Cowboy Poetry And Song Featured At Library Program

Dennis Gaines and Buck Ramsey performed before a large crowd, Saturday night, at the Library Program.

The Friends of the Library and the Library Board Members sponsored a night of entertainment this past Saturday night, August 19 in the Library, with Dennis Gaines, Matador Ranch Cowboy and Poet and Buck Ramsey, poet, songwriter and singer.

Guests attending made donations to the book fund, with a large number attending.

The program began with Dennis reciting one of his original poems. Followed by Buck, who sang and played the guitar. The men continued with poetry and song for a very enjoyable evening.

Dennis and Buck had both performed at the Cowboy Symposium held in Lubbock in June.

Dennis recited poetry on the Story Telling stage at the recent Texas Folklife Festival, held in San Antonio.

New Football Coaches Named to MC Staff

Mariuce "Mo" Hodges

New Head Football Coach, Maurice 'Mo' Hodges comes to Motley County High School from Midland, where he was Athletic Director and Head Coach at Greenwood ISD.

Coach 'Mo' and Bob Moore have coached together for 18 years at various schools. Coach Mo stated they had a long and fruitful association in the past and he was looking forward to more in the future.

Coach Hodges believes "all athletes have heart and desire and it is the coaches job to utilize their heart and desire in the right direction."

He stated he would throw the ball and he basically used a system he called the Multiple set of Wing T style of plays for his offense.

Mo's goal for his football team is to be a champion and instill being champions in his players.

Hodges graduated in 1951 from Monahans High School and in 1959 from Eastern New Mexico University with a B.A. in Physical Education and Social Studies.

He has coached several District, Bi-District and one Regional Championship. His overall record is 92-50-8.

Hodges' wife, Sandra is an art teacher and will move to Matador in September. They have three children, a daughter Jill Steen of Monahans, and two sons, Randy of Campwood and Jimmy, a senior at the University of Texas in Austin.

Lubbock Couple to speak here on recent conditions in China

Residents of this and neighboring communities will have the opportunity to hear a first-hand account of the conditions in China during the days of the student democracy movement in Beijing's Tiananmen Square, when Grady and June Lackey of Lubbock speak here on August 27, at the 7 o'clock worship hour, at the First Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Lackey returned home the latter part of June after spending two years teaching English in the Foreign Language Department at Yangzhou Teachers' College at Yangzhou, in eastern China's Jiangsu province. They taught through Cooperative Services International, a branch of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, and the Amity Foundation, their Chinese sponsoring agency.

During their assignment in China, Mrs. Lackey sent monthly newsletters to friends and relatives in the states, which were descriptive of the culture and progress of the people. Her last letter was an account of the events leading up to their departure, and mirrored a note of sadness.

"This will be our last newsletter from China, at least until further notice," she wrote. "And probably you could supply the 'news' part of it better than we can. The past month has been a strange and tragic one for China. Our hearts are torn by the senseless tragedy. We are concerned that the gates that have opened are closing - and the walls that were crumbling are being built even higher."

Students from their college of 4,000 students joined those of other colleges in the city in early May in a hunger strike to support the Beijing hunger strikers. Thirteen of the Lackeys' 240 students participated in the demonstrations. It was rumored that as many as 20,000 Yangzhou students blocked the streets around the local government offices. Though the Lackeys continued holding classes under instructions from the dean, attendance was sporadic as the student democracy movement continued. Students officially boycotted classes for two weeks, and, after the Beijing massacre, left the campus completely.

"They said they must 'empty the campus like the government emptied the square,' Lackey said in an interview with the Baptist Foreign Mission Board on their arrival in Hong Kong, enroute home.

Matador City Council Meets

All Council Members Attend

The Matador City Council met Thursday, August 10 at 7:30 a.m. at City Hall with Mayor Gary Lancaster and Council members, L.B. Campbell, Doyle Rose, Travis Jameson, L.J. Barkley, Jr. and Sonny Jackson; City Secretary Nell Berryman and Water Superintendent Bill Jameson, attending.

Minutes were read for the June 8 meeting. The July meeting was not conducted because of lack of quorum. Minutes were accepted.

The outstanding bills were read for $5,585.25, elected to pay.

First order of business was a closed session with Alvin Martin and Randy Martin attending.

Mr. Rose had an offer to propose from George Mangram. He asked to tear down the old Harp building for the lumber. After discussion with R.C. Giesecke, the Council elected to let Mangram tear the building down if he would put up a $5,000 liability bond plus a $500.00 performance bond and clean up down to the slab floor.

