TRAIL DUST

By
DOUGLAS MEADOR

Where the self-righteous go they take the luggage of narrow concepts and the soiled linens of their own merciless judgements.

The public and not the man decides the difference in the qualifications of a statesman and a politician.

Life's kaleidoscope brings strange images into focus from the changing horizons of days. New thoughts are registered on men's minds; new worries plague their hearts. The sickle of time cuts new growth at every harvest.

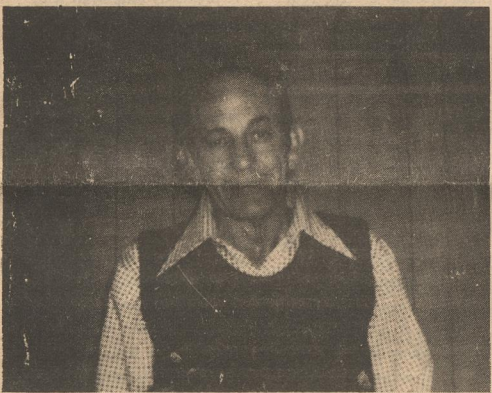

Perhaps I am biased on the subject, but I am prepared to defend my opinion that the most satisfying entertainment I have ever gotten out of television was the singing of a mockingbird perched on a high television aerial.

Frequently a phantom whip that drives men to attainment is mistaken for ambition.

The roads of right and wrong are not made dangerous by traffic hazards except at the intersections where change-overs take place.

Bathing suits worn currently by women make a strong argument for good vision and possibly the number of men who find it necessary to wear glasses. Few of us would be content with being told what others have seen.

The roof of the First United Methodist Church Sanctuary caved in Wednesday night, May 24 causing an estimated $300,000 worth of damage. Cause of the collapse of the structure is not known at this time.

Methodist Church Roof Caves In

Methodists in Matador have moved their place of worship to the Education Building because the roof of the church sanctuary caved in Wednesday night of last week.

No one was in the First United Methodist Church sanctuary when the roof crashed down, pushing the west wall out, and sending bricks, boards and airconditioners onto the west lawn.

"This could have done as much as $300,000 damage," Frank Price, of the Methodist building committee said Wednesday. "We still don't know if anything can be salvaged from the sanctuary because we haven't been in there. The roof is still on top of the pews."

Price said insurance investigators were supposed to have been here last Thursday or Friday to study the damage, but church officials haven't heard anything from them yet.

"We don't know what we are going to do," he said. "We don't have the money to do anything now. The cleanup alone will cost quite a bit."

The official cause of the cave in has not been determined, but Rev. Lloyd Hearn, pastor of the church, said last week that recent high winds could have caused non-visible structural damage to the roof which was only about two months old. He also said the roof had been checked last fall by an architectural firm and it was deemed safe.

About $25,000 in construction of the new flat roof had already been spent and a total of about $130,000 was expected to be spent in fixing up the inside of the sanctuary and finishing the roof.

Keith Patton, one apparent witness to the cave in, who lives next door to the church, was watching television that Wednesday night. Although the weather was calm, the little white tornado in the corner of the TV screen didn't help matters much when Patton heard the rumbling "like a train" outside his house.

Rev. Hearn's wife, who lives in the parsonage across the street, said it sounded like a storm and there was a tremendous cloud of dust.

Rev. Hearn said the sanctuary was usually empty on Wednesday nights unless something special was being held. A prayer group which usually meets in the Education Building on Wednesday night had dismissed because of the eighth-grade graduation.

A building fund for the church has been set up at the First State Bank in Matador. Persons wishing to contribute to the needs of the church have been asked to contact bank officials about the fund.

Wildcat Is Test Well In Matador Area

Most Motley County residents have been aware for some time now of the wild cat oil derrick towering on the horizon east of Matador. It stands 126 feet above the ground and can be seen for miles -- both night and day.

The oil well drilling, being conducted by Jack Grimm and H. B. Hunt Company of Abilene, has reached a total depth of 9260 feet, as far as officials say they plan to go.

"Our progress has been real good," operations manager Jeff Busby said Monday. "We have had a crew of three to four men working eight hour shifts 24 hours a day. The rig has been in operation for a total of about 50 days now."

