for appointment to the vacancy.

Kitty is married to Larry McDowell who is the Cotton Production Manager for Northrup King. They have three children, Buffy, 20; Misti, 18; and Layne, 16.

Kitty has attended South Plains College, Sayre Junior College and Lubbock Christian College. She has also held officer positions in the Athletic Booster Club, Band Boosters, Ex Student Association and she is actively involved in the community calendar sales. She is also an active member of the Crosbyton Church of Christ. Her hobbies include exercising and reading.

The Postmaster is looking forward to her new job and to serving the postal community in Roaring Springs, Texas.

Former Banker's Death Ruled Accidental

The ruling of accidental death, by gunshot, was made in the September 25 death of Frank S. Price.

According to Gale Stafford, temporary Justice of the Peace, during the inquest on October 11, the evidence clearly showed Price's death was accidental. Stafford was appointed temporary J.P. due to absence of any J.P. in Motley County at this time.

Testimony and photograph evidence showed Price's feet to be tangled in an old barbed wire fence, causing him to stumble and fall with the shotgun being discharged accidentally. An enlarged photo clearly showed the wire tangled in his feet.

A neighbor, Bundy H. Campbell, stated he and Price had problems with skunks coming into the yards and trying to get under the houses in the past few weeks.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING REPORT

The School Board met for their October meeting with all members present, except for L.J. Barkley, Jr. President, Guy Campbell, welcomed visitors and guests. Beverly Marrs was a guest to observe, as part of working on her supervisors certificate.

Secretary, James Palmer read the minutes which were approved as were the bills.

Ron Cummings and Guy Campbell reported on the Railroad Commission Inspection recently. After explaining the problems, they also reported they have an extension until the 2 propane tanks in question can be emptied and repaired.

Cummings reported on the underground regular gas storage tank on the Flomot property. They have to notify the Texas Water Commission 30 days in advance of the date it will be dug up and TWC will have an inspector on the premises during the excavation.

Campbell reported on the Faculty Advisory Committee meeting on October 4. The committee read and discussed 10 problems and solutions. Campbell stated he was very impressed and commended the faculty and administration for this very productive meeting. Some problems were settled during the meeting and the solution is being looked into.

Cummings explained that schools with 95 high school students and under are eligible for 6 man football and schools with 144 and under are 1A schools. Motley has 84 high school students and as long as they choose to play 11 man football, they will be in the same district it is in, according to UIL rules. Most all the schools under 95 students have already gone to 6 man. Valley did this year.

MATADOR CITY COUNCIL MEETING REPORT

The Matador City Council met Thursday morning, October 12, with Mayor Gary Lancaster; Councilmen, L.B. Campbell, Doyle Rose and Travis Jameson. Sonny Jackson and L.J. Barkley, Jr. were absent. City Secretary, Bill Jameson and City Water Manager, Nell Jameson were also present at the meeting.

The minutes and bills were read and approved.

Frances Hobbs, representing the First Baptist Church, was present to ask the council what they would need to do to close the street on the north side of the church in a building project they are planning the future.

The Council said they will help them all they can, but it would be better if they would try to plan their building where it would not close the street.

Dorton Canon, of Mission Cable, came to explain the plans of Mission Cable for Matador subscribers. After a lengthy time of questions, answers and discussions, part of the solutions given were: Mission Cable can add the network stations, (ABC, NBC, CBS) from satellite along with the local ABC, NBC and CBS stations. Channel 28, ABC, seems to be worse. Canon explained that they had replaced all of the old equipment and the interference was due to the weather variations this time of year.

Canon stated that the equipment to make these additions would be ordered soon and possibly be installed and operating in the middle of November. Mission Cable will send out changes and schedules to subscribers when they have this ready.

Terree Donaldson, representing the Eternas Study Club, informed the Council of their community project of purchasing Christmas decorations for Main Street and asked the City if they would donate to this project. Mayor Lancaster stated there was enough funds to purchase three poles at $353.00 each, if the Council elected to do this. The Council voted in favor of this.

