Tired Of Cigarettes? Join 'Smokeout'

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Quit puffing!

That's the message the American Cancer Society is trying to get across in advance of the third annual "Great American Smokeout" on Nov. 15.

Health experts concede that it isn't always easy to give up cigarettes. "We don't know what works," said the Surgeon General's Report on Smoking and Health, issued last January.

The "smokeouts" are designed to get people to give up cigarettes for 24 hours: sponsors then urge those who quit for a day to try to break the habit for good.

The cancer society says that a survey by the Gallup organization indicates that 14 million people — a little more than one-fourth of the smokers in the nation — participated in last year's smokeout. Twenty-six percent of the would-be quitters or 3.6 million people managed to stop for a day; 2.4 million of them were still smokeless 10 days later.

A week before the new smokeout, the cancer society said smoking was "the most preventable cause of disease" and urged the government to take stronger steps to see that Americans give up cigarettes.

The National Cancer Institute of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has a booklet for people who want to give up cigarettes. "Clearing the Air: A Guide to Quitting Smoking," is available, at no charge, from Dept. 650G, Consumer Information Center, Pueblo, Colo., 81009.

Another pamphlet, "Unless You Decide to Quit, Your Problem Isn't Going to Be Smoking: Your Problem's Going to Be Staying Alive," includes suggestions for cutting down as well as stopping. It costs 80 cents and is also available from the Consumer Information Center in Pueblo. Write to Dept. 034G.

For smokers who can't go it alone, there are a growing number of formal anti-cigarette programs featuring group therapy and counseling. Costs range from nothing to $500 or more, depending on complexity and sponsorship. The National Cancer Institute says that success rates vary, but adds that, in general, anywhere from 20 percent to 40 percent of the participants in formal no-smoking programs say they are effective.

The cancer institute also has suggestions for individuals who want to organize their own programs to give up smoking. Here's an outline of one four-week plan.

Week One: Make a list of the reasons why you want to quit smoking and go over it every day. Think positive. Try to avoid dwelling on how difficult it will be to quit. Wrap your cigarette pack with paper and rubber bands. Each time you light up, write down the time of day, what you are doing, how you are feeling and how important the cigarette is to you on a scale of one to five. This helps make you aware of each cigarette; it also makes smoking a nuisance.

Week Two: Try to expand your list of reasons for not smoking. Keep referring to it frequently. Don't carry matches or a lighter. Stash your cigarettes some place away from you — in a desk drawer or coat pocket. Each day, try to smoke fewer and fewer cigarettes.

Week Three: Continue to cut down, a cigarette at a time. Don't buy a new pack of cigarettes until you finish the one you're smoking. Never buy a carton. Change brands twice during the week, each time choosing a brand that is lower in tar and nicotine. Set a time limit; say to yourself, "I won't have a cigarette until..." Try a brand you don't like. Try to stop smoking for an entire 48-hour period sometime during the week.

Week Four: Step up physical activity. Avoid situations you associate with smoking. Try to spend time where smoking is banned or doing things that keep your hands busy so you can't smoke. Carry a supply of cigarette substitutes — celery or carrot sticks, for example, or some other low-calorie snack. Whenever you get the urge for a cigarette, take a deep breath instead.

Once you've quit, keep track of your progress. Make a note of the exact date you had your last cigarette and plan monthly celebrations. Make up a large calendar and cross off each day you go without a cigarette. Note the amount of money you've saved; after a month or so, you should have enough for a special treat.

Rolling Plains Special Ed Coop Holds First of Four Workshops

By Mary Renfro

The Rolling Plains Special Education Coop held an all day workshop on Wednesday, Nov. 7 in the community room of Matador Branch, Plainview Savings and Loan.

The theme of the workshop was Identification and Instructional Procedures for Visually and Speech/Hearing handicapped Students.

Consultants for the workshop were Renda Carter, Visually Handicapped Consultant and Deb Dennler, Speech/Hearing Consultant. Both consultants are with the Educational Service Center, Region XVII, based in Lubbock.

Matador Telephones To Have O-Plus Dialing

General Telephone equipment installation and testing crews are beginning the final stages of work to complete the addition of Oplus direct distance dialing equipment that will allow Matador customers to dial their own operator assisted calls, according to General Telephone's Memphis Division Manager, J.H. Davis.

The new service will become operational November 29, 1979.