Busby said the work and drilling had to be constant once it began, because too many things can happen to the hole when work is shut down.

"For one thing the sides of the hole can deteriorate," he said.

The next few days of operation will determine the future of drilling in the Matador area. At the present time the crew is doing electric logging to determine what they have in their 9250 foot hole. The underground formations, based on several different kinds of study will be examined also.

"This location (nearly four miles east of Matador) was picked for a wild cat because of its surface geology," Busby said. "We don't know too much right now of what we have. We will just have to wait and see. There are several dry holes in the vicinity but the nearest producing well is about eight miles from this location."

If this hole becomes a producing well, other derricks will no doubt spring up in the area. Officials are hopeful that by the end of this week they can continue their planning of more drilling.

Public Hearing

There will be a public meeting concerning USDA's resource conservation programs Tuesday, June 6 at 8:00 p.m. in the Motley County school cafeteria. This meeting is a result of the Resource Conservation Act of 1977 which has asked for the public's opinion of all existing and all needed resource conservation programs. The public is asked to express their views at this time either in writing or verbally at the meeting. All information gathered at the meeting will be consolidated by the Upper Pease SWCD and forwarded to Washington. Anyone wishing to make a statement but unable to attend the meeting can do so by calling or writing: the Soil Conservation Service office. The telephone number is 347-2263 and the Post Office box is 98.

This is an opportunity for everyone to express both the good and the bad points of USDA resource programs. Everyone is urged to attend.

Many Expected For Church Celebration

In addition of several former pastors, many former members of the First Baptist Church, Matador are expected here Sunday to celebrate the 85th anniversary of the organization of the church. Also noted will be the 40th year the membership has met in the present building.

Only two services, morning and afternoon, will be held Sunday, with dinner at the church. There will be no evening service.

The morning message will be brought by Rev. Jim Hancock of Canyon, who served as pastor here from 1964 until 1967. Dr. Strauss Atkinson of Plainview, Area Missionary will also speak at this service and special music will be a solo by Mrs. C. H. Murphy Jr., of Friona, the former Raynita Dunning.

Former pastors who will be here for the afternoon program include Rev. Miller Robinson of Snyder, pastor from 1961 to 1964; Rev. Gene Joplin, pastor from 1970 through 1972 and Rev. Larry Heard of Idalou, pastor from 1967 to 1970. Also here will be a former pastor (1944 -- 46) now retired, Rev. H. G. Verner of Petersberg. A solo by Mrs. Larry Heard will be the special music.

Singing for the day will be led by R. E. "Pappy" Campbell, who served the church as choir director for many years and as Sunday School Superintendent for 25 consecutive years from 1929 through 1954.

For about 13 years after the church was organized on May 8, 1893, the small group met in the Methodist Church building, they having organized in 1892, and in the school house, courthouse and various homes.

The Baptists then constructed their own building during 1906-07, dedicating it late in the year 1907. This served the congregation until 1938, when ground was broken on March 2, for the present building.

The doors closed on the old Baptist Church building on March 16, 1938 after the Wednesday night meeting which also was an honorary birthday party for Mrs. A. D. (Mother) Burlison on her 85th birthday. At that time she was the last charter member of the church still living.

The auditorium of the new building was completed by June 26, 1938, when the church held its first service. However, it was not until the church edifice was finished that the dedication service was held on August 23, 1942. At that time the late Rev. M. B. Carroll was serving as pastor.

Mrs. Edith Timmons Retires After 38 Years Teaching

By Grace Timmons

Mrs. Edith Amburn Timmons, who is retiring from teaching after 38 years, was honored by the Motley County faculty, school employees and retired teachers at the school cafeteria Thursday, May 25.

Following a salad luncheon, Mrs. Grace Timmons, who taught with "Miss Edith" (as she was then called) at Northfield over twenty-five years ago, as well as, in the Motley County school system, paid tribute to her as a teacher. She said in part: "Edith is the kindest, most patient and dedicated teacher that I have ever known. She taught me what it means to be a teacher, to really love students and to feel responsible for their learning."

