 TEXAS TO CHURCH SUNDAY

Blizzard Leaves Precious Moisture Deposit

"Barrelling" blizzard which hit newspapers (not the Trib-une) claim as the most severe in a century, swept across Texas Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The storm, which had Plainview under a 30 inch snow and brought a break in the extended "dry spell".

On the Plains the storm brought automobile traffic to a standstill, stranded buses and trucks and resulted in the cancellation of meetings in almost every community. Schools were dismissed, and church services delivered by radio. Several funerals were delayed in Amarillo and other stricken areas.

Range cattle in some of the deep-snow area near Amarillo were without food for five days before it was finally dropped over pastures from planes.

Less Severe Here
 The driving snow and low temperatures (as low as 11 degrees) caused inconvenience and brought highway traffic almost to a halt in Motley county. Ranchers were able to reach their livestock Sunday, although the snowfall continued until late afternoon. Churches here held services Sunday morning but other meetings were postponed. Matador Volunteer Fire Department answered one call Saturday but it was a false alarm. City employees were attempting to thaw out a water line at the C. T. Heller residence in the west part of town, and were burning old automobile tires and turned in a fire alarm. Butane dealers did a brisk business during the period.

 Reynolds Commended
 John Reynolds, State Highway

Department county maintenance supervisor, and his crew of loyal workers, received the praise of local citizens and travelers for their continuous efforts to keep the county's highways open and render assistance when it was needed. They worked on a 24-hour basis in attempting to keep the main roads open and safe. Sand and gravel was spread as soon as the snow was removed.

Many county residents returning home said Motley county roads were in better condition than others in all directions. Difference in maintenance was immediately noticeable as soon as they reached Motley county and it was a welcomed difference. Most of the snow had melted by noon yesterday, leaving its precious residue of moisture which was penetrating fields and ranges to 8 or 10 inches.

TRAIL DUST
 By DOUGLAS MEADOR
 My troubles play to such a limited audience that I am frequently obsessed with the feeling that I am talking to myself. A popularity survey indicates that my creditors, as a class, are not impressed.

2nd Plans Ready For Banquets
 For the second time this month plans are ready for the annual Union Service, Mother-Daughter and Father-Son Banquets. The measles epidemic last week caused the meeting to be postponed after Matador schools had been closed.

LEGION SCHEDULES PANCAKE SUPPER
 A benefit pancake supper is scheduled at Fleming Post American Legion building, Thursday evening, February 16, between 6 and 8 p. m. Proceeds will be used to purchase a new mattress for one of the Legions two hospital beds, which are available to residents of the county.

Interest Mounts In Highway 70 Meeting
 Announcement is made this week of a change in the management of Bob's Oil Well Cafe, at the intersection of US and Texas Highways 70. Mr. and Mrs. Bill McCaghen are now operating the restaurant formerly managed by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lane.

Cotton Crop Same As '54
 Motley county's 1955 cotton crop was the same size as the crop of 1954. Possibly for the first time in the county's history two crops of the same size have been harvested in successive years.

Mrs. Van Martin Aimed By Death
 Mrs. Van Martin, 61, resident of Flomot for 44 years, died last Wednesday at 10:30 a. m. at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Jackson, in Floydada. She had been in ill health for over a year.

Keeping up with the Jones' is not difficult after you locate the source of their financing.
 The obvious is often obscured by confused interest, like the fluttering dove that deflects attention from her nest. One of life's most vital qualities has become the neglected child of education; a wail that begs in the corridors of destiny. It is the all-important attitude of the individual. It decides every success and every failure, concealed beneath the complex veneer of our society. It is the arbitrator in every friendship bankruptcy hearing, yet its security extends beyond the grave. Wisdom, religion, courage, talent, love and the long list of attributes which go into the formula of character become impotent without the proper attitude toward life.

Dr. Denney Takes Refresher Course

Serve Nation's Basic Need
 "The home is a divine institution," Rev. Ray Manning, pastor of the First Baptist Church Tuesday declared at the principal address at the regular meeting of the Matador Lions Club luncheon. "I do not want to be an alarmist," the young pastor declared, "nor do I have any desire to return to the good old days, except in the basic needs of a community, and our nation."

