Gromyko Votes Against Admitting Italy To U. N. In Surprise Move

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Oct. 2. (AP)—Diplomatic experts predicted today that Russia's veto of Italy's bid for United Nations membership would badly handicap Italian Communist efforts to gain greater power and prestige in that strategic Mediterranean country.

American officials privately expressed surprise at the action which Russia took last night in a session of the United Nations security council.

Four Indicted For Aerial Gun Running

SAVANNAH, Ga., Oct. 2. (AP)—A federal grand jury indicted four men yesterday in an aerial gun-running plot involving stolen Navy machine guns reportedly destined for Venezuela.

The four were indicted for conspiracy in the theft of 25 machine guns from Bush field, August, last April 13. They were:

Karl John Eisenhart, 50, of El-Brook City, Md., owner of a charter air line and former member of the United States board of economic warfare in Venezuela and Colombia.

Edward Browder, Jr., of Amarillo, J. Meredith Russell, 34, of Baltimore, and Manuel L. Fuego, no address available.

All pleaded innocent. The case began when the guns were spirited out of Bush field in a former Navy bomber and hidden in a palatial home near Ellicott City.

When the FBI entered the case, agents recovered 21 of the 25 weapons—which the Venezuelan embassy charged were destined for the South American country—in the basement of a mansion built on a 400-acre estate owned by Eisenhart. The guns were of a type used in Navy combat planes.

Purpose of the gunrunning said the Venezuelan embassy, was to aid a group of Venezuelan exiles.

Brooklyn Cops Third Tilt, 9-8

By JACK HAND EBBETS FIELD, Brooklyn, Oct. 2. (AP) — Brooklyn opened up an early lead on the New York Yankees and just lasted through the longest nine-inning game in Series history to earn a 9-8 edge for their first victory in the third game of the 1947 Subway Series.

In the three-four- and five-minute struggle that consumed five Yankee pitchers and three Dodger chucks, the Brooklyn club opened its home half of the series successfully after two Yankee Stadium defeats.

After Bobo Newsum was rocked from the hill in a six-run second inning Dodger spurt, it was a question of whether the Yanks would ever be able to catch up with them. They never did despite a two-run homer by Joe DiMaggio and the first pinch homer in Series history, by Larry Berra in the seventh.

Deposed GOP Men Attend Meeting

HOUSTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—Three Texas Republicans who were removed from party offices by the state executive committee at a July 30 meeting in Dallas were present here today as directors of the Republican clubs of Texas opened a one-day meeting.

They are Alvin H. Lane of Dallas, former general counsel for the state executive committee; Morris McLean of San Antonio, former finance committee chairman, and Ralph W. Currie, former chairman of the Dallas executive committee. The meeting was opened by Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, vice president of R.C.T., who presided in the absence of president J. F. Lucy of Dallas.

Jewish Radio Says British Attack Ship

JERUSALEM, Oct. 2. (AP)—A broadcast purporting to emanate from one of two ships headed for Palestine with several thousand visa-less Jewish immigrants said today they were "surrounded by a cluster of British vessels preparing to attack."

The broadcaster asserted that he was speaking from the "Geula" (Redemption), the name given by the Jews to the refugee ship Northlands, which passed through the Dardanelles Sunday. She is accompanied by the Paducah, renamed by the Jews the "Medina Yehudit" (Jewish State). Together the two ships are carrying about 3,500 Jews embarked at a Bulgarian port.

"PARKING VIOLATION" — After colliding with an automobile at Gary, Ind., this truck-trailer turned turtle and ended up in a crotches position next to a "No Parking" sign. Four persons were injured in the accident. (AP Wirephoto).

Mother Mary Zinn Dies At Her Home

Mother Mary Zinn, regarded as the most beloved citizen of this area, died at her home at 508 Scurry Thursday morning at the age of 101 years.

Seriously ill since she presumably suffered a fall early one morning after celebrating her 101st birthday on August 19, Mrs. Zinn died at 9:45 a. m.

Funeral arrangements are pending, and services may be held as late as Saturday. The body will lie in state at the Eberly Funeral chapel.

Her serene happiness despite tragic tribulations in her more than a century of life had endeared Mrs. R. B. Zinn to thousands in this area, far exceeding the bounds of the First Methodist congregation, where she worshipped for 64 years.

For as long as most people could remember, the memory of her sitting in a cane-bottom chair beneath the chancel rail of the First Methodist church was a familiar picture. A devout Christian, her joy was almost boundless on occasions and her philosophy was epitomized in one phrase:

"I love everybody."

The occasion of her 100th and 101st birthdays had been the signal for community-wide celebrations, and despite her feeble condition, she insisted on participating on informal observances. She seemed stronger on her 101st anniversary than the previous year before she apparently fell upon arising early in the morning and was not discovered until her usual rising hour.

Remarkably active for her years, her hearing and sight failed in her later years. This accounted for her special seat at church. She insisted almost to the last on walking to church, a distance of a block and a half.

Born on Aug. 19, 1846 in Pettus county, Missouri, Mother Zinn had been a Texan for 74 years and a resident of Big Spring for more than 64. She outlived her husband and five children. Only one immediate relative, Mrs. Guy Cravens, a granddaughter, resides here.

Her father, Isaac Moon, settled in Missouri border country during the convulsions of the historical controversy over slavery and the admittance of Missouri to the Union. During the war between the states, bushwackers and jayhawkers moved in while Union and Confederate forces were off fighting. They plundered so recklessly that Gov. Ewing ordered border settlers to vacate to the interior.

The Moons went off from a home with bulging wheat bins and smoke houses, returning to find their place in ashes after the war. Al- place IN DEATHS, Page 3 Col 2.

In Chicago's livestock market cattle brought a top price of $36.25 a hundred pounds, a 1947 high and 75 cents under the all-time top of $37 paid last October and November. Hogs also moved to a higher level, hitting $29.75 in an advance of 50 cents to $1 for the third straight day.

In Chicago and in New York state's larger cities buyers of milk paid an additional cent a quart. In Chicago the store price was 22 1-2 cents a quart. In Cleveland the price of a loaf of bread was raised one cent.

Cities Support West Texas Survey

J. H. Greene, secretary of the WTCC-T&P industrial committee today forwarded to T&P officials contributions made by several cities toward defraying expenses for an industrial survey planned by the committee.

Although the T&P is bearing a major portion of the expense of the survey, various cities and towns were asked to contribute moderately on the basis of 1940 population figures. Contributions amounted to $962, with 12 cities contributing.

Included were contributions from Winters, Ranger, Eastland, Midland, Weatherford, Ballinger, Odessa, Colorado City, Kermit, Cisco, Abilene and Big Spring.

U. S. Self-Rationing Drive Accelerated

Freight Cars Ordered Sent To West Texas

Move Is Made In Effort To Save Grain

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—More freight cars were ordered sent to West Texas today to move the grain sorghum crop.

Officials of the Association of American Railroads told Senator Connally (D-Tex.) that they had directed that "additional" boxcars be hurried to West Texas because of an emergency arising from lack of adequate grain storage space.

The railroad officials did not say how many additional cars are involved.

Farm organizations, and civic and business leaders in west Texas telegraphed Connally and Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) earlier today that there is an urgent need for the cars.

The telegrams were forwarded to the office of defense transportation and to Charles Luckman, chairman of the President's citizens food committee.

In a letter to Luckman, aides of O'Daniel wrote:

"In previous years much grain has been dumped on the ground. x x x If past experience is any guide the ODT will not move sufficient cars into this section to prevent waste and loss in this grain crop. x x x

"Sorghum grains feed livestock and if they are wasted then the stock will be fed with the wheat which you are trying to conserve."

One of the telegrams, signed by numerous individuals and associations including Hale County Judge Ernest Tibbetts, Hale County agriculture agent M. W. Ayres, H. S. Herald, publisher of the Plainview Herald News and chamber of commerce officials, said the boxcar situation is "more acute here than even during wheat harvest. x x x

"The crop is not one-fourth out and major portion of irrigated acreage with high yield yet to move. x x x

"With this grain worth $3.15 per hundredweight and not susceptible to storing in open great loss faces growers if it is not moved and nation will feel this economic loss since grains are scarce."

Wiley College Students Strike

MARSHALL, Oct. 2. (AP)—Members of the student body of Wiley College, a Methodist Negro school here, went out on strike today. The administration building was picketed.

Two students, Joseph R. Willie and F. Fred Jones, both of Dallas, who said they had been designated as student representatives, said the 768 students would remain away from classes until the removal of three faculty members.

Willie and Jones named these as Irving J. Scott, Dean; R. G. Lloyd, head of the social science division; and R. A. Edmondson, professor of mathematics.

Boy Admits Stabbing Of Minister's Wife

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (AP)—A 15-year-old vocational high school boy, described by his parents as a "very good boy," was held in jail today after, police said, he signed a statement admitting the fatal stabbing of a minister's wife in an attempted robbery Sept. 24.

Police Capt. Patrick Collins said the plump, tousled haired youth, James Hartmann, also admitted he slashed and robbed a young mother in the same south side district in which the stabbing occurred.