"Edith felt that God had given her special compassion for rural schools and rural people. In spite of her having a masters degree, she chose to teach in one- and two-room schools, often without modern equipment or facilities. She wanted rural children to have the same advantages in education as those living in towns or cities. In the summers if she didn't go back to school, she remained in the community and helped the farmers by hoeing cotton.

"Edith was a mature adult when she came to Northfield, but when she fell in love, she was just as starry-eyed as any sixteen year old. She caught her long, tall cowboy; and she and Grady settled down in Northfield. He farmed and ranched and she continued to teach in nearby rural schools.

State Delegate To Leave For Austin

Mark Wason son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wason of Matador will be among more than 920 high school junior boys who will assemble on the campus of the University of Texas in Austin, June 7, for the thirty-eighth Annual American Legion Boys State.

Mark, a member of the Junior class this year, has been quite active in sports and was a Regional qualifier in both tennis and golf. He also plays football and basketball for the Motley County Matadors and is a member of the National Honor Society.

Highlight of Boys State will be a trip to the Capitol on Tuesday morning where each elected Boys State Official will be given an opportunity to serve in his respective office for a day. Each one will be assigned to one of the two political parties -- the Nationalist or Federalist. Each citizen will then function as a member of his party, attend its precinct, county and state convention and vote in its primary.

In Boys State, The American Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has an opportunity to learn for himself that his government is just what he makes it. The boy "learns to do by doing." The program has taken on added significance since the vote has been extended to 18 year olds.

Texas Boys State enrollment this year brings the total to 21, 939 high school juniors who have attended since 1940, when Boys State was first inaugurated in this state.

VEGETABLES AND FLOWERS TOGETHER
You can surround your house with beauty and at the same time fill your plates with economical home-grown food when you plant flowers and vegetables together in one garden. But this double duty garden must be well planned if it's to grow abundantly and beautifully.

GARDEN VARIETY WISDOM—Plant flowers around vegetables in a double-purpose garden.

As a general rule, it is a good idea to try to surround the vegetable garden with flowers. Plant low-growing flowers on the south side of your garden, medium-growing on the east and west sides and the tall-growing varieties as a background on the north side. Tall-growing varieties should also be used along border fences in the background. Ideal low-growing border flowers to plant around gardens would be portulaca, moss roses, tiny baby zinnias, dwarf petunias, dwarf marigolds, sweet alyssum, ageratum, little sweetheart bush-type sweet peas and pansies.

Medium height flowers for side border use would be asters, zinnias, marigolds, salvias, carnations, nicotiana, regular petunias, impatiens, dwarf dahlias and nasturtiums.

Tall varieties for background use would be snapdragons, larkspur, Canterbury bell, cosmos, bells of Ireland, scarlet skyrocket, black-eyed susans, hollyhock, dwarf sunflowers, tall growing zinnias, ornamental asparagus and sweet peas.

With proper planning how will your garden grow?—resplendent with flowers to delight the sight and vegetables to delight the appetite.

For a free catalog of vegetable and flower seeds you can plant in your garden write Gurney Seed and Nursery Company, 98947 Page Street, Yankton, South Dakota 57078.

Guest Is Speaker As Club Year Ends

A Federation Day program closed the year for El Progresso Club, Thursday, with Mrs. Phillip Carpenter of Burkburnett as guest speaker. The luncheon-meeting was in the basement fellowship hall of First Baptist Church, with Mrs. Harold Campbell as leader.

Piano selections were played by Mrs. Vernon Higginbotham, also a guest, in the church auditorium as members and their guests assembled. Mrs. Franklin Price, club president, welcomed the group and Mrs. Vinie Keltz, an honorary member now residing in Lubbock, gave the invocation.

An International Hostess in General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Carpenter spoke in glowing terms of the General Federation headquarters in Washington, D.C. and the activities, both political and social in which GFWC is involved.

Mrs. Carpenter is a past president of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and was the first president of Santa Rosa District when it was formed. Although she admires the club headquarters in Washington, she declared that "Our state headquarters in Austin is the largest and most beautiful of all other state headquarters. We should really be proud of our building, which has received a Historical Medalion."