"To dial your own operator assisted calls such as collect, credit card, third number billing and person-to-person," Davis said, "you dial the digit 0 plus the area code of the distant city if different from 806 plus the seven digit number of the telephone being called."

"It works the same as 1plus direct distance dialing except you dial 0 instead of 1," Davis said. He added there will not be charges in the existing 1plus dialing procedures, emphasizing 1plus calls are the cheapest way to call long distance. In some instances, several station calls can be made for the price of one person call.

Davis explained when dialing an Oplus long distance call needing operator assistance, after the customer has completed dialing, an operator will come on the line to determine and perform the special service required—collect, credit card, third number billing or person-to-person. The equipment will then automatically record the number of one and two-party customers as well as send the call on to its destination.

Customers with more than two party service, and occasionally one and two-party customers when there is a number identification failure in the equipment, will be asked for their number after they have completed dialing the call.

"This is just another step toward total communications for customers of General Telephone in Matador," Davis added.

Matadors Defeat Owls With Desperation Field Goal

At 9:34 Friday night it was all over but the shouting. The 1979 football season was over, the last game had ended. But the shouting went on and on, after Senior Quarterback Julian Zabielski sent a field goal through the uprights with 12 seconds left on the clock, and the Matadors won the game 15-12.

Motley County had led 12-0 at halftime, but the rugged Silverton Owls fought back and scored two touchdowns to tie the game. The field goal came after a nine play drive which carried the Matadors to the Owl 13 yard line.

It was a game of pride for both teams; both being out of the running for the district crown. And it was the Matadors pride that carried them through.

On the first play of the game Harvey Lee carried the ball for two yards out to the 42, then coach Gene Griffin sent in a "49 quick pitch". Charlie Campbell took the pitch and ran 41 yards to the Owl 18. Three plays later Lee plunged in from the one, and with 10:02 left in the first quarter MC led 6-0.

Silverton was forced to punt on their first possession and six plays later Lee ran 41 yards to the Owl 21. On the next play Charlie Campbell took a pitch around to the end and scored. With 5:11 left in the first quarter Motley led 12-0. Silverton scored on their first drive in the third quarter, and got the ball right back on an on-side kick. They drove to the Motley nine yard line but the defense held.

The Owls got the ball on the MC 39 following a fumble, and in seven plays scored with a 21 yard pass to Russell Couch. With 5:51 left in the game the score stood 12-12.

Later, tough Motley defense caused the Owls to loose the ball on downs and the Matadors took over on the Owl 42. Nine plays later Zabielski kicked his field goal. Lee carried the ball 31 times for 175 yards, Campbell 15 times for 95 yards, Gwinn one for nine. Zabielski completed two of seven passes for 29 yards, one to David Green for 18, and the other to Gwinn for 11.

"Bill Palmer had an outstanding game defensively, and so did Harvey Lee," coach Griffin said. "Wesley Stafford, Glenn Calvert and Julian Zabielski all had good games on defense also."

Griffin said a lot of credit for Lee's outstanding night on offense goes to the offensive line and Shawn Beardens ability to read the option.

"We are pleased with the season, but we wish we could have won more games," Griffin said.

"The young men gave good effort all year. And the main reason for our success during the later part of the year was because of our good senior leadership."

Surprisingly, Motley County finished third in the district, behind Valley and Nazareth. The Matadors were rated above Silverton because they had beaten the Owls. Silverton had won two district games and Motley County had won one and tied two.

"We will be better next year," Griffin said. "We

West Texas Utilities Asks For Rate Increase

West Texas Utilities Co. has filed for an increase in wholesale rates for electric energy it supplies to 14 rural electric cooperatives and one municipality.

The increase would average 10.6 per cent, and for most of the co-ops would be the first increase in base rates in 15 years. Most of them have been buying power from WTU under contract initiated in 1965.

WTU, in its filing with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission in Washington, estimated that the increase would amount to $2,261,349 in additional revenue for the Company during the 1980 calendar year.

The increase would be effective January 1, 1980. All of the existing co-op contracts expire on December 31, 1979. The contract with Sonora, which is the municipality involved, expires December 31, 1983, but contains provisions for rate changes.

W.P. (Bill) Sayles, WTU's vice president for customer services, said rising costs of providing service made the increase necessary. "Fifteen years without an increase is a long time," he said, "especially in a period of inflation."

He said the proposed rate structure is designed not only to bring charges to wholesale customers more in line with WTU's increased cost of service, but to encourage the co-ops to level their loads.