He had been seized for questioning in the attack Tuesday night on Mrs. Mary Clausen, 25, mother of two small children. After she identified Hartmann last night, two of her brothers grabbed and beat him before police separated them.

Collins said after young Hartmann finished a statement relating to the attack on Mrs. Clausen, he was questioned about the slaying of Mrs. Gracelyn Bush, 32,

State Rests In Stokes Case

HENDERSON, Oct. 2. (AP)—In a surprise move early this morning the state rested its case in the trial of Mrs. Dorothy Stokes, 23, charged with murder in the butter-milk poison death of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Dorette Garrett.

Court was recessed temporarily to allow the defense to confer with witnesses.

Sheriff Hagan Parmley, who was on the stand two hours yesterday, during which he testified in connection with an alleged confession made by Mrs. Stokes, was the final witness today. The confession had been admitted as evidence despite vigorous protests by the defense.

During cross-examination, Sheriff Parmley admitted today that at one time he said the death of Mrs. Garrett "looked like suicide."

He was cross-examined by the defense sharply today.

Local Building Hits New High

Big Spring building figures established a new high for 1947 during the month of September when 94 permits accounted for an estimated cost total of $142,820, according to F. W. Bettle, city building inspector.

The September records also represented a new high for the year in new construction, with 49 permits accounting for $110,510 in that category. Other permits were for repair work and moving buildings.

The past months figures increased the year's total to $825,945. Prior to September, June was the top month of the year with $120,355.

On a quarterly basis, the July-August-September quarter is also high for the year with $301,000.

Taft Winds Up His Western Tour

CASPER, Wyo., Oct. 2. (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) winds up his western political testing tour here today in a clash with the Democratic administration on several major issues and in disagreement with some of his own party leaders on at least one—universal military training.

The Ohioan, who turns homeward after a speech here in which he has promised to discuss "the Democratic party," leaves behind newly-voiced opposition to compulsory military training because he said it might become "an obstacle to peace."

Instead, Taft urged in a statement expansion of National Guard training in the technical aspects of warfare which, he said, would provide the core or reserves for building a modern military machine any time it would be needed.

"I told her it was a stickup," Collins said Hartmann told him. "She started toward me and it was then I stabbed her."

Drastic Action Is Seen If Necessary

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—President Truman's drive for American "self-rationing" to head off starvation in Europe went into high gear today amid hints that the Administration may take more drastic action if necessary.

Leon Henderson, wartime boss of prices and rationing, denounced the President's "buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing" program as one which "falls tragically short of the demands of a world crisis." He asked that Congress be convened and food rationing resumed quickly.

And Secretary of Commerce Harriman indicated that rationing and price controls are not yet out of the picture. He told the Citizens Food Committee at its first meeting yesterday that the saving of 100,000,000 bushels of grain asked by Mr. Truman may be too little for Western Europe's needs.

"I think you will find," Harriman said, "that something like 70,000,000 bushels more than that is really required to do an adequate job."

The Presidential committee on aid for Europe which the Secretary of Commerce heads decided not to recommend rationing or price control, Harriman said, because action "must be taken now—today" and can not wait on creation of the "necessary control mechanisms." He added:

"That doesn't mean, of course, that conservation should not be given currently to what controls might be established, with the authority of Congress."

Calling it "an adventure in Democracy," Harriman forecast success for the giant conservation campaign announced last night by Charles Luckman, the 38-year-old soap manufacturer who was picked by Mr. Truman to head the citizens' committee.

President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall will broadcast a nationwide appeal on the four major networks at 10:30 p. m. E.S.T., Sunday. This will open what Luckman, at a news conference last night, described as an "all-media" campaign—including newspapers, billboards, radio, movies and magazines—to spread these slogans over the land:

"Buy wisely, eat sensibly, waste nothing"—especially grain, meat, eggs and poultry; and "don't start the next war in your garbage can."

There were no "meatless Mondays" or "eggless Wednesdays" in the Luckman program, and he emphasized that Americans are not supposed to "eat less" but to buy less of the scarce foods, more of the plentiful foods and waste no food at all.

"The arsenal of Democracy," he said, "must now become the granary of the world, or we shall bury our hopes for peace with those who died to preserve it."

For housewives he laid down simple rules:

1. Buy the cheaper cuts. 2. Don't serve too much—and don't let people take "seconds." 3. Don't overcook meat, because that shrinks it. 4. Use leftovers. 5. Save wheat in every possible way—particularly by going easy on poultry and dairy products because it takes grain to feed chickens and cows.

RECORD HOG PRICES SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 2. (AP)—Hogs again reached a new all-time high on the San Antonio livestock market today when good and choice butchers weighing from 180 to 280 pounds sold for $28.25.

GUERRILLA RUMORS FRANKFURT, Oct. 2. (AP)—U. S. Army officials said today they had found no confirmation of recent German rumors that 6,000 armed Ukrainian guerrillas were approaching the eastern border of American-occupied Germany.

In today's shooting one bullet was reported to have been sent into the rear of the bus. The bus driver said he heard the report and saw smoke but did not see the ambusher.

The bus had aboard several company men and three other passengers, a woman and a baby and an elderly man. No one was reported injured.

Public safety prompted him to make the threat, the Governor said yesterday, because previous warnings had "gone unheeded by those who seem determined to seriously injure some innocent person or persons."

The company, struck by 1,000 members of an AFL union since last May 20, has continued operation in Mississippi and some other states by employing new drivers and trainees.

Machines driven by new drivers and trainees have been objects of several attacks, including shooting and dynamiting.

STRIKE VIOLENCE JACKSON, Miss., Oct. 2. (AP)—A passenger bus of the Southern Bus Line Co., Inc., whose former drivers on a strike, was fired on today a few miles north of Hattiesburg, in a renewal of violence.

The shooting occurred in spite of a warning from Governor Fielding L. Wright that national guardsmen would be placed on the buses with orders to "shoot to kill" if the shootings continued.

The state highway patrol office reported from Hattiesburg that patrolmen had been sent to the vicinity of the shooting in an effort to arrest the attacker.

The bus, southbound from Jackson, was due in Hattiesburg at 8:50 a. m., to inaugurate a renewal of passenger service on the affected line between the two cities. At Jackson, Gov. Wright after receiving a report of today's shooting, said he would investigate the incident further before deciding to place armed guardsmen aboard the vehicles.

Choice Meat Curb Could Aid Food Fight WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—If consumers stopped buying and farmers stopped producing choice, juicy beef steaks and roasts during the next eight months, the food conservation battle for aiding the hungry abroad would be half won.

'Tea Case,' 'Stomping Case' Arouse Interest In Court

(First of three stories)
 AUSTIN, Tex., Oct. 2. This political off-year, when principles are not subject to political misinterpretation, would seem a suitable time for a closer look at the Texas court of Criminal Appeals. The court needs public examination for the reason that two opinions have been widely publicized. One is known as the "drowning in tea" case. The other is known as the "stomping" case. The widely spread public inference, resulting from publicity given to these two cases, is that the judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals have become so deeply engrossed in technicalities that they grasp at every straw of a technicality in order to loose guilty men. Because the court passes upon the most precious assets of any man—his life and his liberty—it is important that it have public confidence. It is, therefore, important to look at the court's record; to ask some questions, and to report the answers. Is the court turning loose a lot of criminals? Were these two widely-publicized cases correctly interpreted? Were the conclusions reached by the court new or novel? If the results of those opinions deserved criticism, should it have been lodged at the door of the trial court—or at the door of the Legislature? Does the court become so involved in technicalities that it loses sight of justice? Is there more, or less, law based upon technicalities in the criminal appeals or the civil appeals courts? These are indicative questions. Now, let's look at some of the answers, starting with the actual record of the court for its last term: Out of 332 opinions written last year, the court affirmed 257, and disagreed (usually by ordering another trial) with the trial court in 75. Another way of saying it is that in 77 per cent of the cases, the appeals court found no fault with the trial court's judgment. All crimes are serious; but to look at the more serious: There were 46 murder cases in which the sentence was 2 to 99 years, and 10 of them—less than 25 per cent—were reversed. There were six life terms for murder; two were reversed and remanded. There were eight death penalty cases; one was reversed and remanded, and in the eighth—the stomping case—the indictment was found faulty. Driving while intoxicated is a serious crime; of 19 cases before the court, 19 were affirmed. Rape is a serious crime; with 20 cases, 16 were affirmed. From the record, it would appear that the court leans over backward to keep from disturbing lower court judgments.

Now about the drowning and stomping cases. The drowning case is the older. The Dallas man was convicted on circumstantial evidence of drowning his wife. On appeal, two of the judges thought the indictment faulty because it did not aver the "manner and means" of the drowning; a third judge thought the evidence was insufficient, and a reversal was ordered. The lure started when news stories said the indictment must allege whether the drowning "was in water or tea." But that isn't what the opinion said. The opinion said: "If the manner and means used in accomplishing the drowning were unknown to the grand jury, and could not have been ascertained by reasonable diligence, the indictment should have so stated. If there is only one method of drowning, and water the only article by which it can be accomplished, then force would be added to the state's position. That is the entire reference upon which the publicity was based. After the initial news stories, on motion for rehearing, the water and-or tea thesis was developed by the state's attorneys; and on rehearing the court amplified: "There should be an averment of some overt act of the accused which brought about the drowning, if such act were known—that he pushed her from the bank into the water, or out of the boat into the water, or held her head under water. . . or that the manner and means is unknown to the grand jury."