Rose reported to the Council that the Park Committee had two bids for mowing the park. Travis stated he felt they should not hire mowing to be done in the park with tax payers money and he also suggested the City give the lots on main Street between the old Hardware and Pipkin Insurance for the Park. Barkley didn't think the Park was the City's responsibility since the City didn't own all of it. Rose made motion to hire best priced mowing. Vote failed with 2 for and 3 against.

The Council elected to have Attorney Tom Hamilton to write the Mission Cable Company President about the poor T.V.

service since their purchase of the Matador T.V. Cable.

Barkley brought up sewer hook up problems on private property. Bill Jameson explained Government Contract rules and that this was explained to each property owner at that time.

Travis Jameson suggested the Council write letters to all City, State and Federal Legislatures requesting help with the new laws concerning the landfill laws.

Sonny Jackson had a request from Willard McCreeless to purchase Lot 8, block 84, from the City. This lot joins his land on the south and on the Hackberry Draw creek. The Council elected to sell this lot for $100 plus all expenses pertaining to transfer.

Jackson wanted to suggest to the Council they consider hiring a young interested person to begin training for the City Secretary job, for when Nell needs off and for her future retirement in 1991. The Mayor suggested they wait until this could be included in the budget.

The Council then discussed the dip repair on the City Park street. Bill said it was down now where it would not wash out anymore. Council elected to put up a dip sign on this street and smooth out the approaches.

The Council looked into changing Insurance policy as the present one is going up 65%.

The Council elected to purchase 6 more large dumpsters.

Jackson asked for a 2" watermeter for the cemetery meter so they could turn out more water for watering, discussion but no decision was made.

Council elected to go into closed session at this time.

LIBRARY NOTES

BY JIMMIE HUNTER

What a week of fun and excitement we had at the Library! Tuesday was the last day of the Read-To-Me Club that was so ably directed by Mrs. James Gillespie. We saw a film, "Happy Birthday, Moon," heard two stories, One, Two, Three to the Zoo and Goodnight Horsey, made a Patchwork Elephant, and saw the film "Mole And The Lollipop," before the thirty-two children, with their parents or baby sitters proceeded to the City Park for a picnic and the presentation of awards.

Thursday, we closed out the Creature Features Summer Reading Program, by seeing our first Video Film, Take Me Up To The Ballgame, on our new Video Cassette unit furnished by the West Texas Library System, before turning the program over to our surprise guest, "Mr Juggler" from Midland, a Motley County School graduate, Larry "Duck" Pitts, son of Freddie and Jerline Pitts, of Matador. He aptly entertained adults and children alike with his juggling routine. He even juggled while riding a unicycle with the competent help of his assistant, Misty Thomas. He then instructed the children and parents in the basic steps of juggling, while Linda Burge, Joan Patton, Wilda Dixon, Bessie Hibbetts and Earline Vaughn prepared Super Summer Submarine sandwiches which were devoured with great gusto by the children after they received their awards that were so beautifully lettered and decorated by Lola Pohl. We cannot adequately express our gratitude to everyone who helped to make this the most successful Summer Reading Club, if you judge by the number of children attending and the number of books read since I have been at the Library. Many thanks to directors, Kellie Martin and Kathy Gillespie, their helpers, the parents, grandparents, friends or neighbors, who brought or sent their children each Tuesday and Thursday this summer; to our own personnel, Earline Vaughn, Bessie Hibbetts, Wilda Dixon and our summer worker, Margie Guerrero, who have managed the mass checkouts on Reading Club day, then worked so hard to get all the returned books ready to be checked out again; to the parents who have helped so willingly with handwork or activities, and taught their children to wait patiently for their turn at the checkout desk; and to the indispensable Mrs. Lee who brings children, plans handwork and drives the Merry-Go-Round while picnicing in the park.

And we topped all that off with the delightful evening with Buck and Dennis on Saturday. Dennis Gaines read his original poetry in his expressive, friendly way that lets the audience feel like a part of the program, and Buck Ramsey immediately made us all his friends with his ballads and guitar music. He must have felt at home with us, too, for he did read some of his poems, and although he and Dennis had a little difficulty getting the music and vocal parts together, Dennis did sing, "The Gol-darn Wheel" for us. I overheard one lady say to Dennis as she left the Library, "That was delightful! I enjoyed it very much, and I don't even like poetry." If we had been able to spotlight it, I think the highlight of the evening might have been seeing Cowboy Gaines tieing down the "Dustbowl Dragon" sculptor to the top of Buck's van, before he and his friend, Joe Humphreys hit the road to Joe's home in Virginia.