This incentive is provided in a demand charge, based on a ratchet clause which allows WTU to bill these wholesalers for up to 80 per cent of their peak demands over a 12-month period and helps level costs over the year. It also gives them the opportunity to actually decrease the unit cost of electric energy and minimize the costs to their customers by shifting load to off-peak periods.

"We choose the demand charge because we feel it will be beneficial to the co-ops and their customers, and to the overall efforts to conserve energy," Sayles said.

"Without such a provision there is no incentive or benefit for the wholesale customers to implement load management programs."

Sayles said the proposed new contract had been discussed with all of the co-op managers and their engineering consultants before the filing was made with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission.

GRAND PRIZE -- J. D. Hurt won a 12 inch TV set at the conclusion of the Tribune Football Contest.

Hurt Wins Grand Prize In Football Contest

J.D. Hurt won the Grand Prize in the Tribune Football Contest with a total of 73 out of a possible of 100 points for the 10 week contest. Grand Prize in the contest was a 12 inch Zenith black and white TV set.

Hurt also won third in the weekly cash prizes, while Deanna Durham finished in first place ($5) and Lee Hurt, second, ($3).

Neal Haralson and Jesse Perkins finished two points behind Hurt.

Mrs. R.E. Campbell finished three points the leader.

Lee Hurt won the first contest, then Pat Green led in total points for the next three weeks. Neal Haralson became the leader the fifth week; during the sixth and seventh weeks Deanna Durham, J.D. Hurt, Haralson and Jesse Perkins were tied for the lead. For the eighth week Hurt and Haralson remained tied, but during the ninth and tenth contest Hurt slipped ahead to finish in the lead.

Lions Hear Report On Oregon Trip

Matador Lions Club, in regular luncheon-meeting, Nov. 6, heard an interesting talk describing Jordan Valley, Oregon, given by Rev. Jerry Golden, pastor of the First Baptist Church. Assuring his listeners that he was not going to preach, Rev. Golden told of a recent missions trip which he made to the Oregon-Idaho area, accompanied by three young men from his congregation, Max Barton, Stanley Martin and Kenneth Marshall.

The group went at the invitation of Rev. Gail Graves, interim pastor of the Baptist congregation at Caldwell, Idaho, formerly of Idalou, Texas, to assist in establishing churches in the Jordan Valley vicinity.

"We did not go there to convert people to our denomination, but to witness for Jesus Christ," Rev. Golden declared. "There is a need to take the Bible seriously, rather than literally, and we went to assist in sharing the gospel. In nearly all instances we were received courteously. Few doors were closed in our faces."

Rev. Golden was enthusiastic about the country, and gave descriptive accounts of the area, the economy, operation of the silver mine under the Bureau of Land Management, and the agricultural aspects of the region. Despite all this however, he said they were poor economically and that 70 percent of the Jordan Valley residents live in mobile homes.

Program chairman Lion Allen Bingham turned the program to Lion Ronnie Christian, who presented the speaker. Business was conducted by Lion Ronnie Vandiver in the absence of the Boss Lion, James Gillespie. The club was reminded of the Ladies Night entertainment, set for Nov. 13.

A delicious meal of ham, vegetables and dessert was prepared and served by Lion Walter Jones.

Grandparents 'Earn' Grand Status

Though grandparents cannot demand respect from grandchildren just because they are older adults, they can -- and usually do -- "earn" respect.

Growing older together and sharing their generations develop love and respect for the young child and grandparents alike, says Dorothy Taylor.

Miss Taylor is a family life education specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

However, the idea of becoming a grandparent takes time getting used to.

There are too many "new" things that surface--grandparents are now members of a third generation, they "must be" old, but don't feel old, or they "should be" rocking, yet they don't even own a rocker for the new grandbaby.

Frustration is further compounded because they should "feel like grandparents" but don't feel any different, the specialist explains.

Grandparents should not feel any different--nothing has happened to them. The baby was born to their child, not to them, she reminds.

Some grandparents forget, though, that the new baby is not theirs and that he already has parents, she points out.

KINDS OF GRANDPARENTS
Grandparents come in all sizes, shapes, ages and temperaments.

The "typical" grandparents maintain a sincere interest in close relationships with the grandchild and provide special treats and indulgences.

They baby-sit sometimes but leave the parenting of the baby to the parents.