 Constituents of a political demagogue always become suspicious when he advocates cleaning houses—with his own broom.
 Each life is allotted but a few truly splendid hours and one must be the first note in school. Three blazing words suspended from the stars to light the dream castles that youth must forever build.
 Perhaps all the flutes in paradise will announce the arrival of a soul whose record of earthly commerce bears not a single entry of self-pity.
 Who knows where the wind goes when it holds a fragile promise in phantom arms?

BAPTIST GROUPS HAVE PROGRAMS ON HOME MISSIONS

Home Missions was the theme of programs given Tuesday night at the Baptist Church, for the W. M. U. and Brotherhood, in regular monthly meeting.

Slides showing the work of missionaries in home mission fields, were shown to the men's organization, by the pastor, Rev.

Ray Manning.

Mrs. Ben Keltz was leader of a Royal Service program, "God Save America", given in the W. M. U. meeting. Mission work among other races in this country, was presented in talks by the leader, Mrs. R. E. Campbell, Sr., and Mrs. H. S. Watson.

Announcement was made by Mrs. J. L. Woodruff, president, in a business session, that the Week of Prayer program for Home Missions is being planned and will be held in March. Announcements were also made concerning arrangements for the Sweetheart banquet which the W. M. U. sponsors annually for the young people of the church. Present for the two meetings were Messrs and Mesdames Bill McCaghren, J. L. Woodruff, R. E. Campbell, Sr., George Cullin, Floyd Henderson, Bill Dunning, Jessie Smallwood, John Barnhill and J. E. Edwards; Rev. Manning, Forrest Campbell, and Mesdames Velma Fuller, H. S. Watson, C. P. Waybourn, A. A. Tip-ton, Ben Meador, Bess Patton, Ben Keltz and C. M. Barton.

Flomot Women Take Dresden Painting

Women of the Flomot community are taking lessons in china painting, and are holding Dresden painting parties, with Mrs. Lewis Jurac of Plainview instructing.

Mrs. Bert Cloyd was hostess at a party Tuesday, Jan. 31, and guests arriving before noon brought a covered dish for lunch. F. H. A. girls and their sponsor, Mrs. Francis Wise also attended for a short session, made purchases and booked a party for a later date in February.

Women attending were, Mesdames Raldo Martin, J. H. George, L. B. Isbell, Leon Cloyd, Ike Gilbert, Ralph Stapleton, J. E. Monk, Mary Clay, Beryl Monk, Bly Shannon, Edith Washington, Wilson Barton and L. B. Turner. PHA girls attending were Misses Mary Folley, Peggy Purcell, Mary Ann Calvert, Kathryn Kimbell, Anna Beth Tanner, Wadie Martin and Wanda Moseley.

Several men who came to accompany their wives home, admired the articles for sale and the artistic painting of the women.

Mrs. J. E. Monk will be hostess at a Dresden party on Feb. 17, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

MRS. RICHARDSON IS PRIZE WINNER

Mrs. Neda Richardson, unit manager of the Childress area of Stanley Home Products, with the assistance of 12 dealers from surrounding towns, won a trip to Los Angeles, California, as an achievement award from the company.

Mrs. Richardson is manager over 12 dealers working the territories of Parnell, Newlin, Hedley, Clare, n, Memphis, Estel-line, Sham, k, Wellington, Tur- key, Quitaque, Matador, Roaring Springs, Spur, Dickens, Guthrie, Paducah, Kirkland, Flomot and Whiteflat.

She and eight other unit man- agers, accompanied by branch manager, Mrs. Mildred Brooker of Amarillo, left Amarillo by plane Sunday morning. En route to Los Angeles they will stop in Las Vegas.

The group will stay at the A. bassador Hotel. While there they will go to Coconut Grove for dinner and tour the city and Catalina Island.

They will return to Amarillo on the afternoon of February 10. —Childress Index.

Pied 'Pisions

BY MRS. J. M.

Something new in the Crib Crowd's accessory line which we have just learned about: Mono- grammed silver safety pins Lou Ann Woodruff was the dainty young miss wearing the pair we observed.