She traced the history of the General Federation from its beginning 87 years ago when there were only 67 delegates from 17 states, to the present, with a membership of over 600,000 women in more than 12,000 clubs. International Federation claims 92 organizations in 35 countries, she said.

"Federation is great," Mrs. Carpenter stressed. "It is all women together, all over the world. Its purpose is helping others to help themselves. There are a lot of things you have accomplished which you perhaps didn't know," she said as she reviewed the State Federation's projects, citing contributions to the Cancer Center, the "Cows to Korea," movement which took place during the time the late Mrs. U. L. (Virginia) Willie was serving as treasurer of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs; also the state federation's part in saving the Big Thicket; sponsoring the International Friendship Pavilion and the Peruvian Children's Library in Helsinki, and working to receive a grant for environmental research.

"There are many opportunities to work in the Federation... dedicate yourself to go out and do something for someone else," she urged her listeners. Mrs. Carpenter complimented El Progresso Club for the recent election of Mrs. Harold Campbell as second vice-president of Santa Rosa District.

Officers for the next term were installed by Mrs. Carpenter, who used a Western Ranch theme as she inducted each person to her station. The new officers are, Mrs. Franklin Price, president; Mrs. John Hamilton, 1st vice president; Mrs. Furman Vinson, 2nd vice president; Mrs. W. C. Pallmeyer, secretary and Mrs. W. N. Pipkin, treasurer.

Inspirational Thought by Mrs. Vinson concluded the program.

Mrs. Price expressed her appreciation for the committees for their work. Mrs. Higginbotham for the enjoyable music, and Mrs. Clay Jameson and Mrs. Frank Pohl for making the attractive place cards. Decorations were ivy runners down the length of the tables, and colorful arrangements of spring flowers. On the decorations committee were Mesdames Hamilton, Robert Darsey and E. A. Day.

Serving on the menu committee were Mrs. Vinson, Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Pipkin.

The dishes were, King Ranch chicken, cranberry sauce, broccoli spears, cole slaw, relishes, French bread, pound cake and chocolate sundae, and ice tea.

Mrs. Price introduced Mrs. M. E. Bean of Burkburnett, who had accompanied Mrs. Carpenter. An out-of-state guest was Mrs. Gail Sutton of Tucson, Arizona, who was the guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Ralph Stapleton. Also an out-of-town guest was Mrs. Jack Crider of Odessa, the guest of her sister, Mrs. Douglas Meador. Other guests and members included Mrs. Buford Hobbs, guest of Mrs. Harold Campbell; Mrs. James Ed Russell and Mrs. R. E. Campbell Jr., Mrs. R. E. Donovan and Mrs. Robert Darsey; Mrs. France Barton and Mrs. E. A. Day; Mrs. J. D. Craven and Mrs. John Hamilton; Mrs. Bennie Keltz, and Mrs. Vinie Keltz; Mrs. Billy McKelvey and Mrs. W. C. Pallmeyer; Mrs. W. B. Wason and Mrs. D. E. Pitts Sr., Mrs. Freddie Welling and Mrs. Frank Pohl; Mrs. Alfred Barton Jr., and Mrs. Higginbotham with Mrs. Price; Mrs. J. P. Neighbors and Mrs. J. L. Woodruff; Mrs. Alan Bingham and Miss Mary Keith; and other members, Mrs. Vinson, Mrs. W. F. Jacobs and Mrs. Pipkin.

MORE ON GUEST DAY -- These members joined us for lunch -- not playing golf -- Marguerite, Grace, Lillian, Mamie Yeates (We really initiated her... hopefully... for a new social member) Dorothy R. and Winifred. These ladies had been most efficient in last minute duties in the kitchen, and generally helpful everywhere.

THURSDAY PLAY
Eight members were playing -- Mary, Mickey, Louise, Leona, Kathy, Kathryn, Tommy and Hazel.

'Twas a most beautiful morning. Loys loaned the use of her cart -- even tho she was unable to play.

Out of town appointments, other duties and obligations kept several from playing... Winifred joined us at El Matador for coffee, following play... she had been decorating for El Progreso Club luncheon... and several attended... while the other players enjoyed lunching at the cafe.