Exam Is Set For Railway Postal Jobs

An examination has been announced by the Civil Service Commission to fill substitute railway postal clerk positions in all states except New York and in Alaska and Puerto Rico. Competition in this examination is restricted to persons entitled to veteran preference. However, non-veterans serving continuously in that position through appointments not limited to one year or less are eligible to apply for the examination. Salary for the first year is $1.14 per hour, which would amount to $2,300 annually for a 40-hour week. An additional ten percent is paid for any night work between the hours of 6 p. m. and 6 a. m. Salary is increased each year by 5 cents an hour, up to a maximum of $1.54 an hour. Applicants must pass a written test and be able to meet certain written requirements. There are no age limits. Further information and application forms can be obtained from the Commission's local secretary, A. A. Porter, at the post office. Applications must be received in the Commission's Washington, D. C. office not later than Oct. 23.

High School Band To Be In Stanton Parade

The Big Spring high school band will represent the Big Spring Lions club in the parade Friday at 3 p. m. in Stanton, marking the opening of the Martin County Fair. Bill Dawes, president of the club, announced Wednesday that the club had contributed $100 toward the band's trip to Odessa with the understanding the band would stop in Stanton to represent the local club. At the club meeting Wednesday, O. B. Bryan, Stanton, urged Lions to attend the fair. The parade, he said, would be 10 blocks long and likely would have three bands. There will be a football game, agricultural exhibits, livestock judging and a carnival, the latter operated by the Stanton Lions club. Many species of weevils protect themselves from enemies by falling and feigning death at the least alarm; others fold their limbs close to the body so they resemble seeds or particles of soil.

Busses Will Carry Students To Odessa Tilt

Three busses will transport Big Spring high school students to Odessa Friday afternoon for the Odessa-Big Spring football game. Two busses, carrying band members and their instruments, will leave during the afternoon in time for a stop at Stanton to participate in a parade. The other, for students, is due to depart from the bus station at 5 p. m. It is scheduled to leave Odessa immediately following the game, and should arrive at the union terminal here at approximately 11:30 p. m. Marguerite Wood, Mrs. Flossie Low, Ruth Beasley and Walter Reed will ride the bus with the students as sponsors. Reed, high school principal, said tickets were exhausted here but were refused, he said. A total of 340 student tickets were turned back and will be converted into adult tickets to go on sale at 6:45 p. m. Friday at the east gate in Odessa.

The student council of Big Spring high school Wednesday set Oct. 8-9-10 as Round Up days for the school. All students will wear western attire and participate in a general round of spirit-building activities, climaxed by a pep rally on the courthouse lawn the evening of Oct. 9. The next evening, still sporting cowboy regalia, students will root for victory in the game between Big Spring and Lamesa at Steer Stadium.

Deaths

though a girl in her teens, Mary Moon did a man's work in helping her father split rails and rebuild the homestead. She knew, too, of the escapades of Frank and Jesse James, driven to a career of robbery against the retaliations of Jayhawkers on those who had voted for slavery.

"The James brothers were bad men," she recalled, "but they didn't do all the things of which they were accused." When R. B. Zinn, son of a German immigrant who became the president of the first college founded at Austin, drove cattle into Missouri, he met and married Mary Moon and took her back to Fort Worth on May 12, 1873.

The 1879 drouth wiped him out and the family arrived in Big Spring on April 16, 1883 to begin anew. Mr. Zinn served as a surveyor, laying out lines for many counties in this area. Mrs. Zinn, whose grandfather was a Baptist minister and her father a Baptist deacon before he became a Presbyterian minister, was converted in childhood at a Baptist association meeting. She remembered baptizings in a creek near her home when holes had to be chopped in thick ice and always smiled: "I never heard of anyone getting sick from doing their duty."

There were no Baptist or Presbyterian congregations in Big Spring when the Zinns arrived in Big Spring and they agreed to "board" with the Methodists when that church was organized. She continued to "board" with the Methodist church for three score and four years, although her record of 25 years as Sunday school teacher, 30 as head of the missionary society and 40 as the president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union testified to a highly active affiliation.

Both her sons were killed in accidents, the death of her husband in 1917, and ultimately of her three daughters failed to dim her Christian optimism. Through a vicarious spirit, she rose above personal sorrow to command the love of the thousands who knew her.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Selected stocks negotiated further modest recoveries in today's market although many leaders were restrained by profit realizations on the recent upswing. Dealings lively at the opening, soon tapered. Early advances were reduced or cancelled here and there near midday with mild irregularity developing. Buying still was mostly in the hands of professionals who felt that the list technically was entitled to a substantial comeback. Foreign commitments, questions surrounding European relief and some skepticism regarding domestic economy inspired a certain amount of selling. Cotton futures moved forward. Bonds were narrow.

Several regular features, including a comprehensive "business barometer" covering Howard county trends, editorial comment on popular topics of discussion and several others will be used.

Hereafter, Campbell said he hoped to have the publication ready for distribution by the first of each month.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"It's Living That Counts"

I stole the title of this column from a magazine article that said a whole lot better than I can what farm and country life can mean.

We talk about farm profits, production, research, and mechanical improvements... but isn't it true, what we really value is the life country living offers us?... the chance to be close to our families and neighbors... children sharing in the chores... working with our own hands at a worthwhile job.

And country pleasures are simple: good talk at day's end, and a glass of mellow beer with friends... the companionship of man and wife, untroubled by distractions of the city... the mutual tolerance of one another's tastes—in choosing a friend, or a glass of beer, or a candidate for Governor.

Mind, I'm all for material improvements. But from where I sit, the real goodness of our country life is that spirit of tolerance, moderation, and good fellowship.

Jester Draws Criticism By Harley Sadler

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester's advocacy of the college building amendment has drawn sharp criticism from Rep. Harley Sadler of Sweetwater who still might run against him in 1948.

Sadler last night said a statement he made last week to the Abilene Reporter News had been misinterpreted as meaning that he would not under any circumstances run against Jester.

He told the Associated Press by telephone and telephone from Midland that he is "leaving the gate wide open," indicating he might run "if Jester's popularity continues to wane and there is enough demand." Sadler also said it is entirely too early to make a definite statement as to whether or not he would be a candidate, that he regarded Jester as a personal friend, and that he was not seeking any political advancement.

Unless a governor discharges his duties "in an equitable fashion to all of our people and each section of our great state," Sadler went on, he should not seek or expect a second term.

This, he added, was a direct reference to Jester's advocacy of the college building amendment adopted by a close vote in August. It was violently opposed, especially in west Texas. Jester's outspoken approval of the plan to finance $60,000,000 in construction for state-supported colleges had stimulated a Sadler-for-governor boom.

'Senator' Says OU Parents Should Be Able To See Games

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 2. (AP)—A member of the University of Oklahoma student Senate thinks student parents at the university should be given a chance to attend home football games without worrying about what to do with junior.

The student senator, Ferrill Rogers, plans to introduce a bill in the Senate today to provide free care for children of University of Oklahoma students during Sooner home football games.

The proposed service would be operated with a registered nurse in charge. Rogers said he would ask a $300 appropriation to finance the service.

"More than 1,000 Sooner students have children," Rogers said, "and most of them can't afford to hire baby-sitters."

Fires Still Burn In East Texas Area

CONROE, Oct. 2. (AP)— Forest fires continued to burn in five east Texas counties today but J. O. Burnside, Texas forest service official, said they were "in hand."

"I don't know when they'll be finally halted," he said, adding: "That depends on a lot of things."

One of the worst things that could happen now, he said, would be a dry norther. "That would fan the flames and cause the fires to spread."

Burnside said that several farm homes in the path of the flames were saved yesterday by fire fighters who diverted the flames. The homes were situated in the old Waverly community in San Jacinto county.

The firefighters, he said, were directed by observers in reconnaissance planes and a helicopter. Winds of between 14 and 17 miles an hour were predicted to aggravate the situation today, Burnside said.

He said last night that 36 separate fires were still burning. The forest service official said it would be hard to estimate the amount of damage to date, but acres were at "100 per cent loss."

He said the fires, discovered Sept. 22, have caused "trouble spots" in an estimated 2,000,000

Cosden Slates Demonstration On Gas Handling

Employees of Cosden and their families will be at a demonstration and lecture at 8 p. m. today in the city auditorium on the safe handling of gasoline.

The demonstration is being staged by the Ethyl corporation and utilizes specialists and equipment sent out in units.

Various phases of handling gasoline—loading, unloading, cleaning tanks, vapor problems, etc.—will be discussed. Dangers and causes of explosions will be demonstrated with model set-ups, and control means suggested. City officials, particularly those in the fire department, both inspection and firefighting—have been invited to participate.

Cuba supplied the United States during World War II, with more than half of the sugar received from all sources.

gross acres of land. Burnside, whose job is fire prevention work for the service, said 225 volunteer firefighters were combating the flames.

"They are a tremendous help," he said.