Dennis was to modest to let us book a performance at the Library until we hit on the idea of making it a benefit performance, but we certainly expected to pay Mr. Ramsey travel expense, but when I went to ask him if Keith Patton should make the check to "Buck" or did he use an initial, he replied, "If it's a check on the Motley County Library, I'd tear it up. Matador is just on the way from Amarillo to Virginia."

Thanks to the generosity of these two gentlemen, the generous coverage by the Motley County Tribune, and the combined efforts of the Friends of the Library and the Library Board members, and the generous donations, we gained $191.00 dollars for the Library and hope you each enjoyed the evening as much as I did.

The book sale will continue, and if you failed to find what you wanted, come in again in a week or two. We have several boxes of books in the storage room that will be appearing on the sale table.

indigent health care court costs and the $20,000 matched grant on the handicapped elevator, parking ramps, etc., the Court was going to be short of finances for the remainder of 1988.

The Judge informed the Court that he would do the best he could to move funds for the road and bridge accounts so expenses for August bills to be paid and encouraged the Councilmen to keep spending at a minimum.

The Texas Extension Service asked the County, by letter, to consider adding approximately $450 a year to the Home Economist salary.

In discussion the Court elected to raise this salary if the other 2 counties, Hall and Throckmorton, were agreeable also. If this was done, they elected to take the $500 donation the County makes each year to the Upper Pease Soil Conservation Service and add it to the Extension salary.

Meeting adjourned.

 Bennett Reeves read the President's report in his absence, due to recent back surgery.

Reeves stated new sales were 27 new memberships final and 10 pending. The memberships to date is approximately 700. The Club has a projected 1550 memberships for a total sellout.

A brief period of questions and answers followed and Roger Hoffman of the Country Lake Estates invited everyone out to tour the property now available for sale and home building.

Senior Citizens Report

by Iris Blevins

The bus went to Lubbock Monday with several people riding. There were doctor appointments and some other business to take care of. Tuesday was our regular luncheon day, and we had a good lunch with 37 people to eat it. We had several senior citizens from Roaring Springs visiting, and we enjoyed having them. We are always happy to have our neighboring communities join us at the center anytime we meet, which is every second Tuesday and fourth Tuesday of each month, and every Friday evening at 2:00 p.m. So we invite all of you good people from our neighboring communities to come and take part in all of our activities at the center. At 11:30, Norabelle called the house to order for a short business meeting. The minutes were read and approved as read.

 At that time we entered into electing new officers for the new year, beginning October 1, 1989. Mrs. Monita Smith was elected president, Mrs. Ruth Baker was elected vice-president, Mrs. Fannie Webb was elected secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Daisy Smith was elected reporter. At that time, Minister Gene Louder gave thanks for the good food that was waiting for us.

Friday, August 11, we had our Senior Citizens Jamboree in Lubbock. The bus went with 8 people riding. We enjoyed all of the activities and our lunch was turkey sandwiches, a big peach and cookies, tomato and pickles and milk or coffee.

I enjoyed the day of activities and meeting new people.

Suspenders

by H. Soltwisch

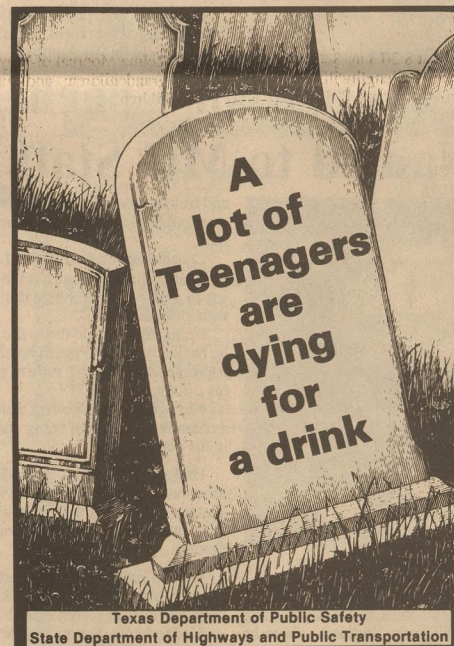

"Why do you wear suspenders, Sir?"
 "To hold my pants up, 'tis true,
 But there is two more reasons
 Which I'll reveal to you."