Some grandparents are fun-seekers. They appear to be the grandchild's playmate and have very few rules of discipline, Miss Taylor continues.

Other grandparents serve as substitute parents. They take over full responsibility for the child -- including discipline.

Some grandparents have to do this for the sake of the child-- othertimes they do it against the parent's wishes.

Most grandparents are wise because of experience, but when grandparents "know-it-all," it threatens the child's parents.

The least respected and cherished grandparents are the ones who buy everything but give nothing of themselves-- especially love.

Truly wise grandparents acknowledge their new role in life as the opportunity to see that life goes on through their developing grandchild-- and they should view that as one of their greatest rewards, in addition to "earning" their own special grand status.

Flomot News By Earlene Jameson

Robert I. Thomas, a patient in High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo the last two months, had emergency surgery, Friday and is in the intensive care unit. At his bedside are his children and families, Mrs. Paul Johannsen of Meade, Kansas, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Moseley of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thomas and children of Amarillo. Visiting the family, Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cloyd and Mrs. Bert Cloyd, local residents.

Harmon Moseley of Corpus Christi, a former Flomot resident, is hospitalized in Corpus Christi with congested heart failure. He suffered a hip and arm injury when he fell following the attack. He is improving. Family members who have visited him are Mrs. Anthalie Williams of Beaumont, Mrs. Barbara Holland of Plainview, Glea Moseley of Tulsa, Mrs. Elzeta Hefley of Walsh, Colorado and Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Moseley, local residents.

Todd Washington, son of Mr. and Mrs. Seab Washington, suffered a head concussion when playing in the Motley County Junior Varsity football game at Silverton, Thursday night. He received medical treatment in Plainview, Friday and will be unable to participate in sports for six months.

Homemakers Club Has Meeting

A program on Cardiovascular Diseases was presented by Mrs. H.R. (Earlyne) Jameson, Thursday, November 8 at the Homemakers Extension Club Thanksgiving community meeting in Flomot at the Community Center building.

Mrs. Jameson, Motley County Heart Ass. representative, was introduced by Mrs. Bill Washington, president. The program was a film presentation showing the risk factors causing premature death and disability from cardiovascular diseases with Bud Bethard of Roaring Springs operating the film projector.

In introducing the program, she stated that Motley County is one of the counties in Texas having the cleanest air with less pollution and that geographically, it is an ideal location because of the altitude which is neither too high or too low to cause blood pressure problems, yet the job stress, irregular hours and improper diet of a farmer causes him to fall into the seven times higher than normal coronary group.

Following the program, Mesdames Gordie Washington and Jerry Barclay presided at the table covered with an orange cloth featuring Thanksgiving decorations and served refreshments of chips and dip, brownies, assorted cookies, coffee and punch.

Services Held For John M. Fitzgerald

The Rev. John M. Fitzgerald, former pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Matador and Roaring Springs, passed away at Great Bend, Kansas, October 28, 1979.

Funeral Services were held at the First United Methodist Church, Bushton, Kansas, Wednesday, October 31, 1979.

Interment was at Great Bend, Kansas.

Bro. Fitzgerald was pastor here from 1966-1970 during which time the church celebrated its 75th anniversary, which was observed by services being held on the banks of Ballard Creek, East of Matador and was attended by the friends and members of the First United Methodist Church which included the children and grandchildren of some of the Charter members, T.N. Edmondson, Ida Pipkin, Bascomb Edmondson, Jim Edmondson, Fannie Jenkins, Bill Wason, Mae Simpson, Dora Daffern and Ollie Ann Pitts.

He also started the Annual Harvest Day Festival which we celebrate with a Church wide dinner and special preaching. We are holding it this Sunday November 18th, 1979.

Rites Held for Mrs. Viola Saunders

Funeral services for Mrs. Viola Worrell Saunders, 84, of Wichita Falls were held at 2 p.m., Monday, Nov. 5 at the Church of Christ in Seymour. Burial was in Cache Creek Cemetery under direction of Seymour Memorial Funeral Home.

A former resident of Whiteflat, Mrs. Saunders died Saturday, Nov. 3 in a Wichita Falls hospital. A husband, Wallace Jernigan, preceded her in death in 1932 and is buried at Whiteflat Cemetery.

Survivors include one son, Dois Clouse of Abilene and three daughters, Mozell McHughes of Wichita Falls, Frances Kuchen of Vera and Alma Jean of Midland.