Forest fire officials said they did not anticipate use of water bombs, which were offered by Lowry field Army officers. Aerial maps, Burnside said, have played a leading role.

"They helped us locate the fires and showed us how to reach them."

He had high praise for all who were cooperating in the task of subduing one of Texas worst forest fires.

The fires were in San Jacinto, Liberty, Montgomery, Harris and Walker counties.

Customer And Grocer Share In New Contest

A contest with unusual aspects is that which has been announced in The Herald's columns by Admiration Coffee—its $5,000 "My Favorite Grocer" contest.

In this event, not only does the grand prize winner receive $1,000, but the grocery store named in the winning entry also receives an award of $500. Winners are to be judged on the best statements of 50 words or less completing the sentence "My favorite grocer is . . . because . . ." telling this particular store is the entrant's favorite.

Contest officials point out that comparatively favorable "odds" for winning exist, since the contest is confined to the Southwest, and is not offered nationally.

In addition to the major award, second and third grand prizes are a Philco refrigerator and a Crosley radio-phonograph. There are, in addition, six weekly contests, with winners receiving such items as electric roasters, electric mixers, electric toasters, electric percolators, etc. The "favorite grocer" also will get prizes in the weekly contests.

The event opened Sept. 20, and weekly contest winners will be selected from entries received before midnight Saturday at the end of the week for the following six weeks.

Entry blanks may be secured from grocers, who will furnish full information. Admiration ads in The Herald also give complete details.

UNCERTAINTY, RUIN

Europe's Strife Is Told By Mahon

Uncertainty, privation, ruin and strife—these are the things George Mahon, representative from this, the 19th congressional district, is finding on his assignment to Europe as a member of a special House committee.

From Trieste, one of the festering sores of Europe and the dividing line between the eastward thrust of communism and the resistance from the west by democracies, Rep. Mahon writes that a strong, stable administration of the free state by the United Nations appears to be the only means of averting serious difficulties.

He was in Trieste during Ratification Day, the day when treaty provisions making Trieste, which belonged to Austria before World War II and to Italy after World War II, a free state. Russia and Yugoslavia had demanded it be given to the latter.

"The commanding general of the Yugoslav army served notice upon one military headquarters that his army, contrary to provisions of the treaty, was marching into the city of Trieste at 10 p. m. on Ratification Day," said Mahon. A force of 10,000 American and British troops, equally divided, manned roads with instructions to prevent entry.

"The Yugoslavs engaged in some military maneuvers and threats, but when it became apparent that the Americans and British had called their bluff, they withdrew their forces," he said.

There has been an air of uneasiness throughout the city during the stay of committee members. Bombs exploded in the streets and some were killed. Communists claimed anti-Reds had killed a child of a communist family, and 15,000 paraded behind the casket, preceded by four huge red flags. Presence of American warships in the harbor and four-engine plane overhead has had a stabilizing influence on the situation, but among military men in the area, Mahon found considerable pessimism for stability and peace.

A boatload of wheat arrived recently and there are no apparent signs of hunger. Most of Trieste's 300,000 population are Italian, but there are many Yugoslavs in the area and Yugoslavia is only five miles away.

At Trieste Mahon visited several of the 137 Texans in the army, among them Cecil Drake, Big Spring, and Max Carpenter, Sundown.

Prior to going to Trieste, Mahon visited Germany with members of the committee of the whole, and concluded that "at long last the German people know with complete certainty what war is like," for the nation is "still one of rubble and ruin."

There is no evidence of happiness in Germany, he observed, adding that "perhaps I mistook a state of hopelessness and bewilderment for 'unfriendliness.'" Still, the German people had themselves and leaders to blame for their plight, Mahon reminded.

Under occupation agreements, Germany was to be supervised as an economic unit. But Russia, now controlling the areas formerly furnishing the breadbasket for Germany, has not come across with the food. This has created a situation in the British and American zones, which are preponderantly industrial. The choice, under international law, is to feed the occupied country or withdraw. Withdrawal would create a vacuum, Mahon believed, which would be filled immediately by communists, giving Russia control of the tremendous production from the Ruhr.

Not much hope lies for further development of agriculture, for utilizing almost every foot of ground and in need only of fertilizer and equipment. Severe drought has hurt, for he saw Irish potatoes the size of marbles.

The problem is how to revive German industry for exportation of machinery steel urgently needed elsewhere and in exchange for food supplies, without, at the same time, running the risk of reviving the seeds of the militarist segment which twice fomented world wars. France is stubbornly opposed to industrialization for the Reich. Coal production, said Mahon, is the key to recovery and miners are being given extra food rations to increase output.

Misery is a matter of degree with the people, he said, and invariably men and women on the street carry bags or stachels—the earmark of blackmarket operations to obtain food and other necessities.

Lockheed Loses Four Million Dollars

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Lockheed Aircraft Co. yesterday reported for the first half of 1947 a net loss of $4,890,894, compared with a loss of $424,502 in the same period last year.

The report said the 1947 loss is after taking into account a capital gain of $6,482,488 from disposal of certain fixed assets such as buildings no longer needed for manufacturing.

R. E. Cross, president, attributed the operating loss largely to mounting production costs on commercial work.

Texas Farm Income Nears Billion Mark

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (AP)—Texas farmers took in nearly one billion dollars in cash during the first eight months of 1947, the University of Texas' bureau of business research reported yesterday.

The total of $935,861,000 was nearly $200,000,000 or 41 per cent greater than cash income for the same period last year.

All districts showed gains except the Trans-Pecos, where a 30 per cent slump was noted. The greatest percentage gain was 130 in the northern high plains.

One of the reasons George Washington gave for retiring at the end of her second term was that newspapers assailed him in "such exaggerated and indecent terms as could scarcely be applied to a Nero, a notorious defaulter, or even to a common pickpocket." About 35 per cent of the areas

A cobbler quickie and other neat treats by Carol Drake

COBBLER QUICKIE: Cover bottom of well-greased square cake pan with fruit about 2 inches deep—cherries, sliced apples or what-have-you. Mix topping of 1 cup each flour and brown sugar with some cinnamon; cut in 1/4 cup shortening; sprinkle over fruit; pat down. Bake at 350° F. about half an hour. Easy to eat.

HAWAIIAN DELIGHT MUFFINS: bring Island magic right to the table. Into 2-cup-flour muffin recipe, fold 1 1/2 cups crushed pineapple, not drained; use required egg and shortening but leave out liquid. Pour into small muffin cups; bake at 425° F. 20 minutes. Fill golden brown. Try with fruit salad or for Sunday morning breakfast.

FOR REALLY BROWN GRAVY EVERY TIME: browned flour does the trick. To make it, put 2 cups flour into frying pan; stir and stir until well browned. Keep in tightly covered jar until gravy time. Then blend a small amount into hot meat drippings. Proceed with gravy-making.

JEFFY APPLE PIE: Slice apples into greased casserole; sprinkle liberally with cinnamon and sugar, dot with butter and top with rich pastry. So good! Make it even better! Spread meringue over crust of baked pie (beat granulated sugar into stiffly beaten egg whites, 2 tablespoons per white); sprinkle with silvered toasted almonds. Brown in moderate oven—about 15 minutes.

Fill the cookie jar with new goodies. Write for the free leaflet, "Cookie Ideas." Address your request to Carol Drake, The Homemakers' Bureau, Box 2110, Dept. O.I., San Francisco 26, Calif.

Carol Drake, Director The Homemakers' Bureau An Extra Safeway Service

P.S. For better baking: Always sift flour before measuring and hold sifter high (about 8 inches above surface) so air can lighten flour as it falls. Makes for more accurate measuring.

Considered radio's oldest cowboy and hillbilly band, "The Oklahoma Outlaws" combine juke box favorites with an added touch of sage brush philosophy which has made them famous. Hymns and poems round out the show.

"The Oklahoma Outlaws" have been on the Texas State network as a day-time program for some time. Al Clauser, who heads the group, has composed several hillbilly songs of his own that have become popular, and the band has been featured on Columbia and Mutual networks for years, as well as having appeared in motion pictures with Gene Autry and Roy Rogers.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Martin-Howard Co-operators Retire Land From Cultivation

With fall planting of pasture grasses under way, more than 150 acres of land retired from cultivation on the farms of co-operators with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District will be planted to pasture this year. E. J. Hughes, District Conservationist, reports.

Included in a coordinated program of soil and water conservation measures designed to treat each acre according to its needs and productivity, the grass seedlings are being made to give a protective cover of native grasses on land considered best adapted for pasture. Included in the grass seedlings are those on the farms of Willis Winters and B. O. Brown in the Vincent Soil Conservation Group and Melvin Choate, north of Big Spring, which have already been made and grass which will be planted this week by C. W. Creighton on his ranch west of Big Spring, Tom Spencer in the Gay Hill Soil Conservation Group and Frank and Frank Loveless in the Coahoma Group.

E. T. O'Daniel, also of Coahoma, will oversee native pasture on his ranch 10 miles northeast of Coahoma. In addition around 100 acres will be planted by co-operators with the district in Midland County.