Quote from the column, "Cabbages and Kings", authored by Frederick Oheim in New Braunfels Zeitung-Chronicle, "My New Year's resolution: Do not resist temp' on. At my age, it may never come again."

And this from Harold Hud- son's "From the Sideline" in Ochiltree County Herald, Perry- ton: A little boy who went to the ballet for the first time with his father watched the girls dancing around on their toes for a while, then asked, "Why don't they just get taller girls?"

What can happen when a few little letters go AWOL and the literary MP — known prosaical- ly as a proof-reader — fails to catch them, is illustrated by Al- bert Law in his column, FARE in the Dalhart Texan: The sen- tence was supposed to read like this: "The bride's dainty feet were encased in shoes that look- ed like fairy boots." When the sentence appeared in type it read as follows: "The bride's dirty feet were encased in shoes that looked like ferry boats."

Which brings to mind an in- cident at the Tribune several years ago when this reporter was off du for a spell and Chareen Ketchersid was filling in. Our bro. was typesetter at the time, and grew tired of the bride's receiving all the mention in a wedding story, and added this line at the end of the galley, "The groom wore shoes". The joke boomeranged however, as no one caught the addition, and bro. had to point it out before locking the forms and lifting the line.

Two reactions to the wonder- ful "bad spell" the past week: The inclination to stay indoors and enjoy the weather just look- ing out, and the urge to wrap up in boots and overcoats and get out in it. Not being the outdoor type, guess which we preferred, but didn't get to indulge in!

Stanley Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Witting- ton of Quitaque are parents of a son, Wayne Deo, born at Stanley Hospital, Feb. 2.

Joe McNelly was dismissed Wednesday after having under- gone surgery Jan. 29 for a ruptured appendix.

Other surgery patients have been J. R. Browden of Turkey, Tuesday, and Mrs. Alton Mar- shall last Wed. Feb. 3. Mrs. G. W. Taylor, Turkey, is receiving treatment for a heart condition, and Miss Sandra Wilson, Turkey, was dismissed Wednesday morning after being hospitalized. Mal- colm Morris of Whiteflat, are patients this week.

A. M. Bourland's condition is reported as improved.

Several new cases of measles are being treated, and recent pa- tients in the hospital for various ailments have included Rickey, small son of Supt. and Mrs. O. K. Edmondson, and Mrs. E. R. Rorier of Turkey; Mrs. Howe Hines and Rev. G. C. Tiner, of Dougherty; Mrs. C. A. Matney, Whiteflat and Paul Baxter, At- ton.

ARRIVAL ANNOUNCED

Pvt. and Mrs. R. L. (Sappo) Giesecke are announcing the ar- rival of a son, Michael Leland, who was born at Stanley Hos- pital, Tuesday, January 31. He weighed 8 lbs. 7 ozs. Grandpar- ents of the new baby are Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Gage of Afton and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Giesecke of Floydada, formerly of Mata- dor. The father is stationed at McArthur, Calif., and arrived Friday for a few days leave.

Fred Stanley has returned to Weatherford, Okla., where he is attending Southwestern Univer- sity, after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Stanley, be- tween semesters.

Women's Ball Game Declared Success

Although members of the Flo- mot Home Demonstration club met defeat in a score of 28-10 against women of the Quitaque Parent-Teacher Association, the basketball game held Monday evening, Jan. 30 in the Flomot gym, was declared a success. Re- sults of the evening's entertain- ment were measured by good at- tendance and proceeds.

The contesting teams gave the referee, Wilburn Martin quite a time in keeping out of the Flomot team was attire while the Quitaque black pleated blouse white blouses. Flomot miscellaneous men was also defeat- ing Quitaque men's team. Following the ball- sock supper were en- filled socks were and buyers hunted matching socks. Re- the door and sock sale to approximately $1300.

Insurance firms are feeling the effect of the public's reaction over the U. S. Trust & Guaranty Co. There appears to be a new business of insurance companies are being taken to re-organize the public on the insurance business. One such move was an effort on the part of 28 legal re-organizers to "take over" the life insurance policies of the company. This would affect policy holders from loss of their life insurance.