Hopefully the major events are over -- and we can have more players ready for golfing.

On Friday, May 29, Jeff Thacker played at Lubbock CC Invitational Day Tournament, hosted by Road-Runner Association of Home Furnishings, in team play.

THREE DAY TOURNAMENT AT COMANCHE: Buzz, Jeff, Charlie and Tom entered and played Saturday, Sunday and Monday. This is an annual affair.

Buzz and Clyde Williams won third in their flight, receiving three dozen golf balls each.

Jeff and Charlie were partners and Tom played with R. D. Holley of Comanche (formerly of Dougherty).

Pam and Nancy accompanied their husbands and they all stayed in Brownwood, although the girls followed the play on the three days.

Nona Williams visited in Roaring Springs -- while the men stayed at the Williams home in Comanche.

Review of Fed'l Funds For Mental Health Service

On June 6, 1978, South Plains Health Systems, Inc. will review the continuation application of Central Plains Mental Health--Mental Retardation Center. The application is for $384,889 in federal funds for staff to provide a comprehensive array of mental health services to seven counties including Motley County. The total annual budget of the Center is $1,431,532.

In January, 1977, South Plains Health Systems, Inc. the regional health planning agency, conducted a public hearing to determine the health needs of Motley County residents. Much of the comment made centered around the need for mental health services for Motley County residents. Motley County lies within the area served by Central Plains MH-MR Center which is located in Plainview with outreach centers in Muleshoe, Littlefield, Floydada, Tulia, Friona and Dimmitt.

Specific needs pointed out at the public hearing were for better information and referral regarding available mental services and for a screening program to identify those in need of mental health services.

In Texas, the services which each Mental Health--Mental Retardation Center is required by law to provide are as follows:

1. hospitalization and partial hospitalization;
2. outpatient psychotherapy including family counseling;
3. emergency medical services and crisis counseling;
4. educational and consultation services to persons in the community who are turned to for support, such as teachers, ministers, etc.;

TEACHER RETIRES

"In 1962, after all the rural schools in the surrounding area had either closed or consolidated, Edith began teaching at Flomot. but she said she was afraid she would have a hard time adjusting to the big school system. Five years ago she began teaching fourth grade in the Motley County school.

"Edith has been described as 'shy and timid' but I have never seen her afraid or intimidated when she felt she was in the right or when she thought someone was 'Picking' on her students."

Next, Superintendent Charles Johnson presented Mrs. Timmons with a plaque from the school that reads "The Motley County I.S.D. in recognition of thirty-eight years service and devotion to school and community." Principal Arnold Parker then presented Mrs. Timmons with a watch, a gift from the faculty and employees. Mrs. Billie Willmon, faculty member presented Mrs. Timmons with a decorated cake with the inscription, "We love you, Edith."

Retired teachers who were guests at the luncheon were Mrs. Bertha Stearns, Mrs. Bessie Mae Marshall, and Mrs. Lem Miller

YOU DECIDE

On June 3, Texas voters will elect one of two men as the Democratic candidate for Railroad Commissioner:

Jerry Sadler, 70, is a twice-defeated former Land Commissioner. Here's what three of the state's leading newspapers have to say about him:

The Austin American-Statesman: "Voters deserve to know whom they will be choosing between in the runoff June 3. Poerner is not a household name; Sadler is. But Sadler has a sorry record in state government. He is the only person ever censured by the Texas House of Representatives (for failure to cooperate with an investigation). He became notorious for attempting to choke then-State Rep. Jake Johnson. He was defeated at the polls in 1970 and lost to Jon Newton in a race for Railroad Commissioner in 1976. And now he's back again."

The Dallas Times Herald: "Sadler has made Texas government a universal target of ridicule and derision."

The San Angelo Standard Times: "Under Sadler, the Railroad Commission just might become the laughing stock he once made of the General Land Office."

John Poerner, 45, is a respected businessman and rancher. John Poerner was elected to three successive terms in the Texas House before being named Executive Director of the Governor's Committee on Aging and Director, Education Resources of Texas.