Mrs. Saunders' nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Spray, attended the funeral services and were guests of Mrs. Maggie Winstead and Lura Mae, former Whiteflat residents.

El Progreso Club Takes A Look At China During Meeting

China is a changing country. Although still a communistic nation and one can still hear guns firing along the Vietnamese and Cambodian borders, the Chinese are gradually getting into a new regime, according to Marshall Formby of Plainview.

Mr. Formby was guest speaker Thursday night at a Gentlemen's Evening banquet given by El Progreso Club, in the fellowship hall of First United Methodist Church.

Donning a blue, laborer's cap, Mr. Formby explained that all Chinese wear the cap and a uniform. "Everyone dresses alike and the uniforms are drab, though warm. The military wear green caps and uniforms."

He described the people as being friendly and warm in their acceptance of Americans.

"We were permitted to take all the pictures we wished, and were always treated courteously. The people are smart, but there is no religion. Even the Buddhist temples have been destroyed. They have just recently opened the door to Catholics and missionaries."

Living conditions are sparse and all food is rationed, Mr. Formby said. He described the country as a "land of bicycles."

"The Chinese want more and better bicycles, and just about as many other commodities you can name—better houses, washing machines, handcraft materials, sugar, salt, cigarettes, detergents -- just about anything to improve living conditions."

He gave a brief outline of the politics of the nation, which has been under communistic rule for the past 30 years, since Mao organized the party in 1949.

RESOURCE From Page One

Resource Teacher; Sue Mayo, Patton Springs Resource Teacher; Perla Wilson, Motley County Resource Teacher; Jana Hill, Motley County Resource Teacher; Carolyn Johnson, Motley County Aide; Karen Price, Turkey-Quitaque Resource Teacher; Trula Martin, Turkey-Quitaque Aide; Deborah Daughtry, Spur Resource Teacher; Mary Woods, Spur Resource Teacher; Lorraine Portis, Spur Resource Teacher; Doris Wilcox, Spur Aide; Columbus Evers, Paducah Resource Teacher; Luanne Black, Paducah Resource Teacher and Charlotte Nordell, Paducah Resource Teacher. Unable to attend this workshop was Ethel Ames, McAdoo Resource Teacher.

Purpose of the workshops, according to Mr. Wilson, are to update the teachers knowledge of different handicapping conditions, and equip them with more specific information in the different disability areas. With this additional training, they will be able to utilize better instructional procedures.

Three more workshops are to be provided by the R.P. Spec. Ed. Coop. These will be held on November 28, 1979

(Mental Retardation and Orthopedically Handicapped), December 12, 1979 (Learning Disabilities) and January 9, 1980 (Occupational Therapy and Physical Therapy).

The Motley County ISD is the fiscal agent for the Rolling Plains Special Education Coop with Tommy Wilson as Director.

The program is designed in a flexible manner to meet the educational needs of each handicapped child. The needs of each child is the dominant factor in determining the services offered.

In general, handicapped students who need special education are defined as students who are physically handicapped, mentally retarded, emotionally disturbed, learning disabled or speech handicapped.

"If anyone knows of any handicapped child not being served they can contact me at Motley County School," said Mr. Wilson. "They can also contact the superintendent of any of the schools in the Coop or call Child Serve, toll free at 1-800-692-4453."

Carnival Results

Lots of fun and interest in our golf booth at the school Halloween carnival. The younger ones took their "putting" serious-like and some of them were pretty good in their attempts.

Barbara Jameson was closest to the correct number of tees in the jar. She guessed 544 and the actual number was 592.

Shawn Cox won the turkey. Our golf association wishes to thank all members who worked on and at the booth --- and also to those who patronized it---our appreciation.

Luncheon

Thursday, we had our close-of-season luncheon (lots of good, tasty food to enjoy), at the Savings and Loan party room.

Those attending: Leona, Judy, Geneva, Nita, Grace, Loys, Tommy, Kathryn, Louise, LaVoe, Lila, Mamie, Winifred, Dorothy, Laverna and Hazel (also special guest, Phil for lunch).

Loys presided at the business meeting...bank balance was given and report from the carnival made. Dues were paid, and trophies were presented to the lucky winners in the tournaments during the past season.

In Play Yourself, there was a tie: Laverna, Louise and LaVoe, and in the draw, LaVoe was the lucky one.

In Handicap tournament, Leona was winner.