To date no policy holder in any state reserve life insurance company in Texas has suffered any loss. Nevertheless the companies are feeling the pinch of the adverse publicity.

Visiting brothers welcome.

J. Ralph Wood, president of the Southwestern Life Insurance Co., was one of the 28 executives who presented the "guarantee" proposal to the insurance commission. "We want to protect the good name of Texas insurance companies," Wood stated, "and also protect the innocent life insurance policy holders."

J. Byron Saunders, chairman of the insurance commission, said "I am happy to learn of the project. It is a most laudable step. It will help relieve much public anxiety and concern."

In other developments, the insurance commission moved to force a change in management of the John K. Wilson Mutual Aid Association of Princeton, while the state obtained court orders to shut down the American Atlas Corporation and J. A. Irwin, Inc., of Dallas.

Meanwhile investigations continue by the Texas State Senate's investigating committee concerning all details of the collapse of the U. S. Trust & Guaranty Co., whose president A. B. Shoemaker shot himself when the firm went under recently.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria is the new chairman of the investigating group. Fly was named to the post by Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey after Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston resigned when the committee voted to go into a closed session. "To avoid impropriety divulging facts for the benefit of offenders."

In the opinion of the new chairman, there is a place for both open and closed meetings. "But executive sessions should be held only under unusual and extraordinary conditions," Fly stated.

Checks unearched in U. S. Trust files by State Auditor C. H. Cavness reveal the names of six legislators or ex-lawmakers who have received pay from the now-closed firm. But Cavness has not been able to learn who received $50,550 in cash with drawings, most of which were made during the time the 1953 Legislature was in session.

Another Cavness revelation was payment of $115,499 to Kamin Advertising Agency. Cavness said it was a Houston firm which handled the Drew Pearson television program in which the news commentator told his listeners, "You can put your trust in U. S. Trust." Of the $115,499, a total of $95,992 was paid in 1955.

Water Problems Studied

To conserve water, Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson recommends the prorating of water much the same as oil now is prorated. He made his recommendation at a meeting of the Texas Water Resources Committee. At the same session members of the Brazos River Authority said that in some years as much as 600,000 tons of salt and other chlorides are washed into Possum Kingdom Reservoir. Suggested was a dam to block off a salt flat in Northwest Texas and permanently impound the flow of brine springs and the run-off from the area. This would prevent intrusion of 200,000 tons of salt a year into the Brazos reservoirs and stream flow. BRA's air is a six-dam program costing $173,000,000.

Military Discharges
 More Texans were discharged from military service in 1955 than were drafted or volunteered. A total of 46,545 entered service while 54,499 were discharged. Draftees totaled 7,954, as compared with 38,591 volunteers. Nearly four out of every ten men examined were turned down.

Farm Income Drops
 Texas' cash farm income for the first 11 months of 1955 dropped eight per cent below 1954. Commodities showing decreases were cotton, cottonseed, wheat, oats, flaxseed, rice, cattle, hogs, calves, wool, poultry, milk and milk products. Gains were registered by peanuts, corn, grain sorghum, sheep and lambs, mohair, eggs, fruit and vegetables.

More Vaccine
 Because of steadily increasing supplies, Salk polio vaccine priority in Texas has been extended to persons up to 29 years of age and to pregnant women. Total polio cases in 1955 was 1,931. It was a sharp drop from the previous year's 3,037.

Revenue Fund in Red
 Texas' general revenue fund is $1,100,000 in the red... and it is expected to dip lower.

State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said the deficit likely will continue until May when income should exceed expenses again. Meanwhile, the shortage may hit ten million dollars. Nobody will lose, said Calvert, since banks have agreed to cash warrants without discount.

A similar state deficit developed last year and continued until the spring payment of corporation franchise taxes replenished the general fund.

Four Elections In 1956
 There will be an extra election in 1956 as the result of a legislative boner. The error will cost the state and some counties $200,000.

Nine constitutional amendments will be voted on in November. Eight were drawn properly. One, however, calls for a vote on the second Tuesday in the month. General election day is Nov. 6 - the first Tuesday.