First, let's explore the beauty of suspenders quite, quite grand,
 Whether of the store - bought variety or the single, homemade brand.

Now some are solid color;
 some are a multi-hue.
 But the homemade kind are the ones I find that definitely expresses "You".

You can clip on the fancy ones
 And really strut your stuff,
 But tie a one-band strand on your belt loops and listen to the comments and all that guff!

You asked why I wear suspenders;
 Well, here's two more reasons for the tale.
 My suspenders keep you from embarrassment
 And they keep me out of jail!

A Tribute to my Father

(For L.J. "Charlie" Fullingim, July 31, 1989)
An old cowboy crossed over to a greener range today. His passing from this old dry range with its sorrows and disappointments will not go unnoticed. He spent many hours and many days here and made many tracks in the dry sands and along the rocky trails. There were many stops during this time and most of these stops were to help someone less fortunate than himself. Many will remember kindnesses and encouragements of which I have forgotten or know nothing of. The one I remember most vividly was on a fall day in 1947 when I first saw him. At that time I was a "maverick" - with a mother and dad, and with little or no direction to my life. Needless to say the old cowboy, used to dealing with maverick calves, knew just what to do and supplied the missing elements in my life. Along with his beloved wife, "the Babe," he led and directed me to a rich and full life I now enjoy for which I will be eternally grateful. His grandchildren and great-grandchildren along with my wife and myself and his host of friends will find an empty spot in our hearts, because of his passing. We will miss this grand old gentleman and remember him always. There is a way to repay some of his kindnesses toward us and that is to exhibit his spirit of kindness and compassion one to another among those of us who are still riding on his old range. "Farewell, old friend, We'll miss you! But if the Lord is willing, we will see you again soon."

Your loving son,
Bob

Social Security Tips For Motley County

You can contact Social Security in a variety of ways. Choose whichever is most convenient to you. You can call, write, or visit. You can also make an appointment to file a claim.

Social Security recommends calling before coming to the office for a variety of reasons. You may be able to complete your business by telephone. If you do have to visit the office, you can find out what to bring with you when you come.

Before calling, you may want to have some information with you to help complete your call efficiently. You should have your social security number and, if you receive benefits or have medicare, your claim number. The claim number is shown on all correspondence and is on the Medicare card. A telephone number where you can be reached is also helpful.

The best times to call Social Security are Wednesdays, Thursdays, and Fridays. The first week of each month is a very busy time and many people try to contact Social Security on Mondays. You may want to avoid these times.

Of course, you can contact Social Security at any time. If you have a question about a specific letter, or notice, you should have it with you when you call, or bring it with you if you come to the office in person.

If you are calling to report an event which will affect benefits, have the information ready. For example, to report a change of address, have the full new address, including Zip code. To report a death, have the beneficiary's social security and claim numbers as well as the date of death and information about the surviving spouse if there is one.

Whether you call, or visit in person, social security employees will try to give you friendly, efficient service. A recent study shows that most people who contact social security by telephone prefer to call if they have to contact us again.

Spur Man Elected Chairman Of Rural Friends

Bailey L. Reece

Bailey L. Reece of Spur has been elected chairman of Rural Friends, a statewide group of electric co-op leaders and other protagonists of the economic development of rural areas.

Reece is general manager of Dickens Electric Cooperative, a position he's held since 1973. The locally owned rural electric system he manages operates 2,700 miles of lines in seven counties with Spur as the hub.

Reece is a past president of the Association of Texas Electric Cooperatives. His election came at a Rural Friends session in connection with the 49th annual meeting of the Association last week (July 31 - August 2) in Austin.

Bring the full tithes into the storehouse, that there may be food in my house; and thereby put me to the test, says the Lord of hosts, if I will not open the windows of heaven for you and pour down for you an overflowing blessing. I will rebuke the devourer for you, so that it will not destroy the fruits of your soil; and your vine in the field shall not fail to bear, says the Lord of hosts. Malachi 3:10,11

Tips for Finding Peace and Quiet

Sometimes it's hard to get some peace and quiet in today's noisy world. But for the sake of your hearing and your mental and physical health, it's important to try. Following this advice from the E-A-R Group, the world's largest manufacturer of hearing protection devices, can help:

- Regulate the volume of your sound system. When using your headset, keep the volume at a level where you can understand conversations spoken at a normal level around you. In general, the volume of your sound system is too loud if you must raise your voice or shout to be heard over the music.
 - Redesign your home or office. Bulky furniture, heavy carpeting and thick drapes all muffle sound, while bare floors and mirrors reflect and amplify sound. Place rubber mats under major appliances and foam pads under smaller items.
 - If outside noise is a problem, try to plug cracks around pipes and electrical outlets. Use sponge-type weather stripping to cover openings around windows and doors, and install storm windows to help muffle aggravating street noise. An air conditioner or a fan can also help block out distracting sounds.
 - Wear a hearing protection device, such as Noise Filter® foam earplugs, whenever you're in a noisy setting—whether it's going to a rock concert or working with power tools.
- For a free brochure on hearing protection, send a stamped, self-addressed business size envelope to: "A Helpful Guide to Ear Protection," E-A-R Group, 5457 West 79th Street, Indianapolis, IN 46268.

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor:

Small town - small business, small people - problems - big and small - in this community do have them. We turn our heads. We do as other small communities do. Let somebody else wonder, or do something. I can't help but wonder why in the h... we evengo to the polls and vote if we don't want a change or somebody who will speak up for us. We elect city council men and then, according to rumors, three of the most recent, they are going to resign because two councilmen and the mayor vote against them. Why did we vote if we didn't think somebody would listen. And we know that for years only a few people have heard in our city government. If it doesn't go with our plans or benefit us, who can step in and do anything, we control. No new business, a water system that is polluted, if you don't believe it look in your comode.

Where do you think that black tar substance comes from? Not my kidneys or yours because I've had mine checked. But it is there. What about the streets? You call and ask, you will get a around. Mowing? Get lost. Mosquito control, not necessary. Killing of our pets - no way, not even a city ordinance. Fireworks - no city ordinance. Night watchman? A woman can't have that job, because the mayor probably wouldn't go for it. The only reason we have a nightwatchman is so our insurance rates can be kept low. He can't do a thing about the beer drinking, dope, or speeding, drag racing, or anything that happens on main street. He punches a clock. Paid by the city.

Yes, I am angry and disturbed and others should be too. But the moral majority rule in Matador, don't they?

"After it became clear that the student movement was being crushed by the government, an atmosphere of hopelessness prevailed the campus."

When they went to China in 1987 Mrs. Lackey had retired from 24 years' teaching in Lubbock elementary schools, and her husband, a former teacher, journalist and businessman, had sold his Apple-A-Day Pie Kitchens so the couple could undertake volunteer missions. Though religious instruction was not permitted in the schools, there is now a course called "The Bible as Literature," which Lackey taught in a mass media course. They also attended church off campus and participated in its activities.

Mr. Lackey taught at Roaring Springs during the 1962-63 school term and will be remembered there by former students and friends. He lived in Spur and after teaching during the day in Roaring Springs, he came to Matador and assisted at the Matador Tribune during one of the paper's period's of needing a linotype operator.

FREE AND REDUCED PRICE MEALS

The Motley County Independent School District this week announced its policy for free and reduced price meals for children unable to pay the full price of meals served under the National School Lunch Program and School Breakfast Program. Each school and the office of the Superintendent has a copy of the policy, which may be reviewed by any interested party.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meals, households should fill out the application and return it to the school. Additional copies are available at the principal's office. The information provided on the application will be used for the purpose of determining eligibility and may be verified at any time during the school year by school or other program officials.

For the school officials to determine eligibility, the household must provide the following information listed on the application: Names of all household members; Social Security numbers of all adult household members or a statement that the household member does not possess one; Total household income or the household's food stamp case number if they currently receive food stamps; signature of an adult household member certifying that the information provided is correct.

Applications may be submitted at any time during the year.

Under the provisions of the free and reduced price policy, Ronald Cummings, Superintendent, will review applications and determine eligibility. Parents of guardians dissatisfied with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss the decision with the determining official on an informal basis. Parents wishing to make a formal appeal may make a request either orally or in writing to Mr. Ronald W. Cummings, Drawer 310, Matador, Texas 79244, for a hearing on the decision.

Households are required to report increases in household income of over $50 per month or $600 per year and decreases in household size. Also, if a household member becomes unemployed or if the household size increases, the household should contact the school. Such changes may make the children of the household eligible for reduced price meals or for free meals.

In certain cases foster children are also eligible for school meal benefits. If a household has foster children living with them and wishes to apply for them, the household should contact the school for more information.