Had Hale and Frank Loveless plan to plant improved pasture grasses including perennial rye, meadow fescue, orchard grass, southern smooth brome, western wheat-grass and Rhodes grass, along with legumes such as Ladino clover, alfalfa and Hairy Vetch on seepy land on their farms northeast of Coahoma.

Seedlings of improved pasture grasses have also been made on irrigated land on the ranches of Steve Currie and Marshall Cook cooperating with the North Concho River Soil Conservation District at Garden City.

Joe B. Calverley, Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District co-operator on his ranch 10 miles northwest of Garden City, has 10 acres of irrigated pasture grasses up to a good stand.

The irrigated pastures were which when established will give green succulent feed for year-around grazing to support one cow and her calf per acre. This supplemental feed will be used by the ranchers to rest their range land during the growing season as well as provide good feed when green grass is not available on native pastures.

J. E. Norris, who lives 10 miles north of Big Spring in the Richland Conservation Group, started building 11 miles of broad base terraces on his cultivated land this week to conserve rainfall and protect his land from erosion. Norris states he observed the benefits of saving water with terraces when he made more wheat on terraced land this year.

Conservation farm plans were made last week on the farms of B. R. Cline, 6 miles west of Fairview, and L. J. Painter, 2 miles west of Gay Hill School. The farmers planned soil management measures including conservation crop rotations, cover and soil management measures including conservation crop rotations, cover and soil building crops and crop residues supported by terracing and contour farming. They had the help of the SCS in making the conservation plans which will become a part of a cooperative agreement with the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District upon approval by the supervisors.

D. W. Christian planted Abruzzo rye and Hairy Vetch last week as a cover crop on his farm land. Christian, whose place is 10 miles northeast of Big Spring, "dusted in" his cover crop with a grain drill to take advantage of late rains in getting the crop established.

Two stock tanks were staked out by the SCS last week to be constructed on the W. E. Berry ranch 12 miles north of Stanton. The tanks, designed for 10,000 and 12,000 cubic yards, will furnish water for stock in pastures where underground water is not available and will give better distribution of grazing on the range.

4-H'ers, Steers Head For Dallas

A group of Howard county 4-H club boys loaded their prize steers aboard trucks and departed Tuesday evening for Dallas where they will exhibit animals at the annual State Fair of Texas.

Anxious moments for the youthful competitors will come on three big days. Friday the fair's sifting committee will inspect the steers. Saturday the actual judging will be made and on Oct. 7 the club animal sale will be conducted.

Ten boys from Howard county entered steers at the fair. They are Jimmie White, Martin Fryar, Wayne White, Perry Walker, Hollis Yates, Lloyd Robinson, Vernon Wolf, Ronnie Davidson, Delbert Davidson, James Fryar.

Merrick Invited To Attend Celebration

V. A. Merrick of Big Spring Motor company has been invited to participate in an Oct. 6 celebration at Dallas when Ed Maher, Dallas Ford dealer, honors his two sons, who recently became authorized Ford dealers.

Thomas H. Maher is the first graduate of Ford Motor company's school for dealers' sons, and is in partnership with his brother, Louis J. Maher. Classmates from the school will attend the celebration as will dealers in this region.

Josh Lee, vice-chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, will be principal speaker at the banquet which climaxes the day's activities.

CAMPAIGN HOPS ALONG

TIENTSIN, China, Oct. 1 (AP)—Dr. Fu Chian-Kiang's campaign for election to the national assembly is hopping right along. Dr. Fu bought about 300 pounds of locusts—traditional enemy of the Chinese farmer—and tied a "vote for me" campaign tag to the leg of each. Then he turned the locusts loose.

Deadlock And Little Hope Of Break

The Atomic Energy Commission of the U. N. has made its second report, outlining in greater detail the proposed mechanism for international control, if and when adopted. The continuation of a deadlock on the security council over control plans is a foregone conclusion for at least this session. Meanwhile, atomic fuel already is being produced faster than nuclear scientists can figure out what to do with it because the need for secrecy is an almost insurmountable barrier.

This is the atomic energy picture of today. There are scant grounds for hoping that it will be clarified at a reasonably early date.

There are basically two conceptions concerning the problem, those represented by the United States and Russia. The U. S. has proposed a control plan involving inspection by an international force which would transcend the powers of national forces to prevent inspection. The U. S. does not concede that it must destroy its stockpile of atomic bombs and cease their manufacture as a measure of good faith. The U. S. believes that without inspection, treaties "outlawing" manufacture and use of atomic bombs will be but scraps of paper.

On the other side, Russia contends that the U. S. has a monopoly and is using it as a bargaining point, and at the same time seeking to maintain and perpetuate it. The inspection proposal is unpalatable to the Russian conception of supreme national sovereignty. Moreover, Russia objects to a veto-less control program for the monopoly reason, pointing to the record to sustain the position that Russia actually is in the minority on the AEC and the security council, hence the U. S. control of the control. Russia objects also to U. N. management or ownership of atomic production and research facilities on similar grounds.

The U. S. realizes it has, at the present, a monopoly but that monopoly is not desirable per se. Still, no one in the Western powers is ready immediately to share secrets which would give Russia the know-how on bomb production.

It is a perplexing question. Every month of delay makes the ultimate solution more complex. It also contributes to an alarmist state which could, in time, create an atomic race. Few things could worsen the present sorry state of affairs with such rapidity.

Smaller Portions And Left-Overs

Sen. Taft brought down the wrath of a lot of people when he suggested that we eat less as a means of combating high prices. President Truman's appeal for less waste did not attract such instant rebuttal, but it had its critics, too.

Many housewives snorted they were forced by high prices not only to prevent waste, but to do without many items needed in the diet. Of course, if the spiral continues upward, hard necessity may rally to the side of Sen. Taft.

At the moment, however, there is more to be said for the President's suggestion. There are very few families which do not waste food needlessly. In normal time finicky appetites may be coddled, but in times like these the most pernicious person should learn that left-overs can be good. It is shameful to be dumping good food into garbage cans in the per centage most of us do, while millions are hungry. Eating houses, too, could greatly reduce waste by reducing portions to sensible sizes with seconds on request. This, plus leaving off some things we do not need, would help.

The Nation Today—James Marlow—

Survey Of Europe Food Plans

WASHINGTON, (U.P.)—This will bring you up to date on the help-Europe-with-food program.

Some time ago President Truman set up a special committee to study world food problems. This is what it recently reported to him:

Last year Europe was short of food and needed help from us but this year, because of crop failures there, it will be even shorter and need more help.

But, to make matters worse, crop failures in this country this year mean we'll have less food to ship overseas.

How can we bridge that gap and try to spare more food for Europe? Three things could be done in this country:

1. Rationing.
2. Eating less.
3. Wasting less.

All three have been talked about but, so far, nothing has been done except to ask Americans to waste less food. Take them one at a time.

Rationing in this country, a wartime measure to keep prices down and see that everyone had an equal share of food, ended when the war ended.

But can the government set up a rationing program again? If so, how long would it take to get started?

First, Congress would have to approve. Congress, now out of session, may not come back until next January.

Even if Congress were called back into special session right now (which it won't be) to approve rationing, how long would it take to set up a program?

About six months, according to Paul M. O'Leary, former deputy administrator of OPA.

Anyway, talk of rationing right now is just talk. There's no sign of its happening any time soon, if at all.

Eating less— Suggestions along this line have had a cool response.

Wasting less food— Of all the ideas suggested for saving food for Europe, this is the easiest to ask Americans to do. It means no sacrifice at all.

President Truman suggested wasting less.

He set up a special committee of 25 citizens to work out a waste-less-food program. You'll hear from this committee later.

And, at this moment, that's all that's been done.

Affairs Of The World—DeWitt MacKenzie

Cripps Is Facing Titanic Task

Appointment of Sir Stafford Cripps as economic czar of Britain, coupled with a new measure under which the government can compel jobless workers to take essential employment, places the country under a considerable degree of totalitarianism, for fear that the experiment might get out of hand and lead to more regimentation than the nation's crisis.

This drastic step, unprecedented in modern England, gives us a fair measure of the gravity of the nation's crisis. It is a move which no democratic country would tolerate except from necessity in these perilous days of totalitarianism, for fear that the experiment might get out of hand and lead to more regimentation than the nation's crisis.

Cripps' assignment to the vast responsibility of leading the country out of the economic wilderness is a striking commentary on our changing times. He is a member of the labor (socialist) party, but it isn't so many years ago that this reputedly wealthy lawyer was read out of the party on the grounds that he was too extreme—too much of a leftist.

Since those days he has served in many important government positions, both under the conservative prime ministership of Churchill and in the socialist regime. And now he has been made economic czar by the party which once thought he was too radical. He hasn't changed his views, but labor has.

Actually, this individual on whom England is pinning so much faith is a good deal of an enigma even to his friends. They know him as a brilliant man of outstanding personality that five years ago his name was sweeping the country and the general opinion was that he was headed for the prime ministership. However, the workings of his mind are hard to fathom, and the public doesn't really know him well.

Sir Stafford has one other characteristic which is worth noting as he embarks on the task of making or breaking England. He always has been a good deal of a lone wolf and has found it hard to run with the pack. Quite likely it is this trait which helps qualify him for the job of economic czar, since that is pretty much a one-man show.