Therefore the state must call an election the following week in order that the ninth amendment may be legally voted upon. That will be Nov. 13.

The troublesome amendment would permit the state to spend up to $1,500,000 a year in aid to dependent persons over 18 years of age who are mentally or physically totally disabled.

Supporters Write Shepperd
 Rumors that Attorney General John Ben Shepperd planned a quiet retirement to private life following this term in office have sparked a drive by his friends to keep him in public office. Not only has Shepperd been besieged by calls, wires and letters urging that he stay in Texas government, but reports have it that supporters have raised a campaign chest ample for any contested race.

Evidence Withheld
 An accusation of hampering the investigation of a murder case has been made against Ronnie Dugger, editor of the Texas Observer, a political tabloid published in Austin. District Attorney Ralph Prince leveled the charges from Longview. He said Dugger would be called before the grand jury there to explain why he had failed to turn over "important evidence" (a bullet) which Dugger found at the scene of a shooting. Turning over of such evidence is required by law, Prince pointed out. The grand jury is investigating the death of a Gregg county Negro youth. Dugger denied a statement by Prince that he was trying to "create racial unrest" in the area.

Short Snorts: Mrs. Margaret Allen, who served with U. S. Senator Price Daniel when he was Attorney General of Texas, will join the Senator's staff in Washington, D. C. early in February. At present she is a receptionist for Attorney General Shepperd. State revenue from interest has been increased from $156,820 to $1,160,273 in the past five years by placing additional money on "time" deposit, according to State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Women who have refrained from paying poll taxes to avoid jury service have sacrificed their vote in vain, say county officials. In all counties except Jefferson, names of all persons paying any sort of county tax are put in the jury wheel.

Silage Used With Supplement Brings Increased Profits

Feeding balanced supplement with silage greatly increases the selling price of silage that is marketed through beef cattle, according to an analysis of recent college and commercial feeding tests.

Livestock specialists of the Ralston Purina Company research staff have analyzed results of three college feeding tests where different degrees of silage supplementation were used, along with a fourth test of complete supplementation conducted at the Purina research farm in Missouri. The college tests were reported at the 1955 Annual Southern Agriculture Worker's Conference. Results point up the tremendous differences in silage utilization that may be obtained.

Calves were started at weaning in all tests. Those Lot 1 of the college tests were fed silage without any supplement. They showed an average daily gain of 0.76 pounds, requiring 53.9 lbs. of silage to produce one pound of gain. With silage valued at $10 per ton, the total feed cost per pound of gain in this pen was 27 cents. Lot 2 got the same kind of silage along with 1/2 pound of soybean meal per head per day. This lot gained 1.12 pounds per day, and showed a total feed cost of 20 cents per pound of gain. Steers in Lot 3 got two pounds of soybean meal with their silage. They gained 1.49 pounds per day, and the feed cost was 16 cents per pound of gain.

14c Per Pound Of Gain
 Steers in the Purina test were fed three pounds of balanced supplement per head per day with the silage. This program produced the most profitable marketing of silage in the four tests studied. These steers gained 1.91 pounds per head per day, requiring 13.9 pounds of silage and 1.57 pounds of supplement for each pound of gain. Total feed cost was reduced to 14 cents per pound of gain.

Silage utilization in these tests ranged all the way from a pound of gain from 53.9 pounds of unsupplemented silage to a pound of gain from only 13.9 pounds of properly supplemented silage. Farmers who feed their silage with a balanced supplement are obviously "getting more from what they have."

FHA Extends Loans As Emergency Aid
 Farmers Home Administration has broadened its lending authorities to meet the special needs of established small farmers who due to drought and other adverse conditions, have been forced to work part-time off the farm in order to make a living for the family. Walter T. McKay, the agency's State Director has announced. The extension of credit to these small farmers, who are in need of credit primarily for farm operating expenses which cannot be obtained from their off-farm work will permit them to continue farming and to maintain a satisfactory standard of living, McKay said.

These loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Credit may be extended to farmers who are operating units no larger than a family type farm, provided there is a sound basis for credit. McKay stated this means that the anticipated gross income from farming and other sources must be sufficient to repay the loan, meet farm and home expenses not provided for in the loan and provide a reasonable margin above such amounts.

Applications may be filed at the county offices of the Farmers Home Administration. The local county Farmers Home Administration committee determines the eligibility of applicants for these loans.

Credit is also extended by the Farmers Home Administration over longer periods to finance adjustments and improvements in farm operations.

COUNTY AGENT PALLMEYER SAYS:

Substitutes For Native Grasses Prove Inferior

Every time that the grass gets short, no matter whether the reason be drought or overgrazing, many ranchers and agriculturists start beating the bushes in search for a "miracle" grass. Some times a grass is found that looks very promising, but after several years of testing, most are discarded in favor of the good native grasses.

Native grasses that provide the most and palatable grazing for this area are: Indian grass, Little bluestem, common switchgrass, sand lovegrass and tall dropseed. Other good grasses that do not have as much growth and provide as much grazing are: Sideoats grama, blue grama and hooded windmill grass. Buffalo is a good short grass for this area.

Other grasses provide fair grazing, and are range indicators. If the number of these grasses are increasing, and the grasses listed under good are decreasing, the range is going downhill. If the number of the indicator grasses are increasing, and the number of weeds and poor grasses are decreasing, the range is improving. These indicator grasses also help to build up the soil, so that better grasses can be supported. Some of these fair grasses which are indicators of range condition are: Silver bluestem, hairy grama, rescue grass, weeping lovegrass, tobosa and white tridens (trioda).

Poor grasses of this area that provide little grazing are: needle grass (the three awns), red lovegrass, red grama, tumblegrass, hairy tridens (trioda) and Japanese brome (cheat).

Over Grazing Injurious
Over grazing in connection with the drought has hurt practically all West Texas ranges. A general rule to go by, is to graze half and leave half of the grass. By doing this, the best part of the grass plant is used by the livestock, and enough litter is left to help keep the ground cool, hold water and provide organic matter for improvement of soil condition. Experiments of this type have been carried out in all parts of the state, with the results being that carrying capacities of ranges have been increased due to the increase of good desirable plants as well as increased vigor of plants. Not only have carrying capacities been increased, but heavier gains per animal have been recorded with less feed required. These profits have more than offset the smaller gains per animal put on with a high feed bill on ranges that were overstocked so that range condition was run down, even though more animals were marketed per year from over stocked land.

In an attempt to build ranges back to good conditions, some try reseeding, which is slower and more expensive than natural reseeding of the native range grasses. Reseeding is profitable, however, when the stand of grass is reduced to less than 10% of ground cover, providing moisture is received and young plants are not grazed the first growing season. In the reseeding of range grasses, it has been pointed out by agronomists that the good native grasses are the best bet as in the beginning, the plants that would fit the conditions best, were placed in the area where they would do the best. This has been proven to be true in all cases, even though some plants have been imported from their native land and have done satisfactorily, in no cases have they done as well as the best native plants of that particular area, or as well as in their native surroundings. Examples include cotton, bermuda and Johnsongrass.

For those wishing to learn more about grasses, bulletin No. 182, KNOW YOUR GRASSES, is available at the County Agent's office. The main grasses of Texas are shown, along with a description of the grass and the grazing value. Also in the County Agents office are mounted specimens of practically all the grasses of Texas, which the people are invited and encouraged to inspect in their search for a combination of range grasses that will result in the highest net income per acre. This can only be made possible by sound range management practices which include proper grazing, water and salt distribution, brush and weed control and conservation of all available moisture. These practices are easier to follow than finding the "miracle" grass and profits convince all ranchers of the necessity of sound range management procedure.

Hutton, manager of the Social Security Office in Lubbock, Texas. If you are a self-employed farmer and have earnings of $400 or more a year, you must file a report of your self-employed farm income at the same time you file your income tax return.

The social security tax is 3 per cent of the self-employed farmer's earnings, up to a total of $4,200 in earnings. If you work, or have other types of self-employment income, earnings from these sources may be combined with your farm earnings up to a combined total of $4,200 according to Mr. Hutton.