His honors include being named "Citizen of the Year" in his hometown of Hondo, receiving a "Distinguished Legislator" award from the Vocational Agriculture Teachers Association, and being named to the "Agriculture Hall of Fame" at Southwest Texas State University.

He was recently appointed to the Railroad Commission by the Governor.

"Poerner is a solid, competent individual with a record of 10 years of dedicated public service," says the Houston Chronicle. "(We urge) his election."

Jr. High Graduation Seen As Change

"Graduation from junior high into high school is a very exciting time for all of us," Derinda Cruse, Class Valedictorian, told the waiting audience at the eighth grade graduation exercises last week.

The Motley County Junior High School class stepped into high school on May 24th while parents, teachers and friends looked on.

Mrs. John Stevens played the processional march and awards were presented by principal Arnold Parker. Presentation of the class was made by Miss Carrol Clancy, class sponsor, and diplomas were presented to the students by superintendent Charles Johnson.

"I suppose it would be difficult for us to leave junior high without admitting first that, along with the adventure of entering high school, comes some apprehension also," Miss Cruse said. "No longer will we be the upperclassmen and leaders of the school. To the contrary once again we'll be the ones who are teased and joked about. And for some of us this will be a difficult adjustment."

Miss Cruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cruse, of Flomot finished the junior high years with a 95 average, Salutatorian was Rhonda Stephens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Stephens of Matador, finishing with a 93.25 average. She was followed by Shelly Jackson with a 93.05 average. Shelly is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Jackson, also of Matador.

"Our parents and teachers have been our valuable guides during our Junior High school years," Miss Stephens reflected about the past few years. "They've lead us to many victories and taught us to accept defeat gracefully."

Miss Stephens said the class realized they would also need the help of their parents and teachers through the high school years, the final instruction period to prepare them for college, vocational training or the career they will enter just after high school.

Some great moments in sports occurred in 1912 when Jim Thorpe scored 25 touchdowns and 198 points for the Carlisle Institute football squad. Young football hopefuls today can score some energy when they down Planters® Peanuts, which give them protein, iron and vitamins.

WINNERS & LOSERS

The longest winning streak in baseball history occurred between Sept. 7 and Sept. 30, 1916 when the New York National League team won 26 games in a row.

A long streak of losses has been experienced by union organizers. For instance, only about 22% of the U. S. work force are union members, it's only 10% in the textile industry, and after almost 15 years of all-out effort, union organizers have achieved the representation of less than seven percent of the workers at J. P. Stevens.

The longest winning streak in football is 47 straight by Oklahoma. The longest unbeaten streak is 63 games, 59 won and 4 tied, by Washington from 1907 to 1917.

FIRST STATE BANK

LUBBOCK, Friday, May 26, 1978

Washington has knocked down, at least for the present, regulations developed by the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) Committee which were aimed at fair and sensible determination of producer eligibility for prevented planting payments in 1978.

If a Washington ASCS directive received in the State office May 25 is not rescinded and is strictly enforced, says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, "it will be almost impossible for any producer to qualify for a prevented planting payment this year or next."

PCG is protesting the directive, but in the meantime Johnson says producers in dry areas of the Plains will be wise to consider dry planting cotton. If the cotton fails to come up or subsequently dies, he points out, application can then be made for a "failed acreage" payment.

"Otherwise producers may be denied the protection intended by Congress under the disaster provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1977."

The law says producers are due prevented planting payments when "because of drought, flood or other natural disaster or other condition beyond the control of producers" they are prevented from planting cotton "or other non-conserving crops."

The State ASCS office weeks ago, as recorded in this space last week, advised county offices that Texas farmers unable to plant cotton before the required planting date of May 31 would not later be required to plant feed grains if they had applied a cotton herbicide to the land, and would not be required to plant other non-conserving crops if they had no history of planting those crops.

But USDA's lawyers in Washington have now said these instructions are "outside the language of the law." This would mean producers who received planting moisture after May 31 would have to plant some non-conserving crop, regardless of the production or financial return potential, on cotton land, which in turn would make them ineligible for a prevented planting payment.

In a mailgram to USDA, with copies to Congressmen and Senators, PCG contended State office instructions were in accordance with the language of the law and urged they be allowed to stand as written.