Charlie Johnson was present to ask for a new water line and meter from the main to his house. After discussion and map study, the Council agreed to replace the old pipe from the main to his meter with a 3/4" line. One inch line and meter can be installed only if the landowner pays the difference.

A citizen in Northeast Matador wants a streetlight installed on her block. The Council concluded that they can't install a street light to supply one or two houses or where there is already a street light a block away.

Meeting adjourned.

We are grateful to Lucretia Campbell for suggesting to the County and District Clerks, who were meeting in Matador last Friday, that they take time to visit our County Library and see the mural. Cathy Mitchell from Throckmorton, Carolyn Reynolds from Haskell, Geneva Bragg, Cottle County, Helen Haddon, Stephens County, Gloria West, Knox County, Becky Tucker, Cottle County, Dorothy Browne, Borden County, Doris Ruff, Lubbock, Barbara Edwards, Floydada, Margaret Collier, Floydada, Ima Littlepage, Lynn County, Joy Laws, Tahoka, and Lois Roberts, also from Tahoka, did come in and sign our guest register. M. Imogene Gibson from Murfreesboro, Tennessee, and her sister, Audie Williamson from Lovington, N.M. came in Friday and were fortunate enough to find Beverly Darsey in the Library to help them find the book on Motley County and East Mound Cemetery Listings and direct them to the cemetery where we hope they were able to locate the grave of their mother, Mrs. Hefner. Stan and Ina Levell of Ft. Worth, Georgia Steentofte of Virginia Beach, VA were visitors. Margie and R.B. Gafford of Floydada came in with John and Joyce Speer to visit last week.

I hope you can come in and enjoy the fascinating fan display that Joan Patton has arranged from her own collection. It will bring back memories of your childhood (if you are as old as I am), when you got a new fan donated by a local store to keep you cool during the two week revival, and the fun of playing with a folding fan. While you are here you can also enjoy the oil painting by Mrs. Bertha Stearns, and study the baby pictures of ex-students so you will be ready to "name that babe" during Homecoming and make a donation to help restore the Senior Class pictures that were demolished by the tornado, and cast a penny vote for the Queen Candidate of the Carnival.

It was not this cold last Thursday when members of the Library Board, Darla Gwinn, Crystal Rogers, Devonne Dillard, Forrest Campbell, Larry Crouch and Librarians Wilda Dixon and Jimmie Hunter came out by starlight to prepare an appreciation breakfast for the City Councilmen who have included the Library in their budget. Councilmen Doyle Rose, Travis Jameson, Bundy Campbell and Mayor Gary Lancaster were able to come in and visit with us before going to City Hall for their monthly meeting.

Senior Citizens Report

by Daisy Smith

The bus didn't go to Lubbock Monday. Nobody had to go to the Doctor, so they serviced the bus. It is ready for the weekly run.

Thursday the bus went to Plainview with eleven people riding. One had a Doctor's appointment. Everybody seems to enjoy the trip there and back.

On Friday our president, Monita Smith, opened the door at 2:00 p.m. for games of dominos and visiting and fellowship. We had nine people there. We had one table of 88 and one table of 42, lots of goodies to nibble on and everybody seem to have a good time.

Zelma was sick and wouldn't be with us for the evening of games and we missed her and hope she is feeling a lot better and can be back Friday.

Iris was absent. She went to Post to see her daughter who is sick. Iris, we hope your daughter is feeling a lot better by now and is on her road to recovery.

We are sorry to hear that J.W. and Lucille had to move to Lubbock to be close to their doctor. We are all going to miss them and we hope they get to feeling better. We will remember them in our prayers.

We want to thank Donna Beck and Mrs. Martin for coming to our luncheon last week and checking blood pressure for us. And we welcome you both anytime you can come and do this for us.

We are still wanting everybody that can to come by on our luncheon day and eat with us. We do have delicious food and plenty of it. So come on by.