The new post is described as created especially to centralize in one man the broad powers for a much closer integration of internal and external economic policy. The goal is to cancel an adverse annual trade balance of $2,400,000,000—a truly titanic task which not only calls for supreme skill but for the imposition of further hardships on an already overburdened public. It's not only titanic, it's heroic.

Gable Satisfied With Acting

HOLLYWOOD, (U.P.)—Clark Gable was relaxing on the "Homecoming" set and talking about the way most actors are always yearning to direct and produce pictures. What about screen vet Clark? He smiled slyly and answered:

"None. I've got no ambition to direct or produce. It would be a pain in the neck."

Eddie Cantor will move into Warners studio next week to start preparing his screen biography. He'll record his famous songs next spring and then the film will be ready to go. Al Jolson found his Larry Parks, and now Eddie is looking for a boy. He added:

"I'd be doing that for years."

The rift between Parks and Jolson is one of the town topics and you might expect Bob Hope to come up with a crack about it. Said he:

"Parks is living on borrowed knees."

Out Culver City way Ingrid Bergman was receiving visitors on the "Joan" set. She was explaining that the film, though epic in size, would not be more than two and half hours on the screen. I wasn't convinced when she remarked:

"People will have seen enough of me by then."

Jeanne Crain, who scored a hit in "Margie," is now playing in another picture of the "20's" "The Flaming Age." She looked at her antiquated dress and complained:

"They keep putting me in the '20's, and I thought I was a pretty up-to-date girl."

Oscar Levant is in the same picture, working at 20th - Fox for the first time. The pianist, noted for his sharp tongue, says he was given instructions when he arrived on the lot:

"They told me not to be funny, and I'm not disappointing them."

JUDGES TO LEARN EVANSTON, ILL. (U.P.)—About 40 traffic court judges and prosecutors plan to go back into the classroom this fall. They will register on Oct. 13 at the Northwestern University law school for a five-day conference. The idea is to make them better acquainted with sound principles of traffic law enforcement and court administration.

House From Kindling

BURLINGTON, Iowa, (U.P.)—E. C. Etchinson, 64, didn't let the housing shortage get him down—he went to work and single-handedly built a brand new home 45 blocks long and 33 blocks wide.

Neighbors call it the "Kindlow," because it is a bungalow made from kindling.

Etchinson constructed his dwelling from eight-inch square blocks sold by a local lumber yard as firewood. He and his wife were living at their daughter's home two years ago when he conceived the idea of building a place of his own.

But materials were scarce and high priced. Then Etchinson learned that the lumber yard had thousands of good white pine blocks. They had been purchased originally by the huge Iowa ordnance plant here during the war for use in shipping fuses and other ordnance parts. Etchinson decided to build a "block house" when the lumber yard offered him all he wanted at $6 to $8 a ton.

He began August, 1945, working in his spare time.

Two years and 26,000 wooden blocks later—he used 25 tons altogether—he had a complete three-room house, a garage, a brooder and a henhouse for the family's flock of 100 chickens.

His "Kindlow" is a home many a young bride, weary of cramped wartime housing, would love to move into.

"I designed the place as I went along," said Etchinson. "The only help I had was from my wife. There wasn't any waste. Any blocks that couldn't be used for building made good firewood."

Among novel features of the "Kindlow," which measures 22 by 30 feet, is a cement floor. Etchinson, a cement finisher, rebelled against buying conventional roofing material because of its expense.

"The cement roof is standing up well," he said, "and we don't have to worry about the block walls warping out of shape either. The wood is well seasoned. The house'll last as long as we have any need of it."

First Night Season

NEW YORK — After a somewhat delayed start, the autumn season of Broadway first nights again is here and again the usual fashionable faces pop up from Sardi's and the Stork, from Twenty-one and the Barbary Room to dash to the West Forties.

As usual, with one irritating exception, the critics are the first arrivals and the best behaved male members of the audience, and their wives, the quietest and best comporting babes down front.

Eldiest and best-liked of the regular critics is Keley Allen, who scribbles his reviews for a trade daily, Women's Wear, and a first night without this amiable septuagenarian wouldn't seem correct. George Jean Nathan, most famous elder critical statesman, will have to find another ethereal first night partner, for his best gal, Actress Julie Hayden, has a job in a play this year. He likes "em all and of ingenuit attitude ever since he used to squire the Gish girls about the glamor deposits, so if you're more than five-feet-two don't apply.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Katzenberg, a wealthy, elderly couple whose permanent hobby is to attend every first night and theatrical celebration, also should be happy on hand.

Joe Pincus, the talent scout, will be down front looking for another Tyrone Power, a young gentleman he scouted from a Shakespearean first night frolic. License Commissioner Ben Fielding and his wife Anne will fill one of the regular pews as Ben notes any evasion of good taste or morality to pass on to the city's legal beagles. Gilbert Miller, if he gets back from his wide British theatrical interests will move like a small mobile mountain down front to wave at his fashionable friends. Mike Todd will puff up clouds of cigar smoke as he chatters an hysterically swift Broadway way everyone from millionaire Joseph Kennedy to the ticket brokers who wait to see if they have another hit. Lee Shubert, "Mr. Lee" to ushers and millionaires alike, will fade like a chameleon into a last-row-aisle seat to tally mentally the financial possibilities of the charade unfolding on stage.

Producer Brock Pemberton will huddle in the standing-room section to bow and shake hands, practically holding court, and needing only Grover Whalen's moustache and floral lapel piece to keep him from sending a tug down the aisle.

The autograph pests will make the more glittering first nights a painful horror. The usual assortment of Hollywood actors and actresses dying to be noticed by columnists and rival thespians will be devoting their time to fixing their high pompadours and chattering loudly to their escorts instead of paying attention to the grease paint reason for the festivities. "Happy," the plain clothes cop who attends all openings, will be paying no attention to the play, but will be efficiently sweeping the theater optically to see that no minks of sables get heisted. And there will be the usual percentage of first-night ulcers, suddenly being discovered in the jittery being of authors, producers and backers. That's a Broadway first night. And what comes of such a capella irritation—only a lousy fortune!

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Kansas City Boy Makes Good

WASHINGTON. — Last week two members of Mr. Truman's cabinet argued back and forth over who was to head up the all-important food committee—the committee which is to work out a plan for rationing the American public and then make the public like it.

Secretary of Commerce Averell Harriman argued for Wisconsin's Ex-Senator Bob La Follette, a thoroughly trusted, experienced public servant. Secretary of Agriculture Anderson, on the other hand, argued for meteoric young Charles Luckman, whom the venerable Lever Brothers Soap Co. of England picked to head its far-flung properties (Peppodent, Rinsol, Lux, Lifebuoy, Spry) in the United States.

In the end, Anderson won out. Chuck Luckman, aged 38, one of the miracles of American business, was made chairman of the food committee.

The Secretary of Agriculture had come to know Luckman at the close of the war when the soap companies, the American housewife, and the U. S. government all were worried over the scarcity of fats. At that time Luckman came in to see Anderson, offered to make a survey of the world fat situation. The survey probably cost Luckman $5,000 but he didn't even keep a copy for himself. "It helped us beat the fat shortage," Anderson says. "For as a result, we were able to encourage rapeseed in Europe, not oils in England, and so on. It was one of the best jobs I've ever seen."

Not many people had heard of Chuck Luckman until about a year ago, when suddenly Lord Leverhulme, inheritor of the vast Lever soap empire which bears his father's name, called him to London. And at a meeting of Lever directors, Luckman was told he had been selected to head Lever's immensely profitable properties in the United States.

"But you don't know me," countered the 37-year-old Luckman.

"We know all about you," replied Chairman Geoffrey Heyworth, thumbing through a thick report on every phase of Luckman's life.

In that report was the story of a Kansas City boy who had gone to college, sold newspapers, jerking sodas, delivering groceries, and after working his way through the University of Illinois finally selling soap for Colgate's. In fact, Luckman has been selling one thing or another all of his life, and eventually made such a showing for Colgate that he was snapped up by the Peppodent Company. Result: Peppodent's gross profits rose from $300,000 to $5,000,000.

Later, Lever Brothers bought up Peppodent. And it has been said in the soap trade that Lever bought Peppodent out only to obtain the services of Chuck Luckman. (His present salary: $300,000 a year.)

Only instruction the Lever directors gave Luckman when he took over his new job was to "operate as he thought best."

One of the first things he did after taking over his new assignment was to turn the soap world topsy-turvy by insisting that the Association of American Soap and Glycerine Producers be headed by a "small soap."

For years there had been rivalry and bitterness between the three big soap companies of the USA (Lever Brothers, Procter and Gamble and Colgate's) on one hand, and about 400 small soap companies on the other. Always in the past, the big soap had rotated as head of the soap association—much to the resentment of the "small soapers."

Great was the astonishment in the soap trade, therefore, when Luckman, newly appointed head of the largest soap company in the USA, calmly announced that though it was his turn to be president of the soap association he would step aside in favor of a little soap.

For the first time in years, peace now reigns between the big soapers and the little soapers.

Another revolutionary move made by Luckman was to drop soap operas. These radio dramas heard over the air while the housewife washes her dishes have been the bulwark of soap advertising for years. But Luckman dropped them.