The fact that you own a farm does not automatically make you a self-employed farmer under the Social Security Law. To be self-employed, you must actually engage in the operation of a farm, either alone, or in partnership with someone else.

CONFERENCE SLATED FOR GRAIN DRYING

A grain drying and storage conference will be held at the Student Union Building at Texas Tech College on Friday, Feb. 17th starting at 8:30 AM.

The conference has been designed for farmers, grain men, builders of storage structures, aerators and grain moving dealers, farm managers and County Agents. There is no charge, and free coffee will be served.

Items to be covered include: Selection of Storage Structures and Construction Recommendations; Grain Drying and Conditioning; Drying and Aeration of Grain with Atmospheric Air Commercial Units and Farm Units; Fumigation and Pest Control; Pure Food and Drug Regulations Pertaining to Farm Storage of Grain; Grain Handling Facilities and Equipment; The Farm Storage Loan Program and Commodity Loan; and a discussion of individual problems.

Grain storage is becoming more important every day, as in most cases prices are lower when the harvest is on. Those with adequate storage have been able to realize more income for their crop by being able to hold the grain until prices which has been the case in all instances during the year before harvest of the crop starts.

Three Keys Awarded

Three Lions members, Ward Rattan, George Cullin and Bill Palmeyer were presented Lions International key memberships. One new member, Walter Ray, was welcomed into the club. Lion Bill Seale announced that the annual Lions Variety Show would be staged Tuesday, March 13. Lion Ward Rattan, chairman of county polo fund drive reported that more than $1,600 had been collected and that Northfield contributions were still outstanding. He said he felt confident the county total would be $1,700.

Flomot Graduate Is Three-Time Honor Student

Graduating with honors is an old story now for B. J. Clark, who attained that distinction recently for the third time in his life. The son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Clark of Quitaque, he received his degree, cum laude, on Jan. 28, from the Texas Chiropractic College, San Antonio and was class valedictorian, having maintained an average of 94.6 for his four years work in the college.

Dr. Clark was valedictorian of his class when he graduated from grade school, and again when he graduated from Flomot High School in 1946.

Following a tour of duty with the Air Force, he again entered school. He completed his pre-med work at San Antonio College and is a graduate of that institution.

He is presently living in San Antonio.

Wason Buys Partner's Interest In Grocery

A business deal this week has culminated the partnership of two local men. Billy Wason has purchased Charlie Meador's interest in Charlie's Grocery. The transaction has been under consideration for some time and was effected under entirely agreeable circumstances.

Meador purchased the store seven years ago and two years later sold Wason, the meat department. Wason became a full partner three years ago. The firm will continue to operate under the established name of Charlie's Grocery.

The former partner will continue as a member of the personnel for the remainder of this week. Mrs. Walter Carpenter began Monday as a new employee. Besides the manager-owner, other members of the personnel include George Birchfield, and Richard Turner in the meat department. Mr. Meador made no announcement as to his future plans.

RECENT VISITORS

Mrs. Kenneth Kell and children, Bobby, Richard and Shirley visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Rattan, from Monday until Friday, when Mrs. Reece Kell came to accompany them to her home at Flomot. They are remaining there temporarily and will join their husband and father in Dallas in the near future, to make that their home.

C. W. Giesecke and daughter, Ann of Floydada accompanied his son, Pvt. R. L. (Sappo) Giesecke of Fort McArthur, Calif., here Friday to visit the latter's family.

Mrs. George Masterton of Roswell, N. M. is visiting here this week in the home of her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Campbell.

Former Matador merchant, Andy Hurst, Jr., of Friona, was a visitor here last week.

"I want to thank my friends," he declared, "for the many favors shown me during the years I have been in business in Matador. I have been a partner with Billy Wason for five years, and during the period we have never had a disagreement of any nature. As my friend and my successor, I wish him the best of luck, and solicit the continued patronage of my friends to his store."

Mr. Wason said no change in the business policy of the store is being considered. New lighting and decoration of the building is scheduled soon by the owners, the IOOF Lodge, he said.