O Lord, you are my God; I will exalt you and praise your name, for in perfect faithfulness you have done marvelous things, things planned long ago. Isaiah 25:1

PLANNING FOR COLLEGE

Many schools' financial aid packages include a scholarship, a loan and the expectation that the student earn a certain amount of money towards his or her expenses each year.

Reyes suggests that families view paying for college in the same way they view paying for a car or a house. "It's very difficult for most families to pay for any big-ticket item out of their current income. No one would think of paying for a $100,000 house in four years. Even families earning $100,000 probably wouldn't pay for a house in four years."

Freshmen who receive federal assistance, including loans and grants, are required by the government to contribute either $700 or 70 percent of their annual income (whichever is more) towards their educational expenses. Colleges can usually help students to find jobs, which can range from assisting a professor with research to working in a laboratory or at the campus library or in a campus office. Many students also find jobs on their own as tutors, secretaries, babysitters, and waitresses.

Since the competition for good students is fierce, many institutions offer merit-based scholarships to attract them. The University of Chicago, for instance, awards four-year College Honor Scholarships (from $1,000 to full tuition) to outstanding applicants based on their academic records and extracurricular activities (such as debate, drama, volunteer activities or sports).

"We encourage students to work," Reyes says, "though full-time students shouldn't work more than 20 hours a week or it can become more important than studying."

Reyes points out that there are also a number of independent sources students should explore. Many companies offer scholarship aid to children of employees, community service organizations such as the Elks and Rotary offer scholarships, and with "a bit of leg work" students and their families can discover scholarships awarded for scholastic or athletic ability or on the basis of ethnic background.

"Work is important for the students' social as well as career development. It's not just a way to make money for pizza, but a way to develop career opportunities, because by working students meet people they wouldn't ordinarily meet." These people often become the students' mentors and unofficial advisers, and can be good references for post-college jobs or graduate school.

High school and local public libraries are usually good sources of information about these scholarships. Reyes counsels against using scholarship search services which charge a fee, since the information those groups find is usually available elsewhere free of charge.

While the best way to afford a child's college education is to start saving for it by the time the child is ten years old, Reyes says families who have gotten a late start should not have to take extreme measures to send a child to college. And they shouldn't worry that the money they've put into a house will automatically disqualify them from aid programs. Financial aid officers weigh a family's income much more heavily than its assets when deciding how much it will be asked to pay towards the student's fees, she explains.

To help students and their families find their way through the maze of loans and scholarships, the College board has published a book, How to Pay For Your Children's College Education, available from College Board Publications, Box 886, New York, NY.

The philosophy of Texans' War on Drugs is one of zero tolerance for the use of alcohol by all persons under the age of 21. We also strongly advocate non-use of all illegal substances as well as the non-use of legal substances used illegally for all persons. Alcohol and other drugs erode the capacity of young people to perform well in school, to think and act appropriately. Drug use impairs normal growth, memory, alertness, and achievement. The consequences of drug use can last a lifetime.

Promotions which suggest to youth that drinking is acceptable as long as it is done "responsibly" or which imply that the use of alcohol and other drugs is permissible as long as one does not drive, are counter to the message of nonuse. ABSTINENCE AND LAW ABIDANCE is the only appropriate message that should be delivered to our YOUTH.

In a continuing effort to provide a CLEAR AND CONSISTENT MESSAGE TO YOUTH regarding alcohol and other drugs, Texans' War on Drugs urges resistance to the philosophy of "responsible use" (which wrongly implies or infers that a limited amount of use is acceptable). There can be no "responsible use" of any substance that is illegal or harmful.

Therefore, Texans' War on Drugs opposes student groups which are formed against driving drunk, against drinking and driving, or which espouse a designated driver program for those under the legal drinking age of 21 in Texas. Instead, Texans' War on Drugs SUPPORTS THE DEVELOPMENT OF STUDENT GROUPS THAT ARE DEDICATED TO NON-USE, which uphold the right of all Texas youth to grow up drug-free, and which encourage healthy, wholesome, drug-free lifestyles.