Club Championship tournament winner was Louise, who was medalist and also champion. For both, she received a handsome engraved silver tray. Laverna was runner-up; and Loys won "cry baby." Tommy won for low putts.

Nita and Phil were presented a crystalite candle in appreciation for meeting in the community room.

New Officers

Laverna was elected president; Loys, vice president and tournament chairman; Cretia Jr., treasurer and Hazel, reporter.

Mamie expressed special thanks to Loys for all her time and efforts, and Loys thanked all for their help during the past year.

Ranchers Get Relief From Livestock Worms

Screwworms--they used to be a problem. But during the past several years, ranchers from Texas City to El Paso have been getting some relief from the noxious screwworm problem.

Screwworms, the immature stage or maggots of the screwworm fly, feed on the living flesh of livestock such as cattle, sheep, and goats. Female screwworm flies are attracted to branding and dehorning sores, barbed wire cuts, and other wounds where they deposit their eggs. When the eggs hatch, the screwworms feed on the flesh which causes weight and energy loss in the animal.

This year, beginning in January through the end of September, only 32 cases of screwworms had been reported in Texas. This is quite a change since the 1930's when in some years over one-fourth million head of livestock were killed by screwworms throughout the Gulf Coast states.

The reason for this welcome change was brought about by entomologists using sexually sterile male flies. When an infested area was found, the sterile flies were released to mate with the normal female flies. The females normally mated only once, and the eggs from such matings wouldn't hatch and the screwworms were eliminated.

This year over 138 million sterile male flies were released in Texas to combat the screwworm, and 252 million were released in Mexican states that border Texas.

The closest counties to our area that recorded infestations were Hudspeth and Jeff Davis Counties, more than 250 miles to the southwest. No screwworm cases were found in Motley County this year. Although sterile flies are extremely effective they can't do the job alone. Livestock should be inspected for screwworms and if found, they should be collected and brought to the extension office in Matador and the wound should be treated with approved insecticides.

COTTON TALKS
FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

A few producers and processors of agricultural commodities on the High Plains already have been investigated and cited for violations of a law most of them had never heard of. And unless something is done, more of the same will follow, says Ed Dean, Field Service Director of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock, and also a director and executive committee member of the National Council of Agricultural Employers (NCAE).

The law, the Farm Labor Contractor Registration Act, known as FLCRA, was passed in 1963 with a worthy objective—to curb the exploitation of migrant farm workers by unscrupulous "crew leaders."

But the law was amended in 1974 and under subsequent interpretations now requires the registration of farmers, ginners and others who in their wildest dreams never imagined themselves a "farm labor contractor."

The language of the Act itself defines a farm labor contractor as "any person who, for a fee, either for himself or on behalf of another person, recruits, solicits, hires, furnishes, or transports migrant workers for agricultural employment."

Specific exemptions are granted for "any farmer, processor, canner, ginner, packing shed operator or nurseryman who personally engages in any such activity for the purpose of supplying migrant workers solely for his own operation," and "any fulltime or regular employee of an entity, who engages in such activity solely for his employer on no more than an incidental basis."

The word "personally" in the stated exemption was added to the law in the 1974 amendment and the U.S. Department of Labor (USDL) is using that word to bring all incorporated farmers and agricultural product processors under its jurisdiction.

Growers do not agree with the USDL interpretation and it is being tested in a number of Federal court challenges. But until the courts decide, or until Congress amends the law, a high percentage of the farmers, ginners and others in agricultural processing who use anything other than year-round labor will be subject to citation if they fail to register, fail to comply with all the requirements that follow registration, or if they employ a farm labor contractor who isn't properly registered.

At the urging of PCCG, NCAE, the Texas Cotton Ginners' Association, the National Cotton Council and others, some 52 senators have signed and sent to Secretary of Labor Ray Marshall a letter expressing their dissatisfaction with the broad powers he has assumed under the law.

In addition a move is afoot to get an amendment to the law that will force the Secretary of Labor to conform to the intent of Congress instead of his own labor-biased inclinations.

It is generally agreed, according to Dean, that the USDL is using this law, among other things, as a backdoor approach to curbing the use of "legal aliens." "The FLCRA is the only Federal law on the books directly dealing with the employment of illegal aliens," he says, "and unless the Secretary of Labor is curbed, many in agriculture will be shocked to find themselves the target of a massive Federal law enforcement campaign."

Dean invites anyone concerned with liability under FLCRA to contact him at the PCCG office in Lubbock.