"I don't think murder, divorce, and sex is good for the public,"

he explained, "and what isn't good for the public isn't good for my business."

Instead he concentrated on Bob Hope's humor, more newspaper advertising and on a clean-government radio drama called "Fighting Senator."

Luckman's latest sensation has been in the field of labor relations.

"When I think of the millions of dollars spent annually by business on psychoanalyzing the tastes and preferences of customers," he told the started business world, "I am appalled by the physical appropriations for research into the thinking, the desires, and hopes of the people on our payrolls. If we were to devote to basic industrial relations research just 10 per cent of the amount we appropriate annually for consumer research, we would not be such puzzled inhabitants of the cock-eyed work in which we live."

Carrying out that creed, Luckman recently signed a contract with the Chemical Workers Union (AFL) which H. A. Bradley, head of the union, called "one of the best examples of good collective bargaining in the United States."

"If we had more mutual understanding of this sort," Bradley said, "The so-called labor problem wouldn't exist."

Luckman, however, is not one to know to labor. In fact, he leveled some caustic bars directly at Labor-union chiefs in the place where it hurts most. After considerable research, Luckman discovered that out of 600 labor newspapers in the USA only seven had bargaining contracts with their own employees.

"It is doubtful whether as many as 20,000 of the 110,000 people who work for the unions are protected by collective bargaining and enjoy the benefits which organized labor demands that we establish for our employees," announced the man whom labor has praised so enthusiastically.

That, briefly, is the young business man picked to head one of the most difficult and thankless of committees, which decides how much the American people should eat and then sells them on the idea of staying within the limit prescribed.

Texas Schedules Week Of Fun

It's a big week in Texas. More fun!

Offhand, we can think real quick of four major events—the State Fair at Dallas, which opens Saturday; the Texas Rose Festival at Tyler, opening tomorrow; the tongue-twisting West Texas Cotton, Chemurgic and Ceramics Carnival at Memphis, also opening tomorrow; and the Texas Polled Hereford Association show at Waco, which opens today and ends Friday.

You can take your pick; all are radically different. They even smell different—roses, cotton, livestock and hamburgers.

Biggest, of course, will be the State Fair. It's a humdinger, with stage shows, football games, ice follies, midway events, rodeos, displays and exhibits galore—but we'll go into detail later.

The west Texas event is termed the "Mardi Gras of West Texas" and it sounds like it.

For example, one float in the Oct. 4 parade (the event lasts three days, Thursday through Saturday) is described as the longest and most valuable float ever seen in a southwestern celebration.

It's 325 feet long, packed with $25,000 worth of cotton which serves as a throne for west Texas' prettiest girls, all contestants for cotton queen honors. The float has been insured against fire for $50,000. Every

Jewelers Grab Bowling Lead

Nathan's Jewelers grabbed the lead in Women's bowling league play by defeating Modern Cleaners, 2-1, at the West Texas Recreation center Wednesday evening.

At the same time, Youth's Beauty shop was winning a 2-1 decision from Settles hotel to drop that club in the cellar.

Youth grabbed off team scoring honors with a tally of 1,930-pins while Settles' 1,851 proved good enough for the runnerup spot.

Pat Walker, Modern, enjoyed a big evening. She tied with Vera Denzer, Settles, for second high individual game with 187 pins and went on to take aggregate laurels with 450.

Lois Eason, Youth's Beauty leader, had a 444 for second high while Mary Roberts captured honors in singles with a 168.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART R. C. (Dick) Dunkel and his weekly college football "averages"—as he prefers to call them—will be with us for nine weeks beginning tomorrow.

Dunkel attempts to compare all the major eleven in the country on a point system, a method that indicates each team's potential scoring margin in the past over the weakest team in the nation, i. e., a club with a 50.0 average would rate ten scoring points stronger than a team rated 40.0. In such a way, teams can be compared regardless of location of schedules and records.

In addition, Richard lists numerically his idea of the ten strongest teams in the country plus sectional leaders.

Last year, the prophet was one of the few experts in the country who did not grant Notre Dame's Ramblers the No. One spot in the national ratings at season's ends. He served that distinction, instead for Army, which started brilliantly, were held to a scoreless tie by the Irish and squeezed by Navy in their final outing.

After Army and Notre Dame, Dunkel saw Michigan, Illinois, George, Georgia Tech, UCLA, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Tennessee finishing in that order.

The Associated Press, which also maintains a rating system, voted Notre Dame the top club with Army second, Georgia third, UCLA fourth, Illinois fifth, Michigan sixth, Tennessee seventh, LSU eighth, North Carolina ninth and Rice tenth.

What's this about a group of Odessa fans coming over here to buy choice tickets for the Bronco-Big Spring battle there Friday night, said purchases being made from the bloc of seats set aside for local fans.

There's nothing wrong with such a practice. Fact is, you've got to hand it to the Odessans for backing their Bronco to the limit. There are few clubs in high school football history who have enjoyed such public support.

One of the biggest gridders in collegiate circles in Texas is Noel Cludd, the West Texas college guard who tips the scales at about 260 pounds. He reaches skyward 6 feet 4 inches. The go-liath hails from Wellington.

Cloyce Box, who appeared here as a forward on GUS Miller's basketball team earlier this year, is first string signal barker for the West Texans.

Two District 3AA products—Ernest Hawkins of Lamessa and Odessa's J. W. Thompson—have earned starting berths for the Texas Tech Red Raiders.

For the first time in several years, no native Texans are playing in the World Series.

However, a couple of boys who served their apprenticeship in the game in Our Town—Willard Ramsdell and Eddie Stevens—are watching the classic from the Brooklyn dugout.

Ramsdell joined the Bums after the end of the Texas league season and got in a couple of games, winning one decision. Stevens, who was Brooklyn's first sacker in 1946, came in the last week to spell Jackie Robinson at the initial sack. Stevens spent the season with Montreal.

Hatten May Be Bums' Choice

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Only a miracle can save the Brooklyn Dodgers after losing the first two games of the 1947 World Series and that miracle probably isn't spelled Joe Hatten.

Failures with Ralph Branca and Vic Lombardi in the opening games, resulting in frequent calls on the Dodger bull pen, have scraped the bottom of the 10-man staff as the Series shifts to Ebbets field for three days, or less.

Although Manager Burt Shotton refuses to pick his starters until warm-up time, he is left with little choice in making today's selection.

A southpaw couldn't stop the Yankees yesterday as they mauled the Brooks, 10-3. The Dodgers gave a demonstration of inept fielding but Lombardi had to take the rap for nine of the Yankee hits until he was sent to the showers in the fifth inning and certainly did not compare with the consistent chucking of Allie Reynolds who calmly cooled the Dodger hitters.

The win made the Yanks overwhelming favorites. Only one club, the 1921 Giants, ever won the Series after losing the first two games but that was a first five of nine series.

If Shotton passes up Hatten, winner of 17 and loser of eight, the field is wide open. Sore-armed Harry Taylor, only "so so" in two recent relief chores is a dark horse possibility. It could be Clyde King, Hal Gregg, considered a possible starter, Hank Behrman and Rex Barney—all were used in yesterday's rout.

Back home in Flatbush where the National league ball will be used, the Dodgers figure to gain support for their cause. But the Yanks won't look unkindly on the beckoning left field stands.

Many American leaguers have been awaiting the day they would get a chance to see if President Ford Frick's signature on the National league ball was what made it fall longer than the Junior circuit's pill.

With two wins in the bag, Manager Bucky Harris is going to use Bobo Newsom.

"I am to put the (frost on Squire Ricketts' glasses," he said. "I never quit and I didn't like to have Brooklyn quit on me." So the Yanks have a man with a mission.

After yesterday's demonstration of outfield play it is possible that Shotton may reconsider his season-long decision to use Carl Furillo only against southpaws. The Yanks had Pete Reiser running around with his tongue hanging out, chasing those triples off the bats of Johnny Lindell, George Stirnweiss and Bill Johnson.

Out in front in the first inning before another big crowd of 69,865 who paid $317,731.20 to see the fun, the Yanks never let the Dodgers pass them although they tied the score twice. Stirnweiss and Tommy Henrich treated Lombardi like they owned him.

Jackie Robinson's fly to short left chased Pee Wee Reese with the tying score in the Dodger third before the Yanks again took charge in their half on triples by Stirnweiss and Lindell. Dixie Walker's homer into the right field seats in the fourth again evened matters until the Yanks got another turn to bat. They went out front on Johnson's three-bagger followed by Phil Rizzuto's double that fell among a huddle of Dodgers and really slammed the door with two in the fifth, another in the sixth and a big four in the seventh.

Grimm Offered 5-Year Pact

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—An old hand will lead the Chicago Cubs' "youth movement" next year and right through 1952.

And the veteran at the wheel will be Charlie Grimm again. Putting a dead stop to season-long rumors that their 49-year-old manager was headed for Cleveland, the Cubs gave Banjo Charlie a solid vote of confidence in the form of a five-year contract—a long term agreement unprecedented in the history of the Chicago National league team.