Teenagers' Snacking Provides Necessary Nutrition

Now that school has resumed, families with teenagers may notice their snack supplies are usually low. Teenagers seem to eat constantly.

That also is a good source of calcium," Sweeten said.

However, because teenagers also are growing constantly, they need the vitamins, minerals and protein they get from meals and from snacks, said Dr. Mary Kinney Sweeten, a Texas Agricultural Extension Service nutrition specialist.

Another good choice for teenagers is high-fiber foods, said Weinstock. They stimulate salivation, which helps wash away excess sugar from sugary snack foods. The nutrients provided by foods such as popcorn, fruits and vegetables are a welcome addition to the youngsters' diet.

Nutritionists admit that snacking or grazing is important to today's lifestyles, Sweeten said, citing a recent FDA Consumer article by Cheryl Weinstock.

Although snacking can be an asset, it becomes a liability if it results in more calories than the teen needs, Sweeten said. "Obesity commonly starts during the teenage years," she said. "So, sensible snacking habits should be encouraged."

However, getting into good snacking habits is critical for teens to benefit from snacking.

Weinstock said that nutritious snacks frequently are not as tasty and satisfying as the traditional candy, potato chips and sodas. However, there are methods to satisfy both the sweet tooth and still hold down the calories.

"Teenagers often fall into the habit of eating the same foods all the time," Sweeten said. "And sometimes the snacks they choose may not provide the variety of nutrients these youngsters need."

Sweeten pointed to an example from Weinstock's recent article: The soda that replaces milk at lunch may reduce the calcium in the diet. Weinstock suggested that teenagers replace the calcium by adding cheese to their hamburger they eat with the soda.

Nutritional literacy and simply paying attention to foods they choose is the best way for teens, or adults, to develop good snack habits and to make eating between meals work to advantage.

Pick-up and Delivery of School Children

by Oran Hamilton, Elementary & Jr. High Principal

Teachers often wonder what happens to their students over the summer. I've often wondered what happens to teachers over the summer. You have often wondered what happens to us all over the summer.

When you come, do not block the road, do not switch lanes and go around other cars, do not speed off in front of the school. Students, after having worked all day, are ready to leave. They may not see you or they may run from behind or in front of another car.

To make this story a little shorter..... When did we change our policies on the procedure parents follow when you pick up your school children at 2:40 and 3:33?

I know each of you think your child is your most prized possession and it should be that way. Please think of everyone's prized possession and be patient - do not get in a hurry.

Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

Day of Celebration in the Matador First United Methodist Church

Sunday was a day of celebration in the First United Methodist Church of Matador. They celebrated jointly the 10th anniversary of their sanctuary and fellowship hall and the annual Harvest Festival.

Rev. Gene B. Louder, pastor, was in charge of the service, with the Rev. Eddie Marcum, pastor of the Fritch United Methodist Church and a former pastor of the church here, delivering the morning message. Special music was furnished by Molly Christian, Crystal Norris and Nickolas Bethard, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Pohl on the cello. Other special music was provided by a duet with Roberta Jameson on the organ and Mrs. Glenn Woodruff on the piano.

The 10 year history of the church was given by Mrs. Charlie Johnson. Also assisting in the service was Dayton Grundy, Billy Wason and Charley Johnson.

Following the morning worship a noon hour dinner was served in the fellowship hall, with Mrs. Billy Slover in charge of arrangements. After the meal, a time of visiting and an old fashioned singing, led by Mrs. Woodruff, with Miss Jameson at the piano. Table decorations were in the fall theme, featuring fall leaves, pumpkins and gourds. Arrangements of fall flowers were placed throughout the fellowship hall.

Rev. Marcum was accompanied to Matador by his wife and three children.

History of Methodist church

To preface the ten year history of this church, it is felt we should lead up to it.

YOU ARE THERE!