In part the PCG wire said "Strict enforcement of your directive without giving County ASCS Committees leeway to use good sense in its application would force farmers, already financially strapped and facing another disastrous year, to spend useless money putting seed in the ground with no hope of production or financial return. Producers would thus qualify for a failed acreage payment instead of a prevented planting payment.

"Cost to the government would be the same; the producer's benefit would be diminished by the cost of his fruitless planting, and a portion of the nation's precious fuel supply would be wasted.

"This punitive interpretation of the law cannot but further erode producer confidence that this Administration desires to maintain a viable agricultural economy. It should be rescinded immediately."

Rootplowing May Be The Answer

By Charles S. Brown
Range Conservationist

Effectively controlling mesquite in an area that adjoins a cotton field has always been a problem. Chemical methods can essentially be ruled out due to drift. Tree dozing is expensive and the results are poor. Chaining is less costly but the effects are short lived. There is one method, however, that has been recommended by the Soil Conservation Service which is proving to be very efficient.

Root plowing is a method of brush control which cuts the roots of brush below the ground surface. A crawler tractor fitted with a single, large, V-shaped blade mounted on the rear is generally used. Reseeding is often necessary because there are usually very few desirable grasses growing in dense brush and these are usually destroyed during the brush work. For this reason most tractors are also equipped with seeders so that everything can be done in one operation.

Rootplowing has proven to be one of the most effective methods of controlling undesirable woody species. This method normally kills 90 percent or more of the brush unless a heavy rain occurs within one or two days after plowing. This treatment is well adapted to large, thick stands of brush and mesquite too dense for other types of treatment to be practical. It can also be used on species for which chemical controls have not yet been developed.

Rootplowing is one of our best and most underrated forms of brush control. It is effective, economical, and often the only reasonable solution.

If you would like any further information on rootplowing, please contact your Soil Conservation Service office located in the Motley County courthouse. Technical service is provided to all interested persons regardless of religion, race, creed, color, or sex.

RETURN HOME

Mrs. Robert Barrow (Dr. Nancy Barrow) of Galveston, and small daughter, Laura, left Tuesday to return home after a visit here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Traweek. The Traweeks met their plane in Lubbock last Wednesday, and accompanied them back to Lubbock Airport for the return trip. Mrs. Traweek, Mrs. Barrow and Laura spent the week end in Amarillo with Mrs. Traweek's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Grasmick, and Mrs. Barrow participated in the Funfest Half Marathon, in which she placed seventh.

County Agent Pallmeyer Says

MC DEMONSTRATION RESULTS MAILED

Copies of the Agricultural Demonstrations carried out in Motley County during 1977 have been mailed to those who have requested them in the past. If there are some who didn't receive a copy that would like one, let me know as I still have a few on hand.

Purpose of these tests is to show what will work and won't work in Motley County. Many practices or varieties that work well in another area won't do the job here, and the variety that will excel on one farm may not be the best for another.

Those who conduct tests know what will work best for them, and for others, look at the tests and see which varieties are doing the best. If you see one that is beating the variety you are using, why not try a sack and compare it with your variety. $20 per acre over 500 acres represents an easy $10,000 to pick up, and the only way you can find out this information is to try it. Also, don't "eyeball" the results. Harvest separate and get weights and returns. Think!

"SCREW WORM THREAT"

Even though the screw worm threat has been greatly reduced in Motley County, don't sit back and relax too much, or depend on "George" to do the work.

Five cases in Texas have been confirmed to date, and Stonewall County, less than 100 miles from us is the nearest. The 1st of the year was in Hudspeth County on April 21st, with Presidio and Hidalgo Counties reporting one case each, and Coleman County two. How these cases appeared in Stonewall and Coleman is subject to anyone's guess, but they were there.

As stated before, don't rely on your judgment as to whether worms may be maggots or screw worms. Collect a sample, digging deep into the wound for worms, and mail to the lab at Mission, Texas. This way outbreaks can be reduced by assistance provided by the program if screw worms are present.

Ask yourself, "has the program been a success", or would you like to go back to