The information provided by the household is confidential and will be used only for purposes of determining eligibility and verifying data.

In the operation of child feeding programs administered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, no child will be discriminated against because of race, color, sex, national origin, age or handicap. If any member of a household believes they have been discriminated against, they should write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250.

William Booth, the founder of the Salvation Army asked, "How wide is the world?"

"Twenty-five thousand miles," answered an officer.

"Then," he cried, "we must grow until our arms get around it."

Nothing less than the globe for God would do. For the Bible says, "God our Saviour longs for all to be saved."

God's will to convert is as wide as His will to create. No one is outside His purpose, and no one should be outside our prayers and passion.

Let the God of love so overflow your heart that you will overflow with the love of God for others. Make love grow from your heart to every heart.

Mrs. Bill D. Washington, vice president, presided at the business meeting. Plans were completed for the Family Community Night. Club members over-seeing the recent landscaping plants and shrubs at Community building expressed thankfulness for the good rains.

Hostesses, Mesdames L.E. Shorter, Howard Rogers and Jack Starkey served finger sandwiches, cantaloupe squares, vegetable tray with dip, brownies and fruit punch. The table was laid with a crocheted cloth over green and centered with a colorful floral arrangement of zinnia.

The meeting was adjourned following the exchange of Secret pal gifts. Those attending in addition to those mentioned above were Mesdames Wilson Barton, George Pope, Coy Franks, James Monk, Clayton Bond, Doyle Calvert and guest, Christina Reid of Amarillo.

DPS Urges Caution for School Bus Loading and Unloading

What's yellow and black and has 144 feet? A loaded school bus. Summer Vacation is almost over and children across the state will be returning to school, many aboard big yellow and black school buses. One of the most common sights on our roadways during the school year, these buses can carry from 71 to 83 seated students on any given trip each day.

"Yet as common as they are, every year there seems to be an unfortunate rash of accidents caused by drivers who fail to follow safe driving practices for a stopped school bus," stated Major Vernon Cawthon, Regional Commander for the Texas Department of Public Safety.

State law requires drivers on the same roadway, as a school bus that is stopped to load or unload children, to also stop until the bus driver has turned off the flashing red lights. This rule applies unless the vehicle is separated from the bus by a divided highway with a median strip.

The first few weeks of school are the most dangerous, according to Major Cawthon. "This time of year presents safety problems for both the school children and the driver," he explained. "Many youngsters are attending school for the first time and others might be going to a different school, where they are unfamiliar with local traffic conditions. One problem seems to be that during the summer recess, some drivers have gotten out of the habit of being alert for both school zones and school buses."

Public Safety Officials are asking Texas drivers to begin thinking now about the safety of our school children, as the beginning of a new school year starts up. By observing the speed limits in school zones, being alert for increased pedestrian traffic, and watching for school bus activity, we can make this a safe school year for all.

FIGHTING DIET RELAPSE

It never fails. You've been watching what you eat, exercising regularly and it's paying off - you're losing weight. Then it happens; something or someone distracts you from your goals. The pounds are adding up again and you are ready to give up.

According to Shelley Fillipp, R.D., outpatient dietician at Methodist Hospital, you do not have to submit to being heavier than you'd like. You can learn to fight diet relapse and take control of your weight.

Know the enemy. In order to effectively deal with diet relapse, it helps to know the situations that are most likely to make you lose sight of your weight loss goals. A stressful situation, a special celebration or a visit from a family member, for example, can lead you to eat more than you should. Whatever the situation, knowing the enemy is the first step to winning the battle.

Prepare an action plan. Once you know your weight-loss saboteurs, you can prepare to deal with them before they destroy your goals. One technique is to rehearse how you'll handle situations when they arise. For example, say to yourself, "If I start to feel tense, I'll count to ten and take five deep breaths instead of grabbing something to eat."

Retreat. Sometimes temptations can be so great that even a well-thought-out plan fails to curb your impulse to give in. When that happens, retreat. If you can't remove the situation, remove yourself. Offer to clear the dishes, for example, instead of having dessert.

Winning the war. You can still win the war against diet relapse even when you do fall to temptation. Just remember that going off your weight control plan temporarily is not the end of the world. Just pick up where you left off and start fresh!

The initial response of Federal Crop Insurance Corporation (FCIC) officials to recommended changes in multi-peril crop insurance has been termed "generally favorable."