The committee has met again and again and now are meeting again to decide what to do as far as repairing and upgrading the Matador Methodist Church. A vote to start the work has been taken and passed to repair, first, the roof for if the water isn't channeled from leaking into the sanctuary and basement it will be all for naught. The roofing contractor has been secured and he will begin shortly. With the roof holding up well for fifty-two years and the leaves from our beautiful, stately spycamores clogging the down-pipe drains this was the first step to be taken. The roof has been patched and patched but now a new one is going to be installed. After the room, comes the new heating and air conditioning system. The roof is nearly finished and the new heating and cooling system being installed when on May 24, 1978, just before the pews were to be removed, the west wall pushed out and the roof came "tumbling down." The committee composed of Virginia Hoyle, chairman; June Moss, Secretary; Bill Moss, Marion Woodruff, Frank Price, Algie Groves, Furman and Beverly Vinson, L.B. Campbell and John M. Russell had all been working as the planning committee to repair and upgrade the church. They now became the building committee. There was nothing else to do but build. Many more meetings were held as to where, how much could we afford, what type, size and plans should be used and on and on.

The people of our church, the people of other city churches and members of no church, people from the county, conference and others were so generous in their support both financially and letting us use their facilities whenever the need arose. We worshipped in our own building and though crowded sometimes, it was a heartwarming experience. The Baptist church was most generous when it came to holding funerals for we had many more than usual during the three months we were without that type facility.

The contract with Tusha Building of Lubbock was signed on Dec. 20, 1978. We all worked at clearing out the basement, removing pews, and everything we could, storing it in the school, empty buildings and wherever a place could be found. Everything was covered with dust and dirt so it all had to be cleaned. The pews were taken to the Vo-Ag bulding where the Young Adult class and several others spent many afternoons and evenings cleaning, sanding, refinishing and toiling over each, for there was only one small one that we could not use. Thanks to Bill Moss and the school for letting us use the facilities to restore the pews surpassing, their former beauty. Homer and Theda Jenkins completed the attractiveness by installing new seats in an appealing red color to match or blend with the red carpet that was chosen.

The first service was held in our new building Sept. 15, 1979 and in 1982 the indebtedness was paid off. On Jan. 30, 1983, we had the dedication service with Bishop Louis Showengert preaching at the morning worship service, leading the dedication service. Former ministers of this church in attendance were Rev. W.B. Swim and Rev. Mark Gibbens-Rickman along with Rev. Bruce Parks, District Superintendent.

Rev. Lloyd Hearn was the minister when the building collapsed but was moved on and a young ministerial student and his wife, Phil and Jenny McClendon were here for the summer until our new pastor and his wife could finish seminar in Asbury, KY. Kenny and Terry Kirk will always be remembered for their unselfish and tiring work in getting the new church building in shape for us to worship in. With the dedication to the new church building, the cornerstone of the church reads, "First United Methodist Church 1979."

"I was glad when they said unto me, let us go into the house of the Lord, Psalms 122:1". Kenny Kirk, Pastor." Kenny and Terry also gave us the first parsonage baby in many, many years, Aaron. We will always remember them for their untiring work and devotion to our church during such a hectic time. They left in 1980.

Mark Rickman was assigned to Matador to pastor us and he was a much admired and respected young pastor. Shortly before he completed his second year, he and Twila Gibbens married and they both came to be very special people to us.

In early June 1982, Eddie and Kathy Marcum came to minister unto us. They brought a bundle of JOY with them, for that was not only what they brought, but it was in the form of a precious baby girl. Eddie and Kathy were such a part of the church family, we managed to keep them for four years and during that time they brought us another black-eyed, black haired little girl named Kara. When you saw little black curls scooting down the aisle you could be assured it was one of "our" girls. They needed to move on so were sent to Fritch. It certainly was our loss but Fritch's gain when the Marcums moved there.

Royce Scott came to us for a one year stay as a first year minister.

Our present minister came from Pampa and we have come to enjoy Gene and Mary who, in their way, contribute much to our church and community.