The popular pilot hasn't yet signed the necessary papers, but that formality will be taken care of when Grimm, Cubs general manager James Gallagher and club president Phil Wrigley get together in Chicago.

Grimm beamed and said he was "happy about the whole thing."

Waddies To Seek Victory No. 13

SAN JOSE, Calif., Oct. 2. (AP)—Riding on a string of 12 consecutive victories and starting the third season in which they have been undefeated in 22 intercollegiate games, the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys are scheduled to arrive late today for their first major test of the 1947 season, against the San Jose Spartans tomorrow night.

The Cowboys have played only one game, that against ambitious but newly-organized Trinity, 29-0. Coach Warren B. Woodson still was uncertain of his starting lineup. Injuries, although not of the serious nature, have put a question mark on the probability of All-Conference Strawberry Rowan, tackle, and Jesse Clardy, guard, being ready for the game. Both have been out of practice for two weeks.

Favorites Lose At Ackerly, 7-6

ACKERLY, Oct. 2.—The combined seventh and eighth grade football team upset the ninth and tenth graders, 7-6, in a six-man game here Wednesday, Harold Raspberry's dash for the extra point proving the difference.

Ralph Davis scored the touchdown for the winners while Clint Lauderdale banged into the end zones for the losers.

Texas Labor Fight May Help Florida

TAMPA, Fla., Oct. 2. (AP)—Attempts by the Mexican government to improve wages and working conditions of its workers in the Texas grapefruit industry may react to the advantage of Florida grapefruit producers.

Marvin H. Walker, secretary-manager of the Florida Citrus Producers Trade association, told a Tampa civic club Tuesday that the Mexican government has refused to renew labor contracts with Texas citrus producers unless workers' conditions are improved.

Texas Labor Fight May Help Florida

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2. (AP)—Two Texas service teams will meet here Oct. 11 to raise funds for gulf coast hurricane relief.

Mayor DeLesseps S. Morrison announced that Randolph Field, San Antonio, and the Naval Air Station, Corpus Christi, would play in Tulane stadium.

The tilt will feature such stars as "Doc" Blanchard, Arnold Tucker and perhaps Glen Davis.

Two former managers of the Philadelphia Phillies are leading the World Series rivals, Burt Shotton of the Dodgers masterminded the Phillies 14 years ago while Bucky Harris of the Yankees was their pilot during part of 1943.

KICKOFF AT 8 O'CLOCK

Angelo Tide Guest Of Jim McWhorter's Club Tonight

Storm flags are flying at Steer stadium. The Big Spring Junior high football Yearlings head into heavy weather again tonight, meeting a power-laden San Angelo Crimson Tide at 8 o'clock.

The Yearlings tangled with Odessa's talented Colts last week and came off on the short end of a 32-9 score. At the same time, the Angeloans were manhandling Lake View, 26-0, in their own ballfield.

The Tide offensive is led by Deffy Southworth, scored two touchdowns against the Lake View team, Loren Read and Elton Cates. Alton Sargent takes care of a large part of the defense.

Jim McWhorter, Yearling mentor, has built his offense around a backfield quartet composed of Bobby Wheeler, Howie Washburn, Wendell Stacey and Bobby Gross. Melvin Byers will see action, too. The Yearlings could never get started against the heavy Odessans last week but are due to prof-touchdowns against the Lake View team, Loren Read and Elton Cates. Alton Sargent takes care of a large part of the defense.

BUFFS GO AHEAD IN SERIES

MOBILE, Ala., Oct. 2. (AP)—The Houston Buffs, standard-bearers of the Texas League, ran over the Mobile Bears, Southern Association Champions, 7 to 0, last night to take a 2 to 1 lead in the playoff for the Class AA title.

Next game of the series will be played in Houston Friday night. The teams had an off-day today for traveling.

Houston's victory came on the strength of Jackie Creel's five-hit pitching and a bruising batting attack.

The Buffs opened up on Long John Hall with two runs in the third inning and were never threatened.

Champ, Runnerup To Qualify Soon

Jake Morgan, defending champion; Obie Bristow, last year's runner-up, and Jack Keith, one of the Munny's regulars, have indicated to Pro Foy Fanning they will qualify for the City golf tournament either tomorrow or Saturday.

Deadline for entry is Sunday night. At the present time, only about 15 linksmen are in the field but Fanning said most of the masher swingers are waiting until the final day to post their scores.

Don McGuire's even-par 74 is still low among the early entries.

Trojan Backers Certain Of Win

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2. (AP)—The Rice Owls of the always strong Southwest conference arrive in Los Angeles today for their first crack at the University of Southern California of the Pacific Coast conference.

Local trojan tub-thumpers have installed USC as the favorite in the game Saturday, but freely admit they expect a tough battle from the outfit from Houston, Tex.

Ackerly Plays Sparenburg

ACKERLY, Oct. 2.—The Ackerly Eagles trek to Sparenburg Friday afternoon for a District Four six-man football game with the Yellow Jackets.

Victors in two starts to date, the War Birds will be favorites to make it three in a row.

Hurricane Relief Game Scheduled

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2. (AP)—Two Texas service teams will meet here Oct. 11 to raise funds for gulf coast hurricane relief.

Knott To Meet Klondike Club

KNOTT, Oct. 2.—Doc Self's Knott Hill Billies, who upset the Union sextet in their first game, invade Klondike Friday afternoon for their second District Four game of the season.

The Klondike team lost a one-sided encounter to Ackerly last week and will be the underdog against the veteran Knott troupe.

The Billies are favored to go through unbeaten until the crucial test with Ackerly here Oct. 24.

Excitement Fills Stanton On Eve Of County Fair

STANTON, Oct. 2. — This West Texas city today was charged with an atmosphere of excitement on the eve of the opening of the Martin County Fair, projected as the biggest single event in the county's history.

Members of the Lions club, which is largely responsible for the organization and promotion of the fair, fire the first salvo here this evening when they open a three-night stand of their carnival, proceeds of which will be used to finance the fair.

Friday at 3 p. m. a 10-block parade with at least two and possibly three bands, a number of colorful floats, a bicycle section, another for riders and mounts, and still others for new automobiles and other groups will make up the lively procession. The Crane band, a 70-piece unit, here for the Crane-Stanton football game, will be in the parade as will the Big Spring high school band, representing the Big Spring Lions club.

Exhibits at the high school gymnasium will be being installed today and all were to be ready by judging time at 11 a. m. Friday. Judging will be completed by 3 p. m. Friday, when the exhibit will be opened to the public.

Beef cattle shown by 4-H boys will be placed at 10 a. m. Saturday and swine at 10:30 a. m. At the fair grounds, in proximity to the community and individual displays at the gym, livestock, farm machinery, a special collection of labor-saving devices for farm and ranch, a sprinkler irrigation system, and many other items will be exhibited.

Cecil Bridges, chairman of the fair directors, announced that H. L. Atkins, Jr., Odessa, will place agricultural exhibits; Mrs. Hattie Owens, Odessa, Mrs. Belle Mes-sich, Midland, and Mrs. Sallye J. Ferrell, Kermit, will judge home-making exhibits; E. J. Hughes, Big Spring, beef cattle; W. O. Adams, Rankin, gilts; Delbert Downing, Midland, and J. H. Greene, Big Spring, parade floats. In charge of the parade will be O. B. Bryan, who announced it would form at the City Park, proceed to the First National bank, thence east two blocks, south one block to U. S. 80, then westward two blocks and north to the bank, and west to the school where it will disband.

Survey Shows Rise In Costs Of Building

HOUSTON, Oct. 2. —A telegraphic survey of 101 chapter managers and secretaries of Associated General Contractors of America chapters show construction costs still on the upswing.

The report of the survey was made by Loy W. Duddleston, executive secretary of the Houston chapter.

He said the survey indicated that the upward trend would continue for another 18 months, and bring about a definite slow down in building activity.

"The upward trend is principally caused by higher material costs, wage increases for construction trades, and a low labor productivity which continues to be lower than prewar standards for output," Duddleston said.

A shortage of manpower was reported by all chapters participating in the survey.

The Gulf Coast area is suffering from an acute manpower shortage in nearly all phases of the construction industry, Duddleston said.

Stork Forces Plane Down

AMARILLO, Oct. 2. —A Constellation airliner made an emergency landing here yesterday so Mrs. Ralph Youngblood, 30, of Decora, Iowa, could await her baby in a hospital instead of a plane.

When motherhood became imminent Pilot D. B. Coon notified the English control tower here and made an emergency landing.

Mrs. Youngblood, enroute from Rochester, N. Y. to Sacramento, Calif., to visit her soldier-husband, was still awaiting the stork early last night.

When the plane landed a physician and an ambulance were on hand.

The passenger was taken to northwest Texas hospital. With her was an 11-month-old son.

Mrs. Youngblood boarded the plane at Kansas City. A doctor passenger and hostesses Helen Peizer and Betty Smith watched over her.

Contracting For Mexican Labor Ends

HIDALGO, Oct. 2. —Contracting of Mexican farm laborers will end here today, unless more applications from farm employers arrive, U. S. immigration officials said.

The only processing now being done is for workers bound for states other than Texas.

Arkansas employers contracted for 201 workers yesterday.