Those are the words of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Board Chairman Myrl D. Mitchell, Martin County cotton farmer and ginner who served as cotton's spokesman on a Commission for the Improvement of Federal Crop Insurance. The Commission was created by Congress in 1988 to develop changes needed to increase the effectiveness of, and thereby raise participation in, multi-peril crop insurance offered by FCIC. Ultimately Congress hopes to see an insurance program that will eliminate the need for annual disaster payment programs.

The 10 producer and 10 insurance industry members of the group, after four meetings and numerous field hearings, agreed on 26 recommendations in April of this year. A subsequent meeting in July led to a final report to Congressional committees and USDA covering 32 major policy changes in the FCIC program. FCIC has yet to release official comment on the final report.

In a synopsis of its actions, FCIC says it has begun to implement for the 1990 crop year 12 of 26 recommendations and that it will initiate six of the recommendations "with modifications." FCIC also agrees to give further consideration to seven of the remaining eight, but does not accept and will not pursue the other.

The thumbs-down treatment was given to the commission's idea for an impartial review board to settle specific producer-case disputes between FCIC and insured companies and/or master marketers. In its comment the FCIC states a concern that such a board might compromise its responsibility and accountability for program oversight.

Mitchell identifies seven of the recommendations to which FCIC has agreed as those with potential for benefits to Cotton producers, including:

- A premium rate for entire farms, with division of units if desired, and a rate reduction for unit consolidation;
- Permission for farmers to exclude high-risk land from insured acreage;
- An education and training program for all program participants, including personnel of associated government agencies;
- Availability of all rates, rules, policy changes, forms and other insurance information applicable for the entire year at an early date (no later than July 1 for fall-planted crops and by October 1 for all others);
- Automatic renewal of insurance contracts at the same price election option as the previous year, even when the price within options changes;
- Meaningful administrative tolerances for program determinations, and
- A review process for proposed rate, rule and policy changes.

Based on FCIC comments, Mitchell thinks one of the Commission's most desirable recommendations, although listed as still under consideration, may have trouble gaining FCIC acceptance. The Commission recommended that guaranteed yields be determined, at the producer's option, from (1) a modified actual production history calculation or (2) ASCS payment yields. Improvement in guaranteed yields, Mitchell says, is essential if a high percentage of cotton producers are to participate.

According to Mitchell this is one of the things, along with others, FCIC seems reluctant to approve, that it may become necessary to seek through legislation.

Attorney General

Business "Directories"

Not Always Good Business For Merchants

Businesses, like consumers, can fall victim to fraud and, because advertising is a vital part of doing business, the fraud often involves deceptive ad schemes. Business "directories," for example, can be a good way for local merchants to introduce their products to new customers. Unfortunately, they can also be a good way for merchants to get ripped off.

Recently, a few unscrupulous operations have bilked Texas businesses of hundreds of thousands of dollars. As a result, the Attorney General's Office has filed deceptive advertising lawsuits against some publishers of business directories, "coupon books" and so-called "Yellow Pages."

In one case, a company sold ads and published a coupon book the first year of business, then continued selling advertising for directories that were supposed to be published over the next three years. Our Consumer Protection Division alleged that at least $140,000 was collected from local businesses for directories that were never published.

Another company sent solicitations to businesses for "Yellow Pages" ads. Our office alleged these advertising solicitations were deceptive because they created the impression that they were from Southwestern Bell Yellow Pages, when they were not. We also alleged that the solicitations created the impression they were "invoices" for ads that had been placed in the past, when they were merely solicitations for publications in which the businesses had never advertised before.

Some business directory companies have collected advertising money from merchants, then gone out of business before publishing a directory. If the company files bankruptcy, merchants might recover a portion of the money by filing a claim with the bankruptcy court.

Prevention is the Best Protection
Before advertising in a directory, investigate the track record of the company.

- How long have they been in business?
- Have they previously published a directory?
- What is the quality of their product?
- Are the owners/managers known in the community?
- Are they financially solvent?

Don't be fooled by an ad solicitation in the mail that is in the form of an invoice. If it looks like an invoice, be sure you already have an agreement for this particular advertising.

Beware of directories with names similar to well known advertising outlets - such as "Yellow Pages."

If you have a complaint about business directories or any other consumer complaint, call your nearest Consumer Protection Office in Austin, Dallas, El Paso, Houston, Lubbock, McAllen and San Antonio. The Attorney General's Office is the people's law firm. We're here to help you.