With the decline of the population of the county and community, First United Methodist Church of Matador has managed to struggle along.

One of the contributions to the church has been the faithful loyalties from pioneer families. One of these BIG events in the history of the church was when the Jenkins family were honored in 1988, when all the children, but one (deceased), of the late Pat and Fannie Jenkins were here for a day of celebration and hearing Bishop Dan Solomon bring the morning message.

Another time of joyfulness was held when the children of Dr. and Mrs. Albert Traweck, jr. presented a stained glass window in honor of their father and in memory of their mother. That was a day of celebration, one we will all, long remember.

Now, because of the no pass - no play rules, they are down to 12 players and feel this is too dangerous. They can find no solution for this year, but will be prepared next year by continuing to work on skills.

BIG COUNTRY WATER CONFERENCE
The future of water for rural West Texas will be featured during a two-hour conference on Friday, October 27, 1989, at the Women's Building at the Fairgrounds at Anson, Texas. It will start at 2:00 p.m. and conclude at 4:00 p.m.

Speakers will focus on water from a national, state and area perspective. Keynote speaker for the conference will be The Honorable Charles W. Stenholm, United States Representative of 17th District, who will address "Water - A National Issue". Stenholm will be introduced by Dr. Zerle L. Carpenter, Director of Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The purpose of the conference is to provide key planners the background necessary to focus on the issue at the local level. Others on the program will include: The Honorable Steve Carriker - "Water - A State and Area Issue"; G.E. (Sonny) Kretschmar - "Water - Enough for Texas"; Bobby Barker - "Water - What Quality for Texas." Ed Garnett will wrap up the topics and challenge those attending.

Exhibits concerning water quality and conservation, livestock and water quality will be presented by Dr. John Sweeten, Interim Extension Program Leader for Agricultural Engineering, and Dr. H. Dale Pennington, Extension Soil Chemist.

Seek ye the Lord while he may be found, call ye upon him while he is near: Let the wicked forsake his way, and the unrighteous man his thoughts: and let him return unto the Lord, and he will have mercy upon him; and to our God, for he will abundantly pardon.

Social Security Tips For Motley County

The social security act contains a number of incentives designed to encourage disabled people to return to work. For example, a disabled person may continue to receive some benefits for a time while working. In addition, if benefits are stopped because of work, the reapplication process is simplified.

A trial work period permits a disabled person to continue to receive disability checks for up to 9 months, regardless of his or her earnings. These 9 months do not have to be consecutive; in fact, they can be separated by months or even years during which the beneficiary is not employed.

Any month during which a person earns more than $75 in gross wages is counted as trial work months. For self-employed individuals, trial work months include those in which net earnings exceed $75, or the person spends more than 15 hours with the business.

After a trial work period, a decision is made about the beneficiary's ability to perform substantial gainful work. This means significant physical or mental work that is productive and is usually done for pay or profit.

If the person is not able to do substantial gainful work, benefits continue; if the person is able to do substantial gainful work, benefits generally are paid for an additional 3 months before they are stopped.

Immediately following this period is a 36-month re-entitlement period during which benefits can be reinstated for any month of non-substantial gainful work. During this reinstatement period, if a person has medicare coverage, it will continue.

Other provisions in the law similarly are designed to encourage beneficiaries to return to work.

State Treasurer Sending Checks for Road Construction

State Treasurer Ann Richards is sending checks totaling $7.3 million to Texas' 254 counties for lateral road construction and maintenance.

The Treasurer each year disburses money appropriated by the Legislature for the Lateral Road Program. The grants may be used by counties for the purchase of right-of-way and for construction and maintenance of lateral roads, farm-to-market roads or state highways.

The money is allocated to each county under a formula based on the county's area, rural population and lateral road mileage, Treasurer Richards said.

Motley County: Lateral Road Mileage, 268; County Allocation, $12,109.09.

Directors of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., in Lubbock October 11 heard a "some good, some not-so-good" evaluation of results from comments submitted earlier on proposed changes in the 1989 marketing loan program, then finalized its recommendations for 1990 program provisions.

The latter action, related to the U.S. Department of Agriculture by letter the following day, featured area producers' preference for a 20 percent acreage reduction program (ARP) "as part of an effort to avoid a price-depressing build-up of surplus stocks while maintaining adequate supplies to meet the needs of our domestic and foreign customers."

Other recommendations included use of the "Plan B" marketing loan under which the loan repayment rate is set each week at the corresponding adjusted world price (AWP), and continuation of loan deficiency payments on a bale-by-bale basis to producers not using the loan program. USDA is required to announce the 1990 ARP requirement and other program particulars no later than November 1 of this year.

PCG and virtually the entire cotton industry earlier this year commended USDA on plans announced in June to amend regulations for setting the AWP to produce a more competitive price for U.S. cotton in domestic and world markets.

At the same time USDA proposed changes in the administration of the price support loan program to begin with the 1989 crop. USDA's plan was to require prepayment of interest and storage charges when producers used the option to extend loans another eight months beyond the original 10-month loan period. Merchants and mills voiced strong support for such a change, but producers were just as vocal in opposition.

USDA October 3 announced final actions on both issues, "one of which was good and the other not-so-good," Executive Vice President Donald Johnson told the PCG Board.

Johnson's good rating went to the adoption of regulations that authorize an additional adjustment to the AWP when needed to keep U.S. cotton prices in line with foreign competition. The adjustment will be in order when (1) the AWP under the standard formula falls below 115 percent of the loan and (2) U.S. Cotton is not one of the five lowest-priced growths and used in determining the Northern Europe average price. The adjustment can be up to the difference between the Northern Europe average and the weekly average price for U.S. cotton.

Not in the interest of producers, Johnson said, was the decision on use of eight-month loan extensions, "although even that could have been worse." USDA announced it will not, as originally proposed, require prepayment of interest and storage charges on loan extensions, but will hold producers responsible for all charges if the cotton is forfeited at the end of the period. Also, if cotton is redeemed before the loan expires, payment of all charges plus a one dollar handling fee will be required regardless of the AWP level. Previously, USDA had assumed charges when cotton was forfeited, and had forgiven all or part of the charges on cotton at the time of redemption if necessary to bring its price down to the AWP.

Group Seeks Upgrades In Highways

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was taken in part from the AMARILLO DAILY NEWS.

Truck transport and tourist traffic on several Texas Panhandle, South Plains and West Texas routes are heavy enough to justify adding those routes to the state's proposed Highway Trunk System, civic and business representatives told Texas highway officials. This could effect Matador.

In a meeting held in Amarillo recently, Al Luedecke, state transportation planning engineer, presented a slide show on the proposed system to link major population centers, military bases and deep-water ports in the state, and important routes to surrounding states and Mexico.

More than 95 percent of the state's food and a similar percentage of finished goods, are delivered by truck, striking a responsive chord with those who'd come to suggest additions to the system.

State Sen. Teel Bivins, R-Amarillo, suggested extensive additions that included most of the request from throughout the area.

In a prepared statement read at the meeting by his aide, Courtney Shart, Bivins urged including U.S. Highway 287 north through Stratford to the Oklahoma line, U.S. 54, connecting Dalhart, Stratford, Oklahoma and New Mexico, and U.S. 83 from Perryton to Childress.

Bivins also recommended Texas 136 from Amarillo to Borger and Texas 152 from Dumas through Borger to Pampa. To the south, he asked that U.S. 385 from Hereford to Levelland, Texas 116 from Levelland to Lubbock, and U.S. 70 from Muleshoe to Floydada be added.

He recommended that U.S. 62 from Seminole to Lubbock and eastward out of the South Plains, U.S. 385 south to Midland, U.S. 87 south from Lubbock to Big Spring and U.S. 84 from Post to Sweetwater be added. A Plainview delegation requested that U.S. 70 also be added from Floydada to Vernon, to link with the U.S. 287 segment to the Dallas-Fort Worth area.

Sen. John Montfort, D-Lubbock, recommended adding Texas 116 west to the New Mexico line, Texas 114 from Jacksboro to Dallas, U.S. 380 from Bridgeport to Greenville, and U.S. 82-380 west to New Mexico.

Addition of U.S. 180 from Seminole east through Lamesa, Snyder and Anson to the center of the state was also requested as a South Plains addition.

Midland Mayor Carroll Thomas pointed out that his Permian Basin City is the only 100,000-plus population center not linked in all four compass directions by the proposed trunk system.

Thomas suggested that Texas 349 be added, to link Midland with the South Plains-Panhandle area to the north, and Southwestern Texas to the south.

Most of those speaking at the Amarillo meeting, stressed that traffic of trucks hauling agriculture and petrochemical products is heavy enough on area highways to warrant adding these routes to the system.

Several speakers also pointed out that heavy tourist traffic to the resort and ski areas of Colorado and New Mexico crosses the Texas Panhandle from the rest of Texas, plus Oklahoma and points east.

Some speakers made no specific route requests, but urged the highway department, in light of existing taxes, to concentrate on using funds wisely.

The revised trunk system plan will be presented at public hearing before state highway commissioners in January.

It is estimated that the system can be completed in about 30 years.

Ft. Worth Stock Show January 19 - February 4

The Southwestern Exposition and livestock Show mailed over 5,000 Premium List books this week to potential exhibitors for the 1990 show, scheduled Jan. 19 through Feb. 4 at the Will Rogers Memorial Center in Fort Worth.

Detailing rules and regulations as well as prizes available, the Premium List outlines over $600,000 in record premiums and purse money for the livestock show and accompanying 28 performances of the World's Original Indoor Rodeo.

Over 17,000 head of livestock are expected for this 94th edition of Stock Show, reported W.R. Watt Jr., show president/manager. "We have planned an exciting event this year that includes several national shows, a record 19 livestock sales, educational and commercial exhibits, plus expanded judging events," he said.

Highlights of the exposition will be the 67th National Polled Hereford Show, National Hereford Show, Chiangsu/Chianina Classic, National Red Angus Show, National Meet of the Texas Association of Exhibition Poultry Clubs, as well as shows for other varieties of livestock in both open and junior divisions.

Watt asked exhibitors to read the Premium List carefully. "There are a number of new rules, but more especially some traditional entry closing dates have been changed to better facilitate breed show schedules," he said.

Entries for commercial Hereford females and graded range bulls will close Nov. 1; the National Polled Hereford Show, Dec. 1; all other cattle, sheep, goats, swine, llamas, horses, mules and donkeys, Dec. 10; Southwestern commercial females, Jan. 1; and poultry, pigeons and rabbits, Jan. 10. Persons who will be exhibiting for the first time may request a Premium List at the show office by calling (817) 877-2400.

Mail orders for rodeo tickets are being accepted at the Stock Show office, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, TX 76101. Tickets for Monday through Friday matinees and Monday through Thursday nights are priced at $8 each, and Friday nights and all weekends are $10 each. Mail orders should include $2 extra per order for return postage.

O give thanks unto the Lord; call upon his name: make known his deeds among the people. Sing unto him, sing psalms unto him: talk ye of all his wondrous works. Glory ye in his holy name: let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord.

TRIBUNE PREPARING FOR HOMECOMING PAPER

We are beginning work on our Homecoming paper, which will be out Oct. 26. We are asking our readers, again, to please bring in any old pictures of classes, schools, etc. for all county schools, Roaring Springs, Flomot, Northfield, Matador, Whiteflat, etc. We have a limited supply of pictures in our files and think it would be great if we could print some new ones. Also if you have any interesting stories, relating to any of the county schools, please send them in, also.

We appreciate your help so much and we assure you that we will take very good care of your pictures and return them as soon as possible. All pictures and information will need to be in our office no later than Friday, October 20. Thank you!
